The South's Standard Newspaper

THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION

City and Suburban Circulation Largest of Any Sunday Newspaper in Atlanta

A. P. Service United Press N. A. N. A.

VOL. LXVI., No. 33. ONLY MORNING NEWSPAPER PUBLISHED IN ATLANTA ATLANTA, GA., SUNDAY MORNING, JULY 16, 1933. Entered at Atlanta Postoffice As Second-Class Mail Matter. Single Copies: Daily, 5c; Sunday, 10c. Daily and Sunday: Weekly 20c; Monthly 90c.

CHICAGO WELCOMES BALBO'S FLYING ARMADA; POST, LITHUANIAN FLIERS CROSSING ATLANTIC

Steel Heads Offer 15 Per Cent Wage-Raising Code

MANY COMPANIES OF NATION MAKE IMMEDIATE HIKES

Work Spreading Agreement, Representing 90 Per Cent of Country's Output, Is Submitted by Robert P. Lamont.

MOVE CRITICIZED BY LABOR LEADER

Green Declares Wage Levels Too Low and 40-Hour Working Week Is Too High.

By JAMES COPE.

WASHINGTON, July 15.—(AP)—Steel, colossus of American industry, today gave a mighty forward shove to President Roosevelt's campaign for national recovery, submitting a wage-raising, work-spreading agreement and simultaneously boosting the pay of its workers.

With other industries assembling with steel and coal in the work sharing, wage hoisting column, the government continued its efforts to bring all business into the united endeavor to make the pocketbooks of workers bulky enough to absorb the increasing output of factories.

Robert P. Lamont, president of the iron and steel institute and one time secretary of commerce, brought the steel agreement to Hugh S. Johnson, the industrial administrator. It was signed, Lamont said, by companies representing 90 per cent of the country's output.

Shortly after the steel industry had gone forward with the draft of a plan to govern competition within that business, putting into immediate effect raises on the wages of tens of thousands of workers, Hugh S. Johnson, the recovery administrator, received from underwear manufacturers a conditional agreement to abide by the competitive plan of cotton textile mills until a separate underwear agreement could be drawn up.

Textile Code Effective.

The cotton textile code goes into effect Monday. The underwear men, who operate a large share of the country's knitting mills, informed Johnson that subject to ratification by the various operators, the ban or child labor, the 40-hour work week and 80-hour machine week, and the $12 and $13 minimum wage levels of cotton would be assumed by them pending action on their own agreement.

Already rayon and silk manufacturers had asked authority to take such action, and a formal order is due tomorrow night or Monday approving this. Wool men, who filed a 40-hour code today with bottom wage levels of $13 in the south and $14 in the north, were expected to come in on the volunteer move.

The cement industry also has taken voluntary steps to boost wages and spread employment by cutting working hours.

Meanwhile Johnson sent a telegram to Governor Ely urging suspension of his state's "6 o'clock closing law." That act forbids the employment of women after 6 so far as cotton mills are concerned. Under the textile code mills will have to run two shifts, working employes 40 hours a week and machines 80.

Wages Raised Already.

Johnson's message made no mention of women workers but said that if Massachusetts manufacturers were to compete evenly with those of other states, the law must be suspended and that the recovery law's purpose of reducing unemployment would be aided greatly if penalties and restrictions of labor were removed from industries operating under the federal codes.

Hardly had the code been filed than from steel town after steel town, flashed the word that wages were

Continued in Page 8, Column 3.

In Other Pages

Radio Programs	4-A
Page of Foreign News	7-A
Whitner Cary on Bridge	8-A
News of Georgia	9-A
Financial	10-A, 11-A
Sports	1-B, 2-B, 3-B, 4-B
Movies, Theaters	6-B, 7-B
Want Ads	1-C, 2-C, 3-C
Real Estate Review	3-C
Editorial Features	4-C, 5-C
Society	Section M

TURN TO PAGE 8 SECTION B FOR JINKY CONTEST WINNERS

Two Kidnapers Foiled By New York Doctor

NEW YORK, July 15.—(UP) Dr. Julius Wachsman received the first of two notes demanding $10,000 or the penalty of being kidnaped, sev ral days ago. He notified the police and made a pretense of continuing negotiations.

A second note gave directions for paying the money and made a rendezvous with him. Police went into hiding at the spot where the money was to be paid and a dummy package was thrown to the waiting kidnapers.

Two men seized the package and were arrested after a hot pursuit. They gave their names as Michael Doneclo and Vincent Masci.

LABOR ATTORNEY GRILLS M'DONALD ON PASS REQUESTS

Commissioner Reveals He Asked Bus Rides for R. L. J. Smith, G. A. Johns; Freight Rates Hit.

Walter McDonald, of Augusta, a member of the Georgia public service commission, Saturday was cross-examined sharply concerning requests for bus passes, as Governor Talmadge's ouster hearing against the commission remained unfinished after 15 days of testimony.

Commissioner Perry Knight, of Valdosta, had not completed his direct testimony as the hearing recessed until Monday morning, with prospects that at least two days more would be required to finish the case.

Jack Savage, counsel for the Georgia Federation of Labor, who filed the ouster petition, read into the record a letter from McDonald to a bus operator in which the commissioner said it would be a "great personal favor" if passes over a motor bus were issued to R. L. J. Smith, of Commerce, and several members of his family.

Mr. McDonald said Smith was an attorney for a motor bus line and felt he had a right to passes.

"Why, then, was it necessary for you to ask for a pass for a bus company attorney?" demanded Mr. Savage.

Son Asked for Passes.

"I don't know," said Mr. McDonald, adding that Smith's son, Sumner Smith, had asked him to get the passes. He explained that the passes only were from Washington to Baltimore, and that his request was not granted.

"Do you think it ethical for a member of the public service commission to accept personal favors from a public utility they are required to regulate?" asked Mr. Savage.

Mr. McDonald said the passes were for interstate travel over which the Georgia commission had no jurisdiction, but that as a general practice he did not think it wise for commissioners to accept personal favors.

Score Freight Rates.

Two members of the commission Saturday told Governor Eugene Talmadge that they considered intrastate freight rates in Georgia too high, but asserted that it was not the

Continued in Page 14, Column 2.

Governor Talmadge's Father-in-Law Passes

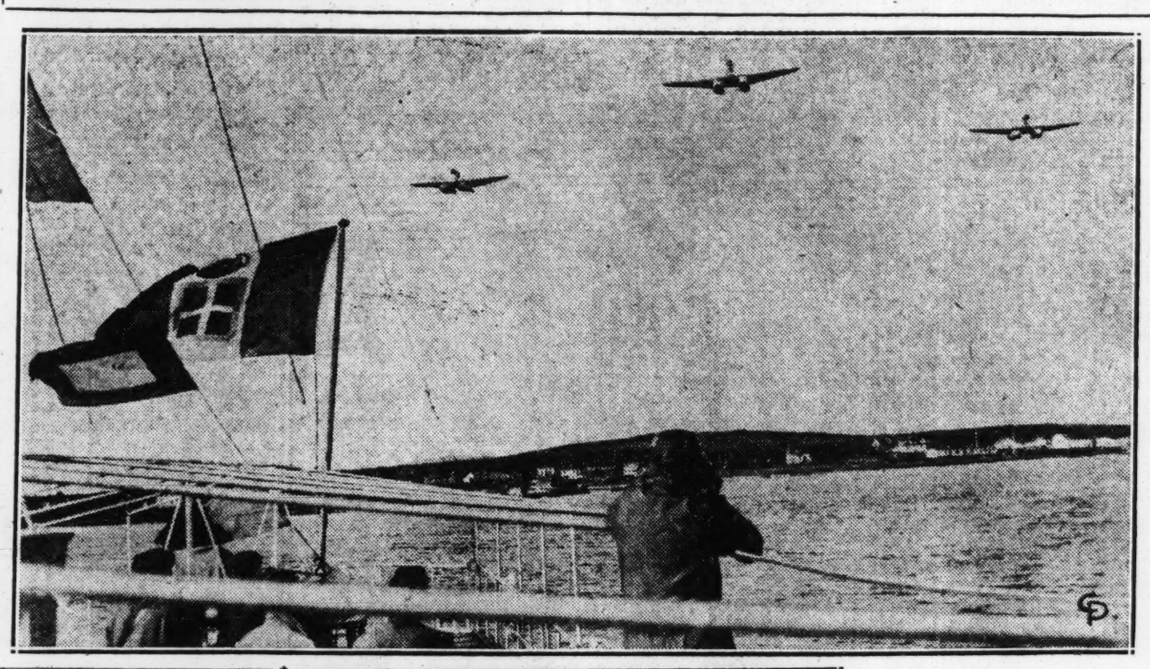

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., July 15.—(AP)—J. B. Thurmond, 79, father-in-law of Governor Eugene Talmadge, of Georgia, died at a local hospital today following an illness of several months.

Mr. Thurmond recently came here from Live Oak, where he had lived since 1905. He was connected with the postoffice there. He was a native of South Carolina.

Survivors are his widow and five daughters, Mrs. Talmadge, Mrs. C. L. Bussey, of Live Oak; Mrs. H. A. Moses, of Uvalda, Ga.; Mrs. J. H. Fielding, of Baldwin, Fla., and Mrs. R. L. Harrison, of Jacksonville.

Funeral services will be conducted at 4 o'clock tomorrow afternoon at Live Oak, with Rev. W. T. Newsome, pastor of the Live Oak Baptist church, officiating.

Atlantic Again Conquered--Italian Armada on North American Shores

As General Balbo's air armada reached the shores of North America. The top picture, made from the deck of the Italian supply ship at Cartwright, Labrador, shows the first triad of the air flotilla about to land after the flight from Iceland. General Balbo, commander of the armada, led his 24 planes into port. Below, General Balbo glances over a newspaper as he is taken ashore at Cartwright, Labrador, the first stop on the North American continent.

KIDNAPER IN GARB OF WOMAN SOUGHT

Hunt Centered in Ponce de Leon Section; Reward Reaches $3,000.

While police were searching the Ponce de Leon section of the city for William Delenski, alleged kidnaper of John K. Ottley Sr., thought to be masquerading in women's clothes, the reward for his arrest was boosted to $3,000 Saturday.

The reward posted by friends of the prominent banker and by the state of Georgia totaled $2,750. Saturday afternoon Fulton county, through action of the county board of commissioners, added $250, bringing the total to $3,000.

Solicitor-General John A. Boykin announced Saturday that three different persons had reported to him the presence of a "woman" on Ponce de Leon avenue whom they thought to be a man disguised. Pryor Bowen, the 17-year-old youth who drove the Ottley car in the kidnaping and who helped Mr. Ottley to regain his liberty, told officers that Delenski had planned to escape after the kidnaping disguised as a woman.

Employes of Howard's dry cleaning place, at Peachtree street and Peachtree place, reading the description of Delenski in Friday newspapers, informed Chief Sturdivant that a suit of clothes similar to the one described was at their establishment. The suit was found to match the discarded vest which Delenski left at his rooming house.

Using the name Bob Hataway, Delenski called at the cleaning shop for a dark gray suit on the day of the kidnaping, presumably after he returned to Atlanta to deliver the ransom note demanding $40,000 for Mr. Ottley's life. He paid the cleaning bill and left the suit he had worn, of light brown material, to be cleaned and pressed.

The disclosure caused the police to alter their picture of the man's appearance in conformance with the dark gray clothes Delenski is thought to be wearing.

Reports flew thick and fast to police headquarters and the solicitor's office Saturday. People over the entire city reported they had seen the missing man. All of the rumors were checked but without results. Several suspects were quizzed by police Friday night and Saturday but were released.

Word that Delenski's father is dying in a Miami hospital came as another detail in the case. The hunted man's family joined the search independently, communicating with relatives and friends in different cities.

Reports that a third man, with fiery red hair and a tatto on his left arm, was being sought in connection with the crime, were discounted by Solicitor Boykin Saturday afternoon after he had talked with young Bow-

Continued in Page 14, Column 8.

Roosevelt Tours Maryland Shore

CRISFIELD, Md., July 15.—(AP)—After spending six hours on land, President Roosevelt returned to Crisfield from a sight-seeing tour of the Maryland eastern shore late today and boarded the yacht Sequoia to resume his cruise on the Chesapeake bay.

On his motor trip, the president saw several churches more than 200 years old, visited residences that are nearing their 300th birthday, stopped in the town of Pocomoke to have a soft drink and visited a terrapin farm, where he was presented with several terrapin eggs.

Members of the crew on the Sequoia said the yacht would cross the Chesapeake bay to Solomon's island to anchor for the night.

PARK-TO-PARK ROAD COMPLETION NOTED

LINVILLE, N. C., July 15.—(AP)—Four hundred North Carolinians and a motorcade from southwest Virginia joined in a celebration here today of completion of the park-to-park highway, which connects the Shenandoah national park with the Great Smoky Mountains National park.

Mrs. Borah Offers Blood to Sufferer

WASHINGTON, July 15.—(AP)—Mrs. William E. Borah, whose life was saved a year ago by the flying of psittacosis convalescent serum from Washington to Boise, Idaho, has offered to donate blood for a psittacosis patient in Baltimore.

"As soon as I read about the case, I called up the surgeon general and told him if he wanted any blood to come to Mrs. Borah," she said.

"I'd be so glad if I could give it!"

However, before Mrs. Borah made her offer, blood for the Baltimore patient had already been taken from Dr. Charles Armstrong, a research expert on the disease, who a year ago furnished blood for Mrs. Borah.

CUBAN CENSORSHIP TO BE LIFTED TODAY

HAVANA, July 15.—(AP)—Dr. Ramiro Guerra, presidential secretary, announced tonight that censorship on newspapers will be lifted tomorrow.

All newspapers in Cuba have been under censorship more than two years.

Miss Walker Leads Fair List; Prizes for Jinky Non-Winners

By THE JINKY EDITOR.

Since Jinkying has become one of Atlanta's favorite pastimes, the fact that the contest has only three weeks longer to run has spurred on many people who were late in entering Not only are new entrants registering every week but old ones are striving to cut better Jinkys so they may win some of the wonderful weekly and sweepstake prizes.

I promised to tell you about the hundred additional prizes which will be given to non-winners. There is no work in this offer. All that is necessary is to cut the best Jinky that you can. After the prize winners are chosen the 100 best Jinkys cut by contestants who have never won a prize will be picked and these awarded 500 free Jinky receipts. These receipts may be used to enter 50 Jinkys in the contest the following week. Remember that though you have never won a prize you still have a chance of winning in the weekly contest as well as the sweepstakes.

Miss Walker Leads.

Miss La Vergne Walker, 14 East Seventeenth street, jumped into the lead in the Jinky contest race for the two free trips to Chicago offered to the contestant entering the most Jinkys in the contest. Miss Walker turned in the amazing total of 26,400 Jinky receipts on Wednesday. Her friends took full advantage of double Jinky day and one of them bought an automobile from Boomershine Motor Company and gave the 8,000 receipts to Miss Walker. This enabled her to turn in the largest amount of Jinkys that has been entered to date and Miss Walker now occupies first place.

Whether she will be able to hold her place is problematical, as she is just a few ahead of the second contestant and is trailed closely by two or three others. Miss Walker says she

Continued in Page 14, Column 5.

DRIVE WITH LESS TENSION.

Sportglas deflects sun, wind, dust—$1.75. Dockstader's, 16 P'tree St.—adv.

E. R. Black Lauds 'New Deal,' Says Prosperity Is Back Again

Prosperity is no longer around the corner but is walking down the Main street of every town, greeting the farmer, the merchant, the banker and the businessman, Eugene R. Black, governor of the Federal Reserve System and former governor of the Federal Reserve bank of this district, said here Saturday. Mr. Black is making his first visit home since his appointment to the nationally important chairmanship.

Mr. Black is one of the best known and most prominent residents of Atlanta. He arrived here Friday and plans to return to his Washington (D. C.) office Tuesday. He attended a meeting of the board of the sixth district Federal Reserve bank here Friday, and Saturday held informal conferences with his associates.

Making the definite statement that the results of the new administration's efforts were being felt in every part of the country, Chairman Black said the south had been especially benefited through agricultural legislation. The wheels of industry are beginning to hum the tune of old-time prosperity as manufacturing plants everywhere add extra shifts and increase wages, he asserted.

Conferring With President.

Mr. Black was reluctant to discuss such matters as the Glass banking act and confined his remarks princi-

Continued in Page 4, Column 4.

FUNDS ARE RAISED FOR LUER RANSOM

O'Connell Family Refuses Co-operation; Californian Freed by Abductors.

By the Associated Press.

One kidnap victim was released yesterday when his captors found he was not the wealthy rancher they had mistaken him for, another extortion plot involving a kidnap threat was frustrated, and new measures were taken to stop abductions as efforts continued to release two victims still in the hands of captors.

E. T. Wiggins, 70, was found near Arcata, Cal., after being held since Thursday by a group of men who mistook him for W. Q. Wright, wealthy rancher. Wiggins told his story to authorities at Eureka, Cal., where he was taken by passing motorists. He said his abductors had planned to ask $50,000 ransom for Wright.

Three sons of August Luer, wealthy Alton (Ill.) resident, were understood to be raising funds for his ransom. Relatives were cheered by announcement of agents they designated to negotiate with the abductors that Luer, a frequent sufferer from heart attacks, was believed still alive. He was kidnaped Monday night.

At Albany, N. Y., District Attorney John T. Delaney said the family of John J. O'Connell Jr., kidnaped scion of a politically powerful democratic clan, had declined to co-operate with him. The uncles and father of the 24-year-old national guard officer have intimated that they could not aid officials for fear the kidnapers would carry out threats to slay the young man. Delaney planned a further conference with the O'Connells and said he would ask for all the evidence, including four notes from the captors.

At New York, two men who at-

Continued in Page 14, Column 4.

Highway Board Suits To Be Heard Monday

Hearing on injunction proceedings sought against Governor Talmadge by the ousted members of the highway board will be heard in federal district court Monday before three federal judges.

At the same time a similar action sought by the Beckham-Lawler Construction Company will be heard. The first action was taken by J. W. Barnett, former head of the highway board, and W. C. Vereen, a member, after the governor assumed control of the highway department through martial law.

District Judges E. Marvin Underwood, of Atlanta, and William I. Grubb, of Birmingham, and Circuit Judge Samuel H. Sibley, of Marietta, will hear the two cases jointly.

Farley Appeals to Southland To Aid in Abolishing Dry Law

MEMPHIS, July 15.—(UP)—The southland, traditionally solid for the democratic party and prohibition, was appealed to tonight to aid in abolishing the eighteenth amendment this year as a necessary part of President Roosevelt's recovery program.

Postmaster-General James A. Farley, spokesman for President Roosevelt and the democratic administration, adjured the south that it must keep faith with the president it helped elect by voting for repeal of the prohibition amendment since Mr. Roosevelt has kept the "covenant with the people" by putting into effect much of the party program.

His message, delivered at a mass meeting in Overton Park, climaxed the drive of the repealists to have Arkansas, Alabama and Tennessee, traditionally the stronghold of the drys, vote to abolish prohibition. The first two states hold prohibition elections Tuesday and Tennessee votes Thursday.

Along with party loyalty, Farley pointed out that involved also is the doctrine of states' rights, for which the south fought a war, because repeal of prohibition will permit each state to decide how to control the liquor traffic.

Stressing the need of repeal this year so that revenue from the sale of liquor can be used in the recovery

Continued in Page 4, Column 2.

Girl Married to Heir Of $250,000,000 Estate

PHILADELPHIA, July 15.—(UP)—Miss Betty Jane Smith, of Merion, Pa., was married today to John Rudolphus Booth, one of the heirs to the $250,000,000 estate of his grandfather, John Rudolphus Booth, who was called the "grand old man of Canada."

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Harold F. Carr at the Overbrook Presbyterian church, Overbrook, and the couple left immediately for a honeymoon trip in New England and Canada.

The bridegroom, 38, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Frederick Booth, of Ottawa, Canada. He was divorced by his first wife, Mrs. Ida Booth, last August, at Reno, Nevada.

STEINER TRUSTEES GET COURT ORDER, HALT FIKE OUSTER

July 22 Set for Hearing. Key Welcomes Contest. Council Prepares To Discuss Matter.

Fulton county courts Saturday halted the ouster of Dr. Rupert H. Fike, medical director of Steiner cancer ward, when a temporary injunction was granted the Steiner trustees. The contest for control of Steiner developed on several other fronts, however, as various contending forces issued statements.

Fike Saturday was installed at Steiner after Judge Gus H. Howard, of Fulton county superior court, signed the temporary restraining order to prevent his forcible ouster by Mayor James L. Key and the Grady board. Judge Howard set Saturday, July 22, as the date for the hearing, and it was anticipated that Judge Edgar E. Pomeroy would hear the case.

The injunction prevents the Grady board of trustees from making effective any of the measures approved by it at a meeting last Wednesday, chief of which was the discharging of Fike.

Investments Listed.

Investments listed by the Steiner trustees in the petition follow:

Building, $169,800; X-ray and radium equipment, $107,000; purchase of radium, $70,000. Total, $346,800. In addition it is shown that about $25,000 is invested annually in the institution for payment of salaries and purchase of additional equipment.

Reverberations of the latest outbreak over conduct of the institution are to be heard Monday in city council, as Alderman J. Charlie Murphy plans to "inform that body how it had been ignored by the Grady board which presumed to anticipate committee action and seize control of the ward."

Key Welcomes Contest.

Mayor Key welcomed the court contest, and as he was served with the injunction Saturday morning in the executive offices, said:

"I welcome this opportunity to adjudicate the entire issue. I think it is the right thing to do. We should settle the matter not only in the interest of the Steiner ward, but also for the poor unfortunates who get treatment there."

The petition for injunction was filed by Marion Smith, and the law firm of Brandon, Hynds & Tyndall. It recited excerpts from the Steiner will, and the contract between the city of Atlanta and Steiner trustees in support of the Steiner trustees.

Key said the very quotations from the contract and the Steiner will would "throw them out of court. They haven't a chance," he asserted.

Acted for Peace.

Samuel C. Dobbs, chairman of the Grady board of trustees, said in a formal statement that the board had acted in the interest of peace and harmony to prevent duplication of authority and effort.

At the same time, Dr. W. Edgar Barber, president of the Fulton County Medical Society; Dr. Howard Hailey, secretary and treasurer, and Dr. J. L. Campbell, chairman of the advisory committee, issued a joint statement, sharply criticizing the operation of the Steiner ward, and calling on the people of Atlanta to read the Steiner will and "make up their own mind."

The Steiner controversy is the only important matter pending before council Monday, it was said Saturday.

Seeks Separate Board.

Council Monday will be asked to set up a separate board of trustees to administer affairs of the Steiner

Continued in Page 14, Column 6.

THOUSANDS CHEER ITALY'S SQUADRON AT END OF FLIGHT

Air Fleet Comes to Rest in Windy City After Fifteen-Day Trip Along Northern Route Across the Atlantic.

WILEY POST SEEKS NEW WORLD MARK

Lithuanians Take Off for Native Land Without Permission To Fly Over Any Country En Route.

By the Associated Press.

The Italian air armada glided down Saturday night to its goal—A Century of Progress Exposition at Chicago—as two planes sped across the Atlantic, one bound for Lithuania and the other around the world.

General Italo Balbo and his 24 seaplanes completed at 6 p. m. (eastern standard time) the greatest mass flight ever undertaken, having come 6,100 miles across Europe and the north Atlantic. A million persons lined the shore of Lake Michigan to acclaim them.

The Atlantic fliers were Wiley Post, seeking a world solo record, and Stephen Darius and Stanley Girenas, of Chicago, en route to their native land.

Post, veteran of one globe-circling expedition, hopped off from Floyd Bennett field, New York, at 4:10 a. m. A plane believed to be his passed over Torbay, Newfoundland, at 1:10 p. m., headed for the ocean.

The Lithuanians, who left without passports or permission from the government, followed Post at 5:24 a. m. and were thought to have been sighted over Gander bay, on the east central coast of Newfoundland, at 2:38 p. m.

Colonel and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh prepared at Cartwright, Labrador, for the next stage of their air mapping trip, a 600-mile flight to Julienhaab, Greenland.

Discovery off the coast of the state of Tabasco, Mexico, of an inner tube believed part of the equipment of Captain Mariano Barberan and Lieutenant Joaquin Collar was considered conclusive evidence that the Spanish trans-Atlantic aviators had fallen into the sea last month.

BALBO'S GREAT ARMADA REACHES CHICAGO SAFELY

CHICAGO, July 15.—(AP)—Italy's impressive air squadron, coursing an historic trail of 6,100 miles from the homeland to a Century of Progress exposition, alighted on the unruffled waters of Lake Michigan tonight as a million persons watched the completion of man's most pretentious conquest of the clouds.

With the flagship of General Italo Balbo, commander of the flight, in the lead, the 24 huge seaplanes appeared over the Chicago lake front shortly after 5:30 p. m., completing the last leg of the journey from Montreal in six hours and 51 minutes.

The armada left the home base at Orbetello, Italy, at 11:40 p. m. on June 30, thus completing the hazardous flight in 47 1-2 hours' flying time.

Mishap at Amsterdam.

But one mishap marred the triumphal journey. One man was drowned when the twenty-fifth ship capsized upon arrival at Amsterdam, the first day's goal. Massed on Navy

Continued in Page 8, Column 5.

The Weather

LOCAL THUNDERSHOWERS.

Georgia: Local thundershowers Sunday; Monday generally fair except local thundershowers in extreme south portion.

Local Weather Bureau.

Highest temperature	86
Lowest temperature	69
Mean temperature	78
Normal temperature	78
Rainfall in past 12 hours, ins.	T.
Deficiency since 1st of mo., ins.	1.17
Deficiency since Jan. 1st, ins.	3.18
Total rainfall since Jan. 1, ins.	24.90

	7 a.m.	N'n.	7 p.m.
Dry temperature	73	83	82
Wet bulb	68	69	72
Relative humidity	78	50	62

Reports of Weather Bureau Stations.

STATIONS AND STATE OF WEATHER	Temperature 7 pm.	Temperature High	Rain 12 hrs Ins.
ATLANTA, clear	82	86	T.
Augusta, clear	80	86	.28
Birmingham, pt. cldy.	82	92	.00
Boston, cloudy	62	68	.00
Buffalo, cloudy	68	78	.00
Charleston, cloudy	76	78	1.13
Chattanooga, clear	80	88	.00
Chicago, clear	72	72	.00
Denver, clear	78	78	T.
Galveston, pt. cldy.	82	88	.00
Helena, pt. cldy.	84	84	.00
Jacksonville, clear	82	84	.12
Kansas City, cloudy	80	86	.00
Macon, pt. cldy.	84	90	.00
Memphis, cloudy	84	88	T.
Miami, rain	78	90	.02
Minneapolis, pt. cldy.	72	74	T.
Mobile, pt. cldy.	82	94	T.
Montgomery, pt. cldy.	82	92	.18
New Orleans, pt. cldy.	86	92	T.
New York, cloudy	64	72	T.
Oklahoma City, cloudy	74	82	.16
Phoenix, clear	102	104	T.
Pittsburgh, cloudy	68	84	.34
Raleigh, pt. cldy.	78	84	.00
San Francisco, pt. cldy.	58	62	.00
St. Louis, clear	84	90	.00
Savannah, cloudy	74	86	.66
Tampa, clear	82	88	.00
Toledo, pt. cldy.	76	80	.00
Vicksburg, cloudy	86	82	.00
Washington, cloudy	74	78	T.

GEORGE W. MINDLING, Meteorologist, Weather Bureau.

Manufacture of Beer Here Would Put 100 Men to Work

Reopening of Bottling Plant Also Would Benefit Steiner Clinic; Federal Permit Is Awaited.

Manufacture of 3.2 beer in Atlanta would give jobs immediately to between 75 and 100 unemployed Atlantans and would react materially to the financial benefit of the Albert Steiner cancer ward of Grady hospital. Joseph N. Hirsch, vice president of the Atlanta Ice & Bottling Company, and a member of the Steiner board of trustees, said Saturday.

The company, of which Hirsch is the directing head, has applied for a federal permit to make beer here, and there is every indication that it will be granted under the announced policy of the federal prohibition bureau as set forth Friday night by Major A. V. Dalrymple, director.

It is anticipated that actual manufacture of the brew can be begun in Atlanta within the next 30 days, barring unforeseen delays.

"If we can manufacture beer as allowed by the federal government, between 75 and 100 persons will be put to work immediately," Hirsch said. "In addition, an investment of $1,000,000, which has been idle for many years, can be put back into service. We are equipped to make as good beer as any other plant in the country.

"The money now spent out of the state can be expended here, and the Steiner cancer clinic will benefit materially from such sales, as it participates largely from the profits of the company."

Major Darlymple said Friday night that the federal government would do nothing in an attempt to enforce state prohibitions against manufacture and sales of beer as they have been legalized by congressional action and that any such move would be an attempt to override congress.

Mayor James L. Key, prime mover in the drive to obtain a permit for the Atlanta company, expressed gratification Saturday at the attitude shown by Major Dalrymple.

"Major Dalrymple is the boss of prohibition enforcement in the United States," Mayor Key said. "I can see no reason why manufacture cannot be begun at once under his statement."

Hirsch, however, indicated that his firm will await the federal permit.

Storm Warning.

WASHINGTON, July 15.—(AP)—The weather bureau today issued the following storm warning: "Advisory 10 a. m. Tropical disturbance apparently of slight intensity central about 17:30 north 68:30 west about 100 miles southeast of city of Santo Domingo, moving almost directly westward about 14 miles per hour."

Dairy Sales Manager

Lamar Ellis, former Atlantan, has become sales manager of the Gaymont Dairy Farms, effective on August 1, Mrs. Ewell Gay, the owner, announced on Saturday. Mr. Ellis is a son of Mrs. W. D. Ellis Jr. He was educated in the public schools here and later graduated from the University of Georgia. He later took a course at Eastman's Business College, and then entered the investment security business here. For the past three years he has been with the Coca-Cola Bottling Company in Chicago. The steady growth of Gaymont Farms has necessitated a reorganization of its business.

Oglethorpe Stamps Received in Atlanta

Postmaster E. K. Large announced Saturday that 6,000,000 of the Oglethorpe commemorative stamps authorized in a second issue of 15,000,000 have been received here and 600,000 distributed to Atlanta branches and the third and fourth class offices in the state.

Mr. Large said that the 6,000,000 three-cent stamps will be sold in Georgia and the remainder of the 15,00,000 in other sections of the country. He said the supply now on hand is about enough to supply the local office until the end of the year. The rate of distribution here is approximately 1,000,000 per month.

Sumer School To Close.

The Atlanta University Summer school will hold its closing exercises Friday, July 21, in the assembly room of Giles Hall, with President Florence M. Read, of Spelman College, as the speaker. Other special activities for the closing week will be lectures on Monday and Wednesday mornings by Dr. W. E. B. DuBois, editor of Crisis and guest professor of Atlanta University, and a community program by the recreation school Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock in Howe Memorial Hall, Spelman campus.

Screven Doctors Bar Patients Who 'Charge It' and Drive Autos

Doctors of Screven county, indorsing the statement of Dr. T. C. Davison, in The Constitution, in reply to charges by Ben Overstreet Jr., Saturday wrote The Constitution that "we ourselves have been repeatedly refused payment of our doctor bills and have seen the same people ride by us in new cars."

In a letter written by Dr. L. F. Lanier, of Sylvania, secretary of the Screven County Medical Society, that body announces its purpose to adopt the same business plan that the bankers and the merchants have. "Yet," Dr. Lanier points out, "we have done more charitable work than any section of the country from Rabun Gap to Tybee Light . . . given away more medicine than any other doctors in any section."

Mr. Overstreet charged that Screven county physicians had refused to answer a night call to see an ill child. He explained later that he was not concerned with the question of money, but of ethics. Dr. Lanier's reply is as follows: "'Pray tell us upon what has our Caesar fed that he should grow so great.' It seems that he has grown disgruntled because we did not go down to his home, 14 miles away, on a very disagreeable night, in a territory seldom seen by the Sylvania doctors.

"The first doctor called, July 2, found the patient suffering from the usual condition many of our ladies suffer from administered sedatives—told the folks to call him if needed any more.

"This doctor went to Savannah, returned at 1 o'clock, July 3, was not called upon at all—but 11 hours later Mr. Ben Overstreet has to ride in town and hunt the Sylvania doctors—who were not accustomed to practicing for him, knew very little of him. He did not tell us that the child had been ailing for two or three days—he did not offer any of us a red cent of remuneration. The doctor who made the first call has not been paid yet—and stated to Screven County Medical Association that the entire matter had been misrepresented to him.

"We indorse every word of Dr. T. C. Davison's article in The Atlanta Constitution. We ourselves have seen the same people ride by us in new cars. We can repeat numbers of instances where the stork has arrived from one to three times and not a dime, but they bought the new car just the same—and brand-new clothes, while our wives had to wear the old, and we are going to pay more attention to our collections in the future than in the past.

"We propose to adopt the same business plan that the bankers and merchants have. Yet, we have done more charitable work than any section of this country from Rabun Gap to Tybee Light; given away more medicine than any other doctors in any section. The typist of this letter has done over $50,000 worth of practice and today owes drug bills he cannot pay because he has tried to take care of the poor, the indifferent and the fellow—we have them among us—who year after year changes his doctor so as to avoid paying any of them, with the hope of free service over a period of 20 or more years. This is what we have contended with for 40 years. We are well able to take care of our medical business and will continue to do so. This controversy is at an end."

14-Month-Old Aunt Gives Family Rat Poison Scare

Barbara Webb, age 18 months, and her aunt, Mary Flanagan, crawled under a cabinet in the kitchen of their home at 381 McDonald street, Saturday morning, and when Barbara's mother, Mrs. J. D. Webb, found out about it she took them both to Grady hospital. Bird seed soaked in rat poison were under the cabinet and Mrs. Webb was taking no chances.

Mrs. Webb couldn't blame her sister, because Mary Flanagan, Barbara's aunt, is only 14 months old herself.

SOUTH CAROLINA BANK WILL REOPEN SOON

COLUMBIA, S. C., July 15.—(AP) The South Carolina National bank has secured necessary waiver agreements covering 75 per cent of its unsecured deposits and will reopen soon for unrestricted business, B. M. Edwards, conservator, said here today.

Julian Mitchell, of Charleston, is president.

No announcement was made by Edwards as to the exact date of the reopening, which will make available immediately approximately $2,800,000 in unsecured deposits, representing 40 per cent of these deposits.

GALAXY OF JUDGES TO VIEW BEAUTIES AT GREETERS' BALL

Enthusiastic reception by the public of plans for the entertainment, bathing beauty revue and Hotel Greeters' ball to be held at the Biltmore hotel on July 27 has caused a flood of letters and reservations to pour into the Hotel Greeters' headquarters daily, it was announced Saturday.

First prize winner of the bathing beauty revue will be crowned "Miss See America First," and will be made queen of the greeters' ball. She will be showered with gifts and will be given an expense-paid tour to the Century of Progress Exposition in Chicago and return, it was said.

Professional talent which has been heard in Europe and South America will be included in the entertainment. Music will be furnished by Charlie Troutt and his nine-piece orchestra. Motion pictures of the event will be made, Jack V. Thompson, director, announced.

Prizes will be awarded by the following, whose decision will be final: Governor Eugene Talmadge, Speaker E. D. Rivers, Abit Nix of Athens, Mayor James L. Key, Roy LeCraw, Duncan G. Peek, Max Wright, Senator Richard B. Russell Jr., Secretary of State John Wilson, Wiley Moore, Arthur May, Mike Benton, Al Doonan, Willis Haviland, Lionel Keene, Morgan Blake, Ed Danforth, James C. Martin, Ralph McGill, Henry Weber and Dr. Witherspoon Dodge.

WE WILL NOT BE UNDERSOLD AT ANY TIME

"We Sell Service"

Announcing NEW Primrose CLEANERS

SIDNEY GOLDSTEIN
Owner

GALA WEEK

Getting Acquainted — Making Friends

Giving the Public a Chance to Inspect the South's Finest Cleaning Plant

Plenty of Parking Space

AT 572 EDGEWOOD AVE.

Plenty of Parking Space

Everybody Welcome

OPEN HOUSE

Monday, July 17th

SOUVENIRS

Playing Cards, Fans, Cigars. A gala time guaranteed for all.

The first three hundred and fifty women who register at our plant will receive a deck of U. S. Playing Cards. Plenty other souvenirs.

We invite each and every one to attend this open house between the hours 7 a. m. and 6:30 p. m., and see for themselves our magnificent modern daylight cleaning plant. See for yourself how your cleaning is handled; the sanitary methods employed. Water-white cleaning fluid all the time. Eighty-five gallons refiltered every minute. With this new equipment, recently added, we believe that you truthfully will agree that no one in Atlanta is able to do better dry-cleaning than Primrose.

FREE CLEANING

CHOICE OF ONE!
Man's Felt Hat
Ladies' Silk Hat
3 Men's Neckties
Bedspread
Pair of Plain Draperies with each registration

100-SUIT CAPACITY—85 GALLONS FLUID FILTERED PER MINUTE

DAYLIGHT FINISHING PLANT. NOTE EFFICIENT ARRANGEMENT

ESSAY CONTEST---16 PRIZES

Be sure and receive your slip entitling you to entrance in our essay contest. We are offering prizes for the best one-hundred-word essay as to why our cleaning is and should be the best. After visiting the plant and seeing for yourself it should be easy to tell us why we have a quality cleaning plant. All you have to do is to write this 100-word letter and leave it at any branch or call JAckson 2406 and our route man will call for it by August 16th.

1st PRIZE $25 CASH

2nd PRIZE $10.00 worth of Dry-Cleaning.
3rd PRIZE $5.00 worth of Dry-Cleaning.
4th PRIZE $5.00 Worth of Laundry Work.
5th PRIZE $3.00 Worth of Laundry Work.
6th PRIZE $2.00 worth of Laundry Work.
10 NEXT BEST $1.00 Each of Dry-Cleaning.

Come and Bring a Friend

Enter the Essay Contest

GUARANTEED QUALITY CLEANING. No Acids --- No Caustics --- No Odors --- or Money Refunded

We make minor repairs. Replace buttons, brush trouser cuffs. Every garment super-double inspected.

We are equipped to clean or launder any item, may it be rugs, drapes, laces, furs or the most delicate wearing fabric.

20% DISCOUNT CASH AND CARRY LAUNDRY OFF NEW LOWEST PRICES

Week-End prices, 6c and 10c pound—6c for entire bundle—10c for finished work.

Mrs. E. W. Whitten, our expert super-inspector, graduate of National Valetor School, is in charge of our finishing room, assuring you the best cleaning to be had.

We guarantee serevice. No additional charge for 1-day service. We give curb service.

Every garment insured and every window at all stores protected with burglar-proof window guards.

M. C. KISER JR.
Leases—Real Estate
Mortgage Guarantee Bldg.

JOSEPH LAZEAR & CO.
Insurance
101 Marietta Bldg.

REDD & GOLDBERG
Real Estate Agents
75 Walton St.

For Absolute Safety
Burglar-Proof Window Guards
National Wire & Iron Co.

Our new Boiler and Stoker will be furnished by CLARE & CO.

WE CALL FOR AND DELIVER AT NO EXTRA COST. PHONE JA. 2406

Cool Refreshments Served

"We Sell Service"

Primrose CLEANERS

Cool Refreshments Served

ALL NEON FURNISHED BY KNOX NEON SIGN CO.
575 MARIETTA ST.

14 CASH & CARRY STORES
IN CONVENIENT LOCATIONS
ALL OVER THE CITY

PROFITEER BOSSES SCORNED BY FORD

Auto Magnate Discounts Rumors of Interference With Industry Policy.

DETROIT, July 15.—(AP)—Observing that Hugh S. Johnson, administrator of the industrial recovery act, "is in a pretty tough spot," but will be "a hard man to fool," Henry Ford said in an interview today that thus far everything has indicated that the government is acting with good intention in carrying out its program.

"Of course, there are a lot of surmises going around," he said. "We hear a lot about intended 'interference.' My position is that there will be time to deal with interference when it shows itself. So far as I have been able to see there has been nothing of that yet."

The pioneer automobile manufacturer expressed confidence in the ability of General Johnson and remarked that the administrator "has a fine mind and a broad understanding of American ideals."

"He is in a pretty tough spot, but I think he will be a hard man to fool," Mr. Ford said. "Tricksters in business had better not try tricks on him."

Mr. Ford said he believed the men most likely to "feel the sting of the act" would be those "who take their profits out of the workers' pay envelopes instead of earning them by their own brains."

"The first thing needed," he said, "is modern hours of work and a modern scale of wages. It is easy enough to raise wages if you make your customers pay for them. But, as I understand it, that will not be permitted.

"Prices have shot up even where wages and materials have not been affected, and that is not right. That is what put us where we are. The government wants to put wages up first and let prices follow naturally."

Mr. Ford said he did not believe in some of the things now being proposed and added: "I doubt if the government believes in them, either."

"For instance," he continued, "I don't believe you can get very far making the good manufacturer pay for the backward manufacturer. We are not entirely ignorant of the basic principles of business and I don't believe you can violate any of them without paying pretty heavily for it. You can't create a new set of principles as you can invent a new tax. These things are founded in nature."

High Point Strike Called for Monday

HIGH POINT, N. C., July 15.—(AP) Secretary of Labor Perkins intervened tonight in an effort to forestall the strike of some 6,000 seamless hosiery workers and 1,000 or more funiture workers here, but without avail.

Committees representing the seamless industry met tonight and voted not to work Monday or thereafter until granted a 25 per cent wage increase. Representatives of approximately 3,000 furniture workers are to make a final decision of their strike intentions at 1 p. m. tomorrow, following overtures today looking toward settlement of their differences with the managements.

Full-fashioned hosiery workers, of which there are about 4 thousand here, and employes of silk and rayon and other plants governed by the textile code are not affected by the strike plans.

YAARAB MUSICIANS WELCOMED HOME FROM CONVENTION

Yaarab temple's oriental band arrived in Atlanta at 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon from a trip to Atlantic City, where the musical organization was one of the most attractive visiting groups at the imperial council sessions of the Shrine. The band members were given enthusiastic greetings by members of their families.

Past Potentate Tom C. Law, who was advanced to imperial captain of the guard at the council meeting, stated that the band made its best showing at the meeting. He returned to Atlanta in advance of the musicians, who made a side trip to New York city after the session closed.

Paul Griswold, president of the band, and all but five of the musicians went to New York in a group and traveled southward over the Southern Railway.

DEMOCRAT REPLACES REPUBLICAN OFFICIAL

WASHINGTON, July 15.—(AP)—A former republican representative who three weeks ago came into a key position in the home loan board, was supplanted today by a democrat.

James G. Strong, a former house member from Kansas, at one time the ranking member of the house banking committee, was transferred from treasurer of the home loan board to assistant treasurer. He was replaced in the higher position by Patrick J. Maloney, a democrat from Columbia City, Ind.

Several days ago Indiana democratic leaders informed their home folks that the change was to be made.

Strong declined to discuss the shift other than to say that he "came here as temporary treasurer of the corporation."

The home loan board in its announcement of the selection of Strong, on June 21, did not mention the temporary character of the appointment.

THINK OF IT
ONLY $2.00 BUYS
ONE SWELL ROOM
DEEP-SLUMBER BED
PRIVATE BATH · RADIO
MODERN 1000-room HOTEL
HOTEL TIMES SQUARE
Under Direction of Wm. S. Brown
TIMES SQUARE, NEW YORK
FREE Write for copies of "New York in your pocket" and "A $5.50 Week-end of Fun in New York" FREE
DOUBLE ROOM · PRIVATE BATH TWO PERSONS, $3.00

Home Owners' Loan Office To Be Opened Here Monday

Frank A. Holden, Georgia Manager, Reveals Nature of Property Eligible for Federal Loans.

Frank A. Holden, Georgia manager of the Home Owners' Loan Corporation, announced Saturday that applications for loans will be accepted Monday and cited the nature of property on which funds can be borrowed.

State headquarters in Atlanta for the Home Owners' Loan Corporation have been established on the ground floor of the Western Union building, and a full office personnel has been at work for more than a week, Mr. Holden stressed Saturday that there are no more vacancies and that no more applications for work will be considered. More than 1,500 applications have been received since the appointment of the Georgia manager, and from these a full force of experienced and capable workers have been selected and instructed in their duties.

Statement of Holden.

Holden's statement follows:

"The Home Owners' Loan Corporation, created under an act of congress known as 'Home Owners' Act of 1933,' provides for loans on property 'upon which there is located a dwelling for not more than four families, used by the owner as a home or held by him as a homestead and having an appraised value not to exceed $20,000. Loans may also be made 'to redeem or recover homes lost by owners by foreclosure' or sold under power of attorney' or 'by voluntary surrender' within two years prior to making of loans by the corporation.

"The act provides for three classes of loans, to-wit:

"(1) The corporation is authorized to make loans bearing interest at the rate of 5 per cent per annum on homes under mortgage made and recorded prior to June 13, 1933, to the extent of 80 per cent of appraised value of the property where the holder of the mortgage is willing to accept bonds of the corporation in exchange for the mortgage. The act provides: 'The corporation is authorized in connection with any such exchange to make advances in cash to pay the taxes and assessments on the real estate, to provide for necessary maintenance and make necessary repairs, to meet the incidental expenses of the transaction, and to pay such amounts, not exceeding $50 to the holder of the mortgage, obligation, or lien acquired as may be the difference between the face value of the bonds exchanged plus accrued interest thereon and the purchase price of the mortgage, obligation or lien. The face value of the bonds so exchanged plus accrued interest thereon and the cash so advanced shall not exceed in any case $14,000, or 80 percentum of the assessed value of the real estate.'

Loans on Mortgaged Homes.

"(2) Where a home is mortgaged and mortgagee will not accept bonds, loans bearing interest at rate of 6 per cent per annum can be made on mortgaged home in cash to home owners who cannot 'obtain a loan from ordinary lending agencies by making cash advances to the extent of 40 per cent of appraised value of the property.'

"(3) The corporation is also authorized to make 'advances in cash to pay taxes and assessments on real estate, to provide for necessary maintenance and to make necessary repairs and to meet the incidental expenses of the transaction to owners of homes to extent of 50 per cent of their appraised value when the property is not mortgaged. Such loans shall bear interest at 5 per cent per annum.'

"If the corporation acquires a mortgage it 'shall be carried as a first lien or refinanced as a home mortgage by the corporation on the basis of the price paid therefor by the corporation, and shall be amortized by means of monthly payments sufficient to retire the interest and principal within a period not to exceed 15 years.'

"In every instance the value of the home on which loan is made is determined by appraisers of the corporation and the loan is to be secured by the first mortgage on the property.

"The act of congress does not contemplate that loans be made by the corporation to home owners who are not in need of funds to save their homes or to those who can obtain loans from other sources, especially those who want cash loans.

Provisions on Banks.

"Under the provisions of the act the following facts appear with reference to the bonds:

"(1) Bonds issued by the corporation shall cover a period of 18 years.

"(2) They bear interest at the rate of 4 per cent per annum from date.

"(3) The bonds 'shall be fully and unconditionally guaranteed as to interest only by the United States.'

"(4) The bonds 'shall be exempt both as to principal and interest, from all taxation (except surtaxes, estate, inheritance and gift taxes) now or hereafter imposed by the United States or any district, territory, dependency or possession thereof, or by any state, county, municipality, or local taxing authority.'

"(5) 'Any person indebted to the corporation may make payment to it in part or in full by delivery to it of its bonds which shall be accepted for such purpose at face value.'

"In view of the several facts above stated, these bonds should be a safe and desirable investment.

"Before any application for loans on homes mortgaged can be approved, it is necessary to know whether or not the mortgagee will accept bonds as provided in the act and while those connected with the office will give their best efforts in the detail work with respect to any matter connected with making applications, some time and trouble might be saved if the applicant desiring a loan on a home would first confer with the mortgagee. If the applicant does not get the consent of the mortgagee to accept bonds, we will be glad to also confer with mortgagee if desired by applicant.

"The main offices of the Georgia branch of the corporation are located at No. 58 Marietta street on the ground floor of the Western Union building nearly opposite the Grady monument, Atlanta. The telephone number is Walnut 9477. The Georgia district offices are located in Macon in the city hall and in Savannah in the Citizens & Southern Bank building."

ATTORNEY AND APPRAISERS NAMED IN 10TH DISTRICT

Frank Holden, state manager of the Home Owners' Mortgage Corporation, Saturday announced appointments of attorneys and appraisers for the tenth district. He said they were recommended by Paul Brown, representative-elect.

Officials for other districts in the state probably will be announced this week.

The tenth district list, with attorneys listed first, included:

Clarke county, J. D. Braswell and Lee Bradberry, both of Athens.

Richmond, Henry G. Howard, of Augusta. No appraiser.

Franklin, Lenton S. Johnston, of Royston, and Alex Kidd, of Lavonia.

Green, J. G. Faust and Stephen Ashley of Greensboro.

Walton, A. Morris Kelly, of Monroe. No appraiser.

McDuffie, J. Quinn West and Mel Norris of Thomson.

Lincoln, Homer Legg and L. C. Groves of Lincolnton.

Oglethorpe, T. Reese Watkins, of Lexington. No appraiser.

Elbert, Clark Edwards and Fred Hernton, of Elberton.

Taliaferro, Hawes Cloud, of Crawfordville. No appraiser.

FRANK A. HOLDEN.

I. G. HAILEY TO OPPOSE FOSTER FOR ALDERMAN

Third Contest Assured for September 20 Primary. Chosewood, Curtis Enter

The third contest was assured Saturday in the September 20 primary in which nominations will be made for 21 city posts, as I. Gloer Hailey, widely known businessman, qualified against Homer C. Foster for alderman from the ninth ward.

Two other entries were recorded when former Councilman Charles L. Chosewood entered the third ward councilmanic race and Councilman J. Raymond Curtis, of the tenth ward, qualified to succeed himself.

I. GLOER HAILEY.

This week is slated to bring out a bumper crop of candidates, according to reports. Entry lists close at noon next Saturday and all those seeking to offer must qualify by that time.

There are 16 qualified to date for the 21 posts.

In addition to Chosewood, Councilman G. Dan Bridges, of the third, and Harry B. Siegel, make the three-cornered contest there.

Alderman Alvin L. Richards, of the thirteenth ward, is opposed by former Councilman Ellis B. Barrett.

Unopposed Candidates.

In addition the following other incumbents are qualified for council positions but are unopposed:

H. Turner Loehr, first ward; Warren Leak, second; Joseph E. Berman, fourth; William T. Knight, fifth; John Owen, sixth; J. Frank Beck, eighth; William R. Johnson, eleventh, and Horace Rantin, twelfth.

A dozen councilmen, four aldermen, four members of the board of education and a general manager of waterworks are to be nominated.

Hailey has been associated with the Myers-Dickson Furniture Company for seven years. He has served as president of the Baptist Young People's Union, is an officer of the Inman Park Baptist church and a member of Joseph C. Greenfield Masonic Lodge No. 400.

Meeting to be Held.

A mass meeting in behalf of Hailey's candidacy will be held at Euclid and Alta avenues at 8 o'clock Tuesday night.

In announcing, Hailey made the following statement:

"I fully realize the great responsibility of the office I am seeking, but conscientiously believe I can discharge the duties thereof in a manner that will meet with the approval of both the city administration and the people at large.

"I have never sought public office before but do so now with the deep conviction that I can render a real service to the city of my choice and the people among whom I have lived and labored. Then too, I believe the day is at hand when young businessmen should enter public service whenever and wherever the call for such service seems paramount."

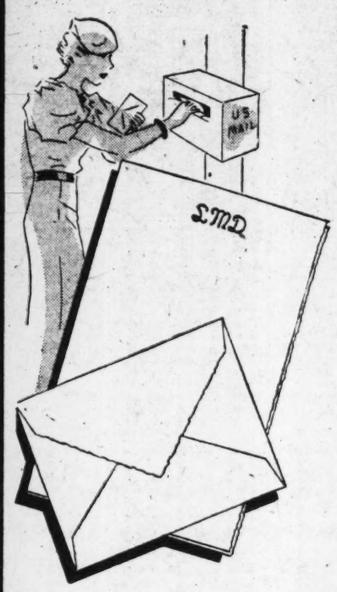

Mrs. Nelson Makes Statement.

Mrs. Julia O'Keefe Nelson, who has announced she will not be a candidate for re-election as the school commissioner from the sixth ward, issued a statement regarding the qualifications of aspirants for the post:

"A member of the board should be free from political aims. The office seeker is the most dangerous member of the board. He or she invariably plays to the gallery. That is what he considers the biggest vote getter. The board of education to him is but a ladder to city council or other office. Hence, no matter what campaign promises he made, out they go.

"Because of the stringent financial situation, board members should be selected most carefully this year. They should not be chosen from friendship, but from proven record. Examine the past business record of every candidate."

DAVISON-PAXON CO.
ATLANTA -- affiliated with MACY'S, New York

Special!—for July Only!
RYTEX Deckle-edge Vellum Paper with your choice of Monogram or 3-line Name and Address!
ALL FOR $1
Penny for every letter you write on this grand-looking stationery! 100 sheets (either large single or smaller folded sheets) smartly personalized for $1! Monogram or address in: POILU BLUE, TERRA COTTA RED, or NILE.
STREET FLOOR

We're on the air with
MOTOROLA Auto Radios

Motorola has everything you expect of the best automobile radio . . . PLUS! Distinctive design, unequalled performance, new features, undreamed-of simplicity! Hear them all, compare—there's no doubt of your choice!
Distinctive MOTOROLA features:
● 7-tube Superheterodyne; Dynamic speaker!
● Airplane style One-button control!
● So compact, easily installed under cowl!
● Indirect illuminated dial plainly visible!
(Small charge for installation.)
Deferred Payments Arranged to Suit Your Convenience!
$64.50
FIFTH FLOOR

Double-Header Sale! . . . COOL COTTONS
AIR-LOOM LACE and EYELET BATISTE
A sturdy, durable, washable cotton lace with all the delicate, spidery charm of fine laces! A "best-seller" for everything from sports to evening frocks!
BROWN, NAVY, WHITE, ECRU, 4 PASTELS.
49c yd.
Regularly would be 79c yard!
Last week we staged a sale of these soft, filmy, flattering eyelets. We scrambled madly for more and got a limited quantity. This new shipment has the same exquisite colors:
ECRU, NILE, WHITE, PINK, MAIZE, BLUE
SECOND FLOOR

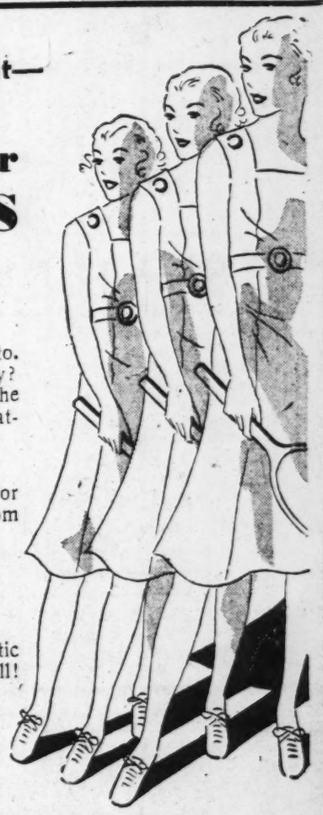

53x53-in. LINEN DAMASK CLOTHS
Closely woven, heavy quality that will launder beautifully. Don't let the absurdly low price mislead you . . . they're lovely! Right now you save $2.94 on each cloth—no telling WHAT you'll pay in a short time!
$1
Regularly would be $2.94!
CHOICE OF:
All white snowy damask or warm ivory with pastel border—peach, green, blue, gold.
SECOND FLOOR

Davison's No. 1,000 SHEETS
81x99 and 72x99-inch
—if bought on today's market would be $1.24 each!
72c
6 for $4.25
The torn size of the extra strong, fine sheeting gives an even length. Free from filling. Cotton is soaring daily—buy plenty at this "low."
42x36-inch Cases .....20c, 6 for $1.10
SECOND FLOOR

we couldn't stop selling
GANNA WALSKA Toilet Preparations
. . . even if we wanted to! Our customers who bought on other great Sales keep coming back. We organized a regular treasure hunt for more of your favorite articles—here they are:
55c
2 for $1
GANNA WALSKA Skin Tonic
GANNA WALSKA Face Powder (rachel, natural)
GANNA WALSKA Cleansing Cream
GANNA WALSKA Tissue Cream
GANNA WALSKA Vanishing Cream
GANNA WALSKA Shampoo
STREET FLOOR

you buy everything else to fit—why not your hose?
Belle Sharmeer STOCKINGS
$1
A too-tight dress splits; you expect it to. A too-short hose runs—you wonder why? Well, we know why, and we've got the whole thing figured out for you—whatever your height:
BREV for little girls: Sizes 8½ to 10. Very grand for youngsters just graduating from socks.
MODITE for middling girls: Sizes 8½ to 10.
DUCHESS for stately, tall girls: Sizes 9½ to 10½. Unusually elastic leg and the longest hose we sell!
STREET FLOOR

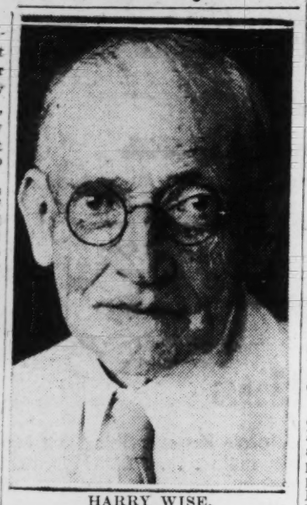

DAVISON-PAXON CO.
ATLANTA -- affiliated with MACY'S, New York

Chattanooga Drivers' License Law Reduces Auto Casualties by Half

Chattanooga's casualties and fatalities from accidents have been cut nearly in half during the last year by reason of enforcement of a new driver's license law, Harry Wise, president of the Chattanooga Safety Council and pioneer resident of that city, said Saturday on a visit to Atlanta.

Belief that the way out of Atlanta's traffic dilemma is through adoption of a similar ordinance, Mr. Wise said that his city's record is now so good that the city of Chattanooga has been given a separate standing in the insurance field, independent of the surrounding territory, and rests on its own merits, so that the city expects substantial reduction in automobile casualty insurance rates next year.

Although he had been interested in the safety council's work since its organization, about eight years ago, Mr. Wise did not become an active participant in its work until his election as president. His contact with safety work has built up an increasing recognition of the great need of missionary work in this field, and its boundless opportunities of development for the protection of the public, he said.

HARRY WISE.

Ochs' Brother-in-Law.

Mr. Wise is a brother-in-law of Adolph S. Ochs, publisher of the New York Times and the Chattanooga Times. His wife, who is visiting Atlanta with him, is a sister of Mrs. Ochs. Mr. Wise was formerly the publisher of the Chattanooga Tradesman, and has retired. He is interested in the United Dairies.

The Chattanooga safety council works with the police department; Chief of Police Ray Bryan is a member of the executive board of the council, Mr. Wise said. Two years ago the council succeeded in obtaining passage of a city ordinance providing for a driver's license, after efforts failed to get a state law on the subject. The city law provides for issuance of a license for two years at a price of $1, and every driver is required to apply, there being no formality or examination attached to issuance of the license.

Three Coupons on Card.

Each license card bears three coupons: first, second and third offense. On arrest for a material violation, a coupon is clipped if the defendant is found guilty, and when the third coupon is gone, the card is taken up and the license suspended. In the case of drunken driving, the first offense results in suspension of the license for three months, with the right to apply for reinstatement, Mr. Wise explained.

On the second conviction of drunken diving, the suspension is for six months, and on the third conviction the license is revoked permanently, Mr. Wise said.

Since October, 1931, when the license law went into effect, there have been 200 first offenses for drunken driving, 40 second offenses, and not a single third offense, he said. Chattanooga, as the result of last year's record, was awarded by the National Safety Council a merit rating as the fourth of 12 cities in the 150,000 population class, he said.

The license board includes F. Woodall Johnson, secretary of the Safety Council; J. T. Kirkpatrick, secretary of the Motor Club, and Chief Bryan.

Safety Work Extended.

In addition to its motor work, the safety council also goes into the factories, homes and schools, in fact, covering every angle of accident and safety work, Mr. Wise said. Industrial employes are educated in safety and monthly talks are made to school children on the subject of safety, he said. Safety council certificates of merit are awarded school classes, to be posted on the schoolroom wall as long as the class has a record of 100 per cent, the certificate being taken down on violation of a traffic rule by a class member. The high schools have highway patrols which direct traffic during certain school hours.

The council notes accidents on a map, by placing colored pins so as to localize danger points and allow for their being safeguarded, Mr. Wise said. He reported that very few accidents in Chattanooga are due to gross negligence, according to an analysis made by the council.

As many persons are injured or killed in homes as by automobiles, and this safety work is cared for with lectures before women's clubs and civic organizations, Mr. Wise said. He considered the work of the safety council as one of the most important and most essential of any civic organization. He expressed belief that the time will come when at least 15 minutes of the school day will be devoted to safety instruction.

THIRD WEEK'S PRIZE WINNERS in JACOBS DO-A-DITTY CONTEST

1st Prize—Miss R. H. Roberts, 865 West End Ave.

2nd Prize—Mr. Robert L. Singleton, 405 Gilmore St., Waycross, Ga.

3rd Prize—Mrs. L. C. Brown, 1720 Rock Springs Rd.

4th Prize—Bob Hale, 353 W. Ponce de Leon Ave., Decatur.

5th Prize—Mrs. Cora J. Crawford, Rm. 1525 Hurt Bldg.

6th Prize—H. H. Alpers, 217 Ten Pryor St. Bldg.

7th Prize—Miss Esta Siegel, 323 Capitol Ave.

8th Prize—Frances King, 901 Rhodes-Haverty.

9th Prize—M. R. Martin, 904 Ponce de Leon Ave.

10th Prize—Virginia Wilkinson, 234 Benson St., Decatur.

11th Prize—Mrs. W. E. Goza, J. P. Allen Co.

12th Prize—Mrs. H. C. Wagstaff, 63 West 28th St.

13th Prize—Dr. Louise A. Pratt, 1105 St. Charles Pl.

14th Prize—Lewise Camp, 12 Lakeview Ave.

15th Prize—Mrs. Robert B. Blackburn, 1006 Citizens & So. Nat'l Bank Bldg.

16th Prize—Mrs. S. Cunningham, Fulton National Bank.

17th Prize—Mrs. J. L. Ballard, 56 Avery Dr.

18th Prize—Mrs. Harry Erdberg, 810 Southern Railway Bldg.

19th Prize—J. T. McKibben, clerk Main Post Office.

20th Prize—Shirley Anne Reed (age 10).

21st Prize—Mrs. John J. Woodside, 125 15th St.

22nd Prize—Miss Annie Lane, 515 Central Ave.

23rd Prize—Mrs. Milton Oelsner, 979 Virginia Ave.

24th Prize—J. C. Bagwell Jr., 885 Courtenay Dr.

25th Prize—Mrs. C. B. Leiding, 429 Montgomery Ferry Dr.

JACOBS
18 Convenient Stores

FARLEY APPEALS FOR DRY REPEAL

Continued From First Page.

program of the president, Farley gave assurance that effective state control of liquor will prevent the return of the old saloon. Legalization of beer has resulted in decreased intoxication, he said.

"Not only in the south, but throughout the land we were teaching and practicing temperance and we were approaching our goal of practical temperance when the eighteenth amendment shattered our whole program obtained over years of work," he said in condemning prohibition for promoting the illegal traffic in liquor.

The democratic party favors repeal. President Franklin D. Roosevelt favors repeal. The votes in 16 representative states indicate the American people want repeal, Farley said in referring to repeal victories in all the states that have voted thus far on prohibition.

"President Roosevelt has fulfilled his pledges to us. It is up to us now to keep our covenant with him. I say we can and should do no less."

In informal statements made today as he flew from Atlanta to Memphis he predicted repeal of the eighteenth amendment by Christmas and forecast repeal victories in Alabama, Arkansas, Oregon and Tennessee.

Farley spoke tonight to a mass meeting at Overton park. He stood on a speakers' platform erected near Rainbow lake. Before him were ranged tiers of seats to accommodate 10,000 listeners, while hundreds more attended the meeting. Mayor Watkins Overton presided and Tennessee's welcome to the postmaster-general was expressed by Governor Hill McAlister. Horace Frierson, democratic national committeeman from Knoxville, introduced Farley.

Linked With Program.

Repeal of the 18th amendment is linked with the president's program of industrial recovery so as to aid the paying off of the bond issue necessary for public works projects.

"The new taxes necessary to meet the carrying charges on these prosperity bonds, is linked inseparably with repeal of the 18th amendment. That is provided specifically in the national industrial recovery act. If repeal is had during the calendar year of 1933, it will be possible for the president to remit these special taxes during the ensuing year. If repeal is delayed even until January 15, 1934, these $227,000,000 of extra taxes will remain in effect until January 1, 1935," Farley warned. "It is of the greatest advantage, therefore, that we accomplish repeal this year."

"Unhappy results" have been gained from prohibition, the postmaster-general said.

"We all know that one of the consequences was the development of a vicious criminal class engaged in an illegal traffic in liquor, dominated by gangsters and racketeers who have enriched themselves to the extent of billions of dollars which would have otherwise gone into the treasury of the United States.

Hits Prohibition.

"If we could waive all the other sound reasons for our support of repeal; if we could shut our eyes to the economic necessities for repeal, the lowering of taxes, the balancing of budgets, the restoration of many lines of business, the suppression of vice and organized crime—if we could waive all these considerations, we still would have to condemn the 18th amendment for what it has done to our youth. As a father I want to get rid of it."

The genial Farley, towering big and brawny on the speaker's stand, quoted the democratic platform to give assurance to the south that the old saloon would not return but that the question of controlling liquor shall be left to the states:

"We urge the enactment of such measures by the several states as will actually promote temperance, effectively prevent the return of the saloon and bring the liquor traffic into the open under the complete supervision and control of the states," he read from the platform.

Reviews Activities.

Reviewing the activities of the president and the democratic administration, Farley told of the various legislation that was passed to make effective the promises of the democratic party during the last campaign. Converting the major pledges of the platform into law has promoted recovery of the country, he said.

"How many persons believed on the first day of last March, when banks were collapsing like houses of cards, that by the Fourth of July we would have dollar wheat, 60-cent corn and 10-cent cotton? Where is the manufacturer who then thought he would be putting people back to work and be able to raise wages?" Farley asked. "It did not seem possible. But the man you had placed in the White House faced those monumental tasks with a confidence born of a faith and will to do things."

3 STATES IN SOUTH FACE REPEAL VOTE

Arkansas, Alabama and Tennessee To Decide Issue This Week.

By JAMES H. STREET.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., July 15.—(AP)—Alabama, Arkansas and Tennessee—barometers for prohibition sentiment in the deep south—will vote next week on the issue of repeal and the drys say they are confident of the outcome while the wets say they are jubilant.

"Tennessee by 50,000," predicted repealists in that state, which votes Thursday.

"The wets know today, as well as I do, that the one and only hope they have of beating us is that of fraud and they are therefore preparing to practice it in the largest and grossest possible way," said the Rev. John F. Baggett, chairman of Tennessee's United Prohibition Forces.

"Stand by the party and states' rights," shouted repealists who have stumped Alabama. This state and Arkansas vote Tuesday.

"We expect Alabama to go against repeal by a handsome majority," said Charles Rice, anti-repeal campaign manager for this state.

And over in Arkansas, repeal leaders smilingly say, "Just wait and see, this state is no longer in doubt."

But prohibitionists disagree and predict a smashing victory in the home state of Senator Joe Robinson.

The campaign for repeal reached its climax today with Postmaster-General James A. Farley speaking in Memphis in behalf of the party's pledge. President Roosevelt previously had urged Dixie to stay by its party's platform. The repealists have the machinery and state organizations in the democratic south are powerful instruments.

Many church leaders have taken the stump against repeal and their pleas that prohibition is a moral issue has sounded from the Ozarks to the Gulf. Some ministers like the Rev. Hay Watson Smith, of Little Rock, pastor of a fashionable Presbyterian church, have lined up with repealists.

Mr. Smith spoke last Sunday in interest of repeal. Several Little Rock pastors will answer his sermon tomorrow.

Lee Miles, chairman of the Arkansas executive committee, today made public a letter from Postmaster-General Farley congratulating him and other party leaders in Arkansas for their "loyal work" in interest of repeal.

Observers say Arkansas will poll 150,000 to 200,000 votes Tuesday.

United forces for prohibition in that state have conducted a whirlwind campaign with sound trucks and say many votes have been swung to their cause recently.

Drys, Wets See Victory.

Up in Tennessee, prohibitionists are claiming seven of the nine districts. Repealists are claiming six districts. Repeal advocates say the cities of Memphis, Nashville, Chattanooga and Knoxville will vote to eliminate the 18th amendment from the constitution. The wets predict a repeal majority of "from 50,000 upwards to any proportions in accordance with the vote cast."

Charles Rice, who is leading dry forces in Alabama, says the total vote for and against repeal in the several states has been about 50 per cent of the last presidential vote. "On this basis, the drys in Alabama will win by a small majority," he predicted. "However, we predict a heavy vote on July 18, and, therefore, expect Alabama to go against repeal by a handsome majority.

Wets in this state say it's all over but the shouting. A. M. Tunstall, repeal campaign manager, said at the lowest estimate, Alabama will go 2-to-1 for repeal.

Claim 60 Counties.

"We will carry 60 of the 67 counties and the vote will be close in the remaining seven," he said. "We do not concede these counties but believe they will be decided by 100 to 200 votes either way."

In Louisiana, Governor O. K. Allen said today that the legislature there would be convened "just as soon as its taking action will do any good to accomplish repeal."

"The legislature meets in nine months, anyway," he said, "and unless there are enough states with Louisiana to repeal the 18th amendment, there is no need to spend money for an extra session unnecessarily."

Bishop W. N. Ainsworth, of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, told a Macon, Ga., audience Friday night that "no man knows" how the elections will come out next week.

Up at Knoxville, Tenn., Representative James Wadsworth, of New York, urged Tennesseeans to vote repeal as a matter of states' rights.

Oregon to Follow.

The vote in Alabama and Arkansas is set for Tuesday. Tennessee votes on Thursday. Then the scene shifts suddenly to the Pacific northwest where Oregon voters pass on the question on Friday, making four states in all to hold repeal elections during the week.

Postmaster-General Farley, generalissimo of the democratic administration's drive for efacement of the dry laws, carried his campaign into the south tonight with an address at Memphis, Tenn., which was transmitted to large gatherings in Alabama and Arkansas.

He has expressed himself as confident anti-prohibitoinists will win in every state voting on the question. These elections are definitely fixed in 35 states this year. Florida's governor setting October 10 for the balloting there.

Thirty-six states are needed to ratify repeal. Anti-prohibitionists are certain that the thirty-sixth to vote this year will will be found among Colorado, Montana, Oklahoma, Utah and Virginia. Sixteen states have voted so far and each has favored repeal.

Texas Votes Next Month.

President Roosevelt was told this week by former Governor Ferguson, of Texas, that the Lone Star state would march step-by-step with the parade. Texas votes August 26 being preceded August 8 by Arizona and August 19 by Missouri.

Three days after Texas votes, Washington citizens will have the question before them on August 29. Six states vote in September—Vermont on the 5th, Maine on the 11th, Maryland and Massachusetts on the 12th and Idaho and New Mexico on the 19th.

Florida is the only state scheduled at present to vote in October. On November 7, general election day, North Carolina, Ohio, Pennsylvania and South Carolina decide the issue.

Legislation passed in Montana and Utah will permit the governors of those states to call a special election either this or next year. Colorado's legislature is expected to meet in special session during August and Virginia's meets August 17.

Dates for elections have been definitely fixed for November 6, 1934, in Nebraska and South Dakota.

Farley has urged Governor Laffoon, of Kentucky, to include prohibition repeal in his contemplated call for a special session of his state's legislature this summer. The legislatures of Mississippi and Louisiana do not meet for regular session this year.

The 16 states which already have voted for repeal are Michigan, Wisconsin, Rhode Island, Wyoming, New Jersey, Delaware, Indiana, Massachusetts, New York, Nevada, Illinois, Connecticut, New Hamshire, Iowa California and West Virginia.

On the Radio Waves Today

Ansley Hotel WGST 890 Kc.

7:00 A. M.—Morning musicale, CBS.
7:30—Columbia Junior Bugle, CBS.
8:00—Melody Parade, CBS.
8:30—News.
8:45—Dr. Witherspoon Dodge.
9:15—Rhoda Arnold and Charles Carlile, CBS.
9:30—Salt Lake City Tabernacle choir and organ, CBS.
10:30—New World Salon orchestra, CBS.
10:45—Miss Lena Madesin Phillips, CBS.
11:00—Services from First Baptist church.
12:15 P. M.—The Playboys, CBS.
12:30—Manhattan Moods, CBS.
1:00—Symphonic hour, CBS.
2:00—Cathedral hour, CBS.
3:00—Willard Robison syncopated sermons, CBS.
3:15—Lithuanian Day program from World's Fair, CBS.
3:30—Bible truth lectures.
3:45—G. B. Casey and chorus choir.
4:00—Eddie Duchin's orchestra, CBS.
4:30—Chicago Knights, CBS.
5:00—The Gauchos, CBS.
6:30—John Henry, Black River Giant, CBS.
5:45—Ann Leaf at the organ, CBS.
6:00—Watchtower international broadcast.
6:15—John Henry, Black River Giant, CBS.
6:30—Philadelphia summer concert, CBS.
8:30—Rhythm rhapsody, CBS.
8:45—Snowball and Sunshine.
9:00—Guy Lombardo's orchestra, CBS.
9:30—Jerry Freeman's orchestra, CBS.
10:00—Isham Jones and orchestra, CBS.
10:30—Ted Lewis and orchestra, CBS.
11:00—Charlie Trout and orchestra, CBS.
11:30—Studio.
12:00—Sign off.

Shrine Mosque WJTL 1370 Kc.

11:00 A. M.—St. Luke's Episcopal church services.
12:30 P. M.—Organ melodies.
12:45—Jewish variety program.
1:15—Katherine Jones.
1:30—Slants on Life with Ralph.
1:45—Sunshine quartet.
2:00—LDS progragm.
2:30—Musical divertisement hour.
3:00—Lang Howe.
3:15—Hawaiian Echoes.
3:30—Memories scrapbook.
4:00—Popular music.
4:30—Quartet.
4:45—J. T. Pittman.
5:00—Vesper services.
5:30—Evening melodies.
5:45—Sign off.

Biltmore Hotel WSB 740 Kc.

6:55 A. M.—Another day.
7:00—The Balladeers, NBC.
7:30—One man band, NBC.
7:45—Alden Edkins, NBC.
8:00—The South Sea Islanders, NBC.
8:30—In radioland with shut-ins.
9:10—Call to worship.
9:30—Bible class.
10:30—Radio City concert, NBC.
11:00—First Presbyterian church.
12:15 P. M.—Young Judean program.
12:30—Jen Garber's orchestra, NBC.
1:00—Lady Esther serenade, NBC.
1:30—The radio pulpit, NBC.
2:00—Fiddlers Three, NBC.
2:15—Symphonette, NBC.
2:30—Lithuanian day at the Century of Progress, NBC.
3:00—The World of Religion, NBC.
3:30—Eva Jessye choir, NBC.
4:00—Catholic hour, NBC.
4:30—Pollikoff novelty orchestra, NBC.
4:55—Atlanta in Nashville baseball game.
5:00—Borrah Minnevitch's Rascals, NBC.
5:15—London economic conference, NBC.
5:30—Wisdom of the Ages, NBC.
6:00—Chase & Sanborn, NBC.
7:00—Gulf headliners, NBC.
7:30—American Album of Familiar Music, NBC.
8:00—Colonel Louis McHenry Howe, NBC.
8:15—Impressions of Italy, NBC.
8:46—Donald Novis, tenor, NBC.
9:31—Orchestral gems, NBC.
10:00—Dance nocturne, NBC.
10:30—Briarcliff reveries.
11:00—Lotus Gardens orchestra, NBC.
11:30—Golden Pheasant orchestra, NBC.
12:00—Sign off.

On the Air Today

The Trio in E-flat by Johannes Brahms, popularly known as the "Horn" Trio, will be played in full by the Compinskys when the talented instrumentalists face a WABC-Columbia microphone at 11:30 o'clock this morning. Originally scored for horn, violin and piano, the work was later rewritten by Brahms for violin, piano and 'cello, the version in which it will be broadcast.

Songs of the pampas will again be offered by the Gauchos, under the direction of Vincent Sorey and with Tito Guizar as soloist, at 5:15 o'clock tonight over WABC and the Columbia network. The young Mexican tenor's solos will include the Spanish bolero, "Eres Tu," and the Afro-Cuban cancion, "Maria La O."

Mildred Bailey, Do Re Mi, the Eton Boys and Freddie Rich's orchestra will combine their talents for a gala half-hour of Rhythm Rhapsody, to be heard over the WABC-Columbia network at 8:30 o'clock tonight.

A highly varied group of selections from the pens of the masters of religious composition will be included in the presentation of the Cathedral Hour, Columbia's weekly broadcast of devotional music, at 2 o'clock this afternoon over the WABC-CBS network. Channon Collinge will conduct, and soloists will be Mildred Rose, soprano; Theo Karle, tenor; Barbara Maurel, contralto, and Crane Calder, bass.

The second "pop" concert from Robin Hood Dell to be broadcast by the Philadelphia Summer Concerts orchestra over WABC and a nationwide Columbia network at 6:30 o'clock tonight will include popular compositions ranging from the Hungarian works of Franz Liszt to David Guion's colorful American sketch, "Arkansas Traveler." Erno Rapee will conduct.

DANCE 'FOLDS UP;' EIGHT ATLANTANS LEFT STRANDED

AUGUSTA, Ga., July 15.—Eight Atlantans were left stranded in Augusta without funds when a marathon dance, promoted by Carl Johnson, professional dance promoter, collapsed in the face of local police and civic opposition. Those left here were Bob Ginn, Bill McCoy, Bill Reddy, Worth Tolar, Red Garrison, Red Waddell, Harry Alexandre, Miss Pete Perry, Woody Brooks. Several others from various points were left in the city without funds or transportation.

Red Garrison, who won first prize, claims that he never collected the $250 from Johnson that he won in the previous contest.

The dance started here more than two months ago at a country roadhouse and when the attraction failed to draw it was moved to a downtown location. Local police and fire officials would not let the promoters accept paid admission and consequently the dance folded up.

Sheriff Gary M. Whittle, of Richmond county, holds warrants for the arrest of Johnson for bad check charges preferred against him by the dancers.

E. R. BLACK LAUDS NEW DEAL RESULTS

Continued From First Page.

pally to the economic condition of the country as a whole. He has been in conference frequently in the last two months with President Roosevelt, arranging the finances of a nation.

The banks of the country as a whole are in sound financial shape and are ready to meet all the demands of business, he said.

"The last two months in Washington have been both strenuous and fascinating—strenuous in the big efforts that are being made in every direction to keep permanent the prosperity that has returned and to let every business and every man and woman share in that prosperity, and fascinating in the big problems that present themselves in this effort," Mr. Black said.

"The efforts to get money out of closed banks and into the hands of depositors, the efforts to furnish adequate funds for commerce and industry, the efforts to get the unemployed to work, the efforts to increase production and through greater earnings to increase the purchasing power of the consumer, the efforts to put money to work and to enable the farmer, the businessman, the banker to make some money, are all culminating in spurred activity in every business line.

Normal Conditions Returning.

"The wheels are turning again and normal prosperity is evidencing itself all over the land.

"There has been a fine response from all over the country to the country's effort to end the depression. Agriculture, industry and banking are accepting the terms of the new era in the right spirit and are co-operating fully."

The federal reserve chairman was confident of the return of prosperity and was optimistic in his outlook for the future.

"The agricultural effort is being especially felt in the south and cotton prices are bringing courage everywhere. Our textile mills are running extra shifts to supply goods at advanced prices," he said.

Banks in Good Shape.

"The same result is being shown in other industries in other sections. Our banks are in good condition, liquid and meeting and ready to meet every demand of industry, agriculture and commerce.

"In Washington there is a determination to win with the president. This determination is requiring work but it is engendering courage, and that courage is being reflected everywhere."

Mr. Black expressed his happiness at being in Atlanta for a few days with his family at their home at 1614 Peachtree street, N. E., and at the opportunity to greet his old friends here.

4 MOTORCYCLE RACERS ARE INJURED IN SPILLS

One Atlanta man and three others driving in the 24-hour motorcycle races which ended late Saturday night at Lakewood were injured Saturday when thrown from their machines. Tommy Taylor, 18, of 971 Tift avenue, suffered a dislocated left shoulder and fractured left ankle. He was admitted to Grady hospital.

R. D. Johnson, 19, of Savannah, suffered a fractured left ankle, and Otis Vanderford, 35, of Hapeville, received severe lacerations on the left leg and left hand when thrown. They were treated by physicians at the track.

WORKERS' UNION RAPS CITY, COUNTY PAY CUTS

Salaries Reduced to Point of Suffering, Body's Resolution Says.

Asserting that city and county employes have been reduced in salary to the point of actual suffering and that approximately one-third of the total number on the combined pay rolls make less than $100 a month, the City and County Public Service Employes' Union No. 17212 Saturday night passed a resolution asking that no more reductions be placed in effect and appealing to businessmen in general to hike salaries of all wage earners to the level of pre-depression days.

The resolution points out that pay reductions have been placed in effect on county and city employes that "have brought actual suffering to women and children and have taken bread from their tables."

Reductions by industry generally have caused heavy decreases in national, state and municipal incomes, necessitating curtailment of governmental expenses, it was brought out. To practice this curtailment at the expense of the wage earner is "in contradiction to the proclamation of President Franklin D. Roosevelt to the effect that wages should be increased to meet the cost of living," the resolution says.

The resolution ends by calling on business in general to raise wages.

In introducing the resolution, Fred Stephens, president of the body, urged its passage as a gesture "in backing Roosevelt's play." He asserted that the resolution was not alone for the public employes but addressed to industry of Atlanta in general.

Fair Weather Today Forecast for Atlanta

Light showers Saturday probably will be followed by fair weather in Atlanta today, according to George Mindling, United States meteorologist.

The temperature will remain moderate today, though a little higher than Saturday. The range of the mercury will be from 70 to 88 degrees. Saturday's temperatures started from 69 degrees and rose to 86.

TWO FLIERS ARE KILLED IN DELAWARE CRASH

WILMINGTON, Del., July 15.—(AP)—J. Allison Buck, 36, who quit his Wilmington grocery store about 10 years ago to become Delaware's best-known pilot, and John Moran, of Hampstead, Long Island, N. Y., an inspector of the aeronautics division of the United States department of commerce, were killed late today while testing a new type airplane.

The plane, a cabin monoplane which its designers hoped might add new comforts to air travel, apparently exploded in mid-air over the Delaware river directly opposite the mouth of the Chesapeake and Delaware canal.

Buck's body was found at the controls in the cockpit after the plane debris was hauled from the river bottom. Moran's body was not recovered, and rivermen abandoned the hunt for the night.

Student Directorate Opposes Intervention of U. S. in Cuba

MIAMI, Fla., July 15.—(AP)—Members of the student directorate of the University of Havana declined, in a statement here today, to accept American mediation of Cuban political troubles, holding that such outside interference constitutes a negation of the full sovereignty of the island republic.

"They recognized the existence of the Platt amendment under which the United States exercises the right of intervention in Cuba, but said the "acceptance of said treaty was forced upon the people of Cuba as an indispensable condition of recognition of its independence."

"That the constituents of 1901 preferred a mortgaged republic to no republic at all does not prevent us from rebelling against this negation of our sovereignty and against all acts underlying such negation," the statement said.

"If our future struggles must count the repeal of this treaty as a capital objective, it would be immoral for us now to use it as a shield to obtain the momentary solution of an immediate problem."

Accordingly, the statement continued, the student directorate prefers "to continue our struggle against the Machado tyranny and to sacrifice our lives" rather than accept the invitation of United State Ambassador Sumner E. Welles to participate in the mediation conferences.

"We do not want a hasty solution which in the end will blight the program we adopted from the beginning and dim the ideals, which, now and always, we desire to hold uppermost," the directorate members said, adding that they worked not only to "dethrone" President Machado, but also for a "thorough cleansing of the system."

"We students," they said, "understand that the mediation proposed by the ambassador of the United States tacitly implies an intervention and is backed by the coercive power of the American government. . . . This mediation, therefore, alloys the right of self-determination of the Cuban people and tends to once more inveigle it with the idea that our internal troubles may only be solved with foreign collaboration."

They said they weighed Welles' invitation carefully, balancing the "distressing political predicament of our country" against "our duty to watch out for the integrity of our sovereignty."

The statement said further that the proposed mediation is "no more and no less than the vaunted formula of cordiality which we have so often rejected, not only on account of the distrust which logically would inspire any promise coming from the side of the (Cuban) government, but also because it is improper to discuss or enter into agreement with usurpers."

"We cannot, therefore," it went on, "enter into any discussion, even by proxy, with our executioners and assassins, nor acknowledge—a condition imposed by Mr. Welles to the mediationist sectors—a juridic status which we will continue to consider illegitimate, as it emerges from the transgression of constitutional principles which we have heretofore held inviolate."

Juan Antonio Rubio, Cuban doctor and president of the student directorate who is in exile here, made the statement public. It was addressed to "the people of Cuba," and bore the signatures of 16 other members. It said all the signers were in exile for opposition to President Machado and added that all other members who did not sign were "either exiled or jailed."

BURIAL IN SAVANNAH FOR FRANK FITZGERALD

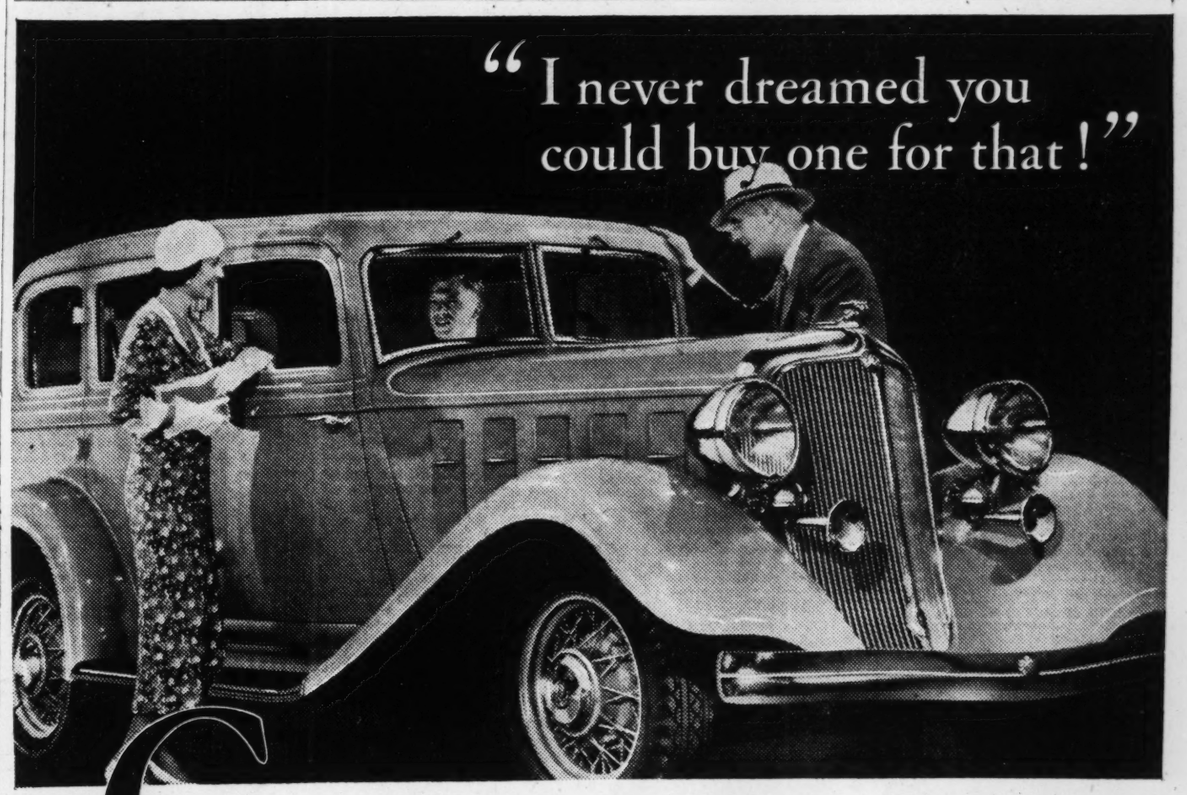

SAVANNAH, Ga., July 15.—It is expected the body of Frank Fitzgerald, a linotype operator who died in Jacksonville Thursday, will be brought to Savannah for interment.

Mr. Fitzgerald lived for a number of years in Atlanta, where he was employed as a linotype operator on both The Atlanta Constitution and the Journal.

About two years ago his health failed and he was sent to the Union Printers' Home at Colorado Springs, Col., for treatment and upon his discharge went to Jacksonville to live.

He was married twice, his second wife surviving him. He also leaves a son in Jacksonville and a sister in Savannah. Mr. Fitzgerald was very popular with a wide circle of friends in Savannah, Atlanta and Jacksonville.

ALL THIS WEEK
2 Any Garments $1.00
Fur-Trimmed Coats, Pleated Dresses, Evening Clothes Included. Guaranteed Satisfaction.
HOWARD CLEANERS
"There's a Store in Your Neighborhood"
Albert F. Bunn, Owner and Manager

A CHRYSLER for $785

"I've always gone along thinking you had to pay $1800 or more for a Chrysler.

"When I actually inquired, I was downright astonished at the low 1933 prices.

"Imagine buying that Chrysler Six Sedan for $785 f. o. b. Or the Royal Eight for $925. The Imperial for $1295!

"It's all the more amazing when you drive the cars and learn what they're like—doing things in that smooth, silent way that only Chryslers seem to have.

"I've always preferred a Chrysler . . . always admired what the name stood for . . . always felt that it reflected credit on a man's judgment and position in life. And at today's prices. I can't see how I can afford to buy anything else.

"I figure a Chrysler will stand up better than ordinary cars. With that patented Floating Power engine mounting, there is no vibration to rack and strain the car. They have a new kind of T-slot piston they say outwears the car. And with those alloy steel inserts you practically never have to grind the valves.

"They tell me that there are actually some twenty odd automatic or self-servicing devices on these cars. That means a lot less money for service and adjustments.

"It's not surprising that everybody is talking Chrysler these days. With all that Chrysler gives and the little a Chrysler costs, it's hard to find anything anywhere near Chrysler's value."

★ ★ ★

• There are six body types of the big, handsome Chrysler Six . . . all with 83 horsepower and 117 inches of comfort-giving wheelbase. The prices range from $745 to $945.

• The 1933 Royal Eight is a flashing performer with 90 horsepower and 120-inch wheelbase. It's the smoothest, fastest, silkiest car you ever drove, and the astonishing prices on its six body models range from $895 to $1125.

• The patrician Imperial is a super-fast, super-powerful aristocrat of 108 horsepower and 126-inch wheelbase. It has many special extra features and luxuries, yet the five body types range from only $1275 to $1495.

• For those who seek the last word in size, power and distinction, Chrysler builds the Custom Imperial. With 146-inch wheelbase, 135 horsepower, and individualized bodies by famed custom designers, it provides the ultimate in motoring luxury. There are six body types, ranging from $2895 to $3595. All prices f. o. b. factory . . . dealers offer convenient deferred payment plan. All dual high transmissions used in Custom Imperial models employ internal gears . . . remarkably quiet.

121

Henry Motor Co.
East Point

DeKalb Motor Co.
Decatur

Harry Sommers, Inc.
Distributor
440 Spring St., N. W.—JA. 4770

Fulton Motor Co.
3108 Peachtree Road

Clyde Langford Motor Co.
166 Edgewood

J. R. Duncan Motor Co.
1009 Marietta St.

Georgia Girls Seek Money Advanced on Job Promises

Police Inquire Into Contracts Involving National Defense League, Atlanta Organization.

Restitution of $100 to each of 12 Georgia, Florida and New York girls who were charged that amount as "bond" to obtain jobs in a membership-selling campaign in Chicago was awaited Saturday, while state and federal authorities investigated what the girls said was a scheme which led them to invest their funds for a trip to the Century of Progress Exposition.

The money was to have been paid back by noon Saturday, but an extension of the dead-line until sometime this week was asked and granted by the girls, with the understanding that vigorous prosecution would follow continued failure to replace the money which was supposed to have been held in trust.

Five of the girls have been in Atlanta for several days trying to get the money returned, and the others are understood to have returned to their homes. Postoffice inspectors and investigators from the office of Solicitor-General John A. Boykin have been working on the case, in an effort to obtain restitution.

One of the girls, spokesman for the group, told the following story to The Constitution:

"We answered advertisements in the newspapers for young ladies to obtain positions in the World's Fair. The advertisements were signed only with the address, 105 Ten Forsyth street. Some of us answered personally and some by mail. We were given personal interviews by a man who said he was Colonel Winfield Jones, president of the National Defense League.

"The work, we were told, was to be in booths at the Century of Progress Exposition, the booths to be decorated with flags and guns. Personal ability, we were advised, would make us at least $50 a week through the sale of memberships.

"We were required to put up $100 each as evidence of our good faith, to be held in trust and returned. A man introduced as the 'Rev.' L. A. Lewis, national chaplain and business manager, was to have charge of the work in Chicago. Lewis accompanied some of us to Chicago, our transportation being paid by the people who employed us.

"In Chicago we were told to report to a hotel where Lewis had established headquarters. We learned that booths had not been arranged in the fair, because the fair people would not allow any organizations to conduct membership drives on the fair grounds, although we had been told our booths would be located in the hall of science.

"We were supposed to solicit memberships for the league, and we got a few. We sent out literature, and worked for the organization, and our salaries of $50 a week were paid regularly up to three weeks ago. Then came a pay-day when we were stalled off, and telegrams arrived saying that a man was on the way with the money. We were put off for two weeks, being afraid to take action because of fear of breaking our contracts. Then Lewis disappeared when we called for a show-down. He left and we have not seen him since.

"Some of us had had our attorneys go over the contracts before we signed up for the trip, and we were assured that the contracts appeared to be all right, and so we joined the league's employes in good faith. In Chicago, after the showdown, we saw the postoffice inspectors, and were advised to come to Atlanta, which we did. We saw the postoffice inspectors here, and got in touch with Colonel Jones, who promised to repay the money by noon Saturday.

Girls who posted $100 each were listed as follows: Miss Sara Head, Decatur; Miss Louise Jackson, Valdosta; Miss Mary Virginia Paulk, Valdosta; Miss Rosalie Green, Valdosta; Mrs. Isabel Johnston, Chattanooga; Miss Nell Davis, Cuthbert; Mrs. W. F. Chaplin, Calhoun; Miss Carol Van Landingham, Cairo; Mrs. W. A. Hasty, Griffin; Mrs. R. Welchel, New York city; Miss Margaret Williams, Milton, Fla., and Miss Elizabeth Williamson, Sylvester.

J. Ira Harrelson, attorney who was reported to be representing "Colonel" Jones in the matter, Saturday denied he was handling the case. Ed A. Stephens, assistant solicitor-general, said that he and some of the girls had conferred with Harrelson Saturday and were asked, on behalf of Jones, for an extension of time until some day this week. Harrelson later Saturday admitted that he represented Jones, and issued the following statement on behalf of Jones:

"Neither Colonel Jones personally, nor the National Defense League, received any benefits from the alleged losses claimed, according to newspaper reports, to have been sustained by certain southern girls working on a membership drive in Chicago, under the direction of L. A. Lewis and a person of the name of Mathews.

"The National Defense League has been in existence since 1912 and its work in the past has been of a substantial benefit to the country at large and the public generally.

"An investigation is now being made to determine what losses may have been sustained as result of any connection or transaction which any person may have had with the National Defense League.

"Arrangements are now being made for a full settlement with everyone who has a legitimate claim against the league."

Carlton Recovering.

TAMPA, July 15.—(AP)—Former Governor Doyle E. Carlton is recovering in a hospital here from an operation for appendicitis. His brother performed the operation Thursday.

Why Pay More — FOR THE HAIR — MOROLINE — WHITE PETROLEUM JELLY — LARGE JARS 5c AND 10c

DO YOU

Need Furniture?

DO YOU

Want to Save Money?

IF SO

Now Is the Time for Action

Don't Wait Another Day

Come Tomorrow to

MATHER BROS.

Inc.

229-231 Peachtree

Gigantic Removal Sale

Don't wait! Don't put off your visit for another day! Our stocks are being swept away in a flood of the most furious buying on record! Every day sees hundreds of rich bargains cleared from our floors—never to be duplicated! It can't last forever! We had a huge stock—but it's melting away rapidly and quantities grow limited! Hurry—while you can still take advantage of these record-smashing prices. COME and SAVE!

Remember, This Is NOT a Cash Sale

Even with the drastic reductions. We do not need the cash. We MUST clear the floors and on every purchase EASIEST TERMS OF CREDIT WILL PREVAIL. Come tomorrow, while stocks are complete, while the best bargains are still here, and

Use Your Credit and SAVE

'Faust' Closes 9th Season Of Univ. of Georgia Opera

To Hugh Hodgson, left, head of the department of music of the University of Georgia, and to Edwina Eustis, right, contralto, of the Philadelphia Opera Company, go much of the credit for the success of the ninth annual opera season, just closed at the University of Georgia in Athens. Mr. Hodgson served with great success, as in the past, as director of the opera presentation. Miss Eustis sang major roles of Nancy in the opera "Martha," and of Martha in the presentation of "Faust."

By MOZELLE HORTON.

The University of Georgia climaxed its ninth annual season of grand opera Friday night with the production of Gounod's "Faust," recording the operas of this season as beyond doubt the most brilliant ever staged in Athens. There was nothing but praise and appreciation for the exceptionally fine performance of Flotow's "Martha," given in Woodruff hall Wednesday night, but the enthusiasm of the vast audience mounted higher and higher as Friday night's opera moved forward with finished singing and acting on the part of principals and chorus.

Coinciding with the operatic season was the annual state music music teachers' institute, attracting teachers and musicians from all sections of the state for a three-day session of inspirational meetings and programs.

Hugh Hodgson, eminent musician and head of the music department of the university, added another triumph to his already brilliant career in the accomplishment of this dual success, for it was under his skillful and efficient direction that both the operas and the institute proceeded.

Assisted by Atlantan.

Lawrence G. Nilson, in the winter supervisor of music in the Atlanta schools, and for the summer, conductor for the operas and teacher of public school music at the summer quarter, assisted Mr. Hodgson in the production of the operas in an immeasurable way.

Edwina Eustis, contralto of the Philadelphia Opera Company, performed a double duty. She not only sang leading contralto roles in both operas, but was production manager for both operas. To her well-deserved laurels go for the professional way the operas were staged.

Operatic Casts.

The case of "Martha" was as follows: Lady Harriet Durham, Helen Jepson, soprano, of the Philadelphia Opera Company; Nancy, Edwina Eustis, contralto, also of the Philadelphia Opera Company; Sir Tristram, John Hoffman, baritone, of Atlanta; Lionel, Albert Mahler, tenor of the Philedelphia Opera Company; Plunkett, Leonard Treash, baritone, of the Philadelphia Opera Company, and the sheriff of Richmond, James Bartch, baritone, of Augusta.

In "Faust," Albert Mahler played the part of Faust; Leonard Treash was Mephistopheles; John Hoffman was Valentine, Marguerite's brother; James Bartch sang the part of Wagner; Helen Jepson interpreted the role of Marguerite; Helen Riley Smith, of Atlanta, was Siebel, and Edwina Eustis was Martha, Marguerite's friend.

Georgians Win Praise.

Three Georgia artists won acclaim for their outstanding performances in principal roles, bringing pride to their native state for their talent. They were Helen Riley Smith, of Atlanta; John Hoffman, of Atlanta, and James Bartch, of Augusta.

The chorus deserves unstinted praise for its fine support in the cast, the thorough way in which it had trained and the splendid ensemble numbers.

Recognition and credit is given the efficient work of Irene Leftwich, pianist; Claire Harper, concert master; John Galloway, stage manager; Dwight Hiestand, personnel stage manager; Hubert Owens, scenic artist, and others.

Recital Program.

A third highlight in the musical festivities was the brilliant piano recital given in the university chapel Thursday night by Beryl Rubinstein, director of the Cleveland Institute of Music. Mr. Rubinstein was a former Athens boy, but many years ago he moved away and since that time he has gained national prominence in the musical world.

Many programs and discussions of vital interest to attending music teachers featured the institute. A luncheon Thursday, in Demosthenian hall, followed by a musical and social hour with the opera stars in Soule hall lobby, with later an address, "Music and Art," by Kate Edwards, and a violin recital by Claire Harper, accompanied by Ruby Chalmers, were featured Thursday.

Music in Schools.

All of Friday was devoted to programs for the teachers, beginning in the morning with an address, "Music in the Secondary Schools," by Dr. J. S. Stewart, director of the summer school, followed by an analysis and illustrations of Bach's two and three-part inventions, conducted by Mr. Hodgson, with the performances of the inventions by his pupils; then a discussion, "Public School Music," by L. G. Nilson, followed by "Teaching Problems and Material for Piano," a helpful discussion led by Mr. Hodgson.

In the afternoon, Helen Riley Smith, Atlanta soprano, and Irene Leftwich, Atlanta pianist, gave an artistic and genuinely inspired recital of vocal and piano numbers that was enthusiastically received. Dr. Ralph Wagar, noted educator and professor at Emory University, gave a lecture on "Music as an Educational Instrument." This was followed by a brilliant recital of two-piano numbers with Mr. Hodgson, Miss Leftwich, Miss Elizabeth Morgan and Francis Mitchell performing.

"Faust" placed a fitting climax on what the Athenians themselves termed as a musical season "epochal in Athens' history."

WALSH IS MANAGER OF DOUGLAS SHOE CO.

"PAT" WALSH.

W. R. Walsh, better known to his friends as "Pat" Walsh, is now manager of the W. L. Douglas Shoe Company at 11 Peachtree street, where he was previously manager.

R. M. JONES.

Recently he was with Byck Brothers, and went there from the Fred S. Stewart Company, where he was manager and buyer of the men's shoe department.

He has been closely identified with the retail shoe business for several years, and combines expert knowledge of it with personality.

Associated with Mr. Walsh is R. M. Jones, who is assistant manager. Mr. Jones has been with the W. L. Douglas interests for the past six years, and is rated one of the best shoe men in Atlanta.

The company, in selecting these two to manage its Peachtree store, took into consideration their extensive experience and acquaintance in the shoe business here.

GANDHI REQUESTS PEACE CONFERENCE

NEW DELHI, July 15.—(UP)—The Mahatma Gandhi telegraphed Viscount Wilmington, the viceroy, here today, requesting an interview "to explore the possibilities of peace." The viceroy has not replied as yet but is expected to refuse the Hindu leader's request.

$77,561,914 ISSUED TO SPEED WORKS

Funds Allotted To Provide Jobs for Thousands in Ten States.

By RONALD G. VANTINE.

WASHINGTON, July 15.—(UP) Secretary of Interior Ickes today dispatched $77,561,914 into 10 states and the District of Columbia to speed highway construction and provide jobs for thousands of unemployed.

Reports indicated almost 90 per cent of the road money would be spent in wages, direct and indirect, and unemployed would be moving from relief rolls to pay rolls immediately.

Meanwhile, Ickes prepared a rivers and harbors program involving expenditure of almost $100,000,000 for presentation to President Roosevelt at a conference tomorrow aboard the yacht Sequoia.

The rivers and harbors plan originally contemplated expenditure of more than $200,000,000, but the cabinet advisory board in charge of the $3,300,000,000 public works program whittled the figure down substantially.

Ickes also will confer with Mr. Roosevelt on appointment of 10 regional directors to administer state and municipal projects. With a formal declaration from the president that there would be no slowing-up of the plan to put 1,000,000 men to work by October 1, the public works administration pushed forward with plans to spend $400,000,000 set aside in the recovery act for road construction.

State highway plans approved today included:

Kentucky—$7,517,359, 48 per cent for federal aid highway system, 27 per cent for extensions of federal aid system through municipalities, and 25 per cent for secondard roads. Money to be spent in 97 counties.

South Carolina—$5,459,165, 50 per cent for federal aid system, 25 per cent for extensions and 25 per cent on secondary roads. Money to be spent in 46 counties.

MAN GETS 20 YEARS IN AUTOMOBILE DEATH

MIAMI, Fla., July 15.—(AP)—John H. Diehl, 63, today was sentenced to 20 years in the state penitentiary when a criminal court jury convicted him of manslaughter in the killing of Marie Carey, 14, by Diehl's automobile.

Diehl pleaded not guilty. Arresting officers and other witnesses testified Diehl was intoxicated at the time of the accident. The Carey girl was killed when Diehl's automobile ran across a curbstone and struck her.

The sentence of 20 years is the maximum in Florida for manslaughter.

Diehl's attorneys made a motion for a new trial. Judge E. C. Collins will hear the motion next week.

Moley's Expense Bill Causes Laugh at Meet

LONDON, July 15.—(AP)—Much amusement was provoked in the American delegation today by published reports that Secretary of State Cordell Hull had declined to approve the expense account of Raymond Moley, assistant secretary of state, on his recent visit to London.

It was explained by delegation officials that this idea evidently arose from confusion as to where Mr. Moley's bills should be presented, in view of the fact that his mission was unconnected to the delegation and his party's expenses must, therefore, go through the state department at Washington, rather than through Secretary Hull and the accountant for the delegation.

Payment of Taxes Split by Rockefeller

NORTH TARRYTOWN, N. Y., July 15.—(AP)—A check for $10,000 has been received by the town tax collector from John D. Rockefeller, representing half of the taxes due on that part of the estate in Pocantico Hills that lies in North Tarrytown.

Heretofore Rockefeller always has paid his taxes in full in one payment and no explanation was forthcoming for the half payment this time. Rockefeller is the biggest taxpayer within the incoropated limits of North Tarrytown.

Nina Wilcox Putnam To Wed Heir to Title

LOS ANGELES, July 15.—(AP)—Nina Wilcox Putnam, novelist and short story writer of Hollywood, and Christian Eliot, heir to the title and estate of his uncle, the Earl of St. Germans, will be married next week.

Mrs. Putnam was granted a divorce in Juarez, Mexico, today from her third husband, Arthur James Ogle, real estate broker. She told friends her marriage to Eliot would take place in a few days.

Mrs. Putnam and Eliot have known each other for eight years.

Sears... Knows

... that it isn't luck that makes Seroco Paints so good .... it's

Controlled Quality

- THE RIGHT KIND OF RAW MATERIALS
- PROPER QUANTITIES
- PROPER MIXING
- MUST MATCH MASTER COLORS

SEROCO MASTER-MIXED HOUSE PAINT

Tested in our outside laboratory or "testing fence" which means it must resist the ravages of the blistering sun, howling winds, beating rains, smoke, dust, grit and grime and come thru smiling! Because of Sears tests, you can be positive that Master-Mixed will make a successful paint job that will last for many years. In five-gallon containers, only ..... $2.69 gal.

IN WHITE AND 25 STANDARD COLORS.

OTHER SEROCO PAINTS—AS FINE AS MONEY CAN BUY:

SEROCO AUTO TOP DRESSING, QT.	59c
SUPER-SERVICE FLOOR ENAMEL, QT.	85c
FAMOUS 4-HOUR ENAMEL, HALF PINT	36c
LINSEED OIL, BULK. GAL.	$1.00
TURPENTINE, BULK. GAL.	65c

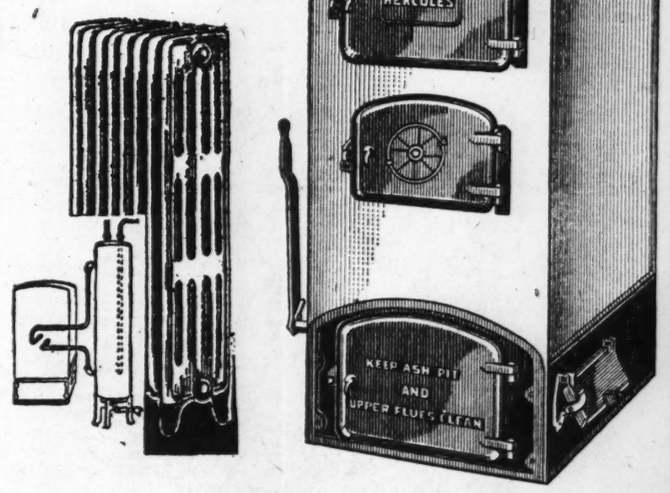

Free Estimating by a Paint Expert!

SEARS, ROEBUCK AND CO.
SATISFACTION GUARANTEED OR YOUR MONEY BACK

Install Now and don't Start Payments 'Till October 1st

Sears Hercules Dual Hot Water Heating SYSTEMS

Completely Installed with Six Radiators

Payments as Low as:

$27.50 Down

$17.00 Monthly

(Plus Small Carrying Charge)

Prepare now for next winter. Install a complete hot water heating system, consisting of a Hercules Red Jacketed Boiler, with automatic damper control and pressure relief valve; 350 sq. ft. of radiation and 6 radiators. Also included in this price, 30 gal. range boiler, complete with stand and fittings, copper heating coil and relief valve. Installed in your home by expert engineers and guaranteed perfect. As low as, cash $285

MAIL THIS COUPON TODAY!

Sears, Roebuck and Co.,
Dept. 1005, Retail Store,
Atlanta, Ga.

Send me, without obligation, a man from your Free Engineering Service who will give me facts and figures about heating my home.

Name .....

Address .....

..... Phone .....

SEARS, ROEBUCK AND CO.
SATISFACTION GUARANTEED OR YOUR MONEY BACK

WHY should non Property Owners favor Real Estate Tax Relief?

Relief from the terrific tax burden that is ruining property owners and fast making HOME OWNERSHIP IMPOSSIBLE IN ATLANTA is just as vital to the man and woman who owns no real estate as it is to the ones who do, for---

UNLESS WE REORGANIZE THIS ANTIQUATED SYSTEM OF RAISING PUBLIC FUNDS, BANKRUPTCY AND DECAY FOR ATLANTA IS INEVITABLE!

Atlanta property---represented, for the most part, by owners of homes and buildings---is FORCED TO PAY EIGHTY-THREE PER CENT OF THE TOTAL TAXES COLLECTED. Think of it! Practically the entire cost of supporting public service for the benefit of ALL the people borne by ONE CLASS! Even if property owners could continue to stand this terrific strain, it wouldn't be fair---but Atlanta property owners cannot longer stand up under the heavy burden.

THE TOTAL NET INCOME OF ALL REAL ESTATE IN ATLANTA IN 1932 WAS LESS THAN THE CITY, COUNTY AND STATE TAXES COLLECTED IN ATLANTA!

How can such a condition continue without disaster? You know it will bankrupt real estate ownership in Atlanta. In reality it amounts to confiscation---because NOBODY CAN OWN HOMES and land and buildings for private use or as an investment IF THE TAX LOAD IS FAR IN EXCESS OF THE EARNINGS OF THE PROPERTY OWNED!

And what will be the future of the Atlanta citizen if there is no private ownership of property? What will this condition mean in taxation to the present non-property owner?

IT WILL MEAN THAT WE WILL ALL HAVE TO PAY THE TOTAL STAGGERING COST OF CITY, COUNTY AND STATE GOVERNMENT OUT OF OUR WAGES AND SALARIES — IF ANY — in the form of City Income Taxes, Special Street Taxes, Vicious Personal Taxes, Terrific School Taxes and Nuisance Taxes of every kind and description—OR THERE WILL BE NO LOCAL GOVERNMENT AND NO JOBS FOR CITY EMPLOYES.

But how could we make a living if all property is held by the government? How much chance would we have of making enough money to live on — much less pay this entire tax out of our wages without any help from real estate?

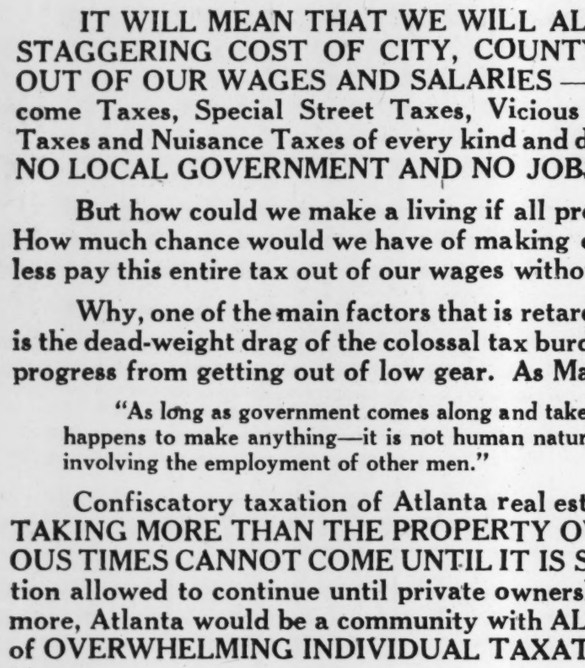

Why, one of the main factors that is retarding a return to better times today is the dead-weight drag of the colossal tax burden that is preventing the wheels of progress from getting out of low gear. As Mayor Key, himself, expresses it:

> "As long as government comes along and takes most of what a man makes—if he happens to make anything—it is not human nature to expect men to attempt projects involving the employment of other men."

Confiscatory taxation of Atlanta real estate is doing more than this—IT IS TAKING MORE THAN THE PROPERTY OWNER MAKES AND PROSPEROUS TIMES CANNOT COME UNTIL IT IS STOPPED! And—were this situation allowed to continue until private ownership of property in Atlanta is no more, Atlanta would be a community with ALL its people living under a system of OVERWHELMING INDIVIDUAL TAXATION to be paid out of starvation incomes.

So, it is to the interest of every man, woman and child in the community that HOME OWNING AND PROPERTY OWNERSHIP BE MADE POSSIBLE IN ATLANTA!

That's why every Atlanta citizen who considers HIS OWN INDIVIDUAL INTEREST—whether or not he now owns any real estate—will join in DEMANDING reorganization of our unequal, unfair, impossible taxing system and a wiser administration of all the taxes collected from the people.

It's a common-sense program to relieve home-owners and others owners of Atlanta property of this unbearable burden to a point where property can be held to supply work and homes for ALL our citizens. IT ISN'T GOING TO PLACE A BURDEN ON ANYONE.

It's a plan to supply the legitimate expense for city and county GOVERNMENT by spreading the cost over the entire citizenry as they benefit and IN PROPORTION THAT EACH IS ABLE TO PAY—with real estate bearing its proper and just part.

Thus Greater Atlanta and all of her people can look to a future of security and opportunity instead of disaster and decay.

Is there any citizen worthy of the name who could object to such a program?

This Campaign to Insure the Future of Greater Atlanta Sponsored by the Following Citizens and Firms

Thomas E. Addison
W. H. Allen
Robt. C. Alston
Clifford L. Anderson
Mrs. E. Anthony
Lee Ashcraft
Atlanta Casket Company
Atl. Coca-Cola Bottling Co.
Atlanta Linen Supply Co.
Atlanta Oak Flooring Co.
Atlanta Sheet Metal Works
Awtry & Lowndes Company
Dr. S. T. Barnett
Dr. Marion T. Benson
Chas. A. Bickerstaff
Bird-Potts Company, Inc.
Chas. H. Black Sr.
Black Realty Improvement Co.
The Blosser Company
J. W. Boone
Jesse E. Brannen
S. M. & Ben Bressler
J. H. Bullock
Burdett Realty Company
Gordon Burnett
Mrs. Elizabeth A. Byington
Carolina Realty Co., Inc.
Watson W. Cary
Dr. W. B. Chandler
Mrs. Claude F. Clarke
Dr. Grady Clay
B. Clein
Cleveland Electric Co.
G. W. Collier Estate
Dr. Thos. J. Collier
O. E. Collum
Conklin Tin Plate & Metal Co.
Mrs. W. T. Crenshaw
Dr. Abner W. Calhoun
Dr. F. P. Calhoun
Mrs. Pauline H. Crane
Wade H. & J. H. Davis
Wm. J. Davis Jr., Attorney
James L. Dickey
Walter S. Dillon
Dittler Bros.
Draper-Owens Company
Dunlap & Company
W. E. Durham
Mrs. Mary H. Echols
Dr. W. S Elkin
Mrs. Frank S. Ellis
Estes Surgical Supply Co.
Fain Realty Company
Fickett Mfg. Company
Sam E. Finley
Chas. W. Ford
Fulton Metal Bed Mfg. Co.
Oscar Gershon
Ginn & Company
Est. of J. W. Goldsmith
Miss Jennie Golden
John W. Grant
Estate of D. Greenfield
Haas & Haas
Herbert J. Haas
Chas. J. Haden
Harold T. Hagan
C. E. Harris
Healey Real Estate & Imp. Co.
Mrs. James K. Hines
Hirsch Bros., Inc.
Dr. Michael Hoke
D. T. Howard & Co.
E. M. Hudson
Dr. Thornwell Jacobs
Dr. J. Clarence Johnson
Dr. Willis Jones
R. DeWitt King
M. Kutz Co.
Lamar & Rankin Drug Co.
Lanier Brothers
J. B. Lawrence
Liebman, Inc.
Loftis Plumbing & Heating Co.
Dr. Hugh M. Lokey
F. M. Loveless
Mrs. Flora Shaw Loyless
Mrs. J. J. Lynch
Robert F. Maddox
Marbut & Minor
Marcus-Loeb Company
F. T. Mason, Agent
Massell Realty Co.
Ed Matthews & Company
86-88 Alabama St., S. W.
H. Y. McCord
W. P. McCord
Sanders McDaniel
S. H. McGuire Realty Co.
Dr. Floyd W. McRae
H. Mendel & Co.
Dr. H. W. Minor
J. R. Mobley
Montag Brothers, Inc.
George Moore Ice Cream Co.
Edgar Morris
DuPont Murphey
Lorenz Neuhoff
Vaughn Nixon
Mrs. A. F. Noyes
Chas. B. Nunnally
H. P. Nunnally
Dr. Jos. D. Osborne
J. Carroll Payne
W. T. Perkerson
Mrs. D. R. Peteet
Peters Land Company
Harry Pfeffer
Mrs. Henry Potts
A. L. Prickett
Rankin-Whitten Realty Co.
Louis Regenstein
A. G. Rhodes & Son
Ernest L. Rhodes
Richards Realty Co.
Hugh Richardson Sr.
R. B. Ridley, M. D.
A. J. Ryan
Thos. F. Rybert Printing Co.
C. M. Sewell
Sharp-Boylston Company
H. L. Singer Co.
John M. Slaton
Harry Sommers, Inc.
Southeastern Compress & Whse. Co.
Southern Spring Bed Company
Jack J. Spalding
Mrs. H. L. Stearns
Mrs. J. P. Stevens.
Stewart Holding Company
Stone Baking Company
Dr. C. W. Strickler
The Suburban Realty Co.
Dr. Cosby Swanson
Ten Pryor St. Bldg.
Mrs. Arthur Tufts
J. M. Tull Rubber & Supply Co.
Washington Seminary
D. W. Watson
O. D. White
Whitehead Realty Co.
Whitman's Laundry
Hugh W. Willet
Thos. K. Windham
Winship Realty Company
Carl Witt
Cator Woolford
T. Guy Woolford
Estate of Robert Zahner

SANE REDUCTION AND EQUALIZATION OF TAXES!

NEW WORLD BLOC STUDIED BY U. S.

American Nations Cemented Is U. S. Plan to Salvage London Meet.

By CLAUDE A. JAGGER.

LONDON, July 15.—(AP)—The United States today made last-minute preparations to save something of its tariff truce and world price raising program as the world economic conference moved toward the final fortnight's work.

With prospects of the salvage of important results regarded in some quarters as meager, however, the American delegation had entered into discussions of a separate movement of several western hemisphere nations to try to form a new world economic bloc.

The American delegation will insist on indefinite adjournment of the world economic conference to avoid interference with President Roosevelt's determination on a domestic recovery program, it was learned authoritatively today.

The delegates were represented to feel that a set date for reassembling after the "recess" to be taken on July 27 would amount to indirect pressure on the United States to stabilize its currency by whatever date might be named.

This it was said would interfere with the domestic recovery program.

Previously it had been said that the United States favored adjournment to a definite date.

It was reliably reported in Latin American circles that Ralph W. Morrison, of the American delegation, had participated in discussions exploring the prospect of a joint agreement of several American nations to grant mutual trade concessions, possibly along the lines of the Ottawa agreement between Great Britain and the dominions.

The economic subcommission which had attacked the great problem of a world-wide reduction of trade barriers issued a report of its drafting committee which in effect acknowledged that its work had been sabotaged in the monetary controversy which disturbed the conference for a number of days.

The report said, "It should be stressed at the outset that the hypothesis on which the whole of the subcommittee was based was stabilization, or at any rate de facto stability of currency."

Morrison declined to discuss his work in connection with the genesis of the western hemisphere movement but it was learned, from other sources, that he had had several private meetings with Alberto J. Pani, secretary of the treasury of Mexico; Dr. Joaquim Francisco de Assis Brasil, of Brazil, and Orestes Ferrara, secretary of state of Cuba. It also was learned that he had arranged to sail next Wednesday, several days earlier than he originally had planned, to report to President Roosevelt.

It was understood that the suggestion had been advanced in some Latin American circles that the group of nations might agree to mutual tariff concessions, of say 10 per cent, for an experimental period, perhaps a year.

The steps to be taken to preserve President Roosevelt's general tariff truce, which was for the duration of the conference, remained undecided. The American delegation, however, prepared a tentative statement which may be offered as an addendum to the report of the economic commission drafting committee.

The committee report, however, stressed the difficulties of an agreement while currencies continued to fluctuate.

The American thesis is that currency stability cannot be achieved until price levels have advanced to a point to bring the economic structure into balance once more. A tentative resolution which the American delegation may submit for consideration to the conference was understood to state in effect that each country should decide what price level it requires, then proceed to achieve it by whatever means most feasible.

Summing up the work of the conference one leading American delegate said the most impressive thing was the universal agreement as to the need of reducing trade restrictions.

The wheat discussions were the only ones continued in the conference building today as work generally was recessed for the week-end.

Reports that the expense account of Raymond Moley, assistant secretary of state, for his recent mission to London had been disapproved by Secretary of State Cordell Hull, chief of the delegation to the world economic conference, provoked smiles in the American delegation.

Officials said that Mr. Moley's bills were not passed upon by Secretary Hull but would in the natural course of events go through the hands of William Phillips, acting secretary of state at Washington and thence to the comptroller general for final approval.

Some humorous comments had indeed been passed upon Professor Moley's expenditures, particularly as regards the dispatch at his request of an airplane to meet him at Cobh, Ireland. This plane, which was understood to have cost about $400, was not used by the American assistant secretary.

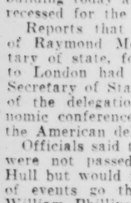

Mr. Moley, it was said, offered his account here but the accountant with the American delegation decided that it should go through Washington rather than through Secretary Hull at London.

Expenses for the Moley mission, including those of Herbert Bayard Swope, his associate, were said to be probably "a few thousand dollars" although the exact figure was not known to the delegation.

Within the delegation it was regarded as fortunate that the professor's expenses were not charged to the delegation account, since the appropriation for the conference representatives is in such a state at present that every effort is being made to economize.

As an economy measure indeed some of the clerical staff will be sent home next week.

MADAM MINGY, PALMIST

Gives advice on all affairs of life—such as love, marriage and business speculation of all kinds.

Special Readings 50c

Satisfaction guaranteed. 638 McDonough Blvd.

(Take Federal Prison car to end of line. Look for sign.)

Private rooms for white and colored. Reading daily and Sunday 9 A. M. to 9 P. M.

Put Your Liver To Work--Make This Test

Take Sargon Soft Mass Pills and watch constipation, gas, sour stomach, headaches and nervousness vanish. Don't be misled. Calomel, salts, oils, mineral waters, laxative pills, etc., have no effect on the liver. There are only two generally recognized substances which actually stimulate a sluggish liver to increase its production of bile. Sargon Soft Mass Pills contain both of them.

Only 60c for a full 30-day treatment. At your druggist, or write G. F. Willis, Inc., Atlanta, Ga. All Jacobs Stores have them. —(adv.)

OverSeas

By BYRON DARNTON, Associated Press Cable Editor.

NEW YORK, July 15.—(AP)—The world economic conference enters its sixth week tomorrow with an opportunity for some real work close at hand. In another ten days the conference will adjourn and then its problems may be studied by the various leaders and experts without the ceaseless glare of publicity upon them.

It is hoped the conference may reconvene in two or three months and that important negotiations may be advanced in the meantime. While the big show was going on, monopolizing the front pages of the press, there was a constant urge for the various politicians to launch into highly nationalistic speeches, hampering the business of the parley in order to make an impression on the home folks.

But soon the real workers may be able to get in their licks. It was ever thus with conferences. The real progress is made quietly and privately.

That group known as the gold bloc, representing only the small part of the world that is western continental Europe when it mustered its largest vote, will not be on pins and needles in fear that the London speechmakers will be coasting them off their gold and semi-gold standards. It was that fear that drove them to veto most of the subjects suggested for debate.

The dollar fluctuations which they have watched apprehensively will end in the fall, Neville Chamberlain, British chancellor of the exchequer, predicted. Then, perhaps, the conference can reassemble. Meanwhile, the United States and Great Britain stand together, Chamberlain disclosed. In considering measures to raise price levels as "the first essential."

The conference, at least, has brought forth approval of the Roosevelt recovery program by many nations. It probably has brought Latin-American and Oriental nations closer to the United States than they ever have been. The British dominions, also, backed up the United States on every issue and Scandinavian countries viewed the American program hopefully, if not enthusiastically.

Premier Daladier told Frenchmen a "youthful" policy would be launched to keep France on gold and promised parliament would meet in the fall to "finally straighten out our finances." France has something of a record among nations for the years it has gone without balancing budgets. Daladier's statement is significant in view of the Roosevelt declaration that it is most important that some nations show that they can pay their bills instead of hoarding gold for the sake of a monetary standard most of the world has found impractical.

The great national experiment going on in Germany has carried on with the religious issue the dominant phase today. Hitler's nazis, after two months of diligent and gradually successful campaigning for control of the protestant churches, have received a temporary setback.

Commissioners they set up in place of the chosen leaders of the evangelical church union were withdrawn and the German cabinet approved a church constitution which is a compromise between the conflicting viewpoints. A national church plebescite to decide control is to begin July 23.

This election call, of course, may merely mean postponement of an ultimate nazi victory since they control all means of propaganda.

The aged president, Von Hindenburg is responsible for this nazi setback. Silent when his friend Otto Braun was deposed as Prussian premier, when Bavarian "free state" defenders clamored for a hearing and when anti-Semitic measures were invoked, he finally raised his voice in protest when his church was threatened.

He legally has the power to veto any decision of Hitler, his appointee. This time he used it. But why has he been silent so long? The "Herr Ober" in one of New York's better known beer gardens made a three months' automobile tour of his native land since the nazi revolution and brings back this explanation:

"Hindenburg is loved by all Germany for his glorious past. The Germans will never forget he remained with them when the kaiser fled. But he is an old man and Hitler stands for the future. He means power, jobs and freedom from corruption. He is not much more than half the age of Hindenburg. If it came to a showdown, he would win."

The church to which Hindenburg is so loyal has always had a great majority of pastors who maintained their loyalty to the kaiser through the years of the republic. They scoffed at republicanism but now they talk of freedom of the church. They probably would acquiesce with pleasure to the state-controlled church plan, however, if the head of that state was Wilhelm Hohenzollern instead of Adolf Hitler.

The largest and longest mass flight ended in much glory for Italy. After a week in Iceland, General Balbo's hundred birdmen crossed the Atlantic to Labrador without a mishap and continued on their journey. . . . Jimmy Mattern told how he survived 16 days in northern Siberia after his plane was smashed, shooting small game for food, trudging eight days to reach a river bank where fishermen finally picked him up. . . . The Lindberghs reached Labrador to start their arctic air route mapping job.

Chinese troops broke the peace with Japan but the Chinese nationalist regime at Nanking was not responsible. An independent general, Feng Yu-hsiang started a march from Chahar province to regain Jehol and the "lost provinces" of Manchuria. It was embarrassing to Nanking.

Pope Pius left the Roman metropolitan area for the first time since he was crowned in 1922. He drove 17 miles to visit his castle Gandolfo and Villa Barberini.

Guns boomed louder in the Gran Chaco as Bolivia launched an offensive. The Paraguayan delegate informed the League of Nations there could be no further peace talk till fighting ceased.

More political prisoners were freed in Cuba and a bomb burst at the American Club in Havana, injuring two persons. Opposition elements denounced the act and showed their good will by carrying on mediation through United States Ambassador Welles.

MOSLEM PRINCESS DESCRIBES LIFE

Crown Princess of Hyderabad Tells of Exile and Subsequent Return.

(Her Imperial Highness Durru Shehvar Azam Jah, crown princess of Hyderabad, continues the story of her life as a child in the Orient in today's article. Other articles by her highness will appear from time to time.

By DURRU SHEHVAR AZAM JAH.

I had a childish, though justified admiration for an extraordinary Turkish woman called Kara Fatma. She actually had enlisted in the Turkish army, had been made a sergeant, and was taking part in the Greco-Turkish war of 1921-22. She used to wear her military uniform and outdid many of her male comrades in courage and vitality.

In the days of my ancestors, the first Turkish sultans, such instances were frequent! The harem, that word so familiar to the westerner, did not exist in the early stages of the Ottoman empire. Women were free, the teachings of our religion had not been adulterated by the false preachers who, later, undermined its beautiful simplicity by the products of their ignorance. In fact, at the dawn of Mohammedanism, women were not veiled at all. Much later, our Prophet Mohammed ordered them to cover themselves, because of the then barbaric and half-savage Arabs. This custom did not prevent Moslem women, however, from taking sometimes a leading part in the life of the community. Thus Aisha, a wife of our prophet, actually after her husband's death, led an army against the assassins of Osman, one of Mohammed's followers.

The period of my early childhood was followed by many political disturbances in my country, but I was too young to understand or to remember them all. One day my father, then crown prince of the Turkish empire, was proclaimed caliph of all Moslems and we moved into the palace of our forefathers, the emperors of Turkey. There our life did not change much. It continued to be natural and human. The memories of our past and of the glory of my ancestors surrounded me and stimulated by thoughts. I often pondered on the grandeur of the Ottoman empire at the height of its power, when it held sway over vast parts of Europe, Asia and Africa. My father took me everywhere. He was my constant adviser and teacher, from whose wisdom I profited immensely.

Then came the day when a dark cloud poured bitter tears upon my budding life. Suddenly we were torn away from the soil and home that bred me, from the people to which I belonged. Through the halls that had beheld our power, through the gates of splendor and the triumphal arches of a glorious past we passed into an unknown, new life. Yet, for the faithful, there always is consoldation.

As we were not allowed to make a Mohammedan country our new home, we went to Switzerland and then to southern France. My environment now had changed completely! Yet, the routine of my life remained almost the same. Father instructed me in my religion; I practically never left his side and accompanied him in his walks as well as in his thoughts. Father did not hamper my personal ambitions. From my youngest days I had wished to become a writer. When I was so small that I could not read or write, I would induce little friends by boxes of candy to take down tales I would think up. At 11, encouraged by my father, I began, overjoyed and proud, to write short stories and essays and was delighted to win a good many prizes in children's magazines for my writings and drawings. My curriculum, like a western girl's, comprised the study of music and languages; English, French, Persian, Arabic, and of course, my mother tongue, Turkish. Also, contrary to a common western belief about the upbringing of Mohammedan women, physical culture formed a great part of my life. I drove, rode, swam and played athletic games, though always in private. This was the only difference between the western girls of my new environment, and myself.

And now I am here in Hyderabad, my Indian country of adoption. I need not tell you that I am happy. My husband and I have a home near a beautiful lake. No "picturesque" harem exists in our interior. We share each other's lives, for I am my husband's only wife. I lead the life a young oriental woman seeks in her days in her dreams; sunshine, birds, flowers, the jungle and a land of beauty and romance. I dress in the native Indian clothes of flowing silk wrapped around me. Twice a day flowers are brought to me—sweet-smelling flowers with which I adorn my hair.

Now I have made my curtsy to you and introduced myself. I have told you my life. But what I should like to emphasize is the wholesome and human note that was made to ring through those 18 years. I have been near the turmoil of modern western life, without actually entering it; yet, my youth was made to flow in line with modern life and progress. The shackles of convention never had been put upon me, but my faith has always been my law and guide. Perhaps this life-story of a modern Mohammedan woman will help to convey to my western readers an illustration of the general change in the life and progress of Moslem womanhood.

George O'Brien Weds Marguerite Churchill

SANTA BARBARA, Cal., July 15. (AP)—George O'Brien and Marguerite Churchill, motion picture players, were married today in the old Santa Ynez mission by a Paulist Catholic priest.

Daniel J. O'Brien, former chief of police at San Francisco, accompanied his son and the bride here. The couple met while both were playing two years ago in the picture, "Riders of the Purple Sage."

They left immediately after the ceremony on an extended motor tour through British Columbia.

3.2 BEER DEFENDANTS FREED IN MISSISSIPPI

HATTIESBURG, Miss., July 15.—(AP)—Two cases involving the sale of 3.2 beer were tried today in justice of peace court. One case resulted in acquittal by a unanimous jury verdict and the other was a mistrial with the jury standing 5-to-1 for acquittal. After the acquittal case, a straw vote was taken of the spectators in the courtroom. Forty-five voted in favor of legalizing beer and one opposed. The defendants were charged with selling the beer in violation of state law.

Lutherans Celebrate Today at Chicago

CHICAGO, July 15.—(AP)—Lutherans from many sections of the world convene here tomorrow in observance of Luther Day at the Century of Progress exposition and to attend opening of the 41st international convention of the Walther League, an organization of 50,000 young people of the denomination.

Luther Day has been arranged by the Missouri synod of the Lutheran church and the program in Soldier Field is expected to draw probably 50,000 members of the faith. A chorus of 8,000 voices will participate in the ceremonies.

Gandhi Asks Interview To Discuss Peace Move

POONA, India, July 15.—(AP)—The Mahatma Gandhi sent a short message today to the private secretary of Lord Willinsdon, the viceroy, requesting an interview with the viceroy to explore the possibility of peace in the civil disobedience campaign.

MOLEY WILL PAY LONDON EXPENSES 'NOT CHARGEABLE'

WASHINGTON, July 15.—(AP)—Assistant Secretary Moley, of the state department, said today if there were any items in his London expense account that were not properly chargeable to the government he would pay them himself.

In a statement regarding criticism that had been made of an item of $500 for an airplane to take him from Cobh to London and of a bill in excess of $1,300 for trans-Atlantic telephone conversations, Moley said he would examine the bills in due time and assume responsibility for any personal items.

The unused airplane, Moley said, was ordered through the London embassy when it seemed that his ship would be greatly delayed in its arrival in England. The order was cancelled when it was found the boat was making up time, but the airship had left for Cobh before the countermand order reached the embassy.

State department officials said Secretary Hull had not refused to approve the Moley expense account and that it would be handled through the regular state department channels.

FOUR BIG NATIONS SIGN PEACE PACT

France, Germany, England and Italy Enter 10-Year Agreement.

ROME, July 15.—(AP)—The four-power European peace pact was signed here today by Premier Mussolini and representatives of France, Germany and Great Britain.

The accord, which is designed to guarantee tranquility among European countries for a period of ten years, facilitates reduction of armaments and lead to improvement in economic conditions, was given official approval in the Duce's huge office in the Palazzo Venezia.

No change was made in the text as initialed in the same office June 7.

Besides the head of the Italian government, Ambassador Henry De Jouvenel, of France; Ambassador Von Hassel, of Germany, and Sir Ronald Graham, the British ambassador, all of whom attached their initials to the document early last month, signed it today.

The ambassadors drove to the Piazza Venezia a few minutes before noon dressed in top hats and morning coats and were welcomed by Signor Mussolini in similar attire. The simplest and briefest ceremonies marked the occasion.

After handclasps, the four proceeded to affix their signatures in the presence of a small group of Italian foreign office oficials and counselors and first-secretaries of embassies.

At noon the Rome newspapers appeared emblazoned with front page headlines, photographs of the signatories and editorials proclaiming "a new era of European peace and a historic milestone" established by the agreement.

The ratification of the treaty by the four governments is considered assured.

The treaty, copies of which bound in handsome leather covers were prepared for each signatory country, was signed according to the French alphabetical list which made Germany first, followed by England, France and Italy.

The Duce and the representatives of the other three states then jovially faced a battery of cameras and ended the ceremony with another cordial handshaking.

Elliott Roosevelt To Meet Texas Girl

RENO, Nev., July 15.—(UP)—Elliott Roosevelt, son of the president, will leave by airplane for Chicago Monday, immediately after his wife, Elizabeth Donner Roosevelt, obtains a divorce, it became known tonight.

It was reported, without confirmation, that young Roosevelt would meet Miss Ruth Googins, of Fort Worth, Texas, in the World Fair city.

The Fort Worth girl's name was linked with that of the president's son this spring when it first became known there was a rift between Elliott and his wife, daughter of a Philadelphia steel magnate.

He stopped off at Fort Worth while en route to the Pacific coast to become an air line executive. The Roosevelt-Googin reports subsequently were circulated, but were denied.

Constitutional Rights Re-established in Cuba

HAVANA, July 15.—(AP)—Constitutional guarantees will be re-established after a two-year suspension in Havana province, for 24 hours, beginning at midnight tonight.

This is done to enable provincial electors to go to the polls for complementary elections in several districts Sunday. Cuban laws prohibit elections with constitutional guarantees suspended.

Don't TRUST AN OLD TRUSS!

Oldest Truss Department in Atlanta

Light, Airy Fitting Rooms. Medical Expert in Attendance. Elastic Stockings—Trusses.

JACOBS PHARMACY CO.

WHITEHALL AT ALABAMA ST.

FAMINE, FLOODS CONFRONT CHINA

Thousands Made Homeless as Yellow River Overflows Its Dikes.

SHANGHAI, July 15.—(AP)—The spectre of famine and flood confronts millions of Chinese within the Yellow river valley in north China.

"China's Sorrow," as the mighty stream is called, has been flooding during the last month and today had reached an even greater volume, bringing the danger of disaster closer.

Reports from communities on the headwaters of the river, which is also known as the Hwang, or Hwang Ho, say rains are continuing, causing fears of a further rise.

From major points on the Yellow come dispatches saying the stream is overrunning its dikes in scores of places and is flooding isolated areas. Many thousands already have been made homeless.

At Tsinan, a city of 400,000, the capital of Shantung province, the river is said to have reached the top of the dikes in the vicinity, endangering the city.

The Shangtung provincial government is using thousands of coolies and soldiers to strengthen the levees, while a similar race against time is in progress in Honan in an effort to stave off tragedy if the Yellow continues to rise.

Meanwhile the Yangtze, which a fortnight ago threatened to repeat its disastrous flood of 1931 and then receded again, is rising once more as a result of heavy rains at its headwaters.

Renewed fears were thereby caused among residents in the numerous cities, towns and farming communities comprising "China's granary."

Seven thousand miles of dikes were built in 1931, but even these are again imperilled.

(The Yangtze is 3,400 miles long, and the Yellow is 2,600 miles. These lengths compare with those of the Colorado river, 1,360 miles; Amazon, 3,400; Mississippi, 2,460; Missouri, 2,551; Rio Grande, 1,800, and St. Lawrence 2,159.)

Thousands of persons have starved throughout Shensi province, in central China, where little rain has fallen since 1928.

A heat wave, gripping China, reached a greater intensity today when Chengchow and Honan reported 115 degrees, with many deaths. Tientsin continues to swelter in temperatures above 100. In Peiping the mercury reached 107 degrees.

Parts of Spanish Ship Are Found in Mexico

MEXICO, D. F., July 15.—(AP)—The Spanish embassy here gave out a statement through the foreign office today saying that a tire and a tube had been found in the state of Tabasco which were "undoubtedly" part of the wreckage of the Spanish trans-Atlantic airplane Cuatro Vientos which mysteriously disappeared on its attempted flight from Havana to Mexico several weeks ago.

The embassy's statement said that a careful examination of the tire, which was found near Tupilco, on the Tabasco coast, and comparisons made with Madrid authorities left no doubt that the relic was a portion of the Spanish aviators' equipment.

STAUNTON

One of America's Distinguished Schools

GIVE your son the best. Fully accredited by colleges, universities, Annapolis and West Point. Investigate the soundness of scholastic preparation at the school you choose. Graduates now enrolled at 116 colleges and universities. 74th session. In the Shenandoah Valley. Elevation 1,600 feet. Magnificent plant, wonderful swimming pool, all athletics. Personal contact with teachers. Boys from many states and foreign countries. More than 10,000 boys have received our training. Honesty of character our first interest. Classes 6th to 12th grades inclusive. Age 11 to 20. Names of patrons in your vicinity on request. For catalogue write Staunton Military Academy, Box 104, Staunton, Virginia.

Ford Motor Company,
Dearborn, Mich.

To a St. Paul Man Who asks the Reason

Henry Ford
Dearborn, Mich.

A man in St. Paul, Minnesota, makes courteous inquiry on the subject of the Ford spring. He relates a recent experience in which a salesman felt he could not sell his own make of car without first depreciating the Ford car in this customer's mind. The main attack was made on the Ford spring. I take pleasure in explaining this point.

We use transverse springs in Ford cars for the same reason that we use round wheels—because we have found nothing better for the purpose.

Most people think that the only purpose of a spring is comfortable riding. But springs, and even very flexible springs, can cause discomfort as well as danger. A good spring must not only be comfortable—it must be safe. It must also assist operation economy. The spring we use serves all three purposes.

A transverse spring—which simply means a spring set crosswise—gives comfort. It is like the wings of a bird—the tips move most, while the body remains steady. I cannot prove that in a letter, but you can prove it in a Ford V-8. Any dealer will gladly allow you the opportunity.

The safety reasons for the transverse spring may be simply stated. In rounding a curve or turning a corner, one side of the car naturally lists downward. Transverse springs do not lift up the opposite side. They actually decrease the car's lean-over. Each spring is set in line with the axle and is attached at its center to the frame. This tends to prevent that swaying on a curve which is so uncomfortable and often dangerous. Notice for yourself how greatly these springs control this in our car.

Transverse springs also make steering and braking exceedingly safe. The Ford car is not driven through its springs. Hence the axles do not see-saw back and forth and so cannot interfere with normal steering and braking action.

Now, about economy. Unsprung weight is that part of the car weight that does not rest on springs. For tire economy it must be low in proportion to sprung weight. It must be low to prevent excess jarring of the frame and body. In the Ford car it is low, due to the use of transverse springs.

We choose to retain the transverse spring for the above good reasons. From every point of view it justifies our choice. If there had been anything better for our car, we would have used it.

We make these springs ourselves—every leaf in every spring—set them up and install them. We know what they are and we know why we use them.

July 14, 1933

Henry Ford

Leaders To Map Program To Touch Every Business

By RAYMOND CLAPPER.

WASHINGTON, July 15.—(UP)—Somewhere down on the quiet Potomac near where George Washington chose to build peaceful Mount Vernon, two men will meet tomorrow to consider bringing all American business immediately under a shortened work-week and a minimum wage scale.

The decision involved would affect practically every business, every man and every household in the country. It would reach down to the smallest crossroads country store. Its effects would extend from the city stenographer to the village clerk.

President Roosevelt, away over the week-end poking around isolated backwoods country on Maryland's quaint eastern shore, asked General Hugh S. Johnson, national recovery administrator, to fly down the Potomac and meet him aboard the presidential yacht Sequoia tomorrow.

With great basic industries rushing in their codes, the president and General Johnson planned to discuss the proposed blanket call to the entire country to go on an emergency recovery schedule.

35-Hour Week Urged.

General Johnson tentatively suggests that every employer invoke a schedule of 35 hours a week for his labor force and 40 hours for his clerical staff with minimum wages of $14 and $15 or $16 a week respectively for each class.

President Roosevelt has indicated he sought some means of making such a schedule compulsory. General Johnson has held that it must be voluntary, relying on public pressure for enforcement.

This conference comes at the end of a week crammed with spectacular progress in bringing the nation under such a highly regimented economic control as it has never seen before in peace-time.

Eleven basic industries have submitted codes to the national recovery administration.

Today the steel industry, king of the modern age, brought in its N. R. A. code. Without waiting for formal approval, several steel companies announced a 15 per cent wage increase effective Monday. The wool code followed in a few hours.

Codes Flocking In.

With steel in, the government is now on the way to establishing the national recovery act regime over the basic industries of the country. The cotton textile code with its abolition of child labor, goes into effect Monday. Within the last few days codes have been submitted by the oil, coal, electrical, apparel and general contracting industries and several others.

Cotton farmers have agreed to plow under crops covering almost 10,000,000 acres, equal to the combined area of New Jersey, Rhode Island, Delaware and Connecticut. By laying waste this vast domain, they hope to gain larger return through higher prices in the end.

At the first hint of recalcitrance in the Chicago milk industry, the department of agriculture ordered the entire milk industry placed under license. Thus the firm hand of the administration is now reaching out to guide the hand of the little roadside milkman, serving his neighborhood customers hundreds of miles from Washington.

Complicated Program.

The picture is too vast and complicated to be comprehended. In many directions the government is throwing out its powerful lines of control, all aimed at raising wages, putting people back to work and lifting farm prices.

President Roosevelt decided this week to spend all of the $3,000,000,000 allotted for public works. Assignments for work which will use $750,000,000 of this already have been made covering waterworks, roads, naval construction and such activities, which will give quick employment.

At the same time serious concern is felt in some government quarters over the rise in prices with the danger that wages cannot keep up and that there will be a glut of goods and another collapse. Some signs appeared that this may be checked by a slowing down of inflation. Federal reserve open market operations were cut in half last week.

Work Weeks Differ.

In the eleven basic industrial codes submitted, average maximum hours range from 36 to 40 a week. Average minimum wages are most frequently between 35 and 40 cents an hour.

The apparel code provides that all clothing manufactured under it shall bear a special label—a device intended to encourage consumer boycotting of unfair plants. Provisions for unemployment insurance made their appearance for the first time in this code.

This tendency to incorporate labor reforms agitated for years appears more and more as new codes are submitted.

Child labor is prohibited in practically all of them. The administration regards this long battle as having been won and believes the end of child labor has been achieved in all industry.

"Graveyard shifts" and night work for women are being abolished to a large extent through provisions of the textile code. Home owning arrangements for mill workers are contemplated under this code. The "stretch-out system," long a cause of textile strikes, is being restricted.

Aid to White-Collar Men.

White-collar workers, who have not been given so much attention in these codes as regular labor groups, are expected to benefit more generally through the general blanket move now under consideration.

Unfair business practices are struck at in the steel code. Unfair trade discounts, payment of gratuities for contracts, misleading sales talk, undercover subsidies and such practices are outlawed.

Seventy-hour weeks in lumber camps would give way to maximum of 48 hours under the lumber code.

Never before has the nation seen such rapid strides toward economic reforms. Should the president decide to go into the blanket move, the entire population would be made "recovery conscious." Stores would display placards proclaiming they were co-operating with N. R. A. Re-employed workers would be given small placards to hang in their windows as was done with the starred service flags in wartime. Housewives would be given cards to display indicating they were patronizing only business houses which were following the rules of N. R. A.

LAW Study at Night

A legal education is the best business training. The Atlanta Law School offers a splendid opportunity to secure such an education without interfering with your present occupation. Forty-third year starts September 25th. For catalog and information address

ATLANTA LAW SCHOOL
93 Pryor St., S. W. WAlnut 0086

STEEL EXECUTIVES SUBMIT AGREEMENT

Continued From First Page.

raised 15 per cent. Some others announced that minimum levels also would be attained beginning tomorrow. Thus, the wage terms of the code were put into effect without awaiting the deliberate process of government consideration.

Green Expresses Opposition.

The code, however, was quickly criticized by labor. William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, said its wage levels were too low, and the average of 40 working hours a week was too high. Furthermore, he said he would oppose a provision by which the steel men proposed to have the organization of their employes limited to work councils or company unions.

At Johnson's office, the action of the steel industry brought expressions of satisfaction. No approval was given the terms, which will be scrutinized in public at a date to be set next week, but the voluntary wage raise lifted furrows from wrinkled brows.

The action topped a concerted movement by rayon and silk spinning and weaving mills, "throwing" plants which twist thread, to apply immediately the terms of the cotton textile code which beginning will put 450,000 cotton workers on a 40-hour work week with minimum wages raised to $12 and $13, in the south and north, respectively. Formal administration sanction was promised, and the expectation was that the action would put another 200,000 or more workers on the higher pay basis. Wool men too put in a code today and there was expectation they would join the rayon and silk movement.

Meantime, Johnson made ready to put before President Roosevelt tomorrow a plan for a general appeal to all business to come forward now with substantial pay raises and reduction of working hours to make more jobs.

Benefits Effective Rapidly.

He expressed confidence that the toughest part of the road had been traversed so far as the manufacturing industries were concerned. Codes were coming in rapidly and their labor benefits going into effect rapidly.

What Johnson wants to get at now is the wages of the "white collar" class, clerks in stores, office workers and so on. They represent a huge slice of the worker purchasing power, a portion which Johnson feels must share recovery benefits now if the prosperity-in-the-making is to have a sound foundation.

After Johnson talks to the president aboard the yacht Sequoia, somewhere down the Potomac tomorrow, an early call for volunteer action by every employing business is expected.

Next week hearings on codes will begin on a large scale. The agreements of the electrical manufacturing industry and the shipbuilding and shiprepairing trade will go under examination on Wednesday the 19th. The next day a code for the entire lumber trade will be taken up. The following Monday, July 24, a collection of codes proposed for the petroleum industry will be examined; and the wool industry's 40-hour week plan with minimum wages of $13 south and $14 north will be taken up.

Steel Hearing This Week.

The steel hearing probably will be begun that week and so will one on coal. One group of operators has filed an agreement, but the two largest, northern and southern non-union operators who control 70 per cent of the bituminous coal output, will get together here Monday to reduce the two codes they have completed to a single one—if possible.

That will have the bigger raw material industries, with the exception of non-ferrous metals, copper, zinc, etc., all in process of joining the industrial control program. Big lines still not heard from include automobiles, machinery, chemicals, but their agreements, too, are looked for in the near future.

An agreement is expected next week from the National Retail Council, which is trying to frame one plan suitable to the two million or so stores in every community which sell everything that people buy.

The steel code filed today called for its administration through the board of directors of the Iron and Steel Institute, 30 men to be chosen, whom Lamont said were representative of 80 per cent of the industry.

Steel Code Provisions.

Its labor provisions are: Forty-hour work week, averaged over each six-month period; common labor minimum wages of 25 cents in southern districts running up to 40 cents in the bigger producing centers; a flat increase of 15 per cent for workers above the minimum; preservation of the present system of collective bargaining through work councils or company unions "without interference, restraint or coercion of any sort," with final appeals lodged in the head of each company, and with no outside unionization.

This, however, was qualified by subscription to the mandatory clause of the recovery law which maintains the right of workers to organize in any way they see fit and deal with their employers through delegates of their own free choosing.

No specific control of production volume was proposed beyond forbidding increase of any plant's pig iron or ingot producing capacity.

On prices, an elaborate system of "basing points" was set up for each product. Each mill must report its prices, as at present, to the steel institute, whose board may investigate them if need appears. Discounts for prompt payment were fixed at one-half of one per cent for payment within 10 days except in the case of shipments from the eastern zone to the Pacific coast, when the limit is 25 days. Maximum periods of free credit also were prescribed.

Green Raps Plan.

Green, the Federation of Labor president, assailed the employe representation plan of the steel men because he argued that despite any assurances of secret election of representatives, the workers are not free of their employers' influence and that in effect "the corporations are dealing with themselves."

Of the wage and hour provisions, he said: "If the purposes of the national recovery act are to be realized it is necessary that the large basic industries like steel increase wages and cut working time more than is proposed. Steel should be called upon by the government to do its whole share in absorbing unemployed workers."

Figures on the actual number of workers in steel plants available here were not regarded as dependable by officials because of the many changes that have been taking place.

AROUND LOCAL CONTRACT TABLES

by Whitner Carr

Tournament Winners

MRS. ANNIE ADAIR FOSTER'S (TEAM-OF-FOUR).

Mrs. W. D. Thompson, Mrs. Aline Phelan, O. C. Blackmon and Whitner Cary, 21 points.
Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Hamilton, Fred Shaefer and Al Walton, 17½.
Mrs. Marion Enslow, Mrs. E. E. David, Sam Maddox and John Hardisty, 17 points.

WEST END GOLF CLUB.

Mrs. T. M. Robinson and Oscar Cason, first.
Bill Dickey and Fred Shaefer, second.
Mrs. Aline Phelan and Whitner Cary, third.

KNOWLES-VRETMAN TOURNAMENT.

Mrs. Wiline Tarry and Mrs. Gladys Peabody, 93¾.
Mrs. Spotswood Grant and Mrs. Joseph Taylor Jr., 85.
Mrs. Lyun Fort and Mrs. Lynn Fort Jr., 82½.

CAVENDISH CLUB (PAIR).

John Hardisty and Jack Feagin, 86¼.
Mrs. George Black and Erskine Jones, 83.
Tom Danlie and Don Daniel, 76.

SLAMS AND OVERCALLS.

Johnny Marshall, of the winning team of Marshall and Wood in The Constitution tournament to select a pair to go to Chicago to play in the big newspaper tournament held in that city for the Jo and Eli Culbertson gold cup, is back with us again. Reports a great time and lots of bridge. Was out Friday evening with Sidney Smith at the Cavendish tournament.

Jack Feagin, the boy barrister of Macon, is with us for the week-end. Probably the best bridge player in that city and one of the best in this section. Paired with John Hardisty he won the Cavendish tournament from a very classy field Friday evening. He will stay among us until after the final of the Baxter cup series at the Henry Grady Club. Jack's team, consisting of Mrs. J. T. Daniel, Don Daniel, Joe David and himself, is in second place for that handsome trophy and he would like very much to take it back to Macon with him.

The Daniel brothers, Don and Tom, must have declared a bridge truce as they teamed Friday evening at the Cavendish. The reunited combination did well, as third place fell to them. True to his threat, Bob Porter flew back to play in the West End tournament with his wife, Vivian. The powerful combination did not click as well as usual, however, and failed to finish among the first five. This caused no end of rejoicing among the contenders, as this couple had won the last three tournaments.

As a result of their failure to secure a point in the standing, first place is now in a dead-lock with the writer forming the third member of the three-way tie. There are three more tournaments before the handsome cup is awarded.

Mrs. Nash Broyles, who in the days of auction was considered among Atlanta's leading feminine lights at that game, has become extremely enthusiastic over duplicate play. Her natural card sense is standing her in good stead as seen by the number of times her name is flashed among the high finishers in various tournaments. Wish she could persuade the Judge to play duplicate. He would be even more enthusiastic than she over it.

The Knowles-Vretman morning tournament is holding up splendidly during the warm weather. The ladies like morning play. Same applies to Mrs. Annie Adair Foster's afternoon tournament. Understand Mrs. Emma McDaniel is going to start a weekly morning tournament at an early date at the popular Georgia Bridge Club atop the Atlantan hotel. This charming hostess is making a great success out of this club and besides having successful and delightful tournaments, is getting a big rubber bridge play.

Strong teams will parade to the post Monday evening in the weekly team-of-four competition at the Cavendish Club. Mrs. Gladys Peabody, captain of the Four Horsewomen, will be out in full force with the three other Horsewomen with the avowed intention of repeating their victory of last Monday evening. Every time I think of that victory I get melancholy over the five straight boards they beat us. That won the tournament for them and lost it for us. Oh, how I would like to beat those Horsewomen this Monday.

Joe David is recognized as one of the leading players of this city. The execution of the hand below gives you some idea why he gets that recognition. The hand was played in a rubber game at the Henry Grady Club a few days ago. Both sides vulnerable and Joe dealt.

NORTH
Ed Nix
S—6 x x
H—A K 9 x
D—Q J x x
C—A Q

WEST — Arthur Powell
S—A Q x x
H—J x x
D—10 x
C—K x x x

EAST — Dr. J. B. Wood
S—10 9
H—x x x
D—x
C—J 10 9 x x x x

SOUTH
Joe David
S—K J x x
H—Q 10 x
D—A K 9 x x x
C—Void

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
Pass	Pass	1 H	Pass
2 D	Pass	2 N. T.	Pass
3 S	Pass	3 N. T.	Pass
4 D	Pass	6 D	Pass
Pass	Double

Joe made the hand by very clever playing. The opening lead was the diamond 10. In Thursday's article I will tell you how he did it. In the meantime you might figure out how it was done.

In 1931, with the industry running between 60 and 70 per cent of capacity, census figures listed 264,000 workers. Now the 60 per cent mark again is being approached but technical changes may have reduced the number of men involved.

100,000 STEEL WORKERS TO GET WAGE INCREASE

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio, July 15.—(AP)—More than 100,000 men employed in the steel industry today received word their wages are going up.

Coincident with the steel industry's submission of an industrial code in Washington came announcements of 15 per cent increases from several important corporations, with the minimum hourly rate generally fixed at 40 cents, compared with 38 cents in most cases at present.

The Youngstown Sheet & Tube Company was the first to spread the good news, announcing its 15 per cent increase would become effective tomorrow.

Immediately similar increases were made known by the Republic Steel Corporation, the Sharon Steel Hoop Company, the Corrigan McKinney Steel Company, of Cleveland; the Carnegie Steel Company, of Pittsburgh; the National Tube Company, of Lorain, Ohio, and the Follansbee Brothers, of Wheeling, W. Va.

15 Per Cent Increase.

The giant United States Steel Corporation and the Bethlehem Steel Corporation, the nation's first and second largest steel concerns, were silent, but it was pointed out the code submitted at Washington called for a general 15 per cent increase except in the south. It also was noted the Carnegie Steel Company and the National Tube Company, subsidiaries of United States Steel, were among those coming forth with increases.

In the south, the Tennessee Coal, Iron and Railroad Company announced at Birmingham, Ala., that its wages would be raised from 17 1-2 to 25 per cent, effective Monday. Common labor will be increased from 23 to 27 cents an hour, with a 10-hour working day, and the schedules in the manufacturing and transportation departments will be increased from 20 to 25 per cent. About 4,500 employes will benefit.

The increases, marking a partial restoration of two cuts given laborers during the depression, came at a time when the booming steel industry's national operating rate has approached the 60 per cent of capacity mark after a steady upward climb in the last few months.

Millions Restored.

The action means that millions of dollars will be restored to pay rolls annually. In September of 1931, wages were reduced 10 per cent and in May of 1932, an additional 15 per cent was sliced off.

The increases announced by the Youngstown Sheet and Tube Company, the Sharon Steel Hoop Company and the Republic Steel Corporation will affect 40,000 men in the Mahoning and Shenango valleys.

Similar wage advances were announced yesterday by the Wheeling Steel Corporation for 12,000 employes at plants in Ohio and West Virginia and by the Great Lakes Steel Corporation at Detroit for 4,000 men.

CARNEGIE STEEL RAISES WAGES 21 PER CENT

PITTSBURGH, July 15.—(AP)—The Carnegie Steel Company, basic unit of the United States Steel Corporation, today announced a wage increase of 15 per cent for its 25,000 to 30,000 employes, effective tomorrow.

The pay rise, coincident with the filing in Washington of the steel industry's code of fair competition, restores in part total reductions of 23 1-2 per cent made since the economic decline began in 1929.

In conformity with the code, the Carnegie company fixed the minimum hourly wage for laborers at 40 cents, an increase of 7 cents or 21.2 per cent. The present rate is 33 cents, while the scale before pay cuts were made was 43 cents.

At the same time, word was received that the same increases were given by the American Sheet and Tin Plate Company and the American Steel and Wire Company, both United States Steel subsidiaries.

The American Rolling Mills Company joined in the parade today with an announcement of a 15 per cent increase and a minimum hourly wage of 40 cents for an estimated 3,300 employes in its plants at Middletown and Zanesville, Ohio, Butler, Pa., and Ashland, Ky.

ITALY'S SQUADRON REACHES CHICAGO

Continued from First Page.

pier, crowded into every conceivable vantage point at the world's fair, and dotting the tops of buildings along Michigan boulevard, the spectators waited in breathless silence for the appearance of the Italians.

Flying low, General Balbo's plane appeared over the south end of the lake. Strung out behind it in triads, the remaining 23 seaplanes roared along in perfect formation. Above them sped an escort of army pursuit planes from Selfridge field, the motors singing above the drone of the Italian ships seeming to sound a victory paen for a task well done.

Over the lake front circled the planes, etched against the blue of sky, and the backdrop of Michigan avenue's serrated skyline. Yachts cut the water below, sailboats lazied along, and small boats waited expectantly in the mile-square landing area of the lake to take the Italians off their planes.

Cheered by Throngs.

The crowd cheered in a soaring thunder of welcome as the flying boats dropped gracefully down on Lake Michigan and the bearded Balbo stuck his head out of the cabin of his plane. He stepped out and raised his arm in the fascist salute and countless arms waved back.

The other planes landed in rapid succession and small boats began to ferry the Italian pilots to the U. S. S. Wilmette, moored a short distance away at navy pier.

On the Wilmette the fliers were given time to bathe and dress, when they were taken in triumphal procession to the lagoon of the World's Fair, there to debark and march to Soldiers' field, where 100,000 persons waited for the formal welcoming ceremonies.

Ambassador Present.

Italian Ambassador Augusto Rosso was General Balbo's passenger on the flight from Montreal and he joined Prince Rospiglioso, of Rome, delegated by Premier Benito Mussolini to attend the welcoming ceremonies, on the Wilmette.

Today's flight had brought the planes from Montreal up the St. Lawrence river, to follow generally the north shore of Lake Ontario, but missing Toronto. The fliers crossed into the United States at Port Huron, Mich., and followed the St. Clair river over Detroit, thence to Toledo, Fort Wayne, and over South Bend to the southern curve of Lake Michigan into Chicago.

To welcome General Balbo and his men on the Wilmette were Prince Potenziani, Italian representative of the World's Fair; Consul General Giuseppi Castruccio, in full diplomatic garb; Mayor Kelly, of Chicago; Harry S. New, United States commissioner to the Century of Progress; Governor Henry Horner, of Illinois, and other dignitaries.

Greetings in Air.

Over Navy pier floated the Italian national emblem as the 24 silver-sided ships bobbed at anchor just off Chicago's Lake Shore drive. The 39 United States army planes flying above them spelled out the word Italia, thrilling the massed thousands along the shore, and blimps floated lazily through the sky, trailing greetings spelled in their native tongue to "Balbo and the Sons of Great Italy."

One of the giant twin-cabined ships appeared to have a bit of motor trouble as it churned into white spray of the blue rectangle that had been cleared of all craft for the coming of the Italians. The ship, commanded by Captain Borghetti, was coming to rest when its engine suddenly spurted into life again and the plane fluttered briefly like a frightened gull.

More than a half hour elapsed before the entire armada had moored inside the breakwater where the planes are to be guarded carefully throughout their stay of probably four days, after which the return flight by way of New York, the southern Atlantic and the Azores will begin.

Boards Wilmette.

It was learned later that Captain Borgetti's motor trouble was due to a clogged fuel line and that he refused to leave his cabin until all was in working order again. He was then taken from the plane to a small boat and finally aboard the Wilmette, a coast guard ship rebuilt from the old lake steamer Eastland, which sank in the Chicago river years ago. The delay brought a pause before the 97 visiting Italians and their country's ambassador actually stepped on American territory here.

So great was the crush aboard the Wilmette that General Balbo pleaded with the consul to protect his men, and United States marines, army and navy squads formed a guard line.

Finally the Italian commander was put off with Governor Horner, Rufus C. Dawes, president of the exposition, and Consul Castruccio on a small boat to relieve the excitement on the coast guard ship. Apart from the other members of the Italian crews they were hurried down to the World's Fair.

Six Intermediate Stops.

The great fleet on its epochal western flight dropped down six times to rest at intermediary bases, almost cutting the arctic circle at Iceland.

Amsterdam was the stopping place the first night after a race across the Alps; then Londonderry, northern Ireland; Reykjavik, Iceland; Cartwright, Labrador; Shediac, N. B., and Montreal, Que.

Parading through the fair grounds to the Italian pavilion, Italy's fliers were greeted by thousands massed on the exposition ground.

At Soldier field, before throngs, the fliers were welcomed by Mayor Edward J. Kelly, of Chicago; Governor Horner and other dignitaries.

Chicago's mayor said the fliers "did something immeasurably more valuable to the world than the linking of our two distant nations in terms of minutes rather than miles."

Renews Bond of Peoples.

"The flight," he said, "has strengthened anew the bond of friendship that has existed between our people and your people since this republic was formed."

Governor Horner said the flight epitomized forcefully the progress of the world during the last 100 years and "the progress that our World's Fair stands for."

"The flight heralds definitely the coming of regular trans-Atlantic air travel in the not far distant future," the governor said.

General Balbo said he brought greetings from Premier Mussolini and expressed thanks for himself and his men for their reception.

Balbo Fatigued.

General Balbo, appearing tired from lack of sleep and blinking from the bright lights on the speaker's platform, listened carefully to the other speeches but turned often to an interpreter for aid in understanding them.

He smiled broadly when Mayor Kelly told of a Chicago street being named for him and of tomorrow being designated "Balbo Day" at the World's Fair.

Messages were brought to the assemblage from the American secretaries of war and of the navy.

Rufus C. Dawes, head of the World's Fair; Italian Ambassador Rosso and Harry S. New, federal representative at the fair, were other speakers.

After the speech-making was concluded the fliers were taken by motor cars to their 60 double rooms in a hotel for rest in preparation for the festivities which will honor them tomorrow.

POST, TWO OTHER FLIERS RACING ACROSS ATLANTIC

By THEODORE F. KOOP.

NEW YORK, July 15.—(AP)—Wiley Post, bound around the world for a second time, was racing across the Atlantic tonight with two Lithuanian fliers who hopped off at dawn for their native land without governmental sanction.

Post, confident of shattering the world record of 8 days, 15 hours and 51 minutes which he and Harold Gatty set two summers ago, left Floyd Bennett field in his purple and white monoplane, Winnie Mae of Oklahoma, at 4:10 a. m., eastern standard time.

A plane believed to be that of the stocky Oklahoma City aviator was reported at 1:10 p. m. heading out over the Atlantic from Torbay, Newfoundland. He is due in Berlin, his first scheduled stop, between 5 a. m. and noon tomorrow.

The Lithuanians, Stephen Darius and Stanley Girenas, of Chicago, made a surprise start in their orange and black monoplane at 5:24 a. m., an hour and 14 minutes after Post had taken off.

The two World War veterans began their projected 4,900-mile flight without passports and without permission to fly over or to land in any country along their course. At 1:45 p. m. a ship thought to be theirs passed over Clarenville, Trinity Bay, Newfoundland.

"I'm going to let the robot do all the work," Post said before the take-off. "Last time Gatty and I took turns, but this trip I'm going to be lazy and let the other fellow do the work. I plan to use the robot all the time except when taking off and landing."

Nevertheless, he does not expect to do much sleeping.

"I've had about 90 hours in the air with the robot," he said, "and while he has always been on the job there's always that feeling about something mechanical—"

Post planned six stops on his 15,400-mile flight—Berlin, Novosibirsk, Kharabarovsk, Fairbanks, Alaska; Edmonton, Canada, and New York. He has expressed the hope of completing the journey in less than a week.

Post and the Lithuanians were reported flying into good weather along the north Atlantic coast, but the take-off of the monoplane Lithuanica in a heavy mist was considered a difficult feat.

Darius, 36, and Girenas, 37, took advantage of the interest in Post's departure and warmed their engine for what they told airport officials would be a test flight with their load of 779 gallons of gas.

Under this ruse they left the ground with the good wishes of friends, one of whom was Paul Zadeikis, New York consul general for Lithuania.

The plane, swaying under the load, missed destruction several times as it gathered speed along the ground. As the wheels grazed the last inch of the runway the plane nosed east with less than 200 feet of altitude before it disappeared into the low hanging fog.

They had been arguing with the commerce department over who should pay the $100 expense involved in cabling for permission to pass over countries on their route. Finally they sought permission by mail, which would require about 60 days, department officials said.

ELLSWORTH SAILS FOR ANTARCTIC FLIGHT

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., July 15. (UP)—Lincoln Ellsworth, polar flyer and explorer, sailed today on the first leg of his greatest adventure, a flight over 3,000 miles of untracked, unmapped wastes in the antarctic region.

Ellsworth was accompanied by his wife on the S. S. Lurline, bound for Australia and the Bay of Whales. The latter will be the base for the flight which the explorer and Bernt Balchen will make about December 15.

WILLIAM S. DAVIS, 76, OF CONLEY, DIES HERE

William S. Davis, 76, of Conley, for many years a resident of Atlanta, died Saturday afternoon at an Atlanta hospital after an extended illness. He had resided in Conley for the last several years.

Mr. Davis was in the plumbing business in Atlanta for 28 years. He is survived by his wife; two daughters, Mrs. Frank McKoy, of Atlanta, and Mrs. A. V. Prendergast, of Kansas City; two sons, George H. and William S. Davis Jr., of Atlanta, and three sisters, Mrs. W. W. Brooks, Mrs. John Parks and Mrs. Martha Ryckley, of Atlanta. The funeral will be held at 9:30 o'clock Tuesday morning at the Immaculate Conception church, of which he was a member. The Rev. Father Joseph E. Moylan will officiate. The place of burial will be announced by Sam Greenberg & Company.

Man Badly Stabbed In Attempted Holdup

W. W. Hazelrig, 53, of 184 Howard street, Kirkwood, was seriously stabbed in the arms and back Saturday night by two negroes who attempted to hold him up at Fair street near Capitol avenue, he reported to police. He was admitted to Grady hospital. Hazelrig said the two negroes ordered him to turn over his money and said he fought them off but was cut several times before succeeding in frightening them away.

Herndon Files Bill.

A bill of exceptions taking the case of Angelo Herndon, alleged negro communist, to the state supreme court was filed Saturday. The negro was given 18 to 20 years on conviction of attempting to incite to insurrection. A motion for a new trial was denied and is now being appealed.

Madam Clark, Palmist

Are you unhappy, discouraged, having trouble at home, a failure in business, love, marriage or divorce? This message is for you! I can help you overcome your troubles! Come now; later may be too late. I am the 7th daughter. Have been before the public since a child. I make no charges in advance and none if not satisfactory.

LOCATED AT 2012 MURPHY AVE.

Take East Point and Hapeville car—get off at South Gate stop. Across railroad opposite Pig 'n' Whistle on Lee Street. East Point city limit car stop.

RESOLUTION

WHEREAS, In December, 1929, representatives of The First National Bank of Chicago and The Chase National Bank of New York, declared to the world that wages must be reduced and forthwith wages were cut and cut to the bone and millions of men were thrown upon the streets unemployed, while many millions more were left to work part time at starvation pay; and

WHEREAS, As a result of the needless reductions of pay put into effect by industry the income of our National, State and Municipal Governments has suffered heavy decreases in revenue causing an apparent necessity of curtailment in all Government activities and employment; and

WHEREAS, Employees composing the City and County Public Service Employees Union No. 17212, affiliated with the American Federation of Labor, all of whom are employed by the City of Atlanta and the County of Fulton have, as a result of the demand made by the Eastern and Western Bankers and the agitation of a disgruntled few in our community, received pay reductions that has brought actual suffering to women and children; has taken meat and bread from their table; and

WHEREAS, There are eight hundred and twenty-one workers employed by Fulton County that receive one hundred dollars per month or less, the majority of these receiving less than eighty-eight dollars per month, out of a total of one thousand nine hundred and fifty-two employees, and most of these have families to support. Likewise there are nine hundred and four workers employed by the City of Atlanta that receive one hundred dollars per month or less, the majority of these receiving less than seventy-five dollars per month, out of total of one thousand eight hundred sixty-nine, and most of these have families to support; and

WHEREAS, The propaganda through newspaper advertisements, through presentments of recent grand juries and other sources to the end that Governmental costs should further be reduced is calculated to stem the tide of returning prosperity if put into effect at the expense of the wage earner, which would be in contradiction to the proclamation of President Franklin D. Roosevelt "that wages should be increased to meet the increased cost of living"; therefore, be it

RESOLVED, That it is well recognized fact that prosperity can only return by increasing the purchasing power of the masses; re-employment of the idle workers at living wages; therefore this Union appeals to those in authority to make no further wage cuts but to restore wages to the level of pre-depression days so as to enable workers to meet the steady rise in the cost of living and to stimulate the arteries of trade.

City and County Public Service Employees Union No. 17212

GRANT'S

MERCHANDISE FROM 1¢ TO $1.00

Buying and selling for cash enables Grant's to sell for less! Everything is guaranteed to please — or your money cheerfully returned!

Sale!

Monday Is Yard Goods Day at Grant's

36-in. Wash Goods

Here is the last call for printed voile and batiste remnants. A good selection of colors and patterns. Yard..... 10c

36-in. Printed Organdy

Fast color printed organdy priced to sell out fast. You'll appreciate this value. Yard 10c

36-in. Dress Prints

Buy these smart-looking, fast-color prints at 1933 low prices. Yard 12½c

Large Turkish Towels

Here is your chance to get big, fluffy towels for an extremely low price. Stock up and save! 12½c

36-in. Cretonne

In a rainbow of colors and patterns! The right quality for drapes, pillows or covers! 15c

Cretonne Pillows . . 15c

46-in. Square Oilcloth Table Covers

Dress up your kitchen table with a cheerful table cover. Slightly irregulars of a very heavy quality. 19c

W. T. GRANT CO. 82 Whitehall St.

THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION

VOL. LXVI., No. 33. ATLANTA, GA., SUNDAY MORNING, JULY 16, 1933.

OPTIMISM REIGNS AS TOBACCO MARKETING SEASON NEARS

GEORGIA MISHAPS CLAIM TWO LIVES; OTHERS ARE HURT

Auto Crash and Freight Train Take Toll; Youth and Retired Merchant Are Victims.

LAWRENCEVILLE, Ga., July 15. Ralph R. Gibson, 27, manager of a crew of several young magazine salesmen in this section, was instantly killed last night near Flowery Branch when the car in which he was returning to Lawrenceville from Gainesville was struck by another car headed towards Gainesville and occupied by several Buford people.

Two of the occupants of the Buford car are said to have suffered broken legs in the wreck.

Gibson was said to have been thrown clear of his car onto the pavement and lived only a few minutes. He was rushed to Gainesville, but died before reaching there.

Mr. Gibson had been stopping here with his wife and a 16-month-old child at the residence of Mrs. Bennie Powell. His home was in Fayetteville, North Carolina.

RETIRED BUSINESS MAN IS KILLED BY TRAIN

FLOWERY BRANCH, Ga., July 15.—George C. Davis, 61, was instantly killed here this morning when struck by Southern railway freight train, No. 72.

He was a retired merchant and a prominent citizen of Flowery Brench.

Besides his wife, he is survived by one daughter, Mrs. N. S. Smith, of New Holland, and three sons, W. K. Davis, of Gainesville; J. R. Davis, of Atlanta, and B. C. Davis, of Flowery Branch.

The last named son narrowly escaped injury in an attempt to rescue his father, who was crossing the track and failed to see the approaching train.

BEN HILL PHYSICIAN HURT IN AUTO MISHAP

FITZGERALD, Ga., July 15.—(AP) Dr. L. S. Osborne, secretary of the Ben Hill Medical Association, was seriously injured in an automobile accident near here today.

The doctor's car was struck by another machine turning into the Dixie highway from a side road.

CEDARTOWN GUARDS OFF FOR CAMP TODAY

CEDARTOWN, Ga., July 15.—Company K, 122nd infantry, Cedartown's unit of the national guard, will leave for Camp McClellan Sunday for their annual encampment.

For the second succeeding year the complete company will attend camp, which is probably a record. The company includes the three following commissioned officers and 64 enlisted men:

Captain Phil H. Brewster, First Lieutenant Arthur A. Adams, Second Lieutenant Virgil F. Howard.

First Sergeant Cecil J. Holland, Sergeants Homer J. Burson, Jessie A. Davis, John E. Davis, John E. Duke, Doyle W. Morgan, Otis C. Tackett and Roy E. Underwood.

Corporals Clyde H. Adams, Glover T. Gray, Collie H. Hendricks, Ralph Jordan, John F. Langford, Orville J. Pace, Joe P. Surls and Joe L. Thomas.

Privates, first class, Joseph O. Benson, Herbert R. Bridges, Herbert R. Daugherty, Charles H. Fite, Sam W. Good Jr., Clyde W Jolly, William H. Lindsey, James G. Paris, Horace G. Pickard, George W. Simmons, George W. Simmerville, James R. Stephens, Charlie P. Stephens, Robert H. Sutton, Winfred P. Williams and Roy E. Willingham.

Privates, second class, Robert L. Ash, Joe W. Barrow, Ralph E. Baxter, William S. Benefield, Roy E. Bishop, Joseph I. Black, Henry T. Bradford, Thomas M. Brumby, August P. Burgdorf, Ray E. Cogdins, James E. Haile, Connie C. Hilburn, William M. Irwin Jr., George B. Lee Jr., Robert B. Mathis, George R. Moore, Andrew A. McCoy, Seals B. Parris, William H. Parris, Munyon T. Roberson, John L. Rogers, Thomas B. Runyon, Frank M. Shiflett, Herbert W. Simmons, James D. Simpson, Henry B. Simpson, Jesse Simpson, Joseph L. Turner, Arthur B Watts, Dallas R. Weaver, John S. Whitfield and Ralph S. Winslett.

OTHER GEORGIA GUARDS TO GO TO CAMP FOSTER

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., July 15. (AP)—Georgia national guardsmen will replace Florida's guard forces at Camp Foster tomorrow.

Several special trains will leave the camp with Florida troops, who have completed a two weeks' training period, just prior to the arrival of other trains bearing Georgia soldiers, who will begin their annual training encampment.

The Georgia organization is known as the 121st infantry and includes units from Albany, Waycross, Cordele, Valdosta, Macon, Hawkinsville, Dublin, Jackson, Barnesville, Milledgeville and Monroe.

VICTIM OF ACCIDENT IDENTIFIED BY CHECK

DETROIT, July 15.—(AP)—A check drawn on an Atlanta bank identified a man who fell to his death June 25 from a hotel canopy as W. Gadsen Clark, of Savannah, Ga. He had registered as Charles W. Jeffries.

He fell as he attempted to retrieve some money that dropped from his window. The fall was less than one story but he died from the injury a few hours later in Receiving hospital.

The check was signed by Dietrich Clark. No inquiries had been made at the coroner's office concering the case and the body was still being held in the county morgue.

2 SLAYERS CONVICTED AT COURT IN BARTOW

CARTERSVILLE, Ga., July 15.—Two murder cases were tried in Bartow superior court in session here this week.

Jeff Blaylock was found guilty in the slaying of Oscar Gravely on June 10, and was sentenced to from one to three years.

Frank Williams, convicted in the killing of Tom Hyde more than five years ago, received a 12-year sentence.

Wayne Brookshire, tried on a charge of burning the home of Charles Dowda in the Kingston district, was found guilty by a jury and sentenced to two to three years.

C. C. C. Builders of Scenic Highway to Move To Modern Quarters Near Warm Springs

Above are scenes showing work done by Civilian Conservation Corps boys on the Pine Mountain Scenic highway near Warm Springs, part-time home of President Franklin D. Roosevelt. Photo at upper left shows a surveying crew blazing the way through the wildwood of the mountain. In the upper right picture is a general view of the boys working on the project. Below are Walter Barker, left, and Willie Barthelmess, the "long and short of it" at the Warm Springs camp, known officially as Georgia Camp P-56. They are 5 feet and 6 feet 3 inches in height, respectively.

WARM SPRINGS, Ga., July 15. (AP)—The civilian conservation corps company working on a project on Pine mountain near here will move into its permanent camp opposite the Warm Springs Foundation Monday, Captain Russel B. Reynolds, commanding, announced today.

Since the project was started, the conservationists have occupied temporary quarters on the mountain some miles from town. The change was decided upon to provide the camp with better facilities for lighting, sanitation and recreation.

The new camp is being built entirely by the members, including electrical work, plumbing, telephone installation, concrete work, carpentry, and similar items without any outside labor. It is located on a park-like tract donated by Dr. Neal Kitchens, of Warm Springs, and free water and swimming are offered by the Foundation.

Development of the permanent camp includes the erection of an ornamental gateway into the site, drives, parks, planting and construction of buildings. A formal dedication is planned when it is finished. A 100-foot flag pole is to be erected.

The Warm Springs conservationists are building a scenic highway on Pine mountain as their project and the nearness to the little White House of President Roosevelt here will give the chief executive ample opportunity to watch for himself how his program is going on his frequent visits to Warm Springs.

Virtually all members of the camp here come from the Savannah district. A definite program of recreation has been worked out for the campers and a baseball team organized and equipped with uniforms and shoes. It is playing teams of various other organizations.

CAMPBELL LAUDS COTTON CUT AID

Extension Director Well Pleased With Estimates by Georgia Growers.

ATHENS, Ga., July 15.—(AP)—Gratification over the conservative estimates of production made by Georgia farmers in their cotton acreage reduction offers was expressed today by Dr. J. Phil Campbell, state director of extension.

He said less than 12 counties in the state would require further inspection.

The extension director also announced he had received notice from C. A. Cobb, national director of the acreage cut campaign, that notices of acceptance of acreage retirement contracts would be mailed from Washington Wednesday, July 19, to county agents. He advised the farmers not to start plowing their cotton under until they had received the notices.

"The voice of the farmer has at last been heard," he said. "He is tired of 6-cent cotton.

"The willingness of farmers in Georgia to co-operate in this move indicates that they know a good business proposition when they see it.

"Considering the excellent cotton prospect today, with the 100-pound producer being eliminted, we are extremely gratified with the conservative estimates offered on prospective yields."

He said thousands of farmers in the state already were interplanting their cotton with soil building, food and feed crops, so as to lose no time when they get the signal to plow the cotton down.

The acres offered for retirement in Georgia reached 646,853 acres today in the tabulation here, with numerous reports yet to be received from county agents.

$100,000 IN BUILDING REPORTED IN MOULTRIE

MOULTRIE, Ga., July 15.—Buildings in the course of construction in Moultrie at this time will cost more than $100,000. The largest is a new tobacco warehouse and the second biggest expenditure is for the enlargement of another warehouse.

All of the permits were issued in June and represent an increase of 50 per cent over the building activities for the same month a year ago.

LEGION HEAD RAPS ADVERSE PUBLICITY

Georgia Veterans Entertained at Panthersville Barbecue.

PANTHERSVILLE, Ga., July 15. Appointment of committees to advertise activities of the American Legion in newspapers of the state was recommended here last night by Sidney Camp, of Newnan, Ga., commander-elect of the Georgia Legion.

Addressing a gathering of Legionnaires and members of the auxiliary of the Harold Byrd post of Decatur, Mr. Camp said unfavorable publicity directed at the Legion should be counteracted by publication of the good works of the organization.

The Legionnaires were the guests of Sheriff Jake Hall at his new country home near here. More than 300 persons were entertained at a barbecue in the gardens of the Hall estate.

Mr. Camp was introduced to the gathering by Scott Candler, state commander, and Hugh Burgess, commander of the Harold Byrd post. After the barbecue, members of the Legion auxiliary gathered at the home of Mr. Hall for their regular meeting. New officers were installed and Mrs. P. I. Dickson, of Gainesville, president-elect of the Georgia Legion auxiliary, spoke.

New officers of the Decatur auxiliary are Mrs. J. H. Allison, president; Mrs. Scott Candler, first vice president; Mrs. H. T. Andrews, second vice president; Mrs. Perry W. Mullen, recording secretary; Mrs. Walter Smith, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. Mark Stephenson, treasurer.

Two orchestras furnished music as the 300 guests wandered through the wide expanse of rock gardens and rustic buildings on the grounds.

2D DISTRICT MASONS TO MEET IN MOULTRIE

MOULTRIE, Ga., July 15.—The annual convention of the Masons of the second congressional district will be held in Moultrie next Wednesday. More than 300 members of the order are expected to attend, according to John F. Hatfield, of Moultrie, present grand master.

Invitations have been extended to Grand Master William B. Clarke, of Savannah, and Past Grand Master Joe Bowden, of Atlanta.

The visitors will be served a barbecue dinner at noon.

HUGHES TO HEAD GA. SECRETARIES

Savannah Is Chosen for Next Convention City as Session Closes.

ELBERTON, Ga., July 15.—(AP)—J. M. Hughes, of Cairo, was elected president of the Commercial Secretaries of Georgia at the closing session of its annual convention here today.

John L. Morris, of Macon, was elected vice president and Walter Pike, of Columbus, secretary-treasurer.

Next year's convention will be held in Savannah at a date to be announced later.

The business session today was featured by an address of L. P. Dickie, southeastern representative of the United States Chamber of Commerce. He explained the industrial recovery act.

At the banquet last night, attended by a large number of Elberton citizens, Abit Nix, of Athens, was the principal speaker.

The meeting was said to be the largest attended and most helpful yet held by the secretaries. Officers and delegates praised Elberton and its present activities and promise of future growth.

Mr. Nix, speaking last night, declared employers should avoid policies that would retard President Roosevelt's program for economic revival.

He discussed the federal industrial recovery act and said that salaries of working people must be raised in proportion to the rising price of commodities.

He urged secretaries to make surveys in their towns and cities and determine what could be done to bring about unified effort on the part of employes and employers to aid the president's economic program.

President Richard C. Job, of Brunswick, opened the session Friday. Mayor H. P. Hunter welcomed them and after a response by John H. Rogers, of Griffin; Wyatt H. Foster, of Rome, discussed "The Trade Area." This was followed by discussions of the future for industrial development and the influence of the chamber of commerce in the administration of public affairs. These discussions were led by W. H. Barnwell, of Atlanta, and Miss Hattie Hardy, of Albany.

After luncheon the visitors went on a sight-seeing tour, visiting the larger quarries and finishing plants, silk mill and other points of interest.

ELBERTON MILL SOLD TO NEWNAN OPERATORS

ELBERTON, Ga., July 15,—Through transactions completed here today, A. W. and F. M. Arnall, of Newnan, became owners of the Elberton coton mill, and will at once begin operation of it.

The property is located within the city of Elberton and comprises 40 acres of land on which are situated the mill buildings and village.

A. W. Arnall is president of the Arnall mills and of the Arnco mills, and F. M. Arnall is vice president of the Arnall mills and a director of the Arnco mills.

The purchase price was not given out.

LANKFORD APPOINTED TO REVENUE POST

WAYCROSS, Ga., July 15.—(AP)—The Journal-Herald says W. C. Lankford, former congressman from the eighth Georgia district, has been appointed an attorney in the bureau of internal revenue at Washington, effective today. The information was contained in a letter from the former congressman to his son, Chester Lankford, of Douglas, Ga.

Buford Votes 5 to 1 To Legalize 3.2 Beer

BUFORD, Ga., July 15.—Mayor G. P. Tapp announced late today that the citizens of Buford had voted overwhelmingly to legalize sale of 3.2 beer, and that the city council would issue licenses, probably Monday.

At a special election held Saturday, in which about 400 voters participated, those favoring beer sales outnumbered those opposed five to one, Mayor Tapp said.

FETE AT LA GRANGE HONORS MEMORY OF F. E. CALLAWAY

Ten Thousand Attend Annual Holiday Observance of Textile Mill Founder's Day.

LAGRANGE, Ga., July 15.—The fifth annual observance of Fuller E. Callaway Memorial Day, in honor of the founder of the group of Callaway mills of LaGrange, Hogansville, Manchester, Milstead and Roanoke, Ala., centered today in a beautiful meadow in southwest LaGrange, where a hundred booths had been erected to serve a barbecue at noon to the 10,000 residents of the communities of the Callaway mills.

The booths were gaily decorated with flags and bunting. A speakers' stand was erected in the woods just west of the barbecue pits and equipped with loud speakers so that the entire throng could hear the program of the noon hour. Three hundred porkers were roasted in a pit 400 feet long and served with Brunswick stew and all the other accoutrements of the traditional southern barbecue.

The day's program was begun at 9:30 a. m. with a band concert by the Southwest LaGrange band, attired in white cotton uniforms. The concert was given in Callaway park after the arrival of the special trains bringing hundreds of celebrants from Hogansville and Manchester. The residents of Roanoke, Ala., arrived in busses.

Other features of the morning's program were wrestling matches between LaGrange and Manchester athletes, a comic match between "Tubby" Walton and his midget partner, Frank Darnell, the finals in the local tennis tourney, marble matches and old-fashioned horseshoe pitching contests.

Cason J. Callaway, president of the Callaway group of mills and son of the founder in whose honor the holiday was observed, addressed the assembled throng preceding the barbecue. Mr. Callaway paid fitting tribute to his father and discussed the reason for the annual celebration by saying it seemed "peculiarly appropriate to honor the memory of Fuller E. Callaway by having a good time, since he, during his lifetime, worked unceasingly so that we may have what we do."

Just as the gates to the big barbecue booths were opened, a thundershower broke and rain descended in increasing volume for several minutes. Dresses, coats, heads were dampened, but not the enthusiasm of the celebrants, who stayed and feasted on barbecue, cold drinks and ice cream which were served in abundance.

A 12-piece orchestra played during the luncheon hour.

The program for the afternoon included a concert and parade by the Baxter L. Schaub post drum and bugle corps, winners of the state competition and trip to the World's Fair in Chicago, and a baseball game between the LaGrange Cardinals and the Manchester team.

The residents of Milstead, where one of the Callaway mills plants is located, had a program similar to that held in LaGrange.

The colored employes of the Callaway mills made merry in LaGrange in a program which included races, contests, a baseball game and a barbecue served at 1 o'clock.

Late in the afternoon the special trains left for Hogansville and Manchester. The thousands of participants of LaGrange returned to their homes and the holiday became a memory tinged with respect and admiration for the late Mr. Callaway.

PECAN MEN PREPARE CODE ALTERATIONS

ALBANY, Ga., July 15.—(AP)—Papershell pecan growers of the southeast today were ready to present their idea of an equitable code for the pecan industry, under the industrial recovery act. Meeting at Bactonton, near here, 250 growers adopted proposals of slight alterations in the code tentatively adopted by the pecan distributors here last Tuesday, and added to it features which they considered of paramount importance to the growers.

Salient features of the meting of growers at Baconton included the appointment of a committee to study the questions of a spread of price between the trade and grower, a gathering of facts and fraud to make possible a co-operative working agreement between grower and distributor, and a price schedule for the various grades of nuts.

Burglar Gets $281.

CARROLLTON, Ga., July 15.—Burglars cut a screen to enter the home of Horace Cantrell, Carroll county farmer, Friday night and robbed him of $281 in currency. Cantrell, who lives four miles south of Carrollton, was awakened as the burglar departed and gave chase over his trail with the aid of his dogs, but to no success.

State Deaths And Funerals

MRS. ANNIE SAMUELS.

WASHINGTON, Ga., July 15.—Six months after the death of her husband, J. B. Samuels, prominent citizen of Wilkes and Lincoln counties, Mrs. Annie Samuels, 81, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. W. Y. Clary, near Pansy. Interment was in Wilkes, from Fishing Creek church, the Rev. B. W. Hancock, of Lincolnton Methodist church, and the Rev. J. H. Farr, pastor of Tignall Methodist church, officiating. She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Clary, and Mrs. Anderson, of Seneca, S. C., and a son, Frank Samuels, of Macon.

MRS. ELIZABETH WRIGHT.

WASHINGTON, Ga., July 15.—Final rites were read by Dr. W. Ambrose Hogan and the Rev. J. R. Kirkland at Goshen Thursday for Mrs. Elizabeth Wright, 63, relict of Moseley H. Wright, who died at her Lincolnton home from a paralytic stroke Wednesday. Four daughters, Mrs. J. H. Scott, Mrs. F. H. Dawkins, Mrs. J. G. Strozier and Mrs. W. M. Remsen; five sons, Moody, Watson, Guy, Blanchard and Norman Wright, survive, together with her brother, T. A. Norman.

Congressman Brown Pledges Support to F. D. R. Program

WASHINGTON, July 15.—The cotton farmer of the south is 100 per cent back of President Roosevelt in his stabilization program, according to Representative Paul Brown, of Elberton, Ga., who left Washington tonight for his home state after conferring here with officials of the Home Owners' Loan Corporation and inspecting the new suite of offices which have just been assigned him in the house office building.

"The president is so popular with the folks back home," he said, "that they are eager and willing to get behind any governmental program that has his approval and support. Mr. Roosevelt and his secretary of agriculture need have no fear that Georgia farmers will not co-operate in every way possible to make the new agricultural adjustment act a howling success.

During his brief stay in Washington, Representative Brown conferred with Senator Richard B. Russell Jr., of Georgia, and Frank Holden, state manager of the Home Owners' Loan Corporation. Although the new representative will make recommendations for the appointment of an attorney for each one of the 17 counties of his congressional district to act as counsel for the Home Owners' Corporation, he said today that his indorsement of Henry Grady Howard, of Augusta, Richmond county, was the only one he wished to make public at this time.

"I shall also be permitted to name county appraisers," he declared, "but it will be 10 days or two weeks before I complete my slate. I presume also that I shall have the privilege of naming a number of postmasters in my district but to date I have not had an opportunity to give this phase of my duties a great deal of serious attention. Before leaving tonight, I was very anxious to talk with Harllee Branch, executive assistant to Postmaster-General James A. Farley, but Mr. Branch is absent from the city."

Representative Brown bears a striking resemblance to Senator James Francis Byrnes, of South Carolina, who probably is as close to President Roosevelt as any member of congress.

Asked if he had any preference for committee assignments, he said he would rather not talk about the matter at this time, but he intimated that inasmuch as he was both a lawyer and a farmer "after a fashion," he would welcome a place on the judiciary or agricultural committee.

In his suite at the Raleigh hotel, Mr. Brown recalled the day in October, 1914, when he stayed in this same hostelry while on his honeymoon. He married Miss Frances L. Arnold, daughter of Dr. R. J. Arnold, of Hampton, Ga., who was a member of the state legislature for a number of years. The Browns have two children, a boy 13, and a girl 14.

When the new congressman is sworn in as a member of the house in the second session of the 73rd congress, he will have won his national legislative spurs without having made a single speech in his campaign for election from the tenth Georgia congressional district. To this writer's knowledge only one other member of the lower chamber ever accomplished a like political miracle. That member is Representative George Holden Tinkham, wringing "wet" republican and foe of the League of Nations from Boston, Mass.

And yet their cases are not exactly parallel because although Tinkham, who has the added distinction of being the only bewhiskered gentleman in the house, refused to make a speech in order to be re-elected, he was not forced to run against eight opponents as did the gentleman from Georgia.

Representative Brown has employed Miss Lois Gholston, who was associated with the late Representative Charles Hilyer Brand, of Athens, as his secretary, and when the next session of congress convenes, he will have with him Miss Pansy Walling, of Elberton, as his assistant secretary.

FOUR HELD IN KILLING OF NEGRO NEAR SUMTER

White Quartet Charged With Murder Upon Finding of Body.

AMERICUS, Ga., July 15.—(AP)—Sheriff W. P. McArthur, of Sumter county, announced tonight that in connection with the murder of a negro, about five miles from here last night, he has placed four white men in jail, each charged with murder.

The victim was Henry Thomas, 22, giant negro employed on the farm of Deputy Sheriff Walter Chappell. Thomas was said to have been a former convict.

Those under arrest, the sheriff said, are Cliff Snyder and Kenneth Jordan, brothers-in-law, and Douglas Mills and Dave Mills.

The negro's body was found slumped in the tonneau of a car that was parked in front of the J. A. Mills Sr. home near here last night, the sheriff said.

ARMS THEFT PROBERS CLING TO PLOT THEORY

ATHENS, Ga., July 15.—(AP)—The opinion arms stolen from the military arsenal at the University of Georgia were taken for use in Cuban revolutionary activities and not for American gangsters was expressed here by Major Joseph B. Pate, investigating the thefts.

He pointed out that the six Browning guns and several automatic rifles were too heavy for easy handling and quick hiding and said none of the arms was suited for the needs of ordinary gangsters.

The major said agents of the United States bureau of investigation concurred in belief that the stolen guns were destined for Cuba but that no clues had been found toward identifying thieves.

POLICEMAN ACCUSED IN SLAYING OF NEGRO

Savannahan Bound Over to Grand Jury on Murder Charge.

SAVANNAH, Ga., July 15.—(AP) W. G. Carpenter, city policeman, was held for grand jury action on a charge of murder following a preliminary hearing in police court this morning into the death of William Nathaniel Spell, negro, who was fatally wounded by a pistol in the hands of Carpenter.

The police officer in his statement to the court said the shooting was accidental, reciting that he had stumbled on a stone and that the pistol accidentally discharged as he caught it when it bounced from the holster at his belt.

There was conflicting testimony in the case, two of the state witnesses testifying that Carpenter shot the negro. In announcing his decision, Judge Mercer Jordan reviewed the conflicting evidence and stated that the testimony of the state's witnesses made out a prima facia case of murder.

Whether Carpenter will be released on bond pending action on the case by the grand jury will be for Judge Peter W. Meldrim to decide. Application will be made.

When Judge Jordan announced his decision, Carpenter's wife, who was a spectator, screamed and fainted. She was carried from the courtroom.

Georgia News Told in Brief

Corn Prices Advance.

MOULTRIE, Ga., July 15.—Corn stocks in south Georgia are lower than at this time in June in a number of years, according to the operators of a grain elevator here. The price has advanced from a low of 20 cents a bushel to 65 cents.

Liquor Captured.

CEDARTOWN, Ga., July 15.—Deputy Sheriff C. D. Stone, of Polk county, captured a car containing over 18 gallons of freshly-made whisky and a large quantity of cans near here Thursday night. The car contained five men, but Fred Morgan, of Etowah county, Alabama, acknowledged owning the car and contents and took all blame.

Howell Will Speak.

CARTERSVILLE, Ga., July 15.—Hugh Howell, chairman of the state democratic executive committee, has accepted an invitation to address the Bartow county Methodist Sunday School Institute on Sunday, July 30, at that body's meeting at the historic Pine Log camp ground. Mr. Howell's subject will be "The Faith and Youth of Today."

Craig Reunion.

McDONOUGH, Ga., July 15.—The Craig family reunion, an annual affair, will be held Sunday at Indian Spring. Several branches of the family will be represented and a picnic dinner enjoyed.

Bank's Statement.

McDONOUGH, Ga., July 15.—The statement of the First National Bank of McDonough, published this week, shows a total of $135,120.62 on demand deposit, with time deposits amounting to $71,074.72. The total assets are $477,841.86. Common stock amounts to $80,000 and undivided profits are $1,788.33. The surplus is $60,000. T. A. Sloan is president and W. J. Greer, cashier.

Dr. Gilbert to Speak.

CARTERSVILLE, Ga., July 15.—Dr. O. P. Gilbert, editor of the Christian Index, Atlanta, will fill the pulpit of the Baptist tabernacle here Sunday morning. Dr. Gilbert has been heard by local congregations on several occasions.

To Address Reunion.

McDONOUGH, Ga., July 15.—E. M. Owen, of Griffin, congressman from the fourth district, will make the principal address at the Elliott reunion on Wednesday, July 19. A. C. Elliott will be master of ceremonies. Dinner will be served under the trees at Shingleroof camp ground, the annual scene of the gathering, and more than a thousand descendants of the widow, Mrs. Mary Elliott, and her nine children who came to Henry county in 1825, will attend.

Confirmation Service.

CEDARTOWN, Ga., July 15.—Bishop H. J. Mikell, of the Atlanta diocese, will hold services followed by ordination of confirmation here at St. James Episcopal church Sunday morning.

Warrenton Waterworks.

WASHINGTON, July 15.—Federal Administrator of Public Works Ickes today announced that a proposed waterworks system to cost $6,000 at Warrenton, Ga., had been tentatively approved in connection with the program allotting $952,068 for similar municipal improvements throughout the country.

Heads Ware Veterans.

WAYCROSS, Ga., July 15.—Dr. George E. Atwood was elected president of the Associated War Veterans' unit in Ware county at a meeting of veterans of all wars held here last night. Dr. A. D. Williams was named secretary and plans for an active drive to enlist voters in the organization were perfected.

Wins Rail Post.

SAVANNAH, Ga., July 15.—(AP)—Robert R. Cummins has been appointed acting general manager and chief engineer of the Central of Georgia railroad, effective at once. He will serve during a leave of absence granted General Manager C. E. Weaver.

Veterans Organize.

MOULTRIE, Ga., July 15.—Temporary organization of a unit of Associated War Veterans was formed in Colquitt county at a meeting here yesterday with Robert Roddenberry Jr. elected chairman and Smith Harris named secretary.

CARTERSVILLE, Ga., July 15.—"Uncle" Nath Thompson, pastor of the Sam Jones Memorial church, with Mrs. Thompson, will leave Monday, July 24, for a trip to Texas. They also will go to Chihuahua, Mexico, where they have a daughter, Miss Julia Thompson, a missionary for the M. E. Church, South. They also will visit Mexico City.

GOLDEN LEAF CROP BRINGS NEW LIFE TO SOUTH GEORGIA

Warehouse Centers Prepare for Greatest and Most Profitable Year in History of Sales.

By W. A. STARLING.

NASHVILLE, Ga., July 15.—(AP) With the opening of the Nashville tobacco market set for Tuesday, August 1, local business and general activities have taken on new life. Hundreds of thousands of dollars will be paid to growers, who likewise will part with it to local businesses.

Nashville again will operate three large warehouses with two sets of buyers sent here from the most important companies. Besides regular buyers, a large group of independents are expected on the market, as indications point to an improvement in this year's weed prices.

All Nashville warehousemen have arrived on the scene to canvass the territory and assist growers in preparing their crop for market.

The weed crop in Berrien county is extremely fine this year, warehousemen terming it the best in the past several years. Growers are about half through curing the crop, which is expected to be completed shortly following the market opening. Berrien county's crop is almost three times as large as last season and by far better in quality than in 1932.

Nashville, one of the larger markets of the state and centrally located, expects to market around 8,000,000 pounds of the golden weed.

It is estimated that the south Georgia tobacco crop will place on the floors between 55,000,000 and 60,000,000 pounds.

The opening of the season will mean that many men who have been out of employment will secure jobs. These workers are usually paid from $1.50 to $2.50 a day. Hundreds will be used on the floors for handling the weed and others in offices.

Following the tobacco season the cotton crop will be a source of further revenue. Gins here and at Ray City and Alapaha are now preparing for the season and expect long and profitable runs.

A 25,000-feet per day capacity sawmill is being constructed at Weber, on the Georgia & Florida railroad five miles from Nashville. Approximately 60 men will be used on the job and paid good wages. It will require five years to saw the tract.

The T. J. Lowe's Son & Co. planing mill is now operating on full time with about 25 men employed. This firm has been running on part time for the past six months, but improvement in local building and trade warranted a longer schedule of operation.

The watermelon crop this season brought growers some needed money, as well as the bean and cantaloupe crops in the Enigma and Alapaha sections of the county.

Naval stores operators in this county have taken on new life, due to improvement in the turpentine spirits and rosin prices.

HEAVY SALES SEASON SEEN FOR WAYCROSS

WAYCROSS, Ga., July 15.—(AP)—The largest tobacco-selling season in the history of the markets here is predicted by William Barren, vice president of the Waycross Tobacco Warehouse.

His forecast was based on a series of surveys made in the rural districts that always have marketed their crops in this city. He said he found the crops the biggest in the history of Georgia tobacco growing, and the quality measured up to that of the excellent crop in 1929.

Thus far, Barren reported, three-fourths of the crop in the Waycross area has been cured, thus removing much possibility of loss by unfavorable weather that sometimes comes in late summer. He estimated more than 4,000,000 pounds will be sold on Waycross floors opening August 1.

Several manufacturing companies that were not represented here last year have sent word their buyers will be on hand next month.

FIVE MEN ARRESTED IN MYSTERY DEATH

CLAXTON, Ga., July 15.—(AP)—Sheriff Jesse C. Durrence today said he was holding five men in connection with the slaying of Robert Dupree, 25, whose body was found on the Seaboard railway tracks near here last April.

He said the men were booked as Grant Holland, Lewis Bradley, Orley Barrow, Sylvester Kirby and Horace Saturday.

The sheriff said a woman told him one of the men admitted to her Dupree was killed and his body placed on the tracks to make it appear he had died beneath a train. The man denied the woman's story.

Sheriff Durrence said the five probably will be given a preliminary hearing on murder charges next week.

COASTAL STATES BODY TO MEET AT SEA ISLAND

SEA ISLAND BEACH, Ga., July 15.—Leading businessmen of the coastal cities in Georgia, Florida, North and South Carolina, members of Coastal States Co-ordinated, will meet at Sea Island Beach July 28 and 29, according to announcement made here today by M. O. Dunning, of Savannah, who is one of the leaders of the organization.

An executive session will be held the afternoon of July 28 and a general meeting will take place at the Sea Island casino Saturday with more than 250 members of the organization in attendance.

The headquarters for the convention will be The Cloister, and the afternoon of the last day of the meeting will be devoted to golfing, swimming and other recreation.

STOCKS ADVANCE DESPITE SELLING

Daily Stock Summary.

(Copyright, 1933, Standard Statistics Co.)

	50 Ind's.	20 RR's.	20 Ut's.	Total 90
Saturday	98.9	56.1	111.8	94.6
Prev. day	98.2	56.1	112.0	94.1
Week ago	99.6	57.0	111.2	95.1
Month ago	79.7	41.6	99.9	77.3
Year ago	39.4	15.7	58.8	39.1
3 yrs. ago	165.1	124.1	226.0	169.3
High (1933)	128.4	119.1	113.4	118.5
Low (1933)	99.6	58.0	113.7	95.3
High (1932)	42.3	23.5	61.5	43.9
Low (1932)	72.3	39.8	111.6	78.9
High (1931)	35.1	13.2	51.8	35.0
Low (1931)	140.2	106.2	208.9	144.3
	60.6	30.8	92.8	61.3

Dow-Jones Averages.

BY THE UNITED PRESS.

Stocks.	Open	High	Low	Close	Net Chg.
30 Ind.	104.95	106.75	104.50	106.10	+1.66
20 Rails	54.25	55.01	53.89	54.69	—0.12
20 Util.	37.18	37.64	36.95	37.19	+0.01

Bonds.	Close.	Chge.
40 Bonds	88.67	—0.16
10 First rails	93.21	+0.10
10 Second rails	76.96	—0.10
10 Utilities	95.57	—0.16
10 Industrials	88.95	+0.24

By JOHN L. COOLEY.

NEW YORK, July 15.—(AP)—Stocks had little trouble weathering week-end profit-taking today and came through the Saturday market with a balance of net gains.

Sensational strength in wheat and lively gyrations by current favorites of the share traders kept the rank and file of stocks from getting very far out of line, even during early irregularity; prices firmed all around in the late trading. Volume came to 2,242,460 shares.

Mining stocks, sugars, packing issues, alcohols and the usual assortment of specialties did most of the advancing. Rails acted sluggishly, nor did utilities or steels develop noticeable strength. Motors picked up fractions here and there.

Gold Equities Soar.

Gold equities found particularly favor. Their rise accompanying reports that the government was considering the question of permitting export of ore. Alaska Juneau, Dome, McIntyre and United States Smelting were up to 2 to 5, while Homestake gained nearly 18. Cerro de Pasco jumped 3. South Puerto Rican Sugar, Central Aguirre, and Great Western improved 4. National Distillers, United States Industrial Alcohol, Simmons, United Aircraft, Commercial Solvents and Industrial Rayon were up 3 to 4. Gains were limited to fractions for American Telephone, Western Union, Case, Harvester, Kennecott, Sears-Roebuck, Montgomery Ward, National Biscuit and Westinghouse, but Union Carbide, Allied Chemical and Auburn firmed more than a point.

Filing of the steel "code" at Washington was closely followed by announcement of the first wage increases provided thereunder. This affects not only an important branch of industry, but also a leading section of national purchasing power, one which had taken two cuts during the depression, a first of 10 per cent in September, 1931, and a second of 15 per cent in May, 1932.

Rubber Consumption High.

Rubber consumption, like cotton, reached a record high last month. Buying of commodities has proceeded at a rapid pace as users of raw materials have accumulated stocks against both immediate and future needs. Whether inventories have been piled up a bit too fast will become apparent later.

Freight loadings on the nation's railroads last week showed the expected decrease, due to incidence of Independence Day in the preceding period. The drop amounted to 94,851 cars, but total traffic was $123,295, or 29.6 per cent, above a year ago.

Foreign currency fluctuations were narrow by week-end holidays abroad, and changes were unimportant.

TRADING IN METALS QUIET DURING WEEK

NEW YORK, July 15.—(AP)—Sharp advances in copper have been followed by a quiet market with offerings from second hands at slight concessions reported. First-hand prices have been generally maintained at the nine-cent level. Toward the end of the week some improvement was reported in the domestic demand and there were also reports of a fair demand in the European markets.

Tin lost part of the advance of the previous week and prices have worked off about 1 1-2 cents per pound since the close of a week ago.

Zinc showed continued firmness.

Lead prices advanced to the highest level in over two years but demand was not particularly active.

Antimony was firm and higher.

Further advances were recorded in steel production during the past week, the ingot output having risen from 56 to about 59 per cent of capacity, with a continued good inquiry reported from leading users. Pig iron was firmer and $1 a ton higher in nearly all districts.

STOCKS BEHIND THE MARKET

The Financial World analysts are always searching for outstanding investment opportunities. Each issue contains analyses of this kind. Don't miss our latest analysis "Three Laggard Stocks." We give without bias the vital facts on securities. Increase your profits by returning this "ad," your address and

$1 FOR ALL THE FOLLOWING:

(a) Four next issues of The Financial World (July 19th issue will feature "What Rail Stocks Now?", "Canadian Distillery Stocks" and "Secondary Bonds for Profit").

(b) July issue of "Independent Appraisals of Listed Stocks." (This 48-page book shows capitalization, working capital ratio, earnings comparisons, our ratings, etc., on 1350 stocks).

(c) "10 Outstanding Stocks for Recovery," "A 'Behind the Market' Oil," "An Overlooked Bargain" and "Dollars Down—Earnings Up."

(d) "A New Basis for Selecting Stocks," "Time to Buy a Fortune?" and "Sound Investment Rules."

The FINANCIAL WORLD
53-SA Park Place New York

N. Y. Stock Exchange Transactions

NEW YORK, July 15.—Following is the complete official list of today's stock transactions on the New York Stock Exchange:

STOCKS.

—A—

Sales (in hundreds)	Div.	High.	Low.	Close.	Net Chg.
1 Abr & Str (1.20)		37½	37½	37½	— 2½
22 Adams Exp		12½	12	12½	— ½
4 Adams Millis (1g)		20½	20	20½	— ½
7 Affil Pr (.60)		9½	9½	9½
4 Air Reduc (3)		101	99½	99½	— 1½
527 Alaska J (.60)		25	22½	25	+ 3½
54 Alleghany		7½	7	7½	— ½
1.40 Alleg Stl		24½	22½	22½	— 2
15 Al C & Dye (6)		132	130	131½	— 1½
11 Allis C Mfg		24½	24½	24½	+ ½
12 Amal Lea		8½	7½	8½	+ ½
4 Amerada (2)		38½	38½	38½
12 Am A C Del		26	23½	23½	+ ½
115 Am B Sug		10½	8½	10	+ 1½
8.40 Am B S pf		46½	41	46½	+ 5½
53 Am Can (4)		94	93½	93½	+ ½
12 Am C & Fdy		34½	34	34½
119 Am Coml Alco		17½	15½	17½	+ 1½
44 Am & F Pow		18½	18	18½
4 Am Haw SS (1)		20½	20	20½
5 Am H & Le		14	13½	14	— ½
8 Am H & L pf		54½	52½	54½	+ 1½
14 Am Ice		16	15½	15½	— ½
22 Am Internat		13½	13	13½
13 Am Loco		33½	32½	32½	— ½
8 Am M & F (.80)		20½	20½	20½	+ ½
91 Am Metal		22½	20½	21½	— ½
53 Am P & Lt		18½	18	18½	+ ½
8 Am P&L $6pf(14)		40½	39½	40½	+ ½
50 Am Rad S San		17½	17½	17½
74 Am Roll Mill		27½	26½	26½	— ½
33 Am S & Com		2½	2½	2½
84 Am Sm & R		39½	37½	38½	+ ½
20 Am Stl Fdy		24½	23½	24
62 Am S Ref (2)		73½	71	72½	+ 1½
8 Am Sumat Toh		15½	15½	15½	— ½
94 Am T & T (9)		131½	129½	130½	— ½
31 Am Tob B (5)		91½	91	91½	— ½
15 Am Wat Wk (1)		40	39	39	— ½
62 Am Woolen		16½	15½	15½	— ½
20 Am Wool pf		61	57½	60	+ 2½
10 Am Z L&S		10	9½	9½	+ ½
204 Anaconda		20½	19½	20	— ½
21 Ancher Cap (.60)		30½	29½	30½	+ ½
7 Archer D M pf (1)		28	27½	28
9 Arm Del pf (7)		90	89½	89½	+ ½
508 Arm Ill A		7½	7	7	— ½
445 Arm Ill B		4½	4½	4½
203 Arm Ill pf		90	82½	83½	— 5
51 Arnold Const		6½	6½	6½	— ½
92 Assd D Gds		19½	17½	19	+ 2
7 Assd D G 2d pf		49½	48½	49½	+ 1½
42 Atch T & S F		75½	74	75	— ½
12 Atl G & W I pf		32	30	32	— 1
20 Atl Ref (1)		30	29½	30	+ ½
8 Atlas Pow		33½	33	33	— 1½
60 Auburn R (2)		79	76	76½	— 1½
44 Aust Nich		8½	7½	8	+ ½
445 Aviation Corp		18	14½	13½	+ ½

—B—

216 Baldw Loc		16½	16	16½	+ ½
11 Bald Loc pf		45	43	45	+ 2
58 Balt & Ohio		35½	34½	34½	— ½
4 Balt & O pf		35	34½	34½	— ½
47 Barnsdall		10½	10	10½	+ ½
4 Baruk Cigar		49½	49	49½	— ½
2 Beatrice Cr		25½	25½	25½	— ½
10 Belding Hem		10½	10½	10½
92 Bendix Aviat		20½	19½	20½	+ 1
6 Best & Co		31½	30½	30½	+ ½
60 Beth Stl		7½	7½	7½	— ½
4.30 Bigelow San		46½	45½	45½	— ½
63 Blaw Knox		27½	25½	27	+ 1½
4 Bohn Alum (4g)		17	15½	17	+ 1½
17 Borden (1.60)		36½	35½	36½
5 Borg Warner		20½	19½	19½	— ½
46 Briggs Mfg		12½	12½	12½	+ ½
9 Bkln-M Rap T		3½	3½	3½	— ½
3 Brunswick Bal		14½	14½	14½	— ½
8 Bruns T & RS		2½	2½	2½
2 Bucyrus Erie		11½	11½	11½	— ½
2 Bucy E cvt pf		16½	16½	16½
58 Budd Mfg		8	7½	8
21 Budd Wheel		5½	4½	4½	— ½
4 Bullard Co		11½	10½	11½	— ½
18 Burr A M (.40)		20	19½	20	+ ½
6 Butte C & Z		3½	3½	3½
84 Byers Co		33½	32½	33½	+ ½

—C—

15 Calif Pack		31	29½	30½	+ ½
33 Callahan Z Ld		2	1½	2
8 Calumet & Hec		8½	8	8½
84 Campbell Wy		16½	13	15½	+ 2½
29 Can D G A (1)		27½	26½	27½	+ ½
86 Canad Pac		20½	19½	20
4 Cannon M (1)		33	32½	33	+ ½
92 Case J I		98½	96	96½	— 1½
10 Caterpil Tract		27	26½	26½	+ ½
94 Celanese		52½	50	51½	+ ½
2 Celotex		4½	4½	4½
6 Celotex cif		4	3½	3½	— ½
79 Cent Aguirre (1½)		39½	36	39½	+ 4½
193 Cerro de Pas		38½	36	38½	+ 3
38 Ches & Ohio (2)		46½	45½	46	— ½
40 Chi & N W		14½	14½	14½	— ½
11 Chi Gt West		6½	6½	6½
4 Chi Gt W pf		13½	13	13
26 C M St P & P		7½	7½	7½
83 C M St P & P pf		13½	12½	13	+ ½
6 Chi Pneu T		10½	10	10½	+ ½
9 C R I & P		8½	8½	8½	— ½
5 C R I & P 6% pf		12	11½	11½	— ½
7 C R I & P 7% pf		14½	14½	14½	— 1
29 Chick Cot Oil (3g)		28½	27	28½	+ 2½
130 Chrysler		36½	36	36½
14 City Ice & F		24	23½	23½	+ ½
1.30 City I & F pf (6½)		69½	69½	69½	+ ½
10 City Strs		2½	2½	2½
.30 Clark Equip		11½	11½	11½	— ½
46 Cluett Pea (1)		35	27	35	+ 8
10 Coca-Cola (6)		104	102½	104	+ 1
10 Colgate-Palm		9½	9½	9½
6 Coll & Alk		19½	19½	19½	+ ½
38 Col Fuel & Ir		15½	14½	15½	— ½
75 Colum G&El (.80f)		26½	26	26½	+ ½
11 Coml Credit		14½	14½	14½	— ½
22 Coml Inv Tr (2)		38½	38	38½	— ½
202 Comwlth & Sou		5½	4½	4½	+ ½
2 Comw & S pf (6)		5½	5½	5	— ½
56 Congoleum-N (.60)		22½	21½	22	— ½
2 C Cigar pfww(6½)		57	55	57	+ 2
56 Con Gas (1.85g)		62	60½	61½	+ ½
2 Con Gas pf (5)		94½	94½	94½	— ½
85 Con Oil		14½	14½	14½
5 Con RR Cuba pf		8½	8½	8½	+ ½
77 Con Text		2½	2½	2½
16 Container A		9½	9½	9½	— ½
7 Cont Bak A		4½	4	4
21 Cont Bak B		16½	15½	15½	— ½
16 Cont Can (2)		3	2½	3
7 Cont Ins (1.20)		63½	61½	63½	+ 1½
134 Cont Mot		3½	3½	3½
35 Cont Oil Del		18½	17½	17½	— ½
16 Corn Prod (3)		81½	80½	80½	— 1
6 Cot Belt		6½	6½	6½
23 Crm of Wh (2½)		36½	35½	36½	+ ½
18 Crown Cork		9½	9½	9½
69 Crown Zeller		7½	7½	7½	— ½
30 Cuba Co		3½	3½	3½
280 Cuban-Am Sug		10½	9½	10½	— ½
2.10 Cuban-Am S pf		62	59	61	+ 1
128 Cudahy Pack (2½)		58	54½	56	+ ½
13 Curtis Pub		26	25	25	— 1
85 Curtiss-Wright		4½	4	4½
21 Curtiss-Wr A		7½	7	7½	+ ½

—D—

62 Deere & Co		45	43½	43½
10 Del & Hud		89	88	89	— 1½
36 Del Lack & W		42½	41½	42	— ½
7 Diam Mat (1)		27	26½	26½	— ½
235 Dome Min (1.55b)		34½	31½	34	+ 2½
10 Dom Strs (1.20)		24½	24	24½	+ ½
45 Douglas Airc (4)		17½	16½	17½	+ ½
49 Drug Inc (3)		54½	53½	54	— ½
3 Duplan Silk (1)		24½	24½	24½	+ ½
98 Du Pt de N (2)		81½	79½	80½	+ ½

—E—

11 Eastern Roll		8½	8½	8½
8 Eastman Kod (3)		87½	86½	86½
6 Eaton Mfg		14½	14½	14½
65 Elfingon Sch		5	4½	5	+ ½
118 El & Mus		4½	3½	3½	+ ½
38 El Auto-L		26	25½	25½
12 El Boat		7½	7	7
47 El Pow & Lt		14½	13½	13½	— ½
5 Elk Horn C pf		4½	4	4½	+ ½
2 EPS $5½pf ww(34)		4	4	4	+ ½
3 Erie R R		20½	20	20½	+ ½
2 Erie 1 pf		25½	25½	25½	+ ½
13 Evans Prod		6½	6½	6½	+ ½

—F—

14 Fed Mot		11	10½	11	+ ½
5 Fed Wat Svc A		5½	5	5	+ ½
11 Fed D Strs (.60)		28	26	28	+ 1
66 Firest T & R (.40)		28½	27	28	+ ½
2 Firest T&R pf (6)		73	72½	72½	— ½
3 First Nt Str (2½)		66½	65½	66½	+ 1½
4 Follansbee		16½	16½	16½	— 1
6 Foster Wheel		20½	20	20½	+ ½
120 Foundation		21½	19½	20½	+ 1½
13 Fox Film A		4½	4	4	— ½
19 Freep Tex (2)		39½	38½	39½	+ ½

—G—

10 Gen Am Inv		10½	10½	10½	+ ½
50 Gen Am T (1)		42½	40½	42
5 Gen Asphalt		21½	21	21	— ½
18 Gen Bak (1)		19½	18½	19½	— ½
1 Gen Bak pf (8)		106½	106	106½	— ½
6 Gen Bronze		9½	9½	9½	+ ½
5 Gen Cable		8½	8½	8½	— ½
168 Gen El (.40)		29½	28½	28½	— ½
12 Gen El spl (.60)		12	11½	11½
14 Gen Foods (1.60)		38½	36½	36½	— ½
11 Gen G&E A		2½	2	2	— ½
5 Gen Mills (3)		64½	63½	64	+ 1
189 Gen Mot (1)		33	32½	33	+ ½
11 Gen Pub Sr		7	6½	7	+ ½
3 Gen Ry Sig (1)		44½	44	44½	— ½
11 Gen Real&U		3½	3½	3½
10 Gen Refract		18½	18½	18½	+ ½
74 Gillette (1)		17½	16½	18½	+ ½
15 Gimbel Bros		6½	6½	6½	— ½
11 Glidden Co		16½	16	16
43 Gobel		14½	14½	14½	+ ½
36 Gold Dust (1.20)		25½	25	25½	— ½
75 Goodrich		19½	18½	19½	+ ½
103 Goody T&R		43½	42½	43½	+ ½
19 Goth Silk H		13½	13½	13½	— ½
23 Graham-Paige		4½	4½	4½	— ½
7 Granby Con M		14½	14	14½	— ½
16 Gt No Ir Ore ctf		13½	13½	13½	+ ½
53 Gt No Ry pf		31	29½	31
682 Gt W Sug		40½	35½	40½	+ 4½
53 Grigsby-Grun		4	3½	3½	— ½
29 Guantan Sug		4½	4	4½	+ ½

—H—

6 Harb-Walker		24½	23½	24½	— ½
16 Hahn Dept St		7½	7½	7½	+ ½
8 Hayes Body		2½	2½	2½
47 Hayes Body rts		½	½	½	+ ½
12 Hazel At Gl (4b)		82	81½	81½	+ ½
3 Hercules P (1½)		55	54½	55
7 Hollander		8½	8½	8½	— ½
24 Homest M (10b)		255	248	252½	+17½
6 Houd-Her A		14	14	14
9 Houd-Her B		6½	6½	6½	+ ½
4 Houston Oil		35½	35	35	— ½
10 Hous Oil new		6½	6½	6½
10 Howe Sd (.40)		26½	25½	26½	+ ½

—I—

42 Illinois Cent		42½	41½	42	+ ½
92 Ind Refin		78	74½	78	+ 3
122 Indust Ray (3)		78½	74½	74½	— 4½
7 Inger R (1½)		71½	70	71½	+ 1½
4 Inspirat Cop		8½	8½	8½
4 Interlake Ir		11½	11	11	— ½
15 Int Agricul		4	3½	4	+ ½
8 Int Cement		37½	37½	37½	— ½
65 Int Harv (.60)		43½	42½	43½	+ ½
19 Int Hyd-El A		10	10	10	— ½
137 Int Nick Can		20	19½	19½	+ ½
7 Int Pap&P pf		3½	3½	3½	— ½
3 Int Salt (1½)		20½	20½	20½	— ½
75 Int Shoe (2)		26½	26½	26½	+ ½
23 Int Silver		55	51	55	+ 3½
345 Int Tel&Tel		59	55½	57½	+ 1½
5 Island Crk C (2)		32	31½	32	+ ½

—J—

4 Jewel Tea (3)		42	41½	42	+ ½
50 Johns-Manv		55½	54½	55½	+ ½

—K—

8 Kayser (J)		17½	17½	17½
34 Kelly-Spr Tir		5½	5	5½
24 Kelvinator		11½	11½	11½	+ ½
113 Kennecott		24½	23½	24	+ ½
5 Kinney (GR)		3½	3½	3½
22 Kresge (888)		16½	16	16½
22 Kroger G (1)		34½	33½	34	+ ½

—L—

60 Lambert (4)		39½	37½	39½	+ 1½
7 Lee Rub & T		10½	10½	10½
38 Lehigh Val C		6½	6½	6½
10 Lehi V C pf		11½	11½	11½	+ ½
10 Leh Val RR		25½	25½	25½
11 Lehman Cp (2.40)		77	76	76	— ½
45 Libbey-O-Ford (3)		31½	30½	31½	+ ½
6 Lizg & M B (5b)		94½	94½	94½	+ ½
6 Lily T Cup (1½)		19½	18½	18½
50 Liquid Carb		45½	43½	44½	+ ½
6 Loew's (1)		26½	26½	26½	— ½
3 Lorl		3½	3½	3½
5 Long-Bell A		4½	4½	4½	+ ½
30 Lorillard P (1.20)		24½	24½	24½	+ ½
13 Ludlum Stl		19	18½	18½	+ ½

—M—

2 McAn & Fb (1.60)		27½	27½	27½	— ½
19 Mack Trucks (1)		43	42½	42½	+ ½
3 Macy R H (2)		61½	61½	61½	+ ½
3 Magma Cop		17½	17½	17½
7 Manati Sug		3½	3½	3½
3 Manati Sug pf		7½	6½	7½	+ ½
5 Manh Rr Mod gtd		16½	16½	16½
5 Manh Shirt		20	20	20½
7 Marine Midl (.40)		9½	9½	9½
11 Marsh Field		17	17	17	— ½
22 Math Alkali (1½)		37½	36½	36½	— 1
9 May Dept Strs (1)		31½	30½	31	+ ½
11 McCrory Strs B		4½	4½	4	— ½
132 McInty Porc (11b)		33½	31½	33½	+ 2
40 McKess & Rob		11½	10½	10½	+ ½
5 McKess & Rob pf		22½	21½	22
20 McCal Mchan Stra		2½	2½	2½
38 Mengel		6½	6	6½
7 Miami Cop		13½	12½	13½	+ ½
20 Mid-Cont Pet		8	8	8
7 Minn-Mol Imp		15½	15	15½	+ ½
10 Mo-Kan-T		1½	1½	1½
5 Mo-K-T pf		15½	15½	15½	— ½
7 Mo Pac		3½	3½	3½	— ½
9 Mo Pac pf		8½	8½	8½	— ½
15 Mohawk Cpt		12½	12½	12½	+ ½
28 Mons Chem (1½)		20½	20½	20½
74 Montgom Ward		66½	63½	66½	+ 3
98 Mother Lode		27½	26½	27½	+ ½
70 Motor Met Gau		1½	1½	1½	+ ½
6 Mullins Mfg		4	3½	4
21 Murray Corp		8½	8½	8½	+ ½
		10½	10½	10½	— ½

—N—

43 Nash Mot (1)		25½	24½	25½	+ ½
5 Nat Acme		7½	6½	7½	+ ½
7 Nat Bisc (2.80)		58½	57½	57½	+ ½
38 Nat Cash R A		3½	3½	3½
33 Nat Dai Pr (1.20)		24½	23½	24
8 Nat Dept Strs		2	1½	1½	— ½
165 Nat Distill		116	112½	115½	— 3½
20 Nat Enam & St (1).		19½	19½	19½	— ½
4 Nat Supply		23½	23	23
3 Nat Surety		54	54	54	— ½
42 Nat Tea (.60)		25½	24½	25½	— ½
1 N O T & Mex		27½	25½	25½	— ½
5 Newport Indust		10½	10½	10½	— ½
5 N Y Air Br		19½	19	19	— ½
90 N Y Central		55½	53½	54½	— ½
12 N Y C & St L		20½	19½	20½
14 NYC&StL pf		27½	26	26½	— ½
217 N Y Investors		2½	2½	2½
22 N Y N H & H		32	30½	31½	+ ½
13 N Y Ont & W		13½	12½	12½	— ½
19 N Y Shipbldg (.40)		17½	16½	16½	— ½
44 Nor Pacific (4g)		32½	31½	32	+ ½
5 Norf & W (8)		169	166	169
127 No Am Aviat		8½	7½	8½	— ½
83 North Am (85f)		34½	33½	34½	— ½
17 North Pac		32	31	31½
17 Norwalk T & R		5½	4½	5

—O—

84 Ohio Oil		16	15½	16	+ ½
23 Oliver Farm		7½	7½	7½
5 Omnibus		6	5½	6
15 Oppenheim Coll		13½	13	13½	+ ½
21 Otis Elev (.30)		22½	22	22½	— ½
17 Otis Stl		8	8	8
13 Owens-Ill Gl (2)		93½	92	92	+ ½

—P—

7 Pac G & El (2)		31½	30½	30½	— ½
5 Pac Ltg (3)		36½	36½	36½	+ ½
422 Packard Mot		6½	6½	6½
17 Param Publix ctf		2½	2	2
8 Park & Til		31½	30	30	— 1½
23 Park Utah		3½	3½	3½
13 Pathe Exch		2½	2	2½
13 Pathe Ex A		8½	7½	8½	+ ½
402 Patino Min		10½	9½	9½	— ½
211 Peerless Mot		2½	2½	2½
5 Penick & Ford (1)		57½	56½	56½	— ½
8 Penn R R (1g)		39½	38½	38½	— ½
3 Pet Milk		13½	13	13	— 1
27 Phelps Dodge		16½	15½	16½	+ ½
99 Phila R		9½	8½	9
3 Philip Morris (1)		13½	13½	13½	+ ½
28 Phillips Pet		10½	10½	10½
22 Pierce Oil		16½	16½	16½	+ ½
21 Pierce Pet		2½	2½	2½
5 Pillsb Fl (1)		26	25½	26	+ ½
8 Pitt Coal		8½	8	8
7 Pitt Ser & B		22	21	21
6 Pitt T Coal		11	10½	10½	— ½
17 Plymouth Oil		5½	5½	5	— ½
31 Porto R A T A		15½	15½	15½	— ½
16 Porto R A T B		7½	6½	7½	+ ½
14 Postal T & C pf		30½	29½	30½	+ ½
9 Pressed St Car		4½	4½	4½	— ½
20 Proct & G (1½)		68½	68½	68½	+ 3
7 Pub S N J (2.80)		45½	45½	45½	+ ½
18 Pullman (3)		10½	10½	10½	+ ½
72 Pure Oil		10½	10	10½	+ ½
6 Purity Bak (1)		22½	22½	22½

—R—

286 Radio		10½	10½	10½	— ½
21 Radio pf B		24½	23½	24	— ½
8 Radio K O		4½	4½	4½
69 Reis & Co		3½	3½	3½	+ ½
12.20 Reis 1 pf		17½	15½	16½	+ ½
40 Rem Rand		11	10½	10½
12 Reo Mot		3½	3½	3½
13 Repub Stl		22½	21½	21½	— ½
9 Rep Stl cv pf		51	50½	51
3 Rexo Met (1)		20½	20	20½	— ½
36 Rey Tob B (3)		50	48½	50	+ ½
9 Rossia Ins		9½	9	9	+ ½

—S—

72 Safew Strs (3)		39½	36½	39½	+ 2½
8 St J Lead		26	25½	25½	— ½
5 St L San F		7	6½	7

BOND OFFERINGS CONTINUE TO GAIN

Daily Bond Averages.

(Copyright, 1933, Standard Statistics Co.)

	20	20	20	60
	Ind'ls.	RR's.	Ut's.	Total
Saturday	76.2x	83.5	87.9x	82.5x
Prev. day	76.1	83.4	87.8	82.4
Week ago	75.2	82.0	87.7	81.2
Month ago	71.9	75.2	83.8	77.0
Year ago	55.2	53.5	74.7	61.1
2 yrs. ago	83.5	99.7	101.0	95.1
3 yrs. ago	93.0	107.4	100.3	100.3
High (1933)	76.2	83.5	87.9	82.5
Low (1933)	58.3	57.0	74.1	63.6
High (1932)	71.3	78.0	86.2	78.1
Low (1932)	33.2	47.4	70.9	57.5
High (1931)	90.4	105.7	101.5	98.7
Low (1931)	62.3	62.3	80.2	68.5

x—New 1933 high.

By VICTOR EUBANK.

NEW YORK, July 15.—(AP)—Moderate activity and a firm tone characterized the bond market today, with the foreign issues, on the whole, having the edge on the domestic department.

Total sales amounted to $8,104,000, as compared with last Saturday's volume of $10,753,000. The familiar pattern of new highs, made each day recently by the average for 60 corporate issues, remained unbroken today as another 1933 record was reached at 82.5, up one-tenth of a point.

In the foreign list, South American loans were in fairly uniform demand, although Denmark, Canadian and German bonds also worked higher. Gains ranged from about 1 to as high as 7 points.

Outstanding performers in this category included the Argentine 5 1-2s, Antioquia 7s, Colombia 6s, Bavaria 6 1-2s, Berlin City 6 1-2s, Chile Republic 7s, Dominion of Canada 5 1-2s, and New South Wales and French City Lines. French Republic 7s, however, sagged moderately.

While railway and industrial issues made the best showing in the domestic field, a few of the public utilities had a satisfactory day of it. Rail liens, which advanced from a point to more than 5, included representative issues of the Santa Fe, Burlington, Central of Georgia, Chicago & Northwestern, Delaware & Hudson, Erie, Great Northern, Illinois Central, Nashville, Chattanooga & St. Louis and Nickel Plate.

Detroit Edison, American Water Works, and Montana Power bonds were most active among the public utilities, while among the industrials Colorado Fuel & Iron, Goodrich, Armour, were popular.

United States government securities were, for the most part, irregularly higher.

Produce

The produce quotations listed below are reported by the state bureau of markets on closing sales each preceding day:

ATLANTA.

Eggs, Georgia, extra ..... $ .16
Eggs, trade ..... .15
Eggs, trade ..... .12
Eggs, Georgia yard run, dozen ..... .10
Eggs ..... .09
Stags ..... .10
Hens, pound ..... .12
Roosters, pound ..... .06
Ear corn (80-pound bushel) ..... .20c
Butter, best table, pound ..... .10
Turkeys, pound ..... .05
Capons, pound ..... .05
Geese, pound ..... .14
Ducks, pound ..... .12
Friers, pound ..... .12

JACKSONVILLE.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., July 15.—These quotations reported by the state marketing bureau represent sales in small jobbing lots by dealers, truckers and farmers direct to retailers made the night prior to and morning of Saturday, July 15:

Avocados—Cuba, standard crates, medium size, mostly $2.25@2.35.

Beans—Southern, bushel hampers, round stringless, few mostly $2.25; Kentucky Wonders, few mostly $2.50@2.75; Bountifuls, few mostly $1.75@2.15.

Butter Beans—Southern, bushel hampers mostly 75@90c.

Lima Beans—Southern, bushel hampers, ordinary to fairly good, few 75c@$1.15.

Blueberries—Per quart basis, best mostly 12½c.

Cantaloupes—Southern, per 100, medium size, mostly $3@4.

Cabbage—Southern, bulk per 100 pounds, fair to good, mostly $3@3.25.

Carrots—Per dozen bunches, fairly good, few 40c.

Celery—California, 1 crates, 3-4s, fairly good, mostly $3.50@3.65.

Corn—Southern, per dozen, fair to good mostly 12@14c.

Cucumbers—Southern, bushel hampers, medium size, ordinary to fairly good (over supply) 90c@$1.35.

Eggplant—Bushel hampers, medium size, ordinary to fairly good, mostly 40@60c.

Grapes—Lug boxes, fair to good slow $1@1.25.

Grapefruit—Field boxes, 48-72s, ordinary to fairly good mostly 60@90c.

Limes—Orange crates, key type, fair to good, mostly $3.75@4.75.

Mangoes—Bushel, turpentine type, ordinary to fairly good, $1.25@1.50.

Okra—Southern, bushel hampers, small, fancy, slow, mostly 65@75c; larger or older, mostly 35@50c.

Oranges—Bushel, Valencias, ordinary to fairly good, mostly 40@70c.

Peaches—Georgia, bushel baskets, various varieties, ordinary to fairly good, $1@1.40.

Peas, Field—Bushel hampers, mostly 45@60c.

Peppers—Bushel hampers, ordinary to fair, mostly 20@30c.

Pineapples—Cuba, standard boxes, medium size, mostly $1.75@1.85.

Potatoes—Southern, bushel hampers, Bliss Triumphs, medium to large, mostly $1.50@1.85.

Squash—Bushel hampers, yellow crooks, small, mostly 75c@$1; larger or rougher, mostly 40@65c.

Sweet Potatoes—Southern, Porto Rico, per 100 pounds, fair to good, mostly $1.50@1.75.

Tomatoes—Southern, crates, loose pack, approximately 50 pounds, ordinary to fairly good, slow, mostly $1@1.50.

Watermelons—Stone Mountains, 20-26 pounds, small lots 6@10c; Tom Watsons, 20-26 pounds, small lots, 5@8c.

Eggs and poultry: Steady on Florida nearby fresh henmery whites.

Eggs—Fresh Florida whites, case lots, 42-45 pounds net up weight per dozen mostly 23c.

Hens—Live, colored, 4 pounds and up, per pound 12@14c; Leghorns, 10@12c.

Fryers—Live, per pound, colored, mostly 15@16c; Leghorns, mostly 13@14c.

Broilers—Live, colored, 1½-1¾-pound size, per pound, 14@16c; Leghorns, 13@14c.

Roosters—Live, per pound, 8@9c.

CHICAGO.

CHICAGO, July 15.—Butter: Receipts 12,633, steady, prices unchanged.

Eggs: Receipts 8,836, steady; extra firsts 14c; fresh graded firsts 14c; current receipts 11@12c.

Poultry: Receipts, live, 9 trucks, steady, hens 11c; Leghorns 9c; roosters 8c; turkeys 10@11c; spring ducks 7@9c; old 5@6c; spring geese 10c; old 6c; Rock springs 13c; colored 18c; Rock fryers 16@17c; colored 13c; Leghorn broilers 10½c; Rocks 13c; colored 12c.

Potatoes: Receipts 78, on track 313, total United States shipments 437; steady, demand and trading moderate, supplies light. Missouri, Kansas Cobblers, mostly $2.75, few higher, few sweets: No. 2, $1.75@2; Oklahoma Triumphs, U. S. No. 1, $3.50, slightly decayed $3.

Money Market.

NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, July 15.—Foreign exchange easy. Great Britain in dollars, others in cents. Great Britain demand 4.78½; cables 4.78½; 60-day bills 4.76½; France demand 5.61½; cables 5.61½; Italy demand 7.56½; cables 7.56½.

Demands: Belgium 20.00, Germany 24.25, Holland 37.85, Norway 24.00, Sweden 24.65, Denmark 21.35, Switzerland 27.80, Spain 11.96, Portugal 4.38¾, Greece 81¼, Poland 18.81¾, Czecho-Slovakia 4.29¾, Jugo-Slavia 1.92¾, Austria 13.70¾, Rumania 90c, Argentine 36.52¾, Brazil 8.03¾, Tokyo 29.87½, Shanghai 31.25, Hongkong 35.00, Mexico City (silver dead) 23.45, Montreal in New York 95.25, New York in Montreal 105.00.

N—Nominal.

Bar silver steady, ¼ higher at 39¼.

LONDON.

LONDON, July 15.—Money ¼ per cent. Discount rates—Short and three-month bills ½@5-16 per cent.

Bar silver quiet and unchanged at 18 11-16d.

JACKSONVILLE.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., July 15.—Turpentine firm 48½; sales 112, receipts 463; shipments 35; stock 36,936.

Rosin firm; sales 318, receipts 1,712; shipments 135; stock 112,012.

Quote: B, D 4.15; E, I 4.20; K, M 4.30; N, WG 4.35; WW, X 4.50.

Bond Dealings on New York Stock Exchange

NEW YORK, July 15.—Following are today's high, low and closing prices of bonds on the New York Stock Exchange and the total sales of each bond:

(United States government bonds in dollars and thirty-seconds.)

U. S. GOVERNMENT BONDS.

Sales (in $1,000)		High.	Low.	Close.
2	L 3½s '32-47	102.22	102.22	102.23
4	L 1st 4½s '32-47	102.6	102.6	102.6
86	L 4th 4¼s '33-38	102.30	102.28	102.29
24	Tr 4s '44-54	110.	109.31	110.
8	Tr 3¼s '46-56	106.14	106.13	106.14
13	Tr 3¼s '40-43 June	104.29	104.26	104.26
14	Tr 3¼s '43-47	102.12	102.12	102.13
2	Tr 3¼s '41-43 Mch.	102.19	102.19	102.19
37	Tr 3¼s '46-49	102.16	102.16	102.16
132	Tr 3s '51-55	100.15	100.12	100.14
		99.3	99.1	99.1

CORPORATION BONDS.

—A—

Sales (in $1,000)		High.	Low.	Close.
1	Adams Exp 4s '48	73	73	73
4	Alb P Wrap 6s '48	55½	55½	55½
16	Alleghany 5s '44	69	68	69
24	Alleghany 5s '49	59½	59	59½
4	Alleghany 5s '50	42½	41	41
4	Allegh Val 4s '42	97	97	97
10	Allis Chal 5s 2030	92	92	92
33	Am & F P 5s '50	55¼	54½	55
2	Am Bk Sug 6s '35	80	80	80
3	Am Chain 6s '33	75¼	73½	75¼
2	Am Cyan 5s '42	91	89½	91
4	Am I G Ch 5½s '49	87½	87½	87½
19	Am M & F 6s '39	104	104	104
19	Am Metal 5½s '34	98½	98½	98½
6	Am Smelt 5s '47	98¼	98¼	98¼
10	Am Sm Ref 6s '37	108	107½	107½
10	Am T&T 5s '43	106	106	106
1	Am T&T col 5s '46	105	104½	105
29	Am T&T 5s '60	105	104½	105
8	Am T&T 5s '65	115	115	115
2	Am T&T cvt 4½s '39	115	115	115
1	Am WW&E 6s '75	82½	82½	82½
38	Am WW&E 5s '34	98	96	98
8	Am WW&E 5s '43	94	94	94
1	Ang C Nit 7s '45	89	88½	89
15	Arm Del 5½s '43	92	91½	92
24	Arm 4½s '39	91	90½	91
2	Armstrong 5s '40	103¾	103¾	103¾
2	Atko Oil 6s '35	101½	101	101
47	AT&SF cvt 4½s '48	95½	95½	95¼
68	AT&SF 4s '95	89½	89½	89¼
10	AT&SF adj 4s at '95	97½	97½	97½
1	AT&SF T S L 4s '58	90½	90½	91
1	A C Line 4s '52	71	71	71
8	ACL L&N 4s '52	48	48	48
8	Atl & Dan 1st 4s '48	60	60	62
3	Atl G & W I 5s '59	103	103	103
1	Atl Refin 5s '37

—B—

3	B&O rfg 6s '95	81½	81	81½
3	B&O 1st 5s '48	75	74½	75
18	B&O rfg 5s '95	100¼	98½	100¼
8	B&O cvt 4½s '33	64½	64	64½
68	B&O cvt 4½s '60	90½	90½	90¼
10	B&O 4s '48	87	87	87
8	B&O 4s M&E/WV '41	86	85½	86
8	B&O 5s S W '50	107	107	107
2	Bell T P 5s '48	87½	87½	87½
3	Beno I Loan 6s '42	102	100	100
6	Beth Stl rfg 5s '42	100	99½	100
35	Beth Stl p m 5s '36	85	83½	83
25	Boston & M 5s '67	75	74½	74½
19	Boston & M 4½s JJ '61	75	68½	68½
1	Boston & N Y A L 4s '55	68	68	68
4	Hos & N Y A L 4s	22	22	22
3	Rut C M 6½s '34	107½	106½	107½
26	Bklyn Ed 5s '49	106½	106½	106½
4	Bklyn Ed 5s '52 E	95	94½	95
9	Bklyn M Tr 6s '68	85½	83½	83½
1	Bklyn M E 1st 5s '50	102	102	102
2	Bklyn U Gas 5s '50	102	102	102
2	Bklyn U E 4½s '41 B	96½	96½	96½
1	Buf G El 4½s '81	70½	70½	70½
1	Buf F&P 4½s '46	23	23	23
1	Bur CR&U 5s '34	49½	49½	49½
1	Bush Term 5s '60
4	Bush T B 5s '60

—C—

2	Cal G & E 5s '37	105½	105½	105½
3	Cal Pac 5s '42 ctfs	90	90	90
1	Camaguey 7s '42 ctfs	12	12	12
1	Can N R 5s '70	101½	101½	101½
1	Can N R 4½s '54	95¼	95¼	95¼
4	Can N R 4½s '56	96¼	96¼	96¼
5	Can N R 4½s '57	95½	95½	95½
4	Can N R 4½s '68	95½	95½	95½
10	Can N R 5s '69 July	101¼	101¼	101¼
3	Can N R 5s '69 Oct	103¾	103¾	103¾
11	Can Nor 7s '40	107½	107½	107½
11	Can Nor 6½s '46	100	100	100
10	Can Nor 4½s '35	99¾	99¾	99¾
1	Can Nor 4½s '56	90½	90	90
4	Can Pac 5s '54	90½	89½	90
13	Can Pac 4½s '46	81¾	81¾	81¾
6	Can Pac 4½s perp	69	68½	69
26	Can Pac 5s '38	99	98	98
5	Carro C&O 5s '38	106½	106½	106½
3	Cato Del Tel 5s '39	25	23½	25
18	Cen of Ga 5s '59 C	64	63	64
9	Cen of Ga 1st 5s '45	39½	39	39½
9	Cen of Ga con 5s '45	63½	62½	63
14	Cen of Ga con 5s '51	69½	69½	69½
15	Cen Pac 4s '49	79	79	79
1	Cen Pac 5s '60	87	87	87
1	Cen P 1st gtd 4s '49	104	103½	104
1	Cerro de Pas 5s '47	103½	103½	103½
78	Cheap Corp 5s '39	102½	102½	102½
2	C & Ohio con 5s '39	102½	102½	102½
1	C&O rfg 4½s '93 A	94½	94½	94½
1	C&O rfg 4½s '95 B	93¾	93¾	93¾
1	C&O rfg 4½s '95	99	98½	99
13	CB&Q rfg 5s '71 A	91¼	91¼	91¼
1	CB&Q 4½s	92¼	92¼	92¼
5	CB&Q gen 4s '58	96¾	96¾	96¾
6	CB&Q 4s Ill '49	88½	88½	88½
1	CB&Q 3½s Ill '49	17½	17½	17½
22	Chi & E I 5s '51	105	105	105
9	Chi GL&C 5s '37	50	49½	50
27	Chic Gt West 4s '59 C	76	75½	76
2	C M & S P 4½s '89 A	70	69½	70
13	CM&SP con 4s '89 A	53½	52½	53
93	CMStPaPac 5s '75	27	26½	27
289	CMStPaP adj 5s 2000	29½	28½	29½
3	Chi & N W 6s '36	51½	50½	51½
10	Chi & NW rfg 5s 2037	72½	72	72
6	Chi & NW 4½s '87	41½	40½	41
5	Chic & NW cv 4½s '49	44½	44½	44½
10	Chi & NW 4½s 2037	45½	45½	45½
1	Chi & NW 4½s 2037 C	58½	58½	58½
1	Chi & NW 3½s '87	36½	36½	36½
2	CRIAP 4½s '52 A	26	25	26
2	CRIAP cvt 4½s '60	69	69	69
2	CRIAP gen 4½s '88	37	36½	36½
23	CRIAP rfg 4s '34	68½	68	68
10	CTPH&SE 5s '60	54½	53	54½
10	CTPH&SE inc 5s '60	101½	101½	101½
6	Chi U Sta 5s 1944	100½	100½	100½
2	Chi U Sta 4½s '63 A	45½	45½	45½
2	Chi U Sta 4½s '52	69	69	69
16	Ch & W Ind 4s '52	96½	96½	96½
1	Chile Cop 5s '47	97½	96½	96½
5	Cinn G&E 4s '68	105	104	105
10	Cinn U T 5s 2020 B	104½	104½	104½
3	Cin U T 5s '57 E	78½	78	78
12	CCC&SL 4½s '77 C	82½	82	82
4	Clev U Term 5s '73	65½	65½	65½
10	Col F&I gen 5s '43	57	57	57
144	Col Indus 5s '34	93½	93½	93½
4	Col & So 1st 4½s Ap	86½	86½	86½
5	Colombia G&E 5s '52 May	86	86	85½
23	Col G&E 5s '52	86½	86½	86½
22	Col G&E 5s '61	102½	102½	102½
1	Col. Ry P&L 5½s '42	94½	94½	94½
1	Col. Ry P&L 4½s '57	102	102	102
10	Coml Inv Tr 5½s '49	28½	27½	28½
10	Con Coal 5s '50	106	105½	106
3	Con G NY 5½s '45	103½	103½	103½
1	Con G NY 5s '57	99	98½	99
4	Con G NY 4½s '51	104	104	104
24	Con G NY 4s '57	60	58½	58½
1	Consum P 5s '52	60	58½	60
6	Container 5s '43	99½	99½	99½
1	Crown C & S 6s '47	32	32	32
21	Cuba RR 6s '36	10½	10	11
178	Cuba C Prod 6s '30

—D—

5	Del & Hud rfg 4s '43	87	86½	87
1	Den G&E 5s stp '51	94	94	94
1	D & R G 4½s '36	66	66	66
1	D & R G 4s '36	49½	49	49
1	D & R GW 5s '55	57½	57½	57½
1	D & RGW 5s '78	102	102	102
7	D & RGW 5s '78	101	100½	101
3	Det Ed 5s '33	99½	99½	99½
1	Det Ed 4½s '61 D	94½	94½	94½
5	Det Ed 4½s deb 5s '40	104½	103½	104
36	Dodge Bro deb 5s	106	106	106
2	Dug Lt 4½s '67 A	106¼	106	106
2	Dug Lt 4½s '57 B

—E—

79	East C S 7½s '37	26½	23	26½
2	East Ry Mi 4s '48	90	90	90
2	East Ry Mi 4½s '95	110½	110½	110½
2	Ed Illum N Y 5s '65	64½	64	65
36	Erie rf 5s '67	64½	64½	64½
3	Erie rf 5s '75	71	71	71
3	Erie gen lien 4s '96

—F—

1	Fed L&T 5s '42	70	70	70
1	Fla E Cst 5s '74 ctfs	17	17	17
5	Fla E Cst 5s '74	18½	18½	18½
2	Francisco S 7½s '42	50	50	50

—G—

2	Gannett 6s '43	75	75	75
1	Gen Bak 5½s '40	101	101	101
1	Gen Petrol 5s '40	104½	103½	103½
1	Gen Stl Cast 5½s '49	82	82	82
1	Gen Thea Eq 6s '40	7½	6½	7½
166	Gen Thea Eq 6s 40ctfs	6	3½	6
68	Gen Thea Eq 6s '47	94½	93	94
9	Goodrich BF 6s '45	73	72½	73
18	Goodrich BF 6s '47	91	90½	90½
10	Goodrich T&R 5s '57	104	104	104
3	Gr TK Ry Can 6s '36	101½	101½	101½
11	Gr TK Ry Can 6s '36	88	87	87
105	Gr No Ry 7s '36 A	73½	73½	73½
7	Gt No 5s '73	69	68½	68½
14	Gt No 4½s '76 D	69	68½	68½
5	Gt No 4½s '77 E	60	60	60
1	Gulf M&N 5s '50 C	80½	80½	80½
2	Gulf Sta Stl 5½s '42

—H—

10	Hackensack W 4s '52	97½	97	97½
1	Harlem R & P 5s '54	90½	90½	90½
5	Hav El 5½s '51	13	13	13
2	Houst O Tex 5½s '40	59	58	58
20	Hud Coal 5s '62 A	85	84½	85
6	H & Man rfg 5s '37A	36½	34½	36
38	H & M adj inc 5s'37

—I—

2	Ill Bell Tel 5s '56	106½	106½	106½
5	Ill Cen 6½s '36	92½	92½	92½
22	Ill Cen 4½s '66	69½	68½	69½
1	Ill Cen coll tr 4s '53	67	67	67
5	Ill Cen coll tr 4s '53 Louis	69	69	69
1	Ill Cen 3½s '53 A	73	73	73
4	I C&CLaNO 5s '63 A	68	68	68
8	I C&C SL&NO 4½s'63 C	103½	103	103½
9	Ill Stl deb 4½s '40	89½	89½	89½
5	Inland St 4½s '81 R	89	88	88½
10	Inland St 4½s '78	75	74½	74½
12	Interb R T 7s '32	70	69½	69½
34	Interb R T rfg 5s '66	60	60	60
1	Int Agric 5s '42 stp	83½	83½	83½
1	Int Cement 5s '48	20½	20	21
14	Int Gt No adj 6s '52	31	30	31
19	Int Gt No 1st 6s '52	46½	46	48
11	Int Gt No 5s '56 B	52½	52	52½
11	Int Gt No 5s '56	51½	51½	51½
31	Int Hydro El 6s '44	51½	47½	47½
11	Int Mer Mar 6s '41	47½	47	47½
23	Int Pap rfg 6s '55	65	64½	64½
69	Int TT cvt 4½s '39	52½	52	52
16	Int T&T deb 4½s '55	58½	57½	58
34	Inut T&T deb 5s '55	91	91	91
9	Invest Eq 5s '48 R xw	5	5	5½
14	Iowa Cen rfg 4s '51	9	8½	9
5	Iowa Cen 5s '38 ctfs

—J—

1	KCP&L 4½s '57 B	102½	102½	102½
6	K C Term 4s '60	94	94	94
3	Keith R P 6s '46	52½	52½	52½
2	Kelly Sprgfld 6s '42	61½	61½	61½

—L—

1	Lac Gas 5½s '60 D	63½	63½	63½
6	Lac Gas 5s '34	75	75	75
1	LE & W 2nd 5s '41	10½	10½	10½
38	Lautaro Nitra 6s '54	90	90	90
1	Lehi C&N 4½s '54	50½	50½	50½
1	Lehi V Coal 5s '51	85½	83	83½
35	Lehi V of NY 5½s'40	50	48½	50
10	Lehi V Coal 5s '74	50½	50	50½
10	Leh V con 4s 2008	97½	97½	97½
1	Leh Val Term 5s '41	126	126	126
10	Ligg & M 7s '44	98½	98½	98½
3	Long Isl gen 4s '49	95	95	95
1	Long Isl rfg 4s '49	113½	113	113
2	Lorillard Co 7s '44	53	52	52½
39	La & Ark 5s '69	95½	95½	95½
1	L&N 5½s 2003	89	88	89
20	L&N rfg 4½s 2003	96½	96½	96½
40	L&N unified 4s

—M—

5	Manati S 7½s '42	24½	24½	24½
2	Manati S 7½s '42-ctfsta	26	25	26
2	Manati S 7s '42-ctfssta	43	43	43
2	Manhat Ry 4s '90	52	52	52
1	Marion St Shov 6s '47	75	75	75
2	Market St Ry 7s '40	50	50	50
1	McCrory St 5s '41	61½	61½	64½
34	McK & Rob 5½s '50	64½	64½	64½
5	Mead Corp 6s '45 A	83½	83½	83½
3	Met Ed 4½s '68	100½	98½	99½
13	Midvale Stl cvt 5s '36	90½	86	86
2	Mil E R & L 1st 5s'61	86	30	30
2	Milwaukee Mar 5½s '49	30	30	30½
4	MSP&SS Marie 5½s '38	50½	50½	50½
4	MSP&SSM con 4s '38	45	45	45
4	MSP&SSM cons 4s '38	45	45	45
3	M K Tex 1st 4s '90	88	87½	87½
60	Mo Pac cvt 5½s A	20½	19½	19½
6	Mo Pac rfg 5s '65 A	41½	40½	40½
40	Mo Pac 5s '77 F	41	41	41
5	Mo Pac 5s '78 G	41	40½	40½
67	Mo Pac gen 4s '75	23½	22½	22½
2	Mo Pac 5s '80 H	41	40½	40½
34	Mo Pac 1st 5s '81	31½	30	31½
3	Mob & O Mont 5s '47	22½	22½	22½
1	Mob&O Oh 5s '38	92	91½	91½
13	Mont Pw rfg 5s '43 A	79	78	79
5	Mont Pw 5s '62	91	91	91
8	Morris & Co 1st 4½s '39	91	91	91
15	Morris&Essex 4½s '55	80	79½	80

—N—

4	Nash Cha & St L 4s '78	86	86	86
5	Nassau El con 4s '51	57½	57½	93½
30	Nat Dairy 5½s '48	94	94½	94½
19	Natl Steel 5s '56	85	85	85
1	NJ Pow & Lt 4½s '60	64	61	64
17	N O Pub Sr 5s '52 A	66	64	66
21	N O Pub Sr 5s '55B	65	63½	65
3	N O Tex & M 5s '54B	35	35	35
15	NYC deb 6s '35	78½	78	78½
9	NYC rf&imp 5s 2013 A	71	71	71
28	NYC&HR 4½s 2013	91½	91	91½
37	NYC&HR deb 4s '34 A	71½	71	71½
1	NYC&HR 4½s '97	82½	82½	82½
1	NYC&HR 3½s '97	76	76	76
1	NYC Mi Cen 3½s '98	55½	55	55
23	NY Chi&StL 6s '35	74	63½	63½
14	NY Chi&StL 5½s '78 C	53	52½	53
27	NY Chi&StL 4½s '78 C	88	88	88
4	NY Chi&StL 1st 4s '37	88	86½	86½
4	NY Conn Rys 4½s '53	59½	59½	59½
3	NY Dock Co 4s '51	112½	112½	112½
3	NY Edis rfg 6s '41	106½	106½	106½
7	N Y Edis 5s '44 B	92	91½	92
6	NYNH&H col tr 6s '40	72	73	73
10	NYNH&H deb 4s '67	67	66½	66½
7	NYNH&H deb 4s '55	65	64½	65
7	NYNH&H deb 4s '57	67	67	67
3	NYO&W rfg 4s '92	61	60½	61
4	NY Rys pr ln 6s '65A	61	102	102
1	NY&R Gas rfg 6s '51	102	102	102
11	N Y Steam 5s '51	102½	102½	102½
10	NY Tel gen 4½s '39	104½	104½	104½
1	NY Trap Rock 6s '46	66	66	66
4	NY W&Bost 4½s '34	57½	57½	57½
1	NL&O Pow 5s '55	103	103	103
11	Norf & W 4s Poc '41	99½	99½	99½
1	N & W 4s Poc '41	98	98	98
6	Nor Am Co 5s '61	84½	83½	83½
2	Nor Am Ed 5½s '63	81½	81½	81½
2	Nor Am Ed 5s '57 A	80	79½	79½
2	Nor Am Ed 5s '59 C	80	79½	80
2	Nor Am Ed 5s '47 A	100	100	99½
1	N Ohio T&L 6s '47 A	90½	88	89
53	Nor Pac 6s 2047 B	82	82	82
3	Nor Pac 5s 2047 D	87½	87½	88½
3	Nor Pac pr lien 4s '97	61½	61½	61½
1	Nor Pac gen 3s 2047

—O—

34	Old Ben Coal 6s '44	30½	28½	30½
17	Ore-Wash RR&N 4s '61	87½	87½	87½

—P—

4	Pac Gas&Elec 5s '42	105	105	105
6	Pac Pub Ser 5s '36	106½	105½	106½
12	Pac T&T 5s '37	107	106½	106½
10	Pac T&T rfg 5s '52	106½	106½	106½
5	Pan-Am P 6s 1940 ctfs	35½	35	35
1	Paramnt Bway 6s '47	25½	25½

Meteoric Rise in Motor Car Output Features First Half of Year

Total Volume for 6 Months Will Exceed a Million Cars

By E. Y. WATSON.
(Copyright, 1933, by the North American Newspaper Alliance, Inc.)

DETROIT, July 15.—The first half of 1933 will be remembered in automobile manufacturing as a period which ran the scale from low to high as never before in trade history.

The low was the week ending March 18 when records showed the entire output of all motor car plants had sunk to a total of 10,763 units for six days of operation. This was the time when a virtual manufacturing shut-down prevailed following proclamation of the banking moratorium on March 6.

This low level was exceeded by only one other week of recent years which was back in October last, when the production forces generally closed off operations prior to getting new models into production for the national automobile shows. At that time, the score sheet indicated an extreme low of 9,546 vehicles. This was due, however, to seasonal factory clean-up and final retooling in preparation for the new material. As such it was normal procedure, and was quickly followed by resumption of schedules in anticipation of the new year period.

The rebound from the financial tie-up likewise was quick to start. Despite the fact that all shipment of cars had been at a complete standstill, the week of March 25 saw the production figures jump up above 20,000. From then on the rise in production has mounted steadily until in the final week of June, it peaked up to approximately 60,000 finished cars of all types.

This is likely to prove top for the year and caps a total volume for the six months' period which it is conceded will exceed 1,000,000. For the remaining six months, the forecasters speak of 750,000 cars as a possible maximum, thereby discounting the probability that 1933 will regain a level of 2,000,000.

What a trying period the first half of 1933 proved to be for automobile manufacturing in general may be judged from the fact that it threw no less than three producing companies into voluntary receiverships (Marmon, Willys-Overland and Studebaker). In spite of the trade conditions that have been reflected in red ink on balance sheets, the essential production structure with the protection of cash surpluses has been preserved. Intensified competitive stress brought no price war, and stocks of unsold cars have not been allowed to accumulate throughout the country.

Taking the General Motors showing as a cross section of the half yearly period, the sales report shows 399,764 vehicles sold at retail and 427,752 cars wholesaled to dealers.

The difference—27,988 units—is indicative of the extent to which motor car stocks are being held within close bounds. The approximate number of dealers operating General Motors retail franchises is 20,000 in round figures. Averaged up, this would indicate one and a fraction cars per dealer so far as unsold production is concerned.

For the G. M. divisions, this is the best position of its kind the corporation has shown since 1931, because stocks of cars in the field at the end of the first six months of 1932 totaled 37,201. The comparative figures apply to the United States only.

Walter P. Chrysler this week witnessed the initial results of an educational experiment in connection with his corporation. An institute of engineering operated in connection with planning, designing and research divisions of his business and functioning on a collective basis, turned out 25 graduates who have completed two-year courses there after being hand-picked from technical schools throughout the country.

Chevrolet Doubles June Sales of Nineteen Thirty-two

Production of new Chevrolet cars and trucks in June more than doubled output for the corresponding month last year, and was the largest single month's production in two years, W. S. Knudsen, president and general manager of the Chevrolet Motor Company, announced today.

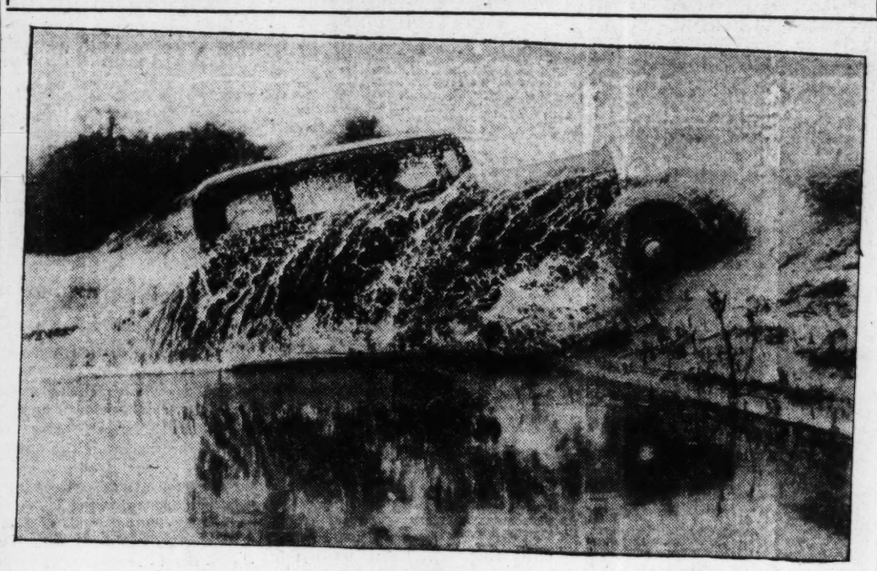

With a total output of 81,573 units, June compares with 36,142 in June last year and with 68,538 in May this year, previously the best month since June, 1931, Mr. Knudsen said.

He emphasized that the high June total was made possibly only by the splendid morale and co-operation extended by the more than 36,000 employes now on the company pay rolls. Mr. Knudsen said he hoped, through the share-the-work plan practiced by his company in recent years, to hold the employment curve flatter this summer than has been possible in past seasons.

Every effort has been made through the depression, he pointed out, to provide for the regular Chevrolet workers. Through regulating hours of work per week to retail demand, and by building up parts stocks in lean seasons, it has been possible for 11 months of each year since 1929 to hold Chevrolet pay rolls to within 10 per cent of the average of 32,500 men, Mr. Knudsen stated.

June production exceeding May is unusual in his company's experience, Mr. Knudsen said, since either April or May is normally peak month of the year.

No Wonder They Call It the 'Punishment Pit'

When Dodge engineers want to try their handiwork, they take it to a place selected with cunning cruelty and called "Punishment Pit." In this "pit," pock-marked with bumps, dented with countless holes and offering to wheels only the doubtful traction of loose, shifting sand, all parts of the car under test are subjected to terrific strains that cannot be duplicated by any other means. The Dodge sedan you see here mud-turtling over a sand bank is undergoing more mechanical torture in an hour than the average owner's car could possibly receive in years of strenuous road service. Dodge cars are shown in Atlanta by the J. M. Harrison Company, 111 Ivy street.

CHEVROLET ADDS 300 TO ATLANTA OFFICES

Sales Show 300 Per Cent Gain Over Year Ago, Costley Says.

Three hundred workers have been added to the force of the Chevrolet Company in Atlanta in the last two weeks, L. S. Costley, regional manager, announced Saturday.

The increase was made necessary by better sales of Chevrolet motor cars, Mr. Costley explained, adding that sales in July would be 300 per cent greater than in July last year.

Seventy-five new employes were added to the Fisher body plant, an adjunct; 20 to the office force; 125 in the assembly plant and 75 in other departments. The assembly line has been stepped up from 20 to 30 cars an hour, Mr. Costley said.

"Increased sales of Chevrolet cars forced us to add new workers," Mr. Costley explained. "In April we showed a slight increase over April, 1932, in regional sales; in May a 90 per cent gain; in June 100 per cent, and in July, at the present rate of increase, we shall show 300 per cent."

The plant employs about 1,400 persons. Contrary to general opinion, nearly all these are Atlantans and Georgians, Mr. Costley said. Only a few specially trained workers are imported from Detroit.

The company's southeastern region is one of eight in the nation. It comprises Georgia, Florida, part of Alabama, part of North Carolina, all of South Carolina and a portion of Kentucky. The Atlanta plant was built in 1928.

Sinclair Distributes World's Fair Road Information Free

To meet tremendous demand for World's Fair route information Sinclair Refining Company has issued 3,000,000 new road maps showing main highways from coast to coast, with a mileage table giving the distances to Chicago from key cities in all parts of the United States, and the distaance from any one of these cities to any other one.

The maps chart approximately 250,000 miles of surfaced roads all over the United States and show the location of more than 14,000 cities and towns ranging from a population of 100 upward. Each map has a marginal cross-index and an alphabetical list of the cities and towns in the state, with their population figures, as well as index figures which by reference to the marginal index makes it a simple matter to find the roads to any given point.

W. M. SMITH NAMED CLASS PRESIDENT

Whit M. Smith has been installed as president of the Men's Bible class of the Second-Ponce de Leon Baptist church, it was announced Saturday.

Other officers are R. M. Dillard, first vice president; Bolling Jones Jr., second vice president; D. S. Padan, third vice president; W. B. Willingham Jr., fourth vice president; Fred Johnson, secretary; J. T. Killebrew, assistant secretary; W. C. Mason, assistant secretary; Dorothy Waldman, pianist; Lonnie Smith, chorister; J. M. Andrews, assistant chorister, and Dr. M. L. Brittain and E. C. Powers, teachers.

Chrysler Presents New Features On De Soto Line

A number of important style and mechanical features have been added to the Standard De Soto line at no increase in price, it was announced today.

With a high compression cylinder head, horsepower of the De Soto six is raised from 79 to 82, it was learned.

Other new features, now standard De Soto equipment, as announced today by L. G. Peed, general sales manager of the De Soto Motor Corporation, are as follows:

Air wheel tires with wood wheels. The new tires are said to add to the appearance of the De Soto, and also give greater riding comfort.

Two trumpet horns mounted on the front of the car.

A new style of trim in all closed models.

Head lamps of the same type as found on custom De Soto models.

"Besides these important improvements, special accessories are now available as factory equipment at slight extra cost on all standard models," Peed stated today. "We are able to offer these new features in the Standard De Soto line, because of our manufacturing facilities. De Soto has one of the most modern automobile plants in the industry, and we are now able to more quickly and economically produce cars in special colors and with special equipment to meet the taste of the most exacting motorist."

De Soto moved into enlarged manufacturing quarters recently, following record sales by De Soto dealers that have caused increased production on all models.

Record Made By Graham Car on Mount Mitchell

When E. G. "Cannonball" Baker, in a stock model Graham eight raced up Mount Mitchell, North Carolina, highest peak east of the Rockies, April 24, in 42 minutes, 33 seconds, and then turned around and raced down again in 42 minutes, 15 seconds—a total elapsed time for the return trip of 84 minutes, 48 seconds—he hung up the fastest record for the ascent and the round trip in the records of the Asheville (N. C.) Chamber of Commerce, recognized supervising body for motor car speed attempts on the mountain road course.

Baker's record is now being contested by Donald F. Clarke, of Short Hills, N. J., who has informed the Graham-Paige Motors Corporation that on June 10, 1932, he set a mark for the ascent of 38 minutes, 15 seconds, in a "stock car altered to suit mountain climbing conditions."

Baker's time for the dash up the mountain in the Graham stock eight bettered by 2 minutes, 27 seconds, the record of Ab Jenkins, made in 1930 in another stock car, which was the fastest previous time reported in the Asheville chamber's record book.

"I personally supervised arrangements for Mr. Baker's attempt at a new record, Karl H. Bronson, a Graham-Paige official explained. We were shooting at Jenkins' mark because it was the best time for the dash of which we had knowledge or which appeared in the records of the climb.

"Since receiving the claim contesting Baker's record, we have investigated the facts as to Clarke's climb. We have obtained affidavits from persons who timed his departure from the foot of the mountain and those who clocked his arrival at the peak.

"We congratulate Clarke upon his accomplishment. However, our conclusion is that the marks made by Clarke and Baker are not comparable. Baker's mark was made in a stock Graham. Clarke's in a car 'specially altered to suit mountain climbing conditions.' The methods of timing were different. In this conclusion, we are supported by Fred A. Perley, president of the Mount Mitchell Motor Road, on which the marks were made, and who was one of Clarke's timers."

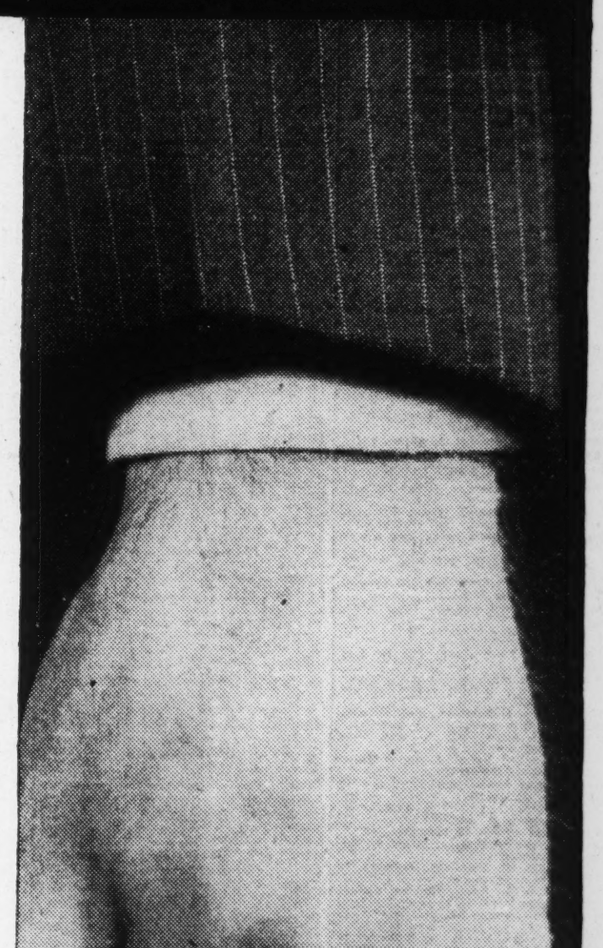

To Open Meetings.

The Rev. J. Gordon McPherson, known as the Black Billy Sunday, will start a series of meetings Sunday, July 23, at the Beth Eden Baptist church on Houston street.

STEEL ALONE IS NOT ENOUGH!

—neither strong enough, nor safe enough, nor quiet enough for the body of a quality car like

CHEVROLET

CHEVROLET Why is it that every 12-cylinder and 16-cylinder car in America has bodies of steel reinforced by hardwood? Why is it that every make of car selling for over $4000 uses bodies of exactly the same type? Why? For the same reason that Chevrolet uses it exclusively, and refuses to resort to anything else: Because every test and every experiment and every experience with bodies has definitely proved: STEEL ALONE IS NOT ENOUGH! Neither strong enough to stand the constant stress and strain of modern usage. Nor safe enough to give you the kind of protection you want for your family today. Nor quiet enough to give you the care-free, noise-free service that means so much to motoring pleasure!

The trouble with steel alone is that it stands just so much shock and punishment. Steel alone is inclined to rumble and rattle. Steel simply can't do a job all by itself, any more than wood alone can! BUT—when you put the two together—a heavy, staunch steel body over tough, solid hardwood—then you get a real body! The hardwood reinforces the steel—and vice versa!

The two work together. And the result: the strongest, safest type of body, such as Fisher builds for Chevrolet.

Don't expect to find a steel plus hardwood body in any other low-priced car. Only Chevrolet has it! And don't expect to find, in any other low-priced car, sturdy, safe bow and slat roof construction, such as Chevrolet gives you. Or that greatest body improvement in the last ten years: Fisher No Draft Ventilation. Or a Cushion-Balanced Engine Mounting (that kills annoying vibration).

Also, don't expect to find, in any other low-priced car, such Chevrolet features as a Starterator! Or genuine Syncro-Mesh combined with Free Wheeling! Or a six-cylinder engine as dependable—or as economical—as Chevrolet's! No other car has them—and that's why no other car can keep pace with Chevrolet's "more than one-a-minute" sales—why twice as many people choose Chevrolet as any other make of motor car.

CHEVROLET MOTOR COMPANY, DETROIT, MICHIGAN

All prices f. o. b. Flint, Mich. Special equipment extra. Low delivered prices and easy G. M. A. C. terms. A General Motors Value.

$445 TO $565

June Sales Of Oldsmobiles Set High Mark

June sales of Oldsmobiles set a mark 235 per cent above last year, and one that topped the May total by 450 cars, reports R. M. W. Shaw, sales manager for Oldsmobile.

"This showing," said Mr. Shaw, "was no surprise, as the sales in June opened strong and showed a periodical increase through the entire south. It is evident that the national buying power is increasing and that it is favorably affecting our sales. June production and shipments exceeded any June since 1929. Both production and shipments have been controlled in line with retail sales demand. Used car stocks are at a minimum.

"Sales of Oldsmobile in June, 1933, were 235 per cent of sales in June last year and represent the best June for Oldsmobile in three years. In addition, the month developed a total of sales that is 450 above those of May. So far as July is concerned, present orders indicate a volume of business equal to that of June. July production schedules call for production at the same rate as in June."

NEWS STREAM EDDIES

by RILEY McKOY.

A BORROWED STORY.

"Deep South," a new monthly magazine of contemporary life below the Mason and Dixon line has made its appearance on newsstands. The publishers are George Hatcher and Ben Cooper, of The Constitution staff. Under the heading "Values," in the first issue, appears the following story:

"An Atlanta artist who has made quite a success of her work financially as well as artistically was in the north Georgia mountains some time ago, painting the hill folk at first hand. Her paintings, both portrait and landscape, bring sums ranging from $35 to $200 on sales.

"The artist was deep in her work when a mountaineer appeared at her side. The visitor looked over the work at some length without comment.

"Finally he broke the silence. 'That's pretty,' he said. 'How long does it take you to do it?'

"Oh, about as long as it takes to boil a pot of turnips," the artist replied.

"The mountaineer again turned his attention to the painting, and studied it for awhile. At last, 'Wal, I believe I'd rather have the pot o' turnips.'"

ALL KINDS?

See where an authority is to deliver a lecture on snakes. Is this the garden and woods variety or a dissertation on foreign delegations which many insist are snakes in the grass?

POSTSCRIPT.

Wonder why Ben and George failed to name the artist? . . . is it not marvelous the way Atlantans rushed forth on the Glorious Fourth (no pun, honest), and with glee abandoned themselves to auto wrecks and firecracker burns . . . within one week the ordinary reported an increase in the number of marriage licenses issued and Judge Howard signed an order transferring 58 abandonment cases from superior court for trial in the criminal court of Atlanta . . . draw your own moral . . . the governor-highway board row is like a boil . . . attention is drawn to places you never knew existed before. . . .

U. S. COLLECTS BILLION FROM AUTO OWNERS

The United States government has collected more from motor vehicle owners than it has expended on federal aid highways, figures released Saturday by Jack Strouss, secretary of the Atlanta Motor Club, showed. From 1918 to 1933, a total of $1,190,160,054.91 has been expended in payments to states for federal aid road work. In that same period the federal government has collected in special taxes from motorists a total of $1,258,442,652.65.

When federal aid to states for road building was first considered, it was for the necessity and encouragement of building and maintaining post roads to facilitate carrying the United States mail, for military purposes and for the public welfare generally. With the imposition of war excise taxes, the motor club pointed out, and continuing until a federal gasoline tax, with the resumption of the excise taxes, which has been dropped, was imposed, the original plan for federal aid has undergone a decided change in policy.

POLICE ANNOUNCE LIST OF NEW 'STOP' STREETS

Warning motorists to observe new traffic "stop" regulations ordered effective in several streets of the city, police officials Friday released the following list of streets affected:

Edgewood avenue at Butler street; Walthall street at Wylie street and Wylie street at Moreland avenue; north side of Central avenue at Dodd avenue; both sides of Ormond avenue at Washington street; on both sides of Elliott street at the intersection of Elliott and Mitchell streets; East Lake drive at the intersection of Memorial drive, which shall be designated as a traffic boulevard.

Other councilmanic action which became law included the following: The west side of North Highland avenue, N. E., from Greenwood avenue extending 20 feet and on the south side of Greenwood avenue extending westward for 40 feet shall be non-parking; the space in front of 784 N. Highland avenue, N. E., shall be non-parking; the north side of Virginia avenue from the Gulf filling station to a point 75 feet east shall be 45-degree parking; the space in front of Nos. 1340, 1342, 1344 and 1346 Boulevard, N. E., shall be 45-egree parking. The new ordinances will be carefully marked in order to warn motorists and all persons caught violating them will be fined.

Mrs. Rose Mae Ashby Leaves for Long Trip

Mrs. Rose Mae Ashby, well-known Atlanta lecturer and traveler, sailed July 14 from New York for a tour of many European countries. She expects to return late in September.

Mrs. Ashby will land at Havre, France, and will spend several days in Paris and Brussels before sailing from Calais to Spitzbergen. She will journey overland to Oslo, Norway, and later will visit in several northern countries, including Soviet Russia. She will return by way of England and Scotland and will embark on the homeward journey from Glasgow to Montreal and Atlanta.

Cop Is Talented Artist.

Fellow members of the Racine (Wis.) police force are urging Patrolman Wilmer Schmidt to take seriously to the art of drawing, which he practices as a hobby. Winner of an art scholarship 20 years ago in Leipzig, Germany, Schmidt spent some time at art school. When he came to the United States, however, he abandoned art and became a policeman. Professional artists have appraised his technique as "perfect."

Don Juan de la Cierva, noted as the inventor of the autogiro, will receive the Guggenheim medal for outstanding achievement in aviation for 1932.

New Plymouth on Display

Six wire wheels are now available on both De Luxe and Standard Plymouth models, it was announced today. This is one of the new De Luxe Plymouth Six Sedans with six wire wheels, now on display here at all Dodge, De Soto and Chrysler dealers.

WRITING TECHNIQUE ADDED TO COURSES AT OGLETHORPE U.

A study in writing technique in regard to the short story will be offered during the second term of summer school at Oglethorpe University, it was announced by Dr. James E. Routh, dean of the school of literature and journalism. The course will be offered over WJTL, Oglethorpe's broadcasting station and university of the air.

Correspondent criticism on submitted stories will be supplied to radio students in the course by the professor in charge. Dr. Routh said that the better stories will be broadcast over WJTL.

The second terms opens Monday. The short story course offered during the first term, which closes Saturday, dealt with studying and reading outstanding short stories.

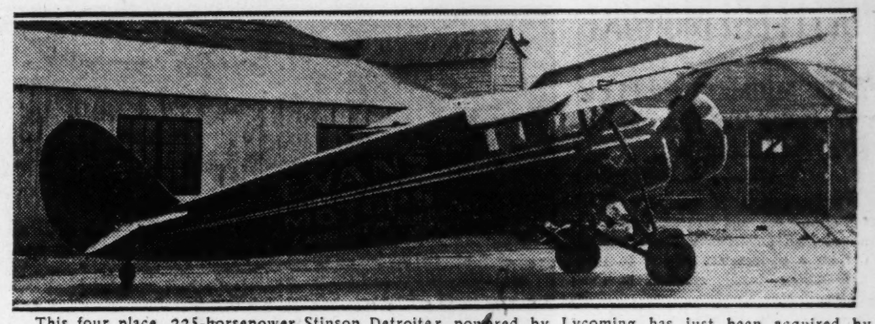

Pontiac Enjoying Largest Business For Several Years

A rush of June business for Pontiac, of unusually large proportions, is announced by Sales Manager R. K. White.

"There has been a steadily rising tide of Pontiac buying ever since the New York show," says Mr. White, "when the car evidently made a lasting impression on the public. There was a definite culmination of this in the third 10-day period in June, which was well above any other similar period in recent experience. The June sales curve rose steadily from the first. Total for the second 10-day period was better than that of the first period and the third 10-day period was nearly 96 per cent above the first 10-day period. This brought our June total to a very satisfactory figure, indeed, and the sharp rise at the end of the month, at a time of the year when the trend is usually downward, was most gratifying. Instead of being less than May, June showed a gain of above a thousand cars.

"Thanks to an unusually efficient factory organization, we have been able to suit the supply to the demand, so that we have been able to avoid disappointment to dealers and their customers. It is probable, from the way that the orders continue to pour in, that our July operation may come close to that of June. If it does, there will be some new automobile history written by Pontiac."

Evans Motors Acquires Plane

This four place, 225-horsepower Stinson Detroiter powered by Lycoming has just been acquired by Evans Motors, southern dealers and distributors for Willys and Austin and large used car operators, with headquarters in Atlanta, for the rapid transportation of its officials to its various branches throughout the country. "It was the only way in which we could keep up with increasing business and our expansion program," said L. P. Evans, general manager of Evans Motors. The Stinson has a cruising speed of 100 miles per hour, and is piloted by Les Lewis, veteran flyer of 3,500 hours.

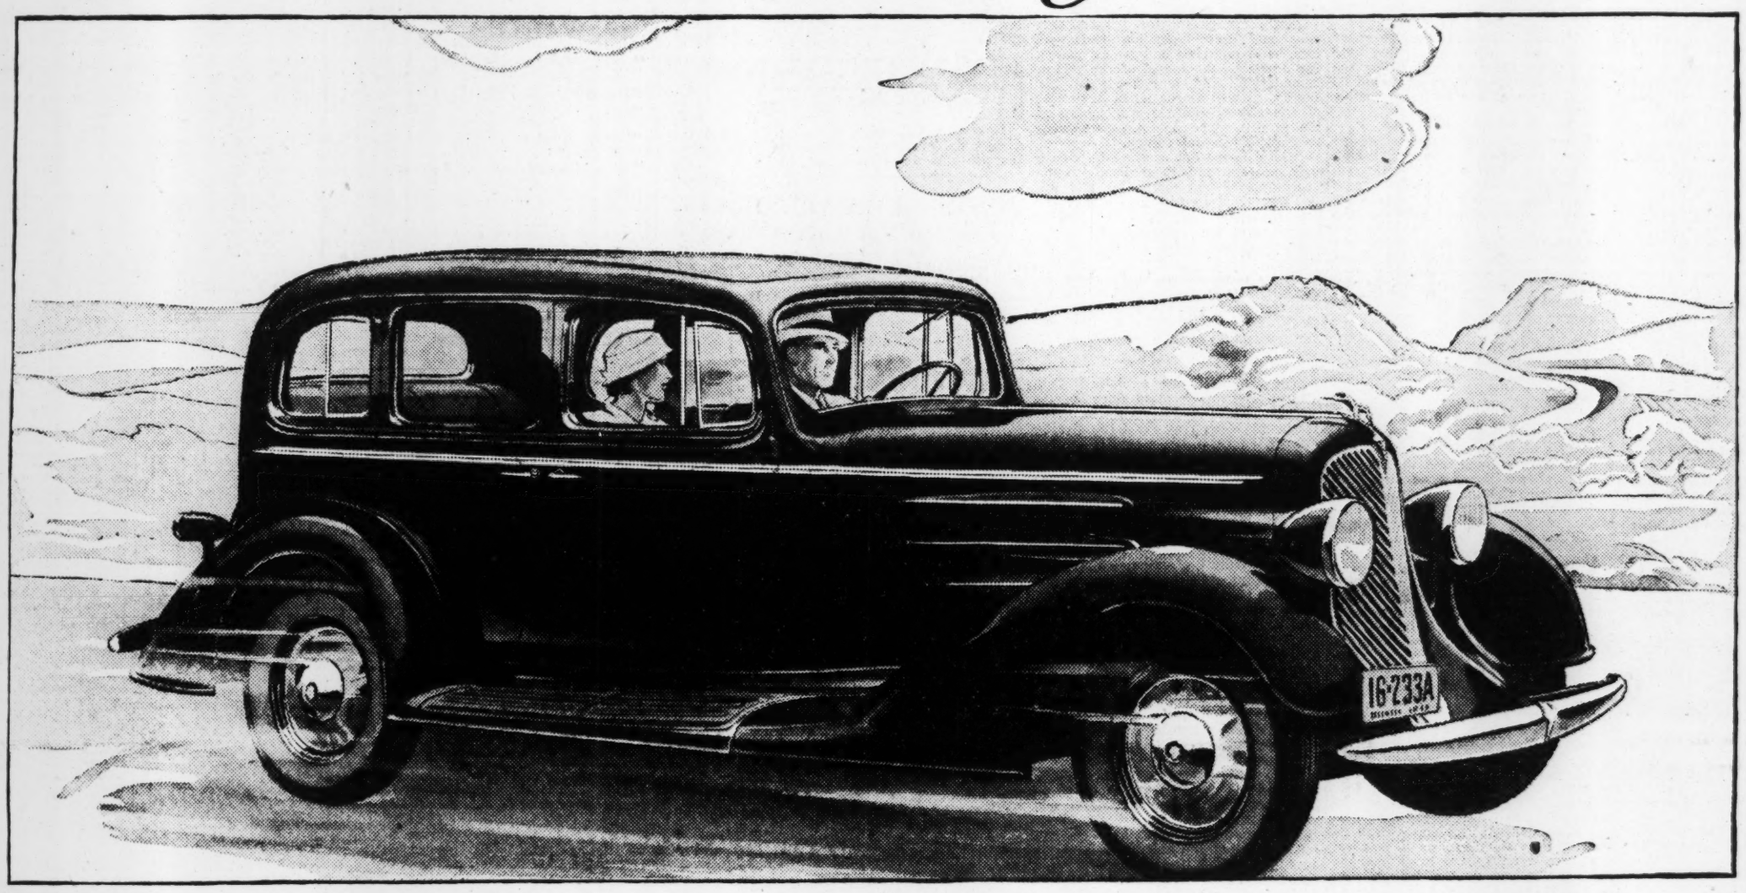

Held as Counterfeiters.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., July 15.—(AP)—Indictments charging four men with possessing and passing counterfeit $100 federal reserve notes have been returned by a federal grand jury at Tampa, United States district authorities announced here today.

Ex-Banker Sentenced.

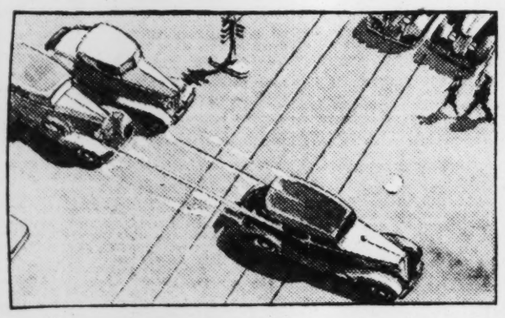

SEBRING, Fla., July 15.—(AP)—C. A. Skipper was sentenced to three years in the state penitentiary following his conviction here on a charge of embezzling $15,000 from the Highlands County bank. He formerly was head of another bank here.

You can SEE it's the Style Leader!

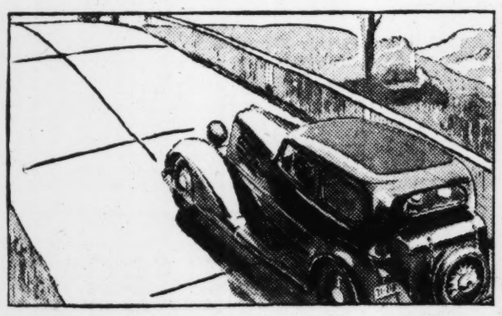

We can PROVE it's the Performance Leader!

You can see that Oldsmobile is the smartest car on the highway—that its style is a full year ahead of current design. But there is another great value factor about Oldsmobile which you can't see so readily. It's Oldsmobile performance! Many people say that Oldsmobile is the finest performing car they ever drove, regardless of cost. Certainly, in its field, there is nothing to compare. Illustrated and explained below are some of the outstanding phases of Oldsmobile performance. Study these pictures and read their captions. Then, come in and let us prove that Oldsmobile is also the Performance Leader! Incidentally, a demonstration will help explain why Oldsmobile built and shipped more cars in the first five months of 1933 than during all of 1932!

● It adds so much to the zest of driving when you know that your car has swift and easy acceleration. In a new Oldsmobile, you can accelerate at practically any speed you desire. And you can be first at the signal light almost any time you say so.

● You won't need your second gear on even a man-size hill. Owners who have driven thousands of miles say they have never once been compelled to resort to the use of second gear—except when starting. There is power to spare in an Oldsmobile.

● Winter and summer—one of the most important things about a motor car is its ventilation system. Oldsmobile has Fisher ventilation—the finest in the world. In the winter, plenty of fresh air without draft! In the summer, great quantities of air to cool you!

● Do you like to ride fast? If so, take a ride in a new Oldsmobile! The eight-cylinder Oldsmobile will do 80-85 miles an hour—actual stop-watch speed. The Six will do 75-80! And the engines are so smooth and quiet that you can scarcely hear them run!

How DO you judge a car's Performance?

On every hand, you hear claims and counter-claims about performance. How do you sift these claims? How do you find out, for yourself, what car best suits your own driving preferences? With the help of the engineers at the General Motors Proving Ground, Oldsmobile has prepared a new and very helpful booklet—"How to Test the Performance of a Motor Car." This booklet does not advertise Oldsmobile. It is simply a plain exposition of what to look for when you take a demonstration. The things you are told to look for in this book are the things engineers look for when they test a car at the General Motors Proving Ground. Never before has anything like this been published. This booklet is free! Get your copy today—at our showroom.

OLDSMOBILE . . . The Six $745 AND UP The Eight $845 AND UP

A GENERAL MOTORS VALUE

PRICES F. O. B. LANSING

CAPITAL AUTOMOBILE CO.

830 W. PEACHTREE ST.—OPPOSITE THE BILTMORE

Anderson Motor Co., Marietta

VISIT THE GENERAL MOTORS BUILDING AT THE CENTURY OF PROGRESS EXPOSITION, CHICAGO

NEW COTTON CODE IN EFFECT MONDAY

Half Million Textile Workers To Get More Pay and Less Work.

CHARLOTTE, N. C., July 15.—(AP)—More pay and less work, almost a universal ambition, will be handed out on a co-operative platter to the half million textile workers in the United States Monday.

In addition, the textile code, submitted by the industry under the national recovery act, will pave the way for employment of 100,000 to 125,000 unemployed persons.

The code, the first to be effective under the recovery act, guarantees for every worker at least $12 a week in southern and $13 a week in northern mills. In addition, no operative will be allowed to work more than 40 hours a week and none under 16 years of age will be employed.

Productive machinery, such as spinning spindles and looms, may not be operated more than two 40-hour shifts, or a total of 80 hours a week, and employes are given the right to organize and bargain collectively.

Minimum wages in some southern cotton mills have been as low as $4 to $6 a week for some types of work. There has been no fixed hours of work in the industry except in states where a maximum numbers of hours is fixed by law. This, in most cases, is 55 hours a week.

The code will bring to thousands an automatic wage increase as the $12 and $13 are minimum wages with higher scales prevailing for skilled workers. Many mills, in recent weeks, have voluntarily increased wages but the majority of these increases were to restore previous reductions and in many cases additional increases will be necessary to meet the code's requirements.

The code was drawn up and approved by the cotton textile industry committee, in collaboration with General Hugh S. Johnson, administrator of the recovery act, it was also approved by President Roosevelt, who retains the right to amend, modify or cancel any part of it and to approve supplementary provisions.

Few cotton mill executives have decided how the plan will work out for them individually, many have declared the plan will have to be allowed to "work itself out." Shortage of skilled labor in some sections may work against the code at first.

Each mill will be allowed to decide whether to run double or single shifts. Executives were hopeful that the code would first absorb all surplus textile labor. Learners during a six-week apprenticeship, cleaners and outside employes are not included in the minimum wage agreement.

Leaders of the industry in the north and east saw in the new code a possible return of some Massachusetts cities to leadership in cotton textile production. In recent years, the textile leadership has shifted to the south with South Carolina a consistent leader in the number of spindles in operation, although North Carolina has the largest number of spindles in place.

Leaders in the textile industry have expressed pride that theirs was the first industry to submit a code of operation. After its adoption, the code was explained to manufacturers in a series of conferences through textile areas.

"The manufacturers," said T. M. Marchant, of Greenville, S. C., president of the American Cotton Manufacturers' Association, after one of these meetings, "received the code with deep interest and the co-operation of these men with the national industrial recovery commission is assured."

MILLS IN NEW ORLEANS TO EMPLOY 500 MORE

NEW ORLEANS, July 15.—(AP)—Reorganizing its operating schedule to conform to the national textile code, the Lane Cotton Mills, one of the largest of its type in the south, today announced that approximately 500 new employes would be called to work Monday, when the weekly pay roll will be boosted from $15,000 to $22,000 under the program of reduced hours and increased pay.

Under the new schedule, the plant will go on a two-shift basis with minimum wages at $12 a week and the work week limited to 40 hours. The company said that workers would receive about the same for the new 40-hour week as for the old 54-hour basis. Employes, totaling about 1,500 today, will be increased to 2,000.

THOUSANDS TO GET JOBS IN NEW ENGLAND MILLS

BOSTON, July 15.—(AP)—Cotton textile mills of New England, employing more than 120,000 operatives, today generally were prepared to open Monday morning under the provisions of the cotton textile code of the national recovery act.

Thousands of idle mill workers will be given employment through the working of the new program.

New Features for Standard De Soto

Several important style and mechanical advantages have been added to the Standard De Soto Six line, it was announced today. Ruth Etting, radio and stage star, is shown above with one of the new Standard De Soto Six coupes, which now have increased horsepower, air wheels, dual trumpet horns, new upholstery styling and other new features. De Soto and Plymouth cars are shown in Atlanta by the McCord-Johnson Motor Company, local dealers.

LABOR ATTORNEY GRILLS M'DONALD ON PASS REQUESTS

Continued From First Page.

fault of the public service commission. One of the commissioners added that he believed a revaluation of the properties of the Georgia Power Company should be made in order that the rate situation in Georgia might be settled.

The commissioners scoring the freight rates were McDonald and Perry T. Knight, of Valdosta. It was McDonald who said he believed the revaluation of the $152,000,000 public utility should be ordered.

McDonald informed the governor that the power company's rates "are the best for all concerned under the present valuation, but there should be a revaluation at the earliest possible moment."

Sought Phone Rate Probe.

McDonald said that some time ago he made a motion in the commission that telephone rates be investigated, as general revision is needed, some of them being "too high." Asked for an opinion on railroad rates in the state, McDonald said that they are "too high, but the commission has had to follow instructions of the interstate commerce commission."

After the cross-examination of Mr. McDonald had been completed, Vice Chairman Knight of the commission began his direct examination, which was halted to allow Curtis B. Mees, engineer employed by the movants, to clear up his section of the hearing. Mr. Mees returned to his home at Charlotte, N. C., after Saturday's session.

The hearing will enter the fourth week Monday morning when Mr. Knight will resume his testimony. Taking of testimony is expected to be concluded Monday afternoon and the arguments presented to the governor Tuesday. The limit on arguments has not yet been fixed.

Silent on Gas Rates.

McDonald was questioned by the governor in reference to gas rates, but said that proposed change in the gas rates is now under consideration of the commissioners, and he would not like to give an advance opinion on account of the pending case. Governor Talmadge excused McDonald from further questioning on the gas rate angle.

Under cross-examination by Jack C. Savage, assistant city attorney of Atlanta, who is representing labor organizations in the commission ouster fight, McDonald admitted having written a statement charging that James A. Perry, chairman of the commission, had "corporate backing," but said that this statement was issued during the heat of a political campaign and "I have since changed my opinion and do not believe that to be the case."

Rail Charges Defended.

In connection with the charge that several commissioners had charged $44.76 each to the state for railroad fare to Hot Springs, Ark., when they had ridden in a bus for a total of $120, McDonald said that he believed that the charge against the state was justified on account of the fact that the sum actually represented the railroad fare, and that the actual cost of the trip, with incidentals, amounted to the same thing, the trip not costing the state any more than the railroad fare.

Quesioned by Lamar C. Rucker, city attorney of Athens, McDonald said that he had no personal information on the power company's properties, but relied for such information on E. M. Price, rate expert, and J. Houston Johnston, the commission's engineer, for this information, it being their duties to furnish it to the commission.

McDonald was on the witness stand during the entire day's hearing.

Savage Opens Examination.

Attorney Savage opened the cross-examination of Commissioner McDonald after the board member had given more than two hours of ex parte direct testimony.

The counsel for the Georgia Federation of Labor and the Atlanta Federation of Trades questioned the commissioner closely regarding his requests for passes for various persons and drew from his testimony that he at one time had sought passes for Judge G. A. Johns, of the prison commission, and a member of his family, as well as for R. L. J. Smith, of Commerce, and three members of his family. The Johns passes were to New York and return.

"Both Judge Johns and Mr. Smith are lawyers and local legal representatives of bus companies and under the law are entitled to them," the commissioner said. "I merely called attention of the bus companies to the fact that they were entitled to the passes."

The commissioner, in his long direct examination conducted by his attorney, Senator Joe Ben Jackson, of Gray, asserted that in his opinion the authority of the commission in regulation railroad rates "is just about nil."

The commissioner explained that he has been totally blind since he was 13 years old and during his ex parte testimony often read from the Braille system.

Joined Commission in 1923.

Mr. McDonald stated that he went on the commission in January of 1923, after serving three years as a member of the legislature. He outlined his policies by saying that at all times he has taken the side of the public on rate matters and has voted for schedules he believed to be the lowest possible.

He said that there had been no general revision of telephone rates since 1923 but added that the commission at this time is contemplating a close study of these schedules with a view toward revising the rates downward.

The commissioner was questioned somewhat by Governor Talmadge on his vote last year ordering what was in effect an increase in the railroad rates on live stock.

"The interstate commerce commission ordered us to revise the rates on live stock because they considered our rates burdensome and cutting down the revenue of the railroads," the commissioner told the chief executive. "I voted to put on these increases but I think they have decreased the revenue of the railroads because they have forced the shippers to use other means of transportation."

"I think so, too," the governor said.

Tells of Early Life.

In prefacing his testimony, Mr. Knight told of being born on a farm in Berrien county and of the struggles of his early life. He recited that he had been a member of the house of representatives from 1921 to 1925 and followed this with one term in the senate, having resigned his seat to accept an appointment to the commission in 1927. He was elected to serve out an unexpired term in 1928 and was re-elected for a full six-year term in 1930.

He pointed out that the office of vice chairman is not a legal office but was created for the sole purpose of having a commission head in the event the chairman, James A. Perry, is absent. Mr. Knight said that he did not sign rules or citations for Mr. Perry.

The vice chairman said that he had voted for the emergency freight rates last year, but declared he would not have voted for them had he been able to foresee the result. It is claimed that these emergency and high rates have cost the railroads much revenue because shippers have resorted to other and cheaper transportation.

"Rammed Down Throat."

"I also would not have voted for the increased live stock rates last year had it not been rammed down my throat by the interstate commerce commission," Mr. Knight said.

The commissioner also said that he had played a leading part in the commission's effort to get reduced rates on watermelons for Georgia shipments and also had fought before the interstate commerce commission and in the courts for lower interstate rates.

As the hearing ended its fifteenth day, James H. Duggan, official stenographer, reported that almost a million words of testimony had been presented.

Governor Talmadge is being furnished daily with the transcript of the previous day's testimony.

FUNDS ARE RAISED FOR LUER RANSOM

Continued From First Page.

tempted to obtain $10,000 from Dr. Jacob Wachman, Brooklyn physician, under threat of kidnaping, were seized in a police trap by use of a decoy package of bills.

Commissioner of Police James P. Allman, of Chicago, acting with State's Attorney Thomas J. Courtney, announced formation of a special squad of 40 detectives who will act under orders to "shoot to kill at the least resistance" in an effort to stamp out kidnaping.

The detectives were commissioned as deputy coroners to give them jurisdiction throughout Cook county. They will travel in special cars, being equipped with machine and riot guns and other arms necessary to combat hoodlums. The squad's first efforts will be directed to find the kidnapers of John Factor, market speculator, who was released Wednesday night after 12 days' captivity on payment of $50,000. The Tuohy gang is suspected of the Factor abduction.

O'CONNELL PROBER, FAMILY AT ODDS

ALBANY, N. Y., July 15.—(AP)—A break between District Attorney John T. Delaney and his political sponsors, Ed and Dan O'Connell, over the kidnaping of the O'Connell's nephew, John J. O'Connell Jr., loomed today when Delaney, in a statement to reporters, charged the youth's family with withholding information from him.

"I have tried since last Monday, when the kidnaping was called to my attention, to get some information from the family," the district attorney said.

"So far they have refused to cooperate. I have succeeded in talking with but one member of the family, Ed O'Connell, and he refused me any information," Delaney declared.

The district attorney said he would endeavor to hold a conference with the O'Connells tomorrow either in his office here or at Dan O'Connell's summer home at Thompson lake.

"Primarily I am determined to perform my duty as district attorney," he said, "and at the same time I want to see the boy returned safely. But without the co-operation of the family we cannot accomplish our work or help them."

Delaney indicated that at the proposed conference with the family he would ask for all the information the O'Connells have in their possession, including the four notes received to date from the kidnapers who demanded $250,000 ransom for the 24-year-old national guard officer's release.

After his conference with reporters, District Attorney Delaney went into a private room where New York city detectives, experienced in kidnaping cases, waited to confer with him.

LUER'S SONS RAISE FUNDS, AWAIT NEWS

ALTON, Ill., July 15.—(AP)—Relatives of August Luer, wealthy and aged banker, who was kidnaped from his home last Monday night, were hopefully waiting tonight for "good news."

Lawrence Keller Jr. and Orville S. Catt, appointed by the family to deal with the kidnapers, said they were confident Luer, a sufferer from frequent heart attacks, was alive, although the kidnapers had not met their demand for a written message of assurance from Luer.

Since announcement yesterday that notes demanding ransom had been received from the kidnapers, Herman, William and Carl, Luer's sons, are understood to have been busy raising funds for ransom.

Arthur M. Cooper Jr., arrested Thursday afternoon with his father, proprietor of a St. Louis hotel, was released today from county jail at Edwardsville on order of State's Attorney Geers, who said it was apparent he knew nothing of the kidnaping.

CALIFORNIA KIDNAPERS FREE "WRONG" VICTIM

STOCKTON, Cal., July 15.—(AP)—A $50,000 kidnaping plot against W. O. Wright, wealthy head of the Wright Corporation, with extensive land holdings in the Stockton delta region, failed today.

The abductors found they had E. T. Wiggins, 70, one of Wright's trusted employes. They promptly administered a concoction which rendered him unconscious, left him with his broken-down motor car near Arcata, Humboldt county, and escaped.

First news of the abduction was given out at the Wright Corporation offices, in San Francisco, after a demand mailed from Mapa had been received, asking $50,000 for the release of "W. O. Wright."

RUBIO REPORTS THREATS AND RANSOM DEMANDS

SAN DIEGO, Cal., July 15.—(AP) Pascual Ortiz Rubio, resigned president of Mexico, who has been living here for a year and a half, reported through his secretary to police tonight that he had received two telephone calls demanding $50,000 on pain of being kidnaped.

69TH ELKS' MEET WILL OPEN TODAY

MILWAUKEE, Wis., July 15.—(UP)—Complete approval of the program of entertainment and business for the 69th annual reunion of Elkdom here tomorrow and running through the 22d has been given by Grand Exalted Ruler Floyd E. Thompson, of Chicago.

Thompson told Julius P. Heil, chairman of the Milwaukee convention board, that "the program is the most complete and comprehensive ever prepared for a national Elks reunion."

For the first time in history, the grand lodge sessions will be opened with public ceremonies which will permit other than delegated representatives of the 423 Elks lodges to attend. It is hoped that President Roosevelt, who is an Elk, will be present in Milwaukee to open the convention.

On the same opening program Grand Exalted Ruler Thompson will speak, as will Postmaster-General James A. Farley, Governor Albert G. Schmedeman, of Wisconsin; Mayor Hoan, of Milwaukee, and Chauncey Yockey, exalted ruler of Milwaukee lodge.

The convention officially opens July 16. Past grand exalted rulers will occupy various Milwaukee pulpits.

On Monday the Elks national 54-hole golf tournament will begin.

On Tuesday marksmen will inaugurate the Elks ninth annual trap-shoot, and on that day also the championship national ritualistic team of Elkdom will be picked.

One of the most colorful events on the program will be the national drill competition to be conducted among Elks lodges of the country.

There also is to be a national band contest to decide which band outfit of all the Elks lodges in America merits the title of champion.

MISS LaV. WALKER LEADS FAIR LIST

Continued From First Page.

is out to win, and whoever beats her will have to do some hustling.

The standing follows:

Standing of Contestants.

4950	Miss La Vergne Walker, 14 East Seventeenth street	5,322
1345	Mrs. Ella Mae Taylor, 251 East avenue	5,203
1018	Dan Humphrey, 57 Lombard way	4,284
1048	J. H. O'Neal, 463 Cherokee Ave.	3,590
1076	Dorothy Hunt, 234 Norwood Ave.	1,345
4911	Kathleen Derrick, 1537 Rock Springs road	1,126
1004	Lois Hutchins, 294 Whitehall	1,003
8724	Earl Clements, 899 Greenwood	804

MISS LA VERGNE WALKER.

4917	A. W. Roach, 687 Washington St.	703
1614	A. M. Creel, 323 East John Calvin avenue	691
1084	Agnes Smith, 633 Cherokee	689
4930	Mrs. S. S. Henderson, 1206 P'tree	665
1180	Mrs. C. N. Grizzard, 124 S. Main	626
1201	Mrs. J. A. Dougherty, 418 Georgia avenue	592
4947	Virginia S. Forbes, 401 Sinclair	513
1211	Miss Jewel Broadwell, 726 Pearce	503
1060	Mrs. Frank Wright, 387 Boulevard	479
4979	Mrs. S. P. Crumbley, 550 Waldorf street	442
1030	Mrs. A. S. Crumbley, 1361 Belmont avenue	409
1523	Gladys Baer, 635 Pearce	409
1432	Mrs. W. J. Hogan Jr., 2065 Springdale road	406
1245	Mrs. Charles A. Green, 651 Holderness	401
1624	Mrs. Cliff Brannen, 42 Peachtree place	393
14982	Miss Glenna Rayner, 834 Helena avenue	360
4975	Arthur Wiseberg, 1464 Fairview road	357
1237	Zelpha McGlone, 325 Rhodes-Haverty building	356
1062	Miss Thelma Gray, 760 Boulevard	343
1040	Mrs. T. L. Waterhouse, 1214 Sylvan road	338
1511	Mary Esral, 243 Currier	335
1806	Miss Buddie Underwood, 888 Cascade	326

Railroad Agent Spots 'Kidnaper;' Almost Lands Cameraman in Jail

It was 11 p. m. Friday and the man on the night city desk of The Constitution would have described the situation as "quiet." A lot of news was being set in type, and a lot of people were running around all over the place, but the situation was "quiet."

The police reporter called in.

"A station agent down the line called Mr. Ottley at his home and said he'd just sold an Atlanta ticket to the kidnaper. Mr. Ottley called the chief. A couple of dicks are at the train. I'll call you back."

At precisely that moment Turner Hiers strolled in the office. Turner is a Constitution reporter-photographer, 23 years of age, and about 5 feet 6 inches in height. He has a very square jaw and a very wide grin. Turner was grinning. He had a confession to make.

A few minutes earlier he had stepped off a train. About six men surrounded him. They popped questions at him. What was he doing with that camera? (The fugitive Ottley kidnaper posed as a photographer.)

Turner got wise. "I know what you're working on, the Ottley case."

"Do you know Mr. Ottley?"

"I don't know him so well, but I've borrowed money from him."

"If you work for The Constitution who is the police reporter?"

Turner named him. "I'm satisfied," said one of the detectives. "So am I," said another. "All right, bud," said still another, "pleasant dreams."

Turner was still grinning when the police reporter called in again.

"About the station agent's kidnaper. It seems . . ."

"I've got the fellow right here," said the desk. "He's just a station agent's mistake." Turner Hiers, who kidnaped a kitten once when he was 7, grinned.

The situation was still quiet.

Atlanta Girl Seeks Nature Lovers; Says World Too Full of Progress

Miss Florence Fritz, of 925 Argonne avenue, N. E., works in the collection department of a downtown department store. One morning recently she decided she was "fed up" with "statistics, big business, progress and money talk."

How many persons in this city, she wondered, feel the same way. Miss Fritz didn't spend much time wondering; she decided to find out. She had inserted in The Constitution the following, under "personal:"

WANTED—One who loves nature, dogs, poetry and children; prefers mountain beauty, palm-lined islands, pleasant memories and happy friendships to efficiency, statistics and cash! Age, nationality, or religion (if any) no barrier.

Miss Fritz wasn't the least hesitant in explaining that advertisement. "I am doubtful of the marvels of progress," she said, "and I crave the things mentioned in the ad. I thought possibly I was slightly demented and I wanted to ascertain if there were others on the globe who might be inclined to see through my glasses."

Judging from the answers to the ad, if Miss Fritz is "slightly demented," she has lots of company. In two days she received letters from 56 persons in 15 cities and towns. "I've heard from newsboys and red-headed widows," she said, "to say nothing of adventurers and scholars.

"And I'm delighted to find there are many others who are doubtful of the advantages of civilization. Not that I'm against all progress. But I do think we could be more honest with each other, live more simply and enjoy much more than we do. Maybe I'm still wrong, but it's to think about anyway."

Miss Fritz said she thought she would try to meet some of those who wrote to her. She is not so keen about the collection business as a field for romance and adventure. "The days shouldn't be prosaic," she said, "they're too short."

She has 56 letters from persons who love nature, dogs and poetry, and life won't be prosaic until she gets them answered. Then—well, there is the collection business.

STEINER TRUSTEES GET COURT ORDER, HALT FIKE OUSTER

Continued From First Page.

ward, Alderman J. Charlie Murphy, chairman of the ignored council committee, named to iron out differences between the Steiner and Grady trustees, said.

"The precipitate action of the Grady board has alieniated its usefulness in any attempt to end the strife at Grady," Murphy said. "The only way to correct the situation is to set up a new board with Messrs. Liebman and Hirsch as members. That I shall ask council to do.

"Vindictiveness was demonstrated by the Grady board in its hasty action. We had hoped to work out a plan to end the controversy at Grady over conduct of Steiner. I think we should not decide, in our set up of a separate board, whether pay patients should be received at Steiner or not. That problem should be considered later."

Dobbs' Statement.

Text of Dobbs' statement follows:

The Grady Memorial hospital of the city of Atlanta ranks among the largest charity hospitals of the entire southeast; it embraces three distinct units, one for white patients, another for colored and a third for contagious diseases only. These units are managed and operated by one central administrative organization, responsible to a board of trustees, composed of citizens appointed by the mayor and confirmed by city council.

The hospital not only embraces wards for bed patients, but it operates clinics, where ambulatory patients may receive treatment and where emergency cases are handled. That Grady is a large hospital may be judged from the fact that 78,150 persons received clinical and hospital care during the year of 1932.

The hospital is equipped to care for ailments of all kinds, with the exception of mental diseases and of tuberculosis, which is treated at Battle Hill sanitarium of the city of Atlanta.

Among the various wards composing the hospital is the one in which cancer and allied diseases are treated, and which is housed in a building to itself, which was provided through the generosity of Albert Steiner, after whom the ward is named.

Clinical Facilities.

This building contains the clinical facilities for the diagnosis and treatment of cancer, as well as a comparatively limited accommodation for bed patients, comprising some 29 beds for white patients, but no beds for colored patients, which are cared for in other wards of the colored unit of Grady hospital.

As a charity hospital, it has not been the practice at Grady, to accept pay patients, except in the Steiner ward, where in accordance with the agreement entered into between the city and the trustees of the Steiner estate, made when the city accepted the provision of the bequest, pay patients were to be accepted provided there was room for them after all charity patients who desired treatment had been properly accommodated.

Until recently, pay patients were accepted in the Steiner ward, not only from the city of Atlanta and Fulton county, but from other points throughout the southeast as well.

Realizing that it was improper for the taxpayers of Atlanta and Fulton county to sustain a hospital in which treatment was given to persons who were non-residents of the city of Atlanta and Fulton county, the trustees of Grady hospital ruled on October 6, 1932, that no longer would such non-residents be accepted as pay patients in the Steiner ward.

Decrease in Pay Patients.

Since this decision was reached, the number of pay patients occupying beds in the Steiner ward has materially decreased, to the point where the ratio of pay patients to free patients has averaged approximately one to 23 during the past six months.

While it is widely stated that the Steiner ward is practically the only place in the city of Atlanta, or in this section, where adequate diagnosis and proper treatment can be given to cancer and its allied diseases, members of the medical profession are able to present and substantiate information to the effect that there are many hospitals and physicians' offices in which adequate and proper diagnosis and treatment can be given to cancer cases.

The essentials in the treatment of this disease are, competent physicians, a properly equipped laboratory, deep therapy X-ray apparatus and an adequate supply of radium.

At various hospitals and in various physicians' offices throughout the city there are several deep therepy X-ray machines, and a supply of radium which has been estimated to be greater by three and one-half times than the supply available, through emanations, from the radium element contained in the Steiner ward. Thus it becomes apparent that the Steiner ward does not possess facilities that are not already available to persons who are able to pay for the treatment of cancer, hence the elimination of pay patients does not deny to the public the means of obtaining competent and adequate diagnosis and treatment for cancer.

Furthermore, the acceptance of pay patients in the wards of a city hospital attracts patients who are able to pay for hospital treatment and who, therefore, properly belong in private hospitals and under the care of private physicians, who feel that, as taxpayers, they are being unfairly treated when patients who might come to them for treatment go instead to a charity hospital.

Arrangement Explained.

The trustees of the Steiner estate, having built and equipped the Albert Steiner ward on property belonging to the city, and having entered into an agreement whereby they would choose the technicians who were to give the radium and X-ray treatments, and who in collaboration with members of the visiting staff of the ward are to make the diagnosis and give the treatments to cancer patients. These technicians, receiving thier pay from the trustees of the Steiner estate, hold allegiance to them rather than to the management of the Grady hospital, and it is because of this impracticable arrangement that many of the difficulties with the management of the Steiner ward have arisen.

The trustees of the hospital have, after great expenditure of time, energy and patience, endeavored to take full charge of the Steiner ward, exercising the same jurisdiction as it does of every other ward of Grady hospital, and to direct its operations the same as it does for all other wards of the hospital, thereby giving a uniform service to patients and putting the management in position to effect the same economies in the operation of the cancer ward as it has affected in all other wards of the hospital.

Needless to say, under such a proper arrangement, persons suffering from cancer and allied diseases would receive the same careful consideration, diagnosis and treatment that is accorded to all other patients of the hospital.

On March 1, 1932, the hospital employed a medical director, who is charged with the responsibility of co-ordinating all of the medical and surgical service of the hospital.

This has been accomplished in all the other wards and clinics of the hospital, and the time having arrived for the work in the Steiner ward to be brought under the same juristdiction, the trustees found that the medical director was now able to assume the duties heretofore performed by the physician in charge of the Steiner ward, so to avoid a needless duplication of effort and authority the position of physician in charge of the Steiner ward was abolished in the interest of econmy and harmony.

Medical Society's Statement.

Text of the statement issued by officials of the medical society follows:

Open Letter to the Mayor and General Council of the City of Atlanta:

Gentlemen:

The medical profession of Atlanta, members of Fulton County Medical Society, regret to note that the Steiner ward controversy has been reopened. We are, however, glad to say that it was not done by the society.

When Mr. Steiner made his splendid gift to the "poor of Atlanta" he most assuredly had no idea that it would ever be used as a nucleus for a commercial institution. He was simply interested in the sick poor of the city where he had lived and amassed a considerable fortune.

The gentlemen who introduced the councilmanic resolution June 12 have been misinformed in many respects, especially when they stated that the "Steiner clinic is the only cancer clinic in the southeast and one of ten in the United States." The 1933 yearbook of the American College of Surgeons states that there are 100 approved cancer hospitals, 58 recommended cancer hospitals and 155 cancer hospitals in the process of organization. There is no mysticism about the treatment of cancer—it is well standardized. If it were not, the American College of Surgeons would not list 313 cancer hospitals in the United States and the survey is not yet complete.

When this matter was presented to the trustees of Grady hospital, the question of fees was claimed to be negligible as only about 5 per cent of the patients were "pay patients." Investigation of the records then showed that the ratio of pay to charity cases was 236 to 89, during a period of four months, in 1932. If the statement was true that the fees were negligible when the difference between pay and charity patients was so great, why worry over a 75 per cent deduction?

Well-Equipped Hospitals.

Again we want to emphasize the fact that there is no occasion for any one to be "prevented or barred from obtaining the proper and necessary treatment for cancer" for there are five well-equipped hospitals in Atlanta, several private groups who take pay and charity cases and equally well-equipped places in many other Georgia cities.

Not only the primary, but the sole purpose of Mr. Steiner's gift was for the "poor of Atlanta." It seems strange that all the "poor of Atlanta" were accommodated in from 12 to 17 beds at Steiner during 1930, 1931 and 1932, when the rich were admitted, while now, when the rich from outside Fulton county are excluded there is a daily average of 24 to 26 charity cases and only one to three pay cases! Yet the rooms and rates are slightly lower than in other hospitals. Even the visiting staff members do not take their private cases to Steiner, although some say it is the only place in the southeast where proper treatment can be obtained. At a former conference, one staff member, who was an enthusiastic supporter of Steiner ward, was telling the Grady trustees that it was the best place to get treatment for cancer, nevertheless, when he was asked if he carried his private cases to Steiner, he admitted that he did not.

Objections to Plan.

Are not the 75,000 negroes in Atlanta legal citizens? And is not a sick negro just as much the city's ward as a sick white man? Nevertheless, there is not a bed in Steiner ward where a negro can be cared for. In addition to the lack of space for negro patients, there are numerous other objections to this plan:

(1) The building is on property owned by the city in which every taxpayer, including the doctors, has an equity; for the doctors are taxed by Atlanta and the state the same as other citizens.

(2) In a legal sense the trustees of the Steiner charitable fund are a private corporation. To lease a concession to such a group to run a private pay hospital for any line of medicine is unjust and unfair to the medical profession of Atlanta, the state and to the other hospitals. The city would be sponsoring a competitive line of practice against a class of citizens (the doctors) who contribute more to the city's charity than any other group.

(3) To grant such a concession would in no sense carry out the spirit or provision of Mr. Steiner's will which states specifically that the money contained in the gift is to be used for the medical and surgical treatment of Atlanta's poor.

(4) It would be useless and unnecessary to make a contract with any group to treat cancer patients while the other two units of Grady hospital are well equipped (with the exception of radium). It would be much cheaper for the city to buy radium element, which lasts forever, to treat those cases needing radium than to pay rental to the trustees of the Steiner estate.

(5) It would bring about endless confusion in regard to duplications in referring patients from the two units to Steiner ward, as there would always be bickering about the diagnosis.

(6) To separate or divorce Steiner clinic from Grady hospital and allow pay cases from outside the city of Atlanta to be treated would evidently increase the income of the Steiner estate which seeks control of the institution. With the present methods of advertising the number of pay patients would be materially increased, thereby, increasing the commission which the trustees receive and which they have never failed to collect.

The committee appointed by the Fulton County Medical Society wishes that every citizen of Atlanta would read very carefully Mr. Steiner's will, then if necessary, call for the records of the institution and make up their own mind. The members of the medical profession of Atlanta are interested in the welfare of sick humanity. This is abundantly proven by the amount of charity work they render. They also have an obligation to their families. If the activities of the Steiner ward were confined strictly to charity cancer patients, we would have no room to complan, but the phrase "allied diseases" is so broad that any condition to which the human body is heir may be suspected of being malignant and treated accordingly. Consequently, we feel that it would be a great injustice to a group of men who have been so faithful in their service to the city of Atlanta.

Signed:

DR. W. EDGAR BARBER, President.
DR. HOWARD HAILEY, Sec'y.-Treas.
DR. J. L. CAMPBELL, Chm. Advisory Committee.

'34 COTTON PLANS ARE FORMULATED

Farm Administrators Draft Tentative Future Program for Growers.

By ROY F. HENDRICKSON.

(Copyright, 1933, by The Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, July 15.—(AP)—A new cotton production control program to cover next year's crop and possibly that of 1935, took form today as farm administrators, heartened by the response of cotton growers to this year's plan, moved ahead with their plans along the whole farm front.

Formal activity in drafting the new cotton program will begin as soon as distribution of about $100,000,000 to more than 700,000 farmers in 16 states has been completed. The bulk of these payments for agreements to cut the output of farms of this year's growing crop from 25 to 50 per cent will be finished in three weeks; in two months the job will be complete.

Option on '35 Acreage.

Producers and representatives of the cotton industry will be consulted in drafting the new plan, but it was reported by authoritative sources that administrators already have come to an agreement on many fundamentals.

The chief of these is that they intend to employ the principle of the voluntary domestic allotment plan as far as possible with a prospect of another campaign this fall to obtain agreements from growers to cut next year's crop and giving Secretary Wallace an option to require those agreeing to make a substantial reduction again in 1935.

Payments would be based entirely on the principle that growers will receive "parity" prices based on prewar averages on that portion of their cotton required for domestic consumption. Only farmers agreeing to reduce their acreage a given percentage would be entitled to these payments.

A parity price is one designed to raise the purchasing power of the farmer's dollar to the same level it had during the pre-war period.

The new plan will bear many resemblances to the wheat program on which administrators will concentrate next with what they called an "educational" campaign some of whose methods will be reminiscent of Liberty loan drives.

Milk Agreement Soon.

Gaudy posters urging farmers to "stand by your neighbor," and speakers with demonstrated persuasive abilities are to be sent into many of the 800 counties where wheat is the chief crop to lay the foundation for an effort to obtain agreements from growers starting August 1.

Farmers will be asked to sign agreements to reduce their acreage in 1934 and 1935 up to 20 per cent in return for cash payments provided from a fund now swelling with the proceeds of the 30-cent per bushel tax on grain milling which went into effect July 9.

The campaign to reduce cigar leaf tobacco acreage this year in five growing districts will get underway Monday. Growers will be offered cash payments in proportion to the estimated value of their product in the growing districts of New England, Pennsylvania-New York, Ohio-Indiana, Wisconsin-Minnesota, and Georgia-Florida.

During the next week administrators also expect to approve the first of the milk trade marketing agreements submitted to them. These include one covering the Chicago milkshed and another the Georgia milkshed, centering at Atlanta. These agreements as submitted provide for minimum prices to be paid producers for fluid milk and cream and also minimum prices at which they may be sold by processors and distributors and prices to be charged consumers.

Other plans for marketing other farm products are being prepared by those manufacturing butter and dairy products, meat packers, wholesale distributors of food and sugar.

Cobb To Be in Charge.

Cully A. Cobb, of Atlanta, cotton production chief, will be in charge of drafting next year's cotton program. Neither Cobb nor Secretary Wallace regard this year's plan as having served more than a temporary purpose in curtailing the output of the staple.

No official figures were made available today showing returns from the campaign to obtain contracts from farmers which closed Wednesday night. It was reported unofficially that the contracts covered about 9,650,000 acres and that this was expected to reduce this year's potential crop by 3,600,000 bales.

A force of more than 900 persons working three shifts a day is tabulating the contracts and analyzing yield estimates. Administrators expect the first checks will be issued Wednesday, that there will be a steady flow of them to farmers in 10 days, and that most of the offers will be acceptable as presented by farmers.

BUSINESS REVIVAL SEEN AS COTTON PRICES MOUNT

MEMPHIS, Tenn., July 15.—(AP)—A new tone of optimism spread throughout the cotton belt today and leaders of the industry said that for the first time since 1928, the cotton farmer is in a position to realize a good profit from his crop.

A general revival of business was predicted by C. G. Henry, manager of the Mid-South Cotton Growers' Association, pointing out that the prosperity of the Memphis territory is dependent upon the price of cotton.

Henry estimates that 90 per cent of the Tennessee crop, 65 per cent of the Arkansas crop and 65 per cent of the Mississippi cotton is in the Memphis area.

Based on last year's production, Henry said, this territory would produce 2,007,000 bales. With a 25 per cent curtailment, the crop would total 1,500,000 bales.

KIDNAPER IN GARB OF WOMAN SOUGHT

Continued From First Page.

en. For a while it was thought a third man answering this description would be sought, when it was reported to the solicitor that a man answering Delenski's description had been seen talking to the red-haired man at Peachtree road and Peachtree circle the day before the crime.

Bowen said this was impossible as he was with Delenski the entire morning and he did not talk to anyone.

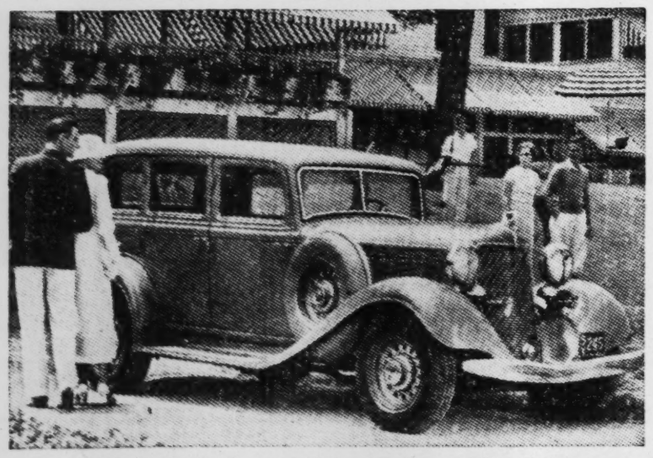

MARTIN L. JOHNSON
McCord-Johnson Motor Co.

ALL RIGHT AL SMITH

You tell them about De Soto

AL SMITH
Pershing Point Apts.

People Naturally Like to Know what an Owner thinks about De Soto

HERE'S another well-pleased local De Soto owner ready to give you the real story about this smart modern car!

It's easy to see why De Soto ought to be the best buy of its price class, with Floating Power engine mountings, 82 horsepower under the hood, hydraulic brakes, co-incidental starting, it has plenty of good points to talk about.

But the proof of the car is in the driving, so I want you to ask an owner and check up on me!

And while you're checking—look into this interesting point: with all its 22 places where it outvalues competition—De Soto costs you only $4 a week more than the lowest-priced car! Come in and let me show you what that extra $4 buys!

Standard: Business Coupe $665; Brougham $665; Rumble Coupe $705; 4-Door Sedan $735. Custom: Rumble Coupe $750; Conv. Coupe $775; Sedan $795; Conv. Sedan $875. All F. O. B. Detroit.

DE SOTO SIX NOW AS LOW AS $665 F. O. B. FACTORY

McCORD-JOHNSON MOTOR CO.
De Soto and Plymouth Dealer
342 Peachtree, N. E. WA. 2151

Moore Beats Hughes in Finals at Conahaynee; Caldwell Stops Lookouts, 8-6; Inlander Winner; Bryan Grant Wins Fifth Southern Tennis Title

For a Game Brought Up in a Speakeasy, Tennis Has Done Very Well

The early history of tennis is most intriguing. In the early days there were tennis speakeasies in France, where the game originated.

This seems to me to be a reflection on the game as played in America, which has been the land of the speakeasy for so many years. We should be more proficient than any one else at a game which grew up in a speakeasy. But we are not.

These tennis speakeasies were run on a broad scale some 700 years ago. The game then was played indoors. And it was a game only for royalty. But you cannot suppress old Vox Populi. He heard about the game. He started to play it himself.

The kings and the queens and the court officials soon put a stop to this foolishment. They passed a law forbidding the playing of tennis by any but royalty.

And so this brought about the tennis speakeasy. As all tennis was played indoors at that time it was an easy matter to set up tennis speaks here and there.

A fellow would come up and rap on the door. When the shutter was opened he would say:

"Joe sent me. You know, Joe, over at the Inn of the Roast Duck."

If the fellow at the shutter remained adamant the fellow wishing to patronize this tennis speak would pull out his cards to the other speaks and finally gain admission.

It was often very embarrassing for the speakeasy owners. Now and then some fellow couldn't take his tennis or leave it alone. He was always hanging around the speaks, spending his money on the game. And often his daughter or wife would come down and sing at the door:

"Father, dear father, come home with me now,
The clock on the sun dial strikes one."

It was most embarrassing. And many a fellow had a head shaken at him in a negative fashion when he knocked at the door and said he knew Joe.

Charles V was the fellow who imposed this tennis prohibition law and thus brought about the tennis speakeasy. When he died the people took down their doors to the speaks and began to play it openly.

It seems that the law had never been popular with the federal enforcement officers. They never did rally bear down on the tennis speakeasies. Of course, now and then they staged a little raid. But the boys were usually tipped off in advance. The officers often arrived to find the boys and girls playing nothing more harmless than a game of seven up.

After Charles V had passed on the game began to be passed on to other countries. I hope that the modern tennis world will not be distressed but it is a fact that the game was kept alive for old Vox Populi by the tennis speakeasies of France.

ANOTHER EMBARRASSING EPISODE.

It is most embarrassing to comment further on the early history of tennis but the fact remains that it was once in the hands of the chiselers, the gangsters and the racketeers as the prize fight industry is often accused of being today.

The game moved over to England. It was still being played on indoor courts. The game proved most popular in England. It became so popular that the gamblers muscled in. In no time at all the game, which had come out of the tennis speakeasies of France, was in the hands of the gamblers.

There were stories of gambling coups. The game was played largely by professionals. It seems that there is nothing new in the world after all. The preacher in the book of Ecclesiastes was right when he said there was nothing new under the sun.

The English professionals were accused of finding something under their pillows just as the Black Sox were accused in our baseball scandal of some years ago.

They have said some harsh things about the U. S. L. T. A. Mr. William Tilden liked to shoot barbs at that body. But they were very harsh indeed about the tennis in England.

Tennis fell into disrepute. There were about 100 years when it was played very little, if at all. There were not laws against it. Had there been the game might have been played in some English speakeasies. But no one cared enough to prohibit it. Or maybe the English, who are smarter with their laws than any one else, knew too much to prohibit it.

LAWN TENNIS—1874.

The game of lawn tennis isn't so old. It dates back only to 1874. An English nobleman decided that if he could bring the game out in the open and keep out all the chiselers he might revive the game.

He had his lawn mowed and marked off a tennis court. He then sent out invitations to all his friends. Admission was by card only.

The meeting was a great success. And this was the beginning of lawn tennis.

That same year an American girl, Miss Outerbridge, of Station island, was in Bermuda, an English possession, on a vacation. She saw the English officers playing the game. She became so interested she bought some tennis equipment and brought it back to the United States.

The custom officers were pretty tough about it. They had never heard of tennis. And they didnt' quite figure out the equipment. They thought the net might be one of those dragnets which Scotland Yard officers were always throwing out; the same dragnet which was to later become popular in America.

Miss Outerbridge persisted and at last got her game through the customs. She then had to find her a court. The family belonged to the Staten Island Cricket and Baseball Club. The officials finally gave grudging consent to lay out a court. Miss Outerbridge explained the rules to a girl friend and the two played the first game of tennis in America.

For a game which was brought up in a speakeasy the game has done very well indeed.

THE DAVIS CUP.

The old adage that teamwork wins every time against individual stars was proved again at Wimbledon when the English team defeated the Australian team with its star, Jack Crawford.

The old adage does not always work, which is fortunate, because the stars are usually interesting while a smooth team is often very, very dull.

The United States must now play the English team for the right to challenge the French. This is rather alarming. The American team may not be so smooth. They can never determine if Ellsworth Vines is to be a star or a cog in a smooth-working team.

France remains the favorite. But if someone will tell our team the game was for many years a speakeasy game I think it will win.

BULAND DIES.

JACKSONVILLE, Ill., July 15.—(AP)—Harry M. Buland, 45, of St. Petersburg, Fla., formerly athletic director at the High school in that city and at Bethany College, Bethany, Va., died unexpectedly here yesterday of a heart attack. He was visiting in Jacksonville

PROTECT FISH.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., July 15. (AP)—Preservatioin of wild life during closed seasons, enforcement of the game laws and acquainting sportsmen of other states with Florida's fish and game are the aims of the Florida Hunting and Fishing Club organized here.

As Champions Were Crowned In Tennis Meet

SPORTS
ATLANTA CONSTITUTION

RALPH McGILL, Sports Editor.
Grantland Rice - Clarence Nixon - Jimmy Jones - Roy White - Jack Troy - Henry McLemore - Alan J. Gould

ATLANTA, GA., SUNDAY MORNING, JULY 16, 1933.

Bryan Grant, left, of Atlanta, won his fifth Southern amateur tennis championship Saturday afternoon at the Biltmore Tennis Club courts, defeating John McDiarmid, of Fort Worth, Texas, who may be seen on the extreme right getting back one of Grant's baseline shots. In the center is Miss Beatrice Bryan, of Memphis, who upset the dope a bit to take the women's singles championship from Miss Anna Koll, of New Orleans. All three pictures were taken during the actual playing of the match.—Photos by George Cornett, Constitution staff.

JOHN M'DIARMID LOSES IN FINALS TO LITTLE FLASH

Bitsy Takes Title by Scores of 4-6, 6-2, 6-1 and 6-3.

By Jack Troy.

Bryan Grant, diminutive Atlanta star, is back in the king row of Dixie tennis.

Grant won a spectacular finals match from lanky John McDiarmid, of Fort Worth, Texas, 4-6, 6-2, 6-1, 6-3, Saturday afternoon at the Biltmore Tennis Club.

The victory gave Grant his fifth southern title, the small Atlantan having won four in a row from 1927 through 1930. The victory gave him revenge over McDiarmid, who eliminated him in the national clay courts tournament at Chicago, and his third title of the year. Previously he had won the cotton states and tri-state tournaments.

BREAKS THROUGH.

McDiarmid, playing a vigorous back-court game, won the first four games of the first set, the fourth being a love game.

Grant broke through McDiarmid's service in the fifth, won his service in the sixth and again broke McDiarmid's service in the seventh.

McDiarmid, keeping Grant in the back court and placing his shots with deadly accuracy, again broke Grant's service in the eighth game.

McDiarmid lost his service to Grant in the ninth game as Bryan put on the pressure with drop-shots and beautiful placements.

But the lanky Texan retaliated by taking Grant's service and closing out the set in the tenth game.

ON THE DEFENSE.

The drop-shots and steady returns of Grant, which are as inexorable as the march of time, put McDiarmid on the defensive for the remainder of the match.

Grant played his usual game. Returning almost everything in sight, he waited for the inevitable shots into the net or out of the court.

The match produced some spectacular volleying and throughout was featured by the accurate drop-shooting of Grant.

It was inevitable that McDiarmid should tire. While the Texan kept Grant on the run at first, the tables turned as the match progressed and Grant made the long-striding Texan chase around the back court or drew him to the net.

McDiarmid fed shots high to Grant in the back court at first and this style of play netted excellent results.

WRITING ON WALL.

After the second set, it was very evident that McDiarmid was not going to repeat his performance at Chicago.

It's very hard to beat a player who keeps returning your shots, difficult or easy, and either backhand or forehand.

To an opponent it is, I suppose, something like wading into a boxer and hitting him repeatedly with everything you have, only to have him stand there and take it and wear you down with his inexorable offensive tactics.

A large gallery thrilled to the snappy net volleys of the two stars and the back court game that produced sensational shots.

The long-striding McDiarmid, playing seemingly effortless, provided a striking contrast to Grant, small, dynamic and fast.

There are few players in tennis today who can cover more ground than Grant. He makes the hard shots seem easy.

MISS BRYAN WINS.

Beatrice Bryan, stocky brunette from Memphis, dethroned the southern champion, Miss Anna Koll, of New Orleans, in the finals of the women's singles, 6-4, 1-6, 6-1.

Miss Bryan, black-headed and fiery, who well-earned the reputation of the hardest-hitting woman player in the tournament, smashed shot after shot to the baselines, having a clear-cut edge over the champion in all save the second set.

A dynamic player who keeps on her toes most of the time, Miss Bryan has a strong service. She was forced to err repeatedly on backhand shots in the second set, but after a short rest, she returned to the court and quickly closed out the match.

Miss Koll, large and blonde, jerked her head and threw her shoulder into every shot. She could not, however, match the steadiness of the Memphis girl. And that ruthless smashing game. A cold gleam came into the eyes of Miss Bryan on every shot.

Miss Bryan, teamed with Eliza Coxe, of Asheville, also won the women's doubles. The Bryan-Coxe team defeated Miss Koll and Helen Carney, of Shreveport, in the finals, 6-3, 4-6, 6-2.

GREAT DOUBLES MATCH.

Perhaps the best doubles match of the tournament was played in the semi-finals yesterday afternoon. Bryan Grant and Malon Courts defeated Kimbark (Long John) Peterson, a Ph. D. from Harvard, and Merrimon Cunninggin, who won a Rhodes schol-

Continued on Third Sports Page.

MOORE WINNER OF TATE TITLE

Beats Julius Hughes To Win Mountain Tourney, 2 and 1.

LAKE SEQUOYAH, TATE, Ga., July 15.—Berrien Moore Jr., young East Lake golfer from Atlanta, won his second successive Lake Sequoyah mid-summer invitation tournament with a sensational 2-1 victory over Julius Hughes, medalist, from the Druid Hills Club, in an all-Atlanta finals here this afternoon. Moore beat Charlie Yates in the finals last year in the inauguration event.

Moore was one stroke under par, while Hughes was one over perfect figures. The young Tech golfer won the second hole after halving the first, but lost the fourth and the match was squarred. Moore won the fifth and from there on was never headed. He won the eighth to finish the first nine two up. Moore increased his lead at the 10th, but lost the 12th to remain two up. The remaining six holes were halved.

In the semi-finals Saturday morning Hughes set a new course record of 67, when he eliminated Tyre Jones Jr., of Canton, 6-5. Moore won his morning match, 5-4, over Ben Jones, of Canton.

Jack Bothamley Jr., also of the Druid Hills Club, Atlanta, won the consolation flight title with a 7-6 win over Bob Jones, of Canton.

Dr. J. P. Turk, of Nelson, Ga., refereed the championship match and presented the trophies and prizes at the conclusion of the tourney this afternoon.

A dance Saturday night at the Connahaynee lodge was the social feature of the tournament and the guests included Mrs. Mills B. Lane and Mills B. Lane Jr., of Savannah; Mrs. Remer L. Denmark and her son, Joe Denmark, of Savannah; Mrs. G. B. Munroe, of Quincy, Fla.; Paul W. Jones, of Canton; Tyre Jones Jr., of Canton; Mr. and Mrs. Ed Garlington, of Canton; Miss Sara Law, of Atlanta; Miss Rena Berry, of Rome; Miss Betty Ann Wright, of Rome; Miss Mary Jones, of Canton; Mrs. Paul Jones, of Canton; Julius Hughes, of Atlanta; Jack Bothamley Jr., of Atlanta; Berrien Moore Jr., of Atlanta; T. T. Williams Jr., of Atlanta; R. C. Davis, of Atlanta; Jack Connoly, of Taylorsville, N. C.; Mr. and Mrs. Doll Ballard, of Atlanta; Mr. and Mrs. Kirk Hancock, of Atlanta; Dr. and Mrs. J. Edgar Paullin, of Atlanta; Dr. and Mrs. Grady Clay, of Atlanta; Dr. and Mrs. Jack Jones, of Atlanta; Mr. and Mrs. Sturham, of Atlanta; Mrs. Albert V. Jones, of Atlanta; Dr. and Mrs. C. P. Hodge, of Atlanta; Miss Blanche Jones, of Canton, and Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Keeler, of Atlanta.

Other results:

Consolation Flight—Jack Bothamley Jr., Atlanta, beat Bob Jones, Canton, 7-6.

Second Flight—Sonny Jones, Canton, beat J. F. Hackney, Blue Ridge, 6-5.

Consolation Flight—A. V. Jones, Canton, beat R. H. Martin, Atlanta, 1 up, 19 holes.

ANSLEY PARK.

Ansley Park golfers will complete all first round matches today in the annual Nat Kaiser Memorial trophy tournament.

BALL SETS RECORD.

HIGHLANDS, N. C., July 15.—Errie Ball, Highlands Country Club professional, added another sub-par round to his credit today as he practiced for the North Carolina open championship next week at Raleigh, North Carolina.

Ball carded a 30 on the back nine. A few days ago he carded a 31 on the front nine.

He has played consistently below par for the past two weeks and will put the finishing touches on his game early next week in some rounds with

Continued on Fourth Sport Page.

Grandpa Wins Debut Here, 8 to 6

By Jimmy Jones.

"Papa" Joffre and Von Hindenburg, who came out of retirement to show the younger generals a thing or two about how to fight the World War, had nothing on Ray (Grandpa) Caldwell, who stalked out of oblivion to show the Cracker pitchers how to stop the Chattanooga baseball team yesterday, which he succeeded in doing by the score of 8 to 6.

Several days ago when Uncle Wilbert Robinson arrived in the city from Charlotte with "Grandpa" Caldwell in tow as a possible Cracker pitcher, there was much wagging of heads and tee-heeing about the matter. Some were so unkind as to suggest that Uncle Robby, the old Oriole catcher, get in shape and act as Caldwell's battery mate.

"Has it come to this that they go and dig a fellow out of the old men's home to pitch for the Crackers?" moaned the Jeremiahs.

CALLS ON "OLD MAN."

Well, it came to that. In sheer desperation yesterday, Manager Charley Moore, bereft of all other starting help, told Old Man Caldwell to go out there and pitch. And Ray did what several of the young bucks on the Cracker staff had failed to do. He lasted the route, had complete control of the situation at all times, barring two home runs by Johnny Gill that accounted for five of the Lookout runs, and struck out six men.

It wasn't that Caldwell had so much on the ball. He simply knew where he wanted to put it and he placed his outfielders for the pitch. It was a treat to see one Cracker pitcher who pitched to a spot and particularly to see Old Man Caldwell waving an outfielder over and then forcing the batter to drop a soft fly right in his glove.

This veteran of 24 summers in baseball, this man who was pitching for the New York Yankees back when ruffled skirts, handlebar mustaches and, ahem, the armor that the ladies wore around their waists were in vogue, gave a lesson in how to mix brains with throwing that some of the brawny, strong-armed young men on the Cracker staff may well remember.

PERFECT CONTROL.

Caldwell had perfect control of the ball, not walking a single batter, and also a well nigh perfect change of

Continued on Third Sports Page.

The Box Score

CHATTANOOGA—	ab.	r.	h.	po.	a.	e.
Moore, cf	4	0	1	4	0	0
Waddey, lf	4	2	3	1	0	1
Mihalic, 2b	4	0	1	2	3	0
Travis, 3b	4	2	2	0	0	0
Gill, rf	4	2	2	2	0	0
Mapele, c	4	0	1	4	0	0
Kingdon, ss	4	0	0	2	4	2
Monohan, 1b	4	0	1	9	0	0
Hensiek, p	2	0	0	0	2	0
xKlumpp, p	1	0	0	0	0	0
Coleman, p	0	0	0	0	0	0
xxLinke	1	0	0	0	0	0
Totals	36	6	11	24	9	3

ATLANTA—	ab.	r.	h.	po.	a.	e.
Chatham, ss	4	0	0	3	3	0
Susko, 1b	4	1	1	5	2	0
Bonowitz, lf	4	2	2	2	0	0
Hunt, rf	4	1	0	2	0	1
McKee, cf	4	0	2	3	0	0
Phillips, c	4	2	1	7	1	0
Dashiell, 2b	3	2	1	2	1	0
Sheerin, 3b	3	0	2	2	1	0
Caldwell, p	4	0	0	1	1	0
Totals	34	8	9	27	9	1

xBatted for Hensiek in seventh.
xxBatted for Coleman in ninth.

Chattanooga .....000 300 030—6
Atlanta .....400 130 00x—8

Runs batted in, Phillips, Sheerin 2, Travis, Gill 3, McKee 2; two-base hits, Waddey, Sheerin; three-base hit, McKee; home runs, Gill 2; sacrifice, Sheerin; double plays, Dashiell to Chatham to Susko, Susko to Chatham to Susko; left on bases, Chattanooga 3, Atlanta 5; base on balls, off Hensiek 1; struck out, by Caldwell 6, by Hensiek 1, by Coleman 1; hits, off Hensiek 9 in 6 innings with 8 runs; passed ball, Mapele; losing pitcher, Hensiek. Umpires, McLary and Quinn. Time of game, 1:45.

INLANDER WINS AT ARLINGTON

Sloan Racer Pays Good Price; Golden Way Is Second.

By Charles Dunkley.

ARLINGTON PARK, CHICAGO, July 15.—(AP)—A mud-running streak of black, named Inlander, galloped to a surprise victory in the $35,000 added Arlington classic today, conquering a son of old Man o' War in a thrilling stretch drive to the accompaniment of cheers from 30,000 spectators.

When War Glory, old Man o' War's boy, faltered in the stretch, after setting a blistering pace most of the way, Inlander, owned by Mrs. Dodge Sloan, of New York city, and ridden by Bobby Jones, a swarthy Mexican youngster, charged out of fourth place to win by a length and a half, with Golden Way second and the tired War Glory third.

Inlander ran the mile and a quarter over the heavy, sticky track in 2:12.

Kerry Patch finished fourth in the field of 13, with Okapi, which had been coupled with Inlander, as an entry, fifth, and the heavily-played Sarada, favorite, sixth. Gold Basis, another favorite, and winner of the Latonia Derby, two weeks ago, was seventh. Head Play, which finished second in the Kentucky Derby and later won the Preakness, finished next to last, winding up in twelfth position, beating only Red Roamer, a field horse.

With the favorites scattered out of the money, Inlander, coupled with Okapi, paid $21.52 to win, $9.18 to place and $5.96 to show. Golden Way, another long shot, paid $12.32 to place, and $7.58 to show, while War Glory paid $7.44 to show.

The race had a gross value of $42,775, of which $32,775 went to Mrs. Sloan, owner of the triumphant thoroughbred. The sum of $6,000 went of J. E. Widener, of Philadelphia, owner of Golden Way, while the Glen Riddle farm, owner of War Glory, received $2,000, and Lee Rosenberg, of New York, owner of Kerry Patch, received $1,000 when his entry finished fourth.

The classic, scheduled to settle the three-year-old supremacy of the American turf for 1933, left the situation fairly well scrambled, due to the withdrawal of Mr. Khayyam, regarded as the most consistent three-year-old in the country. Mr. Khayyam, Colonel E. R. Bradley's barn swallow, the sensational filly, and three others were scratched, reducing the original starting field of 18 to 13.

Inlander probably would have been a 100-to-1 shot, but for the fact that he was coupled with Okapi. He wasn't even considered a possible starter until the drenching rain of last night soaked the track. The Brook-Meade stable had intended relying upon Okapi as its color-bearer, and then decided to send Inlander, a three-year-old son of Infinite-Geisha Girl, along after the rich turf prize.

After the race, Mrs. Sloan climbed the stairs leading to the stewards' stand, where Gene Tunney, retired heavyweight boxing champion of the world, presented the winning trophy to her.

Balios Winner At Empire City

NEW YORK, July 15.—(UP)—Henry C. Phipps' Balios won the seventeenth running of the Empire City derby at James Butler's Yonkers track today. He led all the way to beat Espinetta by a wide margin. Village Sport, the only other starter, was a badly beaten third. Balios, a 1-to-4 favorite, ran the mile and a quarter in 2:09 2-5.

'Grandpa Ray' Is a Note From Old-Time Melody

Veteran Cracker, Who Was With Yankees in 1909, Has Great Record.

By Jimmy Jones.

Like a soothing note from an old-time melody, suddenly rising from a discordant and brassy potpourri of sound, was the pitching of Ray Caldwell, the old virtuoso of the mound, against the somber background of Atlanta baseball yesterday.

The Atlanta staff was in chaos. Two pitchers listed on the roster as starters had been routed in confusion just the day before by the Chattanooga batsmen. The younger men sat around on the Cracker bench, chins cupped in hands, glum and morose over the outlook.

No one had given Old Ray Caldwell a tumble since he joined the club under mild protest three days ago. "Just an old worn-out campaigner looking around for a last stake," was the general attitude.

Manager Charles Moore, casting his eyes up and down the line of faces for one that looked fresh and hopeful, failed to find anything encouraging and finally brought them to rest upon the ancient Caldwell, who sat hunched in a corner. A few weeks ago he had been cast adrift when an Old Timers' team, for which he was hired to pitch, disbanded in the mid-west. Three days ago a Piedmont league team had let him drift on again for the sake of hiring a younger man.

RAY GETS READY.

"He can't do any worse, that's a cinch," was the final deduction of Manager Moore. And when time came to go out and warm up, he nodded to Eddie Phillips, his catcher, and then to old Ray Caldwell over in the corner. The latter simply tossed a few balls to get his arm and shoulder loose and was ready. The sun beat down and loosened him more as he began pitching.

For nine innings he stayed in the box and won a badly needed ball game for Atlanta. The 11 hits he allowed were rather widely scattered.

A GREAT STORY.

In that performance lies one of baseball's greatest stories. It was not one of a man who came back, but a man who came back many times. Last year Caldwell, then well over 40, wrenched a knee at Birmingham after three brilliant seasons with that club, his retirement from the game was rather generally accepted. And when the knee failed to mend after a season of rest the baseball publications all carried obituaries on Caldwell's career and mourned the passing of a grand old man.

Last spring Clyde Milan, the Birmingham manager, gave him his release (at his own request) so that he could accept the offer to pitch for the Old Timers' team. But for the fact that the crowds stayed away from the Old Timers' games in droves, Caldwell might still be pitching somewhere out in the great American bush with Grover Cleveland Alexander and other relics of glamorous days. But the team of patriarchs folded and Caldwell was a candidate for a job of work. He got one with Johnny Dobbs

Continued on Fourth Sport Page.

HAMMOND WINS LAKEWOOD RACE

A. C. Hammond, riding Bill Bracey's mount entered from Jacksonville, Fla., won the 24-hour motorcycle race at Lakewood park track Saturday night when he crossed the finish line with a total of 1,366 miles for the 24 hours. The race ended close to midnight.

Bert Baisden, Birmingham, finished second with a total of 1,355 miles.

A field of 14 started the grind Friday night and maintained a fast pace, averaging better than a mile a minute.

Hammond replaced Barcey when the latter went out in a spill Saturday.

The races were well attended and were run off in fine order.

SENATORS LEAD BY HALF A GAME

NEW YORK, July 15.—(UP)—The Washington Senators won a double-header from the St. Louis Browns today, but even so their lead in the American league was cut to half a game by the New York Yankees, who defeated the Chicago White Sox.

The Senators trimmed the Browns, 1-0 and 2-0, as the Yanks hammered out an 11-2 victory over the Sox.

The victory was the eighth straight for the Yankees, who broke their jinx of not being able to win more than seven games in a row this season. Twice before the New Yorkers were halted after running their string to that number.

BABE HITS TWO.

The potent bat of George Herman Ruth paved the way for the Yankees' success. His 23d and 24th home runs of the current season plus home runs by Dixie Walker, Charley Ruffing and Bill Dickey were responsible for nine New York runs.

The Senators participated in a pair of tight pitching duels with Stewart and Burke holding the Browns to nine and five hits, respectively, in the first and second games.

The Boston Red Sox moved to within two games of sixth place as they whipped the Cleveland Indians, 7-2. Mel Harder and Brown yielded ten hits to the Red Sox.

An eleventh-inning single by Jimmy Foxx gave the Philadelphia Athletics a 3-2 victory over the Detroit Tigers. Foxx also scored a run in the second inning with his 26th home run of the year.

GIANTS' LEAD CUT.

The Giants, leading the national league, lost a half a game through idleness as the Chicago Cubs, second-place occupants, defeated the Boston Braves, 4-0. Charley Root hurled six-hit ball for the Cubs.

The Giant-Cincinnati and Brooklyn-Pittsburgh games were rained out.

A run in the eleventh inning gave the Philadelphia Phillies a 3-2 victory over the Cardinals. Holley and P. Collins yielded ten hits while Jesse Haines, heaving for the losers, was nicked for 12.

(Boxes on Page 2.)

Will Gunn Wins Pennsylvania Title

PHILADELPHIA, July 15.—(AP)—Will Gunn Jr., Philadelphia, today won the Pennsylvania amateur golf championship by defeating Harold S. Cross Jr., Philadelphia, 1 up in 37 holes.

"KEED" WINS

MADRID, July 16 (Sunday.)—(UP)—Kid Chocolate, recognized as featherweight champion of the world, outpointed Nick Bensa, of France, in a 10-round bout at the Madrid bull ring this morning.

Jackson Praised For Tourney Work

Bob Jackson, secretary of the Biltmore Tennis Club, at whose courts the southern amateur championship was played last week, deserves much of the credit for the best tournament the south has seen.

Jackson aided the newspapers in covering the tournament in every possible manner. He cooperated in every detail so that newspapers might have their results and the news of the tournament quickly and accurately.

The directors of the club have in Jackson a man who will be of invaluable aid in making tennis the great game it should be in Atlanta. The club itself is to be congratulated on its work in bringing the tournament to Atlanta and in the successful and unmarred schedule maintained.

THE CONSTITUTION, ATLANTA, GA., SUNDAY, JULY 16, 1933

Wright, Little Rock, Continues To Lead Batting in Southern

THREE PHILLIES LEAD SLUGGERS; KLEIN ON TOP

Davis and Fullis Trail in Order; Leader Slugs .365

Klein, Davis and Fullis, the three Philadelphia musketeers, hold first, second and third places in the National league batting list, as they did last week. Klein is hitting .365, Davis, .356, and Fullis, .336. Walter Berger and Bill Terry are tied for fourth place at the .326 mark, while Frederick, Floyd Vaughan and Jim Collins are all tied for sixth position with .325 each.

John Martin is the leading scorer, with 65 runs, with Paul Waner, second, with 55. Klein and Fullis are tied for the most hits, 119 each. Klein leads in total bases, 203, Berger being second, with 176. Klein also has the most doubles, 27, Paul Waner being second, with 24; the most home runs, 17, Berger being second, with 16, and is first in runs batted in, 75. In other words the list of batting leaders is mostly Klein, as usual.

Vaughan has batted in 59 runs, more than any one else except Klein. Martin has stolen 13 bases and Bartell is credited with 16 sacrifice hits.

Finally Cantwell lost a game. This event occurred Thursday, July 13, and now his record reads 12 won and four lost. Carleton has won 12 and lost 5 and Hubbell, 12 and 6. Only 44 runs have been scored against Hubbell in 170 innings and young Hal Schumacher, who has won 10 games and lost 6, has allowed but 26 runs in 133 frames and has pitched six shut-outs the first half of the season. This record has not been equalled in the last 20 years.

TEAM BATTING.

	ab.	r.	h.	tb.	hr.	so.	pct.
Philadelphia	2759	553	799	1096	30	229	.286
Pittsburgh	2795	503	773	1082	26	167	.277
St. Louis	2837	344	786	1056	27	291	.270
Chicago	2897	357	774	1071	39	249	.267
Brooklyn	2758	312	704	974	36	253	.255
Boston	2763	296	699	988	29	234	.253
New York	2764	305	697	970	40	264	.252
Cincinnati	2811	291	684	931	25	194	.243

TEAM FIELDING.

	dp.	tp.	pb.	po.	a.	e.	pct.
Boston	69	0	5	2219	1021	77	.977
St. Louis	59	1	5	2208	867	72	.977
Chicago	87	0	3	2230	1017	90	.973
Brooklyn	64	0	2	2166	932	88	.973
Pittsburgh	60	0	3	2112	848	88	.971
New York	86	0	8	2376	1063	105	.970
Cincinnati	78	0	6	2210	1017	103	.969
Philadelphia	93	0	3	2110	1006	106	.967

INDIVIDUAL BATTING.

	ab.	r.	h.	tb.	hr.	rbi.	pct.
Fallenstein, Bos.	8	2	3	4	0	3	.375
Klein, Phil.	326	84	119	203	17	75	.365
Young, Pitt.	11	2	4	5	0	0	.364
N. Davis, Phil.	264	30	94	131	4	38	.356
Brandt, Bos.	45	5	16	17	0	1	.356
Fullis, Phil.	354	54	119	148	1	30	.336
Berger, Bos.	307	48	100	176	16	55	.326
Terry, N. Y.	190	23	62	93	3	20	.326
Frederick, Brk.	308	36	100	128	3	31	.325
Vaughan, Pitt.	305	44	99	167	8	50	.325
Collins, St. L.	255	42	83	118	3	32	.325
Rixey, Cin.	22	2	7	7	0	3	.318
Schulmerich, B-P	183	20	58	83	3	28	.317
Stephenson, Chi.	187	25	59	84	4	33	.316
Spohrer, Bos.	89	5	28	33	1	5	.314
Martin, St. L.	324	65	101	152	5	31	.312
Hartnett, Chi.	286	36	88	139	11	56	.308
McCurdy, Phil.	26	6	8	9	0	4	.308
Hendrick, Chi.	134	22	41	62	2	13	.306
Outen, Brk.	62	6	19	28	1	6	.306
Leslie, NY-Brk	236	37	72	118	6	42	.305
Warneke, Chi.	59	4	18	27	2	10	.305
Boyle, Brk.	79	11	24	35	0	8	.304
R. Moore, Bos.	261	38	79	112	3	38	.303
Piet, Pitt.	215	28	65	80	0	24	.302
Traynor, Pitt.	319	42	96	117	0	42	.301
Sol Johnson, St. L.	10	0	3	3	0	1	.300
Grace, Pitt.	117	5	35	48	1	20	.299
Hafey, Cin.	293	42	86	127	6	40	.294
Medwick, St. L.	294	43	86	141	7	43	.293
Vergez, N. Y.	294	38	86	140	9	46	.293
Hornsby, St. L.	58	7	17	26	2	18	.293
P. Waner, Pitt.	319	55	93	153	6	39	.292
Comorosky, Pitt.	83	10	24	33	1	7	.289
J. Herman, Chi.	312	47	90	149	2	47	.288
Lindstrom, Pitt.	289	39	83	113	1	26	.287
Crawford, St. L.	98	12	28	34	0	9	.286
Suhr, Pitt.	291	36	83	136	8	38	.285
Rice, Cin.	288	34	82	100	0	31	.284
Demaree, Chi.	347	46	97	132	4	37	.280
Lee, Phil-Bos.	268	38	75	108	3	24	.280
Bartell, Phil.	312	53	87	115	1	9	.279
W. Herman, Chi.	842	51	95	113	0	19	.278
Jurges, Chi.	242	24	67	94	4	26	.277
Lucas, Cin.	69	7	19	26	1	9	.276
Ott, N. Y.	309	48	85	132	9	40	.275
L. Wilson, Brk.	208	21	57	79	6	33	.274
Nelson, Cin.	11	5	3	4	0	0	.273
G. Davis, N. Y.	256	31	69	85	0	21	.270
John Moore, Cin.	268	36	68	99	3	21	.270
Taylor, Brk.	210	47	57	93	1	27	.269
J. Jordan, Brk.	170	13	45	58	0	13	.265
O'Doul, Brk-NY	248	26	65	94	7	26	.262
Picinich, Brk-Phil	42	4	11	19	1	5	.262
B. Jordan, Bos.	310	38	81	108	1	24	.261
Whitney, Phil-Bos.	234	27	61	92	7	37	.261
Jackson, N. Y.	46	4	12	12	0	4	.261
Roettger, Cin.	127	9	33	42	0	15	.260
J. Waner, Pitt.	301	31	78	89	0	15	.259
Watkins, St. L.	247	26	64	85	2	30	.259
Adams, St. L.-Cin.	296	36	76	95	1	11	.257
Hurst, Phil.	268	34	69	108	3	43	.257
Lombardi, Cin.	191	15	49	73	4	33	.257
Grimm, Chi.	228	18	58	79	0	24	.254
English, Chi.	310	41	78	98	3	31	.252
Stripp, Brk.	309	38	78	97	1	28	.252
J. Wilson, St. L.	266	22	67	84	1	33	.252
Joe Moore, N. Y.	262	31	66	76	2	21	.252
Cuccinello, Brk.	296	33	74	121	8	40	.250
G. Wright, Brk.	72	8	18	22	0	8	.250
Davis, Pitt.	52	5	13	15	0	2	.250
Crabtree, St. L.	24	4	6	8	0	0	.250
Bottomley, Cin.	294	32	73	118	6	49	.248
Jensen, Pitt.	109	12	27	41	1	9	.248
Warner, Phil.	156	18	38	49	0	9	.244
Peel, N. Y.	74	9	18	21	0	8	.243
Timming, Chi.	87	1	9	10	0	5	.241
Manush, St. L.	270	25	65	87	4	30	.241
O'Farrell, St. L.	23	2	8	6	0	2	.240
Koenig, Chi.	83	9	20	28	2	11	.239
Mosolf, Chi.	46	8	11	16	0	4	.239
Shaute, Brk.	21	3	5	6	0	2	.238
Benge, Brk.	38	4	9	11	0	3	.237
Betts, Bos.	38	2	9	10	0	2	.237
H. Smith, Pitt.	38	3	9	10	0	2	.237
Durocher, Cin-St.L.	239	29	56	74	2	24	.234
Urbanski, Bos.	262	30	61	90	4	34	.233
Allen, St. L.	153	17	36	46	0	15	.235
Cuyler, N. Y.	309	32	68	91	1	18	.230
Lopez, Brk.	191	20	44	60	2	22	.230
Hogan, Bos.	175	6	40	47	2	21	.229
Todd, Phil.	131	18	30	42	3	18	.229
Thevenow, Pitt.	97	8	22	30	0	8	.227
Maranville, Bos.	230	19	52	62	0	21	.226
Hedley, Phil.	40	2	9	11	0	3	.225
Cuccinello, Bos.	130	7	29	38	0	9	.223
Morrissey, Cin.	284	23	63	74	0	9	.222
Flowers, Brk.	77	11	17	25	1	13	.221
Finney, Pitt.	73	7	16	20	0	8	.219
Campbell, Chi.	32	4	7	8	0	2	.219
Judge, Brk.	110	7	24	28	0	9	.218
Harris, Phil.	23	1	5	5	0	0	.217
Dean, St. L.	56	4	12	19	1	5	.214
High, Cin.	42	4	9	14	1	6	.214
R. Smith, Cin.	19	2	4	5	0	1	.211
Frey, Cin.	19	1	4	5	0	1	.211
Mowrey, Bos.	144	14	30	40	0	12	.208
Benton, Cin.	24	3	5	5	0	2	.208
Paddon, Pitt.	63	2	13	14	0	7	.206
Knothe, Bos-Phil	244	24	50	64	1	14	.204
Berringer, St.L-Cin	40	4	8	8	0	2	.200
Parmelee, N. Y.	35	2	7	11	1	5	.200
Mungo, Brk.	30	1	6	7	0	1	.200
Richards, N. Y.	20	0	4	5	0	2	.200
Stout, St. L.-Cin.	15	2	3	3	0	0	.200
Grantham, Cin.	237	27	47	74	3	23	.198

PITCHERS' RECORDS.

	w.	l.	pct.	ip.	h.	r.	so.
Kremer, Pitt.	1	0	1.000	20	36	26	4
Henshaw, Chi.	1	0	1.000	13	20	10	11
Dickrel, Phil.	1	0	1.000	13	10	10	11
Tinning, Chi.	1	0	1.000	13	20	6	4
H. Smith, Pitt.	4	1	.875	98	75	28	31
Rixey, Cin.	4	1	.800	61	60	23	19
Cantwell, Bos.	12	4	.750	122	117	45	28
Shaute, Brk.	3	1	.750	76	84	31	17
Liska, Phil.	3	1	.750	47	54	27	12
Luque, N. Y.	3	1	.750	45	42	13	11
Jackson, Phil.	3	1	.750	40	45	22	12
Carleton, St. L.	12	5	.706	153	139	49	83
Parmelee, N. Y.	7	3	.700	100	81	43	67
Hubbell, N. Y.	12	6	.667	170	141	44	92
Hallahan, St. L.	10	5	.667	137	133	55	56
Frey, Cin.	2	1	.667	60	67	34	4
Fallenstin, Bos.	2	1	.667	35	41	22	5
Swift, Pitt.	9	5	.643	133	133	56	33
Fitzsimmins, NY.	10	6	.625	140	124	55	54
Schumacher, N.Y.	10	6	.625	133	81	26	48
Warneke, Chi.	11	7	.611	163	135	39	76
Carroll, Brk.	9	6	.600	135	146	69	30
Mangum, Bos.	3	2	.600	62	69	19	22
Nelson, Chi.	3	2	.600	32	27	14	8
French, Pitt.	10	7	.588	143	143	60	31
Thurston, Brk.	4	3	.571	65	85	47	14
R. Smith, Cin.	4	3	.571	86	82	18	13
Pearce, Phil.	4	3	.571	54	50	26	9
Benton, Cin.	5	4	.556	71	75	31	17
Holley, Phil.	7	6	.538	108	143	53	109
Frankhouse, Bos.	9	8	.529	131	141	45	48
Brandt, Bos.	8	8	.500	143	112	43	58
Root, Chi.	7	7	.500	123	123	52	40

Here Are Three New Crackers Added During Week

Still hopeful of making a creditable showing in the last half of Southern league race, the Atlanta Baseball Club made three new additions to its roster during the week. At the left in the layout above is Carlos Moore, young right-handed pitcher acquired from New Orleans in the straight swap for Andy Messenger. He will be used chiefly as a relief man.

In the center is Mike Hunt, outfielder, acquired on option from the Braves. He played on the coast last year and batted .316. At the right is a close-up of Ray Caldwell, ancient right-hander, who is seeking to do a comeback with the club. He was signed as a free agent from Charlotte.—Photos by George Cornett.

INTEREST KEEN IN PIN LEAGUES

With the schedule of all the summer bowling leagues nearing the final round of play, the competition in every league is keen with the second and third place teams hard after the leaders.

Last Thursday evening the F. J. Cooledge & Sons team, of the Merchants' Duck Pin league, slipped into the lead as the Rogers Stores wavered and lost three games out of six, playing a double-header, giving the Coolidge pinmen a one-game lead. Hutchins and Shuttleworth have manned the powerhouse behind the terrific onslaught of the hardware team.

The Tidwell Company, of the Commercial Summer league, gained additional prestige to their rank at the top of the ladder in this fast group of teams by setting the second place Grand Dads down to a two-game loss and strengthened their lead by an additional game. Davison-Paxon Company pulled up to a tie with the Grand Dads for second place. Lee Stokes, Andy McElroy, Cliff Dennis, Carl Tidwell and D. I. Tignor compose the roster of the leaders.

The No. 1 team, made up of Mr. and Mrs. John Blick and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Tidwell still hold a substantial lead in the popular mixed Duck Pin league as they breeze along winning at least two games each Wednesday night.

The Tenpin Bowlers' Group, meeting each Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock, have found continuous improvement in scores as heavy pin toppling is recorded by some of the individuals. A. D. Couden, Tony Althausen, Henry Elsner, L. Perryman, Bill Elsner, H. Wegner, Walter Elsner, Douglas, George Silber, Sperry, Burns, Parker and Phillips are among the heavy hitters of this group.

John Blick's mark of 406 remains unbroken for three games of bowling in the Saturday night Blind Pig Sweepstakes, but with interest at a new high bowlers will be shooting with hopes of shattering that count.

Buford Defeats Shannon Mills, 5-1

BUFORD, Ga., July 15.—With Ed Copeland, former Tech High star, hurling steady ball and aiding his own game with two doubles, Buford defeated Shannon Mills, 5 to 1, here this afternoon in one of the best games of the season. Shannon was one of the best teams that Buford has played this year.

Manager Baxter and Lee also hit well for the winners, while the fielding of Carter was outstanding for the losers.

Shannon	000	000	100	1	5	4
Buford	010	240	11x	5	10	0

Harris, Mulberson and Edwards; Copeland and Vance.

Lopez, Mungo Fined For Umpire Row

PITTSBURGH, Pa., July 15.—(UP)—Al Lopez and Van Mungo, of the Dodgers, were fined $25 apiece by President John Heydler, of the National league, as a result of arguments with Umpire Quigley during yesterday's game in Chicago. Lopez was chased out of the game by Quigley in the seventh inning and a few minutes later Mungo was yanked off the slab by Manager Carey. As Mungo was on his way to the Dodgers' bench he stopped and entered into a verbal row with Quigley.

Meine, Pitt.	6	6	.500	116	130	71	31
Chagnon, Pitt.	2	2	.500	43	44	21	11
Tuthill, N. Y.	1	1	.500	14	16	12	4
Benge, Brk.	6	7	.462	112	105	45	40
Walker, St. L.	4	5	.444	86	88	41	28
Hansen, Phil.	3	4	.429	76	89	47	17
Hoyt, Pitt.	3	4	.429	59	71	28	23
Bell, N. Y.	3	4	.429	56	51	20	14
Beck, Brk.	7	10	.412	133	148	68	30
Swetonic, Pitt.	6	9	.400	92	85	50	19
Kolp, Cin.	4	6	.400	86	97	47	14
Harris, Pitt.	2	3	.400	34	35	12	14
Haines, St. L.	2	3	.400	34	33	16	14
Malone, Chi.	5	8	.385	114	121	60	44
Lucas, Cin.	5	8	.385	104	120	61	14
St. Johnson, Cin.	6	10	.375	131	125	63	35
Elliott, Phil.	4	8	.333	124	147	71	32
Zachary, Bos.	3	6	.333	68	72	38	14
Mooney, St. L.	2	4	.333	64	73	34	10
Stout, St. L.-Cin.	1	2	.333	37	43	20	21
Vance, St. L.	1	2	.333	37	43	20	21
Berly, Phil.	1	2	.333	33	38	21	2

Weber Cancels Show As Tribute to a Friend

Paul Jones, Injured in Fatal Wreck, Tells of Mishap That Killed Kotsonaros.

Matchmaker Henry Weber yesterday announced that he had called off the scheduled appearance of Champion Jim Londos at the baseball park Tuesday night because of the death of George Kotsonaros, who was to have opposed Londos.

For a time Weber thought of getting another opponent for Londos. Kotsonaros, who was killed in an automobile wreck Thursday morning near Birmingham, would have wanted the show to go on. Weber took charge of Kotsonaros' body and had it sent back to his widow at Hollywood. Yesterday he learned the funeral will be held Tuesday.

"I could not go on with the match," he said. "I have called it off out of deference to the memory of that fine fellow, George Kotsonaros. I hope to have Londos appear as soon as possible."

SUBSTITUTED.

Kotsonaros had gone to Nashville to substitute in a match there to oblige the promoter when Whitey Hewitt was unable to appear. Kotsonaros defeated Abe Kashey in Nashville. Paul Jones was on the same card and he and Kotsonaros decided to ride to New Orleans with Jones where the latter was scheduled to wrestle.

They left Nashville shortly after midnight and drove the rest of the night. Kotsonaros either lost control of the fast car or went to sleep at the wheel. The first complete report of the accident, containing an interview with Paul Jones, appeared in the Nashville Banner, as follows:

JONES RECALLS WRECK.

"I wanted to leave the car in Birmingham and continue the trip by train but George persuaded me to let him drive on to New Orleans,' John Paul Jones said this morning.

"Kotsonaros was not familiar with the road. Jones cautioned him as they left Tuscaloosa, Ala., telling him to drive carefully over the gravel road leading to Eutaw.

"The accident occurred when the car swerved from the pike and struck an iron post as Kotsonaros attempted to negotiate a sharp curve. Caroming off the post, the sport roadster plunged off a 50-foot embankment, turning completely over several times in the descent.

"When I came to I was buried in a bunch of briars and bushes,' Jones declared, 'I could see nothing of the car nor George. I called George several times but received no answer.

"Finally I heard the purr of the motor. The car was 30 feet from where I landed but still I could find no trace of George.'

"His left arm useless, Jones got his right shoulder under the overturned car and managed to spin it upright.

"Then he saw George and understood why he had received no answer.

"He was dead, horribly crushed and mangled."

PICKED UP.

"A passing truck brought the wrestlers into Eutaw, where Jones was given medical attention. It was necessary to take 26 stitches in his head. He also suffered bruises and lacerations about the body and arms.

"There was nothing they could do for Kotsonaros.

"Phil Saad, intimate friend of Jones' and his most ardent admirer, ate a light midnight lunch with the two wrestlers immediately before they departed. He started to accompany them as far as Birmingham, but decided not at the last minute.

"'Paul said when they left that he was going to leave the car in Birmingham if he didn't feel like driving on to New Orleans,' Saad recalled.

"Kotsonaros was one of the real veterans of the profession. Recognized as one of the most scientific wrestlers in the world, he taught many of the younger grapplers holds and tricks that enabled them to gain prominence in the sport.

"Jimmy Londos, the champion, is indebted to the dead wrestler for much of his success and affluence."

COLLEGIAN WINS

WORCESTER, Mass., July 15.—(UP)—Joe Lynch, of Albemarle, 22-year-old Georgetown University student, won the Massachusetts state amateur golf championship today, defeating Eddie Lowery, of Charles River, a former champion, 5 and 4, in the 36-hole final.

State League

TEAM BATTING.

TEAM—	ab.	r.	h.	hr.	sb.	pct.
Milledgeville	1446	268	434	34	53	.300
Barnesville	1494	305	480	25	55	.288
Columbus	1395	234	401	14	38	.288
Macon	1432	220	401	10	16	.280
Albany	1470	192	410	14	18	.279
Americus	1330	191	349	9	34	.262

TEAM—	po.	a.	e.	pb.	dp.	pct.
Milledgeville	1031	485	100	5	32	.935
Barnesville	1062	480	102	7	36	.934
Columbus	1044	451	100	10	26	.931
Macon	981	451	101	6	16	.930
Albany	1080	483	121	12	20	.922
	1054	465	140	8	29	.911

INDIVIDUAL BATTING.

Player—	ab.	r.	h.	hr.	sb.	rbi.	pct.
McColl, Amer.	2	0	1	0	0	0	.500
Levy, Mac.	2	0	1	0	0	0	.500
Kimbrel, Mac.	19	3	9	0	1	5	.474
Epps, Mill.	9	3	4	0	1	3	.444
Frazee, Amer.	30	10	13	2	2	7	.433
Treadaway, Mill.	7	1	3	0	0	2	.429
Wagnon, Barn.	117	34	49	5	8	27	.419
H.Parks, Col.	119	22	44	3	6	25	.370
Hunter, Mac.	135	28	50	7	2	34	.370
Craven, Barn.	160	16	59	2	0	32	.368
Shepherd, Amer.	155	25	57	2	4	30	.368
Rothstein, Mill.	110	20	40	1	1	19	.364
Foster, Mill.	188	39	59	11	9	39	.314
Newman, Col.	60	10	21	2	2	7	.350
Morris, Amer.	146	27	51	3	4	34	.349
Rialock, Mac.	86	20	30	0	4	11	.349
Ennis, Mill.	179	39	62	2	1	35	.346
Mosher, Amer.	58	12	20	0	1	12	.345
Rhodes, Amer.	168	23	57	0	2	35	.339
Reasor, Mac.	128	26	43	1	1	26	.336
Dixon, Barn.	146	20	49	0	2	22	.336
Walker, Barn.	24	5	8	0	0	6	.333
McSwain, Mac.	52	9	18	0	2	8	.333
Ross, Col.	46	7	15	0	0	6	.327
E.Leavine, Alb.	25	5	8	0	0	2	.326
G.Clark, Alb.	25	3	8	0	0	2	.320
Cauthen, Barn.	128	18	41	2	4	23	.320
Marion, Barn.	135	23	43	1	7	20	.319
Patton, Alb.	110	25	35	1	0	20	.318
Truitt, Amer.	32	3	10	1	0	3	.313
Mosley, Amer.	87	16	27	5	1	9	.310
Finney, Alb.	149	13	46	1	4	20	.309
Dunbar, Col.	147	25	44	0	8	16	.299
D.V.Holt, Alb.	41	3	14	0	0	3	.298
Mauldin, Barn.	145	28	43	2	5	19	.297
Jackson, Amer.	155	40	46	0	12	14	.297
Pullen, Col.	159	38	47	1	12	12	.296
Hogsed, Mac.	106	17	31	0	1	10	.292
Turk, Mill.	93	15	27	1	2	11	.290
Roberson, Mill.	172	29	50	1	5	22	.290
Ozburn, Mill.	139	22	44	6	2	36	.288
Robbs, Barn.	167	41	48	4	10	19	.287
Huff, Amer.	142	19	40	0	2	23	.282
Yarter, Mac.	153	34	43	2	2	17	.281
Giglio, Col.	32	7	9	0	1	5	.281
Alexander, Col.	150	24	42	1	7	22	.280
Marlowe, Col.	40	2	11	0	2	3	.275
Stuart, Barn.	117	30	32	5	2	24	.274
Woods, Alb.	89	5	24	0	1	10	.270
Grant, Mill.	74	21	20	2	6	20	.269
Hart, Alb.	72	13	19	0	0	2	.264
Snyder, Mac.	38	4	10	0	0	2	.263
Watson, Barn.	172	38	45	1	8	20	.262
Riley, Alb.	39	8	10	0	2	2	.257
R. Smith, Col.	83	19	21	0	2	9	.253
Hardin, Amer.	36	7	9	0	0	3	.250
McClannahan, Barn.	12	3	3	0	1	2	.250
Kenmore, Amer.	57	10	14	0	0	5	.246
Brown, Col.	159	21	39	0	7	12	.245
Wetzel, Amer.	79	7	19	0	5	13	.240
Moorehead, Mill.	67	13	16	0	1	6	.239
McDaniel, Col.	108	9	25	0	2	10	.231
H. Whitten, Alb.	145	8	33	1	2	15	.221
H. Whitten, Alb.	41	4	9	0	0	2	.220
Butts, Mill.	75	11	16	0	1	5	.213
Mitchell, Barn.	33	4	7	0	0	4	.212
Ricks, Alb.	38	1	8	0	0	1	.211
Koneman, Alb.	40	4	8	0	0	2	.200
J.P.Holt, Alb.	30	4	6	1	0	6	.200
West, Mill.	30	6	6	1	0	6	.200

PITCHERS' RECORDS.

PITCHER—	w.	l.	ip.	ab.	er.	h.	pct.
McClanhan, Barn.	3	0	28	115	8	30	1.000
Florrid, Col.	1	0	9	32	3	8	1.000
Pearce, Amer.	2	0	14	63	5	16	1.000
Allen, Col.	1	0	18	76	6	18	1.000
McColl, Amer.	1	0	4	16	1	2	1.000
Levey, Mac.	1	0	42	161	10	33	1.000
Dixon, Barn.	7	2	72	290	26	83	.875
Doss, Col.	6	1	66	276	26	63	.857
Rhodes, Mill.	9	2	99	380	35	90	.857
Giglio, Col.	4	1	44	173	10	47	.818
Mitchell, Barn.	6	3	82	321	30	83	.800
Gillespie, Mac.	5	3	80	323	35	96	.625
Pruitt, Amer.	6	4	68	274	32	57	.600
Jones, Alb.	3	2	83	332	40	84	.600
Walker, Barn.	3	2	46	171	8	38	.600
Vickers, Amer.	7	5	104	425	63	121	.583
Copeland, Barn.	4	3	64	259	28	80	.571
Clark, Mill.	4	4	85	340	49	100	.500
Stanfield, Barn.	2	2	32	127	12	32	.500
Phillips, Mac.	1	1	20	67	5	18	.500
Gill, Mac.	2	2	27	116	15	34	.500
West, Mill.	5	5	82	347	47	89	.500
Smith, Col.	2	2	36	154	20	34	.500
Slayden, Barn.	1	1	15	66	9	23	.500
Buchanan, Col.	5	6	100	407	41	115	.455

'APE MAN' FACES TOUGH FOE HERE

George Romanoff, popular Greek light-heavyweight, returns to Atlanta Monday night to meet Tony Ricco in the headline wrestling match of Bill Corley's weekly card at Lakewood park.

Romanoff tossed Sam Miller last Monday night in a match that pleased a small crowd which braved unpleasant weather. Ricco has wrestled extensively in the south and is a worthy opponent for Romanoff.

Romanoff

America's Chances in Cup Matches Brighter, Mercer Beasley Says

LOVELOCK RUNS GREATEST MILE OF ALL TIME

Oxford Stars Beat Bonthron, Princeton, in 4 Minutes 7.6 Seconds.

By Alan Gould,

PRINCETON, N. J., July 15.—(AP) In the picturesque setting of Old Nassau, in one of the most colorful of international rivalries, two college youths, Jack Lovelock of Oxford, and Bill Bonthron of Princeton, raced the greatest mile of all time this afternoon.

Lovelock, a curly-haired, 23 year-old medical student from far-off Dunedin, New Zealand, raced past a border of elm trees as he caught and passed Bonthron, then flashed down the stretch toward the end of the big concrete horseshoe of Palmer stadium, to break the tape in the dazzling time of 4 minutes 7.6 seconds.

Beaten off by seven yards but still fighting every step of the way as he found his famous "kick" more than matched for the first time this year, Bonthron came home in 4 minutes 8.7 seconds, thereby completing the stop-watch story of the "mile of the ages," as thes two collegians surpassed anything ever achieved before at the classic distance by the world's greatest foot racers.

WASN'T GOOD ENOUGH.

The fastest mile ever run by an American wasn't good enough this afternoon to win and Lovelock, with a last quarter in the remarkable time of 58.9 seconds and a finish that was simply astounding, wiped out the world record of 4:09.2, made by Jules Ladoumegue, of France, in 1929, with plenty to spare.

Bonthron not only was inside this record himself, as he proved himself as great a middle distance runner as the United States has ever produced, but he came back nearly two hours later with a killing sprint in the stretch of the 880-yard run to whip "Pen" Hallowell, the former Harvard ace, running for Oxford, and clinched the meet for the combined Cornell-Princeton team over the Oxford-Cambridge forces.

Instead of showing the least trace of strain from his terrific mile duel, Bonthron pulled himself together with a remarkable stretch drive to overcome Hallowell's 10-yard advantage and break the tape in the brilliant time of 1 minute 53 seconds, a new meet record.

AMERICANS WIN.

The final score, based on first places, was 8 to 4 in favor of the American collegians. Meet records were smashed in eight of the twelve events in the most sensational contest these friendly rivals have ever waged.

Scarcely 5,000 spectators were on their feet roaring most of the afternoon.

Bonthron, intercollegiate champion at 800 and 1,500 meters, had not found the runner this year who could match strides with him at the finish.

After three laps and a half, with Lovelock never more than a stride behind the bronzed, black-haired Bonthron, the whole issue was staked on their sprinting ability. Lovelock was at the American's shoulder rounding the last turn. He was in front in a few strides and he steadily lengthened his margin to a full seven yards, as Bonthron, chin down and arms churning, tried desperately to close the widening gap.

DECIDING POINT.

Bonthron's winning half mile, where he beat Hallowell by nearly four yards, furnished the seventh and deciding point for the Americans as well as the climax of the record-breaking on nearly all fronts of competition during the afternoon.

The Cornell-Princeton aggregation won five of the six flat-racing events and three of the four field events to decide the issue, accounting for five of the eight record performances.

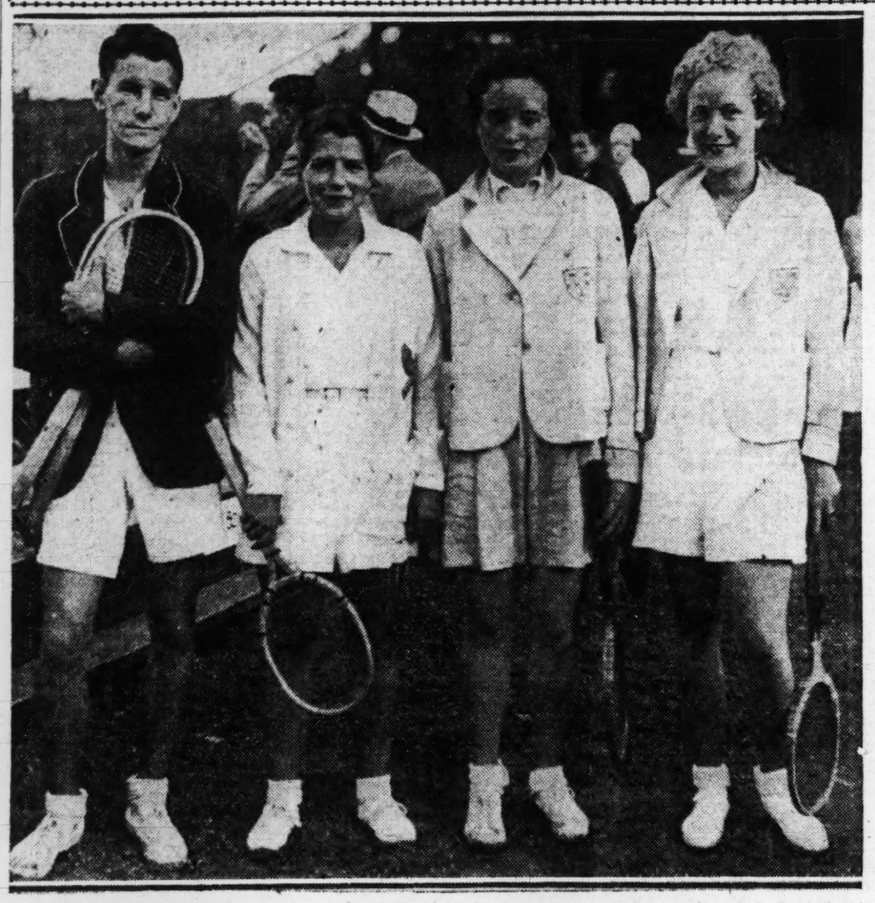

Oxford-Cambridge furnished the individual hero in Lovelock, swept the hurdles and furnished the only double winner in Charles Stanwood, the former Bowdoin athlete, who captured the high jump and the 220-yard low hurdles.

Stanwood's bid for a "triple" was balked by Thornton, of Cambridge, who sprang a surprise victory over his teammate in the 120-yard high hurdles.

Cornell furnished only three winners to Princeton's five, but they were all record-breakers. Dick Hardy nosed out Don Johnson, his Princeton rival, by inches, in 9.8 seconds in the 100-yard dash; Bob Kane, making his debut as quarter-miler, won the 440 in the new meet record time of 48.5 seconds and Joe Mangan, closing a brilliant college career, made his first two-mile race the fastest any Cornellian has ever run as he sped to another record in 9:15.4.

Johnson came back to win the 220-yard dash and the Tigers also furnished three field event winners in Alex McWilliams, who pole vaulted 13 feet 2 3-8 inches for a new meet record; Paul Abt, who won the broad jump by a fraction of an inch, and Harrison Garrett, in the shot-put.

The Correct Thing To Wear

Here is what the well dressed tennis player is wearing these hot afternoons. These comfortably attired racket wielders were snapped during the annual southern tennis tournament at the popular Biltmore Club. Left to right, Wilbur Hess and Kay Pearson, Houston, Texas; Dorothy Kirkpatrick, Atlanta, and Josephine Gray, Cincinnati.

GRANT WINNER OF FIFTH TITLE

Continued From First Page.

arship at Vanderbilt, both of Nashville, 5-7, 6-3, 6-4, 4-6, 7-5.

"Long John" Peterson, a lanky player, delighted the gallery as he raced repeatedly after high-bounding shots to the back fence and returned sky-high lobs into the court.

Grant and Courts had a real battle before closing out the five-set match.

The Atlanta combination meets Robert (Lefty) Bryan, of Chattanooga, and John McDiarmid, the Houston, Texan, Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in the finals at the Biltmore club.

In mixed doubles Lefty Bryan and Beatrice Bryan will meet Doc Barr, of Dallas, Texas, and Dorothy Gray, of Cincinnati, in the finals.

Arthur Potter, of Atlanta, won the veteran's singles title, defeating R. P. Wheeler, of Anniston, Ala., 6-0, 6-3.

Presentation of trophies was made by Reginald Fleet, of Atlanta, newly elected secretary of the Southern Lawn Tennis Association, acting in place of A. K. Tigrett, of Memphis, president, who returned home Friday.

The trophies were considered equal to any ever given in a southern amateur tournament.

Praise was given Robert Jackson, secretary of the Biltimore club, who was highly honored by being selected as official referee for the southern. Jackson handled the meet in flawless fashion.

This afternoon there will be singles exhibitions by Billy Reese and Henry Prusoff, of Seattle, Wash., Pacific northwest champion, and Doc Barr, of Memphis, and George Boynton, of Atlanta. Net proceeds will go to the Community Chest.

In addition to the doubles finals Monday, Grant will play Bryan and McDiarmid will meet Reese in singles exhibitions.

Clyde Milan Hurt In Batting Practice

MEMPHIS, July 15.—(AP)—Clyde Milan, manager of the Birmingham Barons, received painful but not serious injuries today when hit by a ball during batting practice preceding the game with the Memphis Chicks.

Milan was struck on the left arm below the elbow by a liner off Abernathy's bat. After treatment, the manager returned to the park to direct his team.

Physicians said Milan suffered a broken blood vessel and a possible fracture. An x-ray was made to determine the exact extent of the injury.

The examination revealed that no bones in his arm were broken and Milan returned to the ball park to direct the Barons from the dugout.

Georgia League

PEACHES-BLUES DIVIDE.

MACON, Ga., July 15.—The Macon Peaches and the Milledgeville Blues split a double-header here today, the Blues winning the opener, 3 to 2, and the Peaches the nightcap, 9 to 4.

The first game was a pitchers' battle between Lefty Gillespie, of Macon, and Ralph West, with the latter having a slight edge. In the second game a six-run rally by the Peaches in the sixth inning gave them their first victory of the three-game series.

Milledgeville	000	102	000	3	6	0
Macon	000	001	100	2	9	3

West and Turk; Gillespie and Kimbrel.

Milledgeville	200	000	2	4	7	4
Macon	102	006	x	9	10	1

Clark, Bray and Turk; Phillips and Kimbrel.

DOUBLE-HEADER DIVIDED.

COLUMBUS, Ga., July 15.—Columbus and Americus split a double-header today, the visitors winning the first, 2 to 1, in a brilliant hurling duel, and the Foxes the second, 4 to 3.

Americus	000	002	000	2	5	0
Columbus	000	000	100	1	7	0

Pruett and Dunn; Allen and Marlowe.

Americus	000	030	0	3	7	0
Columbus	020	100	1	4	9	1

Lane, Frazee and Dunn; Smith, Buchanan and Marlowe.

BARNESVILLE WINS TWO.

BARNESVILLE, Ga., July 15.—The lowly Smithies finally won their first game of the second half of the Georgia State league, today, defeating Albany in the first game of a double-header, 3 to 2. The second game was also won by Barnesville, 10 to 3.

Albany	200	000	000	2	7	2
Barnesville	000	000	000	3	6	2

Jones and Whitten; Walker and Craven.

Albany	010	001	1	3	10	1
Barnesville	433	000	x	10	9	1

Holt, Roberts and Whitten; Slayden and Craven.

LOVED GAME.

Fothergill was one of those rare souls who really love the game they play. Best of all, Fothergill liked to bat. He was happiest when at the plate and as a batsman he ranked high up in the list.

West Georgia League

DOUGLASVILLE WINS.

Douglasville won from Marietta, 5 to 3, with Waits pitching well for the winners. Only 29 men faced him and he struck out nine. Fast fielding by the Douglasville infield held down the scoring.

Douglasville will play a postponed league game next Wednesday with Bowdon at Douglasville.

Marietta	020	000	010	3	3	2
Douglasville	001	120	01x	5	12	0

R. Anderson and A. Morris and Wilson; Waits and Moore.

VILLA RICA MOVES ON.

Villa Rica kept its perfect record by winning from Clarkdale, 14 to 8. The pitching of C. Tyson, who struck out eight, featured the game. Carnes and Willoughby knocked homers and Burnett tripled. Moon and Chafin hit best for the losers.

Clarkdale	002	300	201	8	14	6
Villa Rica	322	210	20x	14	12	2

Parrish, Rainwater and McCutchins; C. Tyson and Willoughby.

SMYRNA BEATS LEADERS.

Smyrna beat the leading Cantonites, 7 to 2, in a game featured by the hurling of Lefty Cobb, who held Canton to six well-scattered hits. Bacon hit a home run for Smyrna and McEntyre hit three for four.

Smyrna	011	230	000	7	11	2
Canton	000	010	001	2	6	4

L. Cobb and McEntyre; Waldrip and Smith.

DALLAS WINS AGAIN.

Dallas won again in the West Georgia league, Bowdon being the victim, 9 to 2. Hobbs allowed Bowdon two runs in the second inning and shut them out for the rest of the game. Dallas scored three at the start and were never stopped. Heavy batting by Dallas featured.

Bowdon	020	000	000	2	8	1
Dallas	301	021	02x	9	4	3

Herrin and Garrett; Hobbs and Lawrence.

BASEBALL Summary

SOUTHERN LEAGUE.

THE STANDINGS.

CLUBS—	W.	L.	Pct.	CLUBS—	W.	L.	Pct.
Knoxville	12	5	.706	Birm'ham	9	10	.474
Nashville	10	8	.556	N. Orleans	8	9	.471
L. Rock	11	9	.550	ATLANTA	8	11	.421
Memphis	9	9	.500	Chat'nooga	8	14	.364

YESTERDAY'S RESULTS.

Chattanooga 6; ATLANTA 8.
Nashville 8; Knoxville 7.
Birmingham 4; Memphis 5.
New Orleans 2; Little Rock 3.

TODAY'S GAMES.

ATLANTA at Nashville.
Birmingham at Memphis.
Chattanooga at Knoxville (2).
New Orleans at Little Rock (2).

AMERICAN LEAGUE.

THE STANDINGS.

CLUBS—	W.	L.	Pct.	CLUBS—	W.	L.	Pct.
Wash'gt'n	53	29	.646	Detroit	40	45	.471
New York	53	30	.639	Cleveland	39	47	.453
Phil'd'lp'a	43	40	.518	Boston	35	47	.427
Chicago	42	42	.500	St. Louis	32	57	.360

YESTERDAY'S RESULTS.

St. Louis 0-0; Washington 1-2.
Detroit 2; Philadelphia 3 (11 innings).
Chicago 2; New York 11.
Cleveland 2; Boston 7.

TODAY'S GAMES.

St. Louis at Washington.
Chicago at New York.
Cleveland at Boston.
(Only games scheduled.)

NATIONAL LEAGUE.

THE STANDINGS.

CLUBS—	W.	L.	Pct.	CLUBS—	W.	L.	Pct.
New York	47	32	.595	Boston	42	42	.500
Chicago	47	39	.547	Brooklyn	36	43	.456
Pit'urgh	43	38	.531	Ph'delphia	36	46	.439
St. Louis	43	40	.518	Cincinnati	35	49	.417

YESTERDAY'S RESULTS.

Philadelphia 3; St. Louis 2 (10 innings).
Boston 0; Chicago 4.
(Others postponed, rain).

TODAY'S GAMES.

Philadelphia at St. Louis (2).
New York at Cincinnati (2).
Pittsburgh at Brooklyn.
Boston at Chicago.

INTERNATIONAL.

THE STANDINGS.

CLUBS—	W.	L.	Pct.	CLUBS—	W.	L.	Pct.
Newark	38	30	.904	Montreal	46	49	.484
Rochester	35	41	.573	Albany	44	54	.449
Toronto	35	42	.567	Buffalo	42	55	.433
Baltimore	50	49	.505	Jersey City	35	57	.380

YESTERDA "S RESULTS.

Albany 6-4; Toronto 5-2.
Baltimore 13; Rochester 6.
Jersey City 7; Buffalo 3.
Newark 5; Montreal 7.

TODAY'S GAMES.

Newark at Montreal.
Jersey City at Buffalo.
Baltimore at Rochester.
(Only games scheduled.)

ASSOCIATION.

THE STANDINGS.

CLUBS—	W.	L.	Pct.	CLUBS—	W.	L.	Pct.
Columbus	52	33	.612	Toledo	44	46	.489
Minnaplis	50	40	.556	Louisville	42	46	.477
St. Paul	48	44	.522	Milwaukee	37	48	.435
Indnapls	44	42	.512	Kans. City	37	55	.402

YESTERDAY'S RESULTS.

Columbus 5-12; Milwaukee 1-1.
Indianapolis 2; St. Paul 5.
Louisville 4; Minneapolis 5.
Toledo 5; Kansas City 9.

TODAY'S GAMES.

Toledo at Kansas City (2).
Columbus at Milwaukee (2).
Indianapolis at St. Paul (2).
Louisville at Minneapolis (2).

PIEDMONT LEAGUE.

THE STANDINGS.

CLUBS—	W.	L.	Pct.	CLUBS—	W.	L.	Pct.
Wilm'ton	10	5	.667	Durham	7	7	.500
Richmond	7	6	.538	Greensboro	5	7	.417
Charlotte	8	7	.533	Win.-Salem	3	8	.273

YESTERDAY'S RESULTS.

Charlotte 12-7; Richmond 1-6.
Durham 1-0; Wilmington 4-2.

TODAY'S GAMES.

No Sunday games.

GEORGIA STATE.

THE STANDINGS.

CLUBS—	W.	L.	Pct.	CLUBS—	W.	L.	Pct.
Mil'geville	5	1	.833	Americus	2	3	.400
Albany	4	2	.667	Macon	2	4	.333
Columbus	3	2	.600	Barnesville	1	5	.167

YESTERDAY'S RESULTS.

Macon 2-9; Milledgeville 3-4.
Americus 2-3; Columbus 1-4.
Barnesville 3-10; Albany 2-3.

TODAY'S GAMES.

No Sunday games.

FOTHERGILL'S START.

Bloomington, of the old Three-I league, gave Fothergill his start. That was back in 1920, and already Bob Roy was beginning to show the tendency toward corpulence.

SANDLOT TEAMS IN FAST RACE

The biggest upset in the past week's play between the sandlotters was the Chosewood-Robins' game last Friday with the Chosewood Wildcats winning, 9 to 5. The Chosewood clan, until Friday, hadn't scored a victory in five starts and had been beaten several times by unusually large scores.

In the game with the Grant Park Aces, the Aces made a football score, running up a total of 40 runs, while Chosewood wasn't able to get a hit or a run. Although the Robins haven't won but two games, one of the games lost was lost by one run and that was to the Cubs, who are in third place in standing.

The Wildcats did a good comeback by winning their last two games played with the Cardinals and Adair, after losing to the Cubs, 8-3. Adair has been the only team to beat the Cubs other than the Aces, who are in first place. The Cardinals beat Adair, 23-4.

The Cardinals have had their share of tough luck this season. In the three games they have lost they haven't been beaten by more than one run. They have played both the Braves and the Aces only to lose out by the jinx one run. In the other three games which they won they have run a total of 63 runs and have had only 14 runs scored on them, which is a good record.

Tomorrow's game, between the Aces and the Braves, is for the South Side lead.

The standings:

SOUTH SIDE.

	Won.	Lost.	Pct.
Aces	6	0	1.000
Braves	5	0	1.000
Cubs	4	2	.667
Wildcats	3	3	.500
Cardinals	3	3	.500
Adair	3	3	.500
Robins	2	4	.333
Indians	2	4	.333
Chosewood	1	5	.167
Tigers	0	5	.000

NORTH SIDE.

	Won.	Lost.	Pct.
Terrors	4	0	1.000
Rebels	3	1	.775
Trojans	1	3	.250
Crackers	0	4	.000

Allen and Dunn Battle Thursday

Frankie Allen, popular Atlanta middleweight and holder of the southern title, is going out of his class to meet Dynamite Dunn, colorful West Point battler, at East Point, Thursday night.

Frankie Allen has beat Ted Goodrich, Marshall Cardwell, Spike Webb, Rufus Miles and holds a kayo over Baby Stribling. Dynamite Dunn has beat Johnny Gibbons, Red Baker, Berry Baggett, Wild Bill Cox and only last week scored an impressive victory over Frank Mackey who has been the sensation of Fort Benning.

In the semi-finals Chink Tarpley, Fort McPherson welterweight, will take on James Hanson, "The East Point Express." These boys have battled before, and this is sure to be a whirlwind fight.

In the main preliminary bout Ben Brown will take on Wild Louis Simril, of Atlanta. Two four-rounders will open the card. Popular prices will prevail.

Skeet Club Shoots Today at Fort Range

Another of a series of regular Sunday afternoon skeet shoots will be held at 3 o'clock this afternoon at the Atlanta Southern Skeet Club traps on Campbellton road.

Today's shoot will be the first of several events leading to the Captain Hicks registered shoot scheduled for August 6. The registered shoot has been moved from August 11 to August 6.

Flint River

PALMETTO STILL LEADS.

Palmetto retained its lead in the Flint River league by defeating Rex, 7 to 3. Rex had one good inning, making their three runs in the sixth. Hayes hit two for four, as did Harrington, of the winners. Ellington gave up seven hits and struck out five men.

For Rex D. Cook knocked two doubles, Scarboro hit two singles and Chapps added two more. Chapps struck out six batters.

Palmetto	000	100	330	7	10	0
Rex	000	000	003	3	7	0

Ellington and Pope; Chapps and Morgan.

ENGLAND WINS, FACES AMERICA IN SEMI-FINALS

Bunny Austin Beats Australian To Give Britishers Cup Victory.

By Robert C. Dawson,

United Press Staff Correspondent.

WIMBLEDON, England, July 15. (UP)—The Davis cup inter-zone finals of 1931 will be re-enacted next week at Auteuil, France, when England and the United States clash for the privilege of meeting the French team in the challenge round.

The British marched to the final series today as the smooth-stroking Henry Wilfred (Bunny) Austin won the deciding match against Australia in the European zone finals.

With the score two matches to one in favor of the English, Austin whipped the youthful Vivian McGrath, 6-4, 7-5, 6-3, to send the British forces into the finals after one of the closest European zone battles in Davis cup history.

JUST A MATCH.

Austin's victory turned the Jack Crawford-Harold Lee match which followed into nothing more than an exhibition. Crawford, Australia's new Wimbledon titleholder, won his second match of the series by defeating his English opponent, 8-6, 7-5, 6-4.

Crawford's pair of singles victories were the only wins scored by the team from "down under." The result, as had been predicted, rested on the outcome of the doubles match, which England won yesterday after splitting Thursday's singles.

The inter-zone finals will be played next Friday, Saturday and Sunday. In 1931, Britain won this series, but lost out in the challenge round with France.

The English team that opposes the United States will be the same one that defeated Australia—Fred Perry, Austin, Harold Lee and George Patrick Hughes.

The United States lineup calls for Ellsworth Vines, national titleholder, and Wilmer Allison, doughty Texan, taking a pair of singles assignments, and George Lott and Johnny Van Ryn, playing the doubles.

VINES SAFE BET.

Vines, it is agreed, is a safe bet to win two singles engagements, but the results of the other three matches seem to be toss-ups.

Although he won in straight sets today, Austin had quite a tussle with the youngster from the kangaroo country. During much of the match McGrath forced the pace, bombarding the Englishman with lightning drives and scoring with his two-fisted backhand returns. He led 4 to 1 in the first set and 4-2 in the second, but both times Austin rallied and took the match in straight sets.

Austin, wearing white shorts, played a careful, consistent and accurate game. He stayed close to the base line and only occasionally raced in to the net to make a kill.

His deep shots were well placed and often dropped squarely onto toe far corners, while scoring occasional cross-count passing drives.

In the match that followed, Perry was supposed to have played Crawford, but a last-minute switch sent Lee against the Australian. It was understood that Perry, one of the stronger members of the English team, was withdrawn because his team had already won the series.

City Pools Safer, Red Cross Shows

Atlanta's municipal swimming pools are the safest places in Atlanta for swimming, both as to health and safety from drowning, according to an announcement made by Red Cross officials, which followed a recent survey of the swimming pools, made in preparation for their Swim Week, to be conducted next week at Piedmont park, beginning Monday.

According to a report from W. H. Edwards Jr., city sanitary engineer, the water in the pools is tested every week for purity and is treated according to directions given by the sanitary department. Edwards stated that their tests have always shown the water to be in good condition.

For the past several years the city swimming pools have been guarded by members of the Red Cross life-saving service. These lifeguards are thoroughly trained for their work and are given instructions by field representatives who are sent to Atlanta every year from Washington.

During the past four years Swim Weeks have been conducted at Piedmont park for the purpose of teaching persons to swim and to save lives. During this period over 500 persons have been qualified as members of the American Red Cross life-saving service, and these people can be seen in the Atlanta pools daily.

Anyone who wishes to take advantage of these courses and failed to register at the regular office can do so at the Piedmont park. Miss Margaret Fetner, executive secretary, will be at the pool to register those wishing to enter. Her office will open at 8:30 o'clock Monday morning.

Babe Ruth Adds Two Homers to Record

NEW YORK, July 15.—(AP)—Babe Ruth planted his twenty-third home run of the season into the right-field bleachers with Dixie Walker on board. The Babe's drive came off the right-handed slants of Milton Gaston in the fifth inning of the White Sox-Yankee game.

Ruth socked his second home run of the game and his twenty-fourth of the season in the seventh inning. The bases were empty when the blow was made off Whitlow Wyatt's delivery.

Southern League

ROCKS 3; PELS 2.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., July 15.—The Travelers scored two runs in the last half of the 11th inning tonight and defeated New Orleans, 3 to 2.

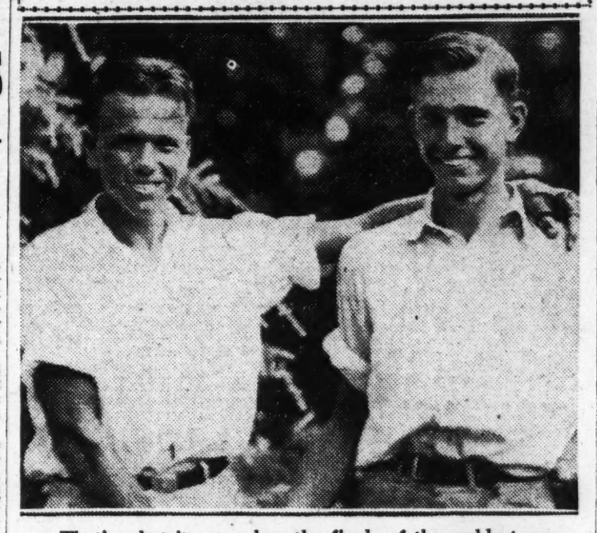

NEW. OR.	ab.	h.	po.	a.	L. ROCK.	ab.	h.	po.	a.
E.Moore,3b	6	2	1	3	Bray,2b	4	1	5	2
Oulliber,rf	6	1	4	0	Tapson,3b	3	0	0	1
Morgan,1b	5	1	15	0	Sturdy,1b	5	0	9	0
Rose,lf	5	2	2	0	Fisher,rf	3	0	3	0
Ward,cf	5	1	3	0	Wright,lf	2	0	0	0
Autry,c	5	1	3	0	Gerken,cf	2	0	3	0
Berger,2b	2	0	1	7	Brown,cf-lf	4	2	3	0
Knothe,ss	4	1	2	3	Akers,ss	5	1	2	4
Galehouse,p	4	1	0	4	Styles,c	5	1	6	0
					Cantrell,p	3	1	0	4
Totals	42	10	z31	17	Totals	36	6	33	11

zOne out when winning run scored.

New Orleans	000	010	000	01—2
Little Rock	000	000	100	02—3

Runs, Morgan, Berger, Fisher, Gerken, Akers; errors, Moore, Morgan, Autry, Knothe 2, Akers; runs batted in, E. Moore, Rose, Akers, Styles, Cantrell; two-base hits, Morgan, Galehouse; stolen bases, Tapson 2; sacrifices, Knothe, Bray, Gerken, Cantrell; left on bases, New Orleans 12, Little Rock 10; base on balls, off Galehouse 3, Cantrell 4; struck out by Galehouse 2, Cantrell 5. Umpires, Deberry and Ainsmith. Time of game, 2:16.

A Family Affair

That's what it was when the finals of the caddy tournament came around Friday. Hoke Cooley defeated his brother, Joe, in the finals to win the championship. Joe is on the left with Hoke, right. Staff photo by Rogers.

THE SPORTLIGHT

By Grantland Rice

More Lines to Mr. Ruth.

Countless odes I've written,
Sonnets I have spun;
Roundelays have filled my days
Since you were twenty-one;
But still your bludgeon hammers
A sonnet none can write—
A battered sphere that millions cheer
When sailing out of sight.

Who will write our poems?
No one seems to care,
While the crash of swinging ash
Re-echoes on the air;
When your bludgeon's silenced,
Answering our dreams
Who will fill the lyric thrill
Of ash against the seams?

The Italian Front.

Just what Premier Mussolini has had to do with it all may be debatable, but the fact remains that in the last year or so Italy has contributed her full share to the sporting front.

As a starter, there is one Primo Carnera, now heavyweight champion of the world.

Only a year ago Gene Sarazen, of Italian descent, held both the American and British golf crowns and he came closer than a gnat's eyelash to retaining his overseas title. And Tony Lazzeri's crop of home runs hasn't hurt the Yankees a bit.

Two of the leading features of the last Olympic games, less than a year ago, were Italy's startling blue-shirted crew, which came within six inches of beating California, and Beccali's record-breaking run in the 1,500 meters, where he set a mark that may hang around for some time.

At least no one has come any too close to the figures set by the Milan clerk.

These various episodes have stirred up new sporting interest along the Italian front. Mussolini is a keen believer in sporting competition and you will hear more and more from Italy in this respect in the next few years.

The Mysterious Sharkey.

There is always one thing you can tell about Jack Sharkey, and that is no one can tell what his next move or mood may be.

In the midst of a championship scramble Sharkey fought but little and even this little annoyed him.

Now, with his title gone, he plans to face King Levinsky in Chicago, Tommy Loughran and Steve Hamas in New York; Max Schmeling, in Miami, and Max Baer anywhere the battle can be placed.

His present program calls for the busiest season in the heavyweight division. And after the stuff he fired at Carnera, in direct contrast to his Schmeling affair, he will be a first-class card.

Just how anyone can get the idea that fighters fighting once a year, can be anywhere near peak form is something of a mystery. That once-a-year-stand is no good for any game.

Carnera and Baer may make the same mistake. If so, neither will be as good a year from now as both are today. They must either keep rustling or they rust.

Barry Wood's Best Game.

Barry Wood's reappearance under the sporting spotlight at Longwood recalls the fact that tennis would have been his best game if the all-around Harvard entry had only given it more time.

This comes from one of Wood's best friends—"You know how well Barry played football, baseball and hockey. But he was better in tennis than he was in any other sport. In fact, I feel sure that if Barry had concentrated on tennis he would have been national champion. He was a better prospect than Ellsworth Vines, but he was mixed up in too many other sports to have much time left for his best game.

"Wood liked football, baseball and hockey because they are all team games. He liked the team idea over the individual test. He was good in all these sports. But he had everything a tennis star needs—the strokes, the speed and reach—the head work and the competitive spirit. It was merely a question of too little time for play or practice in this game through his four Harvard years."

Most tennis or golf stars concentrate on the one sport. Bobby Jones never gave either time or attention to another sport. Every muscle he had was developed along the lines of swinging a golf club.

Walter Hagen gave up a promising baseball career for golf and Sammy Byrd, of the Yankees, gave up a promising golf career for baseball.

The modern pace has grown too fast to work out many combinations in the upper strata of the championship list.

The Pitching Factor.

In spite of their recent slump, the one factor that should keep the Giants in the running all the way through is good pitching.

It is no easy matter to keep beating Hubbell, Schumacher, Fitzsimmons and Parmalee indefinitely.

In the same way, the one factor that makes the Cardinals the best National league bet is pitching—plus a better punch.

But when there are five clubs that can still win a penuant with July slipping along, it might be just as well to sit back and peer at the panorama for a while and let the standing of the clubs furnish its own answer.

'GRANDPA' WINS FOR CRACKERS

Continued from First Sport Page

pace. He pitched masterfully to the corners and the simple matter of a man getting a hit off him ruffled him not the slightest. In four of the nine innings the first Chattanooga batter up reached the veteran for a hit and only in one of those innings did they score—when Gill poled his first home run over the second tier of signs in right in the third.

A misjudged ball by Hunt, the new right fielder, got Caldwell in trouble to start that inning. Waddey's drive going over his head for a double. Travis singled to right to score Waddey and then Caldwell uncorked the only poor pitch of the game, a ball right in Johnny Gill's slot which he knocked over the signs for a homer.

In the eighth Waddey singled and Mihalic beat out a bunt down the third-base line. Travis forced Mihalic for the second out (Moore had flied to Hunt to open the inning) and then Gill hit his second home run in almost the same spot. But Gill hits homers on the best of them. And at that, Caldwell was pitching against a team with its punch in left-handed batters—Waddey, Travis, Gill, Maple and Monohan.

CALDWELL KICKS.

Caldwell kicked several times because Umpire Pol McLarry, back of the plate, refused to give him the corners on a pitch. And he was right. In the fifth, Caldwell gave probably his best exhibition of pitching when, after Monohan singled, he struck out Henseik, only to have Scrappy Moore beat out an infield hit. He then forced Waddey to hit into a lightning reverse double play, Susko to Chatham to Susko. It was one of two double play balls he pitched. In the first, Waddey singled with one out, but Michalic fired one into a double out, Dashiell to Chatham to Susko.

The Crackers, with a slightly shuffled lineup, finding Joe Bonowitz in left, McKee in center and Hunt in right, with Sheerin playing third, did some consistent hitting against Phil Henseik, Bert Niehoff's starter, whom they reached for all their runs. They touched him for four in the first, one in the fourth and three in the fifth. McKee and Sheerin batting in five of the tallies.

BONOWITZ HITS.

Bonowitz continued to hit with his customary consistency, getting two singles. Hunt, the new man, had a rather inauspicious debut, going hitless and fielding in a rather jittery fashion in right. He dropped one fly—a foul by Monohan—right in his glove and misjudged Waddey's double badly. He hit one long ball, however, a towering fly that Waddey dropped in the first, letting Susko score.

The Crackers, thank to Caldwell, got an even break in the four-game series. The Lookouts won their two Friday when Bert Niehoff manipulated his overworked pitching staff cleverly. The Crackers go to Nashville today with Kleinhans scheduled to pitch. Red Rollings and Freddy Sington go along. Rollings will be placed back on the roster Tuesday, while Sington was never taken off. Pitcher Wolf Larsen was put on the roster yesterday and Pitchers Meadows and Holloway suspended.

VINES AT PEAK FOR NEXT ROUND; OTHERS ARE O. K.

U.S. Stars in Great Shape for British, Says Noted Coach.

By Mercer Beasley,

Princeton Tennis Coach.

(Copyright, 1933, by the North American Newspaper Alliance, Inc.)

PARIS, July 15.—The chances of the American Davis cup team appear to be getting brighter every day. Ellsworth Vines will be a better Vines in the final zone matches. What was troubling him at Wimbledon should not do so here.

His returns of service as well as backhand passing shots are coming along nicely. He has had two days of rest since the Wimbledon matches and is now ready to apply the finishing touches to his great game. In fact, all men on the team are in fine physical condition. They seem happy and have no complaints.

PRENTICE WORKS.

Bernon Prentice, Davis cup captain, has attended to everything that could possibly benefit the players. They have the proper food, special drinking water, comfortable, quiet sleeping quarters and a very good rubber at the tennis stadium; everything to carry through the big undertaking. Prentice deserves much credit for his thoughtfulness. So does Laurence Baker, his assistant.

The daily round starts with practice at 10 o'clock. This work entails for the doubles team of Lott and Van Ryn return of service, passing plays and lobs. Then they practice volleys. Much attention is given to defensive plays.

For Vines and Allison practice has been all on the court game; Allison devoting much time to backhand ground strokes. He has brought his game up to a high standard of accuracy and is playing good tennis. Not as good as he should be in three or four days, but this is the good point about the whole system. The men are not over-tennised. No strained effort or do-or-die feeling prevails.

FINE TO WATCH.

The smoothness of the entire squad's play is fine to watch. Members of the team show keen intelligent understanding of just what is expected of them and respond in fine manner to every request.

Gledhill has been out every day with the other players, and his game is very good. He plays with either Allison or Vines, and then teams with Allison for a doubles match.

Next week the afternoon play will be longer, and everything in shape for rest the day before the final zone matches start Friday. It does not seem to make any difference to the players here who they meet in these zone matches. Vines wants to play Crawford, Perry, Austin or Hughes. There has been little discussion over America's chances against either Australia or England, among the players. They are getting their games ready to meet the best of opposition.

SERVICE RETURNS.

I understand Borotra is the key to the French situation. He has not stated that he will play in the singles matches. The opposition brought by England will have to be treated as an individual case, and after that, if a win is recorded, we must solve the French strategy. The whole matter, as I see it, will rest on the ability of the American players to return service. In either the singles or doubles matches the break through will prevail.

In the coming matches a short return of service cannot be used in singles unintentionally, nor can doubles return of service be driven at top speed through two good volleyers. The Americans are working on this right along.

The Americans hear from many of the French people that this is America's year to win. Yet the French will fight. But some of the French expect to meet the English team in the challenge round. Rumors, however, have not worried the American players. They are happy to be able to do their best.

Vines Will Miss Shot at Crawford.

PARIS, July 15.—(AP)—The United States Davis Cup team, with the exception of Ellsworth Vines, today expressed satisfaction of Great Britain's victory over Australia in the European zone final.

Vines, who was defeated by Jack Crawford in the Wimbledon finals, was eager to get another shot at the Australian ace.

George Lott and John Van Ryn, the prospective American doubles combination, worked out against the South African, Nat Farquharson, and Marcel Bernard, of France, but after the Americans had won the first two games with the loss of only one point rain forced the postponement of the match.

Ring Cards

MORELAND

MOORE WINNER OF TATE TITLE

Continued From First Page.

Bobby Jones, who will arrive here Sunday afternoon.

The young professional will leave Highlands Wednesday or Thursday for Raleigh.

PAPER TOURNEY.

Qualifying rounds for Atlanta's annual newspaper golf tournament will end Monday on the Druid Hills course.

Match play will start Tuesday and continue during the remainder of the week. One match was slated for each week during the tourney, but that plan was changed and one match will be played Tuesday, another on either Wednesday or Thursday and the other on Friday.

Finals in the championship and consolation flight will be played next week.

FOUR PLAYERS TIE.

Four players, Ralph McClelland Jr., H. J. Hopkins, P. D. McCarley and Tommy Robertson, finished in a tie for first place in the regular Saturday afternoon bogey tournament for members of the East Lake club. They had scores of 78.

Second place also was well divided when E. S. Humphries, W. Calloway, H. T. Dobbs, A. N. Perkerson, Charlie Yates, P. G. Lombard, J. J. McGeary and L. A. Scott finished only one stroke away from the leaders.

HANBY BEATS VICKERY.

B. M. Hanby defeated Jack Vickery, 1 up, in a quarter-final match of the Piedmont Park golf association club championship tourney Saturday afternoon. Hanby meets Josh Davis today in a semi-final match of the championship flight.

E. A. Brown defeated Cy Rexford, 1 up, in the first flight, Gus Ware beat Ed Hulse, 4-3, in the third flight, and Foster Fitzsimmons beat J. J. Allen, 4-3 in the fourth flight.

All remaining semi-final matches in each flight will be played this afternoon, as the finals are slated for next week.

EAST LAKE.

Qualifying rounds for the annual club handicap tournament for members of the East Lake club have been extended through next Saturday afternoon, it was announced by members of the tournament committee. The qualifying was scheduled to end today, but due to many of the players being out of the city during the week end, it was extended a week longer.

WOMEN PLAY.

A one-day medal tournament for members of the Atlanta Woman's Golf association will be played Tuesday morning on the Druid Hills course.

Legion To Sponsor Venetian Tank Meet

An inter-community swimming meet, sponsored by the Harold Byrd post of the American Legion, will be held at the Venetian Athletic Club Saturday, August 5.

The meet will be held under auspices of the A. A. U., and teams representing Atlanta, Decatur, College Park, Buckhead, Eastpoint and Brookhaven are expected to enter.

First, second and third prizes will be awarded. The various events will include senior events for men and women; junior events for boys and girls; diving and relay teams; free style events up to 200 yards and breast and back stroke contests.

The meet will start in the afternoon and continue in the evening. Underwater lights of the pool will give the evening performance an added attraction.

Walter Baker, manager of the club, said a great deal of enthusiasm was being shown by entrants in swimming meets sponsored by the club and he was planning on making the August contest one of the best in the club's history.

Gus Sonnenberg Agrees to Divorce

LOS ANGELES, July 15.—(AP)—Gus Sonnenberg, heavyweight wrestler, and his movie actress wife, have agreed that they should be divorced. He will establish residence in Nevada.

The agreement was reached last night in a hospital where Sonnenberg is recovering from injuries received in a match. His wife, the former Marie Eliot, of eastern society, who is known in screen work as Judith Allen and Mari Colman, sat beside him as the former Dartmouth football player said:

"I hate to lose this little girl but like she says, we just can't make a go of marriage with me 'working' all around the country. She's been my whole life."

Miss Allen bade her husband a hearty good-bye and returned to her Hollywood apartment to find a sneak thief had entered, ransacked the place and appropriated a small amount of cash.

CALDWELL SHOWS HE CAN STILL PITCH

Continued from First Sport Page

at Charlotte and pitched there until Johnny had to let him go. He came here on Dobbs' recommendation.

GREAT CAREER.

Caldwell has had one of the most remarkable careers in baseball. Along with John Pincus Quinn, recently released by Cincinnati, Red Faber of the White Sox and a few others, he is the oldest active pitcher in baseball. He was a star with the Yankees back in 1909. Later, in 1920, he helped Jim Bagby and Stanley Coveleskie pitch Cleveland to a pennant. He appeared in the world series that year aginst Wilbert Robinson's Brooklyn Dodgers.

He drifted into the Southern league back in 1927 and pitched winning ball for the late Joe Cantillon at Little Rock. In 1929 he participated in 299 innings with that club and had a fine season. For two Birmingham teams in 1930 and 1931 he won 20 and 19 games, respectively. Then last year he got the wrenched knee.

KNEE IS WELL.

Yesterday, as he beat Chattanooga for Atlanta, there was no evidence of the knee trouble. The veteran scampered over to first base as nimbly as you please to cover first base in the seventh on Monohan's grounder. He went to bat three times and got on base twice. Once he was run down in a chase. Still the knee held up.

It is too bad that baseball hasn't a Century of Progress exhibit at the world's fair in Chicago. Old Man Caldwell would surely take the prize.

FOTHERGILL JOVIAL.

Like most big men, Fothergill is of a jovial nature. He likes his laughs—and who doesn't. However, Bob was no laughing matter as a ball player. When he made a circus catch he caught the ball, and the way he could lam that apple!

AMATEUR BASEBALL

CHATTAHOOCHEE.

Lanett defeated Shawmut, 2 to 1. Lanett scored one in the second and one in the eighth to win. Parks' double and Parrish's single accounted for the first run and Newnan's triple and Prince's single were responsible for the other.

Shawmut scored in the second when Henry and Burnett singled and Henry scored on Yates' sacrifice fly. Kent relieved Parks in the sixth.

Langdale won over Fairfax, also by 2 to 1. Langdale scored two runs off seven hits. Geeter and Statham, with two hits apiece, starred for Langdale. Scheusler struck out 14 Fairfax men, Geeter 5.

Both teams scored in the sixth. For Langdale, Morris singled, Frazier doubled and Jenkins singled. Singles by Frazier, Wade and Johnson accounted for Fairfax's run.

GEORGIA LEAGUE.

RED OAK BUMPS EPWORTH.

Led by the Sloan brothers, D. and J., Red Oak Baptist slugged out an 8-to-4 victory over Epworth Methodist. Anderson, winning hurler, fanned 10 batters. The victors pulled four fast twin killings, while the losers made three. Wade and Harper hit best for the losers. Five miscues in the early stages gave Red Oak a big lead.

Red Oak Bapt. .. 042 001 100—8 21 2
Epworth Meth. ... 200 200 000—4 10 5

Anderson and Adcock; Carroll and Jones. Umpire, Morgan.

UNDERWOOD BLANKED.

"Lefty" Davis, hurling for Gate City Methodist, limited Underwood Methodist to three hits, while his mates were garnering 13 for a 12-to-0 victory. Green, third sacker, secured all the losers' bingles, hitting safely on all but one trip to the plate. Wright hit best for Gate City with three out of four.

Underwood Meth. . 000 000 000— 0 3 2
Gate City ..... 023 061 00x—12 13 1

Kennerly and Arthur; Davis and Jones. Umpire, Wagner.

Porterdale forfeited to the Gleaner Class.

DIXIE LEAGUE.

SIXTEEN INNINGS.

Felix Taylor hit for the circuit with one man on to give Kirkwood Baptist a 16-inning 4-to-2 victory over Northwest Atlanta Saturday. Homer Carter went the full route for the victors, while Odis Fuller did all the mound work for the losers. Bryant, third-sacker of the victors, got four hits in six tries. A home run with one man on by Ruben Smith, of Northwest Atlanta, tied the count in the fifth frame. Carter whiffed nine while Fuller whiffed but four.

N. W. Atl. 000 020 000 000 000 0—2 11 1
Kirkwood . 000 020 000 000 000 2—4 12 1

Fuller and Herron; Carter and Morrow. Umpire, Anchors.

CALVARY FORFEITS.

Calvary Methodist could muster but eight eligible players at game time, so were forced to forfeit to Pattillo Memorial.

SEWANEE LEAGUE.

BEST IN SLUGGING.

East End Methodist beat Hills Park Baptist in a slugging match, securing 19 hits while the Baptist boys collected an even dozen, to win, 14 to 10. Hollis, with two singles, a double and triple, paced the victors, while Fuller, of Hills Park, hit three singles and a double for a perfect day. Forrest and Pate, of East End, also hit well.

East End Meth... 000 272 300—14 19 1
Hills Park Bapt. 101 030 500—10 12 1

Kingston and Hollis; Duncan, McFinney and Dodgen. Umpire, Butcher.

LOSE PERFECT RECORD.

Ousley Chapel marred the perfect record of Pattillo Memorial's No. 2 baseball team by handing them an 8-to-2 licking. Much credit for the victory goes to Macon Scott and Martin Maddox. "Lefty" Edge held the losers to three hits and fanned seven. The playing of Garwin in left and Lee Richards behind the plate was the big feature of the losers.

Pattillo No. 2..... 100 000 100—2 3 1
Ousley Chapel ..... 022 020 20x—8 10 0

Jersey, Maher and Richards; Edge and Flatuea. Umpire, Southard.

WIN CLOSE BATTLE.

The hurling of Bill Evans gave Antioch Baptist enough edge over Mt. Carmel Christian for a 3-to-2 victory. Although he permitted the same number of hits as his opponent, his ability to keep them separated gave his club victory. Dent, of the winners, and Williams and Victory, of the losers, divided hitting honors. Evans whiffed eight while Newsome fanned five.

Mt. Carmel ..... 000 200 000—2 8 1
Antioch ..... 100 020 000—3 8 3

Newsome and Williams; Evans and Moore.

PIEDMONT LEAGUE.

ROCKERS WIN ANOTHER.

Butcher pitched his usual brand of ball and Rock Springs Presbyterian defeated Peachtree Baptist, 4 to 2. Spence's triple drove in the two runs. Booker fanned eight while J. Dunn fooled five.

Rock Springs ..... 030 000 010—4 8 2
Peachtree Bapt. .. 200 000 000—2 7 2

Booker and Spence; J. Dunn and Aycock. Umpire, Allgood.

NORTH ATLANTA WINS.

North Atlanta Baptist defeated Virginia Avenue Baptist, 7 to 2. Gibson wielded a big willow for the winners, hitting safely on three of his four attempts.

Va. Ave. Bapt..... 011 000 000—2 8 3
North Atlanta .... 230 000 20x—7 9 3

Phillipps and Thompson; Spence and Gibson. Umpire, Jenkins.

LONG BATTLE.

With one out in the fourteenth inning, Inman Yards shoved over a run to defeat Woodlawn Presbyterian, 4 to 3. Both clubs scored three runs in the tenth frame. Gorman, of the victors, and Krieder, of the losers, pitched the full route. H. Adams, Gramling and Gorman hit three times for the winners, while Daniels was the only one of the losers to connect for more than one safe blow.

Woodlawn Pr. 000 000 000 300 00—3 9 1
Inman Yards . 000 000 000 300 01—4 14 3

Gorman and H. Adams; Krieder and Speaks.

SCOTT LEAGUE.

A. & P. LEADS.

A. & P. nosed out Black and White Cab, 17 to 15, to assume the undisputed lead in the Scott league. Casey and Mitchell both hit five for six, and Hutchinson four for five. Frix, of Black and White, hit four for five. Ellis hit a homer and Casey and Frix hit triples.

A. & P. ..... 102 750 110—17 25 4
Black and White .300 008 022—15 17 6

Cook, Mitchell and D. Patterson; Howard, Massey and Ellis.

GAYLORDS WIN.

Gaylord swamped Railway Mail, 17 to 1, in a one-sided slugfest Saturday. Pete Williams knocked two home runs out of three times up, and Hammond hit four for five. Sappenfield hit three for five. White allowed five hits.

Railway Mail ...000 1 00 000—1 5 4
Gaylord ..... 000 10 05 20x—17 19 1

Billingsley, Hooten and Rogers; White and Hammond.

SOUTHERN LOSES.

Standard Oil won its first game of the second half from Southern Railway, 6 to 1. It was the first game Southern Railway has lost this year and Ford, hurling for Standard, deserves credit for the victory. He gave up five hits and struck out five. Scarborough led the hitting with three out of four for the winners, and Pirkle had the same record for the losers.

Southern Railway ... 100 000 000—1 5 4
Standard Oil ..... 102 001 20x—6 11 1

Morris, Royston and Austin; Ford and Cruce.

WESTERN LEAGUE.

OAKLAND CITY WINS.

Oakland City Methodists took both games of a twin bill from the New Antioch Baptists by scores of 13 to 6 and 11 to 3. The Methodists were leading by one run in the sixth inning when Ford cleaned the bases with a two-bagger down the first base line to start a six-run rally. Cannon pitched a good game for the winners and gave up nine hits. Paul Coker and Charley Burton hit best for the Methodists with three for five. Wheeler hit best for Antioch with three for four.

New Antioch ....210 000 003— 6 9 1
Oakland City Meth. 300 016 30x—13 15 0

Cannon and Ford; Edwards, T. Osborne and Wheeler.

Bill Coker starred in the second game with a homer, triple and a single out of four trips to the plate. H. Edwards, of Antioch, hit two for three.

Oakland City Meth. ...031 141 1—11 14 0
New Antioch .....000 012 0— 3 8 0

GIDEONS WIN TWO.

The Gordon Street Gideons took a doubleheader from the Stewart Avenue Methodists at Chisolm park to remain undefeated in the second half of the schedule. The scores were 9 to 7 and 4 to 1. Baldwin hit best for the Gideons.

Gideons .....000 002 340—9 8 3
Stewart Avenue .....011 002 30x—7 8 1

Capes and Stephenson; Painter and Acree.

Stewart ..... 010 000—1 5 0
Gideons ..... 004 00x—4 8 3

Whitney and Stephenson; Miller and Aiken.

BEN HILL LOSES.

Ben Burton's Central Christians walloped Ben Hill, 14 to 4, in a ragged game. The Christians pounded out 11 hits. Fowler, of Central, allowed but six hits and fanned five men.

Central Christians . 300 530 01x—14 11 1
Ben Hill ..... 200 010 01x— 4 6 7

Fowler and Pourron; Waits and Bryant.

SOUTHERN LEAGUE.

SHARON UPSET.

Mayson Methodists upset the Sharon Baptists, 9 to 6. Sharon outhit the Maysons, 12 to 7, but lost the game. Etheridge, of Mayson, hit two for three with Arnold, of Sharon, doing likewise.

Mayson Meth. .....201 002 121—9 7 1
Sharon Bapt. .....001 300 020—6 12 2

Miller and Bruton; Evans and Humphries.

FORFEITED GAME.

Park Street Methodists won by forfeit from the Immanuel Baptists.

STANDINGS.

SEWANEE LEAGUE.

	Won.	Lost.	Pct.
Ousley Chapel	2	1	.666
Pattillo Memorial No. 2	2	1	.666
Antioch Baptist	2	1	.666
Mt. Carmel Christian	2	1	.666
East End Methodist	1	2	.333
Hills Park Baptist	0	3	.000

GEORGIA LEAGUE.

	Won.	Lost.	Pct.
Red Oak Baptist	2	0	1.000
Gate City Methodist	2	0	1.000
Epworth Methodist	1	1	.500
Gleaner Class	1	1	.500
Underwood Methodist	0	2	.000
Porterdale	0	2	.000

DIXIE LEAGUE.

	Won.	Lost.	Pct.
Kirkwood Baptist	3	0	1.000
Pattillo Memorial	2	1	.666
Northwest Atlanta	2	1	.666
Grace Methodist	2	1	.666
Calvary	0	3	.000
Bye	0	3	.000

PIEDMONT LEAGUE.

	Won.	Lost.	Pct.
Rock Springs Presbyterian	3	0	1.000
Woodlawn Presbyterian	2	1	.666
North Atlanta Baptist	2	1	.666
Inman Yards	2	1	.666
Peachtree Baptist	0	3	.000
Virginia Avenue Baptist	0	3	.000

SCOTT LEAGUE.

	Won.	Lost.	Pct.
A. & P.	3	0	1.000
Southern Railway	2	1	.667
Gaylord	2	1	.667
Black and White	1	2	.333
Standard Oil	1	2	.333
Railway Mail	0	3	.000

WEST GEORGIA LEAGUE.

	Won.	Lost.	Pct.
Villa Rica	4	0	1.000
Dallas	4	1	.800
Canton	3	1	.750
Douglasville	2	1	.667
Smyrna	2	2	.500
Clarksdale	1	2	.333
Bowdon	0	3	.000
Marietta	0	5	.000

WESTERN LEAGUE.

	Won.	Lost.	Pct.
Gordon St. Gideons	8	0	1.000
Stewart Ave. Methodists	6	3	.667
Central Christians	6	3	.667
Oakland City Meth.	5	3	.625
New Antioch Baptists	3	6	.333
Ben Hill	2	5	.286
Central Bapt. J. O. Y. Class	1	6	.143

SOUTHERN LEAGUE.

	Won.	Lost.	Pct.
Lakewood Criterions	4	0	1.000
Mayson Methodists	3	1	.750
Sharon Baptists	2	2	.500
Park Street Meth.	2	2	.500
Immanuel Baptists	0	3	.000

FRANKIE PARKER DEFEATS SHIELDS

SPRING LAKE, N. J., July 15.—(AP)—Frankie Parker, of Milwaukee, recent winner of the national clay courts championship, today defeated Frank X. Shields, fifth ranking American player, in straight sets in the final round of the Spring Lake invitation tennis tournament. The score was 6-4, 6-4, 6-2.

There wasn't much in the way of competition to the match as Parker soft-balled his giant rival into submission. Parker crippled Shields' speed by feeding the New Yorker soft balls throughout the match, broke his volleying with well-directed returns to the base line and never gave him a chance to bring his famous smashing game into play.

In winning a leg on the Clifford Hemphill bowl, Parker accounted for his third title in a week as he also shared in the national clay courts doubles at Chicago.

Great Britain Wins Prentice Tennis Cup

NEWPORT, R. I., July 15.—(AP) Great Britain defeated the United States 12 matches to 8 today for possession of the Prentice tennis cup.

The players representing Cambridge and Oxford, of England, won five out of the nine matches played against Harvard and Yale on the casino courts.

There were no upsets and the tennis was considered mediocre. The most closely contested match was that in which Ray, of Harvard, defeated Frank, of Oxford, in the morning singles, 6-4, 2-6, 7-5.

The summary:

SINGLES.

J. W. Nuthall, Cambridge, defeated J. Upshur Moorehead, of Yale, 6-3, 6-2.

John Ray, of Harvard, defeated G. X. Frank, of Oxford, 6-4, 2-6, 7-5.

W. F. Miss, of Oxford, defeated Walter Arensberg, of Harvard, 6-2, 6-3.

S. E. Davenport, of Harvard, defeated D. S. Young, of Cambridge, 6-2, 0-6, 6-2.

D. G. Freshwater, of Cambridge, defeated E. J. Mile, of Yale, 8-6, 1-6, 7-5.

Robert Stewart, of Yale, defeated B. K. Burnett, of Oxford, 6-4, 1-6, 6-3.

DOUBLES.

Nuthall and Young, of Cambridge, defeated Davenport and Ray, of Harvard, 4-6, 6-0, 6-2.

Frank and Miss, of Oxford, defeated Moorehead and Arensberg, Harvard and Yale, 6-2, 6-4.

Miles and Stewart, of Yale, defeated Freshwater and Burnett, Oxford and Cambridge, 6-2, 6-2.

Foxx Hits His 26th Homer to Hold Lead

PHILADELPHIA, July 15.—(AP)—Jimmy Foxx, of the Philadelphia Athletics, major league home run leader, today hit his 26th homer of the season against the Detroit Tigers. The drive came in the second inning with no one on base.

Villa Rica Plays Buford Tuesday

VILLA RICA, Ga., July 15.—Villa Rica and Buford meet here Tuesday in the third game of the season between the two teams. The first two games were won by Buford.

The game that was to be played here last Tuesday was rained out in the first inning.

KING MEETS JOHNSON.

MIAMI, Fla., July 15.—(AP)—Joe King, of Lakeland, Fla., and Earl Johnson, of Miami, light-heavyweights, will meet in a 10-round bout here Monday night. The main event will be supported by two 10-round bouts. Johnny Albs, of Jacksonville, will meet Ray Woodward, of Miami, in one, and Joe Temes, of Ocala, and Jimmy Powell, of Macon, Ga., will meet in the other.

Home Runs

YESTERDAY.

Ruth, Yankees	2
Foxx, Athletics	1
Dickey, Yankees	1
Walker, Yankees	1
Ruffing, Yankees	1
Haas, White Sox	1
Stone, Tigers	1
Walker, Tigers	1

THE LEADERS.

Foxx, Athletics	26
Ruth, Yankees	24
Gehrig, Yankees	17
Klein, Phillies	17
Berger, Braves	16

LEAGUE TOTALS.

American	370
National	254
Total	624

BUXBY BEATEN IN FINAL ROUND

BROOKLINE, Mass., July 15.—(AP)—Dick Murphy, of Utica, N. Y., registered a straight-set victory over Martin Buxby, of Miami, today, in the forty-first competition for the famous Longwood Bowl trophy. The scores were 8-6, 6-4, 6-2.

Murphy, who has been playing in this event for several years, always before was chopped down by high-class competition in early rounds. He came here with the impressive record of gaining three finals in as many weeks this season and was given the top-ranking in the field.

The left-handed youth, who competed for Hamilton College in the recent intercollegiate tournament, had an easy passage through the preliminary rounds and played in steady fashion while waging his baseline battle with Buxby, who pressed from start to finish.

Nothing worked for the Miami youth and his eagerness constantly betrayed him. He tried every possible trick to overtake the cool-headed Murphy, who was content to play easily. Murphy was only able to earn 25 points against 23 for Buxby but he held his errors down to 79 against 97 for the southerner.

The doubles finale provided much better tennis and, in a gruelling five-set battle, Joe Coughlin, of San Francisco, and Henry Culley, of Santa Barbara, Cal., scored a 5-7, 6-2, 1-6, 6-4, 6-3 decision over Malcolm Hill, Newton, and Sam Fitch, of Brookline.

Alice Marble, of San Francisco, outplayed the top-seeded Carolin Babcock, of Los Angeles, by a wide margin to win the women's invitation singles final by 6-3, 6-4.

Both of these singles finalists appeared in the title team play and the tables were turned for Miss Babcock, paired with Mrs. Marjorie Gladman Van Ryn, of Orange, N. J., overhauled Miss Marble and Josephine Cruickshank, of Santa Ana, Cal., and won by scores of 4-6, 7-5, 6-3.

LAKEWOOD GETS MORE AAA RACES

Auto racing, such as was dished up at Lakewood park July 4, is coming back to Atlanta.

The dates are: Labor Day and Saturday, October 8.

The races will be the first annual AAA auto races on Labor Day and will likely be featured by a 50-mile sweepstakes.

Auto race day of the fair will probably see sprints and a 20 or 25-mile feature race, dependent on what goes on the course during the early days of the week.

"There has been a lot of talk about who or what killed auto racing in Atlanta," says Benton.

"It does not look to me after seeing July 4 races that racing was or is dead. It was just dormant.

"Southeastern Fair believes that the fans of Atlanta and the south will welcome the new regime which puts Lakewood on an AAA affiliation and which means the establishment of southern headquarters of Hankinson Speedways here and the possible establishment of an official Three-A southern dirt track championship class, retroactive to July 4 events.

"It is very evident to all concerned that the co-operating promotional organization knows what the public wants and Labor Day will surpass even the recent races. We are appreciative of the assistance rendered us by Ted Allen, of Washington, secretary of the contest board of the American Automobile Association, who has promised us he will be here for the fair.

Leaders in Texas Staging Hot Race

Washington and Purdy are having a great contest for the batting leadership in the Texas circuit. Washington in 93 games and 357 times at bat has collected 131 hits for a mark of .367, while little Pid in 72 games and 268 times up is one point behind the Fort Worth slugger with .366. Moses, of Galveston, with .335, is four points higher than Bennet, of Dallas, who leads his colleague, Bonura, who has .322, nine points. Fuller, Oklahoma City, is sixth with .319, two points ahead of Sheeley, of Beaumont. Fausett, Galveston, .313; Betterncourt, San Antonio, .311; Governor, Galveston, .310; Clifton, Beaumont, .310; Langford, .302, and Barrett, Fort Worth, are the other .300 batters.

Bonura is first in scoring, with 80 runs; Washington has the most hits, 131, and total bases, 195. Bejma leads in doubles with 33; Hostetler in triples, 14, and Bonura in home runs, 18. Washington has driven the most runs, 71, with Bonura, 64, second. Barrow, of Galveston, leads the pitchers, with 16 games won and only four lost. He has pitched 173 innings and but 52 runs have been scored against him. Greer and Payne, both of Houston, are second and third. The first with 15 victories and 5 defeats, and the second with 12 and 4.

Prince of Wales Beaten in Finals

SURREY, England, July 15.—(UP)—The Prince of Wales lost today in the final match of the parliamentary golf championship. He was defeated by George Lambert, liberal member of parliament, in a 36-hole match, 5 and 4. The prince gave a handicap of two holes on each of the rounds played this morning and this afternoon. Lambert led by two up after 18 holes of play.

Play was held on the Coombe Hill course at which Archie Compston is professional.

The prince wore an open-neck black and white checked flannel shirt and black and white checked plus-fours with gray stockings and black shoes. He donned a green pullover sweater and a pair of MacKintosh golfing trousers when rain interrupted play at the sixth hole.

Malloy and Bell Open Fair St. Arena

In the first of a series of wrestling and boxing matches promoted by Glenn Davis, former wrestler, at his new Fair street arena, opposite the James L. Key golf course, Tom Malley, Florida football player, meets a formidable foe in A. K. (Ding-Dong) Bell, former amateur light-heavyweight wrestler of the south, in the feature match.

Plenty of action is promised in the semi-windup match, which brings together the rugged Bill Crusselle, of Birmingham, and the veteran Jack McAdams, of Almand Park, in a 90-minute, two-out-of-three-falls match. In a match that is attracting much attention John Dameron, popular Kirkwood wrestler, and Dave Terril, Texas cowboy, will meet in a one-hour three-falls match.

Two good six-round boxing matches and a battle royal will round out the card.

Matches will start at 8:15 o'clock.

Engineering Institute Honors C. L. Emerson

The coveted promotion from member to the grade of fellow in the American Institute of Electrical Engineers has been won by Cherry L. Emerson, well-known architect and engineer, and president of Robert & Company. So far less than half a dozen men in the southern states have been accorded the rank of fellow.

Mr. Emerson has been a member of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers for the past ten years. His achievements have been such that a committee of the local section recently recommended his promotion, formal announcement of acceptance of the committee's recommendations having just been received.

Mr. Emerson has been with Robert & Company since 1919. In May he was elected president of the company to succeed L. W. Robert Jr., who severed his active connection with the firm to accept appointment as assistant secretary of the treasury.

Mr. Emerson is a graduate of the Georgia School of Technology where, in addition to a splendid scholastic record, he was a star member of the football team.

Woman May Become Pa. State Labor Head

HARRISBURG, Pa., July 15.—(AP) Facing strikes and industrial difficulties into which have come charges that the state is filled with sweatshops, Governor Pinchot, whose wife has appeared in picket lines, today dismissed his secretary of labor and indicated that he might appoint the woman he has named as acting secretary.

Charges that Miss Charlotte E. Carr, the acting secretary, had been fomenting strikes were made by Dr. A. M. Northrup, who beat the governor to it by resigning.

The governor accepted the resignation, but that was yesterday. Today the chief executive came back with the statement that the charges against Miss Carr were ridiculous, that he had asked for Northrup's resignation and that the secretary was dismissed forthwith, not August 1, the date of the resignation.

Georgia To Exhibit Model by Borglum

A new model of the Stone Mountain Memorial, by Gutzon Borglum, has been shipped from Rushmore, S. D., and will be placed in the Georgia exhibit at the Century of Progress Exposition in Chicago this week, it was announced Saturday as plans were completed for a large crowd of Georgians to viist the fair during Georgia week, August 21-26.

Scott W. Allen, chairman of the Georgia Century of Progress commission, said that arrangements had been made for a special train to leave Atlanta at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon, August 20. "All Georgians are invited to join us on the special train," Mr. Allen said. He announced that Tuesday, August 22, has been designated as Georgia day at the fair, and that impressive ceremonies will be held.

Textile Head Named President of Furman

COLUMBIA, S. C., July 15.—(AP) Ben E. Geer, textile executive of Greenville, S. C., and former professor at Furman University, was elected president of the university today, succeeding the late Dr. W. J. McGlothlin.

J. J. Lawton, of Hartsville, chairman of the board of trustees of Furman, said Geer had accepted. Geer once taught in the school, a Baptist institution, located at Greenville.

Mr. Geer has been serving as industry's member on the federal committee investigating the stretch-out system in textile mills.

Dr. McGlothlin died recently from injuries received in an automobile accident near Kings Mountain, N. C., in which his wife was killed. They were en route to the Southern Baptist convention in Washington, D. C.

Two Burned to Death In Automobile Flames

WHITE RIVER JUNCTION, N. H., July 15.—(AP)—Two bodies, burned so badly several hours were required in identifying them, were taken from the wreckage of an automobile today and one identified as Philip M. Taylor, 25, of Palma Sola, Florida.

Dr. James R. Taylor, Philip Taylor's father, identified his son's body and said he believed the other was William Colgan, who worked with Taylor in the Guarantry Trust Company, New York city.

Dr. Taylor has a summer home at Enfield, N. H., and said his son had written earlier in the week of plans to visit at Enfield over the week-end and planned to bring Colgan with him.

Woman and Four Men Are Admitted to Bar

Five persons, including a woman, who passed the bar examinations June 28, were admitted to the Georgia bar Saturday by Judge John B. Hutcheson in Decatur. They are Miss Edgarda Horton, 61 Eighth street, secretary to Judge Alex W. Stephens, of the court of appeals; G. D. Etchinson, 495 Hardendorf avenue, vice president of the institute of business and accounting; Samuel Rothberg, real estate man; E. O. Henderson, manager of an insurance office, and John B. Drew, government official.

62 Federal Prisoners Are Transferred Here

Guards arrived here Saturday with 62 prisoners transferred from the Lorton prison to the Atlanta federal penitentiary.

Officers at the Atlanta prison would not comment on the transfer but reports from Washington said the men were ringleaders in a disturbance at Lorton two weeks ago over the quality of food served in the prison.

ROPER'S SON TO WED CALIFORNIA TEACHER

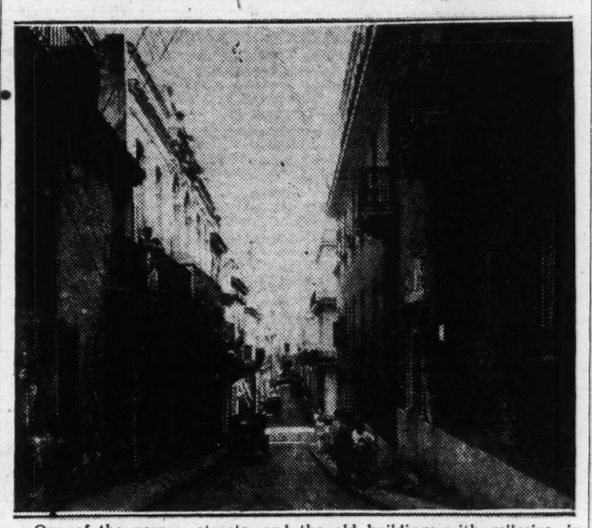

OAKLAND, Cal., July 15.—(AP)—John H. Roper, 40, local engineer and son of the secretary of commerce, and Miss Elizabeth May Armstrong, 30, librarian in the Oakland schools, today filed notice of intention to marry.

No date was set for the wedding. Their engagement was formally announced last June 6.

Mrs. Evelyn Aylesworth, Mills College professor, attracted police attention a week ago by camping in front of Miss Armstrong's home and telling officers her fiance was inside visiting another girl. Roper said at the time that the educator apparently was laboring under a misunderstanding, as he knew Mrs. Aylesworth only slightly.

-:- Travel and Resort News -:-

Picturesque Old Havana Scene

One of the narrow streets, and the old buildings with galleries, in the old section of Havana, the like of which is seen in American cities like St. Augustine and New Orleans. Photo by Peninsular & Occidental Steamship Company of Jacksonville.

TRAIL HIKE STARTS IN CANADA ON AUG. 4

BANFF, Alta., July 15.—Organized trail hiking in the Canadian Rockies will be inaugurated for this year by a hike slated to start at Lake Louise, near here, on August 4. An increasing interest is being shown in trail hiking in this mountain region, and a committee consisting chiefly of experienced members of the Trail Riders of the Canadian Rockies and the Alpine Club of Canada has organized a new order called the Sky Line Trail Hikers.

The route of the inaugural hike will be over Saddleback mountain through Paradise valley and over Sentinel pass to Moraine lake, where the first night's camp will be made. On Saturday, August 5, the party will hike from Moraine lake over Wenkchemna and Opabin passes, and will have the thrill of crossing two glaciers before arriving at Lake O'Hara.

WORLD'S FAIR TOURS PLANNED BY HUSTON

In response to the demand, World's Fair tours are announced for September 2 as well as August 5 by Marion Houston, 1014 St. Charles avenue, N. E. There will be a choice of a 5-day or a 7-day tour on both dates.

These tours are exceptional all-expense tours in that they include railroad fare, Pullman, hotel accommodations, all meals in Chicago, necessary transportation in Chicago, admission tickets to the fair grounds and into Fort Dearborn, two sight-seeing trips by bus over Chicago, one sight-seeing trip by bus over the exposition, twilight cruise on Lake Michigan to view the lighting effects, a visit to the beach at Michigan City, Ind., where the famous sand dunes are located, tour of the stockyards or a ticket to the theater and an all-day cruise on Lake Michigan with luncheon and dinner aboard ship.

THREE PERSONS KILLED AS AUTO HITS TREE

WHITE RIVER JUNCTION, Vt., July 15.—(AP)—Phillip M. Taylor, of the Guaranty Trust, New York city, and Enfield, N. H., and an unidentified companion were killed in an automobile accident near here today. Taylor was the son of Dr. James R. Taylor, of Enfield and Palma Sola, Fla. The automobile struck a tree.

ROOSEVELT'S MOTHER IS AT CAMPO BELLO

CAMPO BELLO ISLAND, N. B., July 15.—(AP)—Mrs. Sara Delano Roosevelt, mother of President Roosevelt, arrived at her summer home here today after motoring from Hyde Park, N. Y. She expects to remain here for 10 days, returning to Hyde Park at the end of that period.

CRUISE TO BERMUDA LABOR DAY PLANNED

A six-day Labor Day cruise to Bermuda on the S. S. Volendam, under exclusive charter of the National Tours, Inc., has been announced by officials of the Holland-America Line. The Volendam, which left on July 5 on a 54-day Mediterranean-Norway cruise, will return to New York on August 28 and late the next day departs on the voyage to Bermuda.

It is planned to make the Labor Day trip a "super-holiday cruise" and to crowd the six days with all the adventure and entertainment the opportunity affords. A staff of entertainment specialists will be on board to provide diversion for every waking hour. The cruise will allow two full days in Bermuda, returning to New York on the evening of September 4.

BOYS WILL ATTEND MEETING IN HUNGARY

WINNIPEG, Man., July 15.—Browned from camping at Lake Louise and Banff, 40 Boy Scouts from Oregon and Washington arrived in this city recently en route to the international Scout assembly at Budapest, Hungary. F. W. Thompson, Scout commissioner for Manitoba; E. S. Mills, executive secretary, and a party of Scouts and leaders greeted the travellers and gave them the freedom of the city.

Thrilled with their camping experiences in the vicinity of Banff and Lake Louise, the lads were full of enthusiasm for the pleasure still in store for them.

Ships have sailed entirely around the Antarctic continent just five times.

MANHATTAN BRINGS CELEBRITIES HOME

The Manhattan, of the United States Lines, arrived at New York Thursday from Hamburg, Havre, Southampton and Cobh with 746 passengers, among whom are Raymond Moley, assistant secretary of state; H. Bayard Swope, Oliver M. W. Sprague, economic adviser, and Edmund Day, technical adviser, all returning from the economic conference in London.

Others of note arriving on the Manhattan included Admiral Arthur Hepburn, American delegate to the disarmament conference, and Mrs. Hepburn; Captain Kenneth Castleman, United States naval attache at Berlin, and Mrs. Castleman; Morton Downey, crooner, and his wife, Barbara Bennett, actress; Warren D. Robbins, American minister to Canada, and Mrs. Robbins; General Blanton Winship; Judge George C. Butte, chief justice of Manila.

SEA SCOUTS TO HELP CREW ON SEA OUTING

Ocean Steamship Company announces that the Sea Scouts taking the regional training cruises at Savannah July 18-28 will supplement the crew on the steamship City of Montgomery for one day, July 23, for the regular Sunday sea outing of 100 miles.

Sea Scouts is a department of Boy Scouts of America between 15 and 21 years of age who have completed the Boy Scouts program.

This cruise will be composed of Sea Scouts from Georgia, Florida, North and South Carolina and is being sponsored by the regional headquarters of Boy Scouts of America of which Kenneth L. Bentz is executive. Warren Barlar, 1113 Citizens and Southern bank building, is cruise director.

JOUFFRET TO MANAGE RONEY PLAZA AGAIN

NEW YORK, July 15.—Edward B. Jouffret, probably one of the best known hotel executives in America and for the past two years managing director of the noted Roney Plaza hotel, Miami Beach, will continue to direct the activities of that resort, according to an announcement made here today by Colonel Henry L. Doherty, president of the Roney Plaza hotel and the Florida Year-Round Clubs. Colonel Doherty announced the signing of a contract with Mr. Jouffret who came to the Roney Plaza

WOMEN OF WORLD TO MEET MONDAY

Congress to Open Sessions at Chicago; Many Countries Attend.

By RUTH COWAN.

CHICAGO, July 15.—(AP)—A world massing of feminine opinion on questions of the day will be undertaken at the international congress of the National Council of Women which opens tomorrow.

Women leaders in virtually every field and vocation, from every important country, were in Chicago for the gathering, which was expected to be historic.

The object of the conclave is to concentrate the thinking of the world's best feminine minds on what's wrong with the world—and what to do about it.

The gathering was called by the National Council of Women, headed by Miss Lena Madesin Phillips, New York attorney. The council, organized in 1888, is pyramided upon other federations of women's organizations and down through its units has an approximate membership of 5,000,000, the world's largest feminine association.

It expects to consolidate women's thoughts on every important question of the day, and "release that thinking into action."

Women's place in the new forms of government—communism, fascism, dictatorships—in the American "new deal," in business, in recreation and the home are a few of the issues on the agenda of the gathering.

They will be discussed by representative women of the countries in which such governing ideas exist, by the leading feminists of America and of the world.

The keynote of the convention—"Shall it be progress?"—will be sounded by Miss Phillips in her presidential address at the elaborate reception tomorrow in honor of the foreign visitors, which opens the congress.

The scope of the meetings is international and is based upon the general theme: "Civilization, Our Common Cause."

On the list of women speakers, representing the cream of feminine brilliancy abroad and at home, are:

Dame Rachel Crowdy, England's war heroine and former head of the social questions section of the League of Nations; Margaret Bondfield, former British minister of labor, and Baroness Keichi Ishimot, of Japan, leading feminist of her country.

BIG AUGUSTA PLANT SOLD, TO REOPEN

AUGUSTA, Ga., July 15.—(AP)—Machinery and equipment of the Augusta Factory, Inc., one of the oldest textile mills in this section, have been sold to the Textile Machinery & Supply Company, of Fall River, Mass., and plans are under way for converting the big factory into a plant for manufacturing finished textile products.

William E. Rush, president of the Augusta Factory, Inc., announced the sale but did not disclose the purchase price. The equipments consisted of 38,000 spindles and 900 looms, which will be scrapped for junk.

Rush said eastern interests which he did not identify are planning to rehabilitate the old factory and use locally-made textile products in the manufacture of overalls and shirts. He estimated the pay roll would be about $7,000 to $10,000 weekly.

The factory, one of the foundation units of Augusta industry, had been closed for some time. The Augusta canal along the banks of the Savannah river, built in 1840, was primarily designed for furnishing the factory with waterpower.

NEW COURT DIVISION CREATED IN FLORIDA

TAMPA, Fla., July 15.—(AP)—Judge Louie W. Strum, of Jacksonville, and Judge Halsted L. Ritter, of Miami, met today with Judge Alexander Akerman here and rearranged the counties in the southern federal district of Florida in accordance with a recently enacted law creating a new division with headquarters at Orlando.

Under the revision Orange, Seminole, Brevard, Lake, Osceola and Indian River counties were placed in the Orlando group. Indian River county formerly was in the Miami district; Brevard and Lake in the Jacksonville division and the others in the Tampa group.

Judge Akerman will preside in court at Orlando. The tentative schedule calls for the first session at Orlando the first Monday in October.

MOULTRIE DAIRYMEN HIKE MILK PRICES

MOULTRIE, Ga., July 15.—Milk prices will be advanced from 10 cents a quart to 12 1-2 cents a guart Monday. Dairymen say feeds have gone up so rapidly that a rise in milk prices is necessary.

In showing how feeds have advanced the dairymen cited cottonseed meal, which has jumped from $14 to $26 a ton.

WILLIAMS' ATTORNEYS DROP RETRIAL PLEA

AUGUSTA, Ga., July 15—(AP)—Attorneys for the Rev. J. M. Williams today announced no further steps would be taken in an effort to gain a new trial in the slaying of his son, Raford Grady Williams, in 1931.

The state supreme court affirmed Williams' conviction and life sentence yesterday in refusing to grant a new trial.

CEDARTOWN MAN GETS GA. HOME LOAN POST

WASHINGTON, June 15.—(AP)—Eugene S. Ault, of Cedartown, Ga., has been named chief counsel for the Georgia Home Owners' Loan Corporation, which will handle state loans under the organization set-up by the federal home loan bank board to refinance home mortgages.

R. H. Jones Jr., of Atlanta, was offered the appointment but declined.

Nude Bathing Problem 'Solved' by Park Head

QUINCY, Mass., July 15.—(AP)—Yrjo Mattson, chairman of the Quincy park department, proposed today that nude bathing be permitted—and he also came to bat with a solution of the knothole problem.

Declaring police are too busy to bother dispersing nude bathers, he suggested that the city rent or acquire bathing places and fit them out as solariums. Sexes would not mingle.

Double fences, one inside the other, would minimize the knothole menace.

The Jinky Dog and Her Jinky

One of the most unusual occurrences in the Jinky contest is shown above. The Boston terrier cut the Jinky pictured. Mrs. Ella Mae Taylor, one of the leading contestants for the two free trips to Chicago, folded and held the Jinky and the dog, Mitzie, attempted to take it away from her. The resultant Jinky is pictured above.

Urban League Bulletin

The first group of negro boys to qualify for life and star scouts were given their badges of honor by a court of honor presided over by O. H. Ball, member of the local Scout commission, at the First Congregational church Wednesday night, July 12. These boys are now candidates for eagle scouts and are expected to complete work assigned leading up to qualifying for this additional distinction in scouthood.

Before a court of honor the following boys passed satisfactorily a very rigid test given in the subjects listed below: Art, Charles W. Greenlea, troop 90; athletics, Sloan Blocker, troop, 90, J. Raymond Davis, troop 90, James L. Holloway Jr., troop 92, Robert Lawrence Jr., troop 91, William G. Westmoreland, troop 90; scoutmaster, E. J. Hooper, troop 92; carpentry, scoutmaster, E. J. Hooper, troop 92; chemistry, Charles W. Greenlea, troop 90, life; farm home and its planning, Henry Entzminger, troop 90, Robert E. Johnson, troop 90; farm layout and building arrangement, Henry Entzminger, troop 90, life; firemanship, Edmund Allen, troop 90, William Briscoe, troop 90, Raymond Carter, troop 90, life; Joseph R. Hamilton Jr., troop 91, Louie G. Hamilton, troop 91, Robert Lawrence Jr., troop 91, Eugene McGowan; first aid, John T. Gill Jr., troop 90, star; handicraft, James F. Bear, troop 90, William Briscoe, troop 90, James Holloway Jr., troop 92; scoutmaster, E. J. Hooper, troop 92, Robert E. Johnson, troop 90, life; Carl Smith, troop 90, William G. Westmoreland, troop 90; pathfinding, William A. Bell, troop 90, life; J. Raymond Davis, troop 90, James Holloway Jr., troop 92; personal health, James Hatcher, troop 90, Eugene McGowan, troop 90; public health, Sloan Blocker, troop 90, life; J. Raymond Davis, troop 90, Eugene McGowan, troop 90, star; William G. Westmoreland, troop 9; safety, Edmund Allen, troop 90, life; William Briscoe, troop 90, life; Sloan Blocker Jr., troop 90, J. Raymond Davis, troop 90, life; James L. Holloway, troop 92, Carl Smith, troop 90, William G. Westmoreland, troop 90, life; scholarship, Sloan Blocker Jr., troop 90; scoutmaster, E. J. Hooper, troop 92, James L. Holloway Jr., troop 92, life; woodwork, scoutmaster, E. J. Hooper, troop 92, star; second class, Charles Eady, troop 91, Norris Connally, troop 90, Philip Davis Jr., troop 92; first class, Joe Hamilton, troop 91, Walter Pace, troop 90, Robert Martin, troop 90.

Girl Admitted to Bar

Miss Louise Hart, 21, Saturday became Georgia's youngest woman barrister when she was admitted to the practice of law as a member of the Columbus bar. A graduate of Miss Hartridge's School for Girls at Plainfield, N. J., and of Vassar College, Miss Hart since has studied law in the offices of a Columbus firm. She will practice chiefly in the criminal courts. She is shown here being congratulated by Judge W. G. Love, president of the Columbus bar.

Hold Open House This Week

The Primrose Dry Cleaning Company will hold open house all this week at its main plant on Edgewood avenue. The general public is invited Monday, souvenirs will be given and refreshments served. Church members will be special guests of the company Tuesday through Saturday.

FOLLOW THE Bible Game

$1,800 IN CASH PRIZES!

By THE BIBLE GAME EDITOR.

This Sabbath day finds The Constitution's $1,800 Bible Game firmly entrenched in its popularity among those who love the Book of Books. The B. G. E. has learned that Sunday schools are studying and preserving the series of pictures, and he is deeply gratified.

The Constitution's Bible Game has been given unstinted praise by Atlanta's most distinguished members of the clergy of all faiths, as well as by beloved clergymen throughout the nation, among them Rev. Dr. John R. Sampey. Dr. Sampey, president of the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, recently said, "The Bible Game will cause many persons, both old and young, not only to bring under review what they already know of the Scriptures, but also to open the Divine Library in search of additional information. I wish this worthy venture very great success."

Eighteen hundred dollars in cash will reward 35 Constitution readers who find the 80 most appropriate verses for the series of 80 beautiful pictures, which are being drawn by C. Winston Haber, one of America's most famous artists.

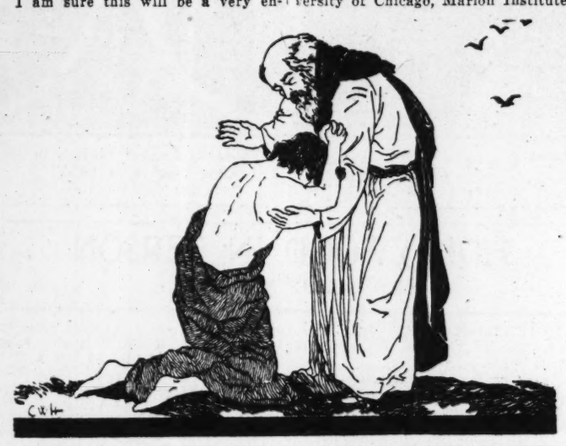

Bouquets

I am sure this will be a very enjoyable, as well as instructive, contest, that many should take part in.—Mrs. W. D. G., Danielsville, Ga.

I've never been so thrilled over a game as I am this one, and I certainly want to enter.—Mrs. E. P. McL., Parrott, Ga.

I am going to enter your Bible Game. I think it is one of the best contests I have seen lately. It is going to be loads of fun, to say nothing of what it may mean to a lot of us to have the Bible on our minds a little more in these trying times.—Miss R. B., Alpharetta, Ga.

May I say, as teacher and churchman, that I believe your Bible Game is an admirable service to education and religion? With the indorsement of such famous scholars and religious leaders as Dr. John R. Sampey, of the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary; Bishop F. J. McConnell, president of the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America; Dr. S. Parkes Cadman, and the distinguished Hebrew leader, Rabbi Stephen S. Wise, this endeavor should appeal to young people and old people alike as a means of recreation and Christian culture. All who are interested in education and religion are grateful to The Constitution for such leadership in Christian journalism—H. O. M., Prattville, Ala. (Retired teacher: University of Virginia, University of Chicago, Marion Institute.)

No. 15 The Bible verse represented by this picture is:

Book..... Chapter No..... Verse No.....

Name .....

Address .....

The Bible verse answer for this picture can be found here: "Blessed are they that mourn: for they shall be comforted." "And forgive us our debts, as we forgive our debtors." "For he taught them as one having authority, and not as the scribes." "I say unto thee, Arise, and take up thy bed, and go thy way into thine house." "He saith unto them, How many loaves have ye? go and see. And when they knew, they say, Five, and two fishes." "And he arose, and came to his father. But when he was yet a great way off, his father saw him, and had compassion, and ran, and fell on his neck, and kissed him." "Then said Martha unto Jesus, Lord, if thou hadst been here, my brother had not died." "Verily I say unto you, Whosoever shall not receive the kingdom of God as a little child, he shall not enter therein."

No. 16 The Bible verse represented by this picture is:

Book..... Chapter No..... Verse No.....

Name .....

Address .....

The Bible verse answer for this picture can be found here: "But the men that went up with him said, We be not able to go up against the people; for they are stronger than we." "And it came to pass, that there went out some of the people on the seventh day for to gather, and they found none." "The Lord shall fight for you, and ye shall hold your peace." "And when they had this done, they inclosed a great multitude of fishes: and their net brake." "As long as I am in the world, I am the light of the world." "And Jesus answered and said unto her, Martha, Martha, thou art careful and troubled about many things." "And they departed into a desert place by ship privately." "For he taught them as one having authority, and not as the scribes." "A good tree cannot bring forth evil fruit, neither can a corrupt tree bring forth good fruit."

(Note: These two pictures are drawn to represent two verses chosen from The Bible Treasury, an abridgment of the "Authorized" or King James version of the Scriptures.)

INSTRUCTIONS.

The total prize money to be awarded Bible Game followers is $1,800. The first prize is $1,000. The second, $400; the third, $100; the fourth, $75; and the fifth, $25. There are ten prizes of $10 each and twenty prizes of $5 each.

The prizes will go to readers who submit the eighty most appropriate verse-answers for the series of eighty pictures. No subscriptions need be obtained to qualify for any of the prizes, and non-subscribers are invited to take part. It is not necessary to register. There will be no essays to compose, letters to write, or extra pictures or puzzles to solve.

The Bible Game pictures and verse-answers are NOT to be submitted now. Wait until ALL of the pictures have been published, then bring or mail them in at one time, as a set.

To Handle Lane Advertising

Miss Nell Walthall, who has been appointed advertising manager of the Lane Drug Stores, according to announcement Saturday of H. C. Naylor, the president. Miss Walthall will handle the advertising of all Lane stores in Atlanta, Jacksonville, Knoxville, Augusta and Griffin, a task that calls for wide experience in retail advertising. Miss Walthall, although very young, has had this experience, having handled advertising for leading local department stores. She is a graduate of the Girls' High school here and of Shorter College.

The CONSTITUTION'S STAMP CORNER

By N. S. Noble

Official Club News

The Constitution Stamp Corner has been selected as the official department for the following organizations:

Atlanta Stamp Society meets at 7:30 o'clock every Thursday night, 304 Peck building. Ashby Taylor, president; Karl Pathe, secretary.

The Stamp Collectors' Club, of Atlanta, meets at 7:30 o'clock every Monday night, Room 205, Robert Fulton hotel. Eugene Whitaker, president; Miss Elsie Hausen, secretary.

North Side Stamp Club meets at 10:30 o'clock every Saturday morning, 392 Moreland avenue, N. E. James C. Edwards, president; Sam Wilkins Jr., secretary.

Atlanta Constitution Cachet-Cover Society, a club for the exchange of covers and stamps; N. S. Noble, secretary.

Franklin D. Roosevelt Stamp Club, Douglas, Ga., meets every Wednesday night at the homes of members; C. L. Lankford, president; Mike Wiggins, secretary.

Roosevelt Stamp Club, Concord, Ga., meets every other Saturday night in members' homes. President, Bobbie Lee; secretary, Jane Sudderth.

Cochran Stamp Club, Cochran, Ga., meets Sunday afternoon. President, James Vaughn; secretary, Robert Garner.

Bainbridge (Ga.) Junior Stamp Club meets at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoons; Fred Strickland, president; Lewis R. Ingram, secretary.

Stamp Collectors' Club, Leaksville, N. C., meets at the home of the secretary; president, Lottie Frazier; secretary, Beryl Ammons.

North Augusta Philatelic Club meets every Saturday morning, North Augusta, S. C. Laurens S. Culley, president; Francis S. Logan, secretary.

Boy Scouts of America, Atlanta council. W. A. Dobson Scout executive.

Atlanta Constitution Stamp Club. N. S. Noble, secretary.

NEW CHICAGO ISSUE TO BE IMPERFORATE

Once again the United States will issue imperforates. They will be the 1-cent and the 3-cent Chicago Century of Progress stamps, which will be printed on a flat bed press (instead of the rotary as are all the other Chicago stamps) at the exposition grounds in miniature sheets of 25 stamps. The stamps will be ungummed and imperforate, we are informed.

To get them, collectors probably will have to order them from Chicago or the Philatelic Agency, at Washington. They will not be issued to postmasters, but will be good for postage. These stamps cannot help but create a lot of excitement and collectors are urged to get theirs as soon as issued. There will be only 250,000 sheets of 25 stamps each printed and the date of issue is August 25.

EXHIBITION ISSUE COMING.

A notice in the news columns of The Constitution told of the new sheets of 25 of the Chicago stamps which would be issued at Chicago. An unusually interesting account of these stamps is printed below, for which we thank Weekly Philatelic Gossip:

By JAMES H. BAXTER.

American stamp collectors will again be honored as they were in 1926 (when the postoffice department issued small sheets of the then current commemorative) by a special issue of the Century of Progress stamps in sheets of 25 subjects, which will be placed on sale during the Chicago convention of the American Philatelic Society.

The model for the proposed special issue was approved by James A. Farley, postmaster-general, on June 16 and the plate proof of the stamp of the 3-cent denomination will probably be ready for approval this week.

Last Thursday the writer had the opportunity to examine the plate from which the 3-cent stamps will be printed. The large printing plate is made up of nine panes of 25 subjects, making 225 stamps. The panes are arranged in three rows of three and are separated by a white space of about one inch.

The writer also had the opportunity, while inspecting the engraving division of the Bureau of Engraving and Printing to examine the die and a die proof (which had just been completed) of the inscriptions that will be placed around the borders of each sheet of 25 subjects. The die proof carried four lines of solid Gothic lettering (about six points high) in parallel rows with just enough space between so that narrow transfer rolls would pick up only one line at a time for transferring to the printing plate.

From the model and the die proof, the writer learned that at the top of each sheet of 25 subjects will appear the inscription, "Under Authority of James A. Farley, Postmaster-General;" at the bottom, the words, "Chicago, Ill.," a white space of about one inch and "Plate No. 15000" (this will, of course, be changed); at the left, "Printed by the Bureau of Engraving and Printing" and at the right side the inscription, "Century of Progress, August, 1931, in Compliment to the American Philatelic Society."

From all indications there will be only two plates. The 1-cent plate will be printed from plate No. 21143 and the 3-cent stamp from plate No. 21144.

While the writer did not learn how these stamps will be printed, he presumes that they will be printed from flat plates and perforated all around. However, orders may be given to issue them imperforate to avoid the expense and necessity of changing the bars and wheels in the perforating machines.

While it may not be of interest to the average collector, the writer, while examining the plate from which the 3-cent stamps will be printed, noticed that stamps number 11 and 16 of pane No. 2 (reading across the large printing plate) and Stamp No. 17 of pane No. 5 (immediately below pane No. 2) were marked with a red pencil, indicating that these particular stamps should be re-entered by the siderographer. It might be wise to bear these positions in mind and check them in the finished 25 subject sheets.

In the printing division of the bureau the writer was suprised to observe 400-subjects sheets of the Oglethorpe stamp being gummed. Upon inquiring he learned that the postoffice department had ordered a second printing of this stamp, but he did not learn the number of stamps to be printed.—Times (Chester, Pa.)

IT'S VACATION TIME.

The conductor of the Stamp Corner leaves this morning for two weeks at the seashore. Stamps will be swapped for a fortnight of fish and sea food, of swimming and sunning on the sands. It's to be a vacation of rest and recreation. On the next two Sundays, readers of this column will have some reading matter on stamps and collecting which was prepared before the leave-taking. But we feel that it will fill the bill until our return.

This department is a year old now and the interest with which it was started has not diminished. Nor has the seeming interest with which it was received lagged on the part of our readers. Mail has been heavy. Every week from dozens to hundreds of letters have been received. The total number runs into the thousands. Stamp collecting has taken hold of millions of persons in the last couple of years. It is bound to progress and, we feel, always will lead all other hobbies.

All mail received during the next two weeks will be opened on our return and answered, so if you write and do not hear promptly, just remember that there's a beach on the South Carolina coast which is to blame.

THE STAMP MART

I'M TAKING A VACATION!
Will be gone until after August 1. Then watch for approval bargains in good stamps: 500 dif. British Colonies at 1c each will be ready.
N. S. NOBLE, BOX 1731, ATLANTA, GA.

Atlanta Constitution Stamp Club Membership Application

Name .....

Address .....

Are You a Collector..... Size of Collection.....

HUGH M. LAMAR DIES; FINAL RITES MONDAY

Well-Known Atlantan Was Representative of Mill and Elevator Firm.

Hugh M. Lamar, 51, well-known Atlantan and for 25 years southern representative of the Columbia Mill & Elevator Company, of Columbia, Tenn., died Saturday morning at a private hospital. He had undergone an operation a few days before. He resided at 122 Brookhaven drive.

Funeral services are to be conducted at 10 o'clock Monday morning at the All Saints Episcopal church, of which he was a member. Dr. W. W. Memminger will officiate and interment will be in Milledgeville, Ga., where he was born and reared.

Surviving are his wife; two daughters, Mrs. Julian Clarkson, of Fort Myers, Fla., and Miss Helen Lamar, of Atlanta; a son, H. R. Lamar; his mother, Mrs. Lucian J. Lamar; a sister, Miss Leila Lamar, both of Milledgeville; three brothers, Dr. L. Q. C. Lamar, of Havana, Cuba; Dr. Richard D. Lamar, of Milledgeville, and Mark O. Lamar, of Worcester, Mass. H. M. Patterson & Son are in charge of arrangements.

STATE OFFICIALS TO VISIT BIG FAIR ON SPECIAL TRAIN

Colonel Sandy Beaver, of Gainesville, chief of the military staff of Governor Eugene Talmadge, Saturday announced plans for a special train to the World's Fair at Chicago for Georgia week, August 21 to 26.

The arrangements for the special and management of the trip are being handled by Adjutant General Lindley W. Camp.

The train will leave Atlanta at noon on Sunday, August 20, and reach Chicago at 8 o'clock the following morning. The return trip will start at 10 o'clock on the night of August 25, the train arriving here at 6 o'clock the following evening.

Governor Talmadge, Chairman Hugh Howell, of the state democratic executive committee, members of the governor's staff, a number of state officials, members of the executive committee and others will make the trip. General Camp said he would begin making reservations Monday.

A special fare of $32.73 for the round trip, including Pullman, has been granted. Other low rates are being made for two passengers and for compartment and drawing room parties.

Under arrangements with fair officials and a leading Chicago hotel arrangements have been made for hotel service, including breakfast and fair trips for the four days in Chicago for $22.05.

JUDAEANS TO SPONSOR CONVENTION PROGRAM

The Atlanta Young Judaean Council will sponsor a radio broadcast over WSB at 12:15 o'clock this afternoon in the nature of a greeting to more than 200 Young Judaeans throughout the southeast who are preparing to attend the Southern Young Judaean Association's 14th annual convention to be held here August 6, 7, 8, 9.

Appearing on the program will be Sidney Parks, president of the organization, and Simon Wender, first vice president, who will deliver brief messages. Sylvan Makover, chairman of the committee on arrangements for the convention, will tell of elaborate plans and arrangements that are being made to entertain the visitors and delegates at the gathing in August. Leonard Greenbaum, violinist, will render two musical selections, accompanied by Miss Annette Davidson.

BOND REFUNDING PLAN FOR MIAMI APPROVED

MIAMI, Fla., July 15.—(AP)—A bond refunding plan under which Miami will not be called upon to pay maturities for 14 years was agreed upon last night by a bondholders' committee and city commissioners.

The plan, commissioners said, will allow the city to pay $1,000,000 for debt service this year without any increase in the tax levy. The bondholders agreed to waive a levy to pay $9,345,000 in municipal bonds due or to come due this year, and this amount will be included in the refunding.

Municipal bonds may be accepted in payment of liens or past due taxes for 1931 and prior years, the bondholders agreed. All pending litigation brought by the bondholders' committee against the city will be dismissed.

Frenchman Apologizes To Jeanette MacDonald

PARIS, July 15.—(AP)—Jeanette MacDonald, film actress, accepted an apology today in place of the $8,000 damages she sought from Andre Ranson, a French magazine writer, on a charge of defamation of character.

The suit resulted from the account of an imaginary interview with Miss MacDonald appearing in a weekly magazine, Fantasio.

Ranson pleaded that he merely was trying to be funny, and the judge suggested she accept his apology.

The blonde actress is popular in France partly because of her acting and singing with Maurice Chevalier.

Melon-Eating Prize

Ernest C. Bell, a member of Judge H. Warner Hill's Bible class at the St. Mark Methodist church, shown here holding the "dominecker" rooster which will be given to the one who eats the most watermelon at the annual melon cutting to be held on the church lawn Friday evening, July 21. The annual contest, won last year by Levi W. Reeves, will attact many prominent Atlantans.

NEWS of STAGE and SCREEN

EDITED by RALPH T. JONES

New Musical Success Plays At Paramount

They've done it again! Warner Brothers, who took the amusement world by storm some months ago with their sensational success called "42nd Street," have come forward with a new surprise and a new accomplishment even greater in scope and promise.

It is "Gold Diggers of 1933," super spectacle of all time, which opened yesterday at the Paramount theater and which thrilled its first audiences into wild acclaim. It is a daring challenge to those who believe they have seen everything, heard everything that the screen has to offer! It is as different as it is spectacular; as entertaining as it is breath-taking. It is amusement spelled with capital letters and exclamation points. It is new! It is beautiful! It is not to be missed by anybody—for any reason!

The brilliance of the cast assembled by Warner Brothers for this is a fair gauge of its extraordinary entertainment value. There is Warren William, ordinarily starring in his own pictures, heading the cast. There is Joan Blondell, also a star in her own right and the four gold digging show girls who set out to "work" a couple fans with the release of her first picture, "Forty-Second Street."

Ruby Keeler, who overnight, found the way to the hearts of every movie fan in her first picture, is billed third in this aggregation.

Headed by these names, the cast reads as follows: Dick Powell, Aline MacMahon, Guy Kibbee, Ginger Rogers, Ned Sparks and Tammany Young. The picture is an adaptation of an Avery Hopwood play with Erwin Gelsey and James Seymore credited with the adaptation. Music and lyrics are by Harry Warren and Al Dubin.

No review of "Gold Diggers of 1933" is complete without particular mention of the 200 beautiful girls who go to make up the Berkeley choruses. There is an unequaled lavishness about these dance ensembles that sets up totally new values in screen spectacle. The girls are lovely beyond comment and while the picture itself would make better than ordinary entertainment, the "show within a show" and the chorus numbers shown there, lift the whole production to the status of exceptional, extraordinary and sensational.

"Gold Diggers of 1933" is much too big, too exciting, too all-embracing for this reviewer to attempt to single out any individual or any single scene for description.

It's breath-taking entertainment which you can't afford to miss

So we say Warner Brothers have done it again. "Forty-Second Street" opened up new vistas for the amusement-hungry public.

"Gold Diggers of 1933" is the realization of the high promise of its predecessor.

To make the program an all-musical, all-fun presentation, Bob Hess pulls another tid-bit from his bag of tricks and presents his own superb arrangement of the ever-popular "St. Louis Blues."

A Betty Boop cartoon and Paramount Sound News complete a program that will be remembered favorably by Paramount patrons for quite Vince Barnett, rubber-lipped comedian and erstwhile professional insulter, who recently completed a featured contract with Universal, has been re-signed for six comedy productions which Warren Doane will make. Sterling Holloway, popular screen comic who recently scored in "Hell Below" and "Gold Diggers of 1933," also has been engaged for six two-reelers, and Louise Fazenda, absent from the screen for six months, will do three. The comedies will be released on Universal's 1933-1934 program.

Scenes From Productions at Atlanta's Leading Theaters This Week

Eddie Quillan and Dorothy Jordan in "Strictly Personal" at The Rialto.

Walter Huston, Nils Asther, Kay Francis In "Storm at Daybreak" at Loew's Grand.

Three Paramount Players in "Gold Diggers of 1933" at the Paramount.

James Cagney and Madge Evans in "The Mayor of Hell" at the Georgia.

'Strictly Personal' at Rialto; 'Warrior's Husband' Also Billed

"Strictly Personal," one of the most human and fascinating stories involving a highly dramatic plot as well as a charming love story, is the attraction now drawing large crowds to the Rialto theater. It is a Paramount production, with Marjorie Rambeau giving the finest performance of her career as the highlight of a cast that also includes Eddie Quillan, Dorothy Jordan, Edward Ellis, etc.

The story centers around the efforts of a former convict and his wife to live down their shady past and become respectable citizens. The man has altered his appearance with the aid of a plastic surgeon and hair dye, but lives in constant fear of recognition by the police or his former associates. They operate what they style a "Lonely Hearts" club, where lonely strangers in the city may meet for innocent social relaxation.

The man is finally recognized by an unscrupulous crook, who blackmails them into allowing him a directing hand in the operation of the club. He turns it into a far from innocent rendezvous and they see their years of effort leading only to disclosure and more sorrow. Then a lovely girl, daughter of a former friend, comes to live with them. She and a young newspaper reporter fall in love, but she is also the object of the designs of the crook.

From this point on the plot develops with amazing and fascinating speed. There is a murder, an abortive "frame-up" and a climax that is something entirely new in screen stories. Altogether a delightful and clever piece of entertainment that, with clever short subjects as the added attractions, provides a program of bargain amusement that appeals to all classes and ages of theatergoers.

Next Wednesday, Manager W. T. Murray announces a three-day return engagement of "Warrior's Husband," the hilarious satire on the sexes that delighted its former audiences, despite the fact that it came to own practically unheralded. This picture deals with a mythological age in world history when women were the dominant sex, governing with an iron hand and doing all the fighting and ruling now left to the male. The men in the picture are merely painted, perfumed pets of the women, pampered creatures for moments of idle relaxation. Elissa Landi and Ernest Truex give outstanding performances in a cast of remarkable ability throughout.

Peruchi Players To Present Play, 'Bats In Belfry'

Melodrama mixed with comedy is to be found this week at the Erlanger theater, where the Peruchi Players will present "Bats In the Belfry," a type of play altogether different from anything they have previously given in Atlanta.

Mildred Peters, Mary Ann Dentler, Mrs. Peruchi, Klock Ryder, Gordon Peters, John Rae and all the other popular members of the organization have roles well suited to their individual abilities.

The story of "Bats in the Belfry," is laid in an old, abandoned church and is all told in one night. Here the various characters come, each one secretly, hoping to trap a notorious and sensational criminal who has made it his chief hiding place. But the criminal traps all the others, instead, and then the fun and mystery comes fast and furiously until a climax is reached that leaves the audience limp from laughter and breathless from suspense.

One clever piece of writing causes the audience to remain in ignorance of which character is the actual criminal until the very end of the play.

The play will be given nightly at 8:30 with bargain matinees on Wednesday and Saturday with the customary low scale of prices still prevailing. Ladies will be admitted free on Monday night when accompanied by escort with paid reserved seat ticket.

Walter Sheats' orchestra, with his

Continued in Next Page.

HOLLYWOOD IN PERSON

BY MOLLIE MERRICK.

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., July 15.—Most of Hollywood's darlings are second loves.

By which I mean that many of the idols of the day became idols only after an initial failure both with producers and public, and clicked under secondary and different conditions.

Few people know this. When an artist has been a conspicuous failure in an initial film—and by this I mean when he has been passed over completely—the publicists build up a legend for the second appearance. It is usually heralded as "first time in motion pictures," etc., etc., which camouflage generally has the desired effect. It gives the player the full opportunity for that unbiased second chance.

* * *

Thus it was when Herbert Marshall made "Secrets of a Secretary" with Claudette Colbert for Paramount—the role, by the way, which made him a tremendous favorite with the motion picture public and one of the most sought-after leading men in Hollywood—he was hailed "the great British actor's first appearance on the screen." But a few of us recognized him as the very capable actor of "The Letter" with Jeanne Eagels.

* * *

Investigation disclosed that the studio didn't want to handicap Marshall with the onus of that appearance. For some unknown reason this actor, who played his role superbly, was passed over by the critical and general public. So the studio, which believed in his merit, gave him an opportunity to make good from scratch in a new role. How he did you all know.

* * *

Josef Von Sternberg, one of Hollywood's ace directors and discoverer of Marlene Dietrich, walked in and out of Hollywood's studios without attracting much attention for some time. Then he got a couple of jobs and attracted some unpleasant attention—some of the critical group objected to what they termed an unnecessary attention to the artistic side of picture making. Then "The Exquisite Sinner" was released but nobody asked who the director was. When he made "Underworld" his name became known to the American public—not before.

* * *

Wynne Gibson, now very, very popular in Hollywood, made two pictures for Metro in 1930. One, "Children of Pleasure," the other, "The Fall Guy." No one noticed her, so she returned to the New York stage where "Molly Magdalen" brought her to the atttention of some picture scouts. Followed "The Gang Buster" with Jack Oakie in which she was so good that she was signed to a long term contract.

If you know Tom Keene in movies it may interest you to hear that he worked for a long time under the name George Duryea and couldn't get anywhere in Hollywood.

Helen Twelvetrees, who didn't

* * *

click at all on the Fox lot, did very well, thank you, with other companies. And Allison Skipworth did her stint in silent pictures although nobody remembers her. She played in "39 East" and "The Circle" years ago and then went back to the stage without shaking Hollywood to its foundations at all. Then United Artists brought her out here for a role in "Raffles" with Ronald Colman. The Skipworth gave the star a run for his money, so fine was her characterization. So followed a Hollywood contract and some of the best work this village has ever seen of its type.

* * *

And if you saw W. C. Fields in "International House" with his inimitable and satirical exposition of the entire capitalistic system embodied in one of the most riotous laughing roles of screen history, it will be pretty hard for you to believe that he was a star in Paramount's old silent days. His popularity waned—Fields needs lines, he's lived with lines all of his career and he knows that inimitable blend of a good line and perfect pantomime. He has been signed to do a series of shorts in Hollywood as well as a feature picture with Skipworth titled "Tillie and Gus."

And Jackie Cooper, who is one of the highest priced youngsters before the public today—and who has made a whole world cry with him in "The Champ"—played with the Hal Roach kiddies for some time before he was borrowed from this organization for "Skippy." This picture made the little Cooper. He is now a gilt-edged star and climbing higher in the firmament every moment.

* * *

Mae Clarke was at Fox studio but couldn't make the grade with that organization, although she registered very well later on with other companies and under other conditions. The same is true of Paul Muni, who was one of the outstanding hits of Hollywood in "Scarface," but whose initial efforts with Fox were flat failures.

So Hollywood is forced to believe—almost against its own convictions at times—in second love. At least so far as the public is concerned.

Cameo To Show Latest Comedy Of Joe E. Brown

Joe E. Brown will be seen on the screen of the Cameo theater Monday in his latest First National comedy, "Elmer the Great," which is said to be the most uproariously funny of any picture he has appeared in to date.

"Elmer the Great," written by Ring Lardner and George M. Cohan, was a comedy riot on the stage and is said to be even more hilarious as a screen play, because many of the startling sequences which could be only hinted at before the footlights are actually depicted in the picture.

Some of the funniest as well as most intense scenes in the picture occur during the playing of a World Series in a downpour of rain.

The plot concerns a hick town boy who develops into the champion batsman of the big league. He is also the champion eater and long-time sleeper. His cocksureness makes him the butt of innumerable jokes by other members of his team.

Joe, as Elmer the Great, becomes involved in a love tangle which eventually lands him in jail, and very nearly loses the World's Series championship for his team. How he extricates himself and finally wins both the game and the girl is one of the most exciting as well as the most laughable incidents in a comedy full of riotous situations and fast action There is a strong supporting cast,

Dramatic 'Storm at Daybreak' Is Presented at Loew's Grand

There is an incidental interest in the opening scenes of "Storm at Daybreak" which, apart from its dramatic significance, lends immediate interest to this film, now being shown at Loew's Grand theater. This is an accurate reproduction of perhaps the most important incident of modern history—the assassination of the Austrian Archduke Ferdinand and his bride, at Sarajevo. This is, of course, the incident which precipitated the World War, and it is shown here with great fidelity and effectiveness.

"Storm at Daybreak" has in its cast Kay Francis, Nils Asther, Walter Huston, Phillips Holmes, Louise Closser Hale and Jean Parker. This last-named actress is the new discovery for whom Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer is already predicting an extraordinary future on the screen.

Richard Boleslavsky, who directed "Rasputin and the Empress" with such success, also directed this torrid romance of a great love, affected by the influence of the World War upon the lives of people living in the Balkan states.

Walter Huston is seen as a Hungarian nobleman, and Nils Asther as a young officer who rescues him from an angry mob at the assassination of the Archduke Ferdinand. This deed brings the two men together in a great friendship, and provides the younger man with an opportunity to meet the beautiful wife of the nobleman. The two younger people fall in love, and the intense drama of their predicament is emphasized by the effect the World War has upon their lives.

"Storm at Daybreak" is one of the summer's most notable films—a dignified and highly impressive presentation of a very familiar situation, enacted, in this instance, against unfamiliar and highly colorful backgrounds, and with unusual ability by a great cast.

"Out All Night" Farce To Show at DeKalb

The screen's "funniest team," Slim Summerville and Zasu Pitts, are featured in "Out All Night," which opens a two-day engagement at the DeKalb theater Monday.

Summerville and Miss Pitts portray the roles of bashful newly-weds, embarking on an eventful honeymoon trip to Niagara Falls. The supporting cast includes Shirley Grey, Alexander Carr, Laura Hope Crews and others.

On Wednesday, Richard Dix will be seen in "The Great Jasper," with Wera Engels and Edna May Oliver. Dix climbs from the position of a driver of a horse car to an Atlantic City fortune teller, whose heart advice to "women only" brings him a fortune.

"State Fair," featuring the popular Will Rogers, Janet Gaynor, Lew Ayres, Sally Eilers, Norman Foster, Louise Dresser, Frank Craven and Victor Jory, will be shown Thursday and Friday. The production combines romance, comedy and color with striking human qualities.

Tom Keene shoots, gallops and fights his way through the picture, "Scarlet River," billed for Saturday. In the supporting cast are Dorothy Wilson, Roscoe Ates and Ed Kennedy.

with Patricia Ellis, the new sensation of the screen, playing the leading feminine role opposite Joe. Others include Frank McHugh, Claire Dodd, Preston S. Foster and Russell Hopton. The screen play is by Tom Geraghty and the direction by Mervyn LeRoy.

Georgia Offers 'Mayor of Hell,' Cagney's Latest

An unusual solution to the problem of training delinquent youths in the state reformatories is offered in the special motion picture, "The Mayor of Hell," James Cagney's latest starring picture, which is playing at the Georgia theater. This picture first presents a revelation of conditions in the reformatory almost as shocking as those seen in "I Am a Fugitive From a Chain Gang."

The solution is provided by a pretty nurse, who prevails on a ward heeler politician, through his love for her, to put it into effect. After kicking out the grafters, the political boss institutes a plan of self-government by which the boys rule themselves. They hold regular elections and name all the community officials such as mayor, chief of police, judge, treasurer and so on.

The glowing romance and the eventual working out of a system which the boys carry on with enthusiasm, leads a bright touch to a production that pictures with grim realism the cruelties practiced on boys of tender years. The leading feminine role is taken by Madge Evans and there are also many other screen favorites in the cast. Added subjects offered on the same program includes W. C. Fields in "The Barber," a screen song and Fox Movietone news events.

What America may expect from the gangster now that beer, his principal source of income, has been legalized, is shrewdly predicted in "Song of the Eagle," drama portraying the march of events in America during the past two decades and in the months to come, which will arrive at the Georgia theater for showing, starting Wednesday.

Whether the bootlegger will be content to sit back and permit the government to "muscle in" on his strongly-entrenched business, or whether he will fight back, is a question facing the American public and police authorities today. "Song of the Eagle" boldly attempts to answer.

Charles Bickford, Richard Arlen, Mary Brian, Jean Hersholt, Louise Dresser, Andy Devine and George E. Stone play the leading roles in "Song of the Eagle." Those who have seen this picture in advance pre-views state that the picture's answer to the beer questions as it faces the country today is a daring one.

Madge Bellamy has been selected for the feminine lead opposite Buck Jones for Universal's serial, "Gordon of Ghost City," written by Peter B. Kyne, and which Henry MacRae, Universal serial supervisor, will bring into production this week with Ray Taylor directing. The action film, first of Universal's new serial program with "big" star names, also includes in its cast William Desmond, Francis Ford, Walter Miller and Tom Ricketts. The story is based on the now deserted "boom towns" of the early west.

RIALTO
ALL ATLANTA IS TALKING ABOUT
WHAT PRICE INNOCENCE?

JUDGE VIRLYN B. MOORE, Superior Court: "In my opinion it is a picture which every mother, every girl over 14 and every boy over 16 should see."

MR. W. W. WOOLFOLK, Probation Officer, Fulton County Juvenile Court: "If more pictures of this type were produced I feel sure our delinquency rate would be materially lowered."

WHAT PRICE INNOCENCE?

MRS. THORNTON M. FINCHER, ex-president Atlanta Woman's Club: "I know of no picture so well worth seeing by the mothers of today."

MR. ROY LECRAW, ex-president Atlanta Chamber of Commerce: "This certainly is a most unusual picture and carries powerful moral lesson to parents as well as to young people."

WHAT PRICE INNOCENCE?

MRS. VICTOR KRIEGSHABER: "If every mother could see that picture what intense suffering could be avoided."

MRS. FRANK MITCHELL: "The only tragic part is the fact that millions of parents and young boys and girls will not see it."

MR. ARMAND WYLE, executive vice president Hebrew Orphans' Home: "No parent or adolescent can witness this picture without being better prepared to meet life's problem."

WHAT PRICE INNOCENCE?

SOUTHERN PREMIERE
NEXT SATURDAY
JULY 22
RIALTO

ERLANGER THEATRE
ALL WEEK AT 8:15
MATINEES WED. & SAT., 2:15
PERUCHI PLAYERS
IN A PLAY OF MIRTH, MYSTERY AND THRILLS
BATS IN THE BELFRY
LADIES FREE MONDAY
IF ACCOMPANIED BY A PAID 40c TICKET
NO ADVANCE IN PRICES:
NIGHTS, 10c, 25c, 40c
MATINEES, 10c, 15c, 25c

TENTH STREET THEATRE
Monday-Tuesday-Wednesday
YOU WILL BE ENCHANTED WITH
Starring The Glamorous Liane HAID and Gustave Frohlich
"I DON'T WANT TO KNOW WHO YOU ARE"
ROMANCE . . . BEAUTY . . . COMEDY EXQUISITELY BLENDED INTO AN ALL-GERMAN LANGUAGE FILM CLEARLY UNDERSTANDABLE IN THEME AND ACTION THROUGH ENGLISH TITLES.
Atlanta's Only Showing
Mat., 10c, 25c
Night, 10c, 35c

PONCE DE LEON
MONDAY—TUESDAY
YOUNG BRIDE
HELEN TWELVETREES—ERIC LINDEN
WEDNESDAY
FORBIDDEN
BARBARA STANWYCK, ADOLPHE MENJOU
THURSDAY—FRIDAY
NO MORE ORCHIDS
CAROLE LOMBARD
SATURDAY
CORSAIR
CHESTER MORRIS—ALISON LLOYD

COMING WEDNESDAY!
THE MARCH OF TIME . . . TUNED TO THE STAR SPANGLED BANNER
All Seats 25c
"SONG OF THE EAGLE"
with CHARLES BICKFORD, RICHARD ARLEN, MARY BRIAN, JEAN HERSHOLT, LOUISE DRESSER, ANDY DEVINE, GEORGE E. STONE
A Paramount Picture
Atlanta's Favorite GEORGIA
"Healthfully Cool"
NOW PLAYING
JAMES CAGNEY IN "MAYOR OF HELL"

NOW PLAYING
LOEW'S GRAND
Will Never Be Shown In Any Other Atlanta Theatre!
An Old Husband—
A Young Wife
A Tempestuous Lover!
Ray FRANCIS
NILS ASTHER IN
In Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's
"STORM at DAYBREAK"
WITH WALTER HUSTON
PHILLIPS HOLMES • LOUISE CLOSSER HALE
JUNIOR FEATURES
PITTS-TODD
M-G-M Comedy
Traveltalk—Metrotonews
—NEXT FRIDAY—
Lionel Barrymore
"The Stranger's Return"
M-G-M Picture

All House Records SMASHED!!!!
It's Warner Bros.' Show of the Century---
Atlanta's Show of the Hour!
GOLD DIGGERS OF 1933
Marvels that Dim Even the Glories of "42nd Street"! 5 Great New Song Hits! Dance and Presentation Numbers of Fabulous Grandeur! Famous "42nd Street" Stars and Chorus with More Gorgeous Girls and Brilliant New Names Added—WARREN WILLIAM, ALINE MacMAHON, JOAN BLONDELL, RUBY KEELER, DICK POWELL, GUY KIBBEE, GINGER ROGERS, 300 others!
Plus! BOB HESS PLAYING St. Louis BLUES • Betty Boop Cartoon • News •
NOW PLAYING
Paramount
REGULAR PRICES

NEWS OF STAGE AND SCREEN

Neighborhood Theaters

Brilliantly Cast German Film Will Have Run at Tenth Street

A sumptuously mounted, deftly directed and brilliantly cast musical comedy, entitled "Ich Will Nicht Wissen Wer Du Bist" ("I Don't Want to Know Who You Are"), will bring a welcome flavor of old world grandeur and gaiety to the Tenth Street theater Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

Everything about the film, its gay humors, its grand settings, the fetching unfoldment of its story, points to the artistic integrity and shrewd talents of those responsible for the directing.

Liane Haid, strikingly virile in her Nordic charms, is a star whose appeal would leave no one satisfied even if her gifts were confined to pulchritude. But Miss Haid has also a voice of mellifluous, seductive quality, and a grace in putting over her songs which leaves nothing to be desired. Gustave Frohlich, handsome and gallant, makes a perfect sort of companion piece as the male lead.

The story concerns the accidental meeting of Bobby Lindt with Alice Lamberg in a hotel restaurant, where both have dinner dates with two others. They are both charmed with each other and cancel their other appointments in order to dine together in private. They leave without knowing each other's names. Later Alice discovers Bobby in the service of her uncle as a chauffeur. She scorns him for masquerading as a man of means the night before.

GUSTAVE FROHLICH.

He is in reality as count, reduced by fortune's reverses to a menial position. Their relations become more complicated when Alice becomes a member of her uncle's touring party to Italy, chauffered by Bobby, but a happy climax is achieved in the end, when Alice moved by the proverbial emotions, succumbs to Bobby's masculine appeal.

Thursday and Friday Slim Summerville and Zasu Pitts will be seen in their latest comedy riot, "Out All Night," a delightful laugh show teeming with the typical Summerville-Pitts brand of humor.

Douglas Fairbanks Jr. and Nancy Carroll star Saturday in "Scarlet Dawn."

From 1 to 11 P. M.
EMPIRE
Ga. Ave., at Crew St. MA. 8430
Mon.-Tues.—Chills-Thrills!
"ROADHOUSE MURDER"
Eric Linden-Dot Jordan
Wed.—"BREACH OF PROMISE"
Thurs. Only
JANET GAYNOR in
"DADDY LONG LEGS"
Fri.—Joan Bennett in
"WEEK-ENDS ONLY"
Also "AMATEUR NITE"
Sat.—Ginger Rogers in
"THE 13TH GUEST"

MONDAY and TUESDAY
JOE E. BROWN
in
"ELMER the GREAT"
WEDNESDAY and THURSDAY
"The Big Cage"
Clyde Beatty
FRIDAY and SATURDAY
Bob Steele in
"Breed of the Border"
"Phantom of the Air"
Tom Tyler
10c-CAMEO-15c

Summerville, Pitts Billed at West End

Slim Summerville and Zasu Pitts will appear in a boisterous comedy, "Out All Night," at the West End theater Monday and Tuesday. The picture bristles with witty dialogue, and the entire story is a constant succession of hilarious situations.

"The Keyhole," Wednesday's attraction, is a picture of romance and gay adventure, unique in plot and glamorous in a Havana setting, in which Kay Francis and George Brent are brought together for the first time. The theme treats of a beautiful young dancer who marries an elderly man of great wealth and social prominence who is extremely jealous of his young wife and engages a private detective to watch her.

"State Fair" with Will Rogers, Janet Gaynor, Sally Eilers, Lew Ayres, Norman Foster and Louise Dressler portraying the principal roles comes to the West End Thursday and Friday. Based on the Literary Guild prize novel by Phil Strong, a newspaperman who was born on a farm, the picture is said to give a true and sympathetic insight into the character of the men and women who live close to the soil. While most of the action takes place in the festive setting of a state fair in a large city, it revolves about the adventures, romances and inspirations of a farm family.

"Murder in the Zoo," the feature for Saturday, is a drama of love, jealousy and revenge filled with hair-raising suspense. Charlie Ruggles, Lionel Atwell, Kathleen Burke (the Panther Woman) have the leading roles.

Four Exceptional Films Booked at Buckhead

Atlantans who combine a delightful drive in the cool of the evening with some first-class screen entertainment in one of the most beautiful theaters in the city area, will find four exceptional feature pictures at the Buckhead theater this week.

And they will, of course, find also a theater not only comfortably cool but of the perfect healthful temperature and humidity.

The feature attraction for Monday and Tuesday is "Lucky Devils," a story of the reckless men who risk their lives as a part of the day's work in performing the breath-taking stunts that add thrills to the talking pictures. Bill Boyd is the star.

On Wednesday Jack Holt, with Lillian Bond as his leading lady, appear in "When Strangers Marry," a yarn which combines sensational romance with two-fisted adventure in ideal proportions.

Thursday and Friday will see Warner Baxter and Miriam Hopkins on the Buckhead screen in "Dangerously Yours," a production ideally suited to the popular talents, both of Baxter and of the brilliant Miriam.

On Saturday the funniest of a long series of excruciatingly hilarious pictures is the main attraction. It is "The Cohens and Kellys in Trouble," in which our old friends, George Sidney and Charlie Murray, make us laugh more than ever before at the scrapes of the inseparable friends.

Carefully selected short subjects, including comedies, cartoons, news shots and scenic gems are added attractions on each of the four programs of the week.

"The Roadhouse Murder" at Empire

A wayside inn, abandoned by all but the grizzled caretaker and his black cat, provides the background for the mystery, "The Roadhouse Murder," with Eric Linden and Dorothy Jordan, to be shown at the Empire theater, Monday and Tuesday.

The story concerns a cub reporter and his girl who seek refuge at the inn when their car breaks down late at night. What for the moment appears a mere romantic escapade, suddenly takes a sinister turn when they stumble across a double murder and come face to face with the killers. After discovering the murder, the boy conceives the daringly fantastic idea of putting the police on his own trail. He gambles for fame, with death in the electric chair as the price of failure. An added feature will be the showing of Tom Tyler, popular western star, in "Clancy of the Mounted."

Chester Morris and Mae Clark will be shown in "Breach of Promise," on Wednesday, while Thursday finds Manager Alpha Fowler offering Atlantans another opportunity of seeing that adorable talkie, "Daddy Long Legs," with Janet Gaynor and Warner Baxter.

Joan Bennett and Ben Lyon in "Week-Ends Only," a tale of a weekend hostess and her many duties, will be on screen Friday, while in the evening at 8 o'clock, the stage will find another group of non-professional entertainers in "amateur nite contest." A lulu of murder mystery is shown Saturday, starring Ginger Rogers in "The Thirteenth Guest."

Appear at Cameo

Joe E. Brown and Patricia Ellis, who appear Monday in "Elmer the Great" at the Cameo theater.

PERUCHI PLAYERS TO PRESENT PLAY, "BATS IN BELFRY"

Continued from First Theater Page.

popular singers, will again provide entertainment before each performance and between acts.

The Peruchi Players continue their steady gain in popularity, evidenced by the substantial growth in box office receipts recorded each week. They are, beyond question, the most popular stock organization to appear in Atlanta in many years and it is altogether probable that they will set one of those continuous run records which made this city known among theatrical folk all over the country some years ago.

They have given Atlanta the type of plays—with comedy as the predominant note—this city likes best and local theatergoers have demonstrated, throughout this summer season, that they will generously patronize the kind of entertainment they prefer. The cool breezes that blow through the Erlanger even in the hottest weather serve to make it comfortable in all temperatures.

Warren William Stars In Picture at Palace

The Palace opens Monday and Tuesday with "The Match King," featuring Warren William and Lili Damita. Warren Williams' role is that of a man absolutely unscrupulous and ruthless with women. He takes them from every walk of life and uses them to gain his own ambition, to master the world's finances.

Wednesday, "Scarlet Dawn," featuring Doug Fairbanks Jr. and Nancy Carroll is a story which portrays the life in Russia during post-revolutionary days.

Thursday and Friday brings the picture of pictures, "State Fair," starring Will Rogers, Janet Gaynor, Lew Ayres, Sally Eilers and host of other stars. This gigantic production, based on Phil Strong's Literary Guild prize novel, has outstripped anything ever produced, and deals with the loves and adventures of a farm family at the state fair.

Saturday, "Me and My Gal," starring Joan Bennett and Spencer Tracy, is the story of a radio-car cop who falls in love with a blond cashier, following a flirtation which results in the capture of a killer.

Ponce de Leon Offers "Young Bride" 2 Days

"Young Bride" will open at the Ponce de Leon tomorrow for a two-day run. Helen Twelvetrees and Eric Linden are the bride and groom. Cliff Edwards and Roscoe Ates keep the picture pepped up with their humorous lines. A girl gets a bad start in her first love venture, but the old saying that true love will always find a way brings the story to a happy ending.

Wednesday, Barbara Stanwyck is assisted by Adolphe Menjou and Ralph Bellamy in "Forbidden." Barbara Stanwyck plays the part of a girl every man marries or regrets that he didn't. You will never know the power of love until you've been thrilled by this devine romance—the story of girlhood, womanhood and motherhood, pictured with astounding authenticity.

"No More Orchids," with Carole Lombard, Walter Connolly and Louise Closser Hale is the attraction Thursday and Friday. When this gorgeous millionairess met the man of men—she forgot her millions and was just a woman. She had millions to spend and spent it recklessly and then gave it all up for love.

Chester Morris and Alison Loyd are in "Corsair," Saturday. They cheered him in college, they jeered him in business, but when this daredevil was transformed into a heartless sea pirate by a beautiful woman, everyone feared him. He stopped at nothing in his wild attempt to win the woman he loved.

RIALTO
NOW SHOWING
TWO MORE DAYS ONLY
"I'm for SALE!"

DOROTHY JORDAN
IN STRICTLY PERSONAL

COOL AND COMFORTABLE
BUCKHEAD

MON. TUES.	"Lucky Devils"	Bill Boyd
WED. NES. DAY	"When Strangers Marry"	Jack Holt
THURS. FRI.	"Dangerously Yours"	W. Baxter
SAT. UR. DAY	"Cohens and Kellys in Trouble"	G. Sidney

"JUST A PLEASANT DRIVE"

LUCAS & JENKINS
Community Theatres
DeKALB THEATER
Monday and Tuesday
"OUT ALL NIGHT" with Slim Summerville and Zasu Pitts
Wednesday
Richard Dix in
"THE GREAT JASPER" with
Edna May Oliver
Thursday and Friday
Will Rogers, Janet Gaynor
and Lew Ayres in
"STATE FAIR"
Saturday
"SCARLET RIVER" with Tom Keen, Dorothy Wilson and Rosco Ates
PALACE
Monday—Tuesday
Warren William—Lili Damita in
"THE MATCH KING"
Wednesday
"THE SCARLET DAWN"
With Nancy Carroll—Doug. Fairbanks Jr.
Thursday—Friday
Will Rogers—Janet Gaynor in
"STATE FAIR"
Saturday
"ME AND MY GAL" with
Joan Bennett—Spencer Tracy
WEST END
Monday and Tuesday
Slim Summerville—Zasu Pitts in
"OUT ALL NIGHT"
Wednesday
"THE KEYHOLE" with
Kay Francis—George Brent
Thursday and Friday
"STATE FAIR" with
Will Rogers—Janet Gaynor
Sally Eilers—Lew Ayres
Saturday
"MURDERS IN THE ZOO" with
Charlie Ruggles—Lionel Atwill
Kathleen Burke

DRAW ME!
COMPETE FOR A COMMERCIAL ART SCHOLARSHIP

Illustrations for stories, covers, and advertisements in magazines, newspapers, trade papers, catalogs; all furniture, wall paper, lighting fixtures, automobile bodies, clothing, carpets, etc., all must first be Designed.

Only People Possessing Artistic Talent and Aptitude can be trained for positions in this lucrative, pleasant vocation. Can You Qualify? Copy this illustration and send in your drawing.

Prizes for Five Best Drawings
FIVE COMPLETE ART COURSES (including drawing outfits) FREE. The value of each course of training, $185.00.

Each contestant whose drawing has sufficient merit will receive a grading, expert advice on their chances for success in the Commercial Art field and a 63 page illustrated book outlining the possibilities in the profession.

RULES FOR CONTESTANTS
This contest open only to amateurs, 16 years old or more. Professional commercial artists and Federal students are not eligible.
1. Make drawing about 5½ inches high, on paper 7 inches high by 6 inches wide. Do not draw lettering or border.
2. Use only pencil or pen.
3. No drawings will be returned.
4. Write your name, address, age and occupation on back of drawing.
5. All drawings must be received in Minneapolis by July 27, 1933.

Many Federal Students, both men and girls, who are now commercial artists or illustrators capable of earning from $2000 to $5000 and more yearly, have been trained by the Federal Course. They testify to the practical value of this training.

FEDERAL SCHOOLS, INC.
Dept. 725, Federal Schools Bldg., Minneapolis, Minnesota

TWO DITTY WINNERS SELECTED BY JUDGES

Acting as judge and jury for the hundreds of ditties submitted in the $250 cash prize ditty contest being sponsored by Jacobs drug stores, Jesse Draper had a difficult task.

Of those entered in the contest, Mr. Draper selected the following ditty as first prize winner:

I wasn't born in Scotland,
But I used to shop around
Till I learned that Jacobs prices
Were the lowest to be found.

This ditty was entered by Miss R. H. Roberts, 865 West End avenue.

The second prize ditty was:

JESSE DRAPER.

We have our congress and committees,
Yet it is my firm belief
That we had better look to Jacobs
To give us "pharm" relief.

This ditty was entered by Mrs. Robert L. Singleton, 405 Gilmore street, Waycross, Ga.

The names of the other prize winners will be found elsewhere in today's issue. The ditty contest continues for five more weeks, with 25 prizes being awarded weekly. Ditties may be entered in the contest with five ditty receipts. These receipts are given with each 10-cent purchase or payment on account at any Jacobs drug store.

STATE GUARDSMEN LEAVE FOR CAMP AT ANNISTON, ALA.

The 122d Infantry, Georgia National Guard, with headquarters in Atlanta, will leave early this morning for Camp McClelland, near Anniston, Ala., for 15 days, their annual summer field training. They went to camp in two special troop trains.

The regiment is up to its full peace time strength and approximately 1,200 men will be in camp for the next two weeks. An advanced detail from the service company went to the camp last Thursday, pitched tents and made all ready for the troops which will arrive this morning.

Accompanying the 122d infantry is a group of 10 men of the state detachment, the enlisted staff of the adjutant general. They are under command of Captain Gerard P. Swarthout, of the state commissioned staff. The 122d infantry is under the command of Colonel T. L. Alexander of the Tech High faculty. His staff includes Lieutenant-Colonel S. B. Hawkins, Major E. P. Tuttle, Captain L. M. Mattox and Captain L. O. Moseley.

FURNITURE DEALERS WILL DISCUSS CODE

On Thursday afternoon a meeting of all retail furniture dealers in Atlanta was held at the Atlanta Athletic Club to discuss the code of fair practices which has been prepared under the industrial recovery act by the National Retail Furniture Association.

The meeting was called by the Atlanta Retail Merchants' Association, of which a majority of the retail furniture dealers in Atlanta are members. Tom Dickson, regional vice president of the National Retail Furniture Association, and a member of the committee of the national body, who returned recently from Chicago, where he assisted in drafting the code, presided at the meeting and presented the code.

It was decided to have the code printed and distributed to all Atlanta furniture dealers in orer that they might study its provisions closely, after which another meeting will be called next Thursday to discuss the matter further.

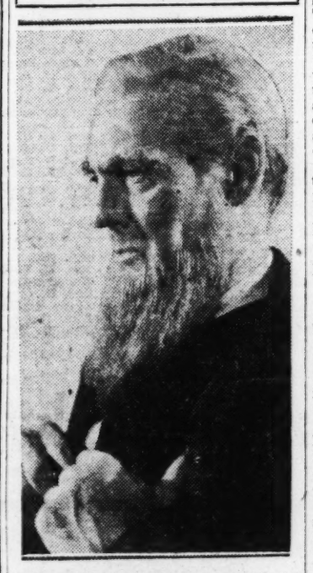

Court of Appeals of Ga.

Judgments Affirmed.

Bell vs. State: from Haralson superior court—Judge James R. Hutcheson. Price Edwards, E. S. & J. L. Griffith, for plaintiff in error. S. W. Ragsdale, solicitor-general, contra.

Austin vs. State: from Polk superior court—Judge James R. Hutcheson. Alec Harris, for plaintiff in error. S. W. Ragsdale, solicitor-general, contra.

In New Role

Lionel Barrymore, who will be seen in "Stranger's Return," which will open at Loew's Grand next Friday.

BOOK REVIEWS IN TABLOID

Martin Hare is the author of "The Enchanted Winter," which was published by Harper & Brothers. The first novel of an unknown writer, the book evoked unusual praise upon its recent publication in London. Subsequently the news leaked out that "Martin Hare" was the pseudonym of a young woman who feared her book might be disapproved of by her family and friends on account of its outspokenness. She is Miss Zoe Girling, daughter of a Protestant clergyman of County Cork, Ireland. She lived in a small rectory there until she was 18. During the Irish rising of 10 years ago the rectory was on several occasions raided by rebels. Miss Girling's first-hand experiences of conditions in southern Ireland at that period explain the vivid realism of her story. Later she went to Liverpool, where she got a job with the Times Book Club library. She has now resigned that position and is devoting her entire time to writing.

MARTIN HARE.

NEW FICTION.

Grand Slam. The Rise and Fall of a Bridge Wizard. By B. Russell Herts. The story is woven around Peter Lubitter, name Americanized, who was a Russian aristocrat. Like many others from different countries he came to America in 1918, and for the next 10 years he was called one of America's greatest bridge authorities. It is not that he liked games, bridge or to gamble, but he wanted money, he needed money, and it was money he proposed to get, so he become a professional card gambler.

The story is interesting from the first page and the climax is reached at the Olympic bridge tournament in which there is the meeting of teams from many countries. There is not a dull moment and the reader will find an added interest in Sonia whom Peter knew, but in some way he failed to make the grand slam of life—"bid, played—lost!" John Lowell Pratt, publisher, New York.)

The Murderer of Sleep. Milward Kennedy. Author "Murder in a Deck Chair." "Death to the Rescue," etc. To an American "Sleep" would be the last name in the dictionary to christen a country town, but that is the name that has been given to an English village, the definition of which naturally would mean an attractive countryside, a beautiful lake, soporific days of rest and the quiet that only comes from being far away from the mad'ning crowd.

No American, especially in these days when it takes all the mental and physical strength to keep pace with the times, would name even a village "Sleep." But in this case the citizens of this town lived up to its name until one day they had several new arrivals, Mr. Cannon, his nephew, Richard; Colonel Jethro, his stepdaughter and Grant Nicholson, who came for a stay of some time in three of the riverside camps. Their appearance in this quiet retreat evidently woke it up out of its normal slumber for several robberies and three murders were committed during a celebration that was held on the manor grounds. Was it unkind or unnatural for the citizens of this little sleepy town to wonder what kind of visitors they were entertaining? Surely there must be a criminal among them! While it is a mystery story it will carry the reader faster than the heretofore ideas of the little village "Sleep." (H. C. Kinsey & Co., New York.)

Riker of the Seven Seas. By Frederic H. Riker. This is a story of a man who as a small boy was, may I say, afflicted with wanderlust, and there are varieties of this disease like that of many vegetables and flowers. So he ran away to sail the seas, the love of which has made him a sailor ever since, and today he is at home on any ocean and is no stranger to any type of boat. Naturally, he had many experiences, perhaps more than ever experienced by any other seagoing sailor. At any rate, he tells thrilling stories of the mighty deep, and now the wanderlust has become a longing to tell the world of these experiences, so if you like exciting sea adventures take the purser's "Riker of the Seven Seas" with you, for they are perhaps the most wonderful tales that have ever been written based on facts. (Ray Long & Richard Smith, New York.)

Hilltops Clear. By Emilie Loring. The author has written a number of delightful stories among them being "Lighted Windows." "A Certain Crossroad," "Here Comes the Sun!" This story is so full of human interest that it will appeal to every class of readers. The story which is woven around Prudence Schuyler, a young girl, who, having inherited from her uncle, Prosperity Farm, decides that she will go there to live so that she may be able to help her brother, as well as to run away from people whom she could no longer trust. One of her first callers was Mrs. Gerard, the mother of a rich young son who immediately became attracted towards her, but she closed her heart to him for she classed him with those that could not be trusted. But Rodney was in love with Prudence and he did not usually give up in anything he undertook. Someone says, "This new romance of Mrs. Loring's is as crisp and fragrant as the Maine pines which play their own important part in the story." (Penn Publishing Co., Philadelphia.)

Freewater Range. By Frank C. Robertson. If you have ever lived or visited on a ranch you well know that it is a place where almost anything can happen—especially the stealing of cattle, so when the big Eye D ranch lost cattle by the wholesale and the cowpunchers were playing deserters in earnest it was beginning to be serious, but when Bill Ross, the foreman, disappeared without leaving any trace behind, it began to look black Things were going mighty bad, especially when Bill's young daughter was trying to run the ranch, and she felt that she had about got to the end when Hugh Scott, dressed up like a town beau, blue serge and white shirt, arrived on the scene. He was simply on a prospecting trip but one glance at Veda Ross and he knew it was his duty to stay, take hold and get at the bottom of the mystery. It is a thrilling story and one that will leave you breathless, but there's a place and a welcome for you at Eye D ranch. (Washburn, Inc., Publisher, New York.)

EUROPEANS DIPLOMATIC HISTORY—1871-1932.

This volume, by Dr. Raymond Sontag, is an interesting history of the relations at the present time between the great nations of the world, it being the purpose of the author to simplify and make clear to the readers, as briefly as possible, the position held by each.

The chief purpose of this timely and interesting historical survey is to make clear within brief compass the diplomatic background of the existing relations between the great nations of the world.

Since 1871 statesmen have been struggling with the problem of effecting desirable changes in the international status quo and preventing undesirable changes without recourse to war. Their attempts to solve the problem form the central theme of this discussion. The subject has been treated chronologically so that the events may be followed in their natural order as they developed.

European Diplomatic History—1871-1932 will interest the general reader and should prove useful to students of modern European history, modern diplomacy, and the backgrounds of the World War. It is lucid, authoritative and up-to-date.

The author, who is associate professor of history at Prince University, says with reference to his book of more than 400 pages: "I have judged, not according to the standards of today, but by the standards which the statesmen themselves set. For two generations statesmen were trying to solve a riddle, and it is around this riddle that the author weaves his story. But," he continues, "the riddle is today, as in 1871, unanswered. Since the days of 1914 it has become more and more a problem and the riddle is yet to be solved.

"How can desirable changes in the international status quo be effected? How can undesirable changes be prevented without recourse to war? This is the riddle that continues to confront the world today." (The Century Company, New York.)

WRITER AND REVOLUTIONIST.

Maxim Gorky. Writer and Revolutionist. By Moissaye J. Olgin. Lenin writes: "Gorky is undoubtedly the most significant representative of proletarian art," and it is on this basis that the author has written the story of Gorky beginning with his first short stories, about the hoboes which was the introduction of an entirely new note in Russian literature.

The author shows in his writings that he has carefully studied not only the life of Gorky but Russian literature, impressing upon the reader life before and after the revolution of 1917, especially of the many things leading up to the revolution.

Mr. Olgin covers, in a general way, the literary development of the revolutionist; he writes of him in the role of a revolutionary pamphleteer and journalist, of his present activities in the soviet union. The completion of his fortieth year of literary activity, recently celebrated in the soviet union, is interestingly told in the appendix. Drawings by Fred Ellis. (International Publishers, New York.)

GANDHI.

Gandhi Versus the Truth. By Dr. Haridas T. Muzumdar. The story of India as told in this volume of more than 350 pages will be of special interest to anyone who is studying India. The author who is an authority on the present struggle for freedom in India is editor of the "India Review" and of "India Today and Tomorrow" series—also the author of "Gandhi Versus the Empire.' The story of the author is also filled with many interesting details from the time that he took up the study of how best to bring about a better understanding between the orient and the occident.

The author's first visit to the United States was in 1920, returning to India in 1929 with messages of greetings from America to Mahatma Gandhi. He was Gandhi's guest in March, 1930, and was one of the 78 volunteers of the Gandhi party on their 240-mile march to the sea, and witnessed the making of salt against the British salt laws, all of which is now history.

Dr. Muzumdar had the rare opportunity of intimate talks with India's great man during this march of which he writes most interestingly—also he was with him during the London conference.

The author's presentation of the status in India today, of India's longing to be free, and his interpretation of Mahatma Gandhi's message have been cordially received, and the U. S. A. today is quite friendly to India's leader.

"Over the carnage rose prophetic a voice,
'Be not disheartened, affection shall solve the problem of freedom yet.'"
"Were you looking to be held together by lawyers?
Or by an agreement on a paper? Or by arms?
Nay, nor the world, nor any living thing will so cohere."

These words were written by Walt Whitman and today they are used by Gandhi in the work of guiding his people.

The author closes his most interesting story of Gandhi and India by saying that "the fulfilment of Walt Whitman's prophecy is near at hand—that the seeds sown by the fathers of the American Revolution are bearing fruit in a far-off land." (Universal Publishing Co., New York.)

MISCELLANEOUS BOOKS.

Forestry—An Economic Challenge. By Arthur Newton Pack, author of "Our Vanishing Forests." There is no more interesting subject before the American people at the present time than the subject of forestry, and the author has written most interestingly of the important developments now taking place in the field of forestry.

While he discusses the subject from every angle, he gives an entirely different approach to the subject—the most interesting being the national economy, some writer making the following comment: "He questions the battle cries of the past, and substitutes for prejudice and emotionalism a dispassionate critical view of the possibilities for future programs in forest conservation."

One of the most interesting chapters is the first, entiled "Re-Thinking Forestry," and another is "Forest Use." This is a new book, we should have new books it seems on all subjects, for with the changing years, people and conditions, it is impossible to keep up with the Joneses without the necessary information. Mr. Pack is a traveler and a writer whose writings are always "just from the press." (Macmillan's Book.)

Problems of the Teaching Personnel. By Dennis H. Cooke. Professor of education, George Peabody College for Teachers. There are nearly 400 pages, and it is divided into Part I. "Professional Problems," and Part II. "Administrative Problems." If the author's work as a writer should conclude with this volume he has given to the teachers of the world enough data to last until the end not of the term, but of their teaching days. It tells it all, and they are indeed problems the working out of which will be brought to a teacher's vision from a different viewpoint. The real discussion, after all, "is the practical decisions the administrator meets in his regular school work. It relates to every line of work surrounding the subject of teaching. There are also illustrations which assist in the scientific study as revealed through an interesting research. (Longmans & Green, New York.)

LOCAL CLOTHING MEN CONSIDER U. S. CODE

During the past week a meeting of all retail clothiers in Atlanta was held in the offices of the Atlanta Retail Merchants' Association to consider a tentative code of fair business practices for the clothing industry as drawn by the National Retail Clothiers' Association, with headquarters in Chicago.

J. H. Alexander, president of the George Muse Clothing Company, has been appointed by the National Retail Clothiers' Association to represent this district on the committee which will meet in Chicago Monday, July 17, for the purpose of completing the final draft of the code and embodying suggestions received from the various districts throughout the United States.

At the meeting held during the past week Edgar Chambers was elected chairman of the clothiers' division to represent them on the board of directors of the Atlanta Retail Merchants' Association.

The Atlanta Retail Merchants' Association is keeping closely in touch with the various national retail associations and as rapidly as tentative codes are prepared by these national associations meeting are being held of local retail trade lines in order that the local merchants may have an opportunity to review the codes and make suggestions regarding data to be embodied in the final drafts.

Administrative provisions in several of the codes which have been drawn by national retail associations provide for the setting up of local retail recovery boards, consisting of at least one member from each important local trade group through which the codes, when finally approved at Washington, will be administered locally. The Atlanta Retail Merchants' Association is organized into trade groups which will fit exactly such a plan of administration and is prepared to set up promptly such a local retail recovery board at such time as it may be definitely determined that this will be the plan of the administration.

The association's office is keeping fully informed on all developments under the industrial recovery act as they apply to retailing in order that it may be able to keep its members fully informed at all times.

NEW NEGRO PLAY TO BE PRESENTED AT PROGRESS FAIR

"New Heaven Bound," a religious play in which well-known negro spirituals are dramatized, was given its first presentation at the city auditorium Friday night by Big Bethel Church choir with the assistance of other church choirs.

St. Peter guarded the Golden Gates, and the saints and angels comprised the choir. Henry Furlow, as Satan, grappling with the souls of pilgrims on their way to Paradise, ran away with the show to judge by the applause he was accorded. Nellie I. Davis, as the Wayward Girl, sang a spiritual called "Too Late." Other songs were: "I'm a Soldier in the Army of the Lord," "On My Way to Heaven; Trying to Make Heaven My Home" and "Swing Low Sweet Chariot," which was dramatized for the first time this year. Christine Lloyd sang this well-known spiritual. She was bed-ridden and angels descended from heaven to carry her through the gates in a golden chariot.

The entire troup will present the play at the Chicago World's Fair the week of August 14. Georgia week. "New Haven Bound" was presented for the benefit of the negro war veterans and the churches who were represented.

BIRTHS

The following families announce births: Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Ragsdale, 143 Emerson avenue, girl; Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Monaghan, 816 North Highland avenue, girl; Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Giardina, 775 Sherwood road, girl; Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Daniel, 403 North Avenue, N. E. boy; Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Hand, 1575 Montreat avenue, girl; Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Russell, 1043 Clifton road, girl; Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Kemp, 1-A Adair avenue, boy; Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Bradley, 183 Cleveland avenue, girl; Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Ware, 1608 Olympian way, S. W., girl; Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Snell, 1310 Hartford avenue, S. W., girl; Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Hambrick, 1361 Dupont street, S. E., girl; Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Poole, 607 Angier avenue, N. E., boy; Mr. and Mrs. B. Sandifer, 1375 Allene avenue, boy; Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Penland, 873 Argonne avenue, girl; Mr. and Mrs. C. E. McWilliams, 1602 Lakewood avenue, girl; Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Williams, 2788 Peachtree road, boy; Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Samples, 852 White street, S. W., boy; Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Carheris, 1061 Boulevard, N. E., girl; Mr. and Mrs. P. M. Griffin, 381 Whitefoord avenue, N. E., boy; Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Pledger, Egan, Ga., boy; Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Barrett, 347 Elvira street, boy; Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Bennett, 510 East Howard street, Decatur, girl; Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Hess, 675 Linwood avenue, N. E., boy; Mr. and Mrs. George W. Brownlee Jr., 154 Ponce de Leon circle, girl; Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Scarratt, 974 Rosedale road, girl; Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Cox, 640 Cascade avenue, boy; Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Tarleton, 908 Juniper street, boy; Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Patrick, 1245 McPherson avenue, boy; Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Chaffin, 554 Ninth street, N. W., girl; Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Wisner, 140 Maxwell street, Decatur, girl; Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Foster, 219 West Davis street, Decatur, girl; Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Williamson, 331 Shannon drive, S. W., boy; Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Barton, Cheshire road, boy; Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Shelor, 3 Park Lane, N. E., girl; Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Walker, 1131 Virginia avenue, girl; Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Posey, 1463 Graham street, S. W., girl; Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Sammons, 405 Fourth street, N. E., girl; Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Green, 85 Mortimer street, N. E., boy.

R. A. Hughes, 180 Reinhardt street, S. E., girl; R. H. Warren, 238 Fair street, boy; A. C. Carter, 315 West Forrest avenue, girl; H. C. Hudlow, 293 Connecticut avenue, girl; C. C. Turner, 301 Bass street, girl; J. M. Smith, 477 Luckie street, girl; G. H. Daniel, Chattahoochee, Ga., girl; R. Smith, 433 Oakland avenue, boy; J. P. Callahan, Hutchison road, boy; R. A. Brooks, 2456 Bankhead, boy; W. Edmond, 454 Ashby street, S. W., girl; J. D. Gann, 273 Georgia avenue, S. W., girl; W. E. Williamson, Route No. 2, boy; H. Howell, 139 Berean avenue, girl; E. J. Bracewell, 511 Lynch avenue, boy; L. W. Wilson, Egan, Ga., boy; J. M. Smedley, 604 Fair street, S. W., boy; H. L. Bragg, 626 Jett street, boy; E. A. Nolan, 50 Waverly way, girl; T. M. Brooks, Egan, Ga., girl; F. M. Wilson, 1003 Capitol avenue, girl; A. P. McLendon, 637 Formwalt street, girl; O. L. Gilmer, 2504 Martin street, girl; J. T. Russell, Conley street, East Point, girl; A. L. Cantrell, 384 Orleans street, S. E., boy; T. T. Pope, 515 Center street, boy; L. B. Thomason, 752 Echo street, girl; C. Eaton, 148 West Peachtree place, girl; A. E. Bradley, 3 Morris street, boy; H. E. Burke, 117 Chambers avenue, boy; G. M. Edwards Jr., 412 Chester street, N. E., girl; J. A. Banks, 1009 Pulliam street, girl L. A. Thrasher, 185 Carol street, girl; L. A. Rychley, 522 Morgan street, girl; B. H. Coleman, 849 Capitol avenue, boy; H. T. Trusty, 32 Old Piedmont lot, girl; M. E. Williams, 82 Fifth street, N. W., boy; G. Griffith, 27 New Whipple, boy; A. T. Adams, College Park, girl; H. E. DeLong, 1273 Niles avenue, girl; J. A. Cloud Jr., 76 Elmo avenue, boy; R. N. Walker, 800 Lindsay street, girl.

JINKY CONTEST WINNERS

WINNERS OF THIS WEEK'S REGULAR PRIZES

First Prize---$15 Cash
No. 3220—Miss Frances Wimbish, 230 Rawson Street

Second Prize--$10 Cash
No. 3243—Miss Lillian Burbage, 419 Copenhill Avenue

Third Prize---$5 Cash
No. 3115—R. L. Wells, Box 65, Station A, City

NEXT FIVE PRIZES--$2 CASH EACH

No. 1183—Frances Lawrence, 1012 North Avenue
No. 3235—M. J. Friedman, 203 Mitchell Street
No. 3272—Miss Eva Bell Gregg, 430 Capitol Avenue
No. 4958—Mary T. Hohenstein, 335 Sixth Street
No. 14422—Miss Nelle Brooks, 553 Ashby Street

NEXT TEN PRIZES--$1 CASH EACH

No. 1341—Mrs. R. F. Henricks, 2476 Boulevard Dr.
No. 1579—Mrs. R. R. Barstead, 780 Park St.
No. 2269—Mable Markowitz, 564 Parkway Dr.
No. 3078—Mrs. N. Watkins, 660 Cumberland Rd.
No. 5658—Mrs. H. A. Bennett, 225 Rumson Rd.
No. 5659—Mrs. H. S. Harvard, 1300 Lucile Avenue
No. 6306—Mrs. DeVaughn Huie, 118 Olympic Place
No. 14453—Miss Lillian Thomas, 419 Copenhill Avenue
No. 14560—Mrs. J. M. Ellington, 963 Beecher
No. 14907—Mrs. C. H. Travis, Senoia, Ga.

NEXT 100 PRIZES--RIALTO THEATER TICKET

No. 1063—Mrs. Minnie Smith, 468 Pryor Street.
No. 1091—Virginia Terry, 1390 Lucile Ave.
No. 1149—Alta Peterson, 370 Sixth St., N. E.
No. 1253—Milton Freeman Jr., 2262 Ridgedale Rd.
No. 1311—Miss Lillie A. Mason, 535 Pulliam St.
No. 1328—Dorothy Whitten, 187 North Warren.
No. 1371—Mrs. J. W. Stallings, 930 Pryor.
No. 1385—Joan Briggs, 2215 Fairhaven Cir.
No. 1481—Mrs. Edward R. McMullan, 1320 Everhart St.
No. 1535—Jack Bagwell, 948 Fortress Ave.
No. 1640—Kathryn Nour, Box 26, Stone Mountain, Ga.
No. 1662—Paul Giles, 121 Baker St.
No. 1765—Miss Willie Mae Brooks, 553 Ashby St.
No. 1810—Tom Lewis, 84 Palisades Rd.
No. 1899—Mrs. H. F. Smith, 489 Culberson St.
No. 1993—Edna Mae Soyez, 21 Holmes St.
No. 2048—Mrs. M. J. Warren, 475 Sterling St.
No. 2087—Miss Carrie Roberts, 788 Barnett St.
No. 2214—John Van Fleet, 616 Kennesaw Ave.
No. 2270—Sue Markowitz, 564 Parkway Dr.
No. 2271—Ann Markowitz, 564 Parkway Dr.
No. 2419—Marshall Williams, 636 Spring St.
No. 2462—Mrs. George Ernwein, 680 Glen Iris Dr.
No. 3007—Amelia Freitag, 795 Ponce de Leon Pl.
No. 3049—Frances Fry, Box 1733, City.
No. 3085—Mrs. J. N. Patrick, Battle Hill Sanitarium.
No. 3120—Emie Jean Marchmont, 49 Montclair Dr.
No. 3130—Edward McCrary, 1532 Olympian Circle.
No. 3200—Mrs. M. C. Phillips, 1375 Stewart Ave.
No. 3214—Ralph Hendrix Jr., 2476 Boulevard Dr.
No. 3271—Mrs. W. W. Dodd, 395 Cameron St.
No. 3274—Katherine P. Walker, 1645 Peachtree.
No. 3277—Annett R. Scholem, 872 Briarcliff Rd.
No. 3308—Mrs. J. W. Sisk, 2053 Dunwoody.
No. 3334—Virginia Maddux, 1120 La Rosa Ter.
No. 3358—Henry Thompson, 720 Lee St.
No. 3430—Essie Hankinson, 384 Crew St.
No. 3467—Mrs. Lorena Hogan, 250 Central Pl.
No. 4534—Earl Carson, 295 Boulevard, N. E.
No. 4543—Mrs. Dan Purcy, 2274 Ridgedale Rd.
No. 4658—Walter Edmondson, 64 Arnold St.
No. 4841—Mrs. L. B. Propes, 1430 Graham St.
No. 4895—Mrs. H. C. Somer, 866 Briarcliff Rd.
No. 4982—Mrs. W. M. Norton, 332 Mell Ave.
No. 5192—Dorothy Nations, 1412 Sylvan Rd.
No. 5232—Ruby Lene Lewis, 1530 Marbut Ave.
No. 5492—Mary Frances Long, 835 Zachrey.
No. 5521—Alfred Souter, 157 Alexander St.
No. 5588—Mrs. A. E. Ragsdale, 1599 Rogers Ave.
No. 5623—Margaret Baldwin, 21 E. Drive.
No. 5680—Edward Kinney, 495 E. Ontario Ave.
No. 5822—Margaret George, 62 Clarke St.
No. 5938—Donnie Brock, 892 Park St.
No. 6260—Evelyn Combee, 597 St. Charles Ave.
No. 6300—Helen Richardson, 636 Spring St.
No. 6392—Elizabeth Garvin, 47 Fairhaven Circle.
No. 7393—Green Henderson Jr., Lawrenceville, Ga.
No. 8651—Muriel Gray, 255 Georgia Ave.
No. 8681—Benny Wiseman, 119 Washington Terrace.
No. 8702—Dorothy Heffner, 2542 Austin Drive.
No. 8748—Virginia Terrell, 460 Arnold St.
No. 9510—Mrs. J. L. Preston, 598 Formwalt St.
No. 9561—Betty Sue Hopkins, 1283 Lanier Boulevard.
No. 9570—Mrs. S. R. Paparrizos, 779 Pulliam.
No. 10513—Erline Bolton, 866 Pryor St.
No. 11760—H. B. Hollingsworth, 928 Fortress.
No. 11780—Christine Johnson, 249 Georgia Ave.
No. 11803—Mrs. H. M. Carver, 383 McDonough.
No. 11863—Walter McKibben, 732 Cascade Ave.
No. 12283—Mrs. A. Maloof, 112 Fair St.
No. 12311—Mrs. W. L. Dillard, 847 So. Pryor.
No. 12319—Mrs. Juliette Savini, 132 Walton St.
No. 12322—N. Emile Savini, 225 Degress.
No. 14455—Mary Elizabeth Walker, 1692 Moseley Dr.
No. 14456—A. Nour, Stone Mountain.
No. 14466—Katherine Brazeal, 262 Hayden.
No. 14551—Johnnie Cutcliff Jr., 653 Park Dr.
No. 14564—Lilyan Padgett, 777 Edgewood Ave.
No. 14570—Bill Tanner, 727 Windsor St.
No. 14597—Mrs. Jeannie Pittman, 9 Adair Ave.
No. 14833—Mrs. Vera Johnson, 430 Lawton St.
No. 14837—Henry Somers Geigerman, 866 Briarcliff.
No. 14845—Lawrence Harrison, 623 Orme Circle.
No. 14859—Mrs. H. G. Cooper, 58 Lombardy Way.
No. 14873—Everette Haynie, 511 Williams St.
No. 14901—Mrs. W. M. Busha, 680 Glen Iris Dr.
No. 14902—Mrs. T. V. McCain, 522 N. Main, East Point.
No. 14904—Mrs. F. G Campbell, 56 Clay St.
No. 14914—Helen Chambers, Hapeville, Ga.
No. 14918—M. M. Hardy, 559 Eighth St.
No. 14922—Ruth Reynolds, C. & S. Bank Bldg.
No. 14926—Edith Entrekin, 888 Oakhill Ave.
No. 14933—Mrs. J. T. Davis, 923 Hall Pl.
No. 14935—A. G. Smith, 1203 Cleburne Ave.
No. 14951—Mary Clapp, 141 Prado.
No. 14952—Mrs. Estelle Ware, Miami, Fla.
No. 14954—Ruth Goodwin, 47 East Lake Dr.
No. 14973—Mrs. H. A. Donehoo, 554 Iris St.
No. 14974—Margaret Vaughn, 1808 Mermaid Dr.
No. 14998—D. Zachry, 837 Dalney.

WINNERS OF THIS WEEK'S SPECIAL PRIZES

No. 1025—Miss Clara Brentnall Stone, 30 Collier Road.
Wins two months' pass from Rialto Theatre.

No. 1068—Miss Cornelia Orr, 1012 St. Charles Ave.
Wins a $2.98 Eyelet Embroidered Dress from J. M. High Co.

No. 1220—Miss Elizabeth Allen, 465 Boulevard.
Wins one month's pass from Georgia Theatre.

No. 1581—Miss G. E. Mims, 226 Elizabeth Street.
Wins one month's pass from Paramount Theatre.

No. 2429—Miss Charlotte Richardson, 1471 Westwood Ave.
Wins one month's pass from Paramount Theatre.

No. 3232—Miss J. Brown, 667 Bonaventure Ave.
Wins a $2.50 Merchandise Order from Lane Drug Store.

No. 3345—Miss Thelma Brantley, 779 St. Charles Ave.
Wins a set of Salad Dishes from King Hardware Co.

No. 3368—Emilie Roseberg, 337 Central Avenue.
Wins one month's pass from Paramount Theatre.

No. 4590—Mrs. L. T. Bailey, Stone Mountain.
Wins one month's pass from Georgia Theatre.

No. 4778—Edward Shaft, 959 Alloway Pl.
Wins $5.00 Merchandise Order from A&P Tea Co.

No. 5573—Frances Sterne, 1476 Fairview Rd.
Wins 7-lb. Autographed Cake from Stone Baking Co.

No. 5764—Edward Gaston, 1031 Reeder Circle.
Wins $5.00 Merchandise Order from Rogers, Inc.

No. 8640—Mrs. Ben F. Frank, 230 Rawson St.
Wins one month's pass from Georgia Theatre.

No. 9509—H. W. Calloway, 1335 West Peachtree.
Wins one month's pass from Paramount Theatre.

No. 14969—Miss Beth Mathews, 226 Elizabeth St.
Wins one month's pass from Georgia Theatre.

THE FOLLOWING ARE GIVEN HONORABLE MENTION

Lanelle Nash
Mary Jo Helms
Sadie Whitaker
Frances Ruskin
Mrs. A. D. Johns
Dorothy Royal
Mrs. J. S. Lewis
Mrs. A. B. Dean
Mary Williams
J. O. Thompson
Mrs. G. E. Phoenix
Frances Lee
Mary Pearl Cook
J. R. McCord
O. W. Brock
Kathleen F. Wright
Florrie Jean Bishop
Iva Baldwin
Johnnie Moore
Miss Aline Cook
Robert Watkins
Paul Trammel
Katherine Nichols
Margaret Burke
Yvonne Korizon
H. Wright
Martha Macauley
Laura Livingston
Mrs. G. L. Waters
Mrs. P. Fry
Frances Phillips
Alonzo Gates
J. L. Price
Mae Ivey
Mary Brock
Bill Herring
Mildred Bartlett
Robert Laxson
Dallas Broome
Helen Parker
Mrs. H. Williams
J. F. Brunson
Mrs. C. H. Ellis
Miss Buddie Underwood
Charles E. Bailey

Mrs. W. Green Henderson
Doris Kent
Beulah Elliott
Mary Whitehead
Ann Gadd
Mrs. Ella Mae Taylor
R. M. White
Mrs. James T. Lewis
Virginia S. Forbes
LaVergne Walker
Bernard Naas
Edward Peck
Elizabeth W. Meadows
Mrs. Rowland G. Lyon
Mrs. W. H. Robinson
Mrs. Lillian Shirley
Mrs. T. M. Sullivan
Mrs. P. H. Laughridge
Mrs. E. B. Shehee
Claude H. Callery
Authur Wiseberg
Mrs. S. P. Crumbley
Mrs. T. W. Hobbs Jr.
Lilly Mae Rubley
Lorraine Flint
Miss Bertha Ford
F. C. Prow
Evelyn Feckoury
Mrs. C. S. Cumberworth
Miss Mary McKinney
Margaret Colbert
Kathleen Derrick
Carolyn Selman
Miss Nan Head
A. W. Roach
Miss Tommiola Barber
Ruba Jo Burgess
Annie Beall Barrer
Mrs. Elizabeth E. Chase
Mrs. S. S. Henderson
Katherine Brown
Mrs. Marvin A. Webb
Mrs. G. H. Stevenson
Mrs. Mary Taurman
Ruby Griffin
L. B. Propes
Mrs. Roy Strickland

Mrs. Virgil C. Cook
Mrs. W. M. Watkins
Miss Almo Owens
Ellis Maloof
W. H. Warren
Mrs. Mary T. Parish
Mary Julia Watson
Betty O'Kelly
Gordon Williams
Ida Sexton
Katherine Shaw
John Scoggins
Shirley Gay McMullan
Mrs. S. A. Massell
Harold Asher Jr.
Marion Sterne
Nolia Waters
Rose Cherry
Mana Shelton
Mrs. Sam Latimer
Mrs. Emilie Haygood
Mrs. R. E. Worley
W. E. Latimer
Earnest Flannagan
Sidney Waterhouse
Ethelyn Loehr
Katherine Crabb
Katherine Virginia Brown
Mrs. C. D. Vocalis
Fredie Kritsler
Ruth Peck
Charles Gallaher
Willonell Rooney
George Brownlee
Jacqueline DeLoach
Betty Isrel
E. H. Lathal
Mrs. U. B. North
Nell Adams
Ninnette Payne
Louise Roper
Nick Feckoury
Betty Mathews
E. G. Whitaker
Mariam Hightower
Kris Golfas
Mrs. Ralph McClellan

Grace McCurdy
Helen Geffin
Mrs. Eunice Gadd
Bevelle Wayble
Herbert Besser
Willis Etry
Miss Mary Scully
Mrs. A. M. Puckett
Mrs. C. R. Stenhouse
Dorothy Williams
Miss Pauline Wall
Miss Leon Purdue
Jean Samet
Mrs. L. Samet
Mary Louise Reed
Mrs. B. H. Mayo
Thomas A. Sharpe
Ann Sanders
Victor Barron Jr.
Robert Johnston
Miss Glenna Raymer
Orrie Manning
Jean Hall
Mrs. Edna Scoggins
Eugene Entrekin
Mrs. R. E. Wellborn
Louise Stephens
Mrs. T. N. Routsos
John McDonald
S. Dettiebach
Flora Minak
Charles Smith
Louise McIntosh
E. E. DeVault
Eugene Lambert
Beverly Whitaker
Miriam Loeb
Pat Campbell
Bennett Steinberger
Marmel Bishop
Margaret Eiseman
J. L. Preston
Iris Lloyd
Miss Daisey Allen
Sara L. Wise
Emmie Rasbridge
Jimmie Walker
Norman Hollyfield

Charlotte Williams
Huberta McKee
Miss Lena Key
Dolly Townsend
Herman Somers Geigerman
Dorothy Harrison
Mrs. G. D. Deal
Robert Ingram
Gladys Hardin
Hilda Warshaw
Anne Blackman
Richard Wiggins
Louise Sharp
Dorothy Argue
Steward Bolen
Billy Brazeal
Janie Taylor
David Savini
Ruby Zachem
Jeannie Maloof
Lois Jackson
Dewey Scarborough
St. John Barnwell
Thomas Hollin
Mrs. H. A. Gordon
Mrs. D. G. Meyerhardt
Rosalyn Lasseter
Carlton Smith
J. H. Davis
Mrs. P. H. Norton
Billy Childers
Jean McConnell
Mrs. S. H. Luther
Mrs. R. L. Stocks
Mrs. E. J. Coffey
Mrs. L. E. Fields
Bobby Jensen
Carrie Ford
Katherine Hall
Mrs. John R. Smith
Mrs. H. V. Strickland
Margaret Creel
Mrs. O. G. Carpenter
Grady Bradford
Mary Cox
Mrs. W. E. Coagler

Billie Stancliff
Mrs. Joseph Brown
O. H. Berry
Mrs. F. W. Adams
George Cavin
George Najour
Mary Jo Baldwin
Earl Prow
Mrs. H. G. Wilson
Sara Hendrix
Linda Puckett
Miss Doris Ball
Marjorie Thigpen
Mary Eleanor Evans
Mrs. W. M. Hurt
Bobby Mathews
Mattie Burtchell
Frances Fisher
Martha Aiken
Mrs. Viola Shields
Billy Poulos
Louise Homer
Ann Goldberg
Louisa Stringer
Miss Maude Haynie
Irene James
Bobby Jeff Reed
Mrs. J. M. Arnold
Leona Von Mansfield
Dorothy Herring
W. A. Royal
Roy Patillo
Mrs. L. E. McCumber
Mary Cole
Mrs. E. C. Ovaitte
Elise Wages
Mary Lewis
Florence Williams
Harriette Virginia Hanner
Katherine Griffin
Myrtle Saye
Martha Mateson
Elizabeth Bailey
Carroll Smith
Ernest Hardeway

Raiford Duncan
Mrs. Ruth Davis
Mrs. John W. White
Mrs. G. F. Walker
Pearl Rubin
Billie Smith
Margaret Walters
Margaret Smith
Evelyn Enloe
Maria Hertwig
Mrs. H. E. Richards
Martha Young
Marilyn Richardson
Betsy Blumberg
Jack Boggs
Sara Young
Eloise Hetzel
Billie Dean
Addie Munday
Wade Kelley
Mrs. M. L. Green
Carolyn Wingate
Aline Jensen
Mary Elizabeth Calloway
Mrs. J. B. McConnell
Eloise Polak
Mrs. Floy Anderson
Allan Jackson
Virginia Williams
Mrs. H. Apple
Dorothy Hankinson
A. B. Dean
Helen Mayo
Ann Armstrong
E. L. Money
Bobby Andrews
Miss Mary Philpott
Mrs. O. M. Carr
Emma Lee Pace
Loretta Williams
Mary Jean Wilson
Billy May
Earl Clements
Frank Steinheimer
Lillian Andrew
H. B. Carlock
Clifford Pattillo

Miss Margaret Goler
Esther Levetan
H. H. Jones
Miss Ruth Bradford
Kenneth McBrayer
Rosanne Yeager
Miss Ruth Fields
Miss Anna A. White
J. D. Talley
Dorothy Campbell
Mrs. T. L. Cerniglia
Mrs. J. S. Ward
Mrs. W. E. Goza
Mrs. M. M. Sherouse
Mrs. E. G. Whitaker
Barton Bloodworth
Mrs. Helen Davis
Mary Ann Henderson
Ben Brock
Mildred Hartsfield
Betty North
Mrs. Macon Scott
Margaret Adams
Mrs. A. N. Mattison
Clifford Grant
Julia Reynolds
S. R. Davenport
Julia Wing
Jean Bright
Bessie Stephens
Juliette Smith
Mrs. M. S. Hamilton
Jack Scribner
Katherine Kauffman
Mary Elizabeth Camp
Rose Daves
Mrs. R. L. Douglas
F. A. White
Betty Samet
Mrs. G. P. Haynes
Mrs. Jock Baker
Buddy Baldwin
Quillian Amason
Marvin E. Harrison
Mrs. G. Z. Glover Sr.
Frances McKibben
Mrs. M. F. Lanier

Miss Ruby Reeves
Iva Souter
Evelyn Dial
Anne Sue Moreland
Mrs. Florence Dreyfus
Miss Janet E. Dreyfus
Sam Dreyfus
Mrs. B. A. Wilbanks
Leonora Rea
Dorothy McGinn
Willie Mae Hunnicut
Harry Johnson
Mrs. Frances Marion Brown
E. A. Cassady Jr.
Ruth Sane
Robert Bissell
Walter Andrews
Madeline Garner
Rosaline Weisman
Carrol Smith
Lewis Ogburn
Mrs. S. E. Hollin
Mrs. Frances Cates
Elizabeth Najour
Albert Almond Jr.
Lanelle Keckley
Ralph Reisman
Ruth Stocks
J. Burt Price
Sara Camp
George Hudson
Morgan Waters
Frances North
Mrs. N. C. Huburt
Mrs. C. C. Clements
Charles Blackstone
Thomas George Isrel
Ruth Money
Elizabeth Meyerhardt
Onaida Wyatt
Mrs. C. Von Mansfield
Mrs. W. F. Sloan
Mrs. Irene Stockton
Anne Harrison
Elizabeth Harrison
Mrs. Louise Martin

Winners Will Call for Prizes at Jinky Headquarters, 137 Peachtree Arcade

WANT AD SECTION

THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION

WANT AD SECTION

VOL. LXVI., No. 33. ATLANTA, GA., SUNDAY MORNING, JULY 16, 1933.

THE CONSTITUTION CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING

Information

CLOSING HOURS

Want Ads are accepted up to 9 p. m. for publication the next day. The closing hour for the Sunday edition is 5:30 p. m. Saturday.

CLASSIFIED RATES

Daily and Sunday rates per line for consecutive insertions:
One time ..... 20 cents
Three times ..... 17 cents
Seven times ..... 15 cents
Minimum, 2 lines (12 words).

In estimating the space of an ad figure six average words to a line.

Ads ordered for three or seven days and stopped before expiration will only be charged for the number of times the ad appeared and adjustments made at the rate earned.

Errors in advertisements should be reported immediately. The Constitution will not be responsible for more than one incorrect insertion.

All want ads are restricted to their proper classification and The Constitution reserves the right to revise or reject any advertisement.

Ads ordered by telephone are accepted from persons listed in the telephone or city directory on memorandum charge only. In return for this courtesy the advertiser is expected to remit promptly.

To Phone An Ad

Call WAlnut 6565

Ask for an Ad-Taker

Railroad Schedules

Schedule Published as Information. (Central Standard Time.)

TERMINAL STATION.

Arrives—	A., B & C. R. R.	—Leaves
7:10 pm	Cord-Ways	7:50 am
5:50 am	Way-Lit-Thos.	9:15 pm

Arrives—	A. & W. P. R. R.	—Leaves
11:35 pm	New Orleans-Montgomery	6:10 am
4:20 pm	Montgomery Local	1:00 pm
7:00 am	New Orleans-Montgomery	4:30 pm
11:40 am	New Orleans-Montgomery	6:05 pm

Arrives —	C. of GA. RY.	—Leaves
5:35 am	Macon-Savannah	7:25 am
10:30 am	Columbus	7:45 am
5:40 pm	Mac-Jax-Miami-Tampa	9:05 am
9:25 am	Macon	4:05 pm
6:05 pm	Columbus	5:00 pm
6:20 am	Jacksonville-Miami	7:25 pm
6:40 am	Tampa-St. Petersburg	9:05 pm
8:00 pm	Macon-Savannah-Albany	10:00 pm

Arrives— SEABOARD AIR LINE	—Leaves
7:00 pm Birmingham-Atlanta	7:25 am
8:45 pm N. Y.-Wash-Rich-Nor	11:55 am
11:35 am Birmingham-Memphis	4:15 pm
8:30 am N. Y-Wash-Rich-Nor	7:20 pm
7:15 am N. Y-Wash-Rich-Nor	9:50 pm
5:30 am Birmingham-Atlanta	11:45 pm

Arrives— SOUTHERN RAILWAY	—Leaves
5:50 am Wash-N Y-Ashe	12:01 am
7:15 pm Valdosta-Brunswick	6:35 am
8:20 pm Detroit-Chi-Cleve	7:05 am
9:05 pm B'ham-Kansas City	7:10 am
4:00 pm Piedmont Limited	7:30 am
5:00 pm Anniston-Birmingham	9:10 am
5:45 pm Jax-Miami-St Pete	10:10 am
5:40 pm Crescent Limited	12:00 noon
6:45 pm Rich-Wash-NY	12:10 pm
7:20 am Rome-Chatta	1:45 pm
11:40 am Columbus-Warm Springs	4:15 pm
11:45 am Birmingham-Memphis	4:15 pm
9:45 am Fort Valley	5:15 pm
9:00 am Rich-Wash-New York	5:15 pm
10:00 am Cin-L'ville-Chi-Det	6:00 pm
7:05 am Col'bia-Greenwood-Wash	7:45 pm
6:20 am Jax-Brunswick-St. Pete	8:30 pm
6:55 am Jax-Miami	9:15 pm
5:55 am Birmingham	11:30 pm

UNION PASSENGER STATION.

Arrives—	GEORGIA RAILROAD	—Leaves
5:35 pm	Augusta-Columbia	7:25 am
5:35 pm	Florence-Richmond	7:25 am
5:20 am	Augusta-Columbia	9:00 pm
5:20 am	Charleston-Wilmington	9:00 pm
7:45 am	xMonroe Bus	6:55 pm

xDaily except Sunday.

Arrives—	L. & N. R. R.	—Leaves
8:40 pm	Cin-Chicago-L'ville	7:40 am
5:10 pm	Knoxville via Blue Ridge	7:15 am
12:08 pm	Knoxville-Cin-Louis	8:25 pm
8:35 am	Cin-Detroit-Cleveland	6:15 pm

Arrives—	N., C. & ST. L. RY.	—Leaves
7:05 pm	Chatt-Chicago-St. Louis	8:00 am
7:05 pm	Chatt-Nash-St. Louis	8:00 am
8:25 am	Chatta-Chicago-St. Louis	6:20 pm
7:00 am	Chatt-Nash-St. Louis	9:30 pm

Announcements

Travel Opportunities 1

Chicago World's Fair—Ideal way—opportunity to see it thoroughly and reasonably. Know every point interest. Refs. 632 Peeples St. RA. 0609.

TRANSPORTATION wanted for 2 to St. Louis or point between St. Louis and Kansas City. Share expense. Ref. Address X-41, Constitution.

CARS furnished to reliable persons desiring to go to Florida; one way only. No compensation. Furnish own gas. Apply Mr. Smith, 240 Peachtree St.

DRIVING LOS ANGELES, MON., TUES.; REASONABLE EXPENSES SHARED. HE. 2313-J.

GOING Chicago immediately, need 3 passengers, $15 each round trip. HE. 5586-W.

DRIVING sedan Miami, points en route. Take 2 comfortably. WA. 7115.

WIDOW will nurse or help drive for transportation Miami. Mrs. Fern, MA. 6703.

LOS ANGELES via Houston or Dallas. Driving sedan. Take 2. WA. 3893.

LEAVING for Chicago about 19th, take 2, $6 each; exchange ref. Call DE. 2277-W.

Truck Transportation 1-A

EMPTY vans returning Jacksonville, 18th. Want load for Jax or points en route. RA. 3321. Sudduth Moving Co.

VANS going, returning South Ga., La., N. Y., Ohio. White, 277 Boulevard, N. E.

WANT load from Cincinnati, Cleveland, Pittsburgh this week. Red Ball. MA. 3896.

WANTED—Load to Savannah, Ga. Southeastern Transfer & Storage. MA. 6632.

Beauty Aids 2

$1.50 Guaranteed Waves
JOHN'S 76½ Whitehall
Jackson 8682.
Dr. R. F. Mills, Foot Specialist.

EDDIE RICH
Permanent Waving Specialist
1031 Peachtree St. HE. 9040

$2.50 quality permanent waves, any style, ringlet ends; "Jacqueline special" oil process $4. Eugene system, $5; Eugene, new, reverse spiral, $6. Jacqueline's Beauty Salon, 606 Grand Bldg. WA. 7846.

RYCKELEY'S
SUPERIOR QUALITY WAVES, $2.50.
NEW OIL METHOD.
69½ WHITEHALL ST. JA. 7057

HOLLYWOOD BEAUTY SALON, 414 Grand Theater Bldg., offers $3.50 waves, $2; $15 waves $3; complete. Every wave guaranteed. JA. 8880.

$2.50 OIL CROQUIGNOLE WAVES. RINGLET ENDS. COMPLETE
Mackey's Beauty Shop
65½ Whitehall St. JA. 7089.

MRS. BROOM in her new shop. Permanents. $2.50-$3-$5. Shampoo and F. Wave, 50c. Evening appts. 214 Grand Theater Bldg. JA. 8100.

Mr. Pruitt, Miss Banks
NOW with Elite Beauty Salon, Peachtree and 11th Sts., Jacobs balcony. HE. 0432.

PEGGY O'Neal, formerly with downtown beauty shops, has opened shop, 628 Blvd., Apt. 9. Phone WA. 5229. Popular prices.

MR. BROOM—Croquignole, Eugene and Frederic waves, $2.00. Evening appointments. 714 Grand Theater Bldg. WA. 7464.

EUGENE waves complete, cost material only (adv. offer). Holland's, JA. 8402.

$2.50 Guaranteed waves, any style. Grand Wave Shop. 514 Grand Bldg. JA. 8074.

Educational 3-A

COACHING by local teacher that assures promotion or advancement. Reasonable. HE. 9519-W.

COACHING by local teacher that assures promotion or advancement. Reasonable. HE. 9519-W.

Announcements

Personal 8

YOU HAVE IT—DON'T KNOW IT. IT'S ATHLETE'S FOOT (TOE-ITCH, RING-WORM OF THE FEET.) SAVEX IS GUARANTEED TO RELIEVE IT. 50c JAR. DRUG STORES OR SAVEX LABS., ATLANTA.

COUNTRY BOARD—Accommodations for two or three in private camp in foothills of Cohutta mts. For particulars address E. G. Noth, R. 1, Chatsworth, Ga.

Notice The small police dog on Howell Mill Rd. which bit lady Friday, July 14th, was mad.

WATCHES Repaired by certified watchmakers will keep time. Pay with old gold. E. A. Morgan, 119 Hunter.

BABIES BOARDED—Individual care, confidential. Reas. Nurse in charge. DE. 4405-J.

FRESH water fish dinners, plantation barbecue, dancing anytime at Riverside park

Curtains laundered, fluted; work guaranteed. JA. 4082-W.

DENTAL price cut. Set teeth, $5. Plates repaired, $1. Dr. Kelley, 101½ Whitehall

CALL Mrs. Roberts when services of a nurse are desired. HE. 7534.

DENTAL price cut. Set teeth, $5. Plates repaired, $1. Dr. Kelley, 101½ Whitehall.

CHILDREN BOARDED, SUBURBAN HOME, MOTHER'S CARE. CALHOUN 2750.

DR. H. L. HOLTZENDORF, Dentist, 201 Fisher Bldg., 745 Marietta St. MA. 5262.

WILL store piano for use of same. No children. Box 1884.

DR. DUNCAN, Dentist—Plates $10; repairs $1. 135½ Whitehall St. MA. 4537

CURTAINS laundered, 15c up. Work guaranteed and insured. Mrs. Estes, DE. 4241.

Lost and Found 10

DOUBLE-BREASTED blue sport coat on road between Lakemont and Clayton, Ga. Return to Emma Lee Cottage, Mountain City, or 315 Altoona Place, S. W. Reward.

$25 REWARD

MALE Eskimo Spitz, recently clipped, ans. to Bill; lost Morningside vicinity week ago. HE. 1415.

LOST—Happiness for lack of self knowledge; handwriting infallibly discloses character; send paragraph, signed, to Dr. Wu, Box 638, Emory University, Ga.

LOST—Silver and black police puppy, 4½ months old. Answers to name "Trinx." 1770 Flagler Ave., N. E., HE. 7135-R. Reward.

BROWN pocketbook between automobile and entrance Morehouse College campus. Reward for return, eye-glasses important to owner; no questions asked. MA. 6400.

LOST—Brown and white dog. German police type, name "Sam." Reward. DE. 1803-W

Automotive

Automobiles for Sale 11

"The Old Reliable"
Over 64 Years in Atlanta
JOHN SMITH CO.
VACATION SALE
Unusually Low Prices
CHEVROLETS.

	Down Payment
1933 Sedan Demonstrator	$175.00
1933 Coach	175.00
1933 Coupe	175.00
1932 Sedan 6-Wheel Demonstrator	175.00
1932 Sedan 6-Wheel and Trunk	175.00
1932 Sedan 5-Wheel	150.00
1932 Coach	125.00
1932 Coach	135.00
1931 Sedan	120.00
1930 Sedan	100.00
1930 Sport Roadster	75.00
1931 Coupe	100.00
1931 Coach	100.00
1930 Coupe	75.00
1930 Coach	75.00
1929 Coach	50.00
1928 Sedan	35.00
1928 Coupe	35.00
1928 Coupe	40.00
1928 Coach	30.00

FORDS.

1931 Convertible Victoria	$125.00
1931 Sedan	95.00
1931 Tudor	75.00
1930 Tudor	75.00
1930 Sedan	75.00
1931 Coupe	75.00
1930 Tudor	65.00
1929 Sedan	60.00
1929 Sedan	50.00
1929 Coupe	45.00
1929 Coupe	50.00
1929 Tudor	50.00
1929 Pick-up	50.00
1930 Pick-up	65.00

OTHERS FOR YOUR SELECTION.
CASH FOR USED CARS.
"The Old Reliable"
Over 64 Years in Atlanta
JOHN SMITH CO.
Chevrolet Dealers
530-540 W. Peachtree Street
541-543 Spring St., N. W.
Open Evenings Until 9 O'Clock

EAST POINT CHEVROLET COMPANY
A Line of Selective Used Cars. Thoroughly Reconditioned.

1932 CHEVROLET SPORT COUPE	$395
1932 CHEVROLET COACH, CLEAN	425
1931 CHEVROLET COUPE	295
1930 CHEVROLET SEDAN, CLEAN
1930 CHEVROLET COACH	225
1931 FORD COACH	250
1931 FORD COACH	225
1931 FORD TOWN SEDAN	295
1931 DESOTO SPORT ROADSTER	275
1930 BUICK SPORT COUPE, PHILCO RADIO	SPECIAL
2 1929 BUICK COUPES	SPECIAL
1929 DODGE COUPE	SPECIAL
1929 6-WHEEL HUDSON SPORT COUPE	SPECIAL
1931 PLYMOUTH SEDAN	SPECIAL

A Complete Line of Trucks, All Makes, Models and Types, at Bargain Prices.
We Pay Cash for Late-Model Chevrolets and Fords.
Call Us for Price and Demonstration.
TERMS TO SUIT YOU
EAST POINT CHEVROLET COMPANY
Open Until 9 P. M.
306-308 N. MAIN ST. CA. 2166.

'32 PACKARD SPORT COUPE
SEE THIS for the most beautiful, sporty, fine car in Atlanta; like new throughout.
HARRY SOMMERS, Inc.
375 Peachtree St.
JA. 1834.

LA SALLE '30 Town Sedan; 6 wire wheels, trunk and extra trunk rack. New General Cord tires; spotless upholstery. A wonderful value at only $595.00.
MITCHELL MOTORS, Inc.
270 Peachtree St. MA. 1100

ERNEST G. BEAUDRY
"Atlanta's Oldest Ford Dealer."
Used Car Bargains—Specialty Service.
168-174 Walton St., N. W. JA. 0446.
169 Marietta St., N. W.

Automotive

Automobiles for Sale 11

'31 CORD TOWN SEDAN
4 NEW TIRES, mechanical condition perfect; paint like new and car is jam-up in every respect.
Harry Sommers, Inc.
375 Peachtree St.
JA. 1834

CADILLAC, LA SALLE
OLDSMOBILE

'31 Dodge D. H., 6 w. w., 5 sedan	$ 435
'31 Studebaker "8" 6 w. w., 5 sedan	595
'31 Packard Std "8," 6 w. w., 5 sedan	1,[illegible]35
'30 La Salle, 6 w. w., Sport Coupe	685
'30 Stutz Custom, 6 w. w., 5 sedan	795
'30 Cadillac, 6 w. w., 5 sedan	795
'29 La Salle De Luxe, sedan	295
'29 Lincoln, 6 w. w., 5 sedan	695
'32 Ford B 2-door sedan	395

WE pay cash for late model used cars.
CAPITAL AUTOMOBILE CO.
830 W. Peachtree. HE. 5186.

1928 PACKARD "6," 5-passenger 4-door sedan. This car has had exceptionally good care. Mechanically perfect; $350. Terms, 278 Peachtree. WA. 5096.

BUICK Master 64-C Country Club Coupe; 6 wood wheels; new tires; new radio. The nicest looking and sweetest driving Buick in town. Priced only $495.00.
MITCHELL MOTORS, Inc.
270 Peachtree St. MA. 1100

GRAHAM

'31 Plymouth Sedan	$265
'29 Graham "612" Sedan	225
'29 Buick Coupe	225

CHAMBERS-KIRBY MTRS., JA. 5122.

WE offer a big selection of FORDS and Chevrolets, all models, at bargain prices.
Mitchell Motors, Inc.
270 Peachtree St. MA. 1100

LATE 1931 President convertible roadster, 6 wire wheels, radio, air horn. Looks and runs like new. Take smaller car in trade. My personal car. No dealer. RA. 6294. 1574 Mozley Drive.

LA SALLE '30 7-Pass. Sedan; 6 wire wheels; brand-new tires. A beautiful, perfect, fine car priced only $595.00.
MITCHELL MOTORS, Inc.
270 Peachtree St. MA. 1100

HUPMOBILE
CAUTHORN MOTOR CO., INC.
189 Peachtree, N. E. WA. 7196
Used cars, guaranteed, prices right.

1932 BUICK 87 5-Wire Wheel Sedan; like new. Sold less than a year ago for $1,875.00. Our price $795.00. See and drive it.
MITCHELL MOTORS, Inc.
270 Peachtree St. MA. 1100

1930 Ford Tudor, $195.
W. E. McBRAYER
10-12 Baker St. WA. 4157.

1933 CHEVROLET Coupe; driven less than 100 miles. Special price $495.00.
MITCHELL MOTORS, Inc.
270 Peachtree St. MA. 1100

1931 PACKARD Std. "8", 8 w. w., 5-pass Sedan. Driven very little. A beautiful car. Compare with new car of equal price, $1,135
CAPITAL AUTOMBILE CO.
830 W. PEACHTREE ST. HE. 5186.

RELIABLE used cars at lowest prices. See us for real values.
J. W. GOLDSMITH, INC.
38 North Ave., N. E. HE. 9613

NEW, USED CHEVROLETS
"Better Values Every Day"
EAST POINT CHEVROLET CO.
306-308 N. Main St. CA. 2166.

LOST—All interest in sixes when you can get a Pontiac economy straight eight sedan for only $797 delivered.
BOOMERSHINE MOTORS, INC.,
425 Spring St., N. W. JA. 1921.

Whitehall Chevrolet Co.
GOOD USED CARS
SALES, WA. 1412. Service, WA. 6829
329 Whitehall St., Cor. Forsyth

STUDEBAKER
BEST VALUES AT LOWEST PRICES.
YARBROUGH MOTOR CO.
Linden and W. P'tree. HE. 5142.

"THE OLD RELIABLE."
Over 64 Years in Atlanta.
JOHN SMITH COMPANY,
Chevrolet Sales and Service.
530-540 W. Peachtree St., N. W.

HARRY SOMMERS, INC.
GUARANTEED resale cars at lowest prices.
Peachtree at Forrest. JA. 1834.

ONLY $295, '30 model advanced Nash 6, cost $1,750, privately owned, driven; good rubber, paint. Chevrolet sedan part payment. 16 Marietta St. MA. 1154.

1931 Pierce Arrow Sedan
MUST be disposed of for estate. Perfect condition; radio equipped. HE. 3947.

1930 FORD TUDOR, $195
THE best in town, mechanically A-1. Looks like new. 52 Houston St. WA. 6281.

1931 FORD TUDOR
EXTRA clean, good rubber; will sell below Atlanta market price. 1025 Greenwood ave., N. E.

1933 FORD V-8 2-door sedan, driven 3,000 miles. New car guarantee. Trade, terms. Gantt, WA. 5877 Monday.

$85 '28 Ford Sport Coupe, rumble seat, jam-up mechanically. A-1 good rubber, 52 Houston St. WA. 6281.

'31 CHEVROLET coach, perfect shape upholstery, paint like new; bargain. HE. 8044-J.

1930 FORD std. coupe, in excellent condition, 4 practically new tires, $195; terms. 278 Peachtree WA. 5996.

1931 CHEVROLET coach, wire wheels, $195. Campbell's, Inc., 80 Cain, N. E., WA. 9830.

1931 FORD coach, $195. Campbell's, Inc., 80 Cain, N. E., WA. 9830.

FORDS — New and used. O. E. Freeman, Inc. 258 Ivy St., WA. 5877.

1932 AUSTIN coupe, $115. Campbell's, Inc., 80 Cain, N. E., WA. 9830.

'27 NASH COACH, $35; '28 ESSEX COACH, $55; GOOD COND. HE. 1058-J.

1931 FORD Victoria, 1 yr. old, good rubber, perfect mechanically; a bargain. HE. 0162.

WILL sell $160 Chev. credit memo. for $80. Address H-236, Constitution.

1928 CHEVROLET coach, in perfect shape. Must sacrifice. HEmlock 3823-W.

Auto Trucks for Sale 11-A

USED TRUCK BARGAINS.
THE WHITE COMPANY WA. 8242

MUST sell 1931 Chevrolet cabriolet, look good, runs good. Lee, WA. 7151 Monday.

Wanted Automobiles 18

Highest Prices Paid for Late-Model Chevrolets and Fords.
EAST POINT CHEVROLET COMPANY
306-308 N. MAIN ST. CA. 2166.

CASH MONEY
AND A GOOD PRICE
FOR A NUMBER OF FORDS AND CHEVROLETS, '29, '30, '31, '32 AND '33 MODELS
At the Famous "Lot of Values"
230 Whitehall St., S. W. MA. 3362.
"The Newest Used Cars in Atlanta."
JOHN S. FLORENCE MOTOR CO.
Tune in Every Night, 8 to 9
Florence Radiotainers—WJTL

WE WILL BUY YOUR CAR
WILL BUY YOUR EQUITY WILL ADVANCE MONEY.
MILLER & BRYANT
99 AUBURN AVENUE

Automotive

Wanted Automobiles 18

IF
YOU want the best spot cash price for your car or cars, see
EVANS MOTORS
Nation's Largest Dealer
232 Peachtree St.

SPOT CASH For Your Car
MITCHELL MOTORS, Inc.
270 Peachtree MA. 1100
Easy Parking In Rear

WE WILL BUY YOUR CAR, AND PAY YOU CASH.
WE WILL SELL YOU OURS AND EXTEND YOU CREDIT.
OUR CUSTOMERS MUST BE PLEASED
ADAIR-LeVERT CO.
265 Peachtree St.

CASH FOR USED CARS
CAMPBELL'S, INC.
80 CAIN ST., N. E. WA. 9830.

IF YOU want to sell your late Ford or Chevrolet roadster, see me. 115 Marietta St. Tuggle.

PRIVATE party will pay cash for Whippet "4." DE 2395-M.

WILL pay cash for good used car from owner. HE. 8644-J.

WANTED—'29 or '30 A Ford, 2-door, cash; no dealer. WA. 7929.

Business Service

Bookkeeping Service.

BOOKKEEPING SERVICE by C. P. A.—thoroughly experienced. Tel. MA. 2588

Beds, Feathers, Steamed, Renovated

Ideal Feather Works, 1010 E. P. de Leon Decatur. Work guaranteed. DE. 4268.

Bed Renovating

$7.50 Inner-spring mattress, made from your old mattress. Imperial Bedding Co., WA. 3611.

WE MEET ALL PRICES. STEAM RENOV. GATE CITY MATTRESS CO., JA. 3861.

OLD MATTRESSES made new with new tick, $1.85. Ira St. Mat. Co. MA. 2773.

Building and Repairing

CARPENTERING, papering, painting, calcimining, $1.50 room; white labor. Work guaranteed. MA. 2040.

Concrete, Ready Mixed

FOR driveways, basements, lily pools; del. ATLANTA AGGREGATE CO. WA. 1658.

Decorating, Papering and Painting

WALL PAPER furnished and hung, $5 a room. Expert work. Painting estimates reas. T. H. Fulton, phone DE. 1616.

Electric Contracting and Repairs

WIRING—MOTORS—REPAIRS
EMPIRE ELECTRIC CO.
76 PRYOR ST., S. W. WA. 4129

C. A. Puckett Prompt, reliable service. 18 Roswell Rd. CH. 3622.

Lawn Mowers Sharpened & Repaired

LAWN MOWERS sharpened, ground and repaired. Pick-up and delivery service Quick Service Saw Repair Co., Ja. 5284.

Moving and Storage

GENERAL WAREHOUSE & STORAGE CO. 272-274 Marietta St. JA. 2596.

Painting and Papering

Free estimates. All calls appreciated. Low prices. Work guaranteed. JA. 7314-W.

ROOMS papered, $3.75 up, paper furnished; also painting. E'st 30 yrs. JA. 2213.

SEE me before wall papering. Special July discount. J. W. Thorpe. HE. 3774.

Plumbing Supplies

WHOLESALE, retail; buy direct, 197 Central, S. W. Pickert Plumbing Supply Co.

Radio Repairing

BAME'S, Inc., WA. 5776. Repairs to all makes radio and Victrolas.

Roofing

COMPLETE ROOFING service. Guaranteed. Liberal terms. King Hardware, Roofing Dept., WA. 3000.

Roof Coating Applied. Call HE. 5787 for prices.

Roofing, Guttering, Repairing

GEORGIA ROOFING SUPPLY CO. — 52 MANGUM; RELIABLE SERV. MA. 5429.

Roofing, Painting, Papering.

Special Prices. Work guaranteed; 26 yrs. exp. W. S. Stroud. RA. 1292.

Stoves Repaired

ALL STOVES repaired, furniture bought and sold. 300 Peters St., JA. 9047.

Window Shades Cleaned

SHADES cleaned, look like new; new shades; low prices. C.M.Wright, CA. 9753.

Business Service

Welding

LAMAR WELDING CO.—We weld it all. 63 Harris Street. WA. 7917.

Employment

Help Wanted—Female 32

WOMAN OF CHARACTER.
A NATIONALLY known firm, with branch office in Atlanta, now planning an expansion program, has opening in sales department for several women with good social background. Personality more important than business experience. Must be well educated and free to travel. Age 25 to 45. No investment. Satisfactory financial arrangements. Also several local positions. Call in person after Sunday, do not phone. Canvassers need not apply. Mrs. Weedman, Henry Grady hotel.

WANTED, 25 GIRLS
TO learn Beauty Culture. Special rates for complete courses now on.
ARTISTIC BEAUTY INSTITUTE,
10½ EDGEWOOD AVE.
ATLANTA, GA.

OFFICE CLERK Single girl, 21-23, exp. in typing, bookkeeping and comptometer. This is the same job advertised last week. Executive Service Corp., 240 Trust Co. of Georgia Bldg.

Secretarial Course Three months. Individual instruction. Graduates placed. Special rates. Marsh Business College, Grand Theater Building. Walnut 4809.

WOMEN—Earn $12 dozen sewing, home spare time, materials cut, instructions furnished, experience unnecessary. Write Superior Dress Company, 203 Havemeyer street, Brooklyn, N. Y.

LADIES earn money at home sewing easy and simple work. Experience unnecessary. Send stamped, addressed envelope for particulars. Atlantic Beachwear, 10 So. Arkansas avenue, Atlantic City, N. J.

APPLICANTS answering advertisements are advised not to forward original recommendations. Copies will do. Originals can be presented at interview

WOMEN—Up to $20 weekly. Introduce Snag-Proofed Silk Hosiery to friends. Doubles wear. Samples FREE. American Hosiery Mills, Dept. 983, Indianapolis.

ABC Shorthand 30 days. All commercial subjects. Individual instruction. Employment service. Dickinson Secretarial School, Grand Bldg. WA. 8809

2 YOUNG LADIES, FREE TO TRAVEL, PLEASANT, PROFITABLE. MRS. PARKS, 22 MARIETTA ST. BLDG. MONDAY.

EXPERIENCED nurse, capable nursing infants, invalids, housekeeper, cook. Best refs. MA. 2950.

MIDDLED aged unincumbered graduate nurse, permanent home, small salary. H-86, Constitution.

WHITE girl 18-35 years, to live in home. For information call DE. 1017.

WANTED—Licensed beauty operator with following. 306 William-Oliver Bldg.

Help Wanted—Male 33

THE OLDEST AND LARGEST MONTHLY PREMIUM HEALTH AND ACCIDENT AGENCY IN THE SOUTH DESIRES THE SERVICES OF ONE OR MORE SALESMEN IN EACH COUNTY IN THE STATES OF GA. & FLA. TO SELL MONTHLY PREMIUM INSURANCE. EXPERIENCE HELPFUL BUT NOT ESSENTIAL. MOST UP-TO-DATE POLICIES OFFERED TO THE INSURING PUBLIC. CLAIMS PAID THE DAY RECEIVED. LIBERAL COMMISSION CONTRACT. NO TIME TO TAKE UP WITH DRIFTERS AND SALARY SEEKERS. THE NEXT FIVE MONTHS OFFER UNUSUAL OPPORTUNITIES IN THIS LINE. IF YOU HAVE ABILITY AND CAN PRODUCE, WRITE N. R. GLENN & CO., STANDARD BLDG., ATLANTA, GA.

SALESMAN WANTED

28 TO 36 years old to sell nationally known product through merchants to farmers, high school graduate preferred, good character and habits, energy, outstanding sales ability necessary qualifications. State age, former employers, education, salary desired, married or single, names of five character references. Employer will not be consulted unless we employ you. Attach latest snapshot. Box 1226, Hendersonville, N. C.

SELL merchants complete line of money-makers; popcorn machines, sandwich grills, hot dog steamers, lunch griddles, etc. All low priced. Season at its best now. Write today. Advance Mfg. Co., 1200 So. Kingshighway, St. Louis, Mo.

AMAZING new opportunity. Demonstrate for nationally known tailoring company. Start at $30 weekly. No canvassing. Permanent position. Rapid advancement. Your own clothes free. Give full details. Charles Olsen, Dept. 4714, 1301 Congress, Chicago.

SALESMEN—Sell ladies hats at bargain prices to retailers. Big compensation. Write I. Smyle, 656 Broadway, New York.

SALESMEN—Four $15 sales to stores net you $40 daily. Sayers Systems, Est. 1895. 2801-45 Sheffield Ave., Chicago, Ill.

10th ST. THEATRE TICKETS FOR WANT AD USERS
Two Tickets Free With Each Want Ad Paid in Advance Today for 3 Times or More to See

Romance . . . Beauty . . . Comedy . . . Exquisitely blended into an all-German language film clearly understandable in theme and action through English titles — a masterpiece of entertainment—gay, saucy, seductive, fresh.

The International Screen Success
Atlanta's Only Showing

TENTH STREET THEATRE
MONDAY—TUESDAY—WEDNESDAY

Employment

Help Wanted—Male 33

TO MEN WHO DON'T ANSWER ADS
YET want a clean, honest position that will insure them a fair return for their work. We sincerely believe you will be glad you investigated this opening. No investment required nor previous experience. Must be willing to work eight hours a day as instructed and start at our terms. This should mean about $30 a week to start. We have men with us less than sixty days who are earning double that amount. Apply Monday 9 to 1.
219 101 MARIETTA ST. BLDG.

SALESMAN Man 28-35, exp. in selling commercial refrigeration of soda founts. Phone Mr. Sharkey, WAlnut 5430 for appointment.

SALESMAN Age 28-35, exp. credit and collections. Man who has worked new business for industrial finance company may qualify. Phone Mr. Sharkey, Executive Service Corp., WAlnut 5430, for appointment.

A REPRESENTATIVE in every city and town in the state for a large corporation providing a great new and copyrighted service. Good workers can make up to $75 a week and build up a large monthly bonus income besides. Exclusive territory and training. Write quick. B. Ellison, 897 Bergen Ave., Jersey City, N. J.

NEW BUSINESS INVENTION—Installed on free trial, sells itself. Four $15 sales daily pay $280 weekly. Portfolio of references from world's leading firms: Coca-Cola Bottling Co., International Coal, etc. Exclusive. P. E. Armstrong, Dept. A-10, Mobile, Ala.

SALESMAN—Hair specialties, resident preferred, cover southern territory, fast selling items for dept., chain stores, notion, drug jobbers; good commissions. Give references, present line. Box 702H, 1457 B'way, New York.

ENGINEERING SALESMAN with outstanding sales record and knowledge of boiler operation to represent recognized organization of water treating specialists with affiliations throughout the world. Liberal commission. Box 602, 1071 Sixth Ave., N. Y.

SALESMEN for accident and health insurance in Atlanta. $150 monthly salary to men who can meet our requirements. Must be married and between ages 30 and 55. Apply Monday 4 p. m., 402 Georgia Savings Bank Bldg.

DOCTOR wanted to study plastic surgery in Atlanta, paid during training. Permanent position with advancement. Address Cincinnati Facial Studio, Keith Bldg., Cincinnati, Ohio.

MEN TO PURCHASE OLD GOLD DISCARDED jewelry, etc. Good pay. No selling. We teach details and finance purchases. C. J. Clark Refining Corp., Dept. C-181, 109 N. Wabash, Chicago.

DISTRIBUTOR wanted for California, also other western states. Good for $10,000 a year. Must be able to carry some stock, we carry accounts. The Charbox Company, 84 Pryor St., S. W.

WONDERFUL opportunity for specialty salesman capable making $500 per month. Finest set-up in America. No advances, but plenty of co-operation. Write Box 1707, Cedar Rapids, Iowa.

BOOK SALESMEN
EXPERIENCED BOOK AND MAGAZINE SALESMEN. MR. BARBAZON, 619 RHODES BLDG.

MEN WANTING JOBS
ON new construction work in U. S., So. America, write E. Moore, 1146 Hearst square, Chicago. Enclose stamp.

SELL auto accessoreis and electric light bulbs. Sideline or full time. Big profits. Stock furnished on consignment. Dixie Rubber Co., Memphis, Tenn.

LARGE concern can use three neat young men immediately. Expr. unnecessary. Can earn $24.50 per week to start. Apply 201 Bona Allen Bldg.

APPLICANTS answering advertisements are advised not to forward original recommendations. Copies will do. Originals can be presented at interview.

MAN—Big pay assured every week giving away guaranteed nationally known shirts, ties, hosiery. Samples free. Carlton Mills, 81-QT Fifth Ave., New York.

WANTED—Reliable salesmen to sell our eye medicine in Ga. Guaranteed cure any sore eyes within two days. Carolina Medicine Co., Ellerbe, N. C.

AT ONCE—2 men agents on train. Union News Service, Union Depot.

Help Wanted—Male or Female 33-A

WE pay wages while learning. Positions assured. Jacksonville Barber College, Jacksonville, Fla.

Help Wanted—Instruction 34

$141 MONTH. Men 18-45. Get after-depression government jobs. Particulars free. Write immediately. Franklin Institute, Dept. 87-S, Rochester, N. Y.

Agents Wanted 34-A

HUNT BURIED GOLD FREE.
TREASURE hunters get a genuine Spanish gold detector free. Write today. J. C. Harris, Box 1220, San Francisco, Cal.

ONE local, one traveling representative. Guaranteed salary. Apply Mrs. Camp, Henry Grady hotel.

Teachers Wanted 35

TEACHERS for southern states. Good salary. New placement plan. Details, stamped envelope. Florida Placement Bureau, Spartanburg, S. C.

WELL qualified teachers wanted for September placements. Send stamp, Southern H. S. Bureau, Watkins Bld., Decatur, Ga.

Situations Wanted—Female 36

COLORED graduate nurse, two years' experience, desires position nursing children or invalid. Best reference. Reasonable salary. MA. 5034.

EXPERIENCED steno-typist, comptometer and Burroughs bookkeeping machine operator. References. RA. 5071.

STENOGRAPHER, own typewriter, $1 day, former salary $125. Address H-231, Constitution.

LEAVING city, desire placing honest, capable girl, nurse or maid. VEr. 1259.

Situations Wanted—Male 37

MARRIED MAN, 28 yrs. old. Ten yrs. exp. office detail, bookkeeping, acctg., office mgr. Now employed, desire change where, by hard, conscientious work and study may assert myself with reputable concern as office man or trav. auditor. Had rather locate in town 8,000 pop. Address F-477, Constitution.

EXPERIENCED body and fender mechanic. Also motor mechanic familiar with frame work. Have tools, want work. Frank Cain, Route 1, Alpharetta, Ga.

BOOKKEEPER, experienced in cost systems. Pay rolls, etc. A-1 references and bond. Address F-478, Constitution.

WANTED—Small set books kept; financial statements, accounting systems. WA. 3600.

Financial

Business Opportunities 38

LAUNDRY—Ga. city of 16,000, no competition. All modern equipment. Doing business of $500 week, can be increased. Low overhead, showing handsome profits. Price and terms right.

ICE PLANT—Good Ga. town. No trouble to sell entire output. See us for full particulars.

$25,000 to $50,000 for interest in old established business, money to be used for expansion. Carries executive position and will pay 25% on investment. Southern Business Brokers, 901 Grant Bldg. MA. 5778

Merchandise

Miscellaneous for Sale 51

EXCEPTIONAL Electric Refrigerator Bargains

NORGE, latest 1933 model, 4½ cubic ft., large enough for 3 or 4 people; fully guaranteed; delivered in your home.

$109.50

NORGE, latest 1933 model, 6½ cubic ft., large enough for 5 or 6 people; extra large ice capacity; fully guaranteed; delivered in your home.

$151.50

SMALL down payment and special easy weekly terms may be arranged at a slight additional price.

BAME'S, Inc.
107 Peachtree St.
Opposite Piedmont Hotel

MOTOR OIL—Heavy, 5 gals. $1.25
100% Penn motor oil, 5 gals. 2.50
IN YOUR own container. If we furnish can 50 cents extra.
NATIONAL PRODUCTS OIL CO.,
1090-1010 Marietta St.

1933 MAJESTIC ELECTRIC REFRIGERATOR, FIVE CUBIC FEET, $124.50 INSTALLED FOR A LIMITED TIME. CABLE'S RADIO & REFRIGERATOR DEPT. 84 BROAD ST., N. W. WA. 1041.

FINE used 10-pc. walnut dining suite, $69; 4-pc. walnut bedroom suite, $29; 3-pc. used living room suite, $35. Can arrange terms. See Wiley Jones, Central Auction Co. 145 Mitchell St., S. W.

FARMERS—Plant velvet beans now between rows of cotton to be plowed up. Seed for sale, 75c per bushel. W. R. Edwards, Dawson, Ga.

POOL tables and supplies, new and used, attractive prices, terms. Pastime Billiards, Inc., P. W. Lauts, 774 P'tree, JA. 9493.

TEA ROOM equipment for sale at sacrifice. Call Miss McCurdy, Golden Glow Inn, Stone Mountain, Ga.

5½ CUBIC FT. frigidaire, cost $295, a value for only $99.50, on terms, 1-year guarantee. Mr. Morris, WA. 3000.

16-FT. Johnson boat, trailer, and 16 h. p. motor. Very reasonable. 37 Saunders St., N. E., Kirkwood.

FURNISHINGS 5-room apt., elaborate, practically new, owner leaving city, sell all or part. 2222 Peachtree road, Apt. A-2.

RESTAURANT and hotel equipment, ½ price. The Big Store, 37 Whitehall. WA. 8872.

REASONABLE—BABY BATHINETTE, EX. COND., LLOYD CARRIAGE. CH. 1970.

ICE 1-ton refrigerating unit. Bargain. Ideal Machine Co. 30-32 Ivy, N. E.

USED KARDEX AND ACME CARD FILES. WA. 3913. P. O. BOX 294.

WE trade in old furniture for new. Rich's Annex 51 Forsyth St., S. W.

TWO OFFICE DESKS. MAKE ME AN OFFER. JA. 9416.

RUG cushions, 9x12, $3.50; kitchen rugs, 9x12, $3.95. The Rug Shop, 137 Mitchell.

NEW lumber $14; paint 90c; roofing 90c; building material. 609 Forsyth Bldg.

PORCELAIN-LINED 75-LB. ICE BOX—A REAL BARGAIN. HE. 8374-M.

Swaps 51-A

TRADE either 12x18 Oriental rug or 6x9 Sarouk, with moth-proof pads, brand-new, costing $420 each, for used Ford, Plymouth, Chevrolet sedan or coach, late model. Might also consider small payment money. CH. 1201.

EXCHANGE love birds for 21 jewel Hamilton watch or guitar. MA. 1543.

Office Equipment 54

STUDENTS' TYPEWRITERS
ALL MAKES standard and portable. Special rental rates and terms of sale. We will dust, oil machine, clean type, furnish and install new ribbon for $1.
SEE the NEW ROYAL SIGNET equipped with the MON-O-FACE TYPE.
QUICK SERVICE TYPEWRITER CO.
WE buy, sell, rent and repair all makes. 16 Peachtree Arcade. Phone WA. 1618.

TYPEWRITER BARGAINS.
ALL makes. Standard and portables. Special rental rates. We buy, sell, repair. QUICK SERVICE TYPEWRITER CO. 16 Peachtree Arcade. WA. 1618.

REPOSSESSED office furniture, 5 walnut desks, chairs to match, one executive's desk, telephone cabinet, table, leather upholstered chairs to match, 4-drawer metal file; all or part. 238 Candler Annex.

Household Goods 59

NEW up-to-date furniture bought before advancing prices to be sold at old price levels. Six-piece maple refactory design dinnette suite $59, 9-piece mahogany Duncan Phyfe dinning room suite $109, 4-piece walnut bedroom suite $49, overstuffed 2-piece tapestry living room suites, choice six styles, $59; massive 4-piece walnut bedroom suite $89, only two fine water-proof decorated gliders, only $19.75 each. Can arrange terms. See Wiley Jones.
CENTRAL AUCTION CO.
145 Mitchell St., S. W.

MOHAIR living rm. suite, dining, bedroom suites, Singer machine, Frigidaire, piano, gas, oil stoves, elec. range, antiques, 10 rooms, Old Steiner home, 294 Whitehall.

FURNISHINGS 24-room hotel with established business on main highway through Georgia. Will make big sacrifice on account of health. Address H-218, Constitution.

COMPLETE household furnishings of 6 rms. Sacrifice. 648 Cooledge Ave., N. E. VE. 1434.

SOFA, chairs, hot water boiler; good condition. 154 4th St., N. W., HE. 5791-J.

SEE CATHCART—For transfer and storage household goods. 134 Houston. WA. 7721.

Plants and Flowers 64

FINE water lilies, cheap; also gold fish, snails, 304 Georgia Ave., S. E.

Wanted to Buy 66

HISTORIES any section south. Other old books, Civil War relics, old Atlanta directories. What have you? H-230, Constitution.

WANTED—Second-hand barber or dental chair, reasonably priced. Phone McElroy, JA. 5146, Wallace Hotel, or address Wallace-Garner hotel.

WANTED—Automotive shop equipment, including electric arc welder, punch and shear, blacksmith anvil and tools. JA. 7852.

MULTIGRAPHING equipment with printing attachment. Give description and price. Address H-233, Constitution.

WE PAY spot cash for good used furniture. ECONOMY FURNITURE CO.
769 Marietta St. MAin 1164.

WANTED TO BUY—Homer racing pigeons, also male Eskimo Spits pup. F-479, Constitution.

Highest Prices Paid for men's suits, shoes, hats. MA. 9066.

SPOT CASH FOR USED FURNITURE
157 WHITEHALL ST. MA 3830

WANTED — Good used home furnishings. Will pay cash. MA. 5123.

INVALID wheelchair. Must be reasonable. Call CA. 3136.

BEST used bedroom suites and stoves. We pay cash. MA. 4222.

Rooms and Board

Rooms With Board 67

GARNER - WALLACE HOTEL
IF YOU are interested in making a change, call Jackson 5148-7-8, or drive out and see what we have to offer. You will be pleasingly surprised to find the conveniences and pleasant atmosphere, most of all the reasonable rate that will be charged, both with or without meals, by day, week or month. Each room equipped with private bath, radio, phone and electric fans; all outside rooms. Circulating ice water on all floors. Garages conveniently located on hotel lot. 851 Ponce de Leon Ave., N. E. JA. 5146-7-8.

300 PONCE DE LEON
LARGE, single or double room. Shower bath. Chicken dinners. Free parking. MA. 2189.

825 Myrtle, N. E. Clean, cool room. Every convenience. Good meals. Summer rates. Garage free. HE. 2093.

WEST END—Want refined working girl or young lady to share small fur. apt. with young lady. References exchanged. 789 Park St., RA. 2984.

DRUID HILLS—Lovely corner room, nicely furnished, connecting bath with shower; couple, very reasonable. Free garage. DE. 2109-J.

909 PONCE DE LEON—REDECORATED AND NEWLY FURN. HOME, READY FOR OCCUPANCY JULY 1. HE. 1814-J.

630 SPRING ST.
NEWLY-decorated rooms; single, double. Meals if desired.

771 Myrtle St. N. E. Excellent meals. Every convenience, near carline, bus. Summer rates. WA. 4422.

839 PARK—Room, private, connecting bath, running water every room, circulating ice water in dining room. RA. 5311.

311 P. de Leon—2 vacancies for refined guests. Semi-private bath. Desirable meals. Very reasonable. WA. 6690.

918 Peachtree Lovely, cool, summer, sleeping, double rms. Balanced meals, well prepared, ser'd. HE. 2564.

North Side Choice 2 rooms, conn. bath, pri. home; suitable young men, bus, couple. Meals opt. DE. 3531-J.

14TH ST., between P'trees. Desirable room. Breakfast, 6 o'clock dinner. References. HE. 1608-J.

FOR 1 or 2 business people. Front room, closet, excellent meals. Private home. Car line. N. Moreland, JA. 2486.

10 ELIZABETH ST., between Spring, W. P'tree Sts., sleeping porch, twin beds, sitting room and pri. bath. $30 each.

70 E. 14th between P'trees. Pri. home. Large rm., conn. bath; 2 meals. Business people. HE. 5764-J.

LARGE corner front room, private bath. Best meals in town. Piedmont, between Fourth and Fifth. MA. 3997.

1012 OAKDALE RD., couple or gentlemen, in Druid Hills home, near Emory University. Meals. DE. 2587, WA. 4846.

700 Penn Front room, adjoining bath, garage. Reas. MA. 8068.

859 Peachtree. Large room, private bath, splendid meals, garage. HE. 1366.

166 PONCE DE LEON. EXCELLENT MEALS AND ROOMS, $4, $5, $6.

418 4TH ST., N. E.—Large, cool room; owner's home; reasonable. WA. 2177.

1200 Gordon St. Front room; 2 meals, garage, RA. 2704.

Cherokee Inn 1344 Peachtree. Attr. rm., good mls. HE. 4068

706 Penn, ½ blk. car; excel. meals, lovely rooms, conn. bath. Reas. WA. 3909.

1008 Columbia. Large rm., conn. bath, well-bal. meals. Reas. HE. 2373.

KIRKWOOD—Large front, cool room, use of living room and kitchen. DE. 3532-J.

1447 P'tree. Large front rm., pri. sitt'g r. Semi-pri. bath, 3 cars. HE. 4709.

PRIVATE home, lovely rooms, half block Piedmont-Park Lane car. HE. 5383

391 10TH ST., N. E., 1 or 2 large rooms. Private bath, entrance. VE. 2744.

774 West Peachtree. Rms., private bath, splendid meals, Reas. HE. 5378.

LARGE, airy room, delicious meals; refined home; ideal for couple. HE. 4184-W.

NORTH SIDE private home; attractive rm. for 2; excellent meals. HE. 2084-W.

425 PONSE DE LEON. Nice room, conn. bath. Good meals. Reas. WA. 1007.

896 Peachtree. Corner room, conn. bath; excellent meals. HE. 6590.

$4.50, LOVELY cool room, everything nice to eat; garage free. RA. 2781.

NORTH SIDE—Private home, for business boys, girls; all convs. HE. 3027-J.

PIEDMONT at 6th. 2 connecting rms., pri. bath, also corner room. HE. 1849-W.

Hotels 67-A

Frances Hotel 343 Peachtree
Rooms and Apts.
Convenience, comfort, refinement, economy.

Fenwick, 126 Ellis Rooms, apts., Lowest rates.

Rooms For Rent

Rooms Furnished 68

NORTHWOOD APTS.
SEVENTEENTH STREET.
BETWEEN THE PEACHTREES.
Cooled by Ilg Ventilating System.
ATTRACTIVE outside rooms, with private baths. Maid service. Each room equipped with electric fan, running ice water and summer doors.
Rates $25 to $37.50 Per Month.
Resident Manager, Hem. 1286.

MODERN HOTEL—$15 TO $30 MO.
WYNNE APT. HOTEL
Hotel guests given club priviledge to the newly opened Styx Club beer garden bar, swimming pool, billiard room. Club is located in main building.
644 N. HIGHLAND AVE., N. E.
AT PONCE DE LEON. HE. 9122.

HOME AWAY FROM HOME
For Young Men and Boys.
Y. M. C. A., 145 LUCKIE ST.
COMFORTABLE, attractive rooms, showers. No car fare. $2.50 to $3.75 per week.

WANTED—One or two gentlemen to share furnished apartment. Have maid who does laundry. Cool, comfortable, convenient. Address H-91, Constitution.

COMFORTABLE front room, adj. bath, twin beds, private family. Reasonable. 507 Winton Terrace, N. E. Call WA. 3521.

1223 West Peachtree Lovely front room facing park, private bath. HE. 4094-W.

CAPITOL VIEW—2 rms., pri. bath, garage, hskp. privilege; bus, couple, gentlemen. RA. 5844.

909 Ponce de Leon, redecorated and newly furnished home, ready for occupancy July 1. Meals optional. HE. 1814-J.

991 OAKDALE RD.—1 or 2 lovely bedrooms, connecting shower. Meals opt. DE. 4926-J.

113 6TH ST., N. E., Apt. A—Near Peachtree. Attrac., cool room, $2 wk.; gent.

ATTRACTIVE single room, private family. Reas. Garage. HE. 0088-J. 1396 Piedmont.

86 11th. N. E.—Large front rm., pri. bath, excellent locality. HE. 0696.

56 P'TREE Place, at 10th. Rm., pri. bath, entrance. Gentlemen or bus. couple.

ATTRACTIVE double room, twin beds, pri. bath; garage; meals opt. 806 Myrtle St.

N. S. PRIVATE home, choice room, twin beds, adj. bath. Meals opt. HE. 0091-J.

398 4th N. E. Attr. room, all convs., pri. home. $15. JA. 7792-R.

$3 wk. 1 or 2 front rooms, semi-private bath. Meals optional. VE. 2404.

948 Highland Ter. Rm., twin beds, gar. ½ blk car. Meals opt. HE. 6092-W.

Blvd. Park Delightful rm., pri. shower, gar., gentlemen. HE. 5944-W

LIGHT hskping. room, twin beds, one block Sears-Roebuck. 727 Lakeview Ave., N. E.

143 5th, N.W. Nicely furnished room. Reas. HE. 0399-W.

1193 DRUID PL., N.E.—Front rm., pri bath. Owner's home. Bus. people. WA. 6446.

173 10TH. N. E.—Nicely furn. rm., $3 single; $2.50 double. HE. 0330-W.

PRIVATE HOME, ALL CONVS., $2.50 WK. WA. 0238.

1273 W. P'TREE—LARGE, COOL ROOM, $10; MAID SERVICE. HE. 1854-M.

PETERS PARK—Private home, room for gentlemen, convs. 154 4th St., HE. 5791-J.

625 N. HIGHLAND, Apt. 11, roommate, young man, every convenience, $7.50 mo.

775 BOULEVARD, N. E.—Room with pri. bath, dressing room. All convs. MA. 7233.

Housekeeping Rooms Furnished 69

WANT couple girls or a couple to share private bungalow. Gas, lights, water, phone, steam heat furnished. Call Sunday, 11 Whitehall St., S. E.

1814 HOWELL MILL ROAD—3 lovely rms., on car with owner; all conveniences; no children; $15. HE. 6557.

685 W. PEACHTREE ST., nicely furnished room, k'nette, all convs.; splendid location; immediate possession. HE. 6371.

COOL FRONT ROOM, kitchenette, sink, gas, lights, furn. $4 week. DE. 2397-R.

ST. CHARLES AVE.—Large bedroom and kitchen, all conveniences. WA. 9531.

2 ROOMS completely furnished, garage conveniences, very reasonable. RA. 3866.

1 TO 3-ROOM apts., furnished; also room, private bath, $18. 880 Juniper.

Peeples 811—2 lovely, cool rms. Private home. Summer rates. RA. 6718.

1460 STEWART AVE.—Two nicely furnished rooms, $16 month. Garage. RA. 8517.

631 WEST P'TREE—Large, attractive rm., kitchenette; adults only. HE. 4197-J.

2 ROOMS completely furnished, garage conveniences, very reasonable. RA. 3866.

TWO or 3-room apartment, all conveniences. Depression rates. MA. 2993.

Housekeeping Rooms Unfur. 70

564 Barnett—3 connecting rooms, in home of couple; no objection to 1 or 2 children; $20. WA. 6355.

Kirkwood 165 Palatka, S. E.—2 large rooms, lights, water, sink, garage. $11.

3 AND 4 rooms, good location, low rent. DE. 4677.

LIVING room, bedrm., k'nette, pri. bath, front entrance. 977 Allene Ave. RA. 1732.

3 AND 4 rooms with porches, near car and schools, RA. 4252.

Real Estate For Rent

Furnished Duplexes 73

DUPLEX—7 rooms, furnished; Ansley Park. Gas heat, weather-stripped. G. E. HE. 4977.

Unfurnished Duplexes 73-A

817 CLEMONT DR., N. E.—UPPER AND LOWER IN BEAUTIFUL VIRGINIA AVE. SECTION, ONE BLOCK SAMUEL INMAN SCHOOL, 5 ROOMS; STEAM HEAT, HOT WATER. PORCHES, GARAGE. SERVICE AND MAINTENANCE ABOVE THE AVERAGE. $62.50. PHONE HEMLOCK 8571.

ANSLEY PARK—Brick, three bedrooms, automatic heat and hot water, frigidaire, landscaped yard, all convs., adults only. HE. 7335.

FIVE-ROOM upper duplex, screened porches, shady, cool, all convs., a real home, $45. Come out, see for yourself. 1358 N. Highland Ave., N. E., HE. 7659-J.

616 PARK DR., N. E., near Orme circle; living, 2 bedrms., dinette, k'nette, G. E. range, bath, porch, garage; heat, hot water, convs., schools. VE. 1515.

7-ROOM upstairs duplex, porch. Rent free to Sept. 1st on yr's. lease, $50 mo. Desirable location. Between Peachtrees. MA. 6303. HE. 4431.

212 WEST HILL ST., Decatur, block Scottish Rite hospital, 5.-rm. brick, gas heat, newly decorated; large lot; reasonable.

888 BOULEVARD, N. E., 5-room brick duplex, $40. WA. 5513.

169 14TH ST., N. E.—Second floor, 6 rooms, brick, 3 bedrooms, 2 tile baths, G. E., heat, front porch, garage; hot, cold water.

1302 Gordon, 3 lovely rooms, owner's home, all convs. Adults. RA. 6003.

SIX, tile bath, park section, modern, garage, porches. Owner operated. VE. 1633.

Special 367 Orleans St., S. E. 6 rooms $18.50. WA. 7584. MA. 9222.

988 EUCLID—3-rm. apt., pri. ent., bath, gar. also 5-rm. upper dup. MA. 2546.

WEST END—Brick duplex, 5 rms. and breakfast; furnace; $22.50. RA. 9041.

1029 AUSTIN AVE., N. E.—5 rooms, porch, including water, $25. RA. 1420.

844 CLEMONT DR., N. E.—Beautiful Colonial home, 6 rooms, convs. HE. 8668.

WEST END—3-rm. apt. Reas. 986 Oglethorpe, near Peeples. RA. 4334.

450 ANGIER—5 large rooms, steam heat, porches. WA. 2450. WA. 4952.

33 10TH ST., N. W.—G-r., furnace; good condition; cheap at $25. WA. 2114.

3-ROOM duplex, newly painted inside, out; garage; special, 947 Lee, RA. 0807.

Apartments Furnished 74

BEAUTIFUL APARTMENT
IN lovely Druid Hills home; 3 rms. and bath; near P. de L. Ave. Attractive rates. HE. 0186 or WA. 2685.

DECATUR—446 Clairmont Ave. Studio cottage, 3 large rooms, bath and porch. On grounds of owner. DE. 0881-J.

3 ROOMS, $23 and $27.50; 4 rooms, $30 and $35; 6 rooms, $45. Near Ponce de Leon Ave., 642 N. Highland, N. E. HE. 4040.

HAPEVILLE—2 rooms, k'nette, pri. bath, G. E.; continuous hot water. 3571 Fulton. CA. 1603.

738 BLVD., N. E., No. of P. de Leon—4 large rms., G. E., 3 exposures, newly decorated, $30. WA. 2930.

BEAUTIFULLY furnished corner apt., 3 rooms and sleeping porch, electric refrigeration. Reas. Best N. S. section. WA. 3470.

Goforth Apts. Druid Hills sect., 666 Moreland Ave., 4-room efficiency. Mechanical refrig. HE. 8789-J.

Inman Pk. Three-room apt, all convs. Reduced rental. JA. 7238.

PIEDMONT Park sect. Completely furn. 2 rms., k'nette, bath, heat, water. VE. 1724.

748 Argonne. Nice 4-room apt., electric refrigerator. Adults. WA. 9037.

DECATUR—3 RMS., PRI. BATH. ENTRANCES, $20. 1ST FLOOR. DE. 0276.

BEAUTIFULLY furn. newly deco., 3 or 4-rm. apt. Frig. 815 Ponce de Leon, Apt. 2

29 PRESCOTT—Nicely furn. small apt., $19, close in, good neighborhood. HE. 3273-W.

DECATUR—3-4 and 5-room apts. Low rates. DE. 4677.

N. BOULEVARD, 650—Attractive apts., furnished, $16 to $32.50. Apply Apt. 1.

161 MERRITTS AVE., corner Piedmont, 3-rm. apt., nicely furn., $20. WA. 4095.

SMALL furnished apartment, north side private home. All convs. JA. 3347-M.

Houses for Rent, Unfurnished 77-A

1041 W. PEACHTREE
Apartment Special for This Week Only!
$45 FOR a full size unit in one of Atlanta's finest fireproof buildings. Act quickly! Special value for this week only. Bedroom, living room with In-A-Door bed, breakfast room, kitchen with gas stove and frigidaire, tile bath; 24-hr. elevator service. Mrs. Hendrix, res. mgr. HE. 7744 or Briarcliff Investment Co. HE. 6280.

Real Estate For Rent

Apartments Unfurnished 74-A

ADAIR REALTY & LOAN CO.
Offers the
FOLLOWING apartments for your inspection. You will find just what you want at an exceptional value.
826 PEACHEREE STREET, N. E. Fireproof, 1, 2 or 4-room units.
275 FOURTEENTH ST., N. E., and 1136 PIEDMONT AVE. (North Park Apts.) 6 and 7-room units.
807 PENN AVE., N. E. 4-room units. Every convenience.
301 TENTH ST., N. E. Overlooking Piedmont Park, 4 and 5 rooms.
356-60 PONCE DE LEON AVE. The Deerfield, 4, 5 and 7 rooms.
175 SEVENTEENTH ST., N. E. Lovely 3-room apartments in Ansley Park.
1001 JUNIPER ST., N. E. Near Tenth St., 3, 5 and 6 rooms.
438-446 SEMINOLE AVE., N. E. Near Little Five Points, 2, 3 and 5 rooms.
232 TWELFTH ST., N. E. Near Piedmont Park, 3 and 4 rooms.
904 PONCE DE LEON AVE., N. E. 3 and 5 rooms.
58 LOMBARDY WAY. Efficiency apartments near Peachtree and Sixteenth Streets.
130 ELEVENTH ST., N. E. Tenth Street section, 3 and 4 rooms.
317 BOULEVARD, N. E. Efficiencies, opposite Georgia Baptist hospital.
531 ASHBY ST., S. W. 5-room units with open porch.
515 LEE ST., S. W. Modern 4 and 5-room units. Resident manager.
297 ATLANTA AVE., S. E. Modern stucco apartment building. 3 rooms.
301 ATLANTA AVE., S. E. Open porches, 3 and 5 rooms. Stucco building.
535 WASHINGTON ST., S. W. Entire building newly redecorated, 3 and 6 rooms.
1445 LUCILE AVE., S. W. Five-room units, electric stove and refrigerator.
647 LAWTON ST., S. W. 4-room units. Resident manager.
1073 W. PEACHTREE ST. 4-room units. Resident manager.
4 E. WESLEY AVE. 5 rooms. Resident manager.
AT YOUR CONVENIENCE, call by our office in the Healey Bldg., or call us at WA. 0100 and let one of our representatives show these places to you.

742 BOULEVARD, N. E.
NORTH of Ponce de Leon, living room with roll-away bed, large breakfast room, with plenty of built-in cabinets, large bedroom, kitchen, electric refrigeration included. $32.50.

585 BOULEVARD PLACE
CORNER Glen Iris Drive, living room with Murphy bed, combination dinette and kitchen, large bedroom, bath, front porch, $22.50.

405 FOURTH ST.
LIVING room, breakfast nook, kitchen, bedroom, bath. $25. G. E. available.

1132 VIRGINIA AVENUE
LIVING room, two bedrooms, bath, dinette, kitchen, front and back porch, electric refrigeration and garage included. $40 and $47.50.

214 Fourteenth St., N. E.
BETWEEN Peachtree and Piedmont Park, living room, two corner bedrooms, combination dinette and kitchen, all-tile bath with shower, electric refrigeration and garage included. $42.50.

Greyling Realty Corp.
10 Ellis St., N. W. WA. 2226.

856 BRIARCLIFF ROAD—3-room effic., large rooms, current fur., $32.50; 4-room effic., large rooms, current fur., $40.
CASTLE PINES, 2554 Peachtree Rd.—4-room (terrace) $40; 4-room $55; 5-room $60.
949 COURTENEY DRIVE—4 rooms $45; 4 rooms furn., $45; 6-room apt., $60, current furn. for refrig., garages.
998 JUNIPER ST.—4 rooms, $45.
129 NORTH AVENUE—3 rooms $27.50, 4 rooms $35.
939 PIEDMONT AVE.—5 rooms $40, $42.50 and $45.
940 PIEDMONT AVE.—4 rooms $32.50.
891 PONCE DE LEON AVE.—4 rooms $35, 5 rooms $47.50.
344 PONCE DE LEON AVE.—5 rooms $60, 6 rooms $70.
1021 ST. CHARLES AVE.—6 rooms $67.50, 7 rooms $70.
203 13TH ST., N. E.—3 rooms $35, 3 rooms $37.50.
1075 81 COLUMBIA AVE. — 3-room effic., unfurnished $30; furnished $35.
CALL our office for a complete list of aparts. and a representative to show.

ADAMS-CATES CO.
Volunteer Life Bldg. WA. 5477.

APARTMENTS FOR RENT
BEAUTIFUL MERRELL APARTMENTS. 1898 WYCLIFF ROAD, corner Collier. Four blocks beyond Brookwood Sta. One block from Peachtree car line. Spacious four-room modern units. Newly decorated—bright and clean. See today. Call WA. 1511, J. H. Ewing & Sons, 79 Forsyth St., N. W.

CHOICE LOCATION—SPECIAL PRICES. The CHATHAM COURT—600 Piedmont at Third. 2-4-5 rooms—all convs.—available now. Mr. Jones in Apt. 5, will show and make price daily 9 a. m. to 6 p. m. Best ref. required. WA. 7258, HE. 3152.

ITALIAN VILLA
200 Montgomery Ferry Drive

ON MORNINGSIDE bus line, surrounded by the Ansley Park Golf Club course, out in the open, yet in the city, the Italian Villa offers unusual advantages to those who appreciate the better things of life.

ONE unfurnished apartment, two bedrooms, living room, dining room and bath. All extra large rooms with porch. Special price.

SMALLER unfurnished apartments and studios $45 to $50. Newly furnished at $10 additional.

THE building is under the personal management of the owner and prices are in keeping with the refinements of the building and present conditions.

Mrs. Martin B. Dunbar
Telephone HEmlock 1690.

APARTMENTS FOR RENT
WE HAVE a large list of apartments ranging from one-room bachelor units to eight-room housekeeping units, furnished and upfurnished. Below is a partial list of the properties under our management:
205 THIRD ST.—Corner Myrtle. Large 5-rm. unit, with front porch—$55; 4-room—$45.
212 E. PONCE DE LEON AVE., Decatur—"DeKalb." Unusually roomy 5-rm. unit—$40 and $45. Res. Mgr., Apt. 102.
733 FREDERICA ST.—3 and 4 rms. (first building off of Ponce de Leon Ave.). Special rates. Res. Mgr. Apt. 12.
741 PONCE DE LEON COURT—Just off of Ponce de Leon Ave. (near Sears-Roebuck and Ford Motor Co.) 4 rooms—$25 to $35.
1116 ROSEDALE DR.—4 and 5 rooms. All conviences—$35.
653 BONAVENTURE AVE. Ideally arranged 5-rm. units with all modern conveniences. One vacancy. Special rate.
734 ARGONNE AVE.—Cor. 4th St. We have two vacancies in this modern, newly-decorated building—$27.50 and $30. Res. Mgr. Apt. 1.
CALL us for appointment to see any of the properties handled by us. WA. 1511. J. H. Ewing & Sons, Inc., 79 Forsyth St., N. W.

EFFICIENCY
71 13TH ST., N. E., elec. ref. $27.50
557 N. HIGHLAND, G. E.'s 22.50
1071 N. HIGHLAND, elec. ref., gar... 30.00
1197 VIRGINIA, elec. ref., porch... 20.00

4 ROOMS
445 N. HIGHLAND AVE., M. bed...$27.50
1765 PEACHTREE RD., elec. stv. G.E. 60.00
557 N. HIGHLAND, G. E., M. bed.. 30.00
787 PENN AVE., G. E. M. bed 42.50
198 PONCE DE LEON, Frigidaire.. 42.50
1071 N. HIGHLAND, elec. ref., porch 40.00
481 N. HIGHLAND, M. bed 30.00

5 ROOMS
198 PONCE DE LEON, Frigidaire..$52.50
1087 PONCE DE LEON, elec. ref.... 50.00
619 MYRTLE, G. E. 42.50
292 NINTH ST., porch..... 40.00
1766 PEACHTREE RD., Elec. Stv. G. E. 67.50

6 ROOMS
418 NORTH AVE., N. E., elec. ref..$35.00
1087 PONCE DE LEON, elec. ref., porch 55.00

BURDETT REALTY CO.
WA. 1011

—5 ROOMS—
73-81 Seventeenth St., N. E. ....$ 65.00
142 Peachtree Cir., N. E. 100.00
860 Fifth St., N. E. 35.00
494-6 Parkway Dr., N. E. 32.50
494 Winton Ter., N. E. 23.00
25 Alexander, N. W. 30.50
450 Angier Ave., N. E. 30.00
—4 ROOMS—
501 Boulevard, N. E. 30.00
657 Boulevard, N. E. 25.00
673 Boulevard, N. E. 30.00
826 Dixie Ave., N.E. 30.00
—3 ROOMS—
431 Parkway Dr., N. E., porches 22.50
410 E. Howard, Decatur 20.00
420 Boulevard, N. E. 25.00
543 Boulevard, N. E. 25.00
622 Boulevard, N. E. 20.00
654 Boulevard, N. E., ... 20.00
690 Juniper, N. E. 30.00
—3-ROOM EFFICIENCIES—
386 Parkway Dr., N. E., elec. ref... 22.50
1037 Lucile Ave., S. W. $18-20.00
996 Greenwood, N. E. 17.50
WALL-OSBORNE ..... MA. 1133.

2200 PEACHTREE RD., 3 and 4 rooms.
2214 PEACHTREE RD., 5 rooms.
8 COLLIER RD., 4 and 5 rooms.
1111-1125 BRIARCLIFF PL., 4 and 5 rooms. ALL buildings personally managed, well kept. Will furnish.
G. G. SHIPP.
321 Grand Theater Bldg.
Office, WA. 8372. Home, HE. 1334.

THREE ATTRACTIVE ROOMS AND PRI. BATH, PRI. ENT., PORCH, GAR. 540 ANGIER. $15. HE. 3157-W.

3 RMS. and bath, front entrance and porch, also side entrance. 156 Greenwood Place, Decatur. $20. Sunday, 10 to 3.

826 PEACHTREE ST., N. E.
UNFURNISHED APARTMENTS
FIREPROOF.
IN THIS beautiful fireproof building, we can offer choice of one or two-room non-housekeeping apartments or four-room housekeeping units at reduced rentals. Extensive improvements are being made. Excellent cafe in building with best of service at reasonable rates. Under supervision of resident manager with desk service to handle mail, packages, etc. Night and day elevator service. Electric refrigerators; garages. We will be pleased to show these—call at building or at our office.
Adair Realty & Loan Co.
WA. 0100. Healey Bldg.

754 JUNIPER STREET
An Outstanding Rental Value!
TWO bedrooms, living room, sun room, full size dining room, butler's pantry, large kitchen, bath, front and back porches, frigidaire; good residential section, near bus and car lines, schools, churches and shopping district. Under direct supervision of owner. Briarcliff Investment Co., HE. 6280.

789 PONCE DE LEON
FIREPROOF building. Bachelor, efficiency and bedroom units, rentals from $25 to $60; 24-hr. elevator service, dining room in bldg., garages available. Mrs. Joiner, res. mgr. JA. 2972 or Briarcliff Investment Co. HE. 6280.

SOLID comfort in Inman Park apartments. 3-4-r. Some with elec. refrigeration and sleeping porches. Murphy beds, good cond. Rent now and get settled for the coming winter. Rent $20 to $35. Bargains. Mgr. MA. 5462.

O. G. AYCOCK REALTY CO.
10 Forsyth St., N. W. WA. 2114.

790 MYRTLE St., N. E. Desirable 4-room apt. Elec. refrigeration. $40.
DRAPER-OWENS CO.
Grant Bldg. Realtors WA. 3657

SEE OR CALL
ADAMS-CATES CO.
for a complete list of desirable apartments and houses. Walnut 5477.

MOST DESIRABLE APARTMENTS IN CITY
Adair Realty & Loan Co.
Sales—Loans—Insurance
SEE US FIRST
Largest Selection in the City.
Rankin-Whitten Realty Co.
141 Carnegie Way, N. W. WA. 0636

Colonial ½ block from P'tree, exc. condition, heat, hot water, cooking gas; garage; walking distance from town; reas. References, Owner, HE. 0011.

ATTRACTIVE 3 and 4-rm. effcy. apts., opposite Piedmont Park; elec. refrig., free current; highly desirable, $25 and $32.50. Screws Realty Co., WA. 3123.

685 ARGONNE AVE., N. E.
3 RMS., sleeping porch, 4 rms., front porch, elec. refrig. Newly decorated; reduced rents. Apply owner, Apt. 5.

680 Glen Iris Dr. Attr. 4-room apt., porches, reduc. Owner.

LA FRANCE, N. E., 1424—3 rooms, separate entrances, garage, reduced. DE. 1533-W.

2169 PEACHTREE RD.—4 rooms, porch; garage; Frigidaire; redecor. HE. 4453-R.

Bonaventure Ave., N. E., 653—Mod. 5 rms., porch. JA. 0787.

ANSLEY PARK—5-room corner apt., $45. Goodman, 185 Westminster Dr.

Decatur Pri. ent., 3 rms., pri. bath. 821 E. College Ave. DE. 0707.

3 ROOMS, bath, heat, hot water, porch, garage, janitor. Adults. JA. 1974.

982 CRESCENT AVE., N. E., 3-ROOM APARTMENT, $21. WA. 5513.

Cool roomy, 6 rms. Porches. 1, 2 baths. 318-326 Moreland, N. E. JA. 0787.

2 BEDROOM APT. STEAM HEAT, ELECTRIC REFRIGERATION, $30. VE. 1262.

DECATUR—3-4 and 5-room apts., low rates. DEarborn 4677.

Apartments Fur. or Unfur. 75

ITALIAN VILLA
200 MONTGOMERY FERRY DRIVE.
BEST location out in the open, still in the city, surrounded by golf links, $45 to $75 apartment and studios.
MRS. MARTIN B. DUNBAR. HE. 1690.

Briarcliff Investment Co.
"Apartments of Distinction."
The Location, Price and Size You Want.
1030 Ponce de Leon. HE. 6280

239 Moreland, N. E. 3, 4 and 5-rm. Apts., unusual convs. Personally supervised. JA. 7542-W.

MOST desirable 3-rm. apts. in Atlanta, $25, $30. August rent free to desirable tenants. 502 Blvd place, N. E. MA. 2764.

2, 5 ROOMS apt., pri. ent., bath, bachelor apt., meals. 1223 Albemarle, JA. 2720-J.

1016 PIEDMONT—Upper duplex, unfurnished; lower, furnished. HE. 4021.

Houses for Rent, Furnished 77

IN Ansley Park section, 8 rooms, 2 baths, beautifully and completely furnished. Price, $80. Call Mr. Beers.
The Holleman Realty Company
WA. 5513. 21 Auburn Ave.

351 8TH ST., N. E.—Attractive north side home, 3 bedrooms, nice yard. HE. 2459-J.

Houses for Rent, Unfurnished 77-A

GOOD HOUSES—PRICED REASONABLE.
8 Villa Dr., N. E., 9-r., A-1 (Ex. mod.) .....Special
29 Whitefoord Ave., N. E., 9-r., A-1 .....$42.50
977 Juniper, N. E., 10-r., 2 baths.. 47.50
1657 Rock Suring Rd., N. E., 9-r. ex. mod., 4 bedr., 2 baths. Will decorate complete 67.50
115 Newnan Ave. (Colonial Hills) extra good 6-r. brick 20.00
842 Bankhead Ave., N. W., (2 fam.) 6-room 12.50
121 E. Benson (Dec.) 6-r. brick 30.00
56 Howard, N. E., 7-r. (will rep.) 25.00
221 Grumley St., S. W., 9-r. 17.50
1012 Gilbert, S. E., 7-r. brk. 22.50
953 Williams Mill Rd., 7-r. 30.00
212 Phore road, 6-r. 20.00
1199 McLendon Ave., 8-r. 32.50
WALL-OSBORNE REALTY CO.
1037 St. Charles Ave., N. E., 6-r. dup. $36.00
389 N. Highland Ave., N. E., 9-r. 32.50
549 Angier Ave., N. E., 6-r. 22.50
699 Myrtle St., N. E., 8-r. dup. Special
1278 Druid Pl., N. E.,

Real Estate For Sale

Investment Properties 84-A

4 FAMILY BRICK, NORTH SIDE, RENTING $1,320 YEAR. PAYING 15% NET ON PRICE OF $5,000. NO LOAN. TERMS. McKINNON. WA. 1605.

Lots for Sale 85

WESLEY AVE. lot, one block of Peachtree road. A real buy at $1,500, was formerly $3,000; 70 feet front by 200 feet deep. Conveniently located to North Fulton High school, E. Rivers Grammar school and only one block of car line. Can arrange some terms. Mr. Crum, WA. 7991.

WOODED lots on White Oak Dr. in White Oak Hills—50x200, at pre-development price of $125 each, or two for $225; terms. WA. 2881.

66 FOOT lot, Garden Hills, near Peachtree, $1,500. Copeland, WA. 1011.

Fishing and Hunting Lodge 86-A

Fishing and Hunting Lodge

ON BEAUTIFUL bluff overlooking best fishing stream on the famous Georgia coast, attractive small estate included, a real bargain, other cheap properties. Address at once—

X-437, CARE CONSTITUTION.

Property for Colored 86

BEAUTIFUL bungalows different sections city. Bargains. Easy terms. John Allen. WA. 8287.

Classified Display

Beauty Aids

FREE

For the Next 10 Days With Each

Permanent Wave

$1.50 Jar of

MARINELLO

Lettuce Brand Cleansing Cream

No Red Tape—No Strings Attached.

Free With Each Wave

$2.50

WITH SHAMPOO AND SET

OIL CROQUIGNOLE

SELF-SETTING

PERMANENTS

That Require No Finger Waving

FINGER WAVE, 25c

(DRIED)

QUICK, PLEASANT DRYING SYSTEM

MACKEY'S

65½ Whitehall JA. 7089

SPECIAL THROUGH WEDNESDAY

$1.50

With Ringlet Ends

CLAIRE'S

Superior Quality Waves

$3.00 Waves $1.50

$5.00 Waves $2.50

$7.50 Waves $5.00

Croquignole Effect $2.50 Complete

401 Mortgage Guarantee Bldg. JA. 8753

SPECIAL PERMANENT WAVES

$2

Complete

JA. 8960

POPE & EPPS, Inc.

702 Mortgage Guarantee Bldg.

Mr. Rich Says:---

Madam— ARTISTIC PERMANENT WAVES

Are soft, natural-looking, with ringlet ends. So easy to set that one will never need to waste time in beauty shops. All the newest modes—formerly sold at $8.50 to $15.00—now only

$3.00 - $5.00 - $7.50

The Artistic Wave Shop cordially invites out-of-town patrons. Here you will find that which you have been waiting for. An individual interpretation of modern hairdressing. Examination free.

ARTISTIC WAVE SHOP

Same Operators—Same Entrance

10½, Edgewood Ave. WAl. 4556

Auction Auction

AUCTION

July 18th Tuesday 10 A. M.

Glen Copeland Property

On Dunwoody Road, 100 Yards off Spalding Drive.

40 ACRES, subdivided into small acreage tracts. Also one 6-room house with plenty of shade and 6 acres, making an ideal country home. Large variety of fruit.

ALSO—THE BURNHAM PROPERTY, in the heart of Dunwoody. Store, filling station, 5-room bungalow.

ALSO—20 ACRES on Mt. Vernon Highway.

Every Parcel Positively Sells to the Highest Bidder.

Terms: 1-3 Cash Balance Easy

Free: Barbecue Dinner Cooked on Grounds.

We have title policy and know that titles are good.

—ALSO—

July 20th Thursday 10 A. M.

25 Choice Home Sites on Cheshire Road and Lenox Road Known as the V. H. Kriegshaber property, now owned by J. W. Childress and D. S. Mooney.

THIS property is beautifully wooded with large oak trees, and we say without hesitation that this is the choicest residential property we have ever offered at auction around Atlanta.

THREE new homes have recently been built and two others are now under construction on small acreage tracts. Electricity in front of every tract. We invite you to drive out and inspect this property. Only 5 miles from 5 Points.

ALSO 6 business lots; ideal location for filling station and stores.

No Mortgages Title Policy

Investors and Homeseekers—Be sure and attend this sale.

FREE: Old-Fashioned Barbecue Cooked on the Grounds.

Ladies Especially Invited Attractive Terms

Lummus Auction Co.

Selling Agents

503 Forsyth Bldg. WAl. 9595

Real Estate For Sale

Suburban—For Sale 87

UNEQUALED OPPORTUNITY

STRONG statement, but true. Home estate or commercial recreational park development surpassing any other such project around Atlanta. Eight miles from Five Points, paved road, just off 41 and 42. United States highways, 85 wonderful, wooded, scenic acres, strong crystal stream, several springs, 15-acre perfect lake-site. Livable old house, elect. lights, phone. For division among the several owners, priced for quick action $5,500. No loan. No trade. Opportunity worthy of serious consideration and prompt decision. Geo. C. Fife & Co., Gould Bldg., WA. 3661.

NEVER BEFORE, NEVER AGAIN. THIS WEEK ONLY.

CONYERS, one mile off main Covington concrete highway on good soil road. Thirty-six acres, good land, well-built, attractive six-room house, granite chimneys, cream brick mantel and porch columns, two springs and branches, barn, pasture, beautiful woods, lake site. Conyers city school, bus, electric lights available small cost. Positive sacrifice, this week only, $1,900; cash $400, balance $200 year, 7%. Immediate possession. Geo. C. Fife & Co., Gould Bldg. WA. 3661. (Exclusive agents).

LITTLE FARM—BIG BARGAIN.

MOUNTAIN VIEW, one-fourth mile off Dixie highway to Jonesboro, ten miles Atlanta, 20 acres, rich land, highly cultivated. Extra good five-room house, perfect repair, new milk house, etc., grand branch, pond site, acre in cultivated berries, peaches, garden truck, etc. Best little close-in farm home in Georgia for $2,750. Repuires $750 cash, bal. $25 month, 7 per cent. No loan. Geo. C. Fife & Co., 309-10-11 Gould Bldg., WA. 3661.

$49 LOTS $49

SIZE 50x200—Others up to $79. Pay $1 down, $1 wkly. on $49 lots—no interest, no taxes, free title policy. Drive out Campbellton road toward Ben Hill today until you come to sign which will direct you to lots. See Mr. Stewart on ground.

Classified Display

Beauty Aids

SPECIAL THROUGH WEDNESDAY

$1.50

With Ringlet Ends

CLAIRE'S

Superior Quality Waves

$3.00 Waves $1.50

$5.00 Waves $2.50

$7.50 Waves $5.00

Croquignole Effect $2.50 Complete

401 Mortgage Guarantee Bldg. JA. 8753

SPECIAL PERMANENT WAVES

$2

Complete

JA. 8960

POPE & EPPS, Inc.

702 Mortgage Guarantee Bldg.

Real Estate For Sale

Suburban—For Sale 87

SPECIAL ATTENTION!

14 ACRES of good land in Fulton county, on public road, 8 miles out from center of city; 5-room house, 2 barns, 8 acres in high state of cultivation, balance in pasture with running water. Only $1,200. Terms. Call Mr. Cranshaw, WA. 1511.

J. H. Ewing & Sons.

Realtors

Dixie Highway Atlanta - Jonesboro, 14 miles out, adjoining new 11-room brick home, 48½-acre tract, good land, 565 ft. east front on concrete, back to Flint river, $2,000, $500 cash. Worth double—get busy.

ALSO, 23-acre tract, 380 ft. front, heavily wooded, branch and creek, $1,000. Requires $700 cash. Geo. C. Fife & Co., Gould Bldg.

TUCKER section, 33 acres, rustic house, barn, spring, pasture, large branch. Beautiful woods near house, lake site, 2 miles of Lawrenceville highway. Sacrifice, $1,250. Terms.

J. J. HEMPERLEY, WA. 7310.

HOMES AND FARMS BOUGHT, SOLD, EXCHANGED GEO. C. FIFE & CO. 309-10-11 GOULD BLDG. WA. 3661.

8 ACRES Gordon Rd., 1,400 ft. road frontage. Easy terms. WA. 9595.

To Exchange Real Estate 88

WANTED DRUID HILLS HOME

WE have a client who wishes to trade clear seven-room, northside bungalow for Druid Hills home. Will assume up to $7,500. Call Mr. Kopp.

The Holleman Realty Co.

WA. 5513. 21 Auburn Ave.

WANT TO TRADE

HAVE six-room frame home in Peachtree Hills will trade for bungalow or two-story house with 4 bedrooms and 2 baths, on north side. Call Melton, HE. 4418-W or WA. 3111.

HASS HOWELL & DODD

TRADE close-in property, in need of repairs, for good automobile and notes. Value of property $2,500 but worth more. Call Ben Padgett, WA. 0636.

NORTH SIDE lot, clear. Exchange for business property. Address H-228, Constitution.

WILL trade good level lot in splendid location for auto. CH. 1592.

Wanted—Real Estate 89

WE WANT LISTINGS—HOMES, INVESTMENT PROPERTY, ACREAGE. SEE US IF YOU WANT TO BUY, SELL OR EXCHANGE. JOHN J. THOMPSON & CO., WA. 3935.

FOR call customer. Medium-priced North Side brick bungalow, $2,000 cash down. Also large home with 2 bedrooms and bath, first floor. WA. 9026. Mack Matthews, 416 Healey Bldg.

ROOMING house furnishings of 14 rooms, cheap, or exchange for small farm near Atlanta or N. E. Ga. H-89, Constitution.

WILL buy home direct from owner. State price, location. Address H-226, Constitution.

Auction Sales 90

MORE cash and quicker results by high-type auction methods.

Farms, Lands, Subdivisions, Estates.

HOLTSINGER AUCTION SYSTEM.

Mortgage Guar. Bldg. MA. 9377.

Classified Display

Automotive

Hupmobile

GUARANTEED USED CARS

'31 Hupp 8 Custom Sedan, Model L, free wheeling $545

'31 Hupp 8 Custom Sedan, Model H, free wheeling $595

'31 Hupp 8 Standard Sedan, Model L, free wheeling $495

'32 Hupp 8 Custom Sedan, Model C, free wheeling $765

'32 De Soto 8 Sedan, free wheeling ... $495

'30 Nash 480 Sedan $395

'31 Studebaker 6 Std. Sedan, free wheeling $425

'29 Graham 8, Model 827, 6-wire-wheel 4-Pass. Coupe; looks and runs like new car ... $425

'28 Graham 614 Sedan $165

'29 Nash Standard Sedan $150

'28 Buick Standard Sedan $195

'31 Durant Sedan $265

'29 Ford Roadster, rumble seat $145

'29 Ford Tudor $165

'29 Ford Town Sedan $195

'28 Studebaker Pres. Sedan $165

'29 Buick Master Sedan $265

'29 Hupp Century 6 Sedan $275

'29 Hupp Century 6 Brougham $265

'28 Hupp Century 6 Sedan $237

'30 Hupp Model S Sedan $295

Others for Your Selection

CAUTHORN Motor Co., Inc.

489 Peachtree WA. 7198

(Open Nite)

Classified Display

Automotive

CHEVROLET

LOOK!

Model "T" Coupe	$20
'35 Model "T" Coupe	$25
Model "T" Touring	$25
Nash Sedan	$25
'26 Chevrolet Coupe	$35
'27 Buick Sedan	$65
'28 Buick Sedan	$85
'27 Chrysler Coach	$85
'28 Hudson Sedan	$85
'29 Ford Coupe	$100
'29 Chevrolet Sedan	$175
'30 Ford Sedan	$225
'30 Chevrolet Coach	$225
'30 Chevrolet Sport Sedan	$295
'31 Ford Tudor	$275
'31 Chevrolet Sedan	$350
'32 Nash Sedan	$445

TRUCKS

'31 Chevrolet 157-Inch Stake Truck	$295
'29 Ford 1½-Ton Stake Truck	$145
'29 Chevrolet Stake Truck	$95
G. M. C. 1½-Ton Refrigerator Panel Truck	$175
G. M. C. Dairy 1½-Ton Panel	$125
'28 Ford Pickup	$75

Whitehall Chevrolet Co.

331 Whitehall St., S. W.

Ask the Man Who Bought One Here

Terms WAlnut 1412 Terms

560 West Peachtree St.

1930 Pierce-Arrow 5-Pass. Sedan	$775
1931 Studebaker Dic. "8" Sedan	$495
1929 Chrysler "65" Sport Coupe	$295
1928 Studebaker 4-Pass. Coupe	$110
1927 Pontiac Sport Coupe	$75
1928 Paige 2-Door Sedan	$95
1926 Cadillac "314" 7-Pass. Sedan	$75
1929 Nash "6" Brougham	$345
1927 Pierce-Arrow "80" 7-Pass. Sedan	$150
1931 Studebaker Pres. "8" 5-Pass. Sedan.	$875

YARBROUGH MOTOR CO.

560 W. Peachtree St. HE. 5142

PACKARD

The Best Place to Buy a Used Car

1932 Packard Coupe Roadster; looks new in every respect ..	$1,950
1931 Cadillac Fleetwood Convertible Coupe	$1,375
1931 Cord Convertible Sedan	$750
1930 Stutz Sedan	$450
1930 Buick De Luxe Sedan. Looks new .	$550
1927 Lincoln Coupe	$275

Others $50.00 to $2,000

Atlanta Packard Motors

370 P'tree JA. 2727

399 Spring St.

'29 Graham "615" De Luxe Coupe	$275
'29 Nash Adv. Sedan, extra clean	$225
'25 Pierce Arrow 7-pass. Sedan, new tires....	$95
'32 Graham Bluestreak, 6 w. w.	$895
'29 Buick Master Coupe, extra clean	$235
'29 Chrysler "65" Coach	$235
'29 Graham "612" Sedan	$225
'31 Plymouth 4-Door Sedan, like new	$265
'28 Paige "665" Coach	$75

20 Other Cars Priced From $25 Up for Your Selection

Phone for Demonstration.

OPEN NITE JA. 5132

Chambers-Kirby Motors, Inc.

399 SPRING ST., N. W.

Constitution Classified Ads Bring Results

Adair-LeVert Co.

"House of Quality Cars"

265 Peachtree St.

See and Compare These Most Unusual Bargains.

All Late Models and Any Body Type You May Desire.

1932 Pontiac Coach. Actual mileage 17,000. New tires.....	$475
1932 Ford Coach, driven 10,000 miles. Original paint	365
1932 Essex Terraplane; 3,500 miles; like new	465
1932 Plymouth P. B. Sedan; 9,000 miles. A most economical car	475
1932 Chevrolet Coupe; low mileage; in excellent condition....	375
1931 De Soto Sport Roadster; 6 W. W.; rumble seat	445

MANY MORE LIKE BARGAINS FROM $35 UP.

Cash Paid for Any Number Used Cars

WE CARRY OUR OWN PAPER

Phones WA. 7582—WA. 2160

Harry Sommers, Inc.

375 Peachtree Street

Quality used cars, reconditioned and ready for service

'29 Hudson Sedan	$135
'31 Hudson Coach	365
'28 Hudson Coupe	60
'31 Dodge 8 Sedan	375
'32 Dodge 6 Coupe	550
'32 Nash Coupe	395
'32 Nash Sedan	425
'31 Nash Coach	295
'29 Nash Sedan	195
'29 Nash Cabrolet	175
'31 Buick Coupe	425
'29 Buick Sedan	175
'29 Buick Coach	165
'31 Buick Sedan	495
'30 Buick Sedan	325
'31 Chrysler Sedan	450
'31 Chrysler Coupe	440
'29 Chrysler Sedan	295
'32 Chrysler Sedan	745
'32 Ford 4 Coupe	325
'32 Ford 8 Tudor	395
'32 Ford 4 Tudor	350
'30 Ford Sport Coupe	225
'30 Ford Sedan	325
'29 Ford Roadster	135
'31 Hupmobile 8 Sedan	350
'29 La Salle Sedan	395
'30 Chevrolet Coach	225
'31 Chevrolet Coupe	295
'31 Chevrolet Coach	395
'29 Chevrolet Coach	145
'32 Plymouth Coupe	395
'32 Plymouth Sedan	440
'29 Plymouth Roadster	145
'28 Franklin Sedan	150
'28 Lincoln 78 Sedan	195
'31 Auburn Sedan	495
'29 De Soto Sedan	150
'30 De Soto Sedan	250
'29 Essex Sedan	135
Austin Coupe	195
'27 Packard Sedan	125
Packard Sedan	75
'29 Dodge Coupe	195
'28 Dodge Coupe	95
'31 Essex Coach	295
'28 Chrysler Coupe	185

Other Makes and Models

JA. 1834

NEW AUSTINS

$329

Delivered Atlanta

'33 Olds 8 Sedan: 1,200 miles.	$895
'33 Terraplane Special Sedan; less than 1,000 miles.	645
'32 Graham "8" Blue Streak..	795
'31 Chrysler "8" Sport Coupe..	445
'31 LaSalle DeLuxe Sedan.....	745
'30 Chevrolet 4-Door Sedan.....	195
'33 Austin Coupe	275
'30 Chevrolet Roadster	125
'33 Willys 77	389

"In the Heart of the Shopping Center"

Evans Motors, Inc.

"Famous for Bargains"

232—Peachtree—240

U. S., LEAGUE AFFAIRS DISCUSSED AT MEET

UNIVERSITY, Va., July 15.—(AP) Speaking at the concluding roundtable of the institute of public affairs this afternoon on "The Relations of the United States With the League of Nations," Allen W. Klots, New York attorney and former assistant to Secretary of State Henry L. Stimson, said there have gradually developed between the United States and the League "those normal relations which might be expected to exist between two such important, although entirely independent, political units."

He added: "Now that the taboo which had prevailed against even talking to the League has been frankly dispelled, now that it has been found possible apparently without undue entanglement to discuss with the League matters of common interest and to co-operate with it to a common end, should no thought be given to developing some more consistent and appropriate method of contact?"

Mr. Klots explained that he was not proposing membership in the League or any change in the principle that has heretofore characterized the relations. This principle he described as one "that we reserve independence of judgment as to each decision and as to each step taken by way of co-operation."

But he added that it would seem consideration might be given to the development of some agency of contact which would be somewhat more logical and have more continuity and consistency than the rather diverse and improvised system of intercourse which is available today."

"Herein," he said, "lies room within practical limits for future constructive development of the relations of the United States with the League of Nations."

MINT-TEA BLEND DEVISED BY ATLANTAN

A process by which tea and mint are blended and can be used both in hot and cold drinks, has been invented and patented by Roe S. Freeman, an Atlantan.

Under the trademark, "Min-T," this brand is now being manufactured by Mr. Freeman. He has had a remarkable success.

"Min-T" is distributed through all the big chain grocery stores, including Rogers, A&P and Piggly Wiggly, as well as the Volunteer and Q. S. S. systems and the individual grocers. It is put up in packages of 1-2, 4 and 8 ounces.

1 KILLED, 1 INJURED AS BUS OVERTURNS

ELIZABETHTON, Tenn., July 15. (AP)—A bus tour of students from the Appalachian State Teachers' College, Boone, N. C., to the Chicago World's Fair ended today in the death of Miss Nola Brotherton and serious injuries to O. E. Dillinger, 32, both of Newton, N. C.

A bus in which they were riding skidded on wet pavement at a mountain "hair pin" curve and overturned near Crabtree, Tenn., 22 miles from here, yesterday.

AGED POSTAL WORKERS TO STAY IN SERVICE

WASHINGTON, July 15.—(AP)—The postoffice department has decided not to retire persons of 30 years' service under the retirement provisions of the independent offices supply act who are efficient and physically able to perform satisfactory service.

Under those provisions the department is permitted to retire postal service employes of 30 years' service. The inefficient and unable, it indicated, will be retired.

Classified Display

Automotive

Harry Sommers, Inc.

375 Peachtree Street

Quality used cars, reconditioned and ready for service

'29 Hudson Sedan	$135
'31 Hudson Coach	365
'28 Hudson Coupe	60
'31 Dodge 8 Sedan	375
'32 Dodge 6 Coupe	550
'32 Nash Coupe	395
'32 Nash Sedan	425
'31 Nash Coach	295
'29 Nash Sedan	195
'29 Nash Cabrolet	175
'31 Buick Coupe	425
'29 Buick Sedan	175
'29 Buick Coach	165
'31 Buick Sedan	495
'30 Buick Sedan	325
'31 Chrysler Sedan	450
'31 Chrysler Coupe	440
'29 Chrysler Sedan	295
'32 Chrysler Sedan	745
'32 Ford 4 Coupe	325
'32 Ford 8 Tudor	395
'32 Ford 4 Tudor	350
'30 Ford Sport Coupe	225
'30 Ford Sedan	325
'29 Ford Roadster	135
'31 Hupmobile 8 Sedan	350
'29 La Salle Sedan	395
'30 Chevrolet Coach	225
'31 Chevrolet Coupe	295
'31 Chevrolet Coach	395
'29 Chevrolet Coach	145
'32 Plymouth Coupe	395
'32 Plymouth Sedan	440
'29 Plymouth Roadster	145
'28 Franklin Sedan	150
'28 Lincoln 78 Sedan	195
'31 Auburn Sedan	495
'29 De Soto Sedan	150
'30 De Soto Sedan	250
'29 Essex Sedan	135
Austin Coupe	195
'27 Packard Sedan	125
Packard Sedan	75
'29 Dodge Coupe	195
'28 Dodge Coupe	95
'31 Essex Coach	295
'28 Chrysler Coupe	185

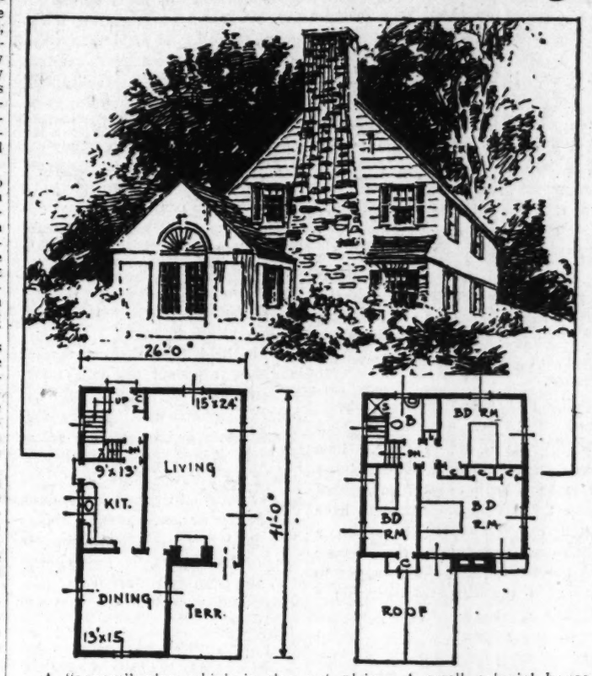

Other Makes and Models

JA. 1834

CONSTITUTION'S REAL ESTATE REVIEW

Conducted in the Interest of the Development of Atlanta and the South

Dignity Seen in Simplicity Of Careful, Colonial Design

A "square" plan which is also not plain. A small coloniel house that is economical to build and to maintain.

Essentially the square plan, this dignified small Colonial is both economical to build and to maintain.

The illustration shows the rear of the house, with the terrace between the dining room wing and the living room, and the graceful fan-light in the dining room. The substantial stone chimney lends character to the facade.

Exterior materials are, of course, stone for chimney and foundations, clapboards and panel flush siding. Roof should be gray slate or shingle, flecked with sepias and browns. Blue green shutters would be best, with white trim throughout.

Because of the simplicity of the design and the fact that no tricks are done with the interior, the house could probably be constructed in many localities for $6,000 or little more. The design is appropriate for almost any climate.

The three downstairs rooms are unusually large and very well lighted and ventilated. The housewife will be delighted, especially, with the unusual amount of wall space for the arrangement of furniture in the living room and with the possibilities of the terrace for informal entertaining and family life.

Upstairs the arrangement of bedrooms and bath is both convenient and comfortable, with cross ventilation provided for two of the rooms and a shower added in the bathroom (which uses space in the stair well very ingeniously, by the way), the large bedroom could readily have a fireplace if desired.

Cafeteria Takes First Floor Space in Volunteer Building

Lease of half of the first floor of the Volunteer State Life building, at Luckie and Forsyth streets, to a new cafeteria, was announced on Saturday by M. Tigner Wiggins, of the Adams-Cates agency.

He leased the building to the Melba Cafe 4,000 feet of space, which will be extensively remodelled and occupied by the lessee with a modern cafeteria in eight weeks. The term of the lease is five years and the approximate consideration $100,000.

J. B. Ashley, present operator of the Blue Boar Cafeteria, in the Palmer building, will operate the Melba, continuing also the operation of the Blue Boar.

This space has remained vacant since the building was erected and the cafeteria will add materially to the activity of that section.

The cafeteria will be air-conditioned and will have other improvements seen in the modern cafeterias. Its main entrance will be at Forsyth and Luckie streets, with a lobby entrance also.

The lease is one of the most important and significant to be announced this year.

Real Estate Board Bulletin

Several days ago three well-informed residential brokers who happened to be together on an appraisal, were asked what in their estimation, if any, was the change in the market for houses over the past six months. These three brother realtors, all experienced men of conservative judgment, concurred in the opinion that six representative houses would sell today for probably 10 per cent more on the average than six similar houses would have sold for six months ago. In other words, this would indicate that the real estate market is 10 per cent better now than February 1.

If this is so, then we real estate men ought to join the shouting along with the peddlers of other commodities.

Free Rent Is Gone!

It looks as though the death blow to the old pernicious system of "free rent" was actually struck by the real estate board action of several months ago in bringing apartment house owners and brokers together in a definite agreement to stop this evil.

All reports seem to indicate that this arch enemy of property owners is licked, the only exception to the rule of full co-operation being with a few non-member agents. Otherwise "free rent" is a thing of the past.

Many attempts had been made in the past to abolish "free rent" but no real progress was made until five months ago when a real estate board agreement was circulated among property owners and the signatures of 60 of the largest apartment house owners and all the large rental agents were obtained, pledging themselves to give no more "free rent."

Aycock Joins Board.

The board welcomes the Aycock Realty Company into the organization as a new member. C. G. Aycock is well-known in real estate circles and has many close friends among board members.

The Aycock Realty Company and the Screws Realty Company, who joined with us two weeks ago, are latest additions to our organizations.

Less Vacant Houses.

A report has come to the board office that there is a definite scarcity of houses for rent. This information, along with information recently obtained from a vacancy survey which showed that there was only about 7 per cent or 8 per cent vacancies among houses, is very encouraging news and indicates an early improvement in the market for renting and selling houses.

Reduction Encouraging.

The recent reduction of one mill in the state ad valorem tax by Governor Talmadge has aroused much interest in the real estate field. The board has tried unsuccessfully for years to get the tax rate on real estate reduced, and this is the first lowering of the tax rate to take place.

Although not a large tax reduction for Atlanta property owners, still it is encouraging as a move in the right direction.

16 Acreage Tracts Resold, Fife Reports

Definite improvement in the demand for suburban homes and small farms was reported on Saturday by George C. Fife & Co.

The company, in checking its records recently, found that on the Dixie highway alone, between Atlanta and Jonesboro, 16 acreage properties, aggregating nearly 400 acres, had been resold at a profit by their original buyers.

In nearly every instance, the company said, the purchasers have built and occupied houses on these tracts.

Realty Examination To Be Held Thursday

An examination for real estate brokers and salesmen will be held in room 111, state capitol, at 10 o'clock Thursday morning, according to announcement by the Georgia Real Estate Commission. Persons desiring to take this examination should file their applications with the commission immediately.

BICENTENNIAL PLACED IN GEORGIA'S EXHIBIT

The Georgia bicentennial is included in the Georgia exhibit at the World's Fair in Chicago, according to an announcement by Roy LeCraw, vice chairman in charge of placing the exhibit there.

He stated Saturday that recent criticism to the effect that no mention was made of the bicentennial in the exhibit was partly true. At the opening of the exhibit there was no mention of the Georgia bicentennial but a short time later a hand-painted framed announcement, six feet tall, was placed there in a conspicuous place and it is there now.

Palmer Is Appointed By Building Owners

Frank S. Slosson, of Hooker & Slosson, 140 South Dearborn street, recently elected president of the National Association of Building Owners and Managers, has announced the formation of a committee to take active charge of that organization's industrial stabilization activities.

The following personnel is named: Chairman, William E. Malm (past president of the association) vice president, Cleveland Arcade Company, Cleveland; John M. Arthur, industrial engineer and manager, Kansas City Power and Light Company, 1330 Baltimore street, Kansas City; Charles F. Palmer, president, Palmer, Inc., Atlanta; Claude Ricketts, president Railway Exchange Building, Inc., St. Louis; Earle Shultz, manager, Chicago Trust, Edison and Marquette buildings, 72 West Adams street, Chicago; Lawrence B. Cummings, vice president, Douglas L. Elliman & Co., 15 East Forty-ninth street, New York city; Andrew Steers, vice president, Metropolitan Building Company, 1201 Fourth avenue, Seattle.

Jefferson Mortgage Again Making Loans

Evidence of improvement in the real estate loan situation is shown in recent announcements of agents that they are prepared to make loans on Atlanta homes.

The latest announcement to this effect was made on Saturday by the Jefferson Mortgage Company, loan agents for the Investors' Syndicate, that it was again in the market for loans.

The loans, the announcement said, will enable homeowners to pay for their homes with a minimum of inconvenience.

ACREAGE TRACT SALES ANNOUNCED BY CATES

L. B. Baker, district manager of H. L. Greene, Inc., operators of F. W. Grand and Silver chain stores, has bought a tract of 31-2 acres with a frontage of 350 feet on Woodward way, near Peachtree Battle avenue, in Peachtree Heights Park. The sale was handled by Herbert A. Cline, of Adams-Cates Co. Mr. Baker is having plans prepared for a home to be built on the site he has just purchased.

Adams-Cates Co. also announced the sale of the residence at 764 Williams street, N. W., from H. L. Singer, executor, to Phi Epsilon Pi fraternity, of Georgia Tech. This building will be occupied as the chapter house after September 1. This sale was handled by Hoke Blair.

The same agency, through Josiah Sibley, has sold a tract of six acres on Harris trail, off Mount Periân road, from Percy H. Adams estate to Carl J. Asbury. This purchaser is also planning to build a home in the near future on the tract purchased. Exact considerations are not disclosed in any of these transfers but are estimated to aggregate around $15,000.

Owners' Home Exhibit At the World's Fair

An added boost for Atlanta in the Georgia exhibit at the Chicago World's Fair will be an exhibit by the Atlanta Association of Building Owners and Managers.

The exhibit will be in the form of a skyline painting of Atlanta 4x14 feet, painted by William G. Kurtz. The view is made looking from the Terminal station showing the Spring street viaduct with trains in the foreground and skyscrapers towering high above and planes in the sky. Two large panels, one on each end of the painting, tell briefly of the advantages of Atlanta as a distribution point of the south.

Panel 1 features office buildings, worded as follows: Atlanta: The Heart of Distribution to America's Fastest Growing Market: The Leading Office Building City of the Southeast: More Than 1,700 Branch Offices of Nationally Known Concerns Housed in Atlanta's Office Buildings."

The panel on the other end of the painting is worded as follows: "Atlanta: 15 Trunk Lines of Railroads: The Financial Center of the South: The Nation's Fourth Largest Insurance Center: The Leading Airport Center of the Southeast: Wonderful Educational Facilities: Modern Hotels—Ideal Housing Conditions: Low Cost of Living: Unexcelled Climate—Pure Water."

West Is Named In B. & L. Campaign

The nation-wide membership campaign of the United States Building and Loan League today commandeered the services of George W. West, of the First Mutual Building and Loan Association, as one of the key men in this locality. Ward B. Whitlock, of Springfield, Ill., president of the league, notified him of his appointment and also asked for volunteers among building and loan men here in what is believed to be the most important move toward complete co-operation in the 100 years of building and loan history.

Two hundred men in the various states have been chosen to begin the campaign to convince the scattered building and loan associations in various parts of the country that a closely knit organization is necessary.

North Fulton Tracts Will Be Auctioned

Two important auction sales of tracts in north Fulton county will be held next Tuesday and Thursday by the Lummus Auction Company. Both will be held at 10 o'clock in the morning.

At Tuesday's sale the Glen Copeland property, consisting of 40 acres on the Dunwoody road, near Spaulding drive, will be offered in small tracts, one including a bungalow.

The second auction will include the former V. H. Kriegshaber property on Cheshire and Lenox roads, which has been divided into 25 home sites. Six business lots will be included in this sale. Free barbecue dinner will be served.

G. T. Chambers Joins LeBey Loan Agency

George T. Chambers, formerly connected with the Adair Realty & Trust Company and more recently manager of the mortgage loan department of the American Trust Company, an affiliate of the Atlantic National bank, of Jacksonville, has returned to Atlanta to be associated with C. D. LeBey & Co., mortgage loan correspondent for the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, of New York, in Georgia and Florida.

Mr. Chambers has been identified with this particular phase of business since 1920 and will be office manager and secretary of the new organization.

E. P. Thomas Joins Adams-Cates Agency

Adams-Cates Company announce that Everett P. Thomas is now associated with them.

Mr. Thomas has been identified with realty circles for over ten years, and for sometime has been connected with one of the important realty organizations in Atlanta. In becoming associated with Adams-Cates Company he will be identified with the residential renting department, and will specialize in renting and managing apartments and houses. Mr. Thomas is a graduate of the University of Alabama, and a member of the Kappa Sigma fraternity.

Tom Ingersoll Dies.

Tom S. Ingersoll, executive secretary of the Los Angeles real estate board and previously for 11 years executive secretary of the National Association of Real Estate Boards, died at his home in La Habra, Cal., June 29. Mr. Ingersoll had attended the association's twenty-sixth annual convention in Chicago, June 12-17, and took part there in the annual meeting of the association's advisory board of past presidents, of which he has always been secretary. He had been ill since his return from the convention.

THE CONSTITUTION

CLARK HOWELL
Editor and General Manager.
Clark Howell Jr., Business Manager.

THE SOUTH'S STANDARD NEWSPAPER · ESTABLISHED 1868 · CONSTITUTION

Entered at the Postoffice at Atlanta as second-class mail matter.

Telephone WAlnut 6565

SUBSCRIPTION RATES
By Carrier or Mail

	1 Wk.	1 Mo.	3 Mo.	6 Mo.	1 Yr.
Daily and Sunday	20c	90c	$2.50	$5.00	$9.50
Daily only	15c	70c	2.00	4.00	7.50

Single Copies—Daily, 5c; Sunday, 10c.

BY MAIL ONLY

	1 Mo.	3 Mo.	6 Mo.	1 Yr.
Sunday	10c	45c	$1.25	$2.50	$5.00

R. F. D. and small or non-dealer towns for 1st, 2nd, 3rd zones only:
Daily (without Sunday) 1 year.....$5.00
Daily and Sunday, 1 year.....6.00
Fractional part of year prorata.

KELLY-SMITH COMPANY, national representatives, New York, Chicago, Detroit, Boston, Philadelphia, Atlanta.

THE CONSTITUTION is on sale in New York city by 2 p. m. the day after issue. It can be had: Hotaling's News Stand, Broadway and Forty-third street (Times building corner).

The Constitution is not responsible for advance payments to out-of-town local carriers, dealers or agents. Receipts given for subscription payments not in accordance with published rates are not authorized; also not responsible for subscription payments until received at office of publication.

Member of The Associated Press
The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to use for publication of all news dispatches credited to it or not otherwise credited to this paper and also the local news published herein.

ATLANTA, GA., JULY 16, 1933.

NOTHING WRONG WITH GEORGIA.

Somebody has asked, "What is the matter with Georgia?"

The question is convincingly answered by Major R. E. L. Spence in a communication appearing on the opposite page.

He correctly says that there is nothing the matter with Georgia.

The financial affairs of probably no state in the Union are in as good condition as those of this state. Its bonded indebtedness of $4,500,000 is a showing made by but few states of the Union. The bonded indebtedness of some of our sister southern states ranges from $100,000,000 to $500,000,000.

As against Georgia's bonded indebtedness, the state owns and leases the Western & Atlantic railroad, running from Atlanta to Chattanooga, and central business property in both cities, valued at several million dollars. The lease for the state road, which still has 41 years to run, brings into the state treasury an annual rental of $540,000.

So, when the bonded indebtedness of the state is balanced against only its railroad asset there is a ledger balance of several millions of dollars to the credit of the state.

The state's income from this property is not only sufficient to pay the interest on its bonds, but to provide a sinking fund which will liquidate its bonded indebtedness in a few years and leave a balance of millions of dollars.

The current indetbedhess of the state, including the back-due appropriations to the pensioners, the school teachers and the eleemosynary institutions, is not large. It can, and should, be liquidated in a few years.

Only recently the five-mill state ad valorem tax has been reduced from five to four mills. In addition, county governments all over the state are reducing their assessments and their tax rates. Toombs county has just announced a reduction in its rate from 19 mills to 12 mills.

The heavy burden being borne by the taxpayers is not caused by the state tax rate, but by the county rate of an overload of county governments.

Official statistics show that no county government serving a population of less than 20,000 can meet the reasonable demands of its people without the imposition of burdensome taxation. There are many counties in Georgia with less than half that many inhabitants.

These small and debt-ridden counties hesitate to seek the relief offered by consolidation because of the foolish idea that county autonomy must be preserved.

But that is changing.

A movement is now on foot to combine Wilcox and Crisp counties. It would result in benefit to both counties, both as to reduced taxation and increased efficiency.

There are many other counties in the state that could obtain the same benefits, saving the taxpayers of the state millions of dollars, if they would consolidate with stronger and wealthier adjoining counties.

If there is anything "wrong with Georgia" it grows largely out of these useless and expensive county governments.

With its current indebtedness liquidated, Georgia, with one of the lowest tax rates of any state in the Union, will stand at the top of the list in the matter of financial solidarity, if the problem of county taxation can be properly adjusted.

A BIG JOB WELL DONE.

The tremendous size of the task faced by the army in the enrollment, equipment and organization of the civilian conservation camps is strikingly revealed in statistics presented in an article, appearing on the opposite page, by Major Reese M. Howell, of the fourth corps area headquarters in Atlanta.

As Major Howell points out, it was a job comparative to that the army was called on to perform in 1917 in preparing the first contingent of American soldiers for France.

The army has "come through" in its 1933 task as efficiently and skillfully as it did in 1917. Two hundred and seventy-five thousand men have been enlisted, organized into 1,330 companies, camps have been established for them on a 3,000-mile front from the Atlantic to the Pacific, and the men put to work in the camps—all within a period of little more than a month.

In the fourth corps area alone the enrollment of 38,000 men has been directed from headquarters at Fort McPherson by Major General Edward L. King.

The job has been well done, because, as General King says, "the army's job is to meet emergencies"—and it was on the job when this emergency arose. The fourth corps area was one of the first to report its task completed. So well was it done, and in a manner so in keeping with the best traditions of the army, that General King was the recipient of a special telegram of congratulations from the secretary of war.

A FREE GOLD MARKET.

News reports of the formation in New York of a committee for the establishment of a free gold market in the United States, and numerous references to such a market in various financial periodicals, has attracted public attention to the intricacies of international monetary problems.

It is difficult for the average man to fathom the involved and complex ramifications of the situation involving the gold standard and its effect on the various currencies of the world, and the function of free gold markets are inextricably entangled in the intricacies of the situation.

Briefly, however, the establishment of a free gold market in the United States, it is claimed, would permit a better control of commodity prices; enable this government to more definitely determine the price of gold in terms of its own currency; enable our domestic gold producers to receive the top world price for gold, and stop bootlegging of American gold into Canada in order that the higher prices obtaining abroad may be obtained.

The effect of such a gold market on commodity price levels is outlined by Chairman J. Chester Cuppia, of the newly organized committee, in the following excerpt from a news story appearing elsewhere on this page:

With possibly 40 to 50 per cent of the economic turnover of the world, the United States needs within its borders the machinery for registering the daily fluctuations in the price of this world commodity. The committee feels that only by having a free gold market of our own can we exert our share of influence in bidding up the price of gold. And by helping to bid up the price of gold we help to reduce the abnormal purchasing power of currencies. In other words, we help to raise world price levels, as well as the price level in our country.

A government on the gold standard fixes by fiat the price of the yellow metal in so far as its own currency is concerned. Before the United States left the gold standard our price for gold was $20.67 per ounce, and we are now attempting to maintain that price, although we are off the gold standard and world prices are higher.

A free gold market has been in operation in London for some years. It has materially aided the British government to control fluctuation in the pound and has added largely to the gold reserve of the nation through the sale on the market of old plate, scrap gold from jewelry and British gold coin and the importation of gold for sale at the high prices prevailing on the market.

On the London market the Bank of England set a minimum price at which it would buy gold and a maximum price at which it would sell the yellow metal. If private orders for gold purchase were greater than the amount of gold imported on any certain date, the government bank made up the difference at the top price. If, on the other hand, the buying orders were less than the gold received, the bank took the surplus at the minimum figure set.

The market has enabled the government to better control the fluctuations of the pound through the sales of gold to other countries. A sale of gold to France, for instance, added to the supply of francs offered for sale in London, with the result that the franc would be depressed in London and sterling would be correspondingly firmer in Paris.

The Magazine of Wall Street, in a recent editorial, excerpts of which also appear on this page, points out that it will not be surprising if the American policy at the London economic conference will be so changed as to bring about the establishment of a free gold market in New York.

This outstanding financial periodical feels that when an agreement is reached on the modus operandi for the return of the nations now off the gold standard to that standard, and the dollar has in the meantime fallen still lower in its gold exchange value, that "the free gold market in New York may be required to ascertain the true commodity value of gold."

It is held that such a market would be a proper cog in the machinery being set at work by the American government to bring currency values and commodity prices to their normal levels, and that it would aid towards the ultimate end of our return to the gold standard.

Whether or not, however, such a free gold market is established in the United States, it seems clear that the country is destined to hear it much discussed during the next few months.

ALABAMA WAXES WARM.

Alabama votes Tuesday in its referendum on the question of the repeal of the 18th amendment and reports indicate that the campaign in its last stages is sizzling.

The intensity displayed by both sides is not surprising in view of the importance of the result on the referendum elections to be held in states that have not as yet acted.

The drys realize that if they lose Alabama, following their defeat in West Virginia, the fight against repeal will collapse, and that their dreams of the south as the bulwark from which they would successfully defend the attack on the present prohibition laws had been exploded.

Despite the desperate contest being waged by the dry leaders, those favoring repeal claim success is certain by an overwhelming majority. Their estimate of the situation is admirably presented by R. C. Gordon, prominent citizen of LaFayette, Ala., in the following communication appearing in the Montgomery Advertiser:

President Roosevelt wants us to vote for repeal, and not to deny him this link in his chain of stupendous proposals to bring back prosperity to the nation. He is also on record as stating that "we as democrats must and will rightly and morally enable the states to protect themselves against the importation of intoxicating liquor where such importation may violate their state laws" and "we must rightly and morally prevent the return of the saloon."

Some will say that it will be impossible to achieve these two inhibitions. I will not argue, but if so, we will not be much worse off than we are at present with our bootleggers and speakeasies by the thousands, and certainly the new laws could not fail so signally as do our present prohibition laws; and I believe that our juries would perform their duties more willingly and rigorously under the proposed method to bar importations to a dry state and to effectually prevent the return of the saloon. Finally, as Dr. Butler says, "as a result of the 18th amendment we now have a nation-wide traffic in intoxicating liquors which is unlicensed, illicit, illegal and untaxed" amounting according to the Wickersham report at the lowest estimate for a single year, to $2,815,000,000, all untaxed! President Roosevelt asks you to let him harness and control this octopus of fiendish malignity! Will the people respond? The way and the leader are here! R. C. GORDON.

Lafayette, Ala., July 7, 1933.

The result in Alabama is being more keenly awaited throughout the country because it is the first referendum to be held in the section which has been proclaimed as being the stronghold of prohibition.

As the date of the referendum nears, there is a general belief that not only Alabama but Arkansas, which votes on the same day, and Tennessee, which holds its referendum a few days later, will join the other 16 states which have voted for repeal, with a goose-egg so far for those who are contending that an impossible condition should be continued.

THE TENNIS TOURNAMENT.

Tennis proved a splendid attraction for Atlantans last week, the southern amateur tournament attracting large crowds to its matches.

It was the first large tournament for Atlanta in a decade, the southern being a muchly-sought event by other cities. It is rotated as much as possible.

The tournament showed an amazing increase in tennis interest and was another indication of Atlanta's devotion to first-rate athletic attractions. Large crowds witnessed the last three days of play when the better matches were on schedule.

The old Roman theory that "bread and the circus" would always be the two best diets through any era, depression or prosperity, seems to be substantiated by our own experience, national and local.

The growth of tennis in popular appeal has been rather enormous. Ten years ago tennis was played but little. It was confined to a few private courts and a few public courts.

Today there are hundreds of tennis courts in our parks of the south. The private courts have been increased in number. Many homes have their own court. The city-owned courts have even been lighted to offer night play for those unable to play during daylight hours. During the summer the tennis courts are busy from shortly after dawn until near midnight.

It is safe to say that there are more young boys and girls playing tennis today than golf. The appeal of the game is growing. The tennis teacher is making his appearance. A southern player from New Orleans has made the Davis cup team, the highest position in American amateur tennis.

Atlanta enjoyed the southern amateur. It will further stimulate the game in Atlanta. And Atlanta will begin plans to bring the tournament back as soon as possible.

PICKFAIR FOR SALE.

The attention of the country is focused on the matrimonial cyclone sweeping the moving picture colony in Hollywood. Pickfair, the home of Douglas and Mary, is offered for sale at a price less than 50 per cent of its original cost.

Here many prominent and titled persons have been entertained, and for more than a decade Mary Pickford and Douglas Fairbanks dwelled within its boundaries in bliss and contentment. Their love for each other seemed ignited by a divine spark, and they were acclaimed the model couple of Hollywood.

In 1916 Mary Pickford signed a million-dollar moving picture contract that placed her at the top of the high-salaried and popular artists. Today, 17 years later, the pretty little woman with the blond ringlets is experiencing the passing of her screen popularity and is feeling the pain of a blasted romance. In 1917-18, during the World War, Mary Pickford sold one of her golden curls to the highest purchaser of bonds. She stood on the steps in a Fifth avenue department store in New York city with Douglas Fairbanks and Charlie Chaplin and the crowd was so dense that the doors had to be locked to keep the rest of the crowd outside. The next day the trio appeared on the platform built in front of the treasury building on Wall street and urged everybody to buy bonds. Their romance is said to have had its inception on this tour.

Congeniality is considered the real secret of a happy marriage. Granting personal liberty is another Rock of Gibraltar upon which to build a happy marriage. Love is torn to tatters by jealousy. Philandering husbands and wives bring about a jealous state of mind with their mates. In almost every successful marriage the husband depends upon his wife, and if she is clever she allows nothing to be too much trouble to make him feel this sort of boyish dependence.

Moving picture stars command enormous salaries, and this state of affairs alone makes them financially independent of each other. Perhaps this sort of independence wrecked the marriage of Mary Pickford and Douglas Fairbanks, because "America's Sweetheart" is one of the richest women in the country. Matrimony is likened to every other career. Discouragements and hardships are encountered along the pathway.

Neither the divorce mill nor the swapping of partners assures relief.

Pickfair crowns a picturesque hill, and the house is filled with objects of art collected from all over the world. The mansion and its furnishings are valued at $500,000, and it is one of the show places of Beverly Hills. Living today in the palatial residence is a lonely and heart-broken little woman whose love nest has been turned into a house of tragedy by the matrimonial cyclone sweeping through Hollywood.

Meanwhile Douglas, entertained by royalty abroad, seems to be enjoying himself.

Has he tired of Mary?

We note where police arrested a farmer with $500 in cash and held him on suspicion. Any farmer with $500 is not a suspicious character—he's a genius.

An intellectual is the person who can understand the directions as given by a native on how to reach a desired point.

The man once fond of saying that he owed everything to his wife has at last squared things by placing it in her name.

Heaven help the president. It's nice to have one helper that won't store up trouble by writing for the public prints.

As Europe sees it, gangster movies give a true picture of America and all others are tricky propaganda.

The average man doesn't like to take a back seat unless it is at church.

The gangsters appear to be sticking by their guns.

TEXT AND PRETEXT

BY M. ASHBY JONES.

A Challenge to Democracy

When the soviet government announced its "five-year plan" for the industrial development of Russia, it instantly attracted the interested, but skeptical, attention of the world. It was the first time a centrally planned and directed industrial policy had ever been attempted on so large a scale. Thus far, despite many obvious weaknesses and failures of the plan, its titanic accomplishments have proven beyond dispute the wisdom of national planning and co-operation, to obtain the best economic results.

Of course, since this plan was adopted and is being executed by a communistic government, it is associated, if not identified, in the thought of the world, with political communism. Most people feel that if you acknowledge the success of this plan it is an acknowledgment of the success of communism, and to recognize the advantages of this particular policy, is to recognize communism as the best political system.

The Old Deal.

Such a conclusion will only be valid when it has been proven that national economic planning and direction can only be successfully carried out by a communistic government. It seems to me that it is just here that Russian communism becomes a direct challenge to American democracy. Is it possible for a democracy, such as ours, to think together and act together for the economic welfare of all the people? During the first three years of the Russian plan we allowed the hectic fever of a seeming economic prosperity to deceive us, and boastfully compared economic statistics with the soviets' and the rest of the world.

We allowed ourselves to be blinded by the sum-total of our productive wealth, unable to see, that while only a few reaped the benefits of this production, millions lived in actual poverty, while other millions dwelt on the most precarious economic margin. Then in 1929 came the inevitable catastrophe, revealing "rugged individualism," with its irresponsible competition, in all its tawdry rags. Just as such superficial thinking jumped to the conclusion that the success of national economic planning was the natural child of communism, so it proclaimed our economic depression to be the legitimate child of democracy.

The New Deal.

The so-called "new deal" of this administration is in no sense a new government. It is a new program, intended to give a better expression of the will of the people, which is the essential principle of democracy. In this program President Roosevelt gives his answer to the challenge of soviet Russia, can the people of the United States think together, and act together for the economic welfare of all the people? Of course, the efficiency of this particular economic program is yet to be tested, but some significant things have already been revealed.

Perhaps as never before in our political history the best thought of our nation has been mobilized for the solution of our politico-economic problems. It is quite significant that Mr. Roosevelt has surrounded himself with a group of men so well equipped to advise him, that they have been dubbed, in the characteristic American humor, "the brain trust." But of even greater significance is the truth that they have not simply been advising the president, but the masses of the people, and the people have in some real sense been thinking with them. It is exceedingly doubtful whether this could ever have been done without the radio. This modern miracle, together with the ever increasing efficiency of the press, has furnished us a truly national forum for the consideration of national questions. The "new deal" is not simply the expression of the mind of the president and his advisors, for before this revolutionary program could ever have been launched it had to be the expression of the mind of the people.

The Final Test.

It has already been proven that the people of this democracy can think together, but now the severest test faces us, are we able to act together? We are moving definitely out of the era of individual democracy into that of a social democracy. That means that the individual must recognize that his highest welfare can only be realized in the welfare of the nation. It is the birth of a social consciousness. Thus far our program, while seeking the same economic ends, moves in the opposite direction from communism or fascism. Our government is still the will of the people, and all of the vast powers held by President Roosevelt have been delegated to him by the people, and by the people may be withdrawn next January. And he is even now impotent to use those powers effectively, without the hearty co-operation of the people.

The industrial recovery act, for example, is a challenge to business to become democratic. It is an invitation to industry to forsake its suicidal policy of individualistic competition, and by unity of plan and practice co-operate in the building of a national prosperity. Let us keep it clearly in the mind, that the measure of governmental supervision and direction provided under this act is not the arbitrary authority seized by a fascist duce or a communistic dictator, but the delegated authority of the people, in the interest of the welfare of the people. Yes. We can plan together. Can we carry out our own plans?

THE WORLD'S WINDOW

BY PIERRE VAN PAASSEN.

Soviet Satire.

If you can possibly get it do read "The Little Golden Calf," by Ilya Ilf and Eugene Petrov, a book of the new Russia, written by two extremely clever authors. It is not only funny as a crutch. It is a revelation in more than one way. It is the most devastating piece of criticism ever levelled at the new system in Russia; it is a withering satire.

Those who walk around with the fond notion that no criticism is permitted in Russia at present will receive a rude shock for no soviet adversary has ever so masterfully marshaled the facts about the shortcomings of the regime, nor has anyone ever done it so convincingly. A government which permits such a book to be printed is by no means a weak government. I will give one instance. One fellow has himself locked up in an insane asylum, where he is promptly transferred to the dangerous ward. In this ward is one chap who imagines himself Napoleon. And he shouts: "Long live the constituent assembly! Long live Kerensky! And thou Brutus hast also sold thyself to the Bolshevik commissars!"

At night several individuals in the ward sit mumbing together and the newcomer learns that the whole gang is putting on, is malingering. He asks questions. "Why do you shout these things?" he says to the fellow who imagines himself Napoleon.

"I can't do it on the streets, can I?" the pseudo-fool comes back. Here is the last citadel of freedom in this crazy house and off he is again, shouting at the doctors and soviet inspectors: "Long live Czar Nicholas Alexandrovitch, the well-beloved! And thou, Brutus!"

Th ebook is full of that sort of stuff and mighty diverting as Samuel Pepys used to say.

* * * *

Pearl Buck's Resignation.

The news that Mrs. Pearl Buck has given her resignation to the American Presbyterian mission board nas caused quite a stir, not only in America but in China as well. Mrs. Buck, who understands the Chinese better than many other missionaries—her books show this conclusively—was quick to welcome a report containing strictures on American missionaries, many of whom she accuses of narrow-mindedness. In her recent writings she has declared that she cannot believe in the eternal damnation of the heathen, that she does not consider belief in deity of Christ as essential and that she rejects the miracles of the New Testament. In saying or writing these things Mrs. Buck supplied the heresy-hunters with ample material to work on.

It would be interesting to hear a few Chinese voices on the subject of these doctrines. It is perfectly understandable that the Chinese find some difficulty in accepting these matters which are to us so familiar, although, we must admit it, just as incomprehensible as to a Chinese. The Chinese, we have heard it said often enough by now, have an aversion to dogmatic theology. In this respect they are not unlike millions and millions of westerners.

* * * *

We were coming along a street in a French provincial town the other day when we were suddenly seized upon, stretched out upon an ambulance bed and shoved into a waiting car. Protests availed nothing. The army was maneuvering with gas somewhere in the neighborhood and we had been one of the victims, supposed to be, of an enemy attack. The ambulance rolled to the corner of a street and its attendants jumped out to seize a particularly beautiful girl, who was shoved in on the bed next to us. Then we were rushed to the hospital five miles away, we smoking a cigaret offered by the young lady, not daring to produce our trusted old briar in that cramped space and greatly enjoying her bitter tirade against militarists as being useless rascals, good-for-nothings and wasters of time and money.

New York Skylines

BY CHARLES ESTCOURT JR.

Copyright, 1933, for The Constitution and North American Newspaper Alliance

NEW YORK, July 15.—An entire people has vanished from the city to the highways and byways of the country, for the 40,000 gypsies who make New York their winter home have departed for "the season."

Some of them, with trips across the continent in view left in their rickety cars—for none of the old horse-drawn caravans is in use now—a month or two ago, and the last remnant, with little thought of destination, has just left the shacks on the city's outskirts which have been their homes.

While profits have been lean during the past year, the entire colony plans to congregate here on November 1, ready for the winter's work. Fortune telling is forbidden by ordinance, but police report some of the gypsies have made as much as $200 a week during the winter.

BROADWAY TURNS GAUDY.

It was hot in Times Square as we looked up Broadway. Diagonally arcoss from the traffic "island" was the glaring announcement, "Hell Below." We looked up at the right, and "The Mayor of Hell" was in 3-foot lights. Towards the fifties on the left, three was the half-obscured sign "Hell's—."

"I guess the rest of it is 'Bells'," suggested the traffic cop. "They wouldn't have gotten away with those signs ten years ago," he reminisced.

As a matter of fact, with the theater lights of the side streets dim—for there are only five legitimate shows in town—and with the paucity of smart theater-goers on Broadway most unusual, the big street is something like Coney Island in atmosphere. The real estate associations which have tried to keep it attractive and picturesque have lost to the movie people, desperate for patronage, the cheap stores and drink stands, and even auction rooms with their fake jewelry sales.

It has recently been bad enough of summers, but now it is worse, and the true Broadwayites are in the country ,or tranquil in their penthouses.

TWO TRUE STORIES.

Two leading newspapers, previously noted for their kindliness, on the same day started an unplanned crusade against the people who come to town with the idea of "burning things up." Julian Lee Radford, of Mobile, appeared at one of the offices, announced that he had better poems and prose than the leading authors, described noted sculptors as "not worth a damn," meanwhile showing his own works.

The paper printed everything he said, and also put in his picture. The copy desk, however, sent up a head that, with its ingenious ingenuousness, will cause a halt in the conflagration of the town.

Then, Mrs. Egan, of Brooklyn, whose 4-year-old daughter, Peggy, came back from Ireland on the Stuttgart alone, raised hob with the ship news reporters because there were no photographers to depict the lone traveler. Peggy, desolate not at the lack of photographers but because she wanted to stay on the ship, spoiled things by saying, "I don't want to go home. They're always taking me places and leaving me."

New York's most conservative paped told the story and ended by commenting, "There were no pictures of Peggy. But here, Mrs. Egan, is the story."

BRONX BARBERS' STRIKE.

Male citizens of Bronx county, between the Harlem river and Westchester, are coming into town with the purple beards novelists write about, and assuming, so far as haircuts are concerned, the appearance of a German violinist.

The point is not yet clear to us. There is tremendous force behind the Bronx union dictum that no one in the second largest borough of the city may be shaved. But when the non-union barbers come out and join with the union barbers there is normal bewilderment. We think the shaveless and non-haircutted patrons will be as well cared for as usual after this.

Committee Named To Seek Establishment Of Free Gold Market in United States

NEW YORK, July 15.—Europe's attempt at London to force the United States to peg the dollar has brought added support to the movement to establish a free gold market in New York. J. Chester Cuppia, who for some time has been actively working towards the establishment of this market, and who is a partner of one of Wall Street's largest stock and commodity exchange houses, accepted the chairmanship of the free gold market committee which is affiliated with the committee for the nation. Mr. Cuppia announced today the names of the following businessmen and financiers who have joined in directing the gold committee's work:

Vincent Bendix, president, Bendix Aviation Corporation.

Carle C. Conway, chairman, Continental Can Company.

E. L. Cord, president, Cord Corporation.

J. Chester Cuppia, partner, E. A. Pierce & Company.

Frederic H. Frazier, chairman, General Baking Company.

Jerome Lewine, partner, H. Hentz & Company.

E. F. McDonald Jr., president, Zenith Radio Corporation.

J. H. Rand Jr., president, Remington Rand, Inc.

C. T. Revere, financial economist, partner of Munds, Winslow & Potter.

R. S. Reynolds, president, Reynolds Metals Company.

Honorable James Rolph Jr., governor of California.

Honorable Eugene Talmadge, governor of Georgia.

C. C. Teague, president, California Fruit Growers' Exchange.

General R. E. Wood, president, Sears, Roebuck & Company.

A groundwork of research has been laid by the committee in the last four weeks. A special report on the operation of the free gold market in London has been obtained from a leading gold authority of Europe, Professor T. E. Gregory, of the London School of Economics and Political Science of the University of London.

Investigation of the probable effect of a similar free gold market in the United States has been made by economists in this country. Conferences have been held with others who are interested in accelerating gold production in the United States by the grubstake movement which already has sent thousands of unemployed into our western hills to pan gold.

"It is my belief that at last a considerable portion of the financial community is realizing that we have allowed the rest of the world to dominate our internal price situation by controlling the world price of gold," said Chairman Cuppia. "The free gold market committee feels that the United States should exert its due share of influence in determining that price.

"Gold will undoubtedly continue to be the measuring stick of all prices, notwithstanding the defective working of the gold standard as heretofore applied. While a country is on the gold standard, the price—as distinguished from value or purchasing power—of gold is fixed arbitrarily by government fiat. In the United States the price for an ounce of fine gold is $20.67. Although we are off the gold standard, we attempt to maintain that price despite a higher world price.

"With possibly 40 to 50 per cent of the economic turnover of the world, the United States needs within its borders the machinery for registering the daily fluctuations in the price of this world commodity. The committee feels that only by having a free gold market of our own can we exert our share of influence in bidding up the price of gold. And by helping to bid up the price of gold we help to reduce the abnormal purchasing power of currencies. In other words, we help to raise world price levels, as well as the price level within our own country.

"Although we are the world's third largest producer of gold, we are the only important gold mining country where the mining industry is unable to obtain the current world price for gold. In South Africa and Canada the gold miners receive the benefit of the premium at which gold sells in the London free gold market.

"The free gold market committee has been informed that this policy is resulting in much bootlegging of American gold into Canada in order to obtain the higher price paid there. Establishment of a free gold market within the United States by presidential proclamation would, in the opinion of the committee, stop this practice. It would greatly encourage gold production within the United States and increase the nation's gold reserve.

"Furthermore, it would stimulate the movement already well established in western mining states to relieve unemployment. Governor Rolph, of California, is quoted in press dispatches as having said that in his state alone there is sufficient gold placer ground to furnish subsistence for 300,000 men."

Randolph Walker, New York editor, whose father, the late John Brisben Walker, was a Colorado pioneer, has furnished the committee detailed information of the progress of the grubstake movement in the west. The production per man, says Mr. Walker, may not average in some places more than 50 cents per day, but it is usually sufficient after a month's experience to make the novice at gold panning self-supporting. Mr. Walker, who has been urging spread of the grubstake movement for the past year as unemployment relief, told the free gold market committee that payment of the higher world price for gold to American miners would put many more on a self-sustaining basis.

Mr. Walker told the committee that 20 cents a day should be sufficient to grubstake an unemployed man in the western and southern states where placer gold is recoverable by primitive panning methods. Public and private schools have been established in some of the western states to give novices intensive instructions in gold panning and prospecting. Canada has provided government funds to grubstake the unemployed.

The Free Market for Gold.

We have here the beginnings of reconciliation of economic nationalism with international trade. Each nation is to go ahead with its self-sufficiency programs but is to deal broadly, cordially and internationally with products which it must import. The next major step might be some sort of effort to insure that importing nations would have some fair means of exchange of their products in payment of what they must import. This will be very difficult in the case of such a nation as Germany, which needs to export 40 per cent of her industrial production. France and England have their colonial empires on which to draw, and both have their political and commercial satellites with which to deal. Germany talks of getting her colonies back, but that is hopeless. Perhaps there will be a tacit agreement to leave the external development of Russia to Germany.

An observer of an international conference attended by 66 nations, even though dominated by three, realizes that forecasting is thankless. But in London at the end of June it is permissible to guess (although skeptically) that at least a preliminary agreement may be reached as to the modus operandi of returning to the gold standard internationally. The time thereof and the method may be long deferred. This return, at may be conjectured with some safety, will not occur definitely until the dollar falls considerably lower than at present in its gold exchange value. Then the free gold market in New York may be required to ascertain the true commodity value of gold. One authority in London thinks that in such a market the dollar might fall to 50 cents, that is, that the gold price would be about twice the $20.67 of coinage valuation per ounce.

Figuring on the basis of the relation of the paper dollar to the paper pound price of gold in the London free gold market, an ounce of gold is now worth about $27, instead of the gold coinage price of $20.67. But actually the market price of gold in London is above that indicated by the depreciation of the pound, because of exchange manipulation by the Bank of France to prevent a flow of gold from Paris to the London market. With a free market in New York, gold would tend to its true commodity value, except as the remaining gold standard countries could hold it up through their mints. Even if those countries should manage to remain on the gold standard for the present the free market would soon swamp them.

It appears, then, that President Roosevelt can push the dollar down internationally to somewhere around 50 or 60 cents, if that is his goal, without resort to devaluation by presidential order or other statutory inflationary measures.

The British Position.

This power has made the stabilization question a most embarassing one for the British. On the one hand they want some vestiges of coinage valuation left in the world to which to tie the paper pound, and they are strenuously opposed to further depreciation of the dollar. But they fear to appear as interfering with the American domestic desire for higher prices. They are finding that even as the dollar was the real international standard when it was tied to gold, it is likely to continue so when loosed. Consequently, when the gold bloc nations, led by France, found the Dutch guilder imperiled, and returned to their position that temporary stabilization must be attained at once as the price of successful pursuance of other international problems by the conference, the British were non-committal. At heart they favored the French demand, but they feared to concede to it, lest America should indefinitely postpone stabilization, both temporary and permanent.

The French position is understandable in view of the fact that France five years ago returned to the gold standard at an 80 per cent devaluation of the franc and views with horror another deflation of her investor classes, which will become inevitable if the dollar should go much lower. So, at the time this is written America holds the whip hand.

The money question will take care of itself in time, with or without, formal conference decision; the outstanding result which the conference may achieve is the harmonization of the requirements of economic nationalism with those of international trade. As conducted at present, commercial nationalism is economic warfare, which often defeats itself. Free trade is no longer a goal and may not be again for 50 years. The constructive objective now is the utmost freedom of trade that is practically possible for that degree of foreign trade the nations need and welcome. The outlook is that the conference (unless wrecked by the monetary problem) will set in motion tendencies that will result in the encouragement of universally welcome international trade and the formation of trade groupings which will complement or supplement particular nationalistic policies. And these peaceful relations will be freed from the disastrous consequences of gold settlements of international balances in the speculative currency exchange markets.

Nationalism Defeating Internationalism

By JOHN C. CRESSWILL.

(Excerpts from article in the Magazine of Wall Street.)

As a preliminary to final agreement on the monetary question, the present American policy may be so changed as to establish a free gold market in New York. The whole monetary problem remains nebulous and will so remain—even if temporary stabilization should be presently agreed upon—until this conference has adapted itself to the fact that nationalism dominates world economics.

That is the read problem of the conference. The requirements of nationalism must be first established; then fairly regulate what is left of generally needed international trade. The trend seems to be toward what amounts to a control of international trade on a sort of allocation basis, which will largely take it out of the hands of individual initiative and direction. Gold would be used only to settle balances left by this allocation, and the gold speculators would be out of jobs.

Secretary Hull's free trade ideas and the academic tariff declaration of the democratic platform have been submerged by the realities of nationalism. About all that the secretary really contends for now is that having agreed that a certain amount of international trade is necessary, it should be relieved from the persecution of exhorbitantly high duties, changing quotas, fluctuating tariff schedules, licensing, and oppressive administrative regulations; and that nations should earnestly set about tariff bargaining, regional or bilateral, that are mutually desirable.

Most sensibly, the conference is now concentrating its attention on the regulation of supply and demand of the basic commodities of international trade. All hands are agreed that the prices of primary commodities should be raised and that supply and demand should be co-ordinated. What is aimed at is regulation that will insure the world against excess or dearth of these materials, a fair price to the producers and yet one that will not check consumption. The international wheat conference has been working on this problem for weeks.

Calls for Indorsement Of Governor Talmadge's Tax Reduction Order

Editor Constitution: Thank you, Governor Talmadge, for that tax reduction. Perhaps you know a little of the actual suffering of thousands of well-born men and women, reared in affluence. Don't you join me, Mr. and Mrs. Taxpayer?

Maybe you do not approve of every act of our governor. But he would have to be perfect to have every act approved.

Tell him where you do approve. He offended many people by that reduction. Why should he persist if the people for whom he worked remain silent and indifferent.

Come on, taxpayer. Let's unite in one thundering, "thank you, governor. We will remember your kindness."

MRS. J. O'KEEFE NELSON,
School Commission, Sixth Ward.
Atlanta, Ga., July 14, 1933.

Mint Julep Reigns Again as Heated Controversies Rage in Alabama, New Orleans and New York

Master Mixers of the South Herald the Wonders of Musty Old Recipes Resurrected From Archives of Olden Days.

By H. ALLEN SMITH.
United Press Staff Correspondent.
(Copyright, 1933, by United Press.)

NEW YORK, July 15.—(UP)—The glory that was Greece and the grandeur that was Rome cannot compare with the Kentucky mint julep mixed today by Irvin S. Cobb, in a contest with Eddie, of the Astor, famous bartender, in the opinion of Heywood Broun, who judged the competition.

Broun partook of six juleps, enough, according to Cobb, "to fell a horse and wagon." After a half-hour's nap and the consumption of three cups of coffee, Broun struggled to a typewriter and began writing an essay on lovely women. He caught himself, however, took a fresh start and awarded honors to Cobb.

The contest was held in Cobb's Park Avenue apartment. It developed out of a controversy over the potability of the Kentucky mint julep as compared with all other forms of julep. Eddie, of the Astor, who said he is the father of eight children, had shaken hands with three presidents and mixed mint juleps for a year and a half for Senator Penrose, of Pennsylvania, came forward with the "international julep."

"Eddie," said Cobb, "I am going to make you eat your words. I come from a state where the mixing of mint juleps is a more solemn rite than a Masonic induction. To see a Kentuckian mix a mint julep is to see a high priest at the altar. That bottle standing there contains Belmont bourbon whisky, the old Pendennis Club whisky from Louisville. It was made in 1901. The finest whisky ever to . . . ."

"Mind if I try a jigger straight?" interrupted Judge Brown.

"Under no circumstances," snapped Cobb. "You must retain a sharp sense of taste or you won't be able to render justice as justice should be rendered. Victoria! Bring out the brandy bottle for Eddie, so he can commit a sacrilege, a high misdemeanor, and cast aspersion and disgrace on the fair name of Kentucky."

Victoria brought out the brandy and Eddie of the Astor asked for a bit of Jamaica rum. Cobb had to go to his "cellar," which is upstairs, and came back with bacardi, but no rum. Eddie said it made little difference.

With sleeves rolled up they mixed three juleps each. Broun took one in each hand—a cosmopolitan and a Kentucky—and went to work. Victoria brought out more glasses and Cobb, just warming up, lit into them. He mixed four more, making great inroads on the ancient bourbon.

By this time Broun was ready for two more and had given no hint of what his judgment might be. He sat in a corner, eyeing the grassed-topped glasses, and swallowing from them at frequent intervals.

The Decision Is Reached.

A photographer showed up to get pictures of the epic struggle and was handed a cosmopolitan julep without comment. He took a big drink and remarked:

"Good highball."

Broun stared at him a moment, and it may be that he reached his decision at that moment.

"Two more Kentuckys, Irv," he said. "Did I ever tell you the one about the little girl in the Broadway show who . . . ."

Cobb handed him two more juleps, four more, and drank two himself.

Broun's story didn't have much point to it. He finished his sixth and asked that he be permitted to withdraw to chambers to render his decision. He was gone 30 minutes before the click of a typewriter was heard. He cast away his first effort, but finally emerged with a remarkable document—a milestone in the history of jurisprudence. Its legalistic essence gave the decision to Cobb.

"I am a good loser," said Eddie of the Astor," and I congratulate Mr Cobb. I wish to say, however, that I have sort of lost my touch what with this new beer and one thing and other. And anyway, I wish the press to know that it was not really Mr. Cobb that won, but really his liquor. I would like to join with Mr Broun in having a little straight one."

"Not me," said Broun. "I think I'll go home. And if you'll take a good look, Eddie, you'll see that the bourbon bottle is empty. Under the circumstances, I cannot even consider an appeal, my decision being final."

"Mr. Broun," said Cobb, "I thank you on behalf of the people of Kentucky. I think I'll go home too. Oh, I'm already home? Excuse me."

No Objection to "Retrial."

The text of the decision made by "Judge" Broun, written in chambers after the judge had consumed six mint juleps, is as follows:

By HEYWOOD BROUN.

The issue involved in this litigation is not one to be approached lightly. It had been the original motion of the court to ask both sides to submit briefs—as voluminous as possible. But the court is aware that in a case of such momentous importance delay is dangerous. Additional evidence might serve to confuse rather than clarify the issue.

Strictly speaking the case concerns human rather than wholly legalistic values. The tradition of these United States cannot be overlooked in rendering judgment. The testimony of Colonel Soule Smith has been called to the court's attention. Colonel Smith, a Confederate veteran, wrote: "The crushing of the mint makes its nearness more apparent. Like a woman's heart it gives its sweetest aroma when bruised."

As in the case of roast pork as reported by Charles Lamb the discovery of the Kentucky julip owes something to chance. Lamb has recorded that the merits of crackling were first identified when a house burned down. Soon conflagrations raced throughout China. The first bourbon whisky of the proper sort was found when a bolt of lightning hit a barrel of corn liquor and charred the receptacle. After that every man left his barrels out in the storm and, quite unlike Ajax who defied the lightning, implored the bolts to strike home.

The mint julep of Kentucky is part of the American tradition. The pilgrims landed upon Plymouth rock and the natives of the great southland were inspired to find a far more happy landing. The court cannot find in its heart to say "nay" to the ritualistic beverage which has come out of the very soil of the American commonwealth. To deny its pre-eminent virtues would be to scorn and make a mockery of American womanhood. Judgment is rendered in favor of Mr. Cobb and the mint julep compounded out of Kentucky bourbon.

Eddie of the Astor is guilty of a heresy in using brandy as a base. In passing the court takes occasion to condemn with the utmost vigor as communistic, atheistic and against the dignity of man, such gross violations of the code as the use of rye whisky, or that great abomination, the gin julep.

But if either litigant would like to try the case all over again, the court will be pleased to sit.

Famous Mint Julet Recipe is Termed An Immortal Prose Poem by Irving Cobb

NEW YORK, July 15.—(UP) In response to an overwhelming demand, given notice in long-distance telephone calls from as far as San Francisco, in telegrams and air mail letters, Irvin S. Cobb today made public his recipe for the Kentucky mint julep which yesterday was adjudged far superior to a "cosmopolitan" julep.

"This recipe is an immortal prose poem," said Cobb, "and my family has cherished it since the day it was bestowed upon my grandfather by the greatest of all mint julep mixers—Colonel Soule Smith, of Lexington, Ky. It is with reluctance that I make it public. But I feel it is a duty to my fellow Americans, who soon will be freed from the scourge of prohibition."

Then, waving a julep in one hand, Cobb read the recipe. This is what he read:

"In the blue grass there is a softer sentiment—a gentler soul. There where the wind makes waves of the wheat and scents itself with the aroma of new-mown hay, there is no contest with the world outside.

"On summer days when from his throne the great sun dictates his commands, one may look forth across broad acres where the long grass falls and rises as the winds may blow it. He can see the billowy slopes far off, each heaving as the zephyrs touch it with caressing hand. Sigh of the earth, with never a sob—a tender sigh, a lover's touch, she gives the favored land. And the moon smiles at her caressing and the sun gives benediction to the lovers. Nature and earth are one—married by the wind and sun and whispering leaflets on the happy trees."

Cobb sighed, a tender sigh, and mighty near sobbed. "My boy," he said, "Colonel Smith was a great, great man. But let us be on." He continued reading:

"Then comes the zenith of man's pleasure. Then comes the julep—the mint julep. Who has not tasted one has lived in vain. The honey of Hymettus brought no such solace to the soul; the nectar of the gods is tame beside it. It is the very dream of drinks; the vision of sweet quaffings.

"The bourbon and the mint are lovers. In the same land they live, on the same food they are fostered. The mint dips its infant leaf into the same stream that makes the bourbon what it is. The corn grows in the level lands through which small streams meander. By the brookside the mint grows. As the little wavelets pass, they glide up to kiss the feet of the growing mint, and the mint bends and salutes them. Gracious and kind it is, living only for the sake of others. The crushing of it only makes its nearness more apparent, like a woman's heart, it gives its sweetest aroma when bruised. Among the first to greet the spring, it comes. Beside the gurgling brooks that make music in the pastures it lives and thrives. When the blue grass begins to shoot its gentle sprays toward the sun, mint comes, and its sweetest soul drinks at the crystal brook. It is virgin then. But soon it must be married to old bourbon. His great heart, his warmth of temperament, and that affinity which no one can understand, demands the wedding. How shall it be?

"Now," said Cobb, looking over his glasses, "we reach the heart of the matter. Bend ear:

"Take from the cold spring some water, pure as angels are; mix it with sugar till it seems like oil. Then take a glass and crush your mint within it with a spoon—crush it around the borders of the glass and leave no place untouched. Then throw the mint away—it is a sacrifice. Fill with cracked ice the glass; pour in the quantity of bourbon which you want. It trickles slowly through the ice. Let it have time to cool, then pour your sugared water over it. No spoon is needed, no stirring allowed. Just let it stand a moment. Then around the brim place sprigs of mint, so that the one who drinks may find taste and odor at one draft.

"And that, my friend," concluded Cobb, "is one hell of a fine mint julep."

Southern Editors Join Julep Controversy

ALABAMANS ARGUE OVER BEST RECIPES.

Editor Constitution: R. B. Chandler, publisher of the Mobile Press, for whose mint juleps he is renowned the country over, has taken time by the forelock, anticipating Alabama's vote for repeal next Tuesday, by an elaborate discussion in the columns of his paper on the merits of mint juleps, stating that there is only one recipe for the original, high-tone, historic julep. He discusses in detail the merit of his particular recipe in an article which I am attaching herewith, with the request that you reproduce it in The Constitution.

But I differ with this famous brewer of the julep that his recipe is the best. I prefer my own. I have tried both and I offer the two recipes so that the public may choose between them.

In the first place, bourbon is no better than genuine unadulterated rye. Either will do.

Put four sprigs of mint in a long glass, which fill with crushed ice packed around the mint.

In a separate receptacle put about two fingers of either bourbon or rye for each drink to be served.

In another receptacle put a teaspoonful of sugar for each drink to be served. Pour water on this, just enough to dissolve the sugar, and after the sugar is dissolved pour it in the receptacle holding the whisky.

Then pour proportionate parts of this combination of the whisky and sweetening into each glass over the crushed ice. Fill each glass to the rim with crushed ice. Put the glasses in an ice box, letting them stand for about half-hour, when they will become beautifully frosted.

As to the use of straws, that is a matter of individual opinion. I once had an eminent minister at my house with a party of friends and I served juleps, each with a straw. He evidently thought at first it was ice tea. He took a sip, or a suck or two, and then glancing at me with an angelic smile said: "Brother, if you don't mind I wish you would give me another straw, for it does not come out fast enough with one."

For your information I am attaching herewith Mr. Chandler's article containing his recipe.

You will not go far wrong by a try-out of either his or mine.

WILLIAM J. UNDERDONK.
Montgomery, Ala., July 13, 1933.

THE CHANDLER JULEP RECIPE AS TOLD BY HIMSELF
(R. B. Chandler in Mobile Press.)

The controversy which began in Red Bank, N. J., and which is now raging over the United States on the merits of mint juleps as they are concocted in many sections, has brought claims from many states concerning their drinks.

The regrettable ignorance of most of these would-be julep centers is appalling.

In the first place, the majority of recipes submitted are for mint smashes and not juleps.

The confirmed julep-drinker—and you need only one properly prepared julep to become a confirmed julep-drinker—looks with horror on the mint smash addict. A mint smash is as far different from a julep as is boarding house hash from a succulent porterhouse.

And to add to the horror of the situation, Louisiana, Georgia and other states speak of rye whisky in the julep! There again is not only heresy but exceedingly poor taste.

Crushed mint and rye whisky may make some sort of a drink, but certainly not a julep.

The real julep is not indigenous to any state. Alabama, Kentucky, Mississippi or even Red Bank, N. J., can prepare and taste a real julep, provided a few simple rules are observed.

Silver goblets are best. The goblet should be filled to the brim with shaved ice, shaved as finely as snow. When the goblet begins to frost a teaspoon or two of sugar is added to the ice. Stir until the dissolved sugar has been evenly distributed.

From a mint bed, preferably grown by a springhouse built over a cool limestone freshet and shaded by stately trees, three tender sprigs of mint should be plucked. This mint should be the top leaves and not the rank and larger undergrowing leaves.

To the goblet then add as much bourbon whisky, not less than five years in the wood, as the receptacle will hold. Add the mint carefully, taking pains not to crush or bruise it, placing it so that it peeps over the brim of the goblet.

Never, never, never use a straw, as some unlearned persons suggest.

The lip should touch the silver brim of the frosted goblet and the nose should be buried in the mint so that its aroma satisfies the sense of smell, while the iced whisky, slightly sweetened, satisfies the sense of taste, the cold beads of frost on the goblet satisfy the sense of touch, the slight tinkle of the goblet on the mahogany board satsifies the sense of hearing, and the green, silver and deep dark glow of mint, goblet and amber liquid satisfy the sense of sight.

There, gentlemen, is the julep—the only julep. Nothing difficult, nothing complicated, but the most magnificent drink known to man.

Away with this talk of rye whisky, brandy, crushed peaches, smashed mint and straws.

Red Bank or Mobile may have the true julep for the asking, and there will never be any controversy over such a drink, once it has been concocted.

NEW ORLEANS EDITOR PRESENTS THE "SMASH."

NEW ORLEANS, July 15.—(UP) The world battle between Irwin Cobb, novelist, and Henry L. Mencken, editor and critic, over the ingredients of a good mint julep drew response tonight from Orleanseans, who introduced the Ramos gin fizz and absinthe frappe and claim to know their liquor.

Local connoisseurs leaned to the belief that Cobb and Mencken should stick to Manhattan cocktails. Mint julep is a southern drink—a delicacy not to be bantered around lightly. Those who claim to be "in the know" asserted that either bourbon or rye, or even brandy, form excellent firewater for the drink that made the south famous.

"Most cultivated bibblers don't distinguish between the 'julep' and the 'smash,'" said Marshall Ballard, New Orleans newspaper editor. "Both are good, but the julep demands more solicitude and time." He prescribed the following formula for the "smash":

"All you need to do is to put a teaspoon of sugar and a big pinch of fresh mint in an eight-ounce glass crammed with finely-crushed ice. The glass is then filled or nearly filled with liquor, and the whole mass agitated with a spoon so wielded as to crush the mint as much as possible.

"It won't be long, if you keep the glass away from breezes, before a fine growth of white whiskers will appear on the outside of it, which means that the thing is genuinely frapped. This you top off with a dozen sprigs of mint. And that is a true smash."

The julep is something else, the editor said. For that you soak as much mint as possible in as much bourbon as you can afford for about three weeks.

"That gives you a greenish brown liquid to be kept in a jug. This you use instead of plain bourbon, mixing an installment of it with your ice and sugar, as in the case of a smash, so long as it lasts. It is best to make a cask at a time. Connoisseurs insist that a bitter principle in the mint leaves is crushed out of them in making a smash, but it is not dissolved by the bourbon when this lies restfully on them for a time. The result is a slightly smoother and mellower product."

Ballard declared either bourbon or rye whisky make good mint julep. The principal difficulty is getting good liquor. "You can't make a silk purse out of a sow's ear," he said.

Judge Charles F. Claiburne, grandson of Louisiana's first governor, added his voice to the controversy with the assertion that the kind of whisky used does not matter nearly so much as the method of the mint julep's concoction. He insisted Virginians should know more about the drink than anybody else.

"They say in Virginia when a man dies mint sprouts around his tomb," the judge declared.

Says Governor Did Not Reflect on Members Of Conservation Corps

Editor Constitution: A great deal of publicity has been given alleged remarks of Governor Eugene Talmadge, allegedly made in his address to the American Legion post of Atlanta, referring to the civilian conservation corps boys as "bums and loafers."

I was present at the luncheon on the Ansley roof garden and heard all of the governor's speech and he did not call the civilian conservation corps boys bums and loafers in this speech.

The truth of the matter is that some of the people are too ready to misconstrue every word and act of the governor to his injury. The governor's every act and word has shown that he has the utmost respect for all of the people and those that know the governor know that he would not apply the terms attributed to him to any citizen of Georgia, much less to the C. C. C. boys.

In fairness to the governor, please publish this.

W. G. MANN,
Dalton, Ga., July 14, 1933.

Army Functioned as in War Time In Mobilizing Conservation Corps

Scenes in typical civilian conservation forest camp. Top: One of the tents in which the members of the corps are housed. Below: The government spends $85,000 daily for the wholesome food which is served at the forest camps.

By MAJOR REESE M. HOWELL,
Director of Publicity, Fourth Corps Area, U. S. A.

During the past two months 250,000 men have been physically examined, enrolled, equipped with clothing, provided with food and shelter, organized into companies of approximately 200 men each and shipped to 1,330 forestry camps extending from the Atlantic to the Pacific and from the Canadian border to the Gulf of Mexico.

Few people realize the proportions of this task which was assigned to the army and which has recently been completed. Men were to be enrolled faster than the average enlistments of both the army and navy during the World War. General Douglas MacArthur, the army chief of staff, stated that the job represented the greatest peace-time demand ever made upon the army and constituted a task of character and proportions equivalent to the emergencies of war.

The following comparisons between the enrollment, equipping and organization of the civilian conservation corps men and the enlistment of men during the early stages of the World War, extracted from the report of the war department, is so vivid and the contrasts in the two efforts so striking as to make it most interesting:

"On April 7, 1918, the United States declared war on Germany and initiated the mobilization of the country's manpower. On Monday, April 3, 1933, practically the same date, Mr. Howe, secretary to the president, speaking in the White House to the war department's general staff representative, said 'The president wants to start the enrollment of 25,000 men on Thursday (April 6). Can the army do it?' The answer was 'Yes, sir, the army can.'

"Orders were issued on that basis. The 'new deal' was on. During the first three months of the World War the war department mobilized by July 1, 1917, 117,000 men in the regular army, 58,000 men in the national guard and 6,000 men in the national army, or a total of 181,000 men. By that date less than 16,000 men (mostly regular army units) had embarked for France. How then during a like period of 1933, without a long warning such as given by the European war, could the regular army alone process some 275,000 men, organize them into 1,330 companies, establish that many forest camps on a front of 3,000 miles from the Atlantic to the Pacific, distributed in depth from Canada to Mexico, occupying every state in the Union, excepting only Delaware, and move 55,000 of them a distance of 2,200 miles from the east coast to the Rockies and the Sierras, all before July 1 of this year?"

Equipment Requirements.

A glance at some figures from the army quartermaster general's report paints an excellent picture of just what work was necessary in equipping these civilian conservation corps men.

"Alterations were made at the factory of nearly 200,000 wool coats, 225,000 overcoats, 200,000 trousers and 375,000 pairs of drawers. At the depot about 100,000 barrack bags were made, and the manufacture of tents is proceeding at the rate of 75 per day.

"The quartermaster corps also awarded contracts for the purchase of 2,500,000 yards of denim, 785,000 summer drawers, 185,000 denim hats, 1,000,000 jumpers, 28,000 overalls, 700,000 denim trousers, 525,000 wool trousers, 1,150,000 summer undershirts, 50,000 pairs of shoes, 250,000 canvas cots, 475,000 bath towels, 695,000 face towels, 300 motor ambulances, 300 passenger cars, 3,000 motor trucks and large quantities of other items."

While furnishing these men with individual equipment they must also be fed. Note some of the figures given out by the army as to the food requirements for the civilian conservation corps:

"Each day the army expends nearly $85,000 to feed the hungry forest workers. The foresters are given the same food supplied the regular army soldiers. Much of this is purchased locally in the vicinity of the work camps. Each day these civilians consume the beef procured from about 330 steers. Each day they eat nearly 225,000 one-pound loaves of bread."

And then came the question of finding shelter at conditioning camps at all army posts in the country. Naturally with the army crowded in all the available permanent quarters no more men could be a ommodate in barracks. Tents, therefore, had to be provided and it was necessary to procure and distribute to all army posts sufficient tentage to shelter these men as well as find a cot and two or three blankets for each man.

Naturally when large groups of men are brought together the greatest care must be exercised in protecting the health of all and preventing epidemics from spreading. To meet this great load placed on the army medical department medical reserve doctors of excellent ratings were called to active service.

The efficiency with which the army doctors have handled this big job, particularly in the south, is clearly established when we consider that latest sick report submitted to Major General Edward L. King shows only 1.2 per cent of the men in hospitals in the fourth corps area. When we realize that the policy is to put all sick men in the hospital this is a particularly splendid report.

Enrolling, equipping, sheltering, feeding and organizing these men into work units in the conditioning camps were only a part of the big job. They still must be shipped to forestry camps where the work of reforestation is to be accomplished.

In accomplishing this task much detailed work had to be accomplished. First a thorough reconnaissance to locate definite camp sites must be made. The officers making this reconnaissance had to answer many questions. Is it healthy, or could it be made so? Is the water supply adequate? Is it cheaper to pipe water or drill a well? Can it be economically supplied? Would it entail too much road building? Is it properly located with respect to the work to be done? And a thousand and one other questions had to be satisfactorily answered before the site could be approved.

Building of the Camps.

Then came the building of camps. Tent floors, screened kitchens, providing suitable water supply and many other smaller details had to be accomplished before the men were ready for work.

It was not enough, however, that these men be equipped, fed and comfortably sheltered. Years of experience by army officers in handling large groups of men have taught them that the morale factor must always be given the greatest consideration. In the civilian conservatoin corps this has not been neglected. Reading material, athletic supplies, radios and other forms of recreation are provided for all camps. And last, but most important, arrangements have been made for religious services in all camps and ministers of all faiths are readily available to all the men.

Perhaps the greatest proof as to the efficiency and lack of confusion with which this job has been accomplished is the fact that few people, outside the army and the civilian conservation corps personnel, realize just what has been going on. Convoys of trucks, hauling supplies and men, have been moving all over the country but few people have noticed them, since to avoid interfering with daily traffic those convoys have been moved through the larger cities early in the mornings or late at nights, and every effort has been made to interfere as little as possible with the routine civilian trafife. There has been no grand display. The army's mission in the "new deal" is being accomplished efficiently and without confusion.

The portion of this great task assigned the fourth corps area was the enrollment of 38,000 men and the establishment of 181 forestry camps. On June 29 Major General Edward L. King reported to the war department he had accomplished his mission. By June 30 all other corps area commanders had similarly reported to the war department and on the evening of June 30 the chief of staff of the army was able to report to the president, his commander in chief, that the mission assigned the army had been completed.

In commenting on the successful manner in which the army has accomplished this mission General King made the following statement:

"The army's job is to meet emergencies. It is, therefore, always on the alert in anticipating what demands might be made upon it. When it was rumored that the army might be called on to shelter and feed the reforestation workers, the army general staff both in Washington and at each corps area headquarters immediately made general plans for meeting such a demand. As a result when the administration bill was passed in March the army was prepared to meet the situation."

World Wide WILD LIFE

MESHIE.

By H. A. CARTER.

One of the most delightful personalities that I have ever known is Miss Meshie Raven, the adopted daughter of Dr. Harry C. Raven, of the American Museum of Natural History. She is a very obedient child of four years, and having been given all the advantages of civilization, is a shining example of what training will do for a chimpanzee.

Dr. Raven adopted Meshie when she was very young. Her mother was killed by some native hunters while he was in Africa for the American museum. She was a tiny tot then, and on the way home, fearing that she would catch pneumonia, Dr. Raven made her a sweater and hood out of an old woolen sock. Meshie tolerated this garment just long enough to have her picture made, and survived her trip into the north Atlantic to become one of the most famous tame animals.

Of all of Meshie's accomplishments, only one was the result of an actual effort to train her. That one thing was riding a tricycle, which she now enjoys tremendously. She will approach a series of steps on the velocipede, dismount, and lift it to the top of the steps, then continue her ride. She obeys the spoken command to turn in any direction, and will go anywhere at any time that Dr. Raven wants her.

Meshie is inordinately fond of ice cream, which she will consume in great quantities, eating it with a spoon. A well-known brand of grape juice is Meshie's favorite drink, and she will drink it from a glass or through a straw. This last means tickles her hugely, and she delights in drinking through both ends of the straw.

She is hardened now to the winters of Long Island, and plays in the snow with Dr. Raven's children. At the meetings of the American Society of Mammalogists last May Dr. Raven gave a lecture on chimpanzees in general, and Meshie in particular, illustrating it with lantern slides and motion pictures. In the films Meshie was shown walking upright, pulling a sled loaded with boys and girls. Few children have the opportunity of having a real chimpanzee for a playmate.

Meshie attended the meetings with Dr. Raven, sitting quietly in a seat next to him for an hour or more at a time. She was never at any time noisy, but when the session was concluded she showed unbounded joy at being outdoors again where she could ride here and there or tumble in the grass. One of her favorite amusements is taking a bath in her private pool, assisted by a garden hose. She was a guest at a buffet supper at a private home while in Cambridge, and amused herself by playing with the neighborhood children and climbing in the trees. All in all, she is a delightful child, and gives us an insight into simian psychology that is very valuable.

Nothing the Matter With Georgia, Says Major R. E L. Spence

Editor Constitution: So many times in the past few years have I heard the question, "What is the matter with Georgia?" There are as many farigated answers but none satisfying. Georgia—once the proud and acknowledged Empire state of the south, according to some who claim to be informed, is trailing behind surrounding and sister states.

Some will say that the trouble is politics, rotten politics, dominated and controlled by incapable and selfish politicians, lacking in leadership. And while it may be true that Georgia has had more than her share of factional and at times ruinous politics since the day of the Hoke Smith and Joe Brown factions, yet the politics of Georgia are and have been no worse than other southern states.

Some say that prohibition, which does not prohibit, with its army of bootleggers lined up and fighting in the same ranks with the fanatical and political preachers is retarding the progress of Georgia. That prohibition as we have it is a great mistake—the biggest legislative farce that was ever put into law, there is now no argument among informed and reasonable people—yet the failure of prohibition in Georgia is no greater or no worse than that in her sister states.

In reality there is nothing the matter with Georgia.

So after all that has been said, after all the many questions that have been asked, there is nothing that is basically or fundamenally wrong with Georgia except that Georgians don't know their state, don't know themselves.

If we Georgians want to keep up we must get together—get in step—know each other—know our state and pull together.

This is written on top of Lookout mountain at a little summer resort colony called Cloudland. How many among the people of Georgia are there who know there is such a place as Cloudland?

I mention this not to boost Cloudland or other Georgia summer resorts, nor to discredit other resorts, but simply to furnish a concrete and definite example of how little or limited so often is the knowledge of Georgians about their own state. The natural resources of Georgia, too numerous or limitless to mention here, are those of an empire.

I repeat there is nothing the matter with Georgia. She is all right.

R. E. L. SPENCE.
Cloudland, Ga., July 14, 1933.

Dr. Len Broughton Cites Contributions of Doctors In Work Among the Poor

Editor Constitution: I am particularly interested in the criticism of physicians in general for their lack of interest in and attention to the poor. I began my public life as a doctor, and while I was only engaged in the profession for a few years, it has been the means of contact with the profession which has enabled me to keep touch with those who today are looking after the physical well being of the world.

It is generaly known that, in company with a group of the best people that I ever associated with, I had the privilege of founding and conducting for a number of years the Tabernacle infirmary, which was the first Protestant church-operated hospital in the south, and which was absorbed by the Georgia Baptist convention when I left Atlanta for my London pastorate. Many of the men of the medical profession now prominent as practitioners and teachers of medicine in Atlanta formed the medical and surgical staff of that splendid institution. In that way, again, I was kept in close touch with doctors.

I think I have a right to say, therefore, that I know doctors; and I cannot refrain from saying a word in their defense with regard to their contribution to the needy sick. Of course there are exceptions in every walk of life, but I know it to be a fact that doctors in general do not deserve the kind of criticism which at present some are wont to heap upon them. They make the largest personal contribution to charity of any class of people that we have, and in it all are the most willing and cheerful of any. That there are cases of neglect here and there, especially in isolated districts, is of course true; but the exception is so rare that it should not be used against the noble men and women who willingly serve our sick people.

LEN G. BROUGHTON.

Feels There Should Be Greater Appreciation Of the Doctor's Service

Editor Constitution: While Dr. Davison's facts and assertions in his letter to the governor are most interesting, he modestly refrained from discussing a very important feature connected with his profession, namely, the difficulty encountered by the members of his profession in collecting from pay patients after services have been rendered.

I am speaking from the viewpoint of a layman who has had dealings with physicians in the way of receiving their services, and I know full well that a patient has little or no diffculty in securing medical attention on credit without his credit rating or financial standing being questioned or investigated. Many patients receive treatments and pay as they feel like it. There are those who never pay. Some never intend to pay if thy can avoid it.

These patients, however, pay their food, light, gas, water and garage bills promptly. Why? Simply because the dealer will not continue to sell them if the bills are not paid with some degree of promptitude.

Saying that most any person, regardless of his station in life, may swiftly secure the best medical service when same is urgently needed, is not exaggeration.

As Dr. Davison stated in his letter to Governor Talmadge, there must come an adjustment of matters he mentioned and when this sorely needed adjustment comes, let us hope that some of the people will be able to see things in the proper light.

A higher respect and more consideration for those whose services are often indispensable is a true test of a civilized community.

JOSEPH A. LOEWINSOHN.
119 Washington Terrace, S. W., Atlanta, Ga.

Pays Tribute to Aggressiveness Of Constitution Editorial Policy

Editor Constitution: We wish to extend our cordial congratulations to The Constitution upon the comprehensive, bold and impartial manner in which it discussed important national issues during the special session of congress. Three editorials in your issue of Friday, June 16—"Wouldn't It Be Wonderful," "Diplomatic Juggling" and "Congressional Cowardice"—were well worth the price of one year's subscription to the "south's greatest and most popular daily newspaper." It should be remembered, too, that there are many "cowardly newspapers" as well as "cowardly congressmen."

Georgia's delegation in both houses of congress deserve public commendation upon the able manner in which they supported the administration's "economy act," which was admittedly shifted to the president for action because of "congressional cowardice."

During his candidacy for the presidency in 1932, Franklin D. Roosevelt declared in many public addresses that if elected it would be his earnest endeavor to reduce governmental operating expenses at least 25 per cent. In the achievement of this it was, of course, necessary that many useless sinecures and duplications be abolished.

The United States has been in the relentless grip of an unprecedented financial depression for several years, having been milked almost dry by unappreciative foreign nations. The nation had been promised a "new deal" and for the first time in more than 20 years "Old Man Peepul" drew a card higher than the deuce, which he has so long been accustomed to hold. This card, the political tricksters made an eleventh-hour effort to retrieve, but the president stood foursquare behind his deal and congress was forced to yield.

Not within six generations has any president so captured and held the imagination of the masses. Continued republican misrule, grafting and wasteful extravagance and congressional catering to special privileges in the way of lavish appropriations had precipitated the country into the devil of a mess. But the president, with characteristic courage, commendable aggressiveness, unexplored resource and unswerving honesty and impartiality insisted upon the redemption of pre-election pledges, which guaranteed equal justice for 'everybody.

JACK L. PATTERSON.
Sunny Side, Ga., July 14, 1933.

Three Southern States Will Determine Prohibition's Fate, Council Declares

Note: This is another of a series of articles on prohibition prepared exclusively for The Constitution by the executive committee of the Atlanta Christian Council.

A high government official is urging the repeal of the eighteenth amendment on the ground that his party promised to accomplish it.

A lad, ill-advised, promised to help kidnap a prominent citizen and hold him for ransom. Does the world respect him less or more that he repented making his evil bargain and repudiated it?

The government argues further for repeal that when the liquor business is again legalized the increased consumption will yield $800,000,000 in taxes to the federal government.

What would we say of the sanity of a father who set his sons up in business and then arranged for thieves to steal the profits and divide with him?

What of a government that labors to revitalize the fortunes of its citizens and at the same time conspires to accomplish their undoing?

By what sort of reasoning can it be concluded that a people can be freed of their poverty by enslaving them to a narcotic drug?

Surely no further experiments are needed to reveal the folly of such a program.

In the long years prior to the enactment of the eighteenth amendment our country was perpetually impoverished by the ravages of alcohol. Millions of people were shackled by its cruel rule and thousands of children were yearly sacrificed to satisfy its relentless demands.

Grip Broken.

The grip of this monster was broken by the aroused conscience of the people expressing itself in the eighteenth amendment.

The use of liquor was steadily diminishing—so much so that by 1928, when the present assault upon the law began, less than 40 per cent was consumed as compared with 1919.

From 1920 to 1928 strides by our country in education, care of childhood and improved living conditions were unequalled by any nation in all the world.

Higher and higher rose the tide of human welfare, only to be checked by a vicious, venal and utterly false and contemptible assault, beginning in the fall of 1928, upon the integrity of the eighteenth amendment—an assault that openly espoused nullification and called to its service the full strength of the vicious and criminal forces of the nation.

In the light of these occurrences and the violence with which the liquor campaign has continued there is little wonder that crime has increased, lawlessness prevailed on an alarming scale, the legitimate business of the country become disrupted and the counsels of the nation grown confused.

Citizens Called On.

Every patriotic citizen will cheerfully render the full measure of his service to bring order out of existing chaos and support every reasonable measure looking toward business recovery and the return of peace and contentment.

It is asking too much of reason, however, to expect any sustained recovery by the device of debauching the people through a legalized liquor trade.

We all know full well the control of liquor by separate state statutes amounts to no control at all. We tried that principle of government when slavery of men's bodies was the stake. It didn't work. War was the result—brothers in bloody combat.

It will not work when both men's bodies and souls are the stake.

We have tried that, too, and a citizenship steeped in degradation and chained to poverty was the price.

The issue is momentous.

From where we are today we shall either advance upon a morally sound career or, together with our disappointed hopes and a wrecked civilization, register on the long roll of nations which bartered their birthright for sensual gratifications—nations which once caught the gleam of a beckoning star but were disobedient to the heavenly vision.

We shall not stay just where we are today.

Must Go Forward.

The demand of the present situation is that we go forward.

Many of us believe that only a sober, clear-brained people who hold honor above price and spiritual values above sensual indulgences—that only such a people are capable of a sustained advance.

Many of us believe that faith in God and fidelity to worthy ideals in personal and national life are essentials of true progress.

Many of us believe that no army has any hope of ultimate success which contemplates the addiction of its soldiers to a deadly narcotic drug and relies upon the revenues of such a traffic to support itself in the field.

Many of us believe a government guilty of supreme folly which promotes the enticement of its citizens into the expenditure of four billion dollars for a destructive drug in order that its coffers may receive $800,000,000 in taxes.

Holding to these beliefs we regard it a patriotic duty to protest with all earnestness and plead in behalf of the safety of our beloved country that our fellow citizens everywhere sense the danger and exercise their vote and influence to defeat the designs which the liquor interests are promoting.

We hail our neighbors in Alabama, Tennessee and Arkansas. They stand in a most strategic position. By their vote they will either deliver the people from the threatening scourge or open the gates to the flood.

THE CHRISTIAN COUNCIL OF ATLANTA—James R. Bachman, Rev. Robert W. Burns, M. Graham Clark, M. E. Coleman, Dr. Harvey W. Cox, Rev. W. J. DeBardeleben, Rev. H. A. Dewald, R. B. Eleazer, Dr. W. H. Faust, Dr. Ellis A. Fuller, Rev. Henry H. Jones, John A. Manget, Major Norman S. Marshall, Dr. D. P. McGeachy, A. Steve Nance, Dr. Stuart R. Ogleaby, Dr. John Brandon Peters, Dr. R. L. Russell, Dr. W. A. Shelton, Dr. Gordon G. Singleton, F. L. Speiden, Dr. C. R. Stauffer, C. A. Titus, Rev. Herman L. Turner, W. G. Wellborn, James Morton, members executive committee.

Insurance Loan Agent Thinks Home Loan Act Will Not Work Well

Editor Constitution: However well intentioned, the mortgage act will not prove all that its authors intended for it. I made a suggestion to Senator George and to Senator Harrison, of Mississippi, at the time this measure was considered, but it is evident that my suggestion was not adopted. Briefly, ti was this:

That the United States government pay the holder of the mortgage one-half in United States government bonds at 3 per cent interest and one-half in debenture certficiates at 5 per cent interest; both to run for a period of 15 years. If exchanged by the holder of the mortgage, it is quite certain that the government would collect sufficient to redeem these bonds and would collect an additional amount to pay at least 50 to 60 cents on the dollar on the debentures. If the real estate situation improves, the debentures would be collectable 100 per cent.

If some such method had been adopted, home owners would be able to induce the mortgagees to accept the two forms of government paper, rather than the one form as now proposed.

I believe that the administration of this act for the next six months will prove that I am correct. The government has set up a vast organization to administer the present law. It will have to be changed to make it really effective.

The Home Owners' Mortgage Corporation's bill as passed by congress provides for an exchange of the government corporation's security guaranteed only as to interest, but not as to principal.

The holder of a mortgage is asked to release his or her security and accept a debenture certificate with the interest guaranteed by the United States government.

There is a further provision for the government to lend 40 per cent of the present appraised value in cash. At the same time there is only $200,000,000 appropriated of actual cash to be used, and some of this $200,000,000 is to be applied to the payment of past due taxes, past due interest on loans that are to be refunded, and to make improvements on properties, if necessary, so that it would be safe for the government's corporation to make the loan for a period of 15 years.

Major R. L. R. Boyd cites one specific case where the debtor did not receive proper consideration. To condemn all foreclosures is an injustice to many holders of mortgage loans that are now in default or that might become in default.

Non-resident lenders of many loans in Atlanta and other parts of this state do not relish the form of intimidation contained in the application that the courts should not direct foreclosures.

Atlanta and other communities have been built largely with funds of great life insurance companies, mortgage companies, and individuals.

Bear in mind that the lender has rights as well as the borrower.

LEOPOLD J. HAAS.
Atlanta, July 14, 1933.

Permanent Improvement Needed in Child Labor Conditions in South

Editor Constitution: I have read your editorial "Child Labor Wages," in the issue of July 2, with great interest and believe that it will be a helpful factor in awakening sentiment against child exploitation, but child labor conditions in the south have not improved to the extent that is desired.

The number of children employed in textile mills in Georgia and South Carolina increased 11.9 and 23.7 per cent, respectively, between 1920 and 1930. This is in contrast to

GEORGIA DIVISION
Daughters of the Confederacy

President, Mrs. I. Bashinski, of Dublin; first vice president, Mrs. T. W. Reed, of Athens; second vice president, Mrs. J. M. Simmons, of Balabridge; third vice president, Mrs. Frank Dennis, of Eatonton; recording secretary, Mrs. Robert J. Travis, of Savannah; corresponding secretary, Mrs. O. L. Chivers, of Dublin; treasurer, Mrs. I. H. Sutton, of Clarkesville; historian, Mrs. Julian Lane, of Statesboro; editor, Mrs. L. W. Green, of Sycamore; auditor, Mrs. Moreland Speer, of Atlanta; recorder of military crosses, Mrs. Frank E. Matthews, of Atlanta; recorder of crosses of honor, Mrs. Rebecka Black Dupont, of Savannah; registrar, Mrs. R. S. Roddenbery, of Moultrie; poet laureate, Mrs. Herbert M. Franklin, of Tenville. Honorary presidents, Mrs. W. S. Coleman, of Atlanta; Miss Anna Caroline Benning, of Columbus; Mrs. John A. Perdue, of Atlanta; Mrs. W. J. Vereen, of Moultrie; Mrs. L. D. T. Quinby, of Atlanta and Mrs. O. A. Harper, of Atlanta.

Mrs. Craig Makes Earnest Appeal To Georgia U. D. C. Members

By MRS. WESLEY CHASTAIN, Of Thomasville, Ga., Assistant U. D. C. Editor.

Mrs. H. A. Craig, of Augusta, chairman of old registration, has made an earnest appeal to have this subject kept before the chapters all summer, as it is one of fundametnal importance not only to individual members of local chapters, but to the Georgia division and the general organization as well. She says:

"Since the distribution of the booklet, 'Instructions for Correct Registration,' there is no reason why our division should continue on the list of incomplete registration, if the chapter registrars and applicants, old and new, would co-operate in this essential work. It is a matter of individual responsibility and loyalty to the organization to see that our record departments are in perfect order, and that means that every member has an approved application in the local, division and general registration files. This applies as well to members accepted on demits, which are placed in chapter records and never reported on the regulation form of a demit transfer, to the division or general Such members may be accepted locally and become outstanding chapter workers; but they are not recognized by the other organizations as delegates or voters and thus lessens the real strength of all three at conventions." Please help Mrs. Craig who is devoting much time to this work.

In making preparations for the thirty-eighth annual division convention to be held in Athens in October, it will prove to be of invaluable aid if division officers and chairmen will make corrections in their books of minutes of the recently elected chapter officers. Athens—Laura Rutherford chapter; all officers re-elected. Bunswick—Clement A. Evans, chapter, president, Mrs. J. M. Simmons; Buena Vista—Marion county chapter, president, Mrs. W. J. Parker. Columbus—Lizzie Rutherford chapter, president, Miss Anna Caroline Benning; second vice president and acting president, Mrs. Walter J. Woodall; recording secretary, Mrs. S. D. Wright; corresponding secretary, Mrs. M. J. Stone; treasurer, Mrs. C. A. McKibben; registrar, Mrs. J. W. Schuessler; historian, Mrs. O. C. Bulloch.

Cornelia—John P. Fort chapter, president, Mrs. H. L. Brewer; recording secretary, Mrs. G. B. Staffalgen; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Tom Brock; treasurer, Mrs. Ben Crow; registrar, Mrs. W. H. Kinzey; historian, Mrs. J. T. Griffith.

Covington—Covington chapter, all officers re-elected. Decatur—Agnes Lee chapter, president, Mrs. W. P. Smith; recording secretary, Mrs. Davis Camp; corresponding secretary, Mrs. C. L. Weeks; treasurer, Mrs. A. L. Wade; registrar, Miss Susie Johnson; historian, Mrs. William Cole Jones. Dublin—Oconee chapter, president, Mrs. M. Z. Claxton; first vice president, Mrs. Harry Taylor; recording secretary, Mrs. L. C. Gray; corresponding secretary; Miss Katherine Orr; registrar, Miss Helen Bowen.

Ellaville—Sarah E. Hornady chapter; president, Mrs. G. J. Williams. Fort Gaines—Julia Green Sharp chapter, president, Mrs. John Troutman. Fort Valley—Charles D. Anderson chapter, president, Mrs. J. F. Troutman; recording secretary, Mrs. C. H. Sammons; corresponding secretary, Mrs. H. M. Branhams; treasurer, Miss Wilma Orr; registrar, Mrs. J. E. Broadrick; historian, Mrs. W. R. Berry.

LaGrange—LaGrange chapter; president, Mrs. R. L. Adams; recording secretary, Miss Tommie Martin; corresponding secretary, Miss Mattie M. McGee; treasurer, Mrs. F. J. Dodd; registrar, Mrs. J. J. Milam; historian, Mrs. J. L. Bradfield. Lavonia chapter; president, Mrs. E. R. McMurray; recording secretary, Mrs. H. H. Bonner; corresponding secretary, Mrs. S. E. Vandiver; treasurer, Mrs. G. W. Whiteside; registrar, Miss Clara Curley; historian, Mrs. Ligon Marett.

Newnan—Newnan chapter; all officers re-elected. Perry—Sergeant Clinton Duncan chapter; all officers re-elected with one exception, registrar, Mrs. Tom Cater. Reynolds—Gordon Carson chapter; president, Mrs. Charles Neister. Richland—Richland chapter; president, Mrs. H. I. R. Parks; recording secretary, Miss Mildred Layfield; corresponding secretary, Mrs. A. A. French; treasurer, Miss Annie Eunice Colbert; registrar, Mrs. C. E. Coffin; historian, Mrs. H. M. Dixon.

Sandersville—Mary Ann Williams chapter; president, Mrs. J. J. Harris; recording secretary, Mrs. Dan C. Harris; corresponding secretary, Mrs. S. M. Hitchcock; treasurer, Mrs. Herndon Wood; registrar, Mrs. B. D. Evans; historian, Mrs. R. Lee Joiner. Tennille—James D. Franklin chapter; president, Miss Clara Davis; recording secretary, Mrs. F. T. Brock; corresponding secretary and treasurer, Mrs. N. M. Jordan; registrar, Mrs. L. O. Daley; historian, Mrs. E. L. Sheppard.

As the division president is desirous of names of all chapter officers for 1933-34 being published, every chapter president is urged to have a list mailed as soon as is possible to Mrs. Wesley Chastain, of Thomasville, who is in charge of the column during July and August, and who will be very grateful for accounts of activities from any and all chapters throughout the division. Most chapters are inactive during the summer months, but it is hoped that all chapter publicity chairmen will be prompt in sending any items of interest to the U. D. C.

Mrs. J. L. Beeson, of Milledgeville, has been appointed chairman of historical programs, filling the vacancy made by the resignation of Mrs. Lewis Lovett, of Wrightsville. Announcement of Mrs. Beeson's acceptance of this chairmanship will be enthusiastically received throughout the division, where her prominence and efficiency are well known. She is the wife of the president of the Georgia State College for Women and is a leader in many phases of club work. Mrs. Beeson is past historian, D. A. R., and was once chairman of essays, U. C. D.. Due to Mrs. Beeson being in charge, the recent placing of the stone in memory of the secession convention in the old state capitol was a marked success. In keeping with her past records, Mrs. Beeson's work on historical programs is expected to excel.

An excerpt from a recent message issued by Mrs. W. E. R. Byrne, of Charleston, W. Va., the president general, U. D. C., states: "Many letters of commendation of the U. D. C. general page in the Atlanta Journal are still being received." Interest in the page continues to be manifested, and chapters are urged to send usable material to the division historian, Mrs. Julian C. Lane, of Statesboro, bearing in mind that Georgia will soon be in charge of the page.

In Mrs. Byrne's message she called attention to one recommendation she made at the last general convention held in Memphis; "that all divisions install and use the card file system and that it be in the custody of the division treasurers, and that the chapter lists be checked by the division treasurers before they are sent to the treasurer general."

Chapters in the Georgia division indorsing the card file system will be interested to know that their records have been copied by the general department of records and is now in the hands of the division treasurer, Mrs. I. H. Sutton, of Clarkesville, who is mailing statements to chapters this week.

The division president, Mrs. Izzie Bashinski, of Dublin, considers this step a splendid advancement for the division, and it is her earnest hope that this work will be complete by October. Some chapters are copying their own cards distributed by Mrs. Bashinski.

Mrs. Warren D. White, 716 Piedmont avenue, N. E., Atlanta, division chairman of revision of constitution and by-laws, requests that any suggestions for changes be mailed immediately to her, as same must be filed with division secretary 30 days prior to the division convention.

Boynton chapter, of Griffin, was most successful in sponsoring a benefit bridge and domino party at the Memorial clubhouse on Tuesday. Mrs. Homer Gossett was general chairman of this delightful affair, and she received the guests with Mrs. C. Robert Walker, chapter president. Committees assisting Mrs. Gossett were: Decoration, Miss Carolyn Eakes and Mrs. Willis Banks; refreshments, Mrs. J. T. Waldrop and Mrs. Mobley Johnson.

A prize was given the high scorer at each table, and prizes were also given those making the highest scores in the entire party. Winners of the high score prizes were: Contract, Mrs. A. C. Griffin; auction, Mrs. Guinn McKneeley; domino, Mrs. George Niles.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. C. Robert Walker and Mrs. Ralph Jones who were assisted by a group of members of the Emily Head Strickland chapter, Children of the Confederacy; Misses Marion Hartshorn, Emilie Powell, Rebecca Colquitt, Lola Colquitt Alberta Greenlee and Betty Shell.

Mrs. J. H. Eakes, the only living daughter of the Confederacy in Griffin, was a tea guest. There were 90 guests and visitors were Mrs. W. B. Mize, of Macon; Mrs. H. W. Eddy, of Columbia, S. C.; Mrs. Robert G. Hunt, of Chicago, Ill., and Miss Lorene Kirkman, of Decatur.

Mrs. Kirby Smith Anderson, division chairman of education, has returned to her home in Madison, having spent the past year in Washington, D. C. She is again busy in the work nearest her heart—that of education.

Friends and co-workers throughout the division are sympathizing with Miss Caroline Patterson, of Macon, past division historian, in the recent loss of her father, Lamar Patterson.

Service Star Legion To Sponsor Benefit.

The Atlanta and Fulton county chapter of Service Star Legion will sponsor a benefit bridge party Wednesday afternoon, July 19, at 3 o'clock at Sterchi's tea room. Price per table is $1. The proceeds will help defray the expenses of three children of an ex-service man, who is in the hospital and whose wife is not living.

The general chairman is Mrs. J. L. Fulghum and the refreshment committee numbers Mesdames J. C. Mellichamp, C. H. Ashford, Louise Park, and W. May. The committee for prizes includes Mesdames Tom Stewart, L. P. Rosser, W. F. Melton, Marcus Beck, E. B. Williams and L. T. Stallings. The committee for tables includes Mesdames W. D. White, M. L. Brittain, A. O. Woodward, J. R. Bachman and Oscar Elsas.

A large number of tables have been reserved and many attractive prizes have been secured. Anyone interested may call either the table committee or Mrs. J. L. Fulghum. Guests are requested to bring cards.

Miss Matthews To Wed Mr. Kent.

Cordial interest is centered in the announcement made today by Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Matthews, of Decatur, of the engagement of their daughter, Miss Sara Louise Matthews, to Julian Stoke Kent, of Atlanta. The marriage to be solemnized in the late summer.

A number of pre-nuptial entertainment will be given complimenting Miss Matthews and Mr. Kent.

Miss Matthews attended Decatur High school and LaGrange College. Her sister is Mrs. Ray King and her brother is Charles Matthews, of Decatur.

O'Neal—Lindsay.

JACKSON, Ga., July 15.—W. M. O'Neal Sr., of Jackson, Ga., announces the marriage of his daughter, Miss Frances O'Neal, to Earnest Lindsay, on June 9. Mr. and Mrs. Lindsey will make their home in Atlanta, residing at 460 Robinson avenue.

SIX ARMED NEGROES ROB GROCERY STORE

Six negro youths, between the ages of 15 and 20, Saturday night held up and robbed Mrs. Marie Shoser, at the Sol Shoser grocery store at 336 Linden street, N. W., according to police reports. The negroes got $60 and a few cartons of cigarets. Five of them were armed with pistols while the sixth carried a sawed-off shotgun, Mrs. Shoser said.

Daughters of the American Revolution

State Regent, Mrs. Julian McCurry, of Athens; First Vice Regent, Mrs. W. F. Dykes, 870 Ridgecrest road, Atlanta; Second Vice Regent, Mrs. W. H. Mann, of Dalton; Recording Secretary, Mrs. John Samuel Adams, of Dublin; Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. Thomas G. Mell, of Atlanta; Treasurer, Mrs. John W. Daniel, 22 East 51st street, Savannah; Auditor, Mrs. Henry J. Carswell, of Waycross; Consulting Organizing Secretary, Mrs. Thomas Edwin Ryals of Macon; Librarian, Mrs. Stewart Colley, of Grantville; Historian, Mrs. Harold Nicholson, of Atlanta; Consulting Registrar, Mrs. J. L. Mims, of Hawkinsville; Curator, Mrs. J. B. Simmons, of Bainbridge; Genealogist, Mrs. Henry S. Redding, of Waycross; Editor, Mrs. Sydney O Smith, of Gainesville; Assistant Editor, Mrs. L. C. Rader, of Macon; Chaplain, Mrs. O. D. Sheilnutt, of Sandersville. Honorary Regent, Mrs. Bun Wylie, of Atlanta; Reporter to the Smithsonian Institution, Mrs. Harrison Hightower, of Thomaston.

Mrs. W. F. Dykes Addresses D. A. R. At Joseph Habersham Celebration

By MRS. SIDNEY O. SMITH, Of Gainesville, State Editor.

Mrs. W. F. Dykes, first vice regent of the state D. A. R. represented Mrs. Julian McCurry, the state regent D. A. R. at the Joseph Habersham celebration July 4 with the following message:

"It is indeed an honor to represent the state regent on this historic occasion, to join with you in celebrating the birthday of our country, the day on which was born that great spirit of American independence, which proclaimed to the world, 'the united colonies are and ought to be free and independent states'! Reverently should we contemplate and commemorate that heroic act of the fathers of our country; Thomas Jefferson, the author of the immortal Declaration, together with those brave men who composed the committee; John Adams, Benjamin Franklin, Roger Sherman and Robert Livingston, will ever live in the memories and hearts of a grateful nation. Georgia had three signers of that famous document; Lyman Hall, Button Gwinnett and George Walton. Their names and fame will ever be sung in song and story. They were men of sound wisdom, pure devotion to the sacred cause of American liberty and absolute decision to stand firm for independence, offering themselves on the sacrificial altar of service in the inevitable war that would follow.

"Georgia being the most remote of the 13 colonies from the seat of government, was the last to hear the news. It took a good rider 30 days to arrive at Savannah from Philadel, but Georgia's answer to that famous continental congress was 'Give me liberty or give me death'! This was the spirit of our beloved Georgia in 1776! The Declaration of Independence was read for the first time in Georgia by Archibald Bulloch, the governor, to his council and then to a large audience assembled at the liberty pole. The reading was followed by the solemn discharge of field guns by the Georgia militia.

"As a token of our sincerity and an evidence of our gratitude for the blessings which that immortal document has assured to all Americans let us on their 157th anniversary pledge and declare our sincere belief and devout faith in the fundamental ideals of our country, so bravely proclaimed to the world by the signers of the Declarstion of Indpendence and in their words and noble spirit, 'Pledge to each other our lives, our fortunes and our sacred honor' to the support of these ideals. 'Deprive us of our ideals and we become degraded; preserve them and we move onward and upward'!

"On July 4, the 'Old Liberty Bell' rang out the glad tidings of liberty to our country. Daughters of the American Revolution, you represent that great struggle which gave independence to our nation. The spirit of 1776 is kept alive in fervency of patriotic service! You are the patriotic leaders of your country, 'Hold high the torch and light the way.'"

Barnard Trail chapter met at the home of Mrs. J. H. Tipton with Miss Mary Mangham and Miss Lizzie J. Dearisо hostesses. Officers were elected for the next two years. Mrs. I. H. Mann was unanimously chosen to serve another term as regent, and the following were elected to serve with her: Vice regent, Mrs. J. S. O'Sheal; recording secretary, Mrs. H. C. Camp; corresponding secretary, Miss Mary Mangham; treasurer, Miss Josebel Johnson; registrar, Mrs. J. O. Holamon; historian, Mrs. C. Grubbs; chaplain, Mrs. E. K. Gulley; press reporter, Mrs. D. G. Jeffords; parliamentarian, Miss Lizzie J. Dearisо; executive committee, Mrs. Jack Wimpy, Mrs. J. M. Bullard and Mrs. J. O. Holamon. Mrs. J. S. O'Sheal, director of the program, presented the following program: "Georgia, the Land of Promise in 1933," by Miss Josebel Johnson; a musical selection was given by Mesdames W. W. Campbell, J. M. Bullard and J. W. Warren with Mrs. W. J. Mandeville Sr. at the piano, and "Landmarks and Legends of Georgia," by Miss Lizzie J. Dearisо.

John Laurens chapter of Dublin met at the home of Mrs. M. Z. Claxton with Mesdames George Gordy, W. H. Adams, George Walker and Miss Leah Kittrell as co-hostesses. The recent, Mrs. A. T. Coleman, presided, and the business session was opened with the officer's reports. Two awards were reported given by the chapter at the recent high school commencement exercises, one for the best record in American history made by a pupil in the graduating class, and one to the most outstanding member of the class. A letter was reported written to the Georgia bicentennial committee reporting the historic spots in Laurens county. The regent reported that a sum had been realized by the chapter during the month from the sale of coat hangers. The program committee for the coming year includes Miss Mamie Ramsay, Miss Katharine Chappell, Mrs. W. R. Lanier and upon recommendation of the board of management the chapter voted to dedicate the 1933-34 year book to Mrs. J. S. Adams, honorary regent of the chapter, in recognition of her work. Mrs. Adams will move from the city to be gone for three or four years in Washington, D. C. A donation of $5 was voted to the Carnegie library for the purchasing of juvenile books for summer reading. Mention was made of the fact that the chapter had during the past year contributed $22 worth of books to this library. The hostess committee for the coming year was appointed. The scrapbook was displayed by the custodian. The program committee brought in subjects for study for the coming year and the subject was "America at War." The secretary read a letter from Mrs. J. Y. Talmadge pledging her support and indorsement of Mrs. J. S. Adams for state regent in 1936. The program was given with the following taking part: Mrs. M. Z. Claxton, Mrs. A. S. Davis, Misses Maryan Smith, Mildred Bishop and Elizabeth Langston.

Nancy Hart chapter of Milledgeville met at the home of Mrs. Y. H. Yarborough. Mrs. Steve Thornton, regent, presided, and read a short essay on the flag, and Miss Jennie Jewell recited "Your Flag and My Flag" in celebration of Flag Day. It was announced that the D. A. R. essay medal had been won by Miss Frances Muldrow and the citizenship medal by Cadet Jack Kinnan. The meeting was turned over to Miss Floride Allen, the new regent, who appointed several committees for the new year. Mrs. A. B. Longino, accompanied by Miss Mary Jenkins, sang two solos, and Mrs. C. D. Bland and Miss Jenkins played a piano duet. Miss Katherine Scott, chairman of the program committee, read a letter from Judge James B. Park expressing his regrets at his absence, and Miss Scott announced that Judge Park had made a gift to the chapter, which was applied by the chapter to the scholarship loan fund. Miss Scott read a paper on "Famous Georgia Jurists."

Members of the Brunswick chapter observed Flag Day with a luncheon at the Copper Kettle on St. Simon's Island. Fifteen were present including the regent, Mrs. C. H. Leavy, Mesdames D. A. Sapp, George W. Cowart, Carlyle Ward, A. M. Way, G. V. Cate, H. O. Farr, Misses Mary and Virginia Sapp, Nellie Colesberry, Mesdames M. B. Merritt, E. C. Bruce, D. W. Krauss, Miss Ethel McKee, Mrs. Edgar Whatley, Miss Marion Wood, Mrs. John Townsend, of Atlanta, and Mrs. A. M. Dixon, of Savannah. A round-table discussion for next winter's work was held. As many graves of Revolutionary patriots in this section are unmarked the chapter decided to make this the feature of the year's work, also including the proper marking of historic spots on the islands. Mrs. G. V. Cate related a story of the Revolutionary engagement at Frederica and this place will be among those marked by the chapter. Mrs. Cate also told of the progress of the bicentennial committee in making plans for erecting a granite marker on the site of the only home of Oglethorpe in this country which was located near Frederica. The chapter adjourned for the summer months.

NEGRO WOMAN SLAIN IN DOMESTIC QUARREL

Two negro women were stabbed, one fatally, Saturday night in a fight over the husband of one of the women, according to police reports. Mattie Stephens, of 66 Haynes street, was stabbed to death by Elnora Davis, of 56 Haynes street, who in turn was seriously stabbed by her husband, it was said. The Davis woman found the Stephens woman and her husband together at 38 Haynes street, she said. She inflicted fatal wounds to Mattie Stephens. Davis escaped after wounding his wife, who was taken to Grady hospital.

MORTUARY

MRS. A. S. RAYMER.

Mrs. A. S. Raymer, 80, of 834 Helena street, died Saturday morning at the residence. She is survived by three sons, A. T. Raymer, of Atlanta, and W. S., and A. C. Raymer, of Akron, Ohio; and two daughters, Mrs. W. A. Meadows, and Mrs. E. B. Smith, both of Nashville, Tenn. The body was taken Saturday night to Nashville, her former home, for funeral services and interment. Howard L. Carmichael in charge.

MISS SARAH SLOAN.

Last services will be held at 2 o'clock this afternoon at Spring Hill for Miss Sarah Sloan, 86, of 583 Washington street, who died Friday at the residence. Dr. Stuart R. Oglesby will officiate and burial will be in Oakland cemetery.

JOSEPH EVANS.

Rites for Joseph Evans, who died Friday, will be held at 3 o'clock this afternoon at the residence on Power's Ferry road. The Rev. E. A. Scott will officiate and burial will be in the Sardis cemetery. H. M. Patterson & Son are in charge.

F. R. WALKER.

The funeral of F. R. Walker, 78, of 335 Brooks avenue, S. E., a former resident of Cartersville, will be held at 12:30 o'clock this afternoon at Spring Hill, the Rev. Horace Smith officiating. The body will be taken to Cassville, near Cartersville, for burial. He died Friday.

MRS. R. E. SILVEY.

Rites for Mrs. R. E. Silvey, 25, of 2290 Boulevard drive, who died Thursday, will be held at 3 o'clock this afternoon at the Central Baptist church, the Rev. R. C. Huston officiating. Interment will be in West View cemetery. Members of the Joy classes of the Central Baptist church will from honorary escorts. Blanchard Brothers are in charge.

WALTER J. REEDY.

The body of Walter J. Reedy, 45, Jacksonville salesman, who died Thursday in an Atlanta hotel, will be taken at 12:10 o'clock this afternoon via Southern railway to Brooklyn, N. Y., for funeral services and burial. H. M. Patterson & Son are in charge. Reedy was found dead in his room.

WILLIAM E. HORNE.

Funeral services for William E. Horne, 49, of 732 Oliver street, who died Friday in a hospital in Milledgeville, will be conducted at 3 o'clock this afternoon at the Antioch church in Gwinnett county. Burial will be in the churchyard with Sam Greenberg & Company in charge.

MRS. W. T. PHILLIPS.

Services will be held at the Mount Zion Methodist church at 2 o'clock this afternoon for Mrs. W. T. Phillips, 79, of 3381 Elkin street, Hapeville, who died Friday at her home. The Rev. Z. E. Barron will officiate and interment will be in the churchyard.

MRS. J. S. HENRY.

Final services for Mrs. J. S. Henry, who died Friday night at her residence on Florida road, will be conducted at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon at the Flat Rock Baptist church, the Rev. J. J. Blanks officiating, and interment will be in the churchyard. The Williams Funeral Home is in charge.

JAMES ALLEN BIRD.

The funeral of James Allen Bird, 3-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Parks T. Bird, of Avondale Estates, will be held at 2 o'clock this afternoon at the Ingleside Presbyterian church in Avondale, the Rev. B. L. Vaughn and the Rev. A. T. Gillespie officiating, and burial will be in the Mountain View cemetery. The child died Friday. The Williams Funeral Home is in charge.

S. C. HOLLAND.

S. C. Holland, 65, of Powder Springs, died Saturday afternoon at his residence there. He was a retired farmer. Surviving are his wife; four daughters, Mrs. W. E. Hill, of Atlanta; Mrs. John Lang, of Jacksonville, Texas; Mrs. J. E. Estes, of Bremen, and Mrs. S. J. Adams, of Asheville, N. C., and a son, W. E. Holland, of Asheville. Services are to be conducted at 11 o'clock Monday morning at the Powder Springs Primitive Baptist church, the Rev. Roy Mitchell officiating. Burial will be in the churchyard. The Williams Funeral Home is in charge.

E. M. PATTILLO.

The funeral of Emory M. Pattillo, 48, of 215 North Candler street, Decatur, who died Friday, was held Saturday afternoon at Spring Hill, the Rev. Horace Smith officiating. Burial was in the Decatur cemetery. Mr. Pattillo had been in the insurance business for many years but was retired at the time of his death.

MRS. ALBERTA LEWIS LAWSON.

Funeral services for Mrs. Alberta Lewis Lawson, 30, wife of Lieutenant Commander Joseph W. Lawson, U. S. N., who accidentally fatally wounded herself Thursday night with a pistol, were conducted Saturday afternoon at Spring Hill. Dr. J. Sprole Lyons officiated and interment was in the Crown Hill mausoleum. Mrs. Lawson, daughter of Mrs. Fred Lewis, of 32 Fifteenth street, shot herself in Blue Ridge, Ga., and died in an Atlanta hospital Friday morning.

MRS. SARAH HAYS MOBLEY.

Last rites for Mrs. Sarah Hays Mobley, 78, who died Thursday at her home at 403 South McDonough street, Decatur, were held Saturday morning at the residence. The Rev. Horace Smith officiated and interment will be in the Decatur cemetery. She was the wife of the late Rev. D. H. Mobley, a Methodist minister.

Cross Sections of Life In Gate City of South

Annual singing will be held today at the Bethsadia church, it was announced Friday. The church is located six miles south of College Park, near Riverdale. The singing was organized 75 years ago, and is one of the oldest in the state.

"Heaven Bound" will be presented by the Big Bethel choir Tuesday night at 8 o'clock at the July meeting of the Atlanta Methodist Stewards' Association at Fulton High school on Washington street. The public is invited.

Dr. John Brandon Peters, pastor of the Druid Hills Methodist church, will continue his series of mid-weekly lectures at the church Wednesday night with a talk on "Have I a Right To Be Persecuted." The following Wednesday he will speak on "Have I a Right to be Provincial?"

President S. V. Sanford, of the University of Georgia, will address the congregation of the Druid Hills Baptist church this morning in the absence of the pastor, Dr. Louie D. Newton. Dr. M. L. Brittain, of Georgia Tech, will introduce him. Phillip Weltner, chancellor of the university system, has been invited to attend. Dr. O. P. Gilbert, editor of the Christian Index, will preach at the night services.

Annual Sunday school convention of the fourth district of the Fulton County School Association will be held Sunday, July 23, at the Sandy Springs camp ground, it was announced Friday by Mrs. J. J. Simpson, of the Georgia Sunday School Association, which sponsors the convention. The program will begin at 10:30 o'clock in the morning and will continue throughout the day.

Continuing his series of Sunday morning sermons from the Book of Isaiah and Sunday evenings from Revelations, Dr. Wilburn S. Smith, pastor of Jackson Hill Baptist church, announced that he will speak this morning on the subject, "The Making of a Prophet," and at the night service, "The Reward of Faithfulness."

Dr. Henry W. Stough, national commissioner of the Anglo-Saxon Federation of America, will speak on "The World's Crisis and Its Cure" at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon in the assembly room of the Henry Grady hotel. Dr. Stough has been connected with many prominent evangelists and was formerly secretary of the International Evangelical Association.

Benefit bridge for the drum and bugle corps of the American Legion Post No. 1, Atlanta, will be given Thursday night at the home of Mrs. George L. Baker, at 955 Stovall Boulevard. Reservations may be made with Mrs. Baker at Cherokee 3795. The public is invited.

Descendants of John S. Cook, who settled in Newton county in 1823, will hold a reunion at Costley's Mill Thursday, August 3. About 200 attended the reunion last year.

Woman's division of the Chamber of Commerce will have a dinner and social meeting at 6:30 o'clock Monday night at the Druid Hills Golf Club. The subject to be developed in the program is "A Trip to England." Reservations may be made by calling Walnut 1889.

Baby health centers this week at 1:30 p. m. for babies under 4 years of age are: Wednesday, J. C. Harris school and Fulton Bag & Cotton mill; Thursday, Andrew Stewart nursery; Friday, Kirkwood school, Dr. J. P. Kennedy, city health officer, announces.

Frank R. Fling has been elected chancellor commander of Colonial Lodge No. 303, Knights of Pythias. Other officers elected were: Lloyd P. Lazenby, vice chancellor; Rev. Russell K. Smith, prelate; Cleve B. Ford, master of work; Lee F. Terrell, K. of R. and S. and M. of F.; George B. Rush, master of exchequer; Jay R. Reynolds, master at arms; J. F. Burdine, inner guard; James A. Miller, outer guard, and Harry C. Blake, deputy grand chancellor.

Evangelist S. H. Hall, of Nashville, Tenn., will preach at the Moreland Avenue Church of Christ at 11 o'clock this morning. His subject Sunday will be "The Unspeakable Gift." He also is conducting an open air revival, sponsored by the church, at Glenwood and Moreland avenues. Services begin at 7:45 o'clock every night.

Atlanta B. Y. P. U. will have a picnic at Lithia Springs, Pinecrest, Saturday, July 22. Busses will leave the Marietta street entrance of the Georgia Power Company building. Fare is 30 cents a person. There will be golfing, boating and swimming before the picnic supper.

Earl M. Carmain, Atlanta attorney who was injured in an automobile accident several months ago, has recovered from his injuries sufficiently to return to his office.

Kappa chapter, Delta Sigma Pi fraternity, will hold its annual picnic today at Durham Lakes.

Special lecture on "The Voice of the Mother," will be given at 8 o'clock tonight in the Azoth library, Marion hotel. The public is invited.

Enrollment in the freshman class at Oglethorpe University for the term beginning September 21, 1933, is greater by 50 per cent than the corresponding date last year.

Martha Brown Memorial church will inaugurate a new order of service for the morning service, called the "Unified Plan," at 10 o'clock this morning when the entire congregation will assemble in the main auditorium.

Baptist Student Union representatives will present programs at Morningside and Kirkwood tonight. At Morningside Jack Davis is in charge of the program, and Miss Agnes Pitts, Thomas Kethly and A. B. Padgett are the speakers. At Kirkwood the service will be conducted by Miss Alice Atkinson, Miss Elizabeth Jackson and Leland Jackson.

Rev. John Moore Walker will deliver a sermon on "Religion and a Changing World" at St. Luke's Episcopal church at 11 o'clock this morning. The litany or general supplication will be the service instead of the usual service of morning prayer. The Young People's Service League and guests will be entertained by the 16-piece orchestra directed by W. H. Cruselle at their meeting at 6 o'clock Sunday night at the parish house.

Municipal employes will be paid July 20, on time, it was announced Saturday by B. Graham West, comptroller.

Tenth Ward Civic League members will meet at 7:45 o'clock Monday night at the Sylvan Hills school.

During the fiscal year ending June 30, 559 persons were convicted on prohibition charges in the federal court for the northern district of Georgia, according to statistics revealed at the federal building here Saturday. The aggregate of the fines imposed was $7,497.10. There were 43 narcotic cases terminated, 21 of them resulting in convictions and 22 of them being nol-prossed. Narcotic and prohibition cases form the bulk of the cases heard in the court.

Hospitals and charities committee of council will hold a meeting at 10 o'clock Monday morning for the purpose of laying tentative plans for improvements to Battle Hill sanitarium. The city is seeking the funds from the federal government.

Mayor James L. Key told L. W. "Chip" Robert Jr., assistant secretary of the treasury, Friday night that he and council are seeking a lot of federal money for needed Atlanta improvements. "When we get to Washington for that money, we just want you to fork over," Key told him. Robert laughed and said he would do what he could. Atlanta will seek about $18,000,000.

Breeders of Guernsey cattle from all over Georgia are expected to gather at the Ponce de Leon Dairy farm, near Clarkston, Thursday, for the third annual field meeting of the Georgia Guernsey Cattle Club. Judge John S. Candler, of Atlanta, is president.

W. T. Wright, jewelry repairman, was ordered held for the federal grand jury Saturday under a $2,000 bond on a charge of counterfeiting $20 gold pieces, after a hearing before United States Commissioner E. S. Griffith. He was arrested by secret service agents on information furnished by Sam Fox, of a Highland avenue address, who is under bond for allegedly passing the bogus coins. Wright denied any knowledge of the matter.

Ernest T. Randall was ordered held for the federal grand jury under a $2,500 bond Saturday by United States Commissioner E. S. Griffith when he was arraigned on a charge of stealing the valise of former Congressman A. P. Pujo, of Louisiana, on July 4. The valise was stolen on a train, it was said, and it was reported to have contained $1,000 in cash and $250 in personal effects.

Mrs. Dovie Findley, 624 Griffin street, N. W., arrived in Cheyenne, Wyo., Saturday, according to press dispatches, to seek extradition to Georgia of a fortune teller known as Madame Wayne, who is wanted here on indictment charging her with fraud in connection with a fortune-telling flim-flam racket.

A. F. Bellingrath, of Decatur, declared Saturday in a letter to The Constitution that a recent story about Providence Spring and Civil War days is untrue. He advances the suggestion that the Daughters of the Confederacy look up the truth about Providence Spring and place a slab there to acquaint visitors with the true facts about the spring.

James Witherington, son of Mrs. James Witherington, 964 North Highland avenue, formerly a soloist over radio station WGST, now is in Chicago as soloist for a number of leading orchestras, including those of Vincent Lopez and Ben Bernie as well as being featured over Chicago radio stations.

Civil service examination has been called for the postmastership at Brookhaven, Ga. All applications must be on file with the United States civil service commission in Washington, D. C., by July 28.

J. J. Bugg will preside as program chairman at a meeting of the Speech Arts Club of the Atlanta School of Oratory and Expression to be held at 6 o'clock Tuesday night in 402 Wesley Memorial building. A special lecture on "The Expressive and Selling Type of Mind" also will be given.

Patrick Henry Calhoun, clerk in the Fulton county ordinary's office, accompanied by his grandson, Calhoun E. Minchener, and wife, Mrs. Dorothy Michener, and his great-granddaughter, Dorothy Grey Minchener, Saturday left on a motor trip to Chicago to attend the Century of Progress Exposition. Mr. Calhoun probably will attend the convention of Elks at Milwaukee.

Irving S. Nathan, who was graduated in law at Harvard University, class of 1933, has become associated with Haas, Gambrell & Gardner in the generl practice of law, it was announced Saturday. Mr. Nathan spent his boyhood in Ashburn, Ga., and made an outstanding record at Harvard Law school, receiving many honors and honorary scholarships.

Several hundred DeKalb county stone-cutters, who have been on a strike for several weeks, will hold a meeting at the Lithonia schoolhouse at 8 o'clock Monday night, it was announced Saturday. Louie P. Marquardt, assistant solicitor of Fulton county and a labor leader, has been invited by the mayor of Lithonia to address the meeting and explain the industrial recovery act.

Prof. Irving Babbitt Is Dead at Age of 68

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., July 15.—(AP)—Professor Irving Babbitt, 68, of Harvard University, long an outstanding figure in the field of literature, died today. He was professor of French literature at Harvard.

Professor Babbitt was a native of Dayton, Ohio. Before coming to Harvard as an instructor in French in 1894, he had been a member of the faculty at Williams College. He was an exchange professor from Harvard to the Sorbonne in 1923. He was the author of many works, including "Literature and the American College," and "Rousseau and Romanticism." He was frequently referred to as the last of the "neo-classical critics."

In 1900 Professor Babbitt married Dora May Drew, of Cambridge.

They had two children, Esther and Edward.

WILLIAM A. WOLFF.

HYANNIS, Mass., July 15.—(AP)—William A. Wolff, 47, former city editor of the New York Tribune and a well-known author, died at the Cape Cod hospital today of a heart ailment. He lived in Barnstable village.

He was born in New York city and was graduated from New York University. He retired from newspaper work in 1915 to devote his time to writing.

Among his works were "The Trial of Mary Dugan," "Manhattan Nights," "Song of Sixpence" and "Murder of Andor."

Wolff is survived by his widow, Wynn Fairfield Wolff, and a daughter, Wynn, S. Burial will be in old Barnstable cemetery tomorrow.

Killed by Train.

BALTIMORE, July 15.—(AP)—Vincent Crosswhite, 33, of Salem, Va., died today as result of injuries received when he fell beneath the wheels of a Pennsylvania freight early this morning. Crosswhite was trying to board the train in local yards.

Funeral Notices

SLOAN—The friends of Miss Sarah H. Sloan are invited to attend her funeral this (Sunday) afternoon, July 16, 1933, at 2 o'clock at Spring Hill. Dr. Stuart R. Oglesby will officiate. Interment Oakland cemetery. The following gentlemen will serve as pallbearers and please meet at Spring Hill at 1:45 o'clock: Mr. A. R. Bailey, Dr. R. S. Leadingham, Mr. F. J. Cooledge Jr., Mr. Hugh Crawford, Mr. W. F. Buchanan and Mr. W. D. Beatie. H. M. Patterson & Son.

DAVIS—The friends and relatives of Mr. and Mrs. George C. Davis, of Flowery Branch, Ga.; Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Dav

Sensational Values!

High's Basement

50¢ DAY

Look! for the Many Unadvertised FIFTY-CENT DAY Specials Throughout Basement!

Women's Wash Frocks
Attractive new styles! Gay color fast prints! All sizes! Monday 50c

69c Smocks--Hoovers
Women's neat smocks and Hoovers in tubfast colors! All sizes. 50c

Women's Sweaters
Novelty knits with huge puffed sleeves! Soft pastel shades! All sizes. 50c

Bungalow Aprons, 2 for Grand for home wear! Printed percales! Women's sizes small, medium, large. 50c

Women's Hose, 3 Prs.
Chardonized hose in good-looking colors, well made! All sizes. 50c

Silk Hose, 2 Prs.
Full-fashioned pure silk hose, with smart clocks! All colors and sizes. 50c

69c Full-Fashion Hose
Extra fine! 45 gauge pure silk in new fall colors! Full-fashioned. All sizes. 50c Pr.

Rayon Undies, 2 for 39c values! Rayon mesh! Cool, smart, comfortable! Panties and step-ins, all sizes. 50c

Women's 69c Gowns
Genuine "Pepperell" make! Cool, comfortable! A real savings! 50c

Girls' Slips, 2 for Sheer muslin! Good Broadcloth! Smart rayons! All sizes! 50c

Girls' Dresses, 2 for
Reg. 29c values! Smart styles in dainty prints! Washable! Sizes 7 to 14. 50c

Girls' Print Dresses
Fine percales! Big puffed sleeves! Fine for fall wear! Color fast! Sizes 7 to 14. 50c

Girls' 1-Pc. Pajamas
Cut full for comfort! Well made for hard wear! Sizes 7 to 14. 50c

Tots' Bonnet Frocks
Sheer, crisp organdy frocks with bonnets to match! Sizes 3 to 6. 50c

Children's Anklets, 6 Prs.
A good assortment of patterns, colors and sizes! Special! 50c

Men's Work Shirts
Blue chambray! Full cut and triple stitched for hard wear! All sizes. 50c

Boys' Wash Shorts
Khaki, linene, coverts! Reinforced for long wear! All sizes! Special! 50c

Men's Shorts, 3 for
And combed yarn shirts! Athletic styles! Good materials! All sizes. 50c

81x90 In. Sheets
Heavy, serviceable quality! Bleached snow white! Wide hems! 50c ea.

Marquisette Curtains
Priscilla styles with ruffles and tie-backs! Tailored styles! Ecru or cream! 50c set

HIGH'S BARGAIN BASEMENT
The Economy Center of Atlanta

Spool Cotton, 12 for 100-yard spools! Assorted sizes in black or white! Save now! 25c
HIGH'S STREET FLOOR

J.M. HIGH COMPANY

$1.49 Beverage Sets
Crystal with bright stripes! Pitcher and SIX each: Iced tea and fruit juice glasses! $1
HIGH'S STREET FLOOR

Monday---Special Group

SALE---300 Summer FROCKS

200 Dresses! Fresh, New--in Complete Size Range!
100 Dresses! Taken from $5.95 to $7.95 Racks--and Reduced!

$3.69

2 for $7

Monday is the time to COMPLETE your summer supply of dresses! You'll go into raptures over the beauty of the frocks—their style-rightness — and last, but not least — the PRICE. The variety is BIG—choose a travel frock AND a party frock — or you'll find plenty of swagger styles, sports, afternoon and street fashions.

Don't Miss the Savings—Share with a Friend—If You Only Want ONE Dress!

- Sheers—Silk Crepes
- Printed Sheers—Striped Silks
- Washable Pastels—Linen Suits
- Cotton Laces—Cotton Voiles
- Cotton Piques—Cotton Lawns

Sizes: 14 to 20, 38 to 48

HIGH'S SECOND FLOOR

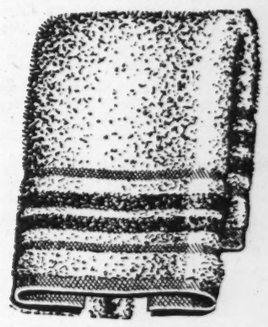

Buy Now . . . for LESS at High's!

Sale! Bath Towels

18x36-In. Towels

Double thread bath towels, soft . . . absorbent! White, with neat colored borders! Stock up on these . . . maybe never again such a LOW price! 10c Ea.

22x44-In. 25c Towels
Monday at Only 15c
Woven from fine spun, two-ply yarns. White with bright colored borders.

44c Cannon Bath Towels
Super Special! 25c
Solid colors, reversible! Vivid borders on white! 22x44 inches! The BEST yet!

10c Cannon Wash Cloths
Soft and thick! 12x12 inches! Pastel colored borders! 5c Ea.

HIGH'S STREET FLOOR

Phenomenal Savings on Brand-New Mid-Summer Needs! To 39c Values!

Sale! Wash Fabrics

LACHINE MUSLINS — A. B. C. DIMITIES
BRINKLEY SEED DIMITIES — PIQUE VOILES
PRINTED CHIFFON VOILES

Now . . . at the height of the season . . . High's offers this glorious collection of wash fabrics at an amazingly LOW price! Hundreds of NEW patterns! All color fast!

19c Yd.

39-In. 79c* Panne Satin
49c Yd.
A beautiful, smooth rayon panne satin in the new fall shades! White, too!

69c French Finish* Dress Linen
What a BUY! Every thread pure linen! White, black, navy, copen and grey! GUARANTEED fast colors! 36 inches wide! 49c Yd.

Wide Wale* White Pique
39c Yd.
"They" are making the smartest wear of white pique! Get your share now and count the savings! Dull suede finish! 36-in.!

HIGH'S STREET FLOOR

Investigate This Value Before You Buy Your New Rugs!

$15 Velvette Rugs

Dyed-in-the-wool patterns! Soft backgrounds with lovely patterns! Full 9x12 feet! Beauties! $9.97

"Kork O' Tan" Rug Holders

18x32 in.	36c
42x36 in.	50c
27x54 in.	85c
36x63 in.	$1.35
48x72 in.	$2.25
54x78 in.	$2.40

69c Hartshorn Window Shades ..... Ea. 49c
$5.50 8-Pc. Set Slip Covers ..... Set $3.97
98c Cretonne Da-Bed Covers ..... Ea. 59c
98c 6-Pc. Set Cottage Curtains ..... Pr. 48c
6-Ft. Cliptwood Porch Shades ..... Ea. $4.85
8-Ft. Cliptwood Porch Shades ..... Ea. $6.50

HIGH'S STREET FLOOR

98c Tailored Curtains

Marquisette!
Boston Net!
Grenadine!
69c Pr.

Women will FLOCK for these! Soft cream or ecru! Give your windows a tailored look that adds dignity and charm to your home! Full wide and long!

HIGH'S STREET FLOOR

LOW Prices on Summer TOILETRIES

39c Vitalco Rubbing Alcohol	19c
59c Dusting Powder With large velour puff	29c
$1 Trejur Lotion Almond and benzoin for your skin	29c
85c Plough's Antiseptic	29c
75c Djer-Kiss Perfume	19c
39c Dermay Talcum Large size cans! Flower odeurs	19c
World Razor Blades Pack of 5s. Fits Gillettes	25c
$2.75 Fiancee Toilet Water	89c
$1 Djer-Kiss Talcum	59c
$1 Truvy Face Powder	19c
50c Ipana Tooth Paste	33c
35c Pinetrine Shave Cream Also Melba make	10c
10c Jergens Soap Assorted odeurs. $1.20 value!	12 bars 55c
8c Ivory Soap Medium size cakes! Special	10 for 54c

HIGH'S STREET FLOOR

Lovely NEW Pattern in Noritake China

63-Piece* Dinner Set $24.95

$39.95 value! Charming flower design on deep ivory border! Complete service for EIGHT persons . . . and LOOK at this LOW price Monday!

$65—93-Piece Dinner Set
A beautiful floral pattern on fine china! A complete dinner service for twelve persons! $35.95

$6.95—32-Piece Breakfast Set
You'll adore this set for the coziest meal of the day! Service for six. $4.95

HIGH'S STREET FLOOR

GET JINKY RECEIPTS . . . at HIGH'S

NOTIONS You Need . . . at LOWEST Prices!

85c CRETONNE GARMENT BAGS	59c
10c SCOTTISSUE	10 Rolls 69c
25c KOTEX	3 Boxes 57c
69c IRONING SETS	36c
69c STAMPED PILLOW CASES	Pair 39c

HIGH'S STREET FLOOR

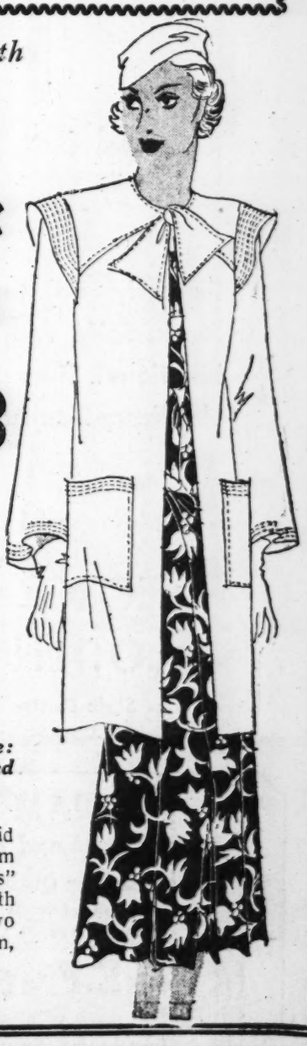

$2.98 Waffle Cloth

Also PIQUE AND SEERSUCKER

White Coats

$1.98

Sizes 14 to 20!

Yoked Collar: Ascot Tie: Epaulet and Puffed Sleeves: Patch Pockets.

Slip them over your solid linen frocks! Wear them with silks! They "go places" in the evening, too, with smart style! You've two good months to wear them, so select yours Monday!

HIGH'S THIRD FLOOR

ENGAGEMENTS ANNOUNCED

ETHERIDGE—WEIDMAN.
Mr. and Mrs. Harry Augustus Etheridge Sr. announce the engagement of their daughter, Anna, to Claire Oliver Weidman, of New York city, the marriage to be solemnized in the early fall.

WOODRUFF—DRAPER.
Mr. and Mrs. James Waldo Woodruff, of Columbus, Ga., announce the engagement of their daughter, Ethel Elizabeth, to Lieutenant Philip Henry Draper Jr., field artillery, U. S. A., the marriage to be solemnized in August at Woodcrest, the residence of the bride-elect, in Columbus.

CONLEY—BROWN.
Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Conley, of College Park, announce the engagement of their daughter, Manora Katherine, to Fred Emerson Brown, of Wauchula, Fla., and Atlanta, the marriage to take place August 5.

MATTHEWS—KENT.
Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Matthews, of Decatur, announce the engagement of their daughter, Sara Louise, to Julian Stokes Kent, the date to be announced later.

HENSLEE—STERCHI.
Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Henslee, of Griffin, announce the engagement of their daughter, Martha Elizabeth, to John Reed Sterchi, of Knoxville, Tenn., the marriage to be solemnized in September.

TUGGLE—GARDNER.
Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Morgan announce the engagement of their sister, Mrs. Minnie Pauline Tuggle, to Robert Gardner, the date of the marriage to be announced later. No cards.

WEINMEISTER—SCOTT.
Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Weinmeister announce the engagement of their daughter, Louise, to Fred E. Scott, the marriage to be solemnized at an early date. No cards.

PIERCE—MILLER.
Miss Sarah Ellen Pierce announces the engagement of her sister, Miss Christine Pierce, to James Homer Miller, of St. Louis, Mo., the marriage to take place at an early date. No cards.

MATHEWS—CARLSEN.
Mrs. E. H. Mathews announces the engagement of her daughter, Stella Elizabeth, to Richard Grogan Carlsen, the marriage to be solemnized in August. No cards.

ANDREWS—PATRICK.
J. D. Andrews announces the engagement of his daughter, Sara Dixon, to James Venable Patrick, the marriage to be solemnized August 12 at the First Christian church.

HARRIS—NESBIT.
Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Harris announce the engagement of their daughter, Ethlan, to Robert Walker Nesbit, the marriage to be solemnized at an early date.

KELLY—LYTLE.
Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Kelly announce the engagement of their daughter, Evelyn Marie, to Alfred Wilson Lytle, the marriage to take place in the late summer.

DERKSEN—DAVIS.
Mr. and Mrs. Frank Derksen, of Louisville, Ky., announce the engagement of their daughter, Sadie Mae, to Rev. F. McConnell Davis, of Atlanta, pastor of Cascade Baptist church, the marriage to be solemnized on August 10, in Louisville.

COOK—LANSDELL.
Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Cook, of Social Circle, announce the engagement of their daughter, Sara, to Cyrus Hudson Lansdell, of Hephzibah, Ga., the marriage to be solemnized in August.

M'INTOSH—TOLLISON.
Mrs. F. H. Spooner, of Quincy, Fla., announces the engagement of her daughter, Marion Thomas McIntosh, to Truman Lee Tollison, the marriage to take place at an early date. No cards.

WHELCHEL—MEADERS.
Mrs. Wade Hampton Whelchel, of Murrayville, announces the engagement of her daughter, Evabelle, to Robert Clayborn Meaders, of Dahlonega, Ga., and Tucson, Ariz., the marriage to be solemnized at an early date. No cards.

EVANS—MIXON.
Mr. and Mrs. John S. Evans, of Camilla, announce the engagement of their daughter, Floy Elizabeth, to William Vincent Mixon, of Denmark, S. C., formerly of Holly Hill, S. C., the marriage to be solemnized in August. No cards.

FINNEY—WESTBROOK.
Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Finney, of Haddock, announce the engagement of their daughter, Mary Vera, to Perry Westbrook, of Haddock, formerly of Linden, Tenn., the marriage to be solemnized at an early date. No cards.

Miss Hood Weds Joseph J. Moore In Lawrenceville

LAWRENCEVILLE, Ga., July 15. The marriage of Miss Martha Lucile Hood to Joseph Jackson Moore was solemnized Wednesday evening at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Hood, in Lawrenceville. Rev. J. O. McNeal, pastor of the bride, performed the ceremony.

The improvised crescent-shaped altar was arranged in the living room and was banked with ferns and southern smilax before which stood graceful floor baskets filled with pink and white gladioli.

Preceding the ceremony a program of nuptial music was rendered by Mrs. William Hinton, pianist; Miss Gertrude Crane, of Buford, soloist, and William Barron, of Winder, violinist.

Master Lamar Hood and Master Robert Kelley, nephews of the bride, held the ribbons forming the aisle through which the bridal party passed. Tapers were lighted by Miss Mattie Hood.

Mrs. Paul V. Kelley acted as her sister's matron of honor. She wore a model of blue sheer crepe with white accessories and carried an arm bouquet of pink gladioli. Paul V. Kelley Jr., nephew of the bride, carried the ring on a pink satin pillow.

The lovely bride entered with her brother, John J. Hood, who gave her in marriage. She wore an ensemble of navy honeycomb crepe, the dress fashioned with a cream lace yoke and puffed sleeves. Her hat and other accessories matched her gown and she wore a shoulder bouquet of sweetheart roses and lilies of the valley.

Mr. Moore had as his best man Paul Carpenter, of Franklin, N. C.

Following the ceremony an informal reception was held. Mr. and Mrs. Hood were assisted in entertaining by Mrs. R. P. Hood, of Cleveland, Tenn.; Mrs. H. L. Hood and Miss Myrtis Kelley.

Mr. Moore and his bride left for a wedding trip and upon their return will reside at Franklin, N. C.

Miss Floy Evans To Wed Mr. Mixon

CAMILLA, Ga., July 15.—Of interest to a wide circle of friends is the announcement made today of the engagement of Miss Floy Elizabeth Evans, of Camilla, to William Vincent Mixon, of Denmark and Holly Hill, S. C. Miss Evans is the second daughter of John S. Evans and Mrs. Elizabeth Burson Evans, of Camilla, Ga., formerly of Walton county. On both sides of her family she is descended from fine old southern forbears, who have rendered distinguished service as pioneers and in war times. On her maternal side are Quaker ancestors who came over with William Penn to America and she traces kinship also with Betsy Ross of Revolutionary times. Mrs. Elizabeth Bush McCarty Burson, of Camilla, and the late Isaac Joe Burson, of Walton county, are her maternal grandparents. Mrs. Judith Locklin Evans, of Jacksonville, Fla., and the late John Griffith Evans, of Walton county and Confederate veteran, are her paternal grandparents.

Miss Evans is of the striking blonde type, with cameo-like features and possesses a charming personality and gracious dignity, which have won for her a large circle of friends and admirers both at home and abroad. She graduated from Camilla High school with the class of 1924 and continued her education at Georgia State College for Women, Milledgeville, of which she is a graduate. She has taught successfully in the public schools of south Georgia since graduation, serving in the school at Alamo, Cotton and for the past two years at Townsend.

Mr. Mixon is the son of William Nelson Mixon, of Largo, Fla., and the late Caroline Trowell Mixon. He is of Irish descent. His paternal grandparents are Andrew Webb Mixon and Mary Annie Mixon and his maternal grandparents are James Benjamin Trowell and Callie Catherine Trowell. Andrew Mixon, of Largo, Fla., is a brother and Miss Laura Belle Mixon, also of Largo, Fla., is a sister of Mr. Mixon.

Mr. Mixon is in the lumber business, and it was while at Warsaw in the employ of Warsaw Lumber Co., that he met his future bride, who was teaching at Townsend. He is now with the Holly Hill Lumber Co., of Denmark, S. C. Mr. Mixon is a prominent church worker, especially in B. Y. P. U. and young people's organizations. The wedding of Miss Evans and Mr. Mixon will be quietly solemnized in August. After a wedding trip to Miami, Orlando and Tampa, Fla., Mr. Mixon and his bride will make their home in Denmark, S. C.

Miss Hendry Weds Cicero Lucas.

WASHINGTON, Ga., July 15.—The marriage of Miss Dicye Hendry to Cicero Lucas was beautifully solemnized Saturday evening at 8:30 o'clock at the home of the bride's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Guill, of Union Point, Ga. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. J. Sneed, pastor of the Methodist church, in the presence of the immediate family and close friends of the couple.

The living room, where the ceremony took place, was decorated for the occasion with vari-colored garden flowers. The nuptial music was rendered by Mrs. James H. Parsons, cousin of the bride.

The bride, the lovely daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Hendry, is of the brunet type of beauty. She was attired in a becoming gown on beige crepe, with accessories to match. Her flowers were a bouquet of coral gladioli. Mr. Lucas is the son of Dr. and Mrs. C. S. Lucas.

Following the reception, the bride and bridegroom left for their wedding trip, after which they will return to Washington to reside.

Miss Henslee and Mr. Sterchi Wed in Griffin in the Autumn

Miss Martha Elizabeth Henslee, of Griffin. Photo by Davison-Paxon Company.

GRIFFIN, Ga., July 15.—Of sincere social interest throughout Georgia, Tennessee and the south is the announcement of the engagement of Miss Martha Elizabeth Henslee, of Griffin, and John Reed Sterchi, of Knoxville, Tenn., which is made today by Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Henslee, of Griffin, parents of the bride-elect.

The younger daughter of her parents, Miss Henslee has been one of the most beloved young girls in Griffin social circles. A charming blonde of a distinctive type of loveliness, she has been a decided favorite in Atlanta, Knoxville and other cities of the state and south where she has been a frequent visitor. Her parents are prominent residents of Griffin, her mother having formerly been Miss Nell Bender, of Dalton.

Miss Henslee was graduated in 1931 from the Griffin High school, where she was an outstanding student. The lovely bride-elect has one sister, Miss Nell Henslee, of New York city, and four brothers, Baxter Henslee, of Sturgis, Mich.; Joe Henslee, of Griffin; Eudox Henslee, of Atlanta, and Jack Henslee, of Buchanan, Mich.

Mr. Sterchi is a popular young man of splendid personality. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Sterchi, are prominent in the social life of Knoxville and his father is manager and partner of Sterchi & Haun Furniture Corporation, being one of the best known furniture executives in the south. The bridegroom-elect's mother was formerly Miss Josephine Reed. He has one brother, Hugh Sterchi, and four sisters, Mrs. D. K. Davis, Miss Elizabeth Sterchi, Miss Frances Sterchi and Miss Faye Sterchi, all of Knoxville.

Mr. Sterchi attended Knoxville public schools and was graduated from the University of Tennessee in 1929. He is a member of the Delta Sigma Phi social fraternity and the Delta Sigma Pi national honorary commerce fraternity. He was also a member of the Scabbard and Blade and the Pershing Rifles, military organizations, while at the university. He is a member of the reserve officers of the United States, holding the rank of second lieutenant. Mr. Sterchi is connected with the Sterchi & Haun Furniture Corporation in Knoxville.

The marriage of Miss Henslee and Mr. Sterchi will be a brilliant event of early fall in Griffin, after which the charming bride will receive a cordial welcome into exclusive social circles of Knoxville.

ROBINSON—MERRY.
Mr. and Mrs. Philip Frank Robinson, of Augusta, announce the engagement of their daughter, Frances Lorene, to Ernest Briscoe Merry Jr., the marriage to take place in the early fall.

BONNER—CHARLES.
Mr. and Mrs. John W. Bonner, of Gray, announce the engagement of their daughter, Margaret Frances, to George Melvin Charles, of Gray, formerly of Clarksville, Tenn., the marriage to be solemnized at an early date. No cards.

BURKE—WARNER.
Mr. and Mrs. Henry H. Burke announce the engagement of their daughter, Mildred, to W. J. Warner, the marriage to take place at a very early date.

Miss Kirby Weds Robert R. Wood At High Noon

The marriage of Miss Madeline Kirby and Robert Richardson Wood took place Saturday at high noon at the residence of Rev. Richard Orme Flinn on Springdale road in Druid Hills. Dr. Flinn, pastor of North Avenue Presbyterian church, officiated at the ceremony which united the late Mr. and Mrs. Robert R. Wood, parents of the bridegroom, and he performed the ceremony for yesterday's bride and bridegroom.

The best man was Abner Calhoun, and H. R. Kirby, of Columbia, S. C., gave his daughter in marriage. The bride wore a becoming ensemble of navy blue georgette crepe, and the blouse was of white georgette crepe. Her hat was of navy blue straw, and blue accessories completed the effective costume. She wore a shoulder bouquet of valley lilies and gardenias.

Mr. and Mrs. Wood motored to Columbia, S. C., to visit relatives before going to Miami, Fla., where they will spend the remainder of the summer.

Among the out-of-town guests attending the marriage were Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Kirby, of Columbia, S. C., parents of the bride; Mrs. R. O. Tuten, of Columbia, S. C., sister of the bride, and Mrs. J. T. Wooten, of South Carolina.

Mr. and Mrs. Rankin Honor Bridal Couple

Numbered among the interesting social affairs of the week is the party planned by Mr. and Mrs. James Rankin to take place Thursday evening, July 20, at the dinner-dance at Brookhaven. Central figures will include Mr. and Mrs. James Baughman and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Mitchell. Mrs. Baughman before her recent marriage was Miss Pearl Hastings and Mrs. Mitchell was the former Miss Sarah Perry, a recent bride. The guests will include a group of close friends of the honor guest.

Miss Cobb Weds Hugh David Jolly.

ROME, Ga., July 15.—Miss Eva Louise Cobb, daughter of Mrs. Sarah Winkle Cobb, and the late Dr. John T. Cobb, and Hugh David Jolly were married this morning in the study of the Rev. Wilkie Collins, pastor of the First Methodist church, the Rev. Collins officiating in the presence of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Horan. The marriage was planned for a home ceremony but had to be changed at the last minute, due to illness in the bride's family.

Mrs. Jolly wore an ensemble of Brittany blue. The short jacket was of blue lace and her hat was in a matching shade of blue. She wore beige accessories and shoulder spray of orchids and lilies of the valley. For traveling the bride chose a blue and white triple sheer crepe coat costume with navy blue accessories.

Mr. and Mrs. Jolly will spend the remainder of the month traveling, visiting Chicago, New York, Atlantic City and points in Canada. On their return to Rome, on August 1, they will reside on Park boulevard, in East Rome.

The bride is the eldest daughter of Mrs. Sarah Winkle Cobb and the Dr. John T. Cobb. Her sisters are Mrs. C. J. Logan and Mrs. W. L. Raiden. Clark Howell Cobb is her brother. Mr. Jolly, the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Jolly, of Bartow county, and was educated at the University of Georgia. For the past 10 years he has been with Owen Hardware Company here, and Mr. Jolly is treasurer of the firm. His sisters are, Misses Mary, Vida, Carrie and Adys Jolly and his brothers are J. L. and Bryan, of Rome; Neel, of Kingston, and Grady, of Trion, Ga.

Bride-Elect Honored.

Miss Louise Paris, whose marriage to P. F. Haines, will be solemnized at an early date, was honor guest Saturday afternoon at a miscellaneous shower given by Mrs. J. M. Lee at her home on Northview avenue. Bridge was played and the honor guest was presented with many lovely gifts.

Those invited were Mesdames Chester Martin, Luther Quillian, M. A. Nesbit, J. M. Lee, W. L. Paris, Misses Louise Paris, Frances Jamison, Anne Hubbard, Mary Frances Hubbard, Avis Rowe, Helen Travis, Ruby McHugh and Louise Parker.

HUCKABY—PRITCHETT.
Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Huckaby, of Griffin, announce the engagement of their daughter, Newell, to Jesse Pritchett, the wedding to take place September 16. No cards.

BAIRD—CASH.
Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Baird, of Hoschton, Ga., announce the engagement of their daughter, Loma Clydell, to William Broadus Cash, of Buford, Ga., the wedding to be solemnized August 20.

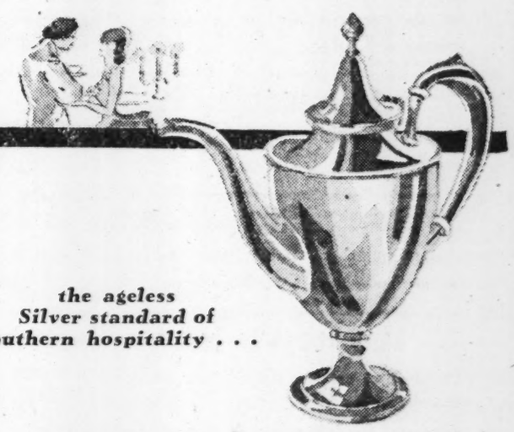

DARLING—LEWIS.
Thomas Jefferson Darling, of Waycross, announces the engagement of his daughter, Sunshine, to Sedric Melvin Lewis, of Jacksonville, Fla., the marriage to be solemnized late in August.

SPEIGLE—SACKS.
Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Speigle, of Spartanburg, S. C., announce the engagement of their daughter, Dana Marie, to Al Sacks, of Birmingham, Ala., the date of the wedding to be announced later.

JACKSON—BECKUM.
Mr. and Mrs. P. L. Jackson, of Culverton, Ga., announce the engagement of their daughter, Ethelyne, to Bert Beckum, of Mayfield, Ga., the wedding to take place at an early date.

MARCHMAN—BURNS.
Mrs. Nora Marchman, of Dallas, Ga., announces the engagement of her daughter, Alice Ruth, to James Harold Burns, of Carrollton, the marriage to be solemnized at an early date.

JONES—BYRD.
Mr. and Mrs. George Morton Jones, of Augusta, announce the engagement of their daughter, Ann Louise, to Dr. John Fitzmaurice Byrd, of Edgefield, S. C., the marriage to take place the latter part of August.

the ageless Silver standard of Southern hospitality . . .

A STERLING SERVICE

$125 Complete

Pieces priced separately:
Coffee Pot $38
Tea Pot $36
Sugar, Cream ..$42
Waste Bowl $9

Graciousness, dignity, mellowed memories of the past cling to a silver service. Steaming beverages are the least thing you dispense; as tangible and far more lasting—your perfect hospitality! . . . This service—in the traditionally simple Paul Revere pattern—is worthy of a place beside treasured pieces. A fine, heavy weight. A value which you yourself will hardly believe three years hence!

Deferred payments arranged to suit your convenience.

STREET FLOOR

DAVISON-PAXON CO.
ATLANTA · affiliated with MACY'S, New York

Clearance of Boys' Shoes!

$1.39

Formerly up to $4! Solid Black, Solid Tan, Sport Combinations! Sizes 2 to 6, But Not Every Size In Every Style!

MEZZANINE

GEORGE MUSE CLOTHING CO.
"The Style Center of the South"

DIAMOND
Engagement and Wedding Rings
Noted for Quality and Style
Exceptional Values Now Available
Convenient Payment Plan If Desired
Myron E. Freeman & Bro.
JEWELERS 103 PEACHTREE ST.

Permanent Wave $2

COMPLETE! NO EXTRAS! Including Shampoo and Finger Wave
All the Curls You Need
FINGER WAVE.....25c
SHAMPOO 25c
"Summer, Winter, Spring or Fall, A Victoire Wave's the best of all."
MAISON VICTOIRE
183½ Peachtree St., N. E.
Phone JA. 9378

WEDDING INVITATIONS
RECEPTION AND VISITING CARDS · ANNOUNCEMENTS
Write for Samples and Prices
J. P. STEVENS ENGRAVING CO.
103 PEACHTREE STREET, ATLANTA, GA.

"HER SECRET"
"No-Bak" Brassiere for formal or informal occasions. Also worn under backless bathing suits.
EAGER & SIMPSON
24 Cain Street, N. E.

HANAN'S
FINAL CLEARANCE
WOMEN'S SHOES
$3.95 and $5.85
Prices are mounting. It will pay you to buy several pairs of Hanan quality shoes now. White models and other cool leathers included.
"All Men's Shoes Are Also on Sale."
"Group Men's Smart Sport Shoes, $3.95."
HANAN & SON
170 Peachtree St., N. W.

Refined Simplicity
—in a 5-piece
STERLING TEA SET
The "Puritan"—by Gorham
This very, very heavy silver set, with its simple lines of beauty, its air of graciousness, its elegance and dignity, its subtle aristocracy, is one to grace the finest table. Designed by Gorham for those who really recognize true value.
$173.25

The "Antique" Sterling Set of five pieces is also of very heavy silver. It is another graceful and dignified service, similar to the one above, but Colonial in spirit and in style.
$125

The "Colonial" Tea Set bespeaks in heavy gleaming silver the sturdy stock, the courageous character, the unassuming dignity of the people of that generation!
$125

MAIER & BERKELE, Inc.
Jewelers—111 Peachtree

Miss Owens and Dixon Hall Wed At Home Ceremony in Royston

ROYSTON, Ga., July 15.—The marriage of Miss Marjorie Owens to Dixon Winter Hall, of Atlanta, was solemnized here this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at a quiet home ceremony in the presence of relatives and a few close friends. The Rev. D. Matheson, pastor of the Royston Baptist church, assisted by the Rev. John L. Hall, father of the bridegroom and pastor of the Ringgold Methodist church, officiated.

The living room of the home was beautifully decorated by Miss Mildred McWhorter and Mrs. D. T. Barnes. Ferns and palms were combined with floor baskets filled with bright-hued garden flowers to lovely effect. Crape myrtle and Queen Anne's lace featured the decorations and an arrangement of southern smilax formed a background in the east end of the living room for the bridal party. On either side of the improvised altar were seven-branched candelabra holding white tapers, which were lighted by Miss Maurine Owens, sister of the bride.

Before the ceremony Miss Gertrude Crane, a friend of the bride since college days, sang "At Dawning" and "I Love You Truly," accompanied by Miss Monta L. Hall, sister of the bridegroom.

The couple entered to the strains of the wedding march from "Lohengrin," and during the ring ceremony "Love's Pleadings" was played softly. Mrs. Lawson McConnell kept the bride's book.

The brunet beauty of the bride was emphasized by her dark brown traveling ensemble of matelasse, a Jean Patou model, with accessories to match. She wore a shoulder spray of Talisman rosebuds and lilies of the valley.

The bride is the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Columbus H. Owens, of Royston. Her sister is Miss Maurene Owens, of Atlanta, and her brothers are Ted, Seymour and Winston Owens, of Royston. She finished Piedmont College in the class of 1929 and has done graduate work at Duke University. For the past four years she has been a member of the faculty of Nelson High school. Her striking beauty and graciousness have won for her a host of friends throughout the state.

The bridegroom is the son of the Rev. and Mrs. John L. Hall, of Ringgold, Ga. Miss Manita Hall, of the Fulton county school system, and Miss Monta L. Hall, of Ringgold, are his sisters. He was educated at Young Harris College and Emory University, and has been connected with The Constitution for the past ten years.

The bride and bridegroom left by motor for a short wedding trip, after which they will reside at 952 Blue Ridge avenue, N. E., in Atlanta.

Miss De Journette Weds Mr. Morris At Church Rites in Athens, Tenn.

ATHENS, Tenn., July 15.—Miss Gladys De Journette became the bride of J. Alton Morris at a beautiful ceremony solemnized at the First Methodist church here Tuesday at noon. Dr. R. H. Robb, of Epworth, Ga., read the marriage service, assisted by the Rev. N. W. Kuykendall, pastor of the Athens Presbyterian church.

Ferns and palms massed the rear of the chancel of the church and silhouetted against the background of foliage were tall, graceful urns filled with Queen Anne's lace.

The program of wedding music was rendered by Miss Margaret Hoback, organist; Misses Helen Lockmiller and Elizabeth Spahr, violinists, all of Athens; Miss Jessie Johnson, of Maryville, Tenn., and Mrs. Bruce Leslie, of Knoxville, soloists.

The ushers were Dr. M. F. Stubbs, of Athens, and Emmett Weeks, of Copperhill, Tenn. Miss Lucy Lee Kuykendall acted as maid of honor, and little Miss Joy Stubbs was the flower girl.

The bride was given in marriage by her cousin, J. F. De Journette, of Rome, Ga., and they were met at the altar by the bridegroom and his brother, Guy Morris, of Anderson, S. C., who acted as best man.

The maid of honor wore pale pink mousseline de soie, girdled in blue ribbon, and a wide-brimmed, blue straw hat trimmed in pink. She carried a bouquet of pastel-tinted garden flowers. Little Miss Stubbs wore a frock of salmon pink net and carried a miniature bouquet of garden flowers.

Lovely Bride.

The lovely young bride chose a wedding gown of filmy white mousseline de soie, fashioned with puffed sleeves, a V-neck line, softly fitted tucked bodice, and a slight train at the back. Her veil was of white tulle, trimmed with real lace and orange blossoms, and she carried a sheath of calla lilies.

Immediately after the ceremony Mrs. Sarah Emily Stone, mother of the bride, entertained the bridal party, relatives and a few close friends at a wedding breakfast at the Robert E. Lee hotel. The bride's book was kept by Miss Jessie Johnson.

Mr. and Mrs. Morris left for a wedding trip by motor, spend the rest of the Georgia and Tennessee. They will summer in In the fall they will go to Louisville, Ky., where Mr. Morris will enter the Baptist Theological Seminary. Before entering the seminary they will visit the World's Fair in Chicago.

The bride is the only daughter of Mrs. Sarah Emily Stone and the late J. R. De Journette, a native of Rome, Ga. Her mother was formerly Miss Sarah Emily Johnston, of Ellijay, Ga., daughter of Benjamin Mitchell Johnston and Lula Black Johnson. The bride's brothers are J. R. and Joyce P. De Journette, of Los Angeles, Cal.

Mrs. Morris is a graduate of G. S. C. W. in Milledgeville and of Vanderbilt University, Nashville, Tenn., where she received her M. A. degree. She is a member of the Gamma Phi Beta sorority.

Native Georgian.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Morris, of Hartwell, and his brothers are Guy Morris, of Anderson, S. C.; Erwin Morris, of Tampa, Fla., and Clell Morris, Kermit and George Morris, all of Hart county. His sisters are Mrs. F. W. Cleveland and Mrs. Denver Fleming, also of Hart county.

Mr. Morris is a graduate of Mercer University and the University of Georgia. He has been superintendent of the high school at Winterville, Ga., for the past several years, and has also served churches in Hart county and other counties.

The guests from a distance attending the wedding were Miss Jessie Johnson, Maryville, Tenn.; Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Leslie, Knoxville, Tenn.; Mrs. A. A. Morris and Mr. and Mrs. Butler Morris, of Hartwell, Ga.; Mr. and Mrs. Guy Morris, of Anderson, S. C.; Mr. and Mrs. J. F. De Journette and Miss Ann De Journette, Rome, Ga.; Mrs. Iva Reese and Mrs. James Stiles, of LaFayette, Ga.; Misses Helen McCay, Katherine McCay, Ida Belle Thomason, Clough Wallace, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Wynn, Emmett Weeks, Fred German, Mrs. Fred Shelton, of Copperhill, Tenn.; Miss Marguerite Kollock, Knoxville; Dr. R. H. Robb, Epworth, Ga.

Talented Children Will Dance at Railway Mail Association Convention Held Here on July 19

Misses Regina Manetta, Eleanor Hicks, Doris Fowler and Marjorie Gross, who will take part on the program of the fourth division of the Railway Mail Association convention to be held at the Ansley hotel July 19. These talented children are pupils of the Gordon-Epply School of Dancing and will be featured in an exquisitely rendered costume dance.

The fourth division of the Railway Mail Association will hold a convention at the Ansley hotel on July 20-21, and 100 or more delegates and visitors are expected from the five states. The following distinguished guests are expected: Senator Richard B. Russell Jr.; Congressmen Robert Ramspeck and John S. Wood; assistant to vice president of Southern Railway system, P. J. Schardt; second assistant postmaster-general, W. W. Hewes; general superintendent railway mail service, A. A. Fisher; superintendent fourth division railway mail service, W. H. Riddell; national president Railway Mail Association, W. M. Collins; fourth division president, E. F. Chilton, and Mayor James L. Key.

On Wednesday evening, July 19, the woman's auxiliary to the Atlanta branch of the Railway Mail Association will have a reception for the visitors on the roof garden of the Ansley hotel. Pupils from Gordon-Epply School of Dancing will render a program of dancing and songs after which an orchestra with blues singers will furnish music for dancing. On Thursday, July 20, at 12:30 o'clock, a luncheon for the lady visitors will be held by the auxiliary members at Peacock Alley, after which a tour of Atlanta's most interesting places. On Thursday, July 20, the Georgia branch, as host to the convention, will give a dinner-dance on the Ansley roof at 8 o'clock, in honor of the delegates and visitors to the convention. The convention will adjourn Friday, July 21 at noon.

The fourth division is composed of Georgia, Florida, Alabama, South Carolina and Tennessee. Mrs. J. B. King is president of the Atlanta auxiliary to the R. M. A., and the entertainment committee includes Mesdames E. B. Goodwin, E. D. Adams, E. B. Townsend, J. B. King, E. H. Adams, F. J. Terrell and G. W. Suratt. Mesdames E. B. Goodwin and E. D. Adams are in charge of publicity for the auxiliary.

PERSONALS

Lieutenant Thomas Joseph Brennen Jr., United States army, and Mrs. Brennen announce the birth of a son at the station hospital at Fort McPherson on Friday, July 14. Mrs. Brennen was formerly Miss Doris Macklin, daughter of Major Walter F. Macklin, United States army, and Mrs. Macklin. The baby is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Joseph Brennen, of New York.

***

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Bartee will return today after a fortnight's visit in New York.

***

Captain Edwin C. Aldridge, United States army, has been detailed for duty with the civilian conservation corps at Camp Beauregard, La.

***

Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Boston and Mr. and Mrs. Osborne S. Barnett have returned after a three weeks' stay at Daytona Beach, Fla.

***

Mrs. P. J. Bloomfield and son, Joe Bloomfield; Mrs. John M. Graham and children, and Miss Dorothy Wallace are spending July at Daytona Beach, Fla.

***

Miss Martha Wright left Friday for Savannah, where she is visiting her aunt, Mrs. Noel B. Wright.

***

Misses Harriett Grant and Betsy Weyman are spending the week-end at Highlands, N. C., as guests of Miss Mary Ann Carr at the cottage of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clark Howell.

***

Mr. and Mrs. Walter S. Dillon and their daughter, Miss Virginia Dillon, have returned from Daytona Beach, Fla., where they spent some time.

***

Miss Florence Young left yesterday for a two-week trip to Chicago, Ill., and the Ozark mountains.

***

Mr. and Mrs. Earle Greer have returned to Atlanta after a several weeks' stay at Daytona Beach, Fla.

***

Miss Erline Ledbetter, of Augusta, is visiting relatives in Atlanta.

***

R. Walden, Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Hughes, E. D. Bottom, Miss Hazel Gleason, Miss Eloise Robinson, of Atlanta, were recent guests of Signal Mountain hotel at Signal Mountain, Tennessee.

***

Miss Frances Lancaster is in Vienna, where she is visiting Mrs. O. L. Arnold.

***

Mrs. Charles A. Sissons and Miss Mollie Bostwick motored to Warm Springs yesterday to visit the Misses Joseph, of Columbus, who have a cottage at this resort.

***

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin F. Johnson and Louis Gholston are at Sea Island Beach, Fla., where they have taken possession of a cottage for the month of July.

***

Rev. P. C. Oliver and Mrs. Oliver, of Winfield, Ala., were the recent guests of relatives in West End.

***

Mrs. Nelia Smith has returned to Lanett, Ala., after spending several days with her son and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Smith, on Peeples street in West End.

***

Miss Grace McGahee, of College Park, was the guest of Miss Frances Pittman last week.

***

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. McGahee leave at an early date for a ten-day stay at Indian Springs.

***

Loren Williams has returned to Winfield, Ala., after visiting relatives in West End.

***

Miss Elsye Reeves has returned to West Point after visiting her aunt, Mrs. J. H. McGahee, and other relatives in West End.

***

Mrs. G. T. Johnson, of Langdale, Ala., was a visitor in the city last week.

***

Miss Dorothy Fugitt, who has been attending the University of Southern California, is acting as instructor in swimming and camp craft at Camp Estelle, near Camp Baldy, Cal.

Miss Marion Fugitt returns Monday after a two-year stay in California, where she has been attending the University of California at Los Angeles. En route she visited friends at Chicago, Ill., and attended the Century of Progress Exposition. She visited her aunt, Mrs. F. W. Taylor, at her home in Memphis and is now visiting Mrs. William Gilliam at her home in that city.

***

Miss Katherine Cooper leaves today for Savannah beach, where she will visit Mrs. T. E. Raht, of Columbus, Georgia.

***

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Watts, of Miami, Fla., are visiting Mr. and Mrs. P. C. Taylor, at their home at 25 Demorest avenue.

***

Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Lance, of Pulaski, Tenn., are visiting Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Lance, on Bonnie Brae avenue, in Capitol View.

***

Miss Claudia Eberhardt and Hubert Eberhardt, of Anderson, S. C., are visiting their grandmother, Mrs. A. S. Eberhardt, in West End.

***

Mrs. H. J. Lott and son, Dean Lott, of Hoschton, Ga., were the guests of Mrs. A. C. Hosch this week.

***

F. W. Gies, of Knoxville, Tenn., is spending several days in the city.

***

Colonel M. C. Maxwell and Mrs. Maxwell, with their twin daughters, Misses Elizabeth Maxwell and Eugena Maxwell, of Seattle, Wash., are visitors in the city.

***

Dr. and Mrs. James A. Wood will return to Atlanta on Sunday from Brevard, N. C., where they spent several weeks at the Franklin hotel. Dr. and Mrs. Wood left in January for the east, where Dr. Wood visited the medical clinics. They will stay at the Georgian Terrace and will be joined by their daughter, Miss Virginia Marshall.

***

Professor and Mrs. K. P. Kimbrough, of Blanton, Ala., announce the birth of a son on July 11, whom they have named Kuner Patterson Jr. Mrs. Kimbrough was formerly Miss Alethia Mae Gibson, of Phoenix City, Alabama.

***

Mrs. Edward Beck, of Montreal, Canada; Arthur Carpenter, Ralph Sherrell, Henry Toombs, of Warm Springs, Ga., and J. A. Smithies, of New York city, are at the Biltmore.

***

Joseph Bosworth, after a visit to the Century of Progress Exposition, has gone to Silver Springs, Md., where he will visit Mr. and Mrs. Laurence Greene for the remainder of the summer.

***

Miss Elizabeth Thompson is spending the week-end at Lakemont, where she is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Harry Thompson Jr.

***

Mrs. George W. Forrester left Friday for Wrightsville Beach, N. C., where she will visit Mrs. D. H. Lippitt.

***

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert E. Choate and Mrs. William L. Plummer and Beatrice Choate Plummer are spending a week or so at their camp, Wildacres, in the Wayah valley, near Franklin, N. C.

***

Mrs. Drury Powers, Horace Powers, Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Davis and children, Shirley and Virginia Davis, are home again after a three-week visit to the mountains of Virginia.

***

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Burson are spending several days at High Hampton Inn and Country Club, Cashiers, North Carolina.

***

Miss Avery Coffin has been attending the national convention of Kappa Delta sorority being held in Demidji, Minnesota. Miss Coffin is president of the Alpha Tau chapter of Kappa Delta at Oglethorpe University. At the conclusion of the convention, Miss Coffin left for Chicago, Ill., from there she will leave for the east, and will visit in New York, Philadelphia and Baltimore.

***

Misses Louise and Sara Marchman leave today for a two-week visit to Atlantic Beach and Daytona Beach, Florida.

***

Mrs. Harry J. Crider and her daughter, Miss Marjorie Crider, are at Daytona Beach, Fla.

***

Misses Frances Brown and Dorothy Du Tuis, of Warrenton, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Earl McMurria at their home on Rumson road.

***

Mrs. Edythe M. Preacher and her little daughter, Edythe Frances Preacher, are at Daytona Beach, Fla.

***

Mr. and Mrs. James R. Smith, with their sons, Bobbie and Courtland, are visiting their sister, Mrs. Charles Nunnally at her cottage at Sea Island.

***

Ten members of the Jolly Play Club are spending this week-end at Camp Dixie for Girls, Clayton, Ga. The young girls making the trip are Peggy Gregg, Jean Fraser, Vincencia Allen Shippe, Elizabeth George, Elizabeth Jetton, Lois Jackson, Virginia Hopkins, Frances Moseley, Margaret Carson and Anne Black. They were accompanied by Miss Lucy Marvin Adams, Miss Lucia Moseley and Mrs. Phil L. Engle.

***

Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Bowden have returned from a ten-day visit to relatives and friends in Miami and Tampa, Fla., and were accompanied to Atlanta by their niece, Miss Nell Davant, of Miami, who will spend several weeks with her relatives on Ponce de Leon place.

***

Miss Edna Rufty, a niece of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Leatherman, left last week by motor with Mrs. B. B. McCoy and Misses Margaret McCoy and Edith McCoy, for a visit to the Century of Progress Exposition in Chicago, Ill.

***

Mrs. Lewis M. Little and son, Lewis M. Little Jr., of Anniston, Ala., are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Meador, at their home on Peachtree street. Mrs. Little is the former Miss Sarah Meador.

***

Mrs. Gilbert Farrar Butler, of Roanoke, Va., is visiting her sister, Mrs. Felix Eugene De Golian at her home on Peachtree street.

***

Mrs. T. M. Clarke and her son, T. M. Clarke Jr., have returned to Macon, after spending several days with Mrs. M. E. Langston at her home on Ponce de Leon place.

***

Miss Margaret Beasley, who underwent an operation for appendicitis Monday at the Phoebe Putney Memorial hospital in Albany, has been removed to the home of her parents, Dr. and Mrs. B. T. Beasley, 884 Virginia avenue, N. E.

***

Miss Thyrza Perry is in New York city where she is registered at the Panhellenic hotel.

***

Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Watson have returned from a stay of three weeks in Florida, stopping at Daytona Beach and visiting relatives at Miami.

***

Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Stevenson and their daughter, Miss Virginia Pringle Stevenson, are spending a month's vacation at Daytona Beach, Fla.

***

Miss Carolyn Stokes, of Tampa, Fla., is visiting her sisters, Mrs. W. T. McCollister Jr., 1025 Bellevue drive, N. E., and Mrs. W. F. Catron, 860 Briarcliff road, N. E.

Meetings

Sewing Club of Georgia Chapter No. 127, O. E. S., meets Wednesday afternoon, July 19, in the band stand in Grant's park at 2 o'clock. Members are requested to bring sandwiches.

Grant Park Chapter No. 178, O. E. S., meets Thursday evening, July 20, at 8 o'clock in Grant Park Masonic temple, 464 Cherokee avenue, S. E. Members of the order are invited.

Women's Auxiliary to Betty Harrison Jones chapter of the Disabled American Veterans of the World War meets Tuesday evening at the Ansley hotel at 7:30 o'clock.

Dr. T. J. Cauley, professor of economics at Emory University, will speak at a meeting of the Atlanta Agnes Scott Club to be held at the home of Mrs. S. E. Thatcher at 898 Lullwater road, N. E., on Tuesday, July 18, at 3:30 o'clock. Mrs. Clifton S. Shiflett's group of the entertainment committee will be in charge and an invitation is extended to Agnes Scott graduates.

Study Club of the Fifth District of Georgia State Nurses' Association meets Thursday evening, July 20, at 8 o'clock in the Georgia ballroom of the Henry Grady hotel. The last two lectures on parliamentary law by Miss Van De Vrede will be given Tuesday and Wednesday, July 18 and 19, at 2 to 4 o'clock in parlor A, Henry Grady hotel.

Cascade Chapter No. 274, O. E. S., meets Tuesday evening, July 18, at 8 o'clock in the Oakland City Masonic hall, 1171 Lee street, S. W.

Electa Chapter No. 6 meets Tuesday evening, July 18, at 8 o'clock in Red Men's wigwam, 160 Central avenue, S. W.

Lakewood Chapter No. 162, O. E. S., meets Thursday evening, July 20, at 8 o'clock in Masonic temple, Lakewood Heights.

Rose Croix Chapter No. 257, O. E. S., meets Monday evening, July 17, at 8 o'clock in the Morningside Masonic temple, 1582 1-2 Piedmont road at Boulevard.

Mary E. La Rocca Grove, Supreme Forest Woodmen Circle, meets Tuesday evening, July 18, at 8 o'clock in the Klan Hall in East Point.

Garden division of the Civic Club of West End meets Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock, July 19, in the clubrooms, 1115 Gordon street. Mrs. L. A. Hollingsworth, chairman, presiding. A feature will be "The Century of Progress Exposition," to be given by Mrs. Walter Lamb, a member of the garden division who has recently returned from Chicago. Members are requested to bring specimens for their customary miniature flower display. Flower lovers and members of the club are invited. Mesdames J. M. Griffith, R. L. Ramey, Earle Stanford and L. C. Drew will be hostesses for the tea to be given Friday, July 21.

Cedartown Rites Unite Prominent Couple.

CEDARTOWN, Ga., July 15.—The marriage of Miss Leah Bradford Dodds, of Cedartown, to Sam McGowan, of Cartersville, was solemnized at the First Presbyterian church in Cedartown on Wednesday afternoon at 5:30 o'clock. Rev. Harry Petersen performed the ceremony.

Prior to the ceremony a program of nuptial music was rendered. Mrs. George Vance played "Sweet Evening Star." "The Melody of Love" and during the ceremony she rendered "Traumerei." Mrs. Lucy Hackney sang "Sweetest Story Ever Told," "At Dawning." Mrs. Vance and Mrs. Hackney played Mendelssohn's "Wedding March" as a duet for the recessional.

The lovely bride entered with her uncle, James C. Walker, of Cedartown, who gave her in marriage. She was gowned in apricot mousseline de soie with brown accessories, and carried a bouquet of Talisman roses showered with valley lilies and tied with brown tulle. The bridegroom had his brother, John McGowan, of Rome, as best man. Little Misses Margaret Stiles, of Cartersville, and Louise Peterson, of Cedartown, were the flower girls. Ed Graves and Henry Bradford were ushers.

An informal reception was held at the home of the bride's mother immediately following the ceremony for the wedding party and the two families. The bride's traveling suit was blue sheer mesh with blue accessories. Following a wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. McGowan will be at home in Cartersville, where he holds a responsible position as manager of the Southern Cotton Oil Company.

The bride is a graduate of the Cedartown High school and attended Queen College in Charlotte, N. C. She is the daughter of the late John W. Dodds and Mrs. Margaret Walker Dodds, of Cedartown; and has one sister, Miss Pauline Bailey, of Cedartown, and two brothers, John W. Dodds, of Cedartown, and Joseph H. Dodds, of Cleveland, Ohio. She is a niece of Mrs. William Bradford, of Atlanta; Mrs. Ross Marchman and James C. Walker, of Cedartown.

Mr. McGowan was educated at the University of Georgia. He is the son of the late Dr. and Mrs. J. F. McGowan, who were natives of South Carolina. His sisters are Mrs. Wesley Roberts, Mrs. R. M. Stiles and Miss Mary Lou McGowan; and his brothers are W. D., H. S., V. R., Homer and John McGowan.

1930 Matrons' Club Invited to Lakemont.

Members of 1930 Matrons' Club will spend the week-end of July 22 with Mrs. J. P. Wall at her summer home at Lakemont, Ga. Mrs. Wall was appointed grand electa of state of Georgia and others to receive appointments were Mesdames Myrtice McCrary, Bessie Mayo, Katherine Webb, Annie Mae Jacks, Ruth McDuffie and Cora Blackwood. The members are requested to call the president, Mrs. Cora Blackwood, and let her know who are going.

Jackson—Askew.

CULVERTON, Ga., July 15.—Mr. and Mrs. P. L. Jackson, of Culverton, Ga., announce the marriage of their daughter, Miss Mildred Francis Jackson, to Ernest Askew, which took place on Saturday, July 8, in Mayfield, Ga.

Evangeline Carter Will Be Presented In Recital

Mrs. Morgan Stephens and Mrs. Lillian Rogers Gilbreath will present Evangeline Carter, who is 12 years of age, of Thomaston, Ga., in a violin and piano recital at the Morgan-Stephens Conservatory studios, in Atlanta, on Monday evening, July 17, at 8 o'clock. Mrs. R. L. Carter, Evangeline's mother, will play piano accompaniments for her daughter. Robert Guy, baritone of the King Voice studios, accompanied by Herbert Burrows, of the conservatory, will sing several songs.

Little Miss Evangeline Carter has accomplished much for her age with her musical studies, first in her own home town of Thomaston, under the capable instruction in piano of her mother, and violin under Mrs. Martha Smith Butler. Evangeline spends three to four hours a day in practice and lessons and with her recital on the 17th will complete a six weeks' summer course in Atlanta under the instruction of Mesdames Gilbreath and Stephens. She has won several prizes in music and was winner recently in sightreading class B and for the best musical scrapbook at Macon, Ga., in a contest conducted by the Federated Music Clubs.

Her program in Atlanta will include compositions by Bach, Chopin, Handel, MacDowell, Kreisler, Grieg and others. The public is invited to hear this talented young artist, and no charge will be made for admission.

Cheshire—Steele.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer M. Cheshire announce the marriage of their daughter, Sara Elizabeth, to William Fortson Steele Jr., the ceremony having taken place Wednesday, July 12, in Atlanta.

Cooley—Holley.

Of interest to their friends is the marriage of Miss Ina Cooley, attractive daughter of Mrs. J. P. Cooley, to Lemuel Thompson Holley Jr., son of Mrs. L. T. Holley Sr., which was solemnized Saturday evening, July 8, at 8:30 o'clock, at the home of Rev. V. L. Bray, who performed the ceremony in the presence of a few friends. The young couple will reside at the home of the bride's mother.

Garden Party.

Members of the 1932 Matrons' Club, O. E. S., and their escorts will be entertained at a garden party at the home of Mrs. Mortie Stanley, 234 Superior avenue, Decatur, Wednesday evening, July 19, at 8 o'clock. Mrs. Mortie Stanley and Mrs. Willie Smith will be hostesses.

The members are urged to be present and requested to advise Mrs. Stanley whether they will attend.

WHITE BAGS

REDUCED!

all $2.98 white bags

Now $1.98

all $4.98 white bags

Now $2.98

Street Floor

J. P. ALLEN & CO.

The Store All Women Know

CLEARANCE

In Allen's Children's Shop
Third Floor

at 79c

BOYS' $1.98 WASH SUITS
Sizes 1 to 7

BOYS' $1.50 BLOUSES
Sizes 4 to 8

BOYS' $1.50 WASH SHORTS
Sizes 4 to 12

BOYS' $1.98 SHIRTS
Sizes 8 to 14

at $1.00

CHILDREN'S SWEATERS
Coat and Slip-on styles . . . for boys and girls . . . sizes 4 to 16 . . . values to $3.98

at 1/2 price

INFANTS' Carriage Sets . . . Blankets . . . Comforts . . . Shawls . . . Handmade Sheets . . . Pillow Cases . . . Dresses . . . Caps . . . Satin-covered Pillows . . . Spreads . . . Coats . . . Wrappers . . . Sacques . . . Shoes . . . Shirts . . . Bands . . .

Formerly $1.00 to $25.00
Now 50c to $12.50

J. P. ALLEN & CO.

The Store All Women Know

as exciting as strawberries in December . . .

SATIN

. . . . in July!

Eisenberg model sketched, black satin with white satin blouse. $39.75

It's positively intoxicating to look sleek and dark and smooth, when everybody else is beginning to be a bit draggled and rumpled in wash silks and linens. It's fun to put on your brand new, shiny, black satin frock and be a jump ahead of the other girls. And if you use white accessories (see Vogue, July 15, page 42) you'll be too marvelous for words!

$16.75 to $39.75

Second Floor

J. P. ALLEN & CO.

The Store All Women Know

Miss Hewlett Weds Dr. Latta At Lovely Home Ceremony

The marriage of Miss Mary Stewart Hewlett and Dr. Robert Edward Latta was solemnized Saturday evening at 8 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Hewlett, 1162 Oakdale road, in Druid Hills. Dr. Wallace Rogers, pastor of the Glenn Memorial Methodist church, performed the ceremony in the presence of the immediate families and close friends. Dr. Rogers was assisted by Dr. J. Sprole Lyons, of the First Presbyterian church.

Wedding Decorations.

An improvised altar of palms and ferns was erected in the long living room and glossy foliage plants flanked the central decoration formed of white gladiolus and swainsonia. A seven-branch candelabra holding white tapers arose from the center of the bank of green palms and single candelabra showered with swainsona were placed at either side.

Preceding the ceremony a program of nuptial music was rendered by Mrs. Nolan A. Goodyear, pianist, and George Allen, soloist. Mrs. Goodyear played the bridal chorus from "Lohengrin" as the processional and during the marriage service she rendered "To a Wild Rose," by McDowell. Mr. Allen sang "At Dawning" and "Until."

Mrs. Julian K. Quattlebaum, of Savannah, was the matron of honor and she wore a becoming gown of French blue lace and carried a bouquet of pastel shaded garden flowers tied with pink satin ribbons. Misses Susan Pierce and Frances Knott held white satin ribbons which formed an aisle for the bride to enter on her way to the altar.

Bride Enters.

The lovely bride entered with her father, R. D. Hewlett, by whom she was given in marriage, and they were met at the altar by the bridegroom and his best man, Fitzhugh Knox Jr. She was a beautiful figure in her wedding gown of French angel skin lace, the white gown enhancing her brunet beauty. The bodice was fitted and the sleeves achieved wide puffs above the elbow and formed long cuffs which fell below the wrists. The skirt was of floor length and she wore a small hat of tulle graced with a ribbon bow caught at the front with a rhinestone clip. Her sandals were white and she carried an exquisite bouquet of Johanna Hill roses and valley lilies tied with white satin ribbons.

Mr. and Mrs. Hewlett entertained at an informal reception. Mrs. Hewlett was assisted in entertaining by Mesdames Ben Bostain, of Tallahassee, Fla.; George E. Knott, Logan Thomson, Manget Davis and Misses Irene Scott, Susan Pearce and Frances Knott. Miss Sarah Knott kept the bride's book. Mrs. Hewlett, mother of the bride, was gowned in black lace with a yoke of flesh lace and she wore a corsage of orchids.

Dr. Latta and his bride left for a short wedding trip. Mrs. Latta chose for her going-away gown a smart two-piece early fall model of black satin with collar and cuffs of white silk pique. Her small hat of black satin was trimmed with a white satin bow. Her accessories were of black patent leather and white trimmings and she wore a corsage of gardenias.

Upon their return Dr. and Mrs. Latta will reside at Valencia, 365 Peachtree Battle avenue, the handsome home Dr. Latta recently purchased for his lovely bride.

P.-T. A. Institute Program Given For Athens, Ga.

ATHENS, Ga., July 15.—The National Parent-Teacher institute sponsored by Georgia Congress of Parents and Teachers through the co-operation of the University of Georgia, represented by Dr. J. S. Stewart, will be held at Dawson hall, University of Georgia, in Athens, July 17, 18, 19, under the auspices of the Athens city council of P.-T. A. Mrs. R. H. Hankinson, of McDonough, is president of the state group and Mrs. W. I. Flanagan is chairman of the institute.

The Monday morning program has for its topic, "Our Background."

Presiding, Mrs. Hankinson; registration, devotional, Rev. J. C. Wilkinson; For Every Child a School." Mrs. R. H. Hankinson; greetings from the Athens Congress of Parents and Teachers, Mrs. W. I. Flanagan and Mrs. W. S. Rice; "Our National and Georgia Congress Background," Mrs. Charles E. Roe, field secretary, National Congress of Parents and Teachers; "The Place of the Parent-Teacher Movement in Education," Dr. Gordon Singleton; "Our State, District and Council Background," Mrs. Charles E. Roe; question box on morning topic; "School Problems in Georgia." Superintendent Ralph Newton; intermission for lunch, college cafeteria.

Monday afternoon the topic will be "Meeting the Present Crisis in Education."

Presiding, Mrs. Hankinson. "How a Parent-Teacher Association Can Help the County School Superintendent," Superintendent M. D. Collins; "How the P.-T. A. Can Help the City Superintendent," Assistant Superintendent H. Reid Hunter, of Atlanta; "Our Members," Mrs. Charles E. Roe; "How Obtained, Who They Are, How Informed, Information Needed"; "Why G. E. A. Needs Help of P.-T. A.," President M. R. Little; recreation, swimming, games, Physical Education hall; dinner to P.-T. A. by the summer quarter, Dawson hall; music by the music department.

Tuesday morning, July 18, the topic will be "Our Leader."

Presiding, Mrs. Charles Center, chairman of flying squadron and chairman of institute; devotional, Rev. John Tate; "For Every Child His Chance," Kyle T. Alfriend, Macon, secretary, G. E. A.; "Our Leaders," Mrs. Roe. "Who Shall Lead, How Discovered, Qualifications for Leaders"; "How the P.-T. A. Can Help in Developing Fine Citizenship," Hon. Hugh Howell; "Duties of Officers," Mrs. Roe, "Variation in Leadership Training, Tests of Leadership;" question box on morning topic; message from Dr. J. S. Stewart; intermission for lunch.

Tuesday afternoon the program features Mrs. W. I. Flanagan, presiding; group singing, "The Children's Charter," Mrs. Charles E. Roe; committees, executive, standing, special; question box on afternoon program; recreation, Physical Education hall; drive and picnic, Country Club; physical education exhibition, Physical Education hall.

Wednesday morning: Mrs. Hankinson presiding; devotional, Rev. L. B. Jones; "For Every School Adequate Support," Dr. E. D. Pusey; "Situation in Program Making," Mrs. Roe; "The Program for School Support," Supervisor M. E. Thompson; "Our Meeting, Our Projects, Our Sources of Help," Mrs. Roe; "Charge to the Congress," Mrs. Hankinson.

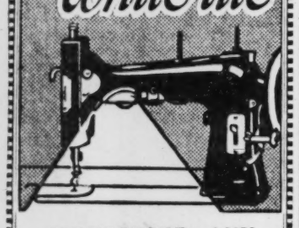

Mrs. Russell Honors Twin Sons at Party.

Mrs. W. H. Russell entertained her twin sons, Herbert and Harold, at a birthday party in honor of their tenth birthday at their home on Tift avenue, Tuesday evening.

A pink and white birthday cake centered the table. Mrs. V. C. Sewell assisted in entertaining.

Those present were Virginia and Juanita Robinson, Mary Callaway, Colleen Sewell, Virginia Heard, Ella Cholsman, Virginia Florence, Catherine Woodward, Gevenia Hutchins, Billy Hall, Dickie Hutchins, Junior Hall, W. H. Russell Jr., Herbert and Harold Russell.

White-lite

MODERNIZE ANY SEWING MACHINE

Fits all machines—quickly and easily attached. Formerly $3.90 ..... $1.95

YOUR SewingMachine

OILED . . . . .
INSPECTED . . . .
ADJUSTED . . . . .

for

$1

NEW PARTS—EXTRA

Any make of machine included—our expert will call and do this service job at $1.00 for a limited time only.

WA. 4636

RICH'S INCORPORATED

Just TRY it . . .

maybe you're one of those people who say "I never take a good photograph"—or maybe you're one of those people who have never been completely satisfied with your photograph—to you especially we say—just try PhotoReflex and see why so many say it's a better way to

Have Your Photograph Taken

1/2 PRICE July Only

An 8x10 picture of you . . REGULARLY $4 . . $2

Proofs Submitted No Appointment Needed

SIXTH RICH'S INCORPORATED FLOOR

Lovely Georgians Become Brides at Summer Ceremonies

The group of attractive Georgia brides presented above includes, top row, left to right, Mrs. Lamar Cowan, of Atlanta, who before her recent marriage was Miss Mary Hall, of Mayfield, Ga.; Mrs. Walter Robert Tinsley, the former Miss Mary Inez Stewart, and Mrs. Jack Cota, of Dubuque, Iowa, who was formerly Miss Bessie Jo Selman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul D. Selman, of Atlanta. Second row, left to right, Mrs. Joseph Willis Adams, of Atlanta, the former Miss Mary Ella Maxwell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Maxwell, of Danville, Ga.; Mrs. William Albert Taylor, the former Miss Mary Russell Gann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rothwell Gann, whose marriage was solemnized at the Center Street Methodist church, and Mrs. Fred Orel Jordan, who before her marriage which took place at the First Methodist church in Lawrenceville, was Miss Mildred Hamilton, of Lawrenceville. At the extreme lower right is a lovely likeness of Mrs. Benjamin G. Fugitt, formerly Miss Lois Mitchell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Mitchell. Her marriage was solemnized at Grace Methodist church. Photos of Mrs. Tinsley and Mrs. Fugitt by Elliott's Peachtree studio; photo of Mrs. Cota by McCrary's Hollywood studio; photograph of Mrs. Adams by Metro studio; Mrs. Taylor's photo by Lewis studio, and Mrs. Jordan's by Thurston Hatcher.

Capitol View Church Provides Setting For Cowart-Frizzelle Wedding Rites

The wedding of Miss Sybil Cowart to Charles Murray Frizzelle was solemnized at 5:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon at the Capitol View Baptist church with Rev. L. E. Smith, pastor of the Woodward Avenue Baptist church, performing the ceremony in the presence of an assembly of friends and relatives.

Mrs. W. L. McDaniel, of Marietta, rendered a program of nuptial music accompanied by Mrs. Carl Lawson at the piano and Hardy Crusselle, violinist. Mrs. McDaniel sang "O, Promise Me" and "At Dawning." "Traumerei" was played during the ceremony.

The chancel of the church was banked with palms before which was arranged a central decoration of white gladioli. Flanking either side of the basket were candelabra holding white burning tapers.

The ushers were Fred Grimes, Kimsey Hudgins, Ernest Conner and Jack C. Simpson. Miss Thelma Cowart, sister of the bride, was her maid of honor. She was beautifully gowned in pink crepe made on princess lines with puffed sleeves. Completing her costume was a pink hat of lace braid with a band of blue and white angel skin ribbon and white accessories. She carried an arm bouquet of pink roses tied with blue ribbon.

Little Miss Jimmie Davis acted as flower girl. She wore a frock of blue crepe and net and carried a basket of rosebuds tied with pink ribbon.

The bride entered the church with her father, William W. Cowart, by whom she was given in marriage. The bride was lovely in her wedding gown of white mousseline de soie fashioned with long flared skirt and short ruffled sleeves. With this was worn a large picture hat of white lace braid with a bow of mousseline de soie. She carried an arm bouquet of bride's roses and valley lilies.

The bridegroom had as his best man John McGregor Jr., of Ailey, Ga.

Following the ceremony, Mr. Frizzelle and his bride left for a wedding trip by motor to the Carolinas. After July 21 Mr. and Mrs. Frizzelle will be at home at 650 Brookline street, southwest.

Brenau Students Release Alchemist.

GAINESVILLE, Ga., July 15.—Brenau Alchemist, summer school newspaper, will be issued Tuesday, July 18, by the following staff: Misses Charleen Loud, of New Britain, Conn., editor-in-chief; Eulalie Matthews, of Moorhead, Miss., society editor; Betty Phillips, of Pittsfield, Mass., and Edith Howard Wills, of Gainesville, feature editors; Dorothy Chamblee, of Gainesville, music editor; Beverly Bailes, of Eustis, Fla., literary editor; Melba Weaver, of Chickasha, Okla., sports editor; Jane Bunker, of Tampa, Fla., and Eugenia Mershon, Gainesville, reporters.

Miss Betsy Baird, of Opa Locha, Fla., and Miss Elleen Star Davis, of Gainesville, summer school students, will represent Brenau in the water carnival sponsored by local citizens. Miss Baird, who holds the senior life-saving certificate, will enter the life-saving exhibition. Miss Davis, who won her senior life-saving certificate at Camp Carolina, Brevard, N. C., will compete in the free style races and diving.

An exhibition of interest to teachers will be held by students in art history, journalism and English classes, of original sketches, foreign color prints, publications and booklets next week in the Butler building classrooms, beginning Tuesday, July 18.

Summer school students will contribute volumes to the new "Library of Memories," for the pleasure nook in Brenau library. The books will be autographed and marked with a special book plate. Mrs. Ethel Boothe, of Hawkinsville and Gainesville, is chairman of the committee.

A reading room for summer school students was opened this week in Yonah hall. Misses Louise and Marie Daniel, of Winder, Ga., are volunteer librarians.

Miss Lois Gregg Secor, co-dean of Brenau school of speech, has been elected to the grand council of Zeta Phi Eta, national honorary speech fraternity. Miss Secor was alumnae delegate from Epsilon chapter of Brenau to the recent national convention at Northwestern University.

Miss Sara Holmes, Brenau 1932, has been elected to the faculty of Cox College, where she will teach expression and assist in the office. Miss Holmes was student assistant for three year in the registrar's office at Brenau.

Rev. W. W. Walker Celebrates Birthday.

Rev. W. W. Walker was honor guest at a family picnic dinner Sunday which was served al fresco at the home of the honor guest near Fayetteville, celebrating his 83d birthday anniversary. Mrs. A. H. Slaton, daughter of Rev. Walker, arranged the party, which was attended by a group of relatives. A birthday cake bearing 83 candles graced the center of the table. Little Lorene Griffin and W. M. Warr also celebrated their birthdays.

Guests included Mesdames A. E. Adams, Mac Nesbit, W. E. Vaughn, C. L. Griffin, Emma Griffin, F. M. Spratlin, Misses Mattie Mae Adams, Lizzie Walker, Elsie Walker, Clarice Walker, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Nations, A. R. Cleveland, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Summers, Mary Anne Summers, Oliver Thornburg, Jack Vaughn, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Astin, Alva Astin Jr., Ruth Winner Astin, Mickey Astin, Beverly Astin, Betty Sue Astin, Albert Walker, Oswald Walker, Mrs. R. L. Walker, Claude Walker, Geraldine Walker, "Sonny" Walker, Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Walker, Dennis Walker, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Walker, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Hemperly, Mr. and Mrs. Truss Adams, J. W. Adams, Mr. and Mrs. Estes Adams, Mr. and Mrs. M. Adams, Lawrence Adams, Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Braddy, C. W. Mitchell, Lucile Braddy, Charlie Braddy Jr., G. W. Braddy, Wallace Braddy, Jim Braddy, R. L. Callaway, G. W. Callaway, Thelma Huddleston, Sara Warr, Oswald Griffen, Jewel Davis, Eunice Davis, Charles Davis, Elsie Parrot, Grady Pye, Lexie Mae Banks, Mamie Ruth Banks, Rachel Banks, Carol Banks, Mrs. W. W. Walker, Lorene Griffen and W. M. Warr.

Bride of Summer

Mrs. Lovick H. Williamson, who was Miss Winona Inez Dugger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Dugger, before her marriage which took place recently at the Park Street Methodist church.—Photograph by McCrary's Hollywood Studio.

Miss Boyce Weds Jesse Theo Harris.

A marriage of cordial interest was that of Miss Willie Ethlyn Boyce, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. T. Boyce, of Decatur, and Jesse Theo Harris, of Abanda, Ala., and Atlanta, which was solemnized Saturday, July 15, at 8 o'clock at the manse of Rev. W. E. Crane, in Atlanta, with only a few close friends and relatives present.

Miss Maiva Hollifield served as bridesmaid and Hassel Madden was best man. The bride and bridegroom left for a trip to Chicago, and upon their return they will be at home on West College avenue, in Decatur.

Miss Mary Moore, Of Griffin, Ga., Weds Mr. Sams

GRIFFIN, Ga., July 15.—Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Moore, of Griffin, announce the marriage of their daughter, Miss Mary Moore, to Aubrey Sams, of Woolsey, on Sunday, June 25, in Locust Grove. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. C. C. Heard, pastor of the Second Baptist church, of Griffin, at his home in Locust Grove, with a few friends and relatives of the young couple in attendance.

The bride wore a model of Eleanor blue crepe with a small hat of blue and other accessories of white. She was wearing a shoulder bouquet of pastel-shaded sweet peas. Mr. and Mrs. Sams left on their wedding trip to the mountains of North Georgia, after which they will make their home in Woolsey.

Mrs. Sams attended both Griffin High school and the Spalding High school and later completed her education at the Georgia State College for Women in Milledgeville. For the past year she has been teaching school in Woolsey, where she has made a wide circle of friends who will welcome her as a permanent resident. Mr. Sams is the son of Mr. and Mrs. M. G. Sams, of Woolsey, and is a popular young man. He holds a responsible position in a mercantile establishment in Woolsey.

Of interest is the engagement of Miss Newell Huckaby, of Griffin, and Jesse Pritchett, also of Griffin, which is made by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Huckaby. The wedding will be quietly solemnized in Griffin on September 16.

The attractive bride-elect is a beautiful brunette of charm and individuality. She attended the Spalding High school, where she took a leading part in all school and social activities. She was chosen the most beautiful student in the school and reigned over the Halloween carnival last year as beauty queen. She was one of the few girls ever elected sponsor for the football team for more than one game. She was one of the stars of the basketball team. Miss Huckaby has three sisters, Misses Nova, Elia and Elphia Huckaby, all of Griffin. Her mother was formerly Miss Nona Carter, and her father is a prominent local merchant.

Mr. Pritchett is the son of Mr. and Mrs. D. S. Pritchett, his mother having been Miss Lucy Upshaw, and he is one of the most popular young men in this section. He attended the Barnesville A. & M. school and the Griffin High school, later completing his education at G. I. C. at Barnesville. He was an outstanding athlete, taking part in all forms of athletics featured at each school, and was also a splendid debater. Mr. Pritchett's brothers are Brumbley Pritchett and Lawrence Pritchett, and his sisters are Mrs. Homer McDonald, Miss Josephine Pritchett and Miss Mary Pritchett, all of Griffin. The bridegroom-elect holds a responsible position with the Georgia-Kincaid Mills, of which his father is superintendent.

Miss Annie Ruth Lord and Raymond Noland, both of Griffin, were quietly married Saturday evening at the home of the Rev. A. D. Echols, pastor of the Hanleiter Methodist church, and Mrs. Echols. A few friends witnessed the impressive ring ceremony.

The bride was gowned in a white sport dress worn with a white hat and other accessories of white. Her shoulder bouquet was of rosebuds and silver lace fern. Mr. and Mrs. Noland will make their home at 526 West Solomon street upon their return from their wedding trip.

Mrs. Noland is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Lord and recently moved to Griffin from High Shoals, Ga. She received her education in the Porterdale and High Shoals schools and has been a popular favorite since coming to Griffin. Mr. Noland is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George G. Noland. He attended the Griffin schools and now holds a responsible position with a large manufacturing concern.

Miss Mattison Honors Miss Pharr At Bridge Party in Decatur, Ga.

Miss Daisy Mattison, of Decatur, entertained Saturday at her home on Clairmont avenue, in Decatur, at a bridge party and a gift shower complimenting Miss Addie Pharr, bride-elect. Garden flowers were used in a beautiful arrangement throughout the rooms where the guests were received. Miss Mattison was assisted by Mrs. Charles A. Smith, Mrs. A. W. Mattison and Miss Myrtice Mattison. The guests included Mesdames S. E. Pharr, Ormand Skellie, Marion NeSmith, A. D. Holland, G. T. Webb, J. E. Farrar, J. A. Alford, Marguerite Wemyss, A. W. Mattison, Charles Smith, Misses Blanche Kellett, Carolyn Kellett, Lollie Ruth Kimbrell, Mary Oliver, Ethel Cockrell, Annie Lou Matthews, Mary Lee Marlowe, Myrtice Mattison.

Miss Blanche Kellett was hostess Friday evening at a dinner party at her home on Clairmont avenue in honor of Miss Addie Pharr and Earl T. Story, whose wedding will occur in the late summer.

Miss Margaret Green left last week for New York city and other points in the east.

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Link leave at an early date for Chicago, where Mr. Link is considering a business connection.

Mrs. James F. Brock was hostess Thursday to the members of her club for luncheon.

Mr. and Mrs. K. G. MacDonald left Saturday for a visit to West Virginia.

Mrs. George Watts was hostess Friday at a bridge-tea in honor of Mrs. Eugene Robinson, of Richmond, Va., who is visiting Mrs. Richard Taylor, of Atlanta. The guests were Mesdames J. G. Scrutchin, Roy G. Jones, J. E. Carmack, W. S. Young, C. L. Weekes, W. C. Kirby, W. S. Elkin, Lewis Jones, John Glenn, William Alden, A. B. Burrus and Mrs. Robinson.

Mrs. Louis Estes Sr. entertained at luncheon Thursday in compliment to her daughter, Mrs. Alan Renfrew, of Connecticut. Covers were placed for Mesdames Donald Hastings, Harold Carson, Gus Ware, Eugene Brooks, Miss Mary Brown, Mrs. Renfrew and Mrs. Estes.

Miss Margaret Bryant, of Charlotte, N. C., is the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Bryant.

Mrs. Scott Candler was hostess at a bridge-tea Thursday at her home on Candler street.

Miss Margaret Cox, of Knoxville, Tenn., is visiting Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Norton.

Miss Margaret Foster entertained at luncheon Wednesday for Mrs. Alan Renfrew, of Connecticut, who is visiting her parents, Dr. and Mrs. Louis Estes Sr.

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Williams leave today for a trip to Chicago, Canada and New York.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Wheeler have returned from their wedding trip and are residing on Candler street. Mrs. Wheeler was formerly Miss Virginia Davis.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Hastings and children leave today for Angusta, Ga., where they will attend the wedding of their sister, Miss Alexandrine McDaniel on Tuesday. Mrs. Edwin Davis and two daughters, Misses Josephine and Edwina Davis are spending the summer in Waynesville, N. C.

Ceremony At Dawson Unites Miss Horsley and Mr. Hughes

DAWSON, Ga., July 15.—The marriage of Miss Ethel Horsley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse A. Horsley Jr., to Mrs. William Floyd Hughes, of Greer, S. C., was solemnized at the home of the bride's parents here Saturday afternoon. Rev. A. B. Hawkes, pastor of the Fort Gaines Baptist church, performed the ceremony in the presence of a gathering of friends and relatives.

Southern smilax, ferns, radiance roses, carnations and gladioli were used as decorations throughout the home, and the marriage vows were said before an improvised altar banked with ferns and smilax. Miss Helen Southwell, of Albany, lighted the candles before the entrance of the bridal party. Deming Whiting, of Camilla, sang "I Love You Truly," accompanied by Mrs. Julian Rivers, of that city, at the piano.

Little Genie Dean Paschal carried a white basket filled with rose petals which she scattered in the bride's pathway. She was followed by Master George Leighton Whiting, of Camilla, ring bearer, who carried the ring on a tiny white satin cushion.

The bride and bridegroom entered together, the bride being modishly attired in a dark blue ensemble with matching accessories. She carried an arm bouquet of carnations and valley lilies.

An informal reception followed the ceremony. Assisting in receiving were Mesdames R. L. Saville, J. A. Brim, Emmett Leddon, J. W. Duskin, Lawson Cook, Rogers Locke, Davenport Edwards, John Henry Crouch, G. G. Raines, S. P. Kenyon, H. A. Petty Jr., J. B. Petty and Misses Margaret Wells, Grace Flowers, Margaret Webb, Jewell Baldwin and Bess Duncan.

Mr. and Mrs. Hughes left for a wedding trip, after which they will be at home at Greer, S. C.

The bride is the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Horsley Jr. and a sister of Misses Leila and Frankie Horsley. She graduated from Winthrop College, Rock Hill, S. C., and has taught school in Terrell county, Cairo and Camilla. Mr. Hughes is the son of Mrs. Anna Hughes, of Rock Hill, S. C. He graduated from Clemson College in mechanical engineering and is now connected with the Pacific Mills, at Greer, S. C.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding were H. P. Wynn, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Meriwether, Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Southwell, Miss Helen Southwell, Mrs. W. L. Davis Sr., Mrs. W. L. Davis Jr., Miss Edwina Davis, of Albany; Mr. and Mrs. Dan Hollis, of Rock Hill, S. C.; Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Burt, Mrs. T. A Acree, Mrs J. R Rivers, Miss Elizabeth Hayes, Deming Whiting, Miss Gladys Whiting and George Leighton Whiting, of Camilla, and Miss Grace Flowers, of Parrott.

Miss Sunshine Darling Will Wed Sedric M. Lewis, of Jacksonville, Fla.

WAYCROSS, Ga., July 15.—Of interest to a wide circle of friends in Georgia, Alabama and Florida is the announcement of the engagement of Miss Sunshine Darling, of Waycross, to Sedric Melvin Lewis, of Jacksonville, Fla., the marriage to take place in August.

Miss Darling is the younger daughter of Thomas Jefferson Darling, well-known building contractor of Waycross, and the late Laura LeCount Darling, who was for many years prominently identified with church, civic and educational activity in the state. She is of a striking statuesque type of beauty and possesses a charming personality which has attracted to her many loyal friends. After her graduation from the Waycross High school she attended the Woman's College, of Montgomery, Ala., where she received her A. B. degree. Since leaving college she has made her home with her parents at Darlington, the ancestral home of the family, just outside of Waycross, and at Mountain City, where until the recent death of Mrs. Darling, the family have maintained a summer home.

Mr. Lewis, who is also of a prominent south Georgia family, is the youngest son of the late James Bryant Lewis and Mrs. Lewis. Since his graduation from the Waycross High school he has held a responsible position with the firm of Lewis-Chitty-Consolidated of Florida, having been located in St. Petersburg, Tampa, Cocoa, and at present in Jacksonville.

Atlanta League Plans Program.

Two outstanding events in the orderly procedure of the Atlanta League of Women Voters are used as measuring sticks for the work done during the year. At the annual meeting in January the program for the year is mapped out, and at the end of six months, at the semi-annual meeting, a general check-up is made and the work that has been accomplished is checked off from the work sheet. According to the president of the Atlanta League of Women Voters, Mrs. Sinclair Jacobs, many important things that were on the list to be done have been successfully accomplished. This refers to the three branches of activity, national, state and city. The principles of the League of Women Voters, as expressed by Mrs. Jacobs, are, that the league, after careful study for a year or more, indorses principles, but never candidates, and is absolutely non-partisan, in that both sides of a controversial question are always given.

It was announced that city and county affairs will receive the attention of the women in the league and that an intensive drive for members will be conducted by the chairman, Mrs. Charles Elliott.

Warner—Jansen.

Mrs. Ada E. Warner announces the marriage of her daughter, Mary Frances, to Joseph Jansen, on July 1. The ceremony was performed by the bride's brother, Rev. A. Julian Warner, pastor of Capitol View Presbyterian church, at his home on Erin avenue. Mr. and Mrs. Jansen are at home at 624 Rockmont drive.

Grant Park Club Plans Flower Show

The garden division of the Grant Park Woman's Club announces the following rules for the flower show to be sponsored by the division on Friday afternoon, July 21, at the club rooms at 530 South Boulevard:

Rule 1—Entries not in good condition will be refused; Rule 2—Entries should be carefully labeled and named by the exhibitor, labels may be secured at the club rooms from the committee in charge; Rule 3.—Each exhibitor shall arrange own exhibit in container best suited to show fine points; Rule 4—Positively no exhibitor shall be allowed in showroom during judging; Rule 5.—All entries must be at clubrooms between 11 and 1 o'clock, as judging will be from 2 to 3 o'clock. Show opens from 3 to 5 o'clock. Friends and members of other garden clubs invited.

Prizes will be awarded for exhibits in the following classes: Bush roses, climbing roses, annuals, perennials, lilies, water lilies, artistic arrangement, baskets, pot plants, miniature arrangements and exhibits in pairs.

O. E. S. Anniversary.

Tuesday evening, July 18, Decatur Chapter No. 148, O. E. S., will celebrate its fifteenth birthday anniversary. The past matrons and past patrons of Decatur chapter will be the guests of honor. A committee from the Patrons' Club will act as judges when the worthy patron, George P. McEntire, and the officers will exemplify the initiative work.

ATLANTIC BEACH HOTEL
ATLANTIC BEACH, FLORIDA

SPEND the Spring Months at this modern resort hotel, situated directly on the Ocean Front, 18 miles from Jacksonville.

SURF BATHING
TENNIS
BOATING
MOTORING
GOLF
FISHING FROM HOTEL PIER

Come in your car and drive for miles on the smooth wide Ocean Beach . . . bring your golf clubs, your tennis racquets and your fishing tackle.

Bathe in the Ocean surf or swim in our large Salt Water pool . . . enjoy the excellent meals and the restful comfort of our large airy rooms, all with bath.

Ownership Management-American Plan
Write or wire for rates for your party
W. H. ADAMS, Owner-Manager
Atlantic Beach, Florida

This Page Has Been for a Quarter of a Century the Official Organ of the Georgia Federation

GEORGIA STATE FEDERATION OF WOMEN'S CLUBS

Organized in 1896—Membership 30,000—Joined General Federation in 1896—Motto: "Wisdom, Justice, Moderation"—Club Flower: Cherokee Rose.

PRESIDENT, Mrs. J. W. Gholston, of Comer; first vice president, Mrs. Albert Hill, of Greenville; second vice president, Mrs. E. M. Bailey, of Acworth; recording secretary, Mrs. John Monaghan, of Pelham; corresponding secretary, Mrs. H. B. Ritchie, of Athens; treasurer, Mrs. Morris Bryan, of Jefferson; parliamentarian, Mrs. Howard McCall, of Atlanta; editor, Mrs. Bessie Shaw Stafford; General Federation director in Georgia, Mrs. W. W. Stark, of Commerce; Georgia Federation headquarters, Parlor E, Henry Grady hotel, Atlanta, Telephone MAin 2173; national headquarters, 1734 N street, N. W., Washington, D. C.

DISTRICT PRESIDENTS—First, Mrs. R. M. Girardeau, of Claxton; second, Mrs. A. B. Conger, of Balnbridge; third, Mrs. A. C. Moye Jr., of Cuthbert; fourth, Mrs. Hartford Green, of Zebulon; fifth, Mrs. John F. MacDougald, 94 Pace's Ferry road; sixth, Mrs. S. G. Lang, of Sandersville; seventh, Mrs. Ralph Butler, of Dallas; eighth, Mrs. R. G. Dickerson, of Homerville; ninth, Mrs. H. P. De La Perriere, of Hoschton; tenth, Mrs. Walter Armistead, of Crawford; Mrs. Harvie Jordan, state publicity chairman, Parlor E, Henry Grady hotel.

Club Institute Reviewed by State Federation Publicity Chairman

By MRS. HARVIE JORDAN,
State Chairman of Publicity.

Total registration for the two-day session of Club Institute of Georgia Federation of Women's Clubs was 175, the largest enrollment in the 10 years of the sessions at the University of Georgia, in Athens. Thirty-three Georgia towns were represented and there were three visitors from Florida and one from Washington, D. C. The director of the institute, Mrs. Grace Morrison Poole, is from Brockton, Mass., and is president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs.

In Memorial hall, on the historic college campus, the institute met July 11, with the committee, Mesdames Lamar Rucker, E. D. Pusey and S. V. Sanford in charge. Mrs. Rucker introduced the program which was opened with assembly singing "Georgia Land," directed by Hugh Hodgson, who composed the music to the words by Genie Terrell. To the cordial addresses of welcome by Dr. S. V. Sanford, president of the University of Georgia; Dr. J. S. Stewart, director of summer quarter, and Mrs. R. F. Turner, president Athens Woman's Club, response was made by Mrs. J. W. Gholston, president Georgia Federation of Women's Clubs, who presented the leader, Mrs. Poole.

An interesting report of general federation council held in Richmond was given by Mrs. W. W. Stark, director for Georgia, and was complimented by Mrs. Poole. "Vitamins—a Balanced Diet for Americans and for Club Women," the theme around which the program revolved, was the leader's first subject. Vitamin A—America, suggesting to Mrs. Poole the lines: "America! America! God Shed His Grace on Thee, And Crown Thy Good With Brotherhood, From Sea to Shining Sea!" That we do not build by material things alone but must have the spiritual vitamin to make good Americans was emphasized by the speaker, who also said that club work should be an avocation, not a vocation, and must not crowd out duties to home and church. The club should be a feeder for better and more efficient work in the church.

Vitamin B.

In her discussion of vitamin B, Mrs. Poole explained the business of general federation since the building in which it has found a home was purchased for $70,000. With 28 rooms, it is just what clubwomen need, containing office and filing, assembly room, president's quarters and rooms available for visiting clubwomen. Dues were explained, telling the benefits a woman gets by paying 10 cents to belong to the general federation. A matter deplored is that the official organ, The Clubwoman G. F. W. C., is in "the red." With more than 600,000 per capita members, there are less than 5,000 paid subscribers. The free copies that are sent to every club president should beget an equal number of paid subscriptions.

While advising for the clubs, programs of today with the manifold problems, the speaker stressed the value of vitamin C—Culture, which she defined as "fineness of mind," declaring that one did not have to be educated to be cultured. Beginning this fall, an art program will be broadcast over radio, sponsored by Mrs. Henry C. Taylor, chairman of fine arts department, General Federation of Women's Clubs. Mrs. Poole stated that up-to-date clubwomen should have four A's: Ability, that comes from training; Adaptability, to those in all walks in life, and to our leaders and plans. She must have Agility of mind that will not let her run on one track or get in a rut. There must be Arrangement, of program. Build a program around subjects of today and have in it a spirit of venture for the untried.

At the afternoon session, a forum on vitamin F—food was conducted by Mrs. John K. Ottley, who presented Dr. Phil Campbell, director of extension service, college of agriculture, who discussed production and marketing. Citing the importance of the proposed cotton reduction program, Dr. Campbell told what to do with the 30 per cent acreage if it is taken out of cotton production. He stated that the farmers have a practical plan of salvation if they will accept it. Since the efforts of the extension service, the Federation of Women's Clubs and the Bankers' Association have co-ordinated, there has been a decided increase of cash crops, in some counties as many as 20 in place of the two—cotton and corn. Miss Katherine Lanier, state leader of special home demonstration, told how $12,000,000 was saved to Georgia last year on food and feed crops through the live-at-home program. She spoke of vast economic reasons why Georgians should use Georgia products, saying that clubwomen can glorify Georgia products and help the producers by creating a standard for home products, by demanding them from the merchants, and by using fresh fruits and vegetables instead of canned ones.

Program theme was further developed through vitamin G—Georgia, Mrs. Harvie Jordan telling the federation's outstanding contributions to the bicentennial celebration. Miss Ella May Thornton, state librarian, told something of the important contribution made the celebration by the Georgia Library Association.

A high light of the program was the address by Mrs. Poole, in the chapel of the university. Her subject was "If"—the ifs that are always upsetting things; the ifs of history; the ifs to play with. Then she added the word "watch" in acrostic form. Watch your "words, acts, thoughts, character-building, habits," and then the little word, if, will not play such a big part in the making of history.

The final session continued with vitamins D and E. In giving the "don'ts for good Americans," Mrs. Poole paid a glowing tribute to America. "What a country! What a background! What an environment! were developed, concluding with the challenge God gave when He gave us this country: "Don't waste it, don't fail to conserve health, don't get into debt, don't get rutty, don't leave play out of living, don't be too intense, don't be a self-satisfied American, don't ever let life defeat you."

Under economics, Mrs. Poole declared women were beginning to learn a great deal about this subject because of enforced training in balancing the home budget. "But don't maintain simply a physically and materially well-balanced home, but a well-balanced morale above everything else. Build an economic structure that will protect the worker, respect the employer and guard the child."

Juniors Welcomed.

Then the urge came to welcome as working members in the federation the young people of today. Just how they are to come in must be left largely up to them. They cannot be forced, nor will they be bound by iron-clad rules. Do not treat them as children; let them go their way and learn their lessons. Junior membership is a major project of the Georgia federation and a ruling has given them a definite classification and privileges which are solving many of the problems.

Concluding the session was a federation structure quiz, under the leadership of Mrs. Albert Hill, vice president-at-large, which brought a greater knowledge and greater enthusiasm in matters both of club facts and club spirit. The open forums versus lengthy papers were real contributions to the development of interest in institute work and these periods of training in club organization. Social amenities interspersed the routine, giving an opportunity for getting better acquainted. The University of Georgia complimented the visitors with two really delicious Georgia-products luncheons and Mrs. Lamar Rucker entertained at tea in her delightful garden, a truly beautiful setting for her historic home.

In Attendance.

In attendance were: Mrs. Grace Morrison Poole, Broxton, Mass.; Mrs. Elizabeth Skinner Jackson, Tampa, Fla.; Mrs. Meade Love, Quincy, Fla.; Mrs. W. P. Slaton, St. Petersburg, Fla.; Miss Edith Thomas, Washington, D. C. From Georgia: Acworth—Mrs. E. M. Bailey, Mrs. Ray Williams, Misses Louise McLain and Mattie Mitchell; Athens—Mesdames C. A. Vernooy, B. C. Kinney, S. V. Sanford, E. D. Pusey, Lamar Rucker, G. A. Christian, Paul Morrow, E. H. Rhodes, Claude Chance, T. F. Green, R. H. Powell, E. J. Bondurant, R. M. Soule, T. W. Reed, J. E. Miller, D. L. Earnest, John E. Talmage, Arthur Gannon, J. C. Wilkinson, T. J. Woofter, Joseph Meyer, Phil Campbell, Paul Holliday, M. L. Troutman, Misses Katherine Lanier, Ruth Tabor, Vincentia Coppinger, Sidney Hunt, Mary E. Creswell, Epsie Campbell; Atlanta—Mesdames W. E. Beckham, W. P. Dunn, Frederick C. Rice, Harvie Jordan, J. D. Evans, Thomas A. Smith, Charles J. Haden, Chester Martin, T. E. Roberts, S. G. McGraw, W. F. Westmoreland, J. H. Phagan, L. L. Herndon, R. K. Rambo, John K. Ottley, Gordon Singleton, John C. Brickman, W. M. Ponder, C. M. Settle, W. R. Allgood, C. W. Heery, Ed Almand, Charles Bishop, Oscar Palmour, Dr. Priscilla Streeter, Miss Helen Knox Spain.

Augusta—Mrs. M. M. MacFerrin, J. B. Bartch, J. S. Plaxco, Clarence Duvall; Barnesville—Mrs. J. A. Corry; Blackshear—Mrs. A. P. Brantley; Bostwick—Mesdames J. A. Gibbs, M. E. Anderson, Homer Echols; Bowman—Mesdames Jim Ridgway, Morgan Rice, G. M. Dickinson; Braselton—Mesdames Lewis, Royce and John Braselton, Mrs. T. C. Llewellyn; Buford—Mesdames W. L. Shadburn, R. R. McCallie, J. W. Arlt, John Carter, Joe Bradley, J. C. Orr, W. B. Brogdon; Canon—Mesdames J. C. Bonner, T. R. Burton, M. T. Keaton, W. L. Osburn, A. S. Bowers, Miss Lizzie Heard; Cartersville—Mesdames Francis Vaughan, P. Rainwater, J. T. Anderson, J. J. Cooper, W. F. Byrd, C. A. Hart, W. C. Sams, H. W. Bullock, M. B. Sell, J. M. Cochran; Misses Atha Bullock, Florabel McGoogan, Alma Matthews, Ruth Denton, Bessie Crew, Ora Lee Roberts, Grace Clark, Willie T. Arnold, I. V. Moon, Mrs. Carl Mitchell.

Georgia product, Mrs. Dewey Hudson, chairman; Mesdames C. A. Hart, J. W. Hay Sr., H. Y. Holland, Sam Harris, George Matthews, L. L. Johnson; art, Mrs. Tom Anderson, chairman; Miss Ruth Denton, co-chairman; Mesdames Grace Clark, A. B. Marchmont, Price Kincaid, Frank Welsh Jr., Wendell Welsh, and Misses Lila Warren and Alma Matthews.

Public welfare, Miss Bessie Crew, chairman; Miss Florabel McGoogan, co-chairman; Mesdames J. L. Thomas, R. J. Rundle, Tom Anderson, S. G. Warren, J. W. Hay Sr., L. L. Johnston, Ruth Harris; American home, Mrs. R. R. Lee, chairman; Mesdames J. M. Cochran, R. M. Lee, H. W. Bullock, Ira Hudson, W. F. Meek, Newt Hardage, Julian Marchmont, Clyde Lee; Misses Lila Warren and Zuma Foster.

Scrapbook, Miss Bessie Crew, chairman; Mrs. Price Kincaid, Misses Zuma Foster, Ruth Denton, Willie Ragsdale; legislation, Mrs. C. S. Foster, chairman; Mesdames R. M. Lee, W. F. Byrd, Barney Christian, Genie Spinks, Ira Hudson; Misses I. V. Moon, Grace Clark.

Public instruction, Miss Zuma Foster, chairman; Miss Bessie Crew, co-chairman; Miss Alma Matthews; Mesdames Clyde Lee, Dewey Hudson; yard committee, Mrs. Sam Harris, chairman; Mesdames Ralph Butler, C. S. Foster, E. S. Bullock, Miss Ruth Denton; house commitee, Mrs. J. J. Cooper, chairman; Mesdames C. A. Hart, H. Y. Holland, Sam Harris, Ira Hudson.

Tallulah Falls, Mrs. Dewey Hudson, chairman; Miss Lila Warren, co-chairman; Mesdames Wendell Welch, Frank Welch Jr., Carl Mitchell, Jesse Cooper, Julian Marchmont, Tom Anderson, Ralph Butler, Miss I. V. Moon, Miss Lila Warren; parliamentarian, Mrs. C. B. McGarity; library, Mrs. J. W. Hay Jr., chairman; Mesdames Carl Mitchell, C. S. Foster, R. R. Lee, Misses Grace Clark, Grace Hart and Zuma Foster.

W. Bervard, M. E. Pittard, M. F. Well, F. E. Varpha; Cochran—Mesdames J. H. Taylor, C. B. Morgan, L. H. Browning; Commerce—Mesdames W. W. Stark, C. E. Pittman; Colbert—Mesdames H. H. Hampton, G. L. Loden, H. H. Hart, Miss Susie Farrells.

Comer—Mesdames J. W. Gholston, W. A. Rowe, A. J. and G. W. Whitehead, E. J. Carmichael, M. A. Raine and Miss Eleanor Thompson; Columbus—Mesdames George Burrus Jr., J. M. Murrah; Crawford—Mesdames W. W. Armistead, E. H. Furcron, Frazier Wise, R. O. Smith; Danielsville—Mesdames Rufus Sorrells, Howard Gordon, Elcoe Huff, W. D. Graham; J. D. Griffith, D. A. Mosley; Greenville—Mrs. Albert Hill; Griffin—Mrs. A. O. Nunnally; Ila—Mrs. H. G. Banister; Hartwell—Mesdames J. I. Jenkins, E. B. Garrard; Jefferson—Mesdames M. M. Bryan, T. T. Benton, H. J. Kizer, Harold Duke, H. E. Aderholt; Lexington—Mesdames Hamilton McWhorter, R. L. Brooks, H. W. Amason, Miss Lillian Bush; Macon — Mesdames Guyton Abney, Walter Lamar, Lewis Waxelbaum, John Selden, W. J. Cousins; Marietta—Mrs. Grady Eubanks; Maysville—Mesdames J. P. Cooper, Billie Pittman; Montezuma—Mesdames J. E. Hays, S. C. Haddock; Rome—Mrs. Aubrey Matthews; Royston—Mesdames W. R. Burnett, Stewart Brown, D. T. Barnes, Allen Turner, Charles Veal, Misses Sally Veal, Louise Tucker, Ruby Little; Rockmart—Mrs. S. O. Jones, Misses Nelle Cochran, Elma Jones; Tallulah Falls—Mrs. Z. I. Fitzpatrick; Waycross—Mrs. Ralph Newton; Winder—Mesdames A. D. McCrory, J. H. Pledger, H. A. Carithers, Miss Mable Jackson; Zebulon—Mrs. Hartford Green.

Mrs. John Woodall Re-elected President of Milner Club

Mrs. John Woodall, who was re-elected to serve her third year as president of Milner Woman's Club. She is also serving her third year as president of Lamar County Federation, in which there are eight clubs, and her second year as vice president of Barnesville Garden Club. She is also chairman of highway beautification for Lamar county.

Milner Woman's Club, under the efficient leadership of Mrs. John Woodall, president, closes a most successful year in literary and civic activities. Excellent co-operation of 42 members makes possible the many things accomplished. Organized and federated in 1916, the club has functioned regularly and met all obligations to general, state, district and county organizations. Contributes to Tallulah Falls school and sends gifts at Christmas to state sanitarium.

Program committee outlined an instructive study of history of Georgia and prominent educators addressed the club on Georgia's progress. Pageant and appropriate exercises at the school were the club's contribution to the Georgia bicentennial celebration. Dental clinic was held during Child Welfare Week and Clean-Up Week was observed in co-operation with the county federation. Junior group is sponsored with Mrs. K. P. Domingos and Mrs. F. E. Joy as leaders. Memorial Day preparations were made by cleaning Confederate cemetery, working shrubbery and decorating graves. Rev. Harry V. Smith was speaker for the day. Club co-operated with U. D. C. of Barnesville in placing steel fence with metal posts and handsome gate around this cemetery where 100 men killed in Battle of Atlanta are buried.

Cemetery association organized 12 years ago with Mrs. George D. Godard, chairman, continues under the supervision of the club. Several entrants in Barnesville Garden Club's yard and garden contest were made, Milner clubwomen winning two prizes for improvements in home grounds. Club sponsors plays and concerts which contribute to the cultural life of Milner. Among other worthwhile undertakings are cash purchase of piano for clubhouse, shrubbery planted on school grounds and clubhouse and school grounds kept in good condition. Yearbook is published annually, outlining excellent programs for 10 meetings.

Work functions through 12 departments: Program, Mrs. F. E. Joy; entertainment, Mrs. Bert Cauthen; child welfare, Mrs. G. C. Swint; highway beautification and gardening, Mrs. John Woodall; music, Mrs. G. A. Weldon; citizenship training, Mrs. George Godard; membership, Mrs. G. R. Brown; floral, Mrs. B. A. Roberts; home, school and education, Miss Ada Bush; by-laws, Mrs. G. R. Brown; ways and means, Mrs. S. J. Childers; cemetery, Mrs. George Godard; scrapbook, Mrs. Bert Cauthen. These chairmen and their committees serve with Mrs. John Woodall, president; Mrs. F. E. Joy, first vice president; Mrs. N. I. Tyus, second vice president; Mrs. G. A. Swint, recording secretary; Mrs. James Ivey, corresponding secretary; Mrs. K. P. Domingos, parliamentarian. Club motto is: "We Live Not To Ourselves; Our Work Is Life."

Mrs. Hutchens Names Standing Committees For Dallas Club

Mrs. H. C. Hutchens, president of the Dallas Woman's Club, announces the following standing committees for the year: Literature and club programs, Mrs. E. H. Bullock, Mrs. C. S. Foster; publicity, Mrs. W. C. Sams; junior club, Mrs. Joe I. Matthews; membership, Mrs. C. A. Hart, chairman; Mesdames Claude Rainwater, Frank Welch Sr., C. S. Foster, Clyde Lee.

Finance, Mrs. W. F. Byrd, chairman; Mesdames H. Y. Holland, Joe I. Matthews, C. A. Hart, W. C. Sams; education, Mrs. C. B. McGarity, chairman; Mesdames E. O. Wheeler, A. O. Colquitt, M. B. Sell, J. B. Watson, J. I. Matthews; Misses Willie Ragsdale, Ora Lee Roberts, Atha Bullock.

American citizenship, Mrs. W. C. Sams, chairman; Mesdames J. W. Hay Jr., H. Y. Holland, Hubert Croker, George Welch, George Matthews, and Miss Zuma Foster; music, Miss Willie Ragsdale, chairman; Miss Grace Hart, co-chairman; Mesdames J. L. Thomas, E. H. Bullock, Claude

Mrs. Mitchell Feted.

Mrs. George Raymond Mitchell, a recent bride, was honor guest on Saturday at a linen shower, given by Mrs. Candler A. Murphey and Mrs. James M. Broom at their home in Druid Hills. The house was decorated with a profusion of garden flowers and bridge was played.

The guests included Misses Pearl Zachry, Caroline Berry, Lalia Napier, Mary Mitchell, Julia Mitchell, Rena Mitchell, Sara Fitzpatarick, Tony Johnston, Polly Jones, Sara Cassels, Caroline Clark and Mesdames Ralph Lee, J. D. Perkinson, Thomas Meighan, J. D. Mitchell, Lyman C. Murphy, Frank Browder and Mrs. Lovejoy Harwell.

Lithonia Club Gives Musicale At Mrs. Johnson's

An evening musicale featured the meeting of the Lithonia Woman's Club held Thursday at the lovely home of Mrs. Alton Johnson. More than one hundred guests including club members and their husbands enjoyed the program presented by Mrs. Kurt Mueller, well-known teacher of Atlanta, and her artist pupils.

Several vocal numbers were given by Miss Eleanor Stone, talented soprano, followed by choice violin selections by Miss Senta Mueller. Mr. Richard Holtzclaw, bass baritone, pleased the audience with three numbers sung with usual depth and feeling. The interesting program concluded with the appealing "Barcarolle" from Offenbach's "Tales of Hoffman," a duet by Miss Stone and Mr. Holtzclaw. Mrs. Mueller played the accompaniments, and introduced the artists. Mrs. Frank Miller, fifth district chairman of music, arranged for their appearance before the Lithonia club.

Following the program, the guests adjourned to the lawn, where refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mesdames Milton Marbut, Wheeler Davidson, Henry Plunkett, Theron Watson and Miss Mary Sams. The Johnson home is a beautiful colonial structure, the oldest residence in the city, and the grounds have been preserved and improved by Mrs. Johnson, boxwoods and magnolias, holly trees and honeysuckle making a charming atmosphere inside the original white picket fence of ante-bellum days.

Mrs. Charles L. Davidson presided at the business session, opening with the collect, read by Miss Emma Lee Daniel. Mrs. Luther Watson reported on the meeting held in conjunction with the volunteer firemen, and announced that a community ball game would be held Wednesday afternoon. A report from the garden division presented news of the beautifying of the location where a boulder marking the county line will be placed. Miss Birdie Chapman, chairman of the junior division, outlined that group's plan to collect newsprint and magazines as a source of income, the proceeds to go to the local library. Mrs. C. B. Irwin, treasurer, reported $149.15 in the club bank account. The library continues to serve the community with 325 books loaned during the past month, according to Miss Vivian Haslett, librarian. A splendid account of the cooking school conducted by Mrs. Stanfield was given by the president.

Mrs. Neil Cameron was enrolled as a new member, and guests welcomed at the meeting included Mrs. M. M. Thompson, of Gainesville; Mrs. Russell Cole, of Atlanta, and Miss Laura Frances Marbut, of Atlanta. Mrs. George Pratt, of Atlanta, fifth district chairman of the bicentennial celebration, is scheduled to present the August program at the Lithonia club.

Findings of Club Institute Held In Athens, Ga.

At the conclusion of the club institute of the Georgia Federation of Women's Clubs, held in Athens, July 11 and 12, the findings committee, composed of Mrs. Morris Bryan, Mrs. Francis Vaughan and Mrs. Harvie Jordan, submitted the following: After a careful summing up of the many valuable suggestions brought to our attention in the leading discussions of this session of club institute, your committee finds the following lines of endeavor to recommend to our various clubs to stress in their programs for the coming year.

From what our leader, Mrs. Grace Morrison Poole, brought to us, we have a clearer understanding of our general federation affairs to take home; the mission of the clubs and how to be a better club member.

That the trend of the day seems to be toward nationalism rather than toward a higher and nobler internationalism calls for a program that will broaden our social consciousness of all the peoples of the world; and this thought brings us to a very popular trend in modern education, which is generally called adult education. That education is not finished with the completion of college courses but must be extended through life, is directly in the field of service of women's clubs, of which the club institute is the highest expression.

That women are to be called upon more and more to fill important positions, and studies should be prepared to meet this responsibility. Combining the cultural and civic, clubwomen should bring about the organization of a higher community life along many lines, such as providing opportunities for the development and use of aesthetic talent and combining study and service. Not only make culture a community affair but co-operate in the readjustment of economic problems in the state, the nation and the world.

This is in line with the excellent suggestions brought out in the live-at-home forum conducted by Mrs. J. K. Ottley, featuring the use of Georgia products. This project, made a part of federation activities more than a year ago, has wonderful possibilities. Remind our women that the little things they do are really the big things. Ask them to study the big things, however, that come under economics; learn lessons in high finance, including taxation and budgeting.

From the junior forum we learn that the secret of success in junior membership is adaptability—let them make their plans and learn their lessons. Bring them into the fold tactfully and be examples they will want to follow.

This session has proved that the successful institute is planned and led by experienced clubwomen, and that brief talks on a few selected subjects, followed by an open forum, are the best methods of pleasing the majority. The exchange of ideas and of experiences in solving club problems is of great practical value. The concluding "quiz" on the policies and structure of the federation, conducted by Mrs. Albert Hill, gave interesting facts that will make an illuminating program during the year. With deepest appreciation of the privilege the University of Georgia gives us, your committee recommends a continuation of the annual institute conducted along the lines that have pertained during this session.

Miss Vivian Bryant Is Complimented.

Miss Melba Chewning entertained Saturday at a bridge-tea and shower in compliment to Miss Vivian Bryant, a bride of today. Miss Chewning was assisted by her mother, Mrs. M. J. Chewning. A lovely color motif in pastel shaded flowers was used in the decorations and many gifts were given the honor guest.

Invited were Mesdames H. L. Bondurant, W. D. Callahan, E. L. Bryant, Tommy Willingham, J. E. Thompson, Frank DeNobriga, C. L. Lunsford, Misses Frances Bryant, Nanelle Ford, Eulalia Reynolds, Helen Bulin, Jewell Bugg, Mrs. Chewning and Miss Bryant.

Engagement Is Announced

Miss Sara Dixon Andrews, whose engagement to James Venable Patrick is announced today by her father, J. D. Andrews, the marriage to take place August 12 at the First Christian church. The bride-elect, the only daughter of Mr. Andrews and the late Mrs. Ruth Sentz Andrews, is a graduate of Woodberry Hall and a member of the Pi Epsilon sorority. Mr. Patrick, the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Lee Patrick, is a graduate of the Georgia School of Technology and the Atlanta Law school, where he was a member of the Delta Theta Phi legal fraternity. He is associated with the law firm of Armistead & Patrick. Photograph by Lewis studio.

GEORGIA WOMAN'S Christian Temperance Union

Honorary presidents, Mrs. T. E. Patterson, St. James, Fla.; Mrs. Lelia A. Dillard, Cochran, Ga.; president, Mrs. Mary Scott Russell, 1436 N. Highland avenue, N. E., Atlanta; vice president, Mrs. Marvin Williams, 311 Atlanta street, Marietta; corresponding secretary, Mrs. R. L. Miller, Waynesboro; recording secretary, Mrs. Walter Anthony, 322 Orange street, Macon; treasurer, Mrs. Wilbur Brown, 503 W. Solomon street, Griffin; advisory, Mrs. Mary Harris Armor Commerce; field secretary, Mrs. Florance Ewell Atkins, Milledgeville; editor, Mrs. August Burghard, 431 Johnson avenue, Macon.

Georgia W. C. T. U. Women Add Luster to 59th Annual Convention

By M. FRANCES MEADORS BURGHARD,
Of Macon, State W. C. T. U. Editor.

Mrs. Mary Scott Russell, of Atlanta, president of the Georgia Woman's Christian Temperance Union, has returned from attendance upon the fifty-ninth annual convention of the National W. C. T. U., held in Milwaukee, Wis., where she added luster to the galaxy of Georgia's W. C. T. U. leaders—Mrs. William C. Sibley, of Augusta; Mrs. Jennie Hart Sibley, of Union Point; Mrs. Mary Harris Armor, of Eastman; Mrs. Thomas E. Patterson, of Griffin; Mrs. Lella A. Dillard, of Emory University, and Mrs. Marvin Williams, of Marietta, each of whom stood high in that organization of outstanding women.

Mrs. Russell responded to the addresses of welcome the first day. "Mrs. Russell's speech Friday afternoon was a masterpiece and yesterday's great service a triumph for God and home and every land," wrote Mrs. Pearl Kendall Hess, of Orange, Cal., national director of the medical temperance department, in a personal message to a Georgia friend.

Mrs. A. W. Voight, Macon, president of the sixth district, W. C. T. U., and other Georgia delegates, said, "Mrs. Russell made a hit at the convention. We were so proud of her. She was amply equal to every occasion." A two-column cut of her in the Milwaukee Sentinel carried the statement, "One of the most ardent 'white ribbonists' among Milwaukee's distinguished convention visitors this week is Mrs. Mary Scott Russell, Atlanta, president of the Georgia W. C. T. U., shown about to try some of the city's bubbling water." The picture was headed, "Water slacks real dry thirst. It has, and does, and will."

Since newsreel men representing most of the leading companies snapped delegates and visitors as they entered the auditorium for the W. C. T. U. convention Friday afternoon, many readers may have already seen and heard Mrs. Russell in the movies. She was singled out as "a life-long dry democrat" for her picture. The convention is described by those who have attended several as the "biggest and best." At its conclusion the resolutions adopted stated, "No question is settled until it is settled right, and the liquor problem will not be settled by legalizing beer or repealing the eighteenth amendment. The drink traffic must be destroyed."

"The history of the W. C. T. U. has been a part of the history of the temperance cause," said Mrs. Boole at the recent convention. "There is scarcely a community in the United States that has not felt the direct or indirect influence of the W. C. T. U.," she continued when discussing the future of the organization.

"It has been a university of reforms where women of many minds could work together for the protection of the home. It has always been a total abstinence organization. It has trained boys and girls in total abstinence. It has promoted scientific investigation in the effects of alcohol. It would be impossible to tell approximately the number of public meetings held, the pages of literature distributed, the souls saved, the educational value of the material provided for daily and weekly papers, or to estimate the value of the volunteer service rendered by the organization.

"There was a time when the W. C. T. U. was the only woman's organization made up of women of all the churches doing religious and reform work. The reflex effect of the organization upon the women themselves has been wonderful. They have attended world's, national and state conventions. Their outlook on life has been broadened through travel to the four corners of the United States and even to other lands; they have heard the best speakers in our own and other countries; they have made friendships with women of many nations.

"In the last few years the W. C. T. U. has majored in efforts to secure the observance and enforcement of the 18th amendment, but other lines of effort have been a part of our continuing program. Whatever may be the verdict of the American people, we have seen no reason to change our minds and we still believe prohibition is the best method of dealing with the liquor traffic. We believe total abstinence is the only safe attitude to take toward the use of alcoholic liquor. We believe the children should be taught the effects of alcohol on the human system to the end that in the interest of health, efficiency, good citizenship, and public safety, they may voluntarily abstain from the use of alcohol.

"We do not believe the home should contribute to alcoholic appetite, so we serve no alcoholic liquors at social functions. . . . We believe in the home-loving and home-making woman. We believe in high ideals in government and we are working toward those ideals. 'The W. C. T. U. will go forward,' declared Mrs. Boole, national and world W. C. T. U. president. "We know no other way to go."

Among those attending the national convention from Georgia were Mrs. Mary Scott Russell, Mrs. N. C. McPherson, Mrs. F. M. Magee, of Atlanta; Mrs. A. W. Voight and Mrs. S. P. Raspberry, of Macon, and Mrs. Wilbur Brown and Mrs. J. H. Cheatham, of Griffin. They also attended the Century of Progress Exposition in Chicago. They say that both publicly and privately great regret was expressed at the absence of Mrs. Mary Harris Armor, of Commerce, who was at the bedside of her daughter, Mrs. Alton Lee Hale, in Wesley Memorial hospital. Mrs. Hale is improving and expects to return at an early date.

Other convention echoes will be sounded in later columns.

The current issue of the national W. C. T. U. official organ, The Union Signal, published in Evanston, Ill., carries a short story from the facile pen of Mrs. Lella A. Dillard, of Cochran, former state president, now honorary president of the Georgia W. C. T. U. It bears the intriguing title, "Geese Feathers." It will make an excellent reading for a W. C. T. U. or other program.

Piedmont Rebekahs Plan Tacky Party

Piedmont Rebekah lodge sponsors a tacky party in the hall, 432 1-2 Marietta street, S .W., at 8 o'clock, Thursday, July 20. Admission will be 10 cents.

The lodge held a public installation of officers in the hall recently, when installing officers were Mrs. Mattie Holt, presiding officer; Mrs. Mytric Beattie, warden; Mrs. M. C. Strickland, secretary; Mrs. C. E. Williams, treasurer; Mrs. B. Manning, chaplain; Mrs. Ethel Garner, conductor; Mrs. J. B. Bagwell, inside guardian.

Officers installed are: Miss Emma Agnes Irvine, noble grand; Mrs. S. J. Sabo, vice grand; Mrs. Clyde Evans, warden; Mrs. Fred Holland, conductor; Mrs. A. B. Rosencrant, chaplain; Mrs. Maude Collins, musician Mrs. M. C. Strickland, Mrs. W. P. Irvine, Mrs. B. Maning, Mrs. C. E. Williams, Mrs. J. Bagwell, inside guardian; W. A. Hutchins, outside guardian.

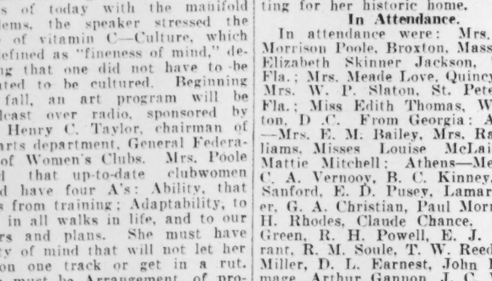

Mrs. Bertha Pergantis, retiring noble grand, presented the officers with gifts. Mrs. Fred Holland was presented with a pin from officers and members of this lodge. This was presented by Mrs. W. H. Hutchins and Mrs. Mattie Holt.

Extra Special
Small Foot
SALE

200 Pairs of sizes 2½ to 4½
To Close Out at $1.00
A Pair
DAVIS & McLARTY Co Inc
134 Peachtree Arcade

SUNNY STOCKING SHADES for SUNNY SUMMER DAYS!

WHEN YOU'RE DRESSED IN WHITE
YOU'LL FEEL JUST RIGHT—
69c
2 Pairs for $1.30
if your stockings have that fetching, fashionable "sun-tan look" . . . Hosiery AS YOU LIKE IT sun-tan shades include Corsair, Burma, Caprice, Coquette, Sandee, Cruise and Paseo. Any one of them will "set off" your summer ensemble . . . beautifully!
HIGH'S STREET FLOOR
J. M. HIGH CO.

SEMI-ANNUAL NATION-WIDE
SALE
Discontinued Styles
ENNA JETTICK
SHOES FOR WOMEN
JULY 17th . . . 29th
$2.95 and $3.45
"You need no longer be told that you have an expensive foot."
REGULAR STYLES $4.00 and $5.00
189 SIZES and WIDTHS AAAAAA to EEE
1 to 12

DAVIS & McLARTY Co INC
134 PEACHTREE ARCADE

Miss Etheridge Will Wed Mr. Weidman

The announcement of the engagement of Miss Anna Etheridge to Claire Oliver Weidman, of New York city, is of interest to a host of friends in the south and east.

Miss Etheridge is the attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Augustus Etheridge Sr., and a sister of Harry A. Etheridge Jr., of New York City, and of Oliver Richardson Etheridge, of Atlanta. Her father is a well-known member of the Atlanta Bar Association. Her mother was the former Miss Elizabeth Richardson, of Gaffney, Spartanburg county, South Carolina, and is a daughter of the late William Henry Richardson and Anna Wingo. On her maternal side Miss Etheridge is descended from the Chapman, Dodd, Foster and Wingo families of Spartanburg county, South Carolina, who moved there from Virginia after the Revolutionary War and have been prominent in the civil, social and religious life of the state.

Miss Etheridge's paternal grandfather was the late Henry Clay Etheridge, an early graduate of Mercer University and a distinguished educator of Georgia. He was the son of William Duggan Etheridge and Elizabeth Green, of Jones county and Savannah, Ga. Miss Etheridge's paternal grandmother, Sara Emma Sharp, was a daughter of Augustus Baldwin Sharp, pioneer citizen of Atlanta, and a charter member of the First Baptist church, and his wife, Lorraine Matilda Northen, who was the daughter of the honorable Peter Northen of Jones county, and a sister of the late ex-Governor Northen, of Georgia. Miss Etheridge on her paternal side is a lineal descendant of the famous Green family of Rhode Island, her ancestor being John Green who assisted Roger Williams in the founding of the colony. She is also descended from Captain Judkins Hunt of Revolutionary fame, and his wife, Martha Batt, of the distinguished Batt family of Virginia and England.

Miss Etheridge is a graduate of Randolph-Macon Woman's College, where she was a member of the Alpha Delta Pi sorority and was elected to the Phi Beta Kappa society. Later she attended the Emory University Library School and received the degree of Bachelor of Arts in library science. For the past two years Miss Etheridge has been living in New York city, where she has been engaged in children's work in the New York Public Library system.

Mr. Weidman is the son of Mrs. Minnie LaBar Rudd and the late Oliver Weidman, of Cleveland, Ohio. Mr. Weidman is a descendant of families prominent in the history of the state of Pennsylvania, his paternal grandfather being one of the founders and pioneer citizens of Providence-on-the-Delaware, Pa. On his maternal side Mr. Weidman is descended from Peter LaBar, who came from France to this country in 1630 and was prominent in early colonial history. Mr. Weidman was formerly connected with the Union Trust Company of Cleveland, but for the past five years has been with the personal loan department of the National City Bank of New York City.

Novel Entertainments To Feature Calendar.

Novel entertainments will feature the garrison social calendar during the month for the "C. C. C. Commuters" will be honored at a number of informal affairs. Officers of the command, detailed for duty with the civilian conservation corps, and stationed throughout the state, plan to return home for week-ends and these "commuters" will be honor guests at the parties planned by the club.

With Major Jay Haskin and Mrs. Haskin, Captain Joseph Aman and Mrs. Aman and Lieutenant Franklin Johnston as the official hosts for the club the initial entertainment will be given Saturday, July 22, when the guests will assemble at the post swimming pool for a picnic and water festival. Contests will be featured and members of the younger contingent will participate in the treasure hunt, the diving contest and the swimming races to be conducted early in the evening. There will be additional classes for the older members of the army group.

The commuters will again be honored at the commuters' ball to be given Saturday, July 29, at the Fort McPherson Officers' Club. The guests will assemble at 9 o'clock and will include the members of the military contingent, guests from town and visitors.

Pine Point Lodge To Be Objective.

Early in August Mrs. Howard Bucknell will wend her way toward the Adirondack mountains, where Pine Point Lodge, her picturesque summer home, is located. Built on Saranac Lake, the lodge commands an inviting view of the water and the mountains form a glorified background.

Mrs. Bucknell will be joined at Pine Point by her daughter, Mrs. Dickson Potter, who, with her husband, Mr. Potter, and their attractive children, Clifford Potter II and Suzanne Potter, will spend the summer with Mrs. Bucknell. Mrs. Potter was the former Miss Sue Bucknell and is numbered as one of the most beautiful of former Atlantans. She has made frequent visits to her native city since her marriage and is exceedingly popular in the south and the east.

MISS ETHERIDGE'S engagement is announced today to Claire Oliver Weidman, of New York. Miss Woodruff and Lieutenant Philip Henry Draper Jr., of Troy, N. Y., field artillery, U. S. A., will be married in August. Mrs. Maddox recently returned from New Orleans to establish her residence in Atlanta. Mrs. Davis is prominent in the younger married contingent and Mrs. Erwin, of Durham, N. C., is her feted guest. Asasno made the picture of Miss Woodruff, Mrs. Maddox, Mrs. Davis and Mrs. Erwin. Aimee Dupont, of New York city, made that of Miss Etheridge.

Miss Woodruff Weds Lt. Draper In August

COLUMBUS, Ga., July 15.—Important among the August weddings will be that of Miss Ethel Woodruff and Lieutenant Philip Henry Draper Jr., field artillery, United States Army. The bride-elect is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Waldo Woodruff, of Columbus, and Lieutenant Draper is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Henry Draper Sr., of Troy, N. Y., and their marriage will be solemnized at Woodcrest, the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Woodruff, in Columbus.

Miss Woodruff is one of the most attractive and charming young women in Georgia. In the social circles in which she moves Miss Woodruff is a great favorite, and is admired for her beauty, intellect and lovable qualities. Following a graduation from Columbus high school, Miss Woodruff attended Mount Vernon Seminary and King Smith Studio School in Washington, D. C. She belongs to the Cotillion Club and the Community Service League in Columbus, and has traveled extensively in Europe and the United States.

She is a sister of Miss Emily Woodruff, Jim Woodruff Jr., and Barnett Woodruff, and has a distinguished line of ancestors, who were among the influential and outstanding pioneer settlers of Georgia. Her mother is the former Miss Ethel Illges, daughter of the late A. Illges and Mrs. Mary Lou Barnett Illges. Her paternal grandparents were the late Henry Lindsay Woodruff and Mrs. Johnnie Kyle Woodruff. The bride-elect is a niece of Mrs. Howell Hollis, Mrs. Clifford J. Swift, J. P. Illges, A. Illges and George C. Woodruff, of Columbus, and of Mrs. John S. Hurt, of Atlanta; Mrs. W. A. Chenoweth and Mrs. B. M. Chenoweth, of Birmingham, Ala.

Like his lovely bride-elect, Lieutenant Draper belongs to distinguished and influential families that have played important part in the history and upbuilding of New York state. His mother was Miss Sally Stimson, of Watertown, N. Y., before her marriage and Miss Emily Draper is his only sister.

He attended Swavely School at Manasses, Va., and graduated from the United States Military Academy at West Point in 1929. He was stationed at Fort Benning for three years, and in 1932 received an appointment for a year of study at Sorbonne University, in Paris. Upon the completion of his studies in Paris, he will return to the United States to claim his lovely bride, and after their marriage Lieutenant Draper will be instructor in French at the military academy at West Point, N. Y.

Debutante List Forecasts Gay Fall Season

Chatter around tea tables and at informal summer gatherings at the clubs is centered on speculation about the charming group of youthful belles who will compose the 1933-34 Debutante Club. Although nothing definite will be decided by the future debs until the first meeting of the debutantes is called in mid-September, exciting plans are being eagerly discussed for a particularly brilliant season and for an unusually attractive group of buds.

Mrs. William Randle Barnett, of Jacksonville, Fla., president of the past season's Debutante Club, who set the example to the other debs by being the first of her club to take her marriage vows, will return to Atlanta the early part of September to call the first meeting of the new club and to assist in the organization. Mrs. Barnett, the former Miss Frances Boykin, will visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. F. Boykin, at their Andrews drive residence.

Of paramount importance on the debutante calendar will be the Halloween ball at the Piedmont Driving Club, which marks the first official bow of the debs and which is featured by the striking entrance of the club members with their escorts in a grand march. The selection of the charity to be sponsored by this group, the dates for the formal presentation of the various debs, and the whirl of gay parties planned in their honor will focus the interest of the debutantes.

A trio of intimate friends who will probably experience the thrill of debuting together, and who will doubtless be among the most popular of their set, includes Misses Louisa Robert, Frances Weinman and Mary Ann Carr. Miss Robert, the decidedly brunet daughter of Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Lawrence W. Robert Jr. and Mrs. Robert, will also be numbered among the official debutantes in the national capital, according to the Washington (D. C.) Post, which carried a lovely photograph of the young Atlantan on the feature page in a recent issue.

Selected as a member of the United States Olympic swimming team in 1932, Miss Robert is as charming as she is proficient in athletics. For the past year she has attended Agnes Scott College and is a graduate of Washington Seminary, where

Continued in Page 8, Column 1

FEDERATED CHURCH WOMEN OF GEORGIA

"Laborers Together With God"—1 Cor. 3:9. Founded by the Late Mrs. Albert Braswell.

OFFICERS: Mrs. T. L. Lewis, honorary president, 397 Fourth street, N. E., Atlanta; Mrs. C. R. Stauffer, president, 857 Virginia avenue, Atlanta, Ga.; Mrs. J. W. Wills, first vice president, 831 Myrtle street, Atlanta, Ga.; Mrs. L. O. Freeman, second vice president, 302 West Rugby street, College Park; Miss Mary R. Kent, recording secretary, 455 N. Highland avenue, N. E., Atlanta; Mrs. F. R. Graham, corresponding secretary, 1228 Spring street, Atlanta; Mrs. A. V. Koehley, treasurer, 116 King's Highway, Decatur, Ga.; Mrs. Edgar Craighead, auditor, 1739 N. Decatur road, N. E., Atlanta; Mrs. Thomas Morgan, chaplain, 947 Peachtree street, N. E., Atlanta.
STATE EDITOR: Miss S. Elizabeth Sawtell, 256 Richardson street, S. W., Atlanta, Ga. Associate Editors: Baptist, Mrs. S. L. Astin, 1141 Hudson Drive; and Mrs. S. R. Reams, 1239 Druid place, N. E.; Christian, Mrs. Chester Martin, P. O. Box 294, Hapeville; Methodist, Mrs. E. L. Edwards, 690 Cascade avenue, S. W.; Lutheran, Mrs. C. V. Ables, 1018 Oxford road, N. E.; Episcopalian, Mrs. Allen V. Gray, St. Philip's cathedral, 11 Hunter street, S. W., and Mrs. Woolsey E. Couch, 955 Rosedale drive, N. E.; Presbyterian, Miss E. Elizabeth Sawtell, 256 Richardson street S. W.; Congregational Christian, Mrs. W. T. McElveen, 16 Woodcrest avenue, N. W.

Christian Societies of Georgia Announce Election of Officers

The election of officers of the missionary societies of the Christian churches throughout Georgia is of interest to church women over the state. These women will take office in July.

The following are the officers of the northeast district: Ladies' Union Society of the Corinth (Walton county) Christian church has chosen as president Mrs. L. M. Hannah, Loganville; secretary, Mrs. A. H. Ragan, Loganville; treasurer, Mrs. Grady Byrd, Walnut Grove; literature chairman and World Call secretary, Miss Ella Batchelor, Covington. The meeting day is the Saturday before the fourth Sunday of each month.

The officers for the Christian Missionary Society for the Jefferson Christian church are: President, Mrs. L. H. Isbell; secretary and treasurer, Miss Leona Griffith.

The Women's Council of the Athens Christian church selected the following officers: President, Mrs. Golden Michael, Virginia avenue; secretary, Mrs. H. L. Parr, Lumpkin street; treasurer, Miss Ruth W. Tibbetts, 619 Hill street; literature chairman and World Call secretary, Mrs. Ben Juhan, Hampton court. This is the largest and most active society in the northeast district.

The officers of the Winder Women's Council are as follows: President, Mrs. Homer Hill; vice president, Mrs. E. L. Shelnutt; secretary, Mrs. W. A. Bradley; treasurer, Mrs. Howard Newton; literature and World Call secretary, Mrs. Theo Jackson; corresponding secretary, Mrs. John H. Wood. These officers, who have already served one year, have been re-elected for the next year.

Officers of Woman's Missionary Society, of Griffin, are: President, Mrs. T. K. Thorpe; vice president, Miss Kate Ison; secretary, Mrs. Earl Drewry; treasurer, Mrs. J. R. Thaxton. Young Matron's Circle: President, Mrs. Robert Futial; vice president, Mrs. J. G. Gunter; secretary, Mrs. W. T. Baird; treasurer, Mrs. W. R. Crassfield. Group leaders: Miss Mary Kingsbery, Mrs. Lon Roan, Miss Cammie Gray and Mrs. Frank Stanley.

Officers of Woman's Missionary Society, of Columbus, are: President, Mrs. C. J. Green; secretary, Mrs. C. E. Hut, Midland, Ga.; treasurer, Mrs. T. R. Booth, Phenix City, Ala.

Mrs. McMahon's Report Features Baptist W. M. U. Board Meeting

The report of Mrs. A. F. McMahon, secretary-treasurer of Georgia Baptist Woman's Missionary Union, featured the July meeting of the state executive board, held Friday in the chapel of the First Baptist church. The report of W. M. U. contributions to missions for the month of June, amounting to $11,102.97, was gratifying and the board also rejoiced over the announcement of the organization of 46 new societies and the presentation of 766 mission study awards and 1,574 seals.

The executive board granted scholarships to Miss Elizabeth Lundy, Sylvester, and to Miss Lesline Rainey, Acworth, for the fall term at the Baptist Training school, Louisville, Ky. Mrs. J. C. Lanier, West Point, vice president of Georgia B. W. M. U., is an efficient training school trustee.

A communication was read from Mrs. W. W. Stork, Commerce, state stewardship chairman, asking that Georgia accept the plan of work recently adopted by Woman's Missionary Union at the Southern Baptist convention in Washington, D. C. This suggestion received the unanimous approval of the board.

It was decided to base the devotionals at the monthly board meetings during the remainder of this year on "Intercessary Prayer," by James G. K. McClure. Mrs. Ben S. Thompson, Madison, presided over the meeting and Mrs. Gordon Weekley brought a devotional.

Those present were Mesdames J. H. Zachry, Lester Brown, Fred L. Phillips, W. D. Burke, I. B. Smith, Gordon Weekley, George Westmoreland, Roger S. Howell, W. T. Henry, A. F. McMahon, Paul S. Etheridge, B. L. Bugg, John Thompson, S. L. Astin, Ben S. Thompson, Madison; Marshall Nelms, Hartwell; R. B. Cormany, Rome; Charles F. Cator, Quitman; Miss Catherine Bryan, China, a guest of the board, and Miss Mary Christian.

Baptist Meetings Are of Interest

The Fidelis class of the Sylvan Hills Baptist church met Thursday at the home of Mrs. W. H. Childress, on Lanier drive, with Mrs. Sue Yancee presiding. After the business a social hour was enjoyed with a jinky contest and games. Mrs. G. Neely and Mrs. H. M. Keith winning prizes. Mrs. W. H. Childress, the retiring president, was presented with a friendship quilt made by the class. Refreshments were served by Group No. 2. Those present were Mesdames A. M. Fain, A. P. Morgan, W. A. Barber, J. A. Sugart, O. G. Hayes, W. H. Childress, H. L. Satterfield, O. L. Sutherland, G. Neely, S. O. King, J. M. Woodall, Howard Thomas, H. M. Keith, T. J. Wortham, A. P. Brown, Sue Yancee, J. R. Carroll, L. C. Bradford, H. M. Quigley, F. W. Davis.

Gleaners' class of the Oakhurst Baptist church met Friday at the home of Mrs. R. A. Cook, 1086 DeKalb avenue, for a business and social meeting. The president, Mrs. J. F. Redding, presided. A short talk was given by Mrs. J. F. Redding, using as her subject "A Building." Mrs. H. T. Vaughan rendered a solo. Splendid reports were made by the officers. Mrs. C. E. Woodall was elected pianist to fill the vacancy made by Mrs. T. H. Mebane, who moved away. Mrs. R. A. Cook presented Mrs. Mebane with a handkerchief shower from the class in appreciation of her faithful service as pianist. A social hour was enjoyed, and tea was served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. E. O. Donaldson.

The quarterly meeting of intermediate girls' auxiliaries was held Sunday afternoon at Druid Hills Baptist church. Mrs. H. A. Cole, associational G. A. leader, led the devotional. The G. A's of Druid Hills, under the direction of the counselor, Miss Nancy Wallace, presented a playlet on the "House Party." Miss Eleanor Acree and Miss Estelle Chaffin, of Capitol View church, having passed the rank of queen, were awarded crowns. Miss Dorothy Cutts also received her crown at this time, due to her absence at the last meeting. The next quarterly meeting will be held October 1, at Woodward Avenue Baptist church.

The Gleaners' class of the Third Baptist church met at the church Monday evening, with Mrs. Hansel Morris, president of the class, presiding. Mrs. J. T. Bowles, teacher of the class, gave the devotional. The treasurer's report was given by Mrs. Ruby Townsend. The class accepted the resignation of Mrs. Pierce Dobbs as group captain. Mrs. W. G. Parker was elected to take her place. A contest is starting which will last throughout August. The winning side will be entertained by the losing side. The class will sponsor a musical at the church in August. The proceeds will be used for repairing the classroom. Members present were Mesdames W. G. Parker, W. E. Morris, Rauchenberg Miller, Hansel Morris, Ruby Townsend, Valria Beshears and J. T. Bowles. Visitors present were Mrs. H. C. Newton, superintendent of the adult department of the Sunday school, and Master Hansel Morris.

W. M. S. Circle No. 12 of the Baptist Tabernacle met at the home of Mrs. W. R. Kitchens, 164 Baker street, Wednesday. This circle is the largest of the tabernacle and 29 members were present. Mrs. J. L. Teague, chairman, presided, and Mrs. George McMillan had charge of the devotional. Mrs. J. M. Hoard, leader, finished the book "His Friends," which the circle has been studying. Luncheon was served and a social hour enjoyed.

Circle No. 2 of the Oakland City Baptist church met Monday afternoon with Mrs. C. E. Betsil, on Holderness street. Mrs. Betsil led the devotional. Plans were made to sell ice cream and cake on the lawn of Mrs. J. F. McBride, Saturday, July 22. Those present were Mesdames G. L. Leach, J. S. Stevens, J. L. Beavers, C. E. Betsil, George R. Boyd, T. D. Mann, H. E. DeFoor, J. S. Upchurch, A. C. Cawthon, M. J. Gardner, Glover Stewart, C. C. Hudson, Claude H. Bowden, little Misses Lenora Leach, Je Nan Upchurch and Mary Jo Mann. The next meeting will be with Mrs. J. S. Stevens, 1130 Avon avenue.

The Y. W. A. of the First Baptist church met with its president, Miss Ruth Rauschenberg, on Wednesday. A picnic supper was enjoyed after which Miss Rauschenberg called the meeting to order. The program, "Africa Waiting for the Word," was in charge of Miss Mary Stewart, with the following young ladies taking part: Scripture reading, Miss Alma Boyette; "Africa's Gifts to Us," Miss Wilhemina Daugherty; "Africa Waiting," Miss Kathleen Rodgers, "Translating of Bible Into the Langauge of Africa," Miss Mary Stewart; "Africa's Need," Mrs. Berry Swilling; "Facts About Africa," Miss Bessie Pearce; "Simon the Cyrenian Speaks," Miss Elizabeth Walker. All members were urged by Miss Boyette, president of the city-wide association, to attend the Y. W. A. rally to be held at the Kirkwood Baptist church Monday, July 17. The training camp to be held at Camp Highland, August 26, was also discussed. Those present were Misses Alma Boyette, Ruth Rauschenberg, Mary Stewart, Wilhemina Dougherty, Bessie Pearce, Mrs. Mildred Morgan, Misses Mary Poole, Elizabeth Poole, Minnie Mae Rodgers, Mary Power, Henrietta Huff, Mrs. Berry Swilling, Misses Edna Bolt, Elizabeth Walker and Kathleen Rodgers.

Second-PoncedeLeon Circle To Be Feted

Mrs. Eva Mathis will be hostess to Circle No. 6 of the Second-Ponce de Leon Avenue Baptist church Monday at 4 o'clock. This is the circle meeting for July, and Mrs. Mathis has invited the members to meet in her lovely flower garden at her home, 53 Peachtree Hills avenue.

Mrs. Lillian W. Moore is chairman of this circle. Mrs. T. W. Reeves is co-chairman; Mrs. J. Van Rogers, secretary and personal service chairman; Mrs. George W. Klier, treasurer; Mrs. George Westmoreland, devotional chairman, with Mrs. T. L. Lewis, assistant; Mrs. J. J. McLendon, treasurer of church building fund; Mrs. L. D. Watson, hospital and love offering; Mrs. George Niles, good will centers; Mrs. J. L. Carroll, orphans' home; Mrs. Ralph Walker, hospitality; Mrs. W. C. Lowe, literature; Mrs. L. B. Sanders, visiting; Mrs. T. W. Reeves, Mrs. Jason Cannon and Mrs. W. A. Goodman, telephone chairmen.

The following are active members of this committee: Mesdames Maude B. Beckham, G. F. Turner, W. M. Hutchinson, Carl Weston, S. C. Dinkins, Jeff Burnett, C. F. Goree, Steward D. Jones, J. W. Lide, D. R. Lide, M. F. Milner, O. L. Rudisail, C. P. Shackleford, E. M. McGee, S. K. McClure, M. L. Brittain and William Worth Martin.

Christian Council Honors Mrs. Harlan.

Mrs. G. W. Harlan was given a flower shower by the Woman's Council of the First Christian church at the meeting Wednesday. Mrs. Harlan is beginning her second term as missionary president of the council, and the flowers were in appreciation of the many worth-while accomplishments of this department during last year and to express joy in Mrs. Harlan re-election. Mrs. H. C. Phipps presented the flowers to Mrs. Harlan.

Mrs. Harlan has been an active worker in the Woman's Missionary Society among the Disciples of Christ in Georgia for more than 30 years. The shower was arranged by Mrs. Chester Martin and each of the ten groups of the council contributed.

The missionary program topic was "The Romance of Beginnings," and was in charge of group No. 1. Mrs. M. B. Marks brought the devotional. Mrs. W. C. Suttenfield and Mrs. R. C. Guy told interestingly of the history of the Disciples of Christ and the Woman's Missionary Society. The musical program consisted of a violin duet by Misses Simmons, accompanied by their sister, Mrs. Alfred Stanley. Mrs. Harlan announced that the home mission study book would be, "The Christian Mission in America," by Kerr.

White Cross Tea Given in Thomaston.

THOMASTON, Ga., July 15.—One of the most important and enjoyable affairs of Baptist W. M. U. work was the White Cross tea, given at the home of Mrs. J. E. Garner by members of the First Baptist W. M. U. Tuesday afternoon. The hostesses, Mrs. Garner and Mrs. Bruce Croom, dressed as nurses, welcomed the guests on the spacious lawn, which was beautified by vases of roses, tables and chairs. After depositing their White Cross gifts the guests were directed to the registration table.

Beautiful green shrubbery and pink crepe myrtle formed a lovely background for the refreshment table. Punch was served by Mesdames Ralph Dodd, William Johnston, Miss Elise Williams and Mrs. Idus Robertson, of Manchester. A story, "Te-te's Hospital Experience," was told by Mrs. Idus Robertson.

Fifty ladies called during the afternoon. Many useful articles, sheets, towels, pillow cases, table scarfs and tray covers were donated. A box will be packed and carried by some of the W. M. S. members to the Georgia Baptist hospital.

Before Baby Comes

Turn the months of waiting into ease and comfort

YOU can now avoid unnecessary pain and after regrets by preparing your body for that dear baby's coming. A massage medium and skin lubricant, called Mother's Friend, helps to relieve and prevent skin tightness . . . abdominal tissue breaks . . . dry skin . . . caked breasts . . . after delivery wrinkles. Mother's Friend refreshes and tones the skin, tissues and muscles. It makes them supple, pliant and elastic. It is scientific in composition—composed of especial oils and highly beneficial ingredients—externally applied—pure and safe. Quickly absorbed. Delightful to use. Highly praised by users, many doctors and nurses. Time-tested for over 60 years. Millions of bottles sold. Try it tonight. Just ask any druggist for Mother's Friend. The Bradfield Co. Atlanta, Ga.

Mother's Friend
—lessens the pain

Briefly Told

Mrs. Thomas H. Johnston has moved from New Haven, Conn., to Boston, Mass., and her address is 54 Bishopgate road, Newton Center, Mass. Her son, Robert Gordon Johnston, who graduated from Yale in June, will enter the Harvard School of Medicine. Mrs. Johnston, the widow of the late Dean Thomas Henry Johnston, of St. Philip's cathedral, is much beloved in Atlanta, where she lived for many years.

Mrs. H. C. Phipps and her mother, Mrs. Nannie Morton, have returned from a vacation trip to Daytona Beach, Fla.

Mrs. L. Z. Fleming entertained the Woman's Council of the West End Christian church at her home, 668 Lawton street, Wednesday.

Church Meetings

Baptist.

The circles of the W. M. S. of the Second-Ponce De Leon Baptist church will meet the week of July 17 as follows: Circle No. 1, with Mrs. R. G. Dunwoody, as chairman, meets with the chairman at her home, at 546 Piedmont avenue, N. E., Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock; Circle No. 2, Mrs. George P. Murray, chairman, will meet Tuesday morning at 10:15 at the church. Mrs. Ryland Knight, Mrs. S. L. Taylor and Mrs. Ernest G. Allen will teach the missionary book, "Japan on the Upward March;" Circle No. 3, Mrs. Charlcie Stegall, chairman, will meet with Mrs. A. L. Whitehead, 3111 Piedmont road, N. E., Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock; Circle No. 4, Mrs. A. W. Waldman, chairman, with Mrs. Myron H. Farmer, 1687 Pelham road, N. E., Monday afternoon, at 3 o'clock; Circle No. 5, Mrs. A. E. Griffith, chairman, will meet with Mrs. M. L. Lively, 1444 West Peachtree street, Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock; Circle No. 6, Mrs. Lillian W. Moore, chairman, will meet with Mrs. Eva W. Mathis, 53 Peachtree Hills avenue, N. E., Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock; Circle No. 7, Mrs. Ben Barron, chairman, will meet with Mrs. Alton P. Martin, 17 Camden road, N. E., Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock; Circle No. 8, Mrs. Frank Cooper Jr., chairman, Mrs. C. E. Holcomb, co-chairman, will meet with Mrs. C. G. Aycock, 890 Penn avenue, N. E. Mrs. J. R. Cothran will be joint hostess; Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock; Circle No. 9, Mrs. J. M. Harrison, with Mrs. W. W. Anderson, 63 Avery drive, Monday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock; Mrs. W. B. Willingham Jr. and Mrs. Straiton Hard will be joint hostesses; Circle No. 10, Miss Elizabeth Emmert, chairman, will meet at the church Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock; Circle No. 11, Mrs. Hal Hentz, chairman, with Mrs. W. F. Dykes, 570 Ridgecrest road, Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock; Circle No. 12, Mrs. B. W. Spinney, chairman, with Mrs. J. L. Madden, 1440 Park avenue, S. E., Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Oakland City Baptist W. M. S. meets Monday at 3 o'clock. Circle No. 2, Mrs. H. E. DeFoor, chairman, will have charge of the program.

Christian.

The Woman's Council of the First Christian church meets Wednesday, July 19, at the church, at 3 o'clock. Mrs. R. E. Cothran, president, will preside.

Ladies' Aid of the Decatur Christian church meets Tuesday, July 18, at the church at 10 o'clock.

The various groups of the Peachtree Christian church meet Monday, July 17, as follows: Group No. 1, picnic at the Atlanta Child's Home at 12 o'clock; Group No. 2, Mrs. J. B. Allmand and Mrs. J. Marvin Smith, 1434 Morningside drive, at 3 o'clock; Group No. 3, Piedmont park, at 3 o'clock; Group No. 4, Mrs. J. J. Corbett, 1200 Van Buren street, at 3 o'clock; Group No. 5, Mrs. Victor Clark, 356 Manor Ridge drive, at 2:30 o'clock.

Woman's Council of the East Atlanta Christian church meets Wednesday, July 19, at the church at 2:30 o'clock.

Methodist.

Executive board of the W. M. S. of Druid Hills Methodist church meets Tuesday, July 18, at 10 o'clock, at the home of Mrs. W. L. Campbell, 1224 North avenue, N. E.

W. M. S. of St. Mark church meets Monday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. The opening devotional service will be led by Miss Jim Claude Farmer, and Miss Lucy Marvin Adams will speak. The business session will be presided over by the president, Mrs. J. W. Hurt.

Liberal.

The Bible class of the United Liberal church will meet at 7:30 o'clock Monday night at the parish house, 669 West Peachtree street. All interested in the liberal interpretation of the Bible are invited to attend. Mrs. McCall is the acting leader of the class.

Mrs. W. R. Story and Mrs. George Turnipseed entertained Circle No. 2, of Park Street Methodist church, Thursday afternoon in the rock garden at Mrs. Story's home on East Lake road. Mrs. E. A. Rhoads, chairman, presided, and the devotional was led by Mrs. Katherine McAnally. There were 20 members present.

Methodist Circles Hold Meetings

Park Street Methodist Circle No. 8 met with Mrs. Arthur Hale at the Wren's Nest in West End on Thursday. Mrs. J. J. Rivers, chairman, presided, and Mesdames J. W. Hinton and W. D. Thompson were hostesses. There were 34 present, including the following visitors: Mesdames R. V. Bidez, J. S. Bone, J. O. Hardwick, W. F. Hutt, Sallie Maud Jones, D. P. Murphy, W. F. Trenary, J. C. White, J. P. Womble and Lovett Williamson. Two new members were cordially welcomed, Mrs. C. P. Gunnell and Mrs. W. B. Perrin. The speakers were Mrs. J. C. White, who brought the devotional, using as her subject "The Parable of the Talents." Mrs. D. P. Murphy gave an inspirational Bible study from Mark, leaving with her hearers the thought "Fear not—only believe." Mrs. W. F. Trenary gave interesting reminiscences of certain phases of welfare work accomplished during the life of John J. Egan. Mrs. J. P. Womble gave a humorous reading, and Mrs. Arthur Hale entertained with stories of Uncle Remus, his family and friends. Emphasizing the circle motto, "For Others," the members have made and distributed a number of garments to the poor, and it was announced that the orphans' home would be the recipient of the quilts which the circle is now working on. A feature of the meeting was a pantry shower for a needy family. The August meeting will be a picnic at Mount Gilead on the first Tuesday.

Calvary W. M. S. combined the executive board meeting for the second quarter and the monthly meeting on Friday morning. The vice president, Mrs. C. D. Benton, presided over the board, and Mrs. Rowland Bryce, president, presided over the monthly meeting. Reports of officers and chairmen showed that the society has been busy raising its pledges, with the supply work, and social service. Mrs. Hughes' circle served luncheon during the social hour.

Business Woman's Circle of the Hapeville Methodist church met Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Paul Hughes. Dinner was served by Mrs. Hughes, assisted by Miss Penelope Hughes. Business items of interest were discussed, after which "I Must Tell Jesus" was sung. Mrs. C. W. Colley gave a beautiful story on "Stewardship." Those present were Misses Annie Ball, Gene Holt, Bessie Lee, Mattie Hughes, Addie Mabry, Penelope Hughes, Annie Lane, Eloise Chapman, Mesdames Thomas Lewis, Marvin King, Barbara Rollins, C. W. Colley and P. W. Hughes.

Eastman Y. W. A. Given Luncheon.

EASTMAN, Ga., July 15.—The Y. W. A. of Eastman Baptist church was recently honored at luncheon at the home of the counselor, Mrs. R. T. Ragan.

This is one of the most outstanding Y. W. A.'s in the state. They organized in January, 1932, with six members and now have 30 active members. Not content with meeting all points on the standard of excellence, they delight in sponsoring the Royal Ambassador chapter in the church. Their most recent activity was the presentation on Sunday evening of a pageant, "The Message of the Cross," in which 25 girls took part.

Those taking part were Misses Mildred Burch, Lottie M. Curl, Mamie Nicholson, Valeria Putman, Nannie Mullis, Seibie Peacock, Johnny V. Wright, Christian Wymie, Fannie L. Harrell, Jimmy Jones, Betty Bohannon, Sarah Clark Franklin, Alice Graham, Exalee Graham, Evelyn Reid, Jacque Hobbs, Nanney Wilcox, Ethel Wilcox, Jessie Mae Dillard, Lois Nixon, Margaret Thompson, Madeline Smith, Lois Bowen, Dixie Mae Parkerson, Annie Muller, Mary Roland and Mrs. R. G. Ragan.

Cleveland W. M. S. Holds Guest Meeting.

CLEVELAND, Ga., July 15.—The Cleveland Methodist W. M. S. held the June Day guest meeting Wednesday, June 21, at the home of Mrs. L. G. Neal. Mrs. A. B. Reynolds, the president, gave the guest welcome and introduced the guest-day speaker, Mrs. Waters, district secretary, of Toccoa. The helpful message brought by Mrs. C. D. Waters was: "To Go a Little Farther," taken from Matt. 26-39. She urged that our society go a little farther in all phases of missionary work this year. The large number of women present included ladies from the Nacoochee society. Miss Eula Sue Kenimer gave an interesting reading: "When Ma Rogers Broke Loose." Miss Janie Telford, assisted by the Misses Edwards, entertained the guests during the social hour.

Dr. Hull To Teach Richardson Class.

Dr. Marion McH. Hull, noted Atlanta Bible student, will teach Mrs. Alonzo Richardson's Sunday school class at St. Mark's Methodist church this morning. Mrs. Richardson is in Europe for the summer, but her class, which numbers over 100 Atlanta women, continues to meet each Sunday morning.

Miss Conley To Become Bride Of Mr. Brown Saturday, Aug. 5

MISS MANORA KATHERINE CONLEY.

Photograph by Little Studio

The announcement made today by Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Conley, of College Park, of the engagement of their daughter, Manora Katherine, to Fred Emerson Brown is of interest to a wide circle of friends of the couple, whose marriage will take place August 5. Miss Conley is the only daughter of her parents, her mother having been Miss Othello Carmichael, daughter of William Spencer Carmichael and the late Manora Alzada Summer, of Newnan, Ga. On her paternal side the bride-elect is related to the Pulliam, Smithe, Nancy and Burroughs families of Georgia and the Carolinas.

Miss Conley received her early education in College Park, later attending Sullins College, Va., and the Atlanta Conservatory of Music, graduating in both expression and voice. She possesses a lovely soprano voice, which has been heard in concert, and over radio broadcasts many times.

Mr. Brown is the son of Mrs. Edna Brown Wright and the late Fred E. Brown, of Wauchula, Fla. He received his early education in Wauchula, later attending the Georgia Military Academy in College Park and Georgia Tech. Mr. Brown is a representative of prominent southern families. The marriage ceremony will be witnessed by only a few close friends.

Relief Committee Makes Request.

The special relief committee of Atlanta and Fulton county, with headquarters at 23 Pryor street, N. E., requests donations of old eyeglass frames. Unemployed who are receiving aid from the relief agency will benefit from contributions of these frames, which will be supplied with lenses by the organization. Donations may be phoned to Main 3215.

Fowler Y. W. A. Holds Meeting.

The Margaret Fowler Y. W. A. met Monday evening at the home of the president, Miss Myrtle Belle Durham, on Copeland avenue.

Short inspirational talks were made by Mrs. Julius Smith, Miss Vera Atkins and Mrs. Bessie O'Quinn. Mrs. Reese Landers prepared an interesting program. Included in the program was a musical number by Mrs. Mamie Cauble and Miss Vivian Bonner.

Those present were Misses Hilda Fause, Sarah Almand, Vivian Bonner, Ada Mae Collins, Mary Jo Florrid, Geneva Drake, Myrtle Belle Durham, Frances Golden, Lenus Daniell, Willie McDougal, Nell Morgan, Leamon Richards, Mamie Jo Richards, Eula Banks, Sadie Buchanan, Sarah Drake, Frances Brown, Ruth Thomas, Mickey Vardell, Virginia Williams, Alta Wigley, Virginia Fridell, Martha McKenzie, Ruth Billins, Clara Burke, Margaret Almand, Dorothy Cathcart, Eunice Smith, and Mesdames Mamie Cauble, Jennye Thomason, Reese Landers, Bessie O'Quinn, Jayne Rogers, Mary Stephens, Rebecca Waters, and Maurine Phillips. Visitors were Mesdames Julius Smith, W. L. Durham, Louise Gloer, Misses Vera Atkins, Margaret Hipps, Margaret Dyer, Mamie Belle Overton and Dorothy Floyd.

Belle Bennett Class Is Given Picnic.

Members of the Belle Bennett Sunday school class of the Hapeville Methodist church were entertained with a picnic Saturday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Sims, near McDonough. A straw-ride was enjoyed, after which a delicious picnic supper was served.

Those enjoying the occasion were Misses Annie Ball, Mary Chapman, Bessie Lee, Elizabeth Ball, Gene Holt, Ruth Chapman, Addie Mabry, Eloise Chapman, Louise Landers, Essie Ball, Mattie Hughes, Mrs. Barbara Rollins, Mrs. Felix Sibley, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Sims, W. F. Whitaker, Charles, Bill and Asbury Sims.

Glad Girls' Class Honored at Dinner.

The members of the Glad Girls' Class of the Capitol View Baptist church were entertained at a progressive dinner Monday evening. The first course was served at the home of Mrs. W. R. Nash, 1318 Stewart avenue; the second at W. R. Dean's, 714 Erin avenue, and the last at the home of Mrs. Paul Smith and Mrs. Hershel Maddox, 1469 Hartford avenue.

The following were present: Misses Leabron Pair, Jewelle Sorrow, Mary Frances Sorrow, Sara Wallace, Sibyl McWhirter, Mildred Miller, Velma Woods, Jennie Mae Miller, Mesdames Bernice Stewart, Georgia Bennett, Nellie Perry, W. R. Nash, Henry Ward, Ethel Gann, Otto Johnson, Hershel Maddox, Belle Kelly, Paul Smith, L. R. Castleberry, W. R. Dean, Ray Thompson, Gladys Miller and K. C. Blackmar.

Golden Rule O. E. S. To Celebrate Birthday.

The fourth birthday party of Golden Rule chapter, O. E. S., on Friday evening, July 28, will have as special guests Mrs. Donna Lawhon, worthy grand matron; Mrs. Pauline Dillon, associate grand conductress; Mrs. Mortie Stanley, grand chaplin; Mrs. Mae Steerman, grand warden, and other grand officers, as well as present matrons, present patrons and associate matrons and patrons.

Music for the evening will be in charge of the grand organist. Mrs. Elizabeth Garrett. Mrs. Lula Misenhamer is worthy matron.

Miss Robinson and Mr. Merry To Wed in August at Augusta

AUGUSTA, Ga., July 15.—Interest centers in the announcement made today of the engagement of Miss Frances Robinson and Ernest Briscoe Merry Jr., of Augusta, the marriage to take place the latter part of August.

Miss Robinson is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Frank Robinson, and is a young girl of pronounced personal attractions and mental attainments. She attended Ward-Belmont College, Nashville, following her graduation from Tubman, and later attended Mary Baldwin College, Staunton, Va. In each of these institutions she specialized in art. She was the art editor of the Blue Stocking, the Mary Baldwin annual. She made her debut the past winter in Augusta, and throughout the season was the center of many social attractions. She is also a member of the Junior league.

She is the granddaughter of Mrs. Frances Cooper Youngblood and the late James Davis Youngblood, of Atlanta, her mother having been Lorine Youngblood. On the paternal side she is the granddaughter of Mrs. Mabel Perkins Robinson, of Los Angeles, Cal., formerly of London, and the late Philip Robinson, of Greensboro, Ga., and on both sides represents families that had important parts in the development of the south.

Mr. Merry is the only son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest B. Merry, and, as his bride-elect, represents fine old families of the south. He is the grandson, on the paternal side, of the late Henry A. Merry and Virginia Holmes Merry. His maternal grandparents were the late James T. and Alice Gray Daniel, of Columbus, Ga., where his mother, who was Eva Daniel, was a popular and beloved young girl. He graduated from the Georgia Tech as a ceramic engineer. He is a member of the S. A. E. and the Tau Beta Pi, an honorary engineering fraternity; of the Skull and Key Club, the Cotillion Club and was captain of the tennis team. He is also a member of the Augusta Country Club. He is associated with the Merry Brothers' Brick and Tile Company of Augusta.

Miss Ware Weds Frank M. White In Newnan, Ga.

NEWNAN, Ga., July 15.—A wedding of cordial interest and one that comes as a surprise to their many friends throughout the state and south, was that of Miss Lucy Katherine Ware, and Frank Morgan White, of Atlanta. The marriage took place Saturday evening, July 15, at 7 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents in Newnan. Rev. F. D. King, pastor of the First Baptist church, of Newnan, performed the impressive ring ceremony in the presence of only the members of the immediate families.

Throughout the house quantities of bright-colored garden flowers were predominant. In the living room an altar of fern, smilax, and evergreens, before which the marriage vows were read, was erected. On each side of the altar were placed seven-branched candelabra holding stately white tapers.

Preceding the ceremony little Misses Julia and Frances Paris lighted the candles. To the strains of Mendelssohn's "Wedding March," played by Mrs. H. H. Ware Sr., of Hogansville, the bride and bridegroom entered together, and were followed by Master Bobby Paris, only nephew of the bride, carrying the ring. During the ceremony "I Love You Truly" was softly played.

The blonde loveliness of the bride was enhanced by her wedding gown of light blue crepe, with hat and matching accessories of white. Her flowers were a shoulder corsage of sweetheart roses and valley lilies.

The bride is the second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Ware, of Newnan. Her brothers are Messrs. J. R. and Thomas A. Ware, and her sister is Mrs. H. S. Paris, all of Newnan. Mr. White is a son of Mr. and Mrs. M. M. White, of Atlanta, and his only sister is Mrs. R. M. Proctor, of Chattanooga, Tenn.

Immediately after the ceremony Mr. White and his bride left for a wedding trip through North and South Carolina and Tennessee. Upon their return they will reside at 544 Broyles street, S. E., Atlanta.

Ponemah Council To Sponsor Party.

Ponemah Council No. 28, Degree of Pocahontas, will sponsor a lemon-cutting, Monday evening, July 17, at 8 o'clock, at the home of Mrs. Lillie Fair, 362 Bryan street, S. E. Members are urged to attend and bring their family and friends. Proceeds accruing therefrom are to be used for the relief fund.

On Tuesday evening, July 18, Mrs. Eunice Mossie, deputy president, will install the following officers of Ponemah council for the ensuing term, Mrs. Cora Seidenfadden, prophetess; Mrs. J. R. Cheatham, Pocahontas; Mrs. I. B. Scogin, Winonah; E. W. Roberts, Powhatan, and others will be appointed.

Broome—Moore.

A marriage of interest to friends throughout the states of Georgia and South Carolina was that of Mrs. Effie Broome to William O. Moore, which was solemnized quietly in Decatur Thursday, July 6.

Your general health depends a great deal upon foot health. You can't be well if your feet are sick—so put your feet on the Health Spot and all foot troubles will end. We will see that you are carefully and correctly fitted with these normal health shoes.

DR. PARKER'S HEALTH SHOES

"The Shoe That Breathes" 116 PEACHTREE

WHAT—

IS

Mrs. Lawrence Willet's Favorite Recipe?

Mrs. Lawrence Willet

Mrs. Lawrence Willet has achieved an enviable reputation as a housekeeper since her marriage 15 years ago and she ranks as an ideal hostess. She inherits decided ability for organization and club work, her mother, Mrs. A. P. Brantley, of Blackshear, having been president of Georgia Federation of Women's Clubs during one of the most successful administrations of the organization. Mrs. Willet is chairman of the fifth district of Tallulah Falls school for Georgia Federation of Woman's Clubs. She is a member of the Junior League and is socially prominent.—Photograph by Arasno.

THIS AND OTHER favorite recipes of prominent Atlanta social and club leaders, together with a choice presentation of Balanced Budget and Kitchen Tested recipes in compact and comprehensive form will be given you in

SALLY SAVER'S
4th Semi-Annual
COOK BOOK
Tuesday, July 18th
in
THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION

"The Newspaper of Achievements"

Woman's Club Plans Bridge Tournaments

Announcement is made that the Atlanta Woman's Club will sponsor a series of bridge tournaments under the direction of Mrs. Carl G. Vretman, beginning Friday, July 21, at 10 o'clock. The other tournaments will be held Tuesday, August 1; Tuesday, August 8; Tuesday, August 15, and Tuesday, August 22. A special charge of 50 cents per person is being made, and Mrs. Vretman will be present to give instruction and assistance.

Prizes will be awarded during the tournaments and at the close of the series Mrs. Vretman will give a prize of $5 to the holder of the high score. Mrs. J. T. DeLiesseline is chairman of arrangements for the tournaments, and reservations may be made by telephoning Walnut 4438 or by telephoning the club at Hemlock 4636. Club members and their friends who are interested in bridge are urged to take part in these tournaments.

Debutante List Forecasts Gay Fall Season

Continued from Page Six.

she was outstanding in social and scholastic activities, and during her senior year was president of the Phi Pi Club. Few youthful belles have enjoyed the distinction of being chosen as sponsor for the Georgia Tech football team so often as Miss Robert, who is always an admired figure at dances for the younger set in Atlanta and other southern cities.

Miss Carr, vivacious and charming youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clark Howell, will spend her second winter at home after a number of years away at school. After attending Washington Seminary in Atlanta and National Cathedral school at Washington, D. C., Miss Carr completed her education at the Spence school in New York, and during the past winter was among the sought-after belles at dances and other social affairs in Atlanta and neighboring cities. Miss Carr has had the advantages of extensive travel and last spring spent a month in Bermuda with Miss Weinman and her mother, Mrs. W. J. Weinman. At present Miss Carr is vacationing with her mother at Highlands, N. C., where she is entertaining groups of friends at the Howell cottage, which is a Mecca for members of the younger set. Because of her spontaneity and charming manner, she seems destined to follow in the footsteps of her sisters, Mrs. Edward Friendly, of New York city, and Mrs. Clark Howell Jr., of Atlanta, the latter a past president of the Atlanta Junior League.

Although Cartersville is her home, Atlanta has an almost equal claim on stunning, titian-haired Miss Frances Weinman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Weinman, who resided with her mother at the Georgian Terrace hotel during the winters throughout her high school days at Washington Seminary, and who plans to spend most of her time at the Terrace during her debutante season. Possessing a flair for wearing her well-chosen ensembles with an air of distinction and having a magnetic personality, Miss Weinman has been a reigning belle with the college set and will continue her reputation for extreme popularity as a debutante.

Miss Eleanor Alsop, of Darien, Conn., will probably return during the season of 1933-34 to be presented to society in Atlanta, the erstwhile home of her mother, who is the former Miss Eula Jackson. Miss Alsop is a granddaughter of Mrs. Henry S. Jackson, of New York, and a niece of Robert F. Maddox. She is a cousin of Mrs. James E. Hickey, and will visit Mrs. Hickey at her Wesley avenue residence during the forthcoming winter.

A duo of sisters, Misses Florence Bryan and Mary Bryan, daughters of Judge and Mrs. Shepard Bryan, may combine the round of debut festivities with completing their college courses at Oglethorpe University, where they plan to take their A. B. degrees in June. Titian-haired Miss Mary Bryan forms an excellent foil for the coloring of her brown-haired sister, and the personalities of these sisters are as different as their coloring. The Misses Bryan have been leaders among their contemporaries during their early school days at North Avenue Presbyterian school, at National Cathedral school and at Oglethorpe, as well as with other members of the younger set.

Miss Lundye Sharp, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis D. Sharp, and Miss Susa. Baker Jones, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Francis Jones, are close friends of the Bryan sisters, who may be counted among the debutantes. Miss Sharp is spending her first winter at home after attending Gunston Ha' Washington, D. C., following her school days at Washington Seminary. This Atlantan has been numbered among the visiting belles at many a dance at the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis, Md., in addition to visiting in numbers of other cities and attending other collegiate dances while away at school. Miss Jones, with a party of friends, is on a trip to Chicago, Ill., and the Great Lakes, and will return to the city in a week. Since her graduation from Washington Seminary, she attended the University of Georgia, and has been numbered among popular members of the younger set in Atlanta.

Miss Kate Jenkins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William K. Jenkins, who has recently returned with her parents to Atlanta after living in Dallas, Texas, for the past two years, will be a particularly representative deb. At the Southern Methodist University, in Texas, where Miss Jenkins was a Pi Beta Phi and prominent in campus activities, she was named the sweetheart of S. M. U. and accorded numerous other honors. Miss Jenkins was graduated from Washington Seminary in Atlanta and at present is at Sea Island Beach, where her parents occupy a cottage. A close friend of Miss Jenkins, Miss Judy King, sister of Mr. and Mrs. Ben T. Smith, and daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. C. Spurgeon King, is numbered among the prospective debutantes. Miss King graduated in June from Finch school in New York city and is spending a part of her summer at St. Simons Island. Miss Mary Cobb Hunnicutt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Hunnicutt, may possibly join the ranks of the debs, but at present she is at her parents' Lakemont cottage, where she and her sisters, Misses Claire and Ruth Hunnicutt, are entertaining groups of their friends. Miss Hunnicutt was honored by her selection as leader of the Georgia Tech Pan-Hellenic dances in January and June.

After spending the past two years at Hollins College, Va., Miss Harriett Grant, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. M. Grant, plans to remain at home this winter and to be included among the debutantes. Possessing an exquisite blonde coloring, Miss Grant has been honored by her classmates at Washington Seminary by her election a number of times as president of her class and her popularity has been attested by other honors accorded her. Miss Virginia Dillon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter S. Dillon, has been a classmate of Miss Grant at Hollins College for the past two years, and may combine the activities of a popular deb with several college courses at Emory University. Miss Dillon recently was the lovely maid of honor in the wedding of her sister, Miss Jane Dillon, to Richard Johnston. Miss Miriam Fleming, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Fleming, is a former Hollins girl who probably will be a debutante. A splendid athlete, Miss Fleming follows a popular elder sister, Miss Anne Wynn Fleming, who was numbered among the 1931-32 debs. Blonde Miss Patsy Thayer, daughter of Mrs. Maymie T. Thayer, attended Hollins, where creditable offerings under her signature appeared in college publications. Miss Thayer may be counted among the season's debutantes, as may Miss Isabelle Knight, of Buford, Ga., who was her classmate at college and has frequently visited in Atlanta, in addition to having entertained numbers of Atlanta friends at her home.

Since her graduation in June from the exclusive Foxcroft school in Middleburg, Va., Miss Barbara Ransom, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Ransom, has been accorded a royal welcome by her wide circle of friends, and as she will spend her first winter at home, it is expected that she will be among the 1933-34 debs. Miss Ransom at present is visiting Miss Lucille Jordan at her home in Birmingham, Ala. Miss Betty Schroder, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Schroder, is a petite and vivacious blonde, who may join the debutante ranks. Since she attended the Georgetown Visitation convent near Washington, D. C., Miss Schroder has been among the popular youthful belles lending their presence at affairs for the younger social set. Lovely Miss Betty Gage, daughter of Major and Mrs. Philip S. Gage, U. S. A., has the varied background of an army daughter, and her extensive travels have added to her fascinating personality. Miss Gage's debut will be of interest to members of the army set at Fort McPherson, as well as to civilian society in Atlanta.

Although her parents, Dr. and Mrs. Michael Hoke, have moved to Warm Springs, Ga., for their residence, her wide circle of friends is hoping that Miss Lydia Hoke will decide to be numbered among the season's debutantes. Dr. and Mrs. Hoke occupy the Warm Springs White House in the absence of President Roosevelt and his family, but Miss Hoke spends part of her time with her grandfather, Z. D. Harrison, at Fernbank, his Druid Hills residence. She attended Hollins College and later studied landscape architecture in Cambridge, Mass. Another popular belle whose parents live out of town but who spends a great deal of time in Atlanta is Miss Betty Cole, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Madison Bell of Cartersville, who is counted as a probable debutante. Miss Cole has attended school in Europe and has had the advantages of wide travel.

Miss Caroline Crumley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Crumley, who is at present touring the west with the Georgia caravans, probably will make her formal bow with the 1933-34 debutantes. Miss Crumley may spend the month of August as the guest of relatives at their home in Hollywood, Cal. before returning to Atlanta. Miss Betsy Weyman, daughter of Mrs. S. T. Weyman, who, with Miss Grant, is week-ending at Highlands, N. C., as the guest of Miss Mary Ann Carr, may make her debut this season. Miss Weyman attended the Oldfield school, Glencoe, Md., and has frequently been feted as the guest of former schoolmates at their homes. Miss Weyman's close friends, Miss Mary Irby, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alton S. Irby, and Miss Suzanne Memminger, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. W. L. Memminger, will be popular additions to the debutante coterie, should they decide to join this group. Miss Harriett Ann Baylor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Baylor, is another attractive member of this set who is counted as a prospective deb, and who will doubtless be the recipient of numerous social courtesies. Miss Baylor is a graduate of Gunston Hall, Washington, D. C., and on her holidays from school was feted as the guest of several schoolmates in addition to attending numerous college dances.

So representative a group of debs forecasts a splendid season for the 1933-34 Debutante Club, and Atlanta society will eagerly await the organization of the club.

Recent Bride

Mrs. Sam L. Durgan, whose marriage was a recent event. She is the former Mrs. Lila M. Kiddey, of Jacksonville and Miami, Fla. Mr. and Mrs. Durgan are residing at 1586 West Peachtree street.

Engagement Is Of Interest.

Of particular interest to Atlantans is the announcement made today of the engagement of Miss Ethel Woodruff, of Columbus, to Lieutenant Philip Henry Draper Jr., U. S. A., because of the future bride's extreme popularity in this city. Miss Woodruff has visited in Atlanta frequently as the guest of her close friend, Mrs. Troup Miller, of Langley Field, Virginia, who was Miss Julia Meador, of Atlanta. Possessing distinctive brunet loveliness, Miss Woodruff has been one of the most popular girls in Georgia, and was a schoolmate of Mrs. Miller at the King-Smith school in Washington, D. C.

An unusually talented dancer, Miss Woodruff has studied this art in New York city during the past year and had the unusual honor of being one of the group of dancers selected for the ballet at Roxy's theater. When President Franklin D. Roosevelt made his last visit to the Little White House at Warm Springs, Miss Woodruff accepted an invitation to give a costume dance before the chief executive, who seemed greatly pleased with her graceful interpretation of the musical theme. After their marriage, Lieutenant Draper and his bride will be welcomed as additions to the younger set at the United States Military Academy at West Point, N. Y., where he will be on duty as an instructor.

To Take Possession Of Valencia.

When Dr. Robert Latta and his bride, the former Miss Mary Hewlett, return from their wedding trip they will take possession of Valencia, their handsome residence on Peachtree Battle avenue. With cream-colored stucco walls, wrought iron grill work, gabled roof and tiled patios, the home is typically Spanish and makes a perfect setting for the brunet bride who will preside as its gracious hostess.

Spanish red draperies adorn the windows in the living room and the rich Persian rugs are in tones of red and blue. Copies of old masters, collected by Mrs. Latta during her travels in Europe, are hung on the walls, and the chairs repeat the rich color tones in the upholstery. Old chestnut furniture was selected by Mrs. Latta for her dining room and the chairs boast loose cushions of wine-red velvet.

A sun porch overlooks a patio tiled in reds, blues and greens and a fountain plays in the center of the room. Growing plants trail their beauty from the porch boxes and in the rear of the house a second patio is centered with a fountain, guarded by four marble figures. Chairs are grouped around a table shaded by a brilliant-hued umbrella and the house and patios reflect the art of a well-known decorator.

The Four O'Clocks.

The Four O'Clocks is a social and philanthropic organization composed of attractive members of Decatur society and was organized on September 9, 1931. Eight young girls often met to sew and play bridge and decided to form a club and call it the Four O'Clocks, as the group always met at 4 o'clock in the afternoon. They chose a yellow four o'clock as the club flower because these flowers grew in profusion at Miss Grace Kell's home on Leland terrace.

In June, 1933, three members of the club were married, Miss Elizabeth Paschal becoming Mrs. Jack Kirk, of Franklin, Ga.; Miss Dorothy Edmunds changed her name to Mrs. Gwynn Moler, and Miss Virginia Davis became the bride of Dr. Alonzo Wheeler. A fourth member of the Four O'Clocks is wearing an exquisite diamond ring that is significant of an engagement yet to be announced.

In 1932, the Four O'Clocks were invited to join the Atlanta Federation of Women's Clubs, and since that time members have added child welfare to the list of aims and purposes. One of the greatest pleasures of the group is to take baskets at Christmas and Thanksgiving to a poor family recommended by the Decatur chapter of the Red Cross.

Sometimes the members chatter instead of playing bridge, and Miss Frances Stapleton often regales them with her unforgettable visit to Senator Walter George and Mrs. George at the Mayflower hotel in Washington, D. C. She actually breathed the same air of national and foreign notables and spent a half hour with former Vice President Curtis and his sister, the famous Dolly Gann, in their suite in the Mayflower. She went to a reception given the Italian ambassador, lunched at the Cosmos Club in the Dolly Madison house and dined in the senate dining room quite near to Alice Longworth and her brother, Teddy Roosevelt.

Members of the club are Misses Grace Kell, president of the club; Frances Stapleton, Helen and Rosalin Arnold, Elizabeth Durham and Mesdames Alonzo Wheeler, Jack Kirk and Gwynn Moler. On September 9, the members will have the second anniversary party at the Avondale Club and their escorts and parents will be special guests.

Atlantans Enjoy West Indies Cruise.

Embarking recently aboard the S. S. Mauretania, Mr. and Mrs. John M. Ogden, with their small daughters, Dorothy May and Betty Jane, set sail from New York city on a West Indies cruise. Picturesque Trinidad, off the South American coast, was the first stop and there Mr. and Mrs. Ogden and the little Misses Ogden visited the shops and viewed the stalls where quaint wares were displayed.

Through the southern seas the vessel cruised, touching foreign ports where the new and old civilization are combined and age-old temples lift crumbling walls suggestive of an ancient civilization. Through the Panama canal the party will journey where they will visit Cristobal and Columbia and thrill anew at the street with the patriotic name, The Fourth of July avenue. Returning to New York they will land Friday, July 21, and will entrain for home to reopen their handsome residence on Pace's Ferry road.

Recent Bride

Mrs. D. L. Drake, who before her recent marriage was Miss Myrtie Stewart, of Scott and Tallulah Falls, Georgia.

Newlyweds Return Here This Week.

Those newlyweds, Lieutenant George Dakin Crosby, U. S. A., and Mrs. Crosby, arrive this week to visit their parents, Dr. and Mrs. Stephen Barnett, at their Fourteenth street residence. Mrs. Crosby is the former Miss Frances Barnett and she became the bride of Lieutenant Crosby in a June ceremony taking place in the First Presbyterian church. Their marriage centered the interest of military and civilian society and society turned out en masse for the event and for the reception which followed at the Piedmont Driving Club.

Leaving by motor on their honeymoon the bride and bridegroom visited Connahaynee Lodge at Tate Estates, and motored through the Carolina mountains with stops at points of interest. In Washington, D. C., they visited Lieutenant Crosby's parents, Major General Herbert Crosby, U. S. A., and Mrs. Crosby, at their attractive home and motored to Canada for a few weeks' stay.

Wending their way up the Hudson river they visited the United States Military Academy at West Point, where Lieutenant Crosby was graduated with the class of 1924. Strolling on the balcony of Cullum Hall they overlooked the quadrangle where the bridegroom had learned his squad rights and spent his four years of training for his commission.

Miss Viola Lallande Is Attractive Visitor.

Among the attractive visitors being welcomed in Atlanta this week is Miss Viola Lallande, of New Orleans, whose exotic beauty and magnetic personality draw the admiration of a large circle of friends. She is visiting Mrs. Norville W. Wilson on Park circle, having been a schoolmate of Mrs. Wilson at the Catherine Bres school in New Orleans. Miss Lallande is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Lallande and is a popular member of the unmarried social contingent in her home city.

She has had the cultural advantage of spending six months in Europe, and it was while the Colonial Exposition occupied the center of the stage in Paris that Miss Lallande journeyed to the French capital to represent Louisiana at this international event. During the Mardi Gras festivities last February Miss Lallande was maid of honor to Miss Lorraine Nalty, the queen of the Prophets of Persia, and was one of the most popular girls attending the ball. She is an alumna of Sophie Newcomb College, that educational institution which ranks among the most important educational institutions in the country.

Benefit Bridge.

North Atlanta Chapter No. 36, O. E. S., will sponsor a benefit bridge party at Rosier's cafe, 569 West Peachtree street, July 26, at 8 o'clock. Tickets are 25 cents each. There will be prizes awarded. For reservations call Hemlock 4804-J, Vernon 1227, Hemlock 8678 or Hemlock 9720-W.

Fulton Chapter U.D.C. Meets at "Eventide."

Fulton chapter, U. D. C., met recently at "Eventide." Colonel Nash gave the devotional. A guitar trio, including Jimmy Dodd, L. A. Camp and Horace Kincaid, from the Westbrook Conservatory of Music, rendered selections. Little Miss Marguerite Michael, 5-year-old great-granddaughter of Mrs. Sarah J. Purtell, founder of the Old Ladies' Home, sang and danced. Miss Michael was accompanied by Mrs. Ray at the piano.

Dr. C. L. Moore introduced the speaker, Captain A. L. Henson. He gave a beautiful tribute not only to the veterans but particularly to the Daughters of the Confederacy, recognizing as he did in them the "Aristocracy of Service" and "Nobleness of Souls."

Mrs. G. L. Elliott presented the names of Mesdames Ellie Fields, Adelaide Gallagher, Cornelia Curtin and Miss Margaret Fields. Dr. Moore gave the benediction. Miss Dollie Haralson, member of Fulton chapter and superintendent of the home, served tea. Upon the direction of Mrs. McCutcheon a note of sympathy was sent to General Driver, revered commander, who is ill at his home on Parkway drive, Lakewood, Ohio.

RUMMAGE SALE

AT HAVERTY'S

The biggest bargains people have ever seen. Overstocks, short lots, floor worn samples, exchanged pieces, demonstrators—all must go in a hurry!

Everything Goes!

Day Bed $17.77 $1.00 Weekly
Attractive Walnut End Day Beds, complete with pad, with colorful velour covering similar to illustration—tomorrow.

Axminster Rug 99c Charge It!
Odd lot of forty-eight 27-inch scatter rugs. Reconditioned and cleaned. Act quick.

Mattress $6.66 $1.00 Weekly
Full-size cotton-filled mattress. Durable, fancy art ticking. A bargain.

Radios $37.77 $1.00 Weekly
Clearance of sample Radios. Famous makes. Sacrificed at this low price.

Phonographs $4.44 $1.00 Weekly
Cabinet model, sample one-of-a-kind phonographs. Famous makes included.

Enamel Desk $7.77 $1.00 Weekly
Convenient size enamel desk for the bedroom, similar to illustration. Values to $22.50.

Cedar Chest $6.66 $1.00 Weekly
Moth-proof natural cedar chest. The ideal size for the home. Buy tomorrow.

Walnut Chest $8.88 $1.00 Weekly
Chest of Drawers in smart walnut finish. Values you will appreciate.

Foot Stool 99c Charge It!
Assortment of attractive foot stools in choice of colors. Come early for best selections.

Gas Range $9.99 $1.00 Weekly
Gas Ranges that won't last long at this ridiculously low price. Reconditioned and trade-ins. Big values. One of a kind.

Velvet Rugs $29.99 $1.00 Weekly
9x12 deep piled seamless Axminster and Velvet Rugs. Regular $44.50 value. Buy tomorrow.

Chifforobe $17.77 $1.00 Weekly
Spacious Chifforobe in golden oak finish. Hanging compartment, large drawers, hat compartment.

Kitchen Cabinet $14 $1.00 Weekly
Clearance of refinished and reconditioned Kitchen Cabinets in choice of oak or enamel finish. One of a kind—hurry while they last.

Vegetable Bin 44c Charge It!
Metal Vegetable Bin in choice of enamel colors. Spacious compartments. Limited number at this price.

Upright Piano $99 Easy Terms
Beautiful upright Piano in mahogany. You must see it to appreciate its value.

Telephone Set $2.95 Easy Terms
Walnut Telephone Set, complete with stool. Ideal in size. Regular $4.95 value! Hurry tomorrow.

Sample Rugs $9.99 50c Weekly
9x12 Axminster and tapestry Brussells Rugs. Reconditioned and cleaned. Slightly used. Tomorrow.

Felt Base 69c Extra for Laying
Blocked and figured patterns in felt-base floor covering (like linoleum). Choice of colors. Square yd., 69c.

Sample 3-Pc Living Room Suites $19.99
Terms $1.00 Cash, $1.00 Weekly
Sample three-piece Living Room Suite in genuine Jacquard velour. Slashed as never before. Slightly soiled—Sofa, Club Chair and button-back Chair. You will never see such a bargain as this again! Come early.

Sample 3-Pc. Bedroom Suite $29.99
Dresser Only $7.77 Extra!
These values can't last long—Full size Bed, Chest and Vanity, similar to illustration. Enamel finish. Samples only. One of a kind. You must be early to get yours. Dresser may be purchased for $7.77 additional.
Terms: $1.00 Cash, $1.00 Weekly.

Sample 9-Pc. Dining Room Suite $69.99
A value that will smash all records on value-giving in this nine-piece walnut Dining Room Suite. Buffet, Extension Table, China and six Diners. Samples only. Buy tomorrow at Haverty's.
Terms: $1.50 Cash, $1.50 Weekly

5-Pc. Breakfast Suites $9.99
Terms $1.00 Cash, $1.00 Weekly
Five-piece Breakfast Room Suite which would ordinarily sell for much more. Charming drop-leaf Table, convenient in size, and four as is sturdily constructed, comfortable Chairs. Unfinished. Buy tomorrow.

Window Shades 88c Charge It!
36-inch by 6-foot window shades in colors. $1.25 values to go Monday at 88c.

Lounge Chair $6.66 $1.00 Weekly
Quality lounge chairs in choice of beautiful colors. Loose cushions. A rare value.

Felt Base Rug $4.88 50c Weekly
6x9 felt base rugs which every home should have. Beautiful patterns to select from.

Tapestry Rugs $19.99 50c Weekly
9x12 Axminster and Seamless Velvet Rugs in pleasing design and colors. Values to $34.50.

Clothes Hamper 77c Charge It!
Choice of Metal clothes Hamper or natural woven Baskets. You can hardly visualize such a buy.

Dressers $7.77 50c Weekly
Odd lot of dressers grouped together for final close-out. Reconditioned, refinished. A variety of sizes.

Refrigerator $4.44 $1.00 Weekly
Side Icer Refrigerator in enamel and golden oak finish—reconditioned. Buy now and save.

Dust Mop, Wax 99c Charge It!
Handy dust mop, complete with ½ pint Johnson Floor Wax. Reduced for tomorrow only.

Vac. Cleaner $9.99 $1.00 Weekly
Convenient size Electric Vacuum Cleaner. One of a kind. Rebuilt and reconditioned. A value.

Odd Vanity $14.44 $1.00 Weekly
Beautiful French or table-top Vanity in walnut finish. Values up to $49.50 Buy now and save.

Secretary $19.99 $1.00 Weekly
Beautiful mahogany finished Secretary with gracefully turned legs. Ample drawer space. One of a kind. Limited number.

Occ. Table $5.55 50c Weekly
$9.50 Occasional Tables in two-toned walnut. Gracefully turned legs. Convenient sizes.

Fernery 99c Charge It!
Metal Fernery in choice of green or red enamel finished. Limited number. Samples.

Occ. Chairs $5.55 $1.00 Weekly
Beautifully upholstered in choice of tapestry or early American design in tapestry. Samples—one of a kind.

End Table 99c Charge It!
Beautiful walnut End Tables. One-half moon in shape. A real bargain. Buy now.

Metal Beds $3.33 $1.00 Weekly
Handsome beds finished in brown enamel. Reconditioned. Come early. Save!

HAVERTY FURNITURE CO.
Corner Edgewood Ave. and Pryor St.
Just a Few Steps From 5 Points Off Peachtree

MAGAZINE SECTION

THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION

MAGAZINE SECTION

Girls Who Make Me Homesick

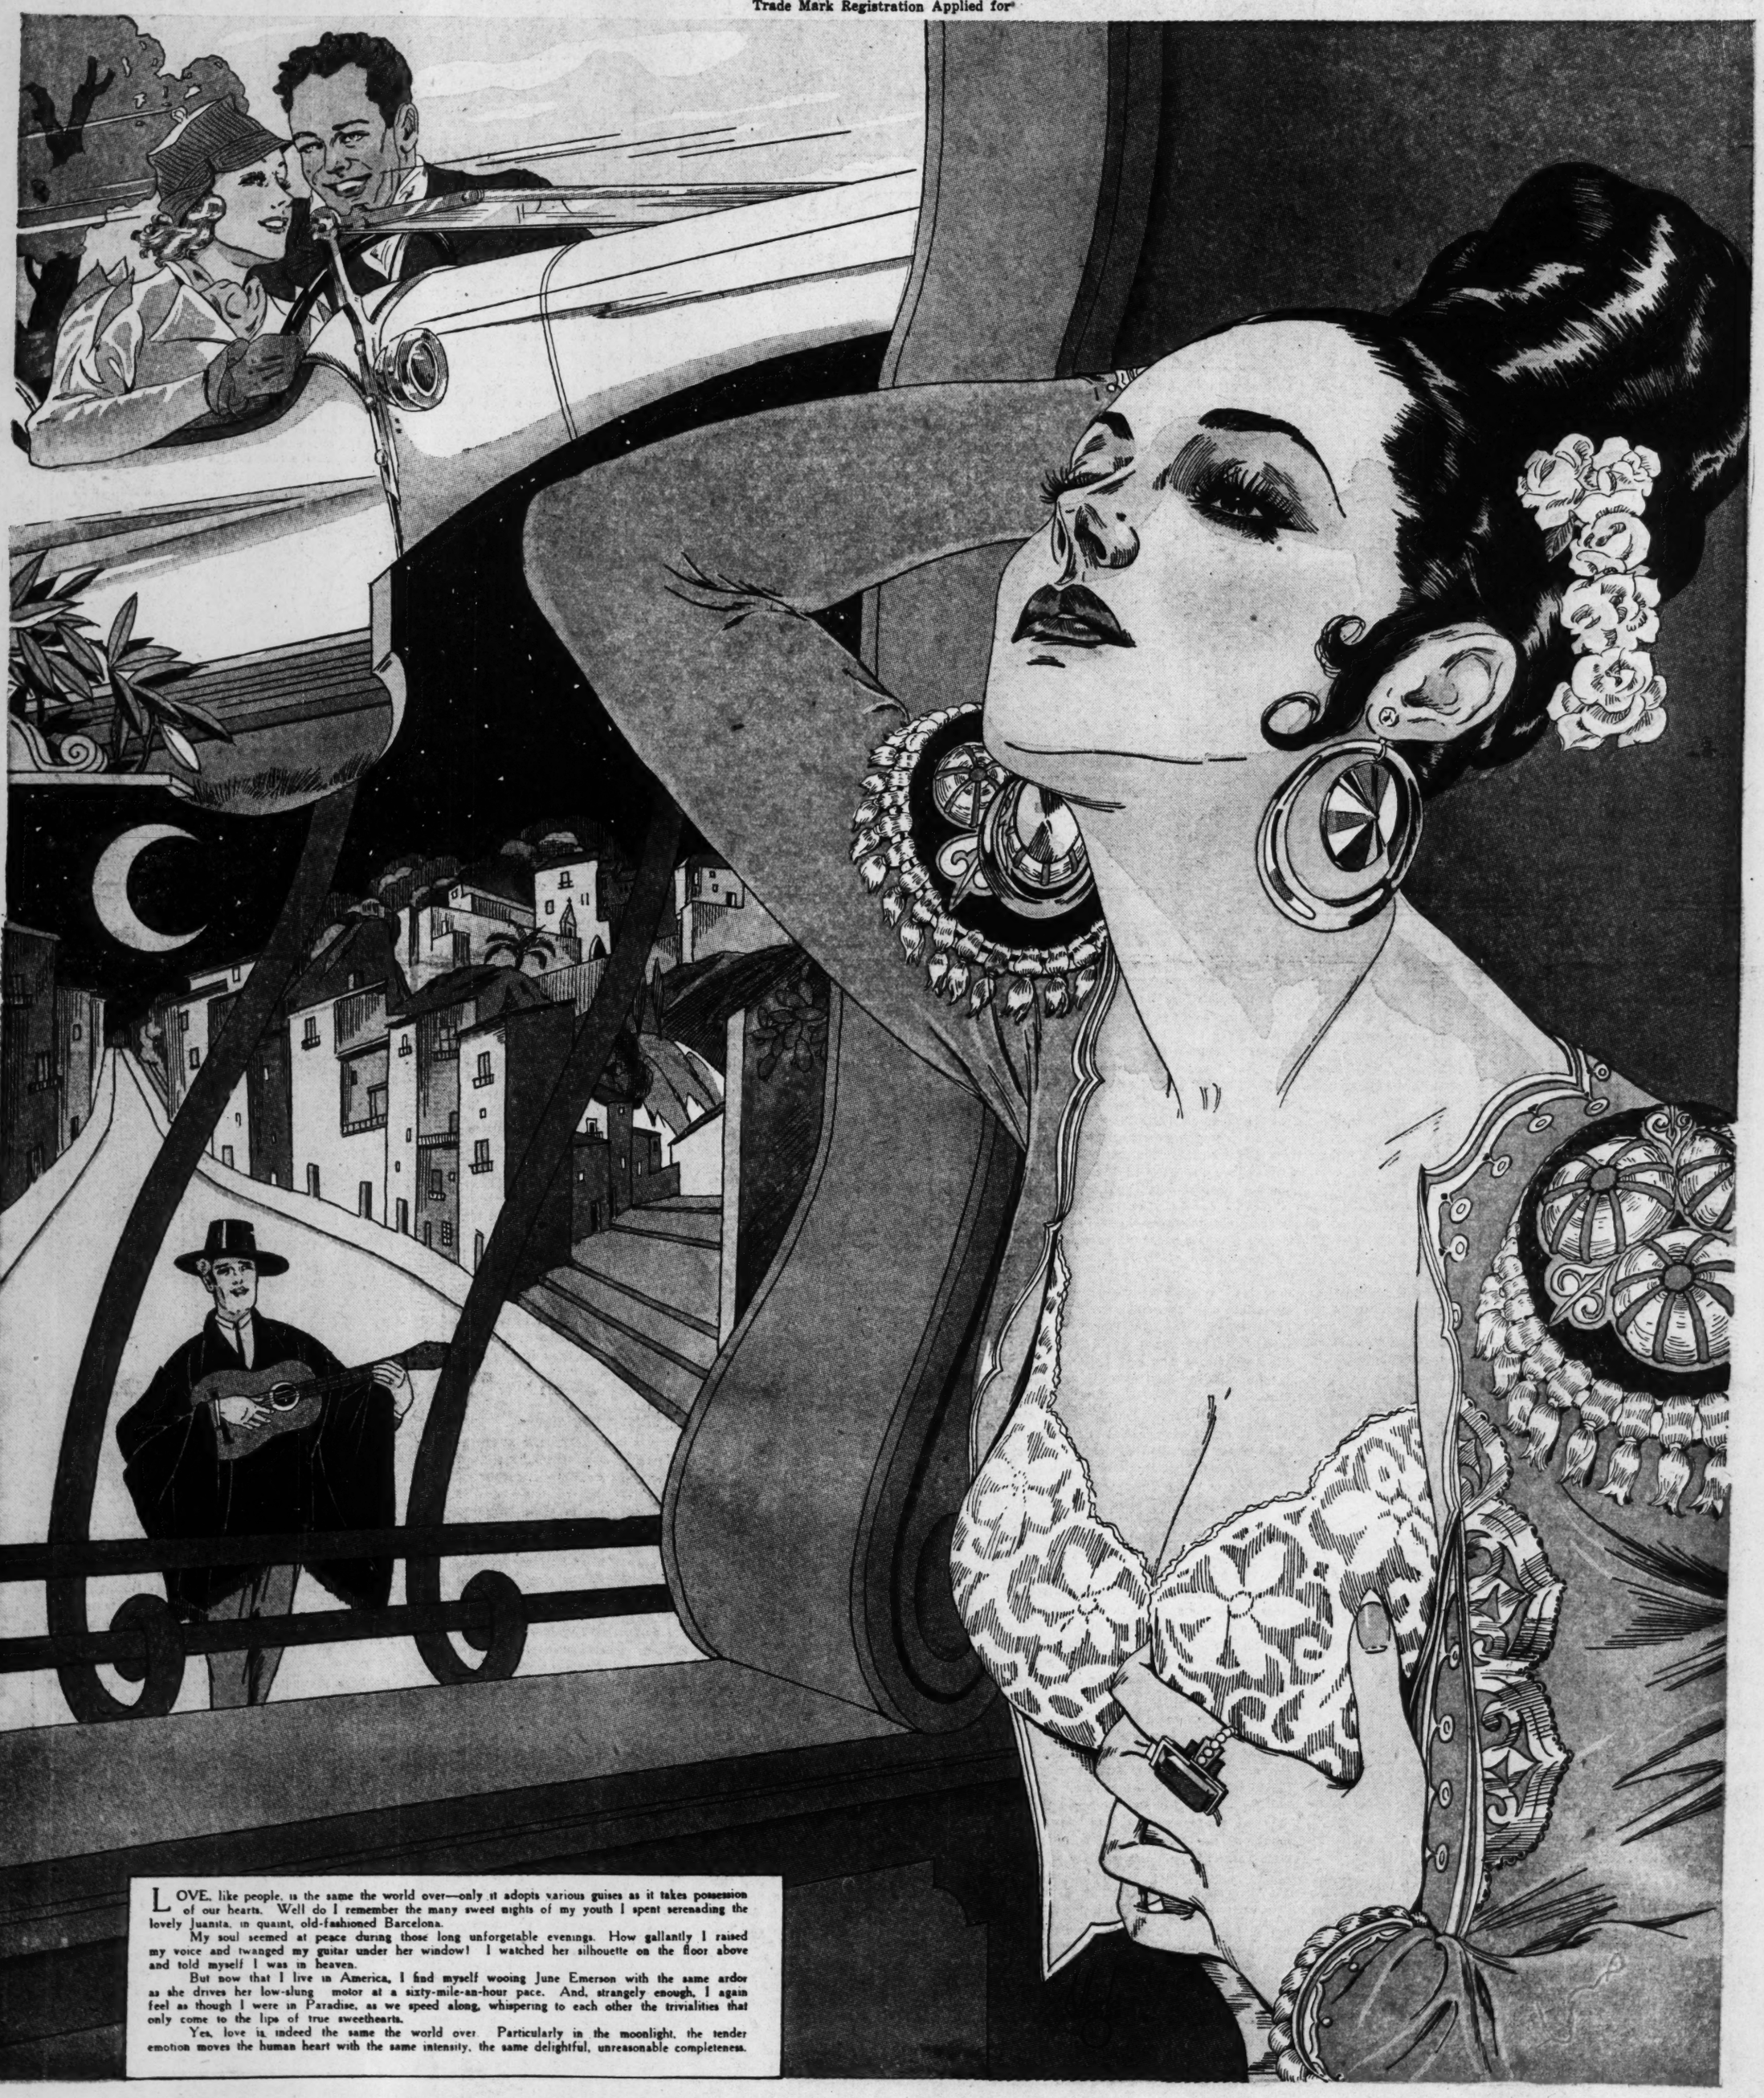

By the Famous Spanish Artist

Alberto Vargas

Love Is the Same the World Over

SUNDAY, JULY 16, 1933

Trade Mark Registration Applied for

LOVE, like people, is the same the world over—only it adopts various guises as it takes possession of our hearts. Well do I remember the many sweet nights of my youth I spent serenading the lovely Juanita, in quaint, old-fashioned Barcelona.

My soul seemed at peace during those long unforgetable evenings. How gallantly I raised my voice and twanged my guitar under her window! I watched her silhouette on the floor above and told myself I was in heaven.

But now that I live in America, I find myself wooing June Emerson with the same ardor as she drives her low-slung motor at a sixty-mile-an-hour pace. And, strangely enough, I again feel as though I were in Paradise, as we speed along, whispering to each other the trivialities that only come to the lips of true sweethearts.

Yes, love is indeed the same the world over. Particularly in the moonlight, the tender emotion moves the human heart with the same intensity, the same delightful, unreasonable completeness.

Thousands Flock to Modern Miracle Man

Page 3 carries a story about Dr. Locke, who has cured thousands of so-called hopeless cases by his "toe-twisting."

No Nice Girl Goes Too Far-
(No Matter What the Others Do)

Alice-Leone Moats

With Drawings by Massaguer, Famous Caricaturist.

"——the type we picture with a little Pekingese——"

"The siren who makes a play for every man ends up by getting none really attached."

EXAGGERATE in conversation and you'll find that you're lying; exaggerate in any other phase of life and you'll probably find that you have committed a breach of good taste. Going too far in anything is almost worse than not going far enough; you lose the punch, or fail to make the effect that you had planned.

To most girls staying awake nights wondering what they can do about acquiring a little glamour, it would seem impossible to ever have too much sex-appeal, and yet it can be done, particularly if it's conscious. The eternal siren who makes a play for every man she sees, ends up by getting none really attached. The concentrator is the one who gets the eligible beau, or rather, beaux, since in these times when we succeed in crowding so much into one day, your powers of concentration should be strong enough to take in from one to three men.

However, although having one official beau definitely ruins your good time because the others keep away, there's almost as much danger in numbers. Few men have the competitive spirit so highly developed that they are anxious, or even willing, to be serious about a girl who is surrounded by a regular barrage of admirers. No matter how hard you try, you can't have the same devastating effect on twenty men as you can on two. After all, no good hunter scatters his shot.

ANOTHER difficulty that the girl who is out to attract every man in the world encounters, is that she arouses the antagonism of the other women. You may get your man by the undoubtedly effective technique of elbowing him into such a strategic position that you have completely cut him off from the rest of the room, and the person outside gets a wild desire to lean over and shout: "Yoo hoo, I'm here;" but the women will soon cut you out of parties, which means that you won't get any place in which to do your stuff. Remember, that a few girl friends can not only be very pleasant but extremely useful at times. Don't let your predatory instinct run away with you to such an extent that you take away your best friend's beau, even though you have no use for him. It doesn't really pay.

Never setting a limit is actually a form of not wanting to miss anything, and the inability to refuse an invitation is one of its manifestations. Yet there are some girls who can never say No—and we don't mean it the way you think we do. Don't make up fictitious engagements to give the impression of terrific popularity, and do show some discrimination about accepting everything that comes along. That will almost certainly land you on your friends' secondary list. The "Oh, she'll surely be able to come," is no category to get into.

"Don't be swept out with the cigarette butts in the early hours."

THERE'S a theory that by being seen everywhere you widen your acquaintance, and that it's good policy to be nice to bores on the principle that they might introduce you to something attractive.

Another manifestation of the "no limit" mania is being the last to leave a party. Don't be so afraid of missing something that you remain on and on, never quite making up your mind to go home, and getting the name of a "girl who never knows when to leave." Making a habit of being swept out with the cigarette butts in the early hours is almost worst than being like Serena Blandish, who went to lunch and always stayed to tea.

You can also carry being a good sport too far. So many girls let themselves in for the most boring experiences, miss a great deal of useful beauty sleep and drink too much; not because they want to do any of these things but because they are so frightened of being labeled as poor sports. There's no sense to losing all your personal liberty in an effort to keep up with a lot of people you care nothing about and who, by the next day, will have such a hazy memory of the night before that they won't remember whether you walked out on them or not. There's a great deal of difference between a good sport and a fool for punishment. Be a good sport in moderation.

"Every restaurant scene now makes you wonder if you have walked in on a fancy dress party."

BY all means don't be a wet blanket but don't feel that you must stay out until six in the morning when you don't want to, or that you should drink ten cocktails because that's what the rest are doing. In fact, except under the most unusual circumstances, make a habit of being one of the first home and drinking one drink for the others' two—a fairly easy accomplishment if you sip instead of gulping.

"Don't stand on corners munching gum with that vague look in your eyes."

Don't smoke unless you like it. Confine your gum chewing to your home and not to public places. But in any event, don't stand on street corners, munching with that vague look in your eye, so typical of the confirmed chewer.

Interest in one pursuit not only is another form of exaggeration that not only gets you nowhere in particular but practically makes you a social menace. Take the people, for instance, who devote their lives to polo and hunting. If you mention any subject not somehow related to the equine, they look at you with glassy-eyed boredom; at dinner, they don't do their duty as guests unless they happen to find themselves next to a person who can discuss hocks and spavins with the same technicality that they can. Usually one feels that they would have had a much better time had you asked them to bring their horses along and placed them together at table. It's the same with golfers, tennis players, fight fans and, above all, with bridge players, who become such maniacs at the game that any time away from a green-covered table, to them is time wasted.

BUT today's passion for exaggeration is shown most clearly in the way American women have suddenly gone in for all extremes in styles. There is such a thing as being too chic and an effort to wear the last thing the moment it appears makes you more ridiculous than smart. Every restaurant nowadays presents a scene that makes you wonder if you've walked in on a fancy dress party. No woman wants to wear anything but the latest and queerest and maddest conception of the designers. Broad shoulders are new and they make such liberal use of padding that they present a silhouette that would make Mr. Londos green with envy; sailors come into fashion and you find all your friends deserting the mother-frightened-by-a-cokatoo hats for stiff pancakes that make them look as if they were about to leap on the nearest pogo stick or tandem bicycle.

Remember, that a lady leaves the extremes of fashion to the type of women we picture sweeping into the most expensive restaurants with a little Pekingese tucked into her arm.

Highlights of Broadway
From the Circle to the Square
by JACK LAIT

JUST as we were doing so dandy in the movement to choose, certify and enjoy a poet laureate for New York City, along comes Harriet Monroe of Chicago, and just gives me plain whoosis about the whole adventure.

Harriet speaks officially on the subject if there is such a thing in this land as being "official" as to poetry, for she is editor of "Poetry," itself, the magazine; and here is what she writes:

MY DEAR JACK LAIT: Yours arrived while I was spending a week on a river trip, the Illinois and Mississippi—did you ever hear of them?

First, I am dead against appointing poets laureate, whether for city, state, nation, or anything else.

Second, I recognize no authority to appoint poets laureate in either city council, state legislature, the congress of the U. S., or the Federation of Women's Clubs.

Third, the name of Edna St. Vincent Millay was offered for laureate of the STATE of New York, in which, though you may not know it, New York City is not the whole thing.

Elizabeth Schermerhorn Young, Social Register (See Rating Above), Real N. Y. Society Girl Now in Hollywood.

Fourth, neither Jack Lait nor any reader of his syndicated articles is competent to select a poet laureate of New York City, City Hall Square, Tammany Hall, the Tombs, or Trinity Church graveyard.

Yours sympathetically—

To Christopher Morley, the versifier, commentator, novelist and passionate lover of New York (I mean he loves New York passionately!) who has just got wow notices on his translation from the Chinese, "Mandarin in Manhattan," a glorious love tale, says his 2 cents' worth (3 now, since the postage went up) as you shall read:

DEAR JACK: I haven't the least idea what is the right answer—though I'm glad you asked me, for thinking about the various ways in which the great poem of N. Y. C. might be put into a map of words is one of my favorite thoughts. I don't believe there's anyone who could wear the whole wreath of laurel. (It should be not only laurel but poison ivy, too.) Certainly it won't be anyone at the Academy of Arts and Letters which is too far uptown—both actually and spiritually.

The best verse, contemporary, about N. Y. C. that I have read is bits by William Rose Benet and Don Marquis. The best prose is that extraordinary chapter of interlude in Felix Riesenberg's "East Side West Side." (Don't miss it, it should be republished as a booklet by itself.) And my friend, the Mandarin, has sometimes caught a glimpse of New York's identity.

The two best laureates I've seen lately were (1) a big yellow-black butterfly that was riding on a man's hat on top of a 5th bus on a bright morning, and (2) the unknown philosopher of the Bonus camp (Riverside North of 79th) who posted a portrait of Tom Paine on the camp bulletin board.

Chris adds some nice things which are purely personal between us and which are none of your business. But in a later column I'm going to give you some excerpts form "Mandarin" and you'll love 'em.

So far, Highlights has aired the views only of professionals. The views of the amateurs are coming. Send in yours... Help us find a poet laureate for New York!

ANN BARRIE Leaped from the Chorus to Make Good in a Big Part in "Music in the Air."

Diana's Diary

Well, diry, youd a died! Michael my big flatfoot traffic-bull come skyooting down here to the seeshore agen on his day off to want to know what was I doing and with who was I talking about what. I got him plenny eggsighted and worriet and maybee I dont like that, huh? What woman don't huh?

He arrives whilst little Diana is disporting herself in the waves or rather on the beach in my new outfitt which gets me tanned evry wheres excep where girls would of got tanned when I was a kidd for wearing same. If I say it myself and I do say it myself I do not offend the maskaline eye in that garb. Well Michael squints his ejucated orb on me and he swallers hard. It gives him a kick but what he don't like is other men injoying it.

I seen I was making him nerviss which was just two bad so I turned on my well known smile and let him supher. He had to get back to town so we did not get no pryvacy much but I bet if we had of Michael would be mine right now becus if ever a man had a marry-me look in his eye Michael had nothing else but.

Well next week I will be back in the eat-it-and-beat-it on B'way serving him his daily blue plate spl. Leave him simmer over the weak-end and he will boil over I bet you. Just as Di to di, I think he is in the bagg. So stand by for a flash news bulletin you silly old book becus they is one (1) coming.

(To Be Continued)

Idiosyncrazies—

The chorines in the Roxyette aggregation at Radio City, come from 21 States, 7 foreign countries, and every corner of the world, contributing 76 dancers who now work in such precise close harmony that they might all be one.

When Vonnie Shelton, who was often seen with Jimmy Walker by their friends before Betty came into the picture, sailed recently for an island off the coast of Spain (never to return, says Yvonne!) She left after a party that ran four days and four nights, progressively held in more than a dozen apartments of well-known mid-towners...That's Broadway for you, as Diana would say.

The Hardened Artery has gone for the 3.2 beer in a very large way. Scotch-sippers and gin-guzzlers are de trop. The hard stuff is decidedly smalltime these days. The booticians are so worried, they are talking of going legitimate. One of them has opened a shoe-store. They are not turning to the beer-garden or regulated drinkstand trade. They have no taste for it.

The leading Broadway producers are scattered around towns like Skowhegan, Maine, having a gladsome Summer of it and working at the same time. They're trying out next season's plays on stock companies, eliminating the "cats and dogs" which burn up a lot of jack being tested on the road after costly productions are built. This way they rarely pay authors their advance royalties—it's all "on approval," and they get a reasonably intelligent angle on audience reactions with almost no investment.

HARRIET LAKE, Who Loves Her Broadway. She Turned Down the Lead in "Of Thee I Sing" on Tour to Hold Her Role in the N. Y. Troupe.

Nightclub business is shot, except in one or two pet places around the central area, the two big noncouvert bargain-stores of entertainment and beautiful girls (Paradise and Hollywood) and one Harlemania perennial. One by one the intermediary clubs have folded, the musicians and talent unpaid. Here, too, it is an open secret that honest beer has been devastating. Folks resent gyp prices for legal merchandise and have lost their taste for the forbidden beverages which once they didn't mind kicking in for at almost any rates.

* * *

Barbara Stanwyck, when she was a youngster, when she had wavy, natural lightbrown hair and was Ruby Stevens, the Strand Roof show baby, was the mildest kid on the wildest street. And of them all she turned out to be a red-head who skied to fame playing hard-boiled female "heavies!" At that, she should stick to the films; she certainly went far out of her path of destiny to support Frank Fay in a minor revue.

* * *

Few of the mourners of the late Cantor Rosenblatt knew that he had declined offers to sing stellar roles in grand opera and that his voice, untrained, had been rated by Caruso the greatest natural tenor in the world. One decisive objection Rosenblatt had against theatricals, other than concerts in which he could be himself, was that he would have to cut off his beard, which no truly orthodox Jew will consider. Rosenblatt was an ordained rabbi and one of the most devout of his people. It was most fitting that he should die in the Holy Land.

"NO NICE GIRL IS OBVIOUS---
(When a little subtlety is so helpful)"
Says Alice-Leone Moats in her story next Sunday.

Thousands Testify to Cures by Miracle Man

Sitting in a Swivel Chait on His Lawn, Dr. Locke Cures Many Ills by a "Twist of the Toe," Sending on Their Way Well and Happy, Many Who Have Been Called Hopeless Cripples

Daily the tree-shaded street in front of Dr. Locke's house is cluttered with automobiles, tin can cars, luxurious limousines and rolling chairs. There is a perpetual traffic jam. People sit on benches and chairs and patiently discuss their ailments and the relief they have obtained after a few treatments by Dr. Locke. The insert shows an artist's sketch of Dr. W. M. Locke, of Williamsburg, Ont., called by his many satisfied patients, "The Miracle Man."

IN A tiny cross-roads village in Ontario, Canada, six miles north of Morrisburg, on the Ottawa road, a Miracle Man daily draws to the village more visitors than the town records can boast in population. With a mere 400 citizens, the leafy little town, quiet and subdued, entertains hundreds of visitors.

For in the little village, of quiet streets and shady walkways, there is a unique outdoors clinic for the treatment of suffers from rheumatism, sciatica, neuritis, lumbago, arthritis and kindred ailments. The cures of the administrator to those diseases have been noised abroad in the land.

This Miracle Man is a quiet and earnest man of 51 years. A native of the district and born on a farm within eight miles of his modest white-frame surgery, he graduated at Queen's Kingston and Edinburgh and returned to settle in his own country and be "a native doctor."

Known from one end of the land to the other, this Dr. M. W. Locke has allegedly the largest medical practice in Canada. His flat and set charge is only one dollar a day for patients and his income at that modest sum probably tops that of the foremost surgeons in the Dominion.

His is a simple, yet complex method in treating patients. No pretensions cloud the man who labors with a distinct sense of humor and with utmost sincerity and service to the thousands who flock to him from all points of North America. He twists their feet and pulls their toes—and cures them!

Dr. Locke is happy, a man with no ambition except that of aiding his fellowman. He claims bravely that he would not trade jobs with the governor general. And, indeed, it is rumored that His Excellency is soon to become one of his patients. Think of the picture such a scene would make—His Excellency, Lord Bessborough, sitting barefoot on a lawn having his toes pulled by a gentle and smiling doctor.

Ninety-nine times out of a hundred he does not even know his patients' names. He smiles about that. "I don't know the names of anybody," he says. He keeps no books. He never sends a bill. People attend his lawn clinic, sit in the quaint circle, undergo treatment maybe three times a day, maybe for a week, maybe for a month.

All For a Dollar a Day.

The doctor keeps no check. "You know better than I do how often you have been here," he tells a patient who comes at the last to settle up. Settling is very simple. It is on the basis, not of the number of treatments, but of the number of days. You may have had 21 treatments in seven days, but you only pay seven dollars.

The doctor trusts you to keep count. This doctor who may work magic with his hands that will cure years of crippling only charges a dollar a day, though you may be worth millions. He may not charge even that. I watched him manipulate the withered arm of a little girl, yet when the father reached out his dollar—for many pay on the spot—the doctor did not notice it. He patted the child on the cheek and passed on.

Daily the tree-shaded street in front of Doctor Locke's house and side lawn is cluttered with automobiles, tin can cars and luxurious limousines. All day long they come and go, so that there is a perpetual traffic jam where three or four years ago there was rural solitude. The cars are from Georgia, Florida, Massachusetts, West Virginia, Nova Scotia, Manitoba and, of course, Ontario, Quebec and New York.

The considerable yard in back of the doctor's house is filled with cars.

The front steps and porch hold people. The small side lawn, shaded by maple trees, is thronged with people. They sit on benches and chairs. They stand around. At the back of the house, people are perched on the back steps.

They are waiting for the doctor. They wait, without impatience: Few of them seek to see him inside. They have learnt quickly the formula of waiting. They chat about their ailments, about the relief they have had from pain after one, three or five treatments, about the doctor's marvelous cures.

A Simple Country Doctor.

I want to see the doctor. I go up the front steps and into the little waiting room. No one waits there but a man and a woman, who have come from Sarnia with a 4-year-old child who has never walked. They want to see the doctor, specially. Then there are a couple of local patients. This is not the ante-chamber of a great healer. This is just a little country waiting room of a simple country doctor. There are two oak benches with backs, like church benches. Tacked on the wall is a text, "Begin the Day With God," with a number of letters tucked in at the top and sides, evidently to be called for.

Not only does this country doctor of Miracle Man propensities attract patients, he also attracts business for merchants in Brockville. In one store, there is a framed notice of shoes to be procured especially designed to meet the prescribed needs of Doctor Locke. As a matter of fact, one may find that a branch of the Brockville firm has opened next door to the doctor and that patients go there now to buy shoes, instead as formerly, to the village cobbler.

Visitors will be disappointed if they expect to find any sign of the doctor in his little surgery. He will be outside on the lawn where former patients will relate the story of remarkable cures. One, a boy of 19, R. Archambeault, will be seen telling a group of patients his remarkable story. Six months ago he dragged useless limbs on crutches. On his feet he wore heavy plates and his hands had not the power to put on his collar and tie. His bent spine perpetually ached. He could not look at the sky. His head stayed down on his chest.

Today he looks at us humorlessly out of his sad dark eyes. He lectures us with gravity in his precise English. Elderly people, many of them on sticks, listen eagerly to this youth whose very appearance attests the miracle of his recovery. He stands [illegible] trouble, leaning merely on two sticks. He walks slowly [illegible] hips and bent knees but, queerly, he walks. Six months hence, when his legs have improved, he will be able, he says, to walk really well. He will be able—wonder of wonders!—to run a typewriter. See, he says, how he can move his fingers freely.

At three, he tells the circle, he had infantile paralysis. It crippled him sadly. From three to seven he could only crawl on the floor with his hands. From seven until recently he was apparently lame without hope, a poor dragging boy. He had been to doctors in Ottawa, in Toronto. "I am poor," he says. "We have a large family. We have not much money." Without a smile he speaks with a kind of grim delight of the pleasure with which he intends some day to walk in on a certain doctor who said his case was hopeless—cured!

He heard of Doctor Locke. On May 26, last, he came to him. He had treatments every day until June 5. Then he had gone home, improved. He had returned on June 25, and had further treatments until July 5. Now he was back again.

Cures by Twisting Toes.

But here's the doctor, from nowhere. A stoutish man, bare-headed, with a round, ruddy country face, good natured, a little quizzical; with thin blond hair, fair eyebrows and eyes of pale china blue. He wears a rough suit. He is without a vest. His blue shirt and braces show. Evidently he does not make the slightest attempt to appear professional or mystic.

First he goes from car to car in the yard, foot pulling, toe twisting; then without ceremony or a word to anyone he seats himself on a light swivel office chair in the middle of the little side lawn under the trees.

Thus he places himself in the middle of a circle of some ten chairs all long occupied with patients. All around these others mass waiting their turn.

Shoes come off and the doctor finds himself surrounded by an array of stockings. Wool, lisle, cotton and silk stockings. Stockings and feet of every shape and size. Swollen feet. Twisted feet. Feet with fallen arches.

Without ceremony he reaches for th first foot. It is an elderly woman's left foot. She raises it. The doctor takes it in his plump hands. I don't know what he does. He grasps it across the arch with his left hand. He grasps the big toe in his right hand and gives a gentle twist. He changes his hands and repeats the operation on the small toe. Then he twists the foot at the arch. There is a click. The woman squirms. He repeats the operation with the other foot and passes on.

Sometimes hands are reached out, gnarled hands, twisted hands, as well as feet. Casually, leisurely, almost nonchalantly, the doctor's strong, soft hands clasp and gently twist them. It is all incomprehensible. The method is so slight, so sure, so quick.

Some of the patients squirm. Some bite their lips. A few even yell mildly. There is no talk, no waste motion. The doctor handles three patients a minute. He is clocked and does 21 in seven minutes. He can always clear the lawn in 20 minutes, unless the patients run into the hundreds.

Patients, in fact, the great majority of them, sit down for treatment without previous consultation. Occasionally, one of them in the circle seeks confidential chat. One man leans forward as the doctor handles his feet. He pours a rapidly intense whisper into the doctor's ear. The latter's face does not change. "For breakfast," he says, "eat whole wheat porridge. Nothing else. For the other meals ,anything you like." Then he passes on.

As I have said, some of the patients do not pay until they have finished their treatments. Others, many of them, pay as they go. It is quaint payment. A woman pushes out a dollar bill to the doctor as he lets go her foot. Scarcely glancing at it, he stuffs it into a side pocket of his trousers and reaches for another foot. A man hands him a $10 bill. He stuffs this in his hip pocket, pulls a handful of crumpled bills from his side pocket and counts out change in a way that would make a smart bank teller blush.

What is th edoctor's secret? Why are the lame, the bed-ridden and the twisted coming to him with hope and declaring themselves cured?

"What is your art, doctor?" he was asked. "What do you do that is achieving these wonderful cures?"

"The posterior tibial nerve," said the doctor, "gets caught in the arch of the foot. I release it."

"And that gets these results?"

"Yes, it's very simple. Uric acid deposits in the joints cause a number of these ailments. Release of the nerve stops the deposit of acid. That's all. The trouble frequently clears up."

"How did you acquire this art, this knowledge?"

"I just learned to do by doing. In Edinburgh they taught us the facts of the trouble. Practising around here made perfect."

"And now you have the biggest practice in the world?"

The doctor grinned. He would have shrugged, only that he is a sturdy Nordic. "Two weeks ago," he said cryptically, "this was a green lawn. Now it's a baseball diamond."

Raises Prize Stock, Too.

Mr. Locke is still, in spite of his unsought popularity, in spite of the fact that the fashionable and the rich flock to him, a simple country doctor—and farmer. He has a fine farm adjojining Williamsburg. He fancies horses and Holstein cattle. He has 21 horses, a number of Percherons, standard breds and a couple of thoroughbreds. A filly, Mary C, is registered and eligible for the King's Plate. He has another filly, off Harvester, which he considers even better than Mary C.

Last year he had a Holstein heifer which set up a world's record for butter production for 30 days, 142 pounds. "A world's record," he said proudly, "though it has since been beaten by three-quarters of a pound."

"Doctor," someone asked, "do you ever have a holiday?"

"I haven't," he said, "been out of this district in 20 years."

"But don't you ever get tired of these swarms of ailing people whom you handle by the gross?"

The doctor looked at his patient placidly with his quizzical blue eyes. "When I do," he said, "I just jump in a car, go back to the pastures and look at the cows."

"You still practice as a country doctor?"

"I am a country doctor. There isn't a child in the district I haven't brought into the world. Yesterday afternoon I got a sudden call from a man who had fallen down a gravel pit and broken his leg. A compound fracture."

"You left all these patients to go?"

"Certainly. I leave all this any time to attend to one of our own people. Why not?"

Dr. Locke is now assisted by his nephew, Dr. Douglas Locke, who frequently relieves him in the swivel chair and carries through the manipulations.

Right across the street from the doctor's house and lawn was a stand for the sale of pop and ice cream. It was presided over by Alexander Mustaffa, a Syrian fruit man. He told me his story. He had come from Ottawa for treatment. He could not afford to stay and not work, so he had set up shop while receiving daily treatments across the way.

For 14 years, he said, he had had fallen arches and abscessed feet. He had been to many doctors without avail. He had become so bad that he could not earn his living. Then he had come to Williamsburg.

"This doctor," he said, "he put me on my feet."

Around the Dominion hotel were grouped half a dozen men with stories to tell of being set on their feet by the magic touch of this country doctor. There's not space for their stories. One was a butcher. Wouldn't give his name. But he'd been so crippled with synovitis and rheumatism that he had not walked or worked in 10 years. Now he managed fairly well with a cane. He expected to be back at work some of these days. Three weeks. Forty-four treatments. "Now," he said, "I can stand in the dampness all afternoon."

One day a woman, driven up from Kentucky to have her feet treated, came on the line-up of cars outside his home. She burst out crying. "Migosh!" she said, "the doctor's dead and I haven't seen him!"

The doctor apparently carried on his simple country practice for nearly 20 years before fame came. During that time he practised and developed his manipulative skill on the local folks, setting many up on their feet. Strangers came as word spread of his skill. But there was no rush until three years ago.

It fell to an American newspaperman the task of making Dr. Locke internationally famous and brought patients by the thousands from all sections of the United States. He was Frank Coughlin, of Watertown, N. Y.

"I was crippled with arthritis in the winter of 1928-1929," he will say, "and all arrangements were made for an operation when I heard of Dr. Locke. I had heard that Father Kelley, of Lockport, N. Y., was so badly off that he had given up mass and used to fall out of the pulpit, but he came here in 1928 and the doctor cured him.

"I wrote to Father Kelley, received a letter from him, and came here in 1929 and was cured."

The reporter wrote an article about Dr. Locke, which was widely quoted and then the inrush began, with all highways leading to Williamsburg. Now the doctor is as famous as a Viennese surgeon.

A big Florida limousine with a liveried chauffeur and footman drove up. As it braked to a stop a lady looked out the window and exclaimed, "Why, it's just like a Klondyke gold rush!"

She was right. There had been a heavy shower and the street was full of muddy pools. It took only a few minutes' observation of the village activity to convince one that here was real pay dirt.

From the village point of view, the doctor's cures of fallen arches and arthritis and the agonies of the sciatic nerve are not as miraculous as his cure of economic depression.

"There's not a twinge of it around here," said Peter Becksted, the blacksmith, whom he cured of fallen arches 23 years ago, and has now cured of all the financial ills that beset blacksmiths when farmers have to produce 10 pounds of butter or 40 quarts of milk to get their horses shod.

I spent an hour with him in his blacksmith shop while he jested with half a dozen agriculturists about their failure to patronize blacksmiths. He and the farmers literally roared with laughter at the tragic slump in their respective businesses.

"Pshaw," jeered Peter, "you're not farmers at all. You're boarding house keepers."

One of the farmers admitted it. "I've got two of Dr. Locke's patients staying with me at a dollar a day," said he, "and that's more profitable than 14 cows."

* * * *

I could not understand how even 1,600 patients, the record number for one day, could tax the housing resources of the whole lower Ottawa and St. Lawrence valleys.

"They don't come alone," said Mr. Becksted. "There may be four or five to a car. Their friends and relatives come with them. So you see we have thousands of visitors here all day long."

"It looks as if Williamsburg had a great future," I remarked.

"There are two things we worry about," said he. "That's Doctor Locke's life and Doctor Locke's suspenders. If the latter broke, however, he'd probably patch them up somehow with a piece of string or a nail. He wouldn't buy a new pair. He's been wearing the same suit of clothes for a good many years, although he did have two new suits made for him in Morrisburg. But he can't find time to put them on.

"His life is a more serious matter. We are booming right enough, but we haven't gone in yet for skyscrapers. We have to be careful, for if the doctor went, we'd wither like a mushroom."

One of the most graphic descriptions of how Dr. Locke works was given by Mrs. William J. Longbon, of Columbus, Ohio, who said she was a wheel-chair patient. She described how she was gradually pushed through the long line up to the doctor. She described how Dr. Locke works.

"He sits in a revolving chair in the center of a circle of 14 patients. Back of these patients lines of other patients extend, much like the spokes of a wheel from the hub.

The doctor swings swiftly about, working as fast as possible, manipulating the feet and sometimes the hands of his patients. He has very few words for anyone. He merely reaches for the foot, gives it a peculiar twisting motion—outward and under, inward and under, first one foot and then the other. Then the patient is wheeled away and the line moves up.

Other patients come on foot and wait on camp chairs, and the worst cases are brought on stretchers. The bad cases receive preference, but no preference is given to wealth or class.

* * * *

Early in the fall, Dr. Locke treated as many as 1,800 patients a day. Now the number is less, but the crowd is still great. The doctor stuffs dollar bills in his pockets until they can hold no more and then empties them and a boy takes them to the bank.

He is said to be a millionaire, but he has none of the trappings and show of a wealthy practitioner.

Dr. Locke's greatest work is with arthritis patients, of whom I am one, but he has had much success with goiter, also, and has been a general practitioner in this little town of Williamsburg for years. The countryfolk love him and never a word of criticism of any form is heard.

Perhaps Dr. Locke's method will revolutionize the world of medical science. Who knows? He is a medical doctor with a degree from the University of Edinburgh.

The outside world is sceptical and often scoffing, but those who have been here cannot doubt the efficacy of his methods.

One has only to look upon the thousands of arthritis and goiter patients, formerly doomed to lives of hopelessness and helplessness, and now full of hope and joyful realization, to be persuaded that Dr. Locke has something of great value to offer the world."

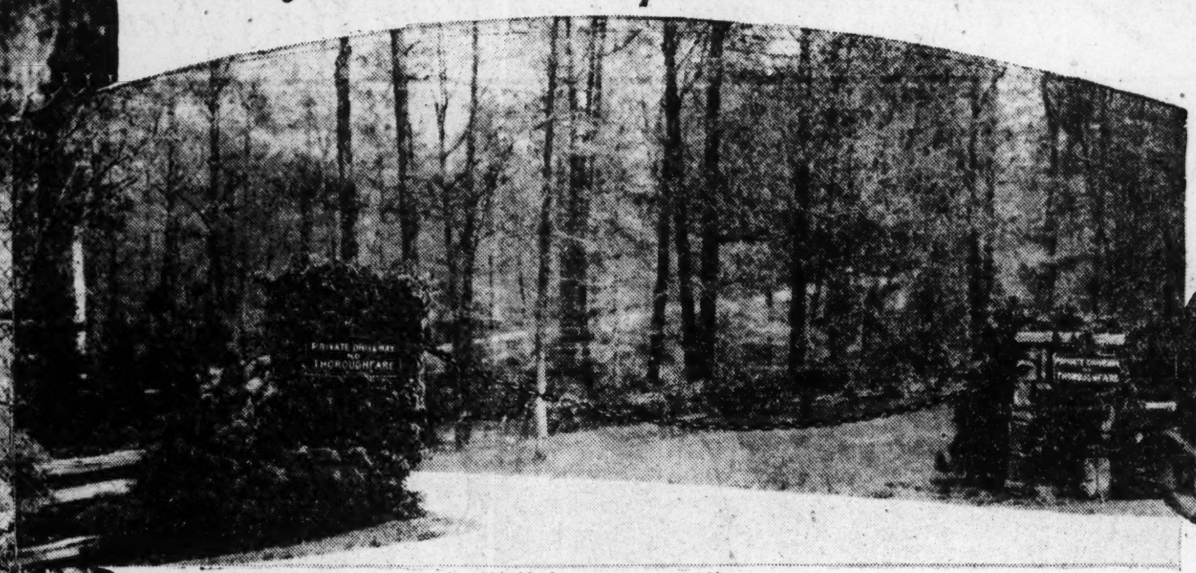

Guarding the Second Lindbergh Baby on an A

Alert Detectives, Barbed Wire Fences, Chained Driveways, Watcha of Private 'Phones, All Employed in the High Resolve to Sh by the Most Up-to-Date Means Known to Wealth and Science

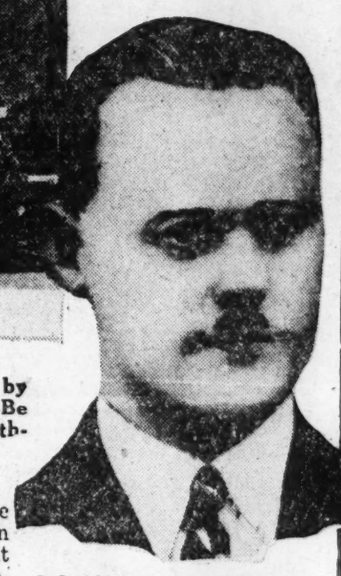

BARBED BARRIERS

This Photo, Posed by 2 Models, Shows the Difficulty of "entering" the Morrow Estate, Even by Such an Informal Method. Because of the High Barbed-wire Fence Surrounding the Grounds It Is Impossible for an Individual to Scale It Alone.

STRANGERS SHALL NOT PASS!

Principal Entrance to the Morrow Estate, Where Baby Lindbergh Is Vigilantly Guarded. If by Chance an Unwelcome Motorist Should Drive Into the Grounds, a Large Iron Chain Would Be Stretched Across the Road as Shown. Thus the Driver Would Find It Impossible to Leave Without a Satisfactory Explanation.

Col. H. Norman Schwartzkopf, Head of New Jersey's State Police, Who Directed the Investigation Into the Kidnaping of the First Lindbergh Baby.

Graphic Chart of the Mor the Grounds Are Guarded Mrs. Lindbergh's Year-Old a Hidden Telephone Syste Provide Defiance

IN LAST WEEK'S installment of this exclusive inside story, Alan Hynd revealed that Jon Morrow Lindbergh, the year-old brother of the kidnaped and murdered Charles Augustus, Jr., is the most closely-guarded child in the world.

At the Dwight W. Morrow estate at Englewood, New Jersey, where the baby lives, a sentry in a police booth at the entrance to the grounds bars all visitors; trained dogs and armed guards police the property, and direct telephone wires connect the mansion with the Englewood Police Headquarters and the State Police barracks at Alpine—all the result of the Lindberghs' fierce resolve that no harm shall come to their second son.

By ALAN HYND

Well known short story writer, who has "covered" the Lindbergh case from the start.

THE elaborate mantle of protection that has been flung about little Jon Lindbergh is utterly invisible to the public eye.

The heavily-armed guards who keep their long patrol operate beyond the view of outsiders. Thoroughly familiar with every last tree and shrub on the 1,000-acre estate, they maintain their vigil at carefully-selected vantage points, where, with the aid of powerful binoculars, they can see but cannot be seen. Occasionally, one of the dogs kept on the estate — animals that can scent a stranger a hundred yards away—gambols near the edge of the property. But he won't bother you—if you keep your distance.

The majestic white mansion itself, which can be partially seen from nearby thoroughfares, presents no outward inkling of being the storehouse for enough weapons and ammunition for the purpose. Even the sentry in the police booth at the entrance to the property, the sole visible indication of the undercurrent of drama that throbs through the place, is a most unobtrusive man. He knows his job well—and an integral part of his duties is to appear as inconspicuous as possible.

There are telephones hidden among the trees on the grounds. The instruments are hooked up to the direct wires that connect the mansion with the local and State police, so that alarms can be sent in either from the grounds or from within the house itself. But so skilfully have those 'phones in the trees been planted that you couldn't find them in a blue moon, even were you permitted inside the estate to make a search.

THIS spirit of secrecy has somehow pervaded the entire city of Englewood, as I found when I visited there. Approaching a cop on his beat, I feigned ignorance of a fact I well knew by asking him the direction to the Morrow residence.

"You got personal business up there?" asked the bluecoat, eyeing me suspiciously.

"No," I answered. "I just thought I'd take a look around the place. I understand it's very beautiful."

"Yeah, it's a pretty place, all right. But it won't do you no good to go there. You might get in trouble."

"But I'm not a kidnaper," I laughed. "How could I get into any trouble?"

"I'd advise you to stay away from there. Strangers ain't welcome."

"Oh, you mean because the new baby's there?"

The cop pretended not to hear me.

"I say," I pressed, "the new baby is at the Morrow home, isn't it?"

"I don't know," lied the cop, following instructions from higher up. "And anyway, I wouldn't tell you if I DID know."

There was a note of finality in his voice that clearly indicated the conversation was at an end so far as he was concerned.

Ask the man in the street about the Lindberghs' "new baby," as Jon is referred to in Englewood, and he'll either profess ignorance of the knowledge that the tot dwells there, or he'll speak of the child in awed, uninformative undertones. Englewood is morally certain that the successful climax of the infamous plot to abduct the first Lindbergh baby was the result of "inside information," and Englewood is taking no chances on being a party to a possible repetition of criminal history.

While driving along Spear avenue, near Lydecker street—at the edge of the Morrow estate—I drew up to the curb and, still playing dumb, asked an attractive black-haired girl for directions to the Morrow home. She smiled and said she didn't know, that she was a stranger in Englewood. Two minutes later I saw her walking into the Morrow grounds. I subsequently learned that she was one of the servants.

Next I drove toward the mouth of the gravel driveway that winds its half-mile, semi-circular course to the mansion. I was within a hundred feet of the entrance and saw no sign of the sentry who holds forth in the little green police booth. It occurred to me that it would be a simple matter to drive right in.

But no! There is a small window in one side of the booth that affords the man on guard there an unobstructed view of the road that leads to the entrance. He had me under surveillance, and when I was about a hundred feet from the stone portals that bear black and gold no-admittance signs, the door of the booth swung open and the guard dashed to the middle of the roadway.

I drew up to a halt. The man came forward.

"YES, sir." he announced. "What can I do for you?" His tone was friendly, but there was in it an unmistakable note of firmness.

I told him who I was and asked him what were the chances of taking a look around the grounds.

"Not a chance in the world. Nobody's allowed in here."

Not even now, when the kidnaping scare is all over?"

"Nope, not even now."

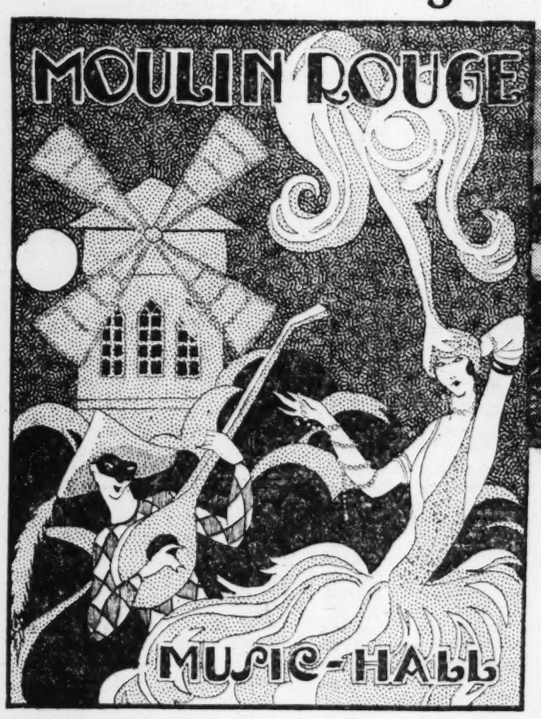

"Suppose," I queried, "I had stepped on the gas and driven right past you?"

The sentry laughed. I later learned why.

One night some time ago, the sentry noticed a car coming toward the entrance at a fast clip. He rushed from his booth and stood in the glare of the headlights, his arms upstretched. But as the machine—a taxi—bore down on him, he was forced to jump aside to avoid being struck.

As the car whizzed into the driveway the sentry dashed to his booth, picked up a telephone that automatically buzzes the mansion and notified the men on duty there that a cab had gotten by him and was on its way to the house. The guards, their forefingers perhaps on triggers,

When the Falling Dollar Climaxed the Tragic Plight of Disillusio

Picturesque Programme of the Paris Theatre, the Moulin Rouge, Where a Party of American "Follies" Girls Rebelled When the Management Insisted They Appear on the Stage Practically Nude.

This Is a Scene in a Famous Montmartre Cabaret in Paris in the Early Hours of Any Morning; the Sort of Place to Which So Many Americans Students, Girls and Boys, Resort in the Hope of Forgetting Their Desperate Straits.

By Staff Correspondent

PARIS.

PARIS destroys just as surely as she creates. This is bitterly proven today in the desperate situation in which innumerable American students find themselves in the French capital.

The decline in value of the American dollar was the sorry cause of the hopelessness, the desperation to which so many of these eager, conscientious young persons have been reduced. They have gone from bad to worse, swept along by a Paris which has defeated them.

Self-destruction has released a large number of these unfortunates from conditions which had made life futile, intolerable. Others, worsted in an unequal fight with fate, are returning daily to the United States, feeling themselves lucky to escape.

The story of two American youths who took the easiest way out is typical of what is occurring constantly in Paris in the American student colony.

An artist dwelling on the top floor of the old house at 50 rue Vereingteurix, a long and ancient street, asked the concierge to climb over a skylight to make a repair. As the concierge crossed it he looked down through the dusty panes and saw two of his American tenants slumped in chairs in their studio, the left hand of each plunged in a tub of bloody water which had been set between them. Both young Americans were dead. He remembered then that he had seen neither of them for about a fortnight. He shrugged his shoulders and notified the police.

The disillusioned young men were George Louis de Nevers and John Horne Matthews, the latter from Orange, N.J. As schoolmates at the University of Chicago, they had decided to go to Paris together, each bent upon a career.

They went to live in the Montparnasse quarter, but soon what money they had in American dollars was gone. Bills accumulated. There was no other way out. So, selecting the method of Petronius Arbiter, that "elegant Roman," they first burned their identification papers, wrote a note to say that poverty had driven them to death, left a statement of their debts and sat down to die.

A pot of coffee was brewed, two remaining tots of rum were prepared and the tub filled with hot water, with a pitcher of cold water beside it in case the heat were too great. They drank the rum and then each cut the artery in his left wrist with a razor blade and plunged it in the tub. Clasping their right hands in a last gesture of friendship they waited until in death their hands fell apart.

Such was the malign influence of Paris upon another American youth that it reached across the Atlantic, to New York, and left him dead with a young woman whom he shot before he took his own life.

This was Henry G. Crosby, poet, dreamer and nephew of the late Mrs. J. P. Morgan, who died in an apparent pact with one of Boston's Back Bay beauties, Mrs. Josephine R. Bigelow, in a borrowed studio in a New York hotel.

Crosby and his wife, whose name was, delightfully Caresse, had lived for a long time in Paris. She was a poetess, too, and while Crosby devoted much time to the writing of exotic verse, a good deal of it about the sun and sun worship, he found time in which to entertain with the lavishness and abandon of a Roman emperor. His parties were famous in Paris for their barbaric license.

Fiercely jealous of his young and beautiful wife, Crosby was accustomed to handcuff her to him during these parties so that he might be certain she was at his side every minute of the evening.

Death was one of Crosby's obsessions. He even fashioned a tombstone for himself and his wife with their names. Harry and Caresse, set upon it in cruciform. He put it in the Bois de Boulogne, but the police made him remove it. This disturbed him greatly. Soon afterward he took a steamer for New York. He had become satiated with the wild sort of life he had lived.

Arriving in New York he met Mrs. Bigelow, whose husband had been a famous Harvard hockey player, and one afternoon they borrowed the studio of a friend, Stanley G. Mortimer, and never left it alive. Their bodies, fully clad and peacefully disposed, were found lying side by side. Mrs. Bigelow was locked in Crosby's arms. Each had been shot through the head. The last chapter came when Caresse Crosby hastened from Europe to get her husband's ashes and take them back to France in a silver urn.

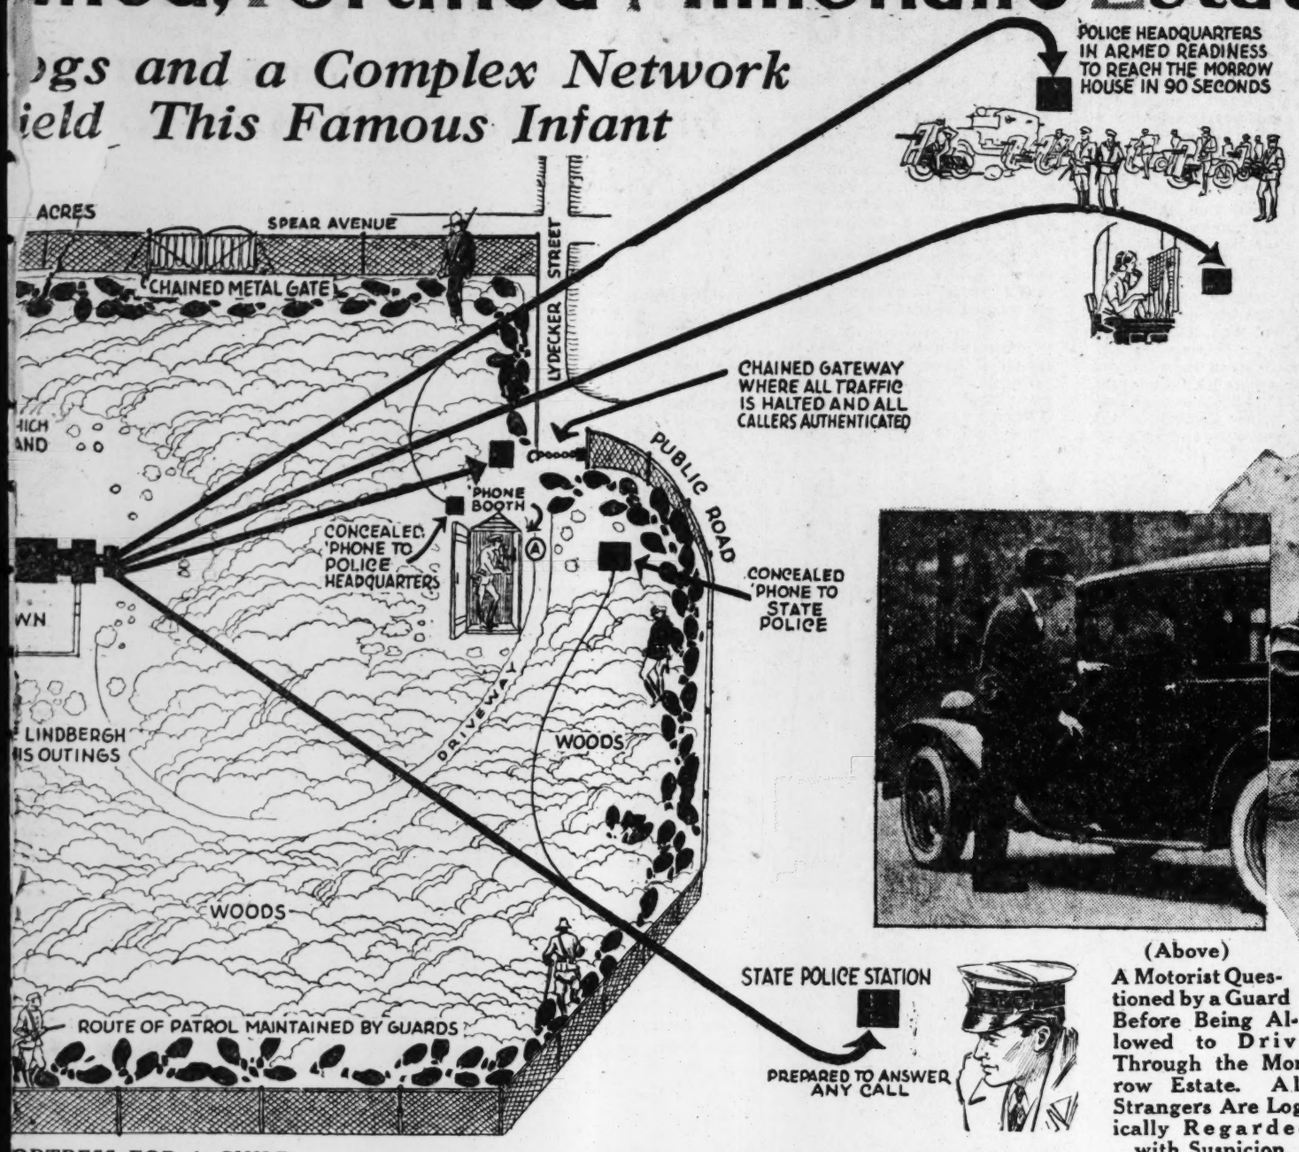

In contradistinction to the surrender to circumstance which has marked the career of so many young American

'LINCOLN WOULD HAVE TREASURED SUCH A BOOK!

How Lincoln loved books—how he thirsted for knowledge, for facts! Imagine how he would have appreciated a compact, authentic, life sketch of the great leaders before his time! Lincoln drew deeply from the experience of others. What do you know about the men who have guided the destiny of our country for 200 years. There is a treat in store for you in med, Fortified Millionaire Estate

ogs and a Complex Network ield This Famous Infant

ORTRESS FOR A CHILD

ow Estate at Englewood, N. J., Showing Just How Against Intrusion, as a Protection for Colonel and Son, Jon. Heavily-Armed Guards, Trained Dogs, and a Storehouse of Weapons and Ammunition to Undesirable "persons not wanted."

were lying in wait for the taxi when it approached.

Everything, it so happened, turned out to be harmless enough. The cab bore one of the Morrow servants, who had been out visiting for the evening. The driver, who had been in more of a rush than the average cabby, had merely dispensed with the formality of stopping at the booth for permission to proceed into the grounds.

The guards at the house, after concluding that everything was all right, warned the driver never to repeat the performance, then told him he could go. But they neglected to report their findings to the man at the entrance. The sentry, in the absence of word from the house, had meanwhile strung a heavy, specially-constructed chain between the two stout stone pillars on either side of the driveway entrance to make certain that the car could not leave the grounds until he found out what it was all about.

Presently he saw the cab tearing down the driveway. The chauffeur was still in very much of a hurry. The area near the entrance is quite dark at night and the cabby didn't see the chain strung across his path. Nor did he hear the warning shout of the sentry. The hood of the taxi struck the chain with terrific force and the car rebounded thirty feet and turned turtle, a total wreck. The driver miraculously escaped death, the chain, despite the strain imposed upon it by the impact of the speeding machine, didn't reveal a single weak link.

So you can see that it's one thing to get into the grounds and yet another to get out.

Every eventuality has been anticipated by those who mapped out the details for guarding the baby. The private wires that run between the Morrow property and the State and Englewood police are buried underground part of the way, so that it is almost impossible to cut them. The wires are frequently tested, to make certain that they would serve their purpose, should the occasion arise.

One guard is never very far from the police telephone in the mansion, so that no matter what happened outside of the house he would have ample opportunity to send through the alarms. The wires from the house would be utilized in the event that someone somehow managed to slip past the guards who patrol the desolate outposts of the property. The concealed telephones in the trees would be the tip-off mediums if a motorcade of three or four cars suddenly swept into the grounds through the driveway. One of the men on duty near the entrance, merely by pressing the buttons attached to the hidden extensions, could notify the police before the cars were halfway up the driveway.

A CONCERTED effort to storm the grounds would not only necessitate the intruders facing the withering fire of the ever-alert guards; they would be up against His Inexorable Majesty, Time. They could not allow themselves one instant more than ninety seconds on the property, the greater part of which time would be consumed driving to and from the house, if they hoped to make a getaway before the arrival of the police. For the efficient and ever-ready Englewood police, with their plentiful supply of riot and machine guns to augment the armaments at the mansion, would be on the scene in not more than a minute and a half. The State police would be there in less than five minutes. Englewood Headquarters is little over a mile distant and the Alpine barracks of the State police is less than three miles away. The swift journey to the Morrow home from each point has been clocked; it's not a theory.

And, if a "wanted" car did get in and out, it wouldn't get far. Every possible road would be closed by State and local police for the fugitives would not have a start, as did the Hopewell kidnapers.

For several months after Jon's birth, the State Police and the Englewood authorities were in charge of the patrol at the Morrow estate. Now the watch is kept entirely by private policemen, who are paid each week by Colonel Lindbergh.

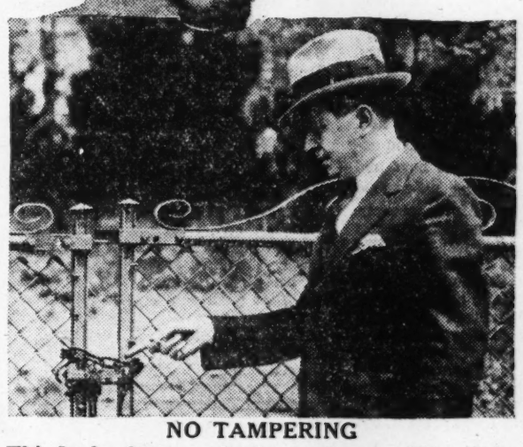

These men, whose number and identities are a secret, are thoroughly experienced in police work of one form or another. All are crack shots and all have come through the acid tests of bravery and integrity, not once but many times. Their records are open books. The authorities placed the career of each man, from his birth on, under the official magnifying glass and submitted a detailed report to Colonel Lindbergh for his personal okay.

(Above) A Motorist Questioned by a Guard Before Being Allowed to Drive Through the Morrow Estate. All Strangers Are Logically Regarded with Suspicion.

HAPPY AGAIN

This Photo of Colonel and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh Was Taken Before Sorrow Came to Them with the Death of Their First Child. Today They Are Happy in the Love of Their Second Son—But the Price of Happiness Is Eternal Vigilance.

NO TAMPERING

This Is the Gate on the Spear Avenue Side of the Morrow Property. It Has Been Chained Up Since Jon Morrow Lindbergh Was Born. Any Attempt to Tamper with the Chain or to Scale the Gate—Regardless of the Hour—Quickly Brings Several Armed Men to the Scene.

The guards never leave the grounds, except when they have a day off or when they patrol the roads surrounding the estate. They eat their meals in the mansion and sleep there. Their jobs are good as long as they care to stay, inasmuch as Colonel Lindbergh and the former Anne Morrow have no intention of relaxing the vise-like vigilance over their second son. Then, too, the Morrow family has long been noted in exclusive circles for being most considerate of their employes. Very rarely is anyone discharged. Comparatively high wages are paid and everything is done to make the employes happy.

THE guards have no specified routine. Like all police work, their activities are attuned to prevailing conditions. On murky, moonless nights, when visibility is poor, they cover considerably more ground than on clear nights, when they could spot an intruder a hundred or more feet distant.

Of a pleasant Sunday, when many automobiles pass the property, there is more concentration on the entrance than there is, for instance, on a dull weekday. When little Jon is wheeled over the lawn by his nurse, Betty Gow, the vigilance naturally is at its zenith. At no time since he was dramatically whisked to the Englewood estate following his secret birth in a New York apartment has the baby been more than a few feet away from at least one guard. For always there remains the spector of another golden-haired little boy before Jon.

NEXT WEEK: Still more exclusive details as to how the Lindbergh baby is safeguarded on the Morrow estate at Englewood, New Jersey, where every recognized modern scientific device is utilized as a protective agency by the family of year-old little Jon, set forth by the writer who is acknowledged to be an authority on the subject.

ed and Desperate American Girls in Paris

Paris Was Unable to Conquer the Firm Spirit of This Beautiful Texas Girl, the Countess Ladine Young de Martino, Who Learned Early of Its Perils for Young Women and Was Bravely Able to Avoid Them.

Mrs. Josephine R. Bigelow, a Beauty of Boston's Exclusive Back Bay District, Who Died in an Apparent Suicide Pact in New York with Henry G. Crosby (Right), Nephew of the J. P. Morgans, Who Shot Her and Then Himself After He Had Wearied of Wild Parties in Paris.

women in Paris is the triumph over its pitfalls of a beautiful Texan who became a countess.

The Countess Ladine Young de Martino, known among her friends as "Queen of the Globe Trotters," met her Count in Mexico and they were married. They lived all over the world, but for a long time in Paris, where the countess was invariably the center of a regiment of admirers. Many temptations were placed before her, but the young Texas girl was level of head and it could not be turned. Union with the count was not successful and the countess set out to tour the world. She said recently that she had no idea where the count was now that he was out of her life.

NEXT WEEK—This chronicle of the desperation into which American students and others are plunged by life in Paris under modern conditions will be continued with narration of some of the tragedies which have overtaken numerous young American men and women who had so hopefully sought success in the French capital.

"OUR PRESIDENTS AT A GLANCE"

The entire series of presidential biographies which recently appeared in The Constitution is available in permanent form for 45 cents—or by mail for 50 cents. It is valuable as a textbook or for reference work, but even more valuable as thrilling, entertaining reading matter. Don't delay getting your copy. The supply is limited.

SECKATARY HAWKINS AND HIS FAIR and SQUARE CLUB

THE ISLAND TUNNEL

(Seck Hawkins is helping Detective Jeckerson solve another mystery. The Fong Shu has threatened vengeance upon them for sending four of his sons to prison. Sam Kwong, the laundryman, unable to fulfill his mission of returning the Emperor's Sword to its shrine in China, returns with it. Su Chow Ming discloses that it is an imitation and opens a safe to show Jeckerson and Hawkins the real sword, but discovers it has been stolen. In an abandoned theater adjoining Su Chow's home they discover the secret headquarters of Fong Shu, but later find that he has fled. The boys of the Fair and Square Club make their summer camp on Seven Willows Island, where Hawkins discovers a trap set for Jeckerson by followers of Fong Shu. Stormie, Hawkins' Great Dane, saves Jeckerson from falling into the trap).

WELL, we boys are still camping down on Seven Willows Island. But after that last scare we had, Detective Jeckerson sent three of his best men to stay with us and guard our camp. His old trusted right-hand man, Lieutenant Phillips, is in charge, with two of our old friends, Olaf and Collison, to help him out. Doc Waters stays with us every night, too, but he has to go to town almost every day to see his patients. I always take him up to the ferry in my little gray canoe, and he goes on to town from there. After he crosses the ferry, he takes his little automobile which Lige Hobbs, the ferryboat tender, keeps parked for him in a shed at the landing.

Jeckerson sent two more tents down for the men. So now we have six tents pitched here on our camping ground. It's a beautiful sight to see, I'm telling you. Our four tents that we used last year are good-looking, but you ought to see the two new ones that were added. They are of the kind that the national guard puts up when they go camping—you know, the militia they call 'em. Well, all of the boys in our camp are mighty proud of the looks of our camp now. The dinkiest tent of them all is the one I'm in right now, my writing tent as Doc Waters calls it. He bought it special for me, so that I could continue to write down every day everything that happens, together with the minutes of the meetings our club holds every day. Just the same, I like this little dinky tent. I have all my books and things in it, and this little table on which I write, and a little camp-chair. What I like most of all is, that Doc Waters thought enough of me and my writing to give me this tent. But then, every boy in our club thinks like Doc does—we wouldn't have such a good club if we didn't keep records of all our meetings, all our adventures and everything that happens here.

* * * *

Today, right after we boys held our regular meeting, Jeckerson arrived at the camp. The boys had wanted to go fishing at a good spot where Jerry Moore said he had caught an unusual number of very choice catfish last year. Doc Waters was not for letting them go, because of the danger on the island at this time, but Jeckerson told Olaf and Collison to go with the boys, and so it was arranged after all. I noticed that Jeckerson, before the party left camp, tapped the pockets of Olaf and Collison to make sure they had their guns with them. And I was certain, too, that none of the boys would be in any danger with Jeckerson's men to watch them. For, aside from the fact that they are good policemen, both Olaf and Collison admire Jeckerson so much that they would die rather than fail in any mission upon which he might send them.

After that, I had to take Doc Waters up to the ferry in my canoe. When I returned, I went at once to my little tent, intending to do some writing. I was not much surprised to find Jeckerson sitting inside the tent, waiting for me.

"Well, Hawkins," he said, "we have work to do, son."

"Seems like you and I always have work to do," I said, with a smile, as I sat down at the little table, and took the stopper off my ink bottle. "I've always got plenty of writing to do, Jeckerson; but if you knew how much I liked to write—"

"You'll do no writing today," he said, suddenly, as he took from his pocket a long, thick, black cigar and bit the tip off. "We have other fish to fry."

"Ha!" I said, with a little laugh. "You think the boys will come back with a string of catfish for supper—"

"Cut out the foolishness, Hawkins," he said, as he struck a match and lit the thin cigar. "You know what I mean. The Chinamen! This island! They have a headquarters here, somewhere."

"Oh, I exclaimed softly.

"Don't pretend you're surprised!" he snapped. "That trap they laid for me—that clue they left for you—listen, son! they know everything we do, almost before we do it. Why, they knew you boys would go camping down here on this island. That's why they came."

"I don't think so, Jeckerson," I said, softly.

He looked up at me, so astonished that his cigar fell from his lips and he had to execute an acrobatic movement to catch it. Replacing it between his teeth, he blew a few hard puffs of smoke into the air, all the while staring at me as though I had said something unbelievable.

"What do you mean?" he asked slowly. "Go ahead, speak—sometimes you get ideas that are worth more than all of mine—"

"I mean," I said, "that I don't think they came down here on this island just because we boys decided to have a camp here, Jeckerson. I think that the Chinese fellows had a headquarters here all the time. And when they learned that we were camping on this island, and too close to their secret hangout, they were flustered and excited, and now they are trying to do all they can to chase us away from here."

Jeckerson leaned back in his chair and gazed at me through lowered eyelids, while he puffed leisurely at his cigar.

"What gave you that idea," he asked, lazily.

"Well, Jeckerson," I answered, "I know this old island. I've known it since I was a very little boy, ever since I can remember, when my daddy used to take me down here for a hike—and that's so long ago, even before I started to school we went hiking on this island—"

"How did you get down here?" asked Jeckerson.

"Well, the first time that I can remember, we took the ferry across at Hobbs Ferry and walked to a cabin over on the Pelham side. There was an old fisherman there that dad knew. He would take us across in an old rowboat, and we would walk and walk until I got tired and sat down. And when I sat down, my dad would laugh and say we'd have to turn back. Sometimes I'd be so tired I'd think I couldn't walk back that far, but dad always laughed—"

"We have plenty of work ahead of us, son!" broke in Jeckerson, briskly. "I've been working on this case a long time—long before you knew that I was back in America. And I don't mind admitting to you that you are right about those Chinese persons—they did have an outpost here on this island. My man Phillips trailed them here on several occasions, each time losing the trail in the middle of the island—"

"The middle of the island!" I exclaimed. "I know, Jeckerson! I know how they gave him the slip. There used to be a boy—we called him Stoner's Boy—he always disappeared in the middle of the island, too! And then one day we followed him so closely—he could not escape our eyes that day, Jeckerson—and we saw him enter a hollow tree-stump—"

"That's it!" exclaimed Jeckerson, so suddenly, that he sprang up and upset his chair behind him, almost upsetting me backwards at the same time. "Come on, Seck! Lead me to that tree-stump!"

* * * *

My dog, Stormie, the Great Dane, saw us preparing to leave. He lay curled up in sleep behind my chair, but the moment he sensed that I was about to take a hike, he was up in a flash and ready to go.

"How about that big hound," said Jeckerson, "will he be in the way?"

"Was he in the way when he saved you from falling in that trap the Chinamen laid for you?" I asked, with a smile.

"Well, no," said Jeckerson, with a grin. "I guess I would have fallen into the pit if that big mongrel hadn't run up to warn me—"

"He's no mongrel!" I snapped up at him. "He's a pure-blooded Great Dane, and the smartest one that ever lived—"

"Oh, all right, Hawkins," said Jeckerson, softly. "I'm sorry—I know Stormie's a thoroughbred! I just have a way with me about dogs—I like to kid them along—"

"You can kid me, but don't kid my dog," I said; "you see, Jeckerson, I understand when you're kidding—but the dog doesn't!"

"Eh, what?" said Jeckerson. And his eyebrows rose a trifle. I knew he understood. And I knew he liked Stormie, too. For the next moment he was clucking to the dog, then talking to him as one man talks to another, and we were off, the three of us, for the middle of the island, searching for the hollow tree stump—

* * * *

"This is it, Jeckerson," I said finally, as we stood before a rotted old stump of a tree, after pushing through many bramble bushes. It's been a long time since Stoner's Boy used this old secret entrance to the underground tunnel to the log-house, and the wildwood has grown up all around is so that nobody else ever would find it—"

"Where did this tunnel lead to?" asked Jeckerson. "I mean, after you go down into this hollow stump?"

"Well, Jeckerson," I answered, "you go down into the hollow stump and find yourself in a narrow passage—"

"Yes, yes, I know that, Hawkins. But where does that passage lead to?"

"Well, when Stoner's Boy used to disappear into this hollow stump, we followed him and went through a hollow passage until we came to the log house—"

"You mean there is a tunnel that leads smack into the wall of the log house?"

"No! I mean that the tunnel leads to a spot under a trap-door. You push up the trap-door, Jeckerson, and you find the trap-door is in the floor of the log house—inside the stockade on the northern tip of the island."

"Oh, I see! Well, let the dog go first. Come on, Stormie—"

"He won't go in there for you, Jeckerson—there let me tell him."

And so I got Stormie to go down into the hollow stump. He went about it cautiously, and with some clumsiness, but though Jeckerson smiled at the dog, I knew that the animal had enough sense to know what he was doing. Look before you leap was Stormie's motto. And after quite a while the Great Dane leaped into the dark hole within the hollow stump. We followed him, and together we all three stood on the damp floor of a musty cellar place, no wider than three feet at most, and about nine feet below the surface of the ground from which the hollow tree-stump grew. Jeckerson removed the cigar from his lips and ground it under his heel.

"They would smell smoke," he said, "and it's no use to give them any warning. Come along, Hawkins—look, that big dog of yours is merrily on his way—"

While he spoke, Jeckerson had taken an electric flashlight from his pocket and threw its ray ahead of us, down the dark passage. It lit up the loping figure of the big dog, stopping here and there to sniff at the sides of the passage.

Patiently we plodded on, after the dog. At length we came to a series of steps.

"Here," I whispered to Jeckerson, "is where the passage leads to the trapdoor in the floor of the log-house. Watch!"

"Quite!" whispered Jeckerson. His light played upon the big dog, now. The Great Dane had run up the few steps, and was sniffing the roof above his head—

"Here, Stormie!" I whispered. The big dog turned and trotted silently back to me. I gripped him by his brass-studded harness and held him close to me. Jeckerson approached the trapdoor softly and lifted it just a trifle. A couple of voices came to our ears—

"I am not concerned about the money," said a rough, man's voice that I seemed to recognize. "It is my good name that I want to protect—"

"Worry no more, Honorable Mr. Gusmus!" came the soft, musical voice of a young Chinese. "Your name shall not enter into the matter. I am the hand—"

The voice cut off so suddenly.

"He won't go in there for you Jeckerson—here, yet me tell him."

you would have thought it had been on a phonograph, and the needle lifted suddenly from the record.

Jeckerson turned to me.

"Who is Mr. Gusmus?" he asked, in a whisper.

"The owner of Seven Willows Island," I whispered back. "And the other voice—it is the voice of a Chinaman I once met in the moonlight on the river path—I did not see his face—I would not know him again if I saw him, but his voice I shall never forget. It was in the moonlight on the river path, Jeckerson—and he said those same words—'I am the hand'—that's all he said—"

"'I am the hand!'" repeated Jeckerson. "A clue! No doubt about it, Hawkins—there is your clue! Whoever he is, he is the hand! The hand that what? Well, that is something for you and your high order spy system to find out. Come on, we'll go back and investigate that side tunnel we passed on our way here. I have an idea we will discover something else."

Which we did.

(Continued Next Week).

(Copyright, 1933, by Robert F. Schulkers.)

DEAR PEN PALS:

I hope you are taking advantage of this nice weather to get your share of summer sports. Swimming is growing so popular now that any boy or girl who can not swim is simply "out of the swim" and that's too bad. Every boy and girl should learn how to swim .It is not only health giving exercise, but you miss a great part of your life's enjoyment if you must stay out of water. I would advise every boy and girl to take lessons and to practice the strokes at first and gradually improve yourself until you can qualify as a full-fledged swimmer.

* * * *

OF COURSE, we want to enjoy the other sports, too. For many boys (and girls, too), baseball has its charms. Tennis comes in for a great deal of popularity, and junior golf has started many off on the road to fame on the links. Aviation is going to be a sport some day, too, and boys and girls who long to soar into the clouds will some day find sky travel a source of great enjoyment. It goes without saying that improvements in planes and engines is gradually making flying less hazardous, and by the time we boys and girls grow up, it will be a common thing to travel by air.

* * * *

WRITE A LETTER this week and let me know what you think about such things. And if you are not yet a member of our club, fill out the membership card and send it in. Then you will be a regular pen pal, and can write in our contest every week. And remember, if your letter is printed above my signature on this page, you will be awarded a book of our club's earlier adventures down on the old river bank.

* * * *

FROM THE THOUSANDS of letters received each week, it is plain to see that all of our pen pals are enjoying vacation in its fullest measure. We are receiving many more new pen pals than ever before, from every state in the union. It is going to be a great thing for you to say you belong to such a large club, which has been called "The Biggest and Most Active Boys' and Girls' Club in the World" And it is, too, for we have members in nearly every country on earth.

* * * *

THE PEN PAL to win a book this week is from a little nine-year-old who lives on a farm in dear old Georgia. Remember—after you have won the first book, try, try again, because there are nine other volumes:

Dear Seck:

I am a boy, 9 years old, and I live on a large farm. I spend most of my time plowing, hoeing and doing all sorts of work.

I think I will spend my vacation at the World's Fair, where I will see the things I have longed to see.

I like your slogan, "A quitter never wins and a winner never quits," and that's what I'm going to try to do; I'm not going to quit until I win a book.

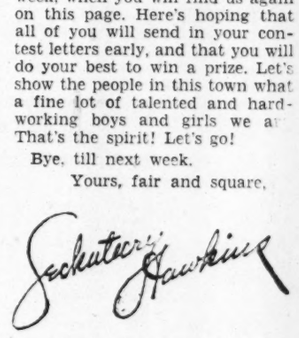

Yours, fair and square,
EUGENE PATTERSON, 9.
Route 1, Adel, Ga.

* * * *

The meeting will now come to a close, and we adjourn for another week, when you will find us again on this page. Here's hoping that all of you will send in your contest letters early, and that you will do your best to win a prize. Let's show the people in this town what a fine lot of talented and hard-working boys and girls we are. That's the spirit! Let's go!

Bye, till next week.

Yours, fair and square,

Dear Seck:

I am a new member of your club, and I know that I will enjoy being a member. I am 12 years old and in the seventh grade. I have blue eyes, blond curly hair and weigh 86 pounds. I am four feet, nine inches tall, and take piano lessons. I am in the chorus at school.

We moved to Atlanta from West Palm Beach, where we lived. I liked West Palm Beach because of the beautiful beach there. We would get up at 7 o'clock and go to the beach. We'd stay until 12 o'clock, go home, then come back at 2 and stay until 6 o'clock. We would lie in the sun and would we get brown! Oh boy!

We came to Atlanta in the car, and spent nights in Sarasota, Gainesville and Macon. We had a glorious trip and I like Atlanta very much, except that I miss the good old ocean.

Yours, fair and square,
NETTYE MELTZ.
118 Atlanta Ave., S. E.,
Atlanta, Ga.

Dear Seck:

Some people think swimming is hard, but I think it is easy, because I learned how to swim a week ago yesterday. I can get out into deep water by myself now. The manager of the pool in Monticello was nice to teach me how, don't you think? My next step is to learn how to dive. I have a sister in college, 18 years old, that doesn't know how to swim yet. Now, what do you think of that?

Do you recall of me writing to you, telling you that my sister and I had a dog named Sport? Well, he has gone to the country for a visit now. I surely do miss him. Every time I came home from school in the evening he would be waiting for me. I forgot to tell you the dog has a nickname, too. His nickname is Bozo.

Yours, fair and square,
FITZHUGH PENN, JR.,
Monticello, Ga.

Dear Seck:

School is out. I will be in the fourth grade next year. I am a captain in the Post Junior Detective Corps. I also belong to the Secret 3 Detective Service. We have a squad of detectives in my neighborhood. I wish I could be with you and Jeckerson and help you catch Fong Shu.

I am thinking of taking a trip to Michigan. If I do I will write you about what I saw on the way. I have an uncle living in Washington, D. C. I visited him when I was four years old. I went up in the capitol and had my first elevator ride, and saw all the sights in Washington.

Yours, fair and square,
FRED CULVER.
108 South Bartow St.,
Cartersville, Ga.

Dear Seck:

I am a little girl, 12 years old. I am in the seventh grade at school. I have two brothers and two sisters.

For pets I have a squirrel and a little black puppy. His name is Hawkins. I go in swimming almost every day now, at the pool. Gee! You sure do stick to your motto, "Fair and Square!" I am keeping up with your strip in the paper, and it is very interesting to me.

I weigh 75 pounds, and I have light brown hair and blue eyes. I am four and a half feet tall. Please write to me and I will answer your letters.

Yours, fair and square,
RUBY LEE.
Douglas, Ga.

Dear Seckatary Hawkins:

Even if I am a girl I should like to join your "Fair and Square" C lub. I enjoy your daily adventures in the daily paper and the Sunday paper. I am glad you found out the mystery of the disappearing pigeon. I am sorry you lost Indian.

I am enjoying my vacation immensely. I hope you and your club members are enjoying yours.

Your friend and new club member,
WINIFRED HEIDENREICH.
609 North Greenwood St.,
aLGrange, Ga.

Dear Seck:

I live on a farm and for sport I go fishing and hunting. I have one pet, a calf. I like farm life fine. My school will begin in a few days. I like very much to go to school. I am in the fifth grade. I will try to abide by your rules.

Fair and square,
MILES R. ADAMS.
Route 2, Colbert, Ga.

Dear Seck:

I am a little boy 11 years old, in the fifth grade. I enjoy reading the Sunday paper. My hobby is reading. I would like to be down on the old river bank with you. I enjoy fishing. We go down to the old mill pond a lot of times. There is some large fish in there. I hope your dog, the Great Dane, gets the old Chinaman.

Yours, fair and square,
ALTON SPIER.
Opelika, Ala.

Today's Prize.

July 16, 1933.

Dear Seck:

How thrilling! Seck, it is to follow your adventures each day. You know I can hardly wait for the paper boy to come each morning, for I'm so anxious to read your strip. My little brothers and sisters always want me to read it to them.

I'm a little girl, 11 years old, and I belong to the 4-H Club. This club is very interesting, and so is yours.

I go to the creek every once in a while to wade, but I don't go in swimming. Generally after I fall down about three or four times I feel as if I have been in swimming. It reminds me of the time that the Skinny Guy got such a ducking.

Yours, fair and square,
LOUISE KIKER,
Jasper, Ga.

MEMBERSHIP BLANK.

Seckatary Hawkins:
Care of The Atlanta Constitution, Atlanta, Ga.

I wish to be enrolled as a member of the SECKATARY HAWKINS CLUB. I am enclosing a three-cent stamp for my club badge.

My name is .....

Street or R. F. D. .....

City .....State.....

My age is..... My birthday is.....

In filling this coupon, use pencil, not ink. Print, don't write.

PLANT PERENNIALS IN JULY :-: :-: By W. ELBRIDGE FREEBORN

THE perennial border becomes more and more the background in almost every garden as the advantages of perennials are discovered by each gardener. The advantages of perennials over annuals are so numerous that they need hardly be repeated. Yet a great many people continue to plant annuals because during the hot summer they fail to remember that perennials should be started. A bed of perennial phlox started now will last for years, while another bed of annual phlox planted in the spring can only be expected to last for one season.

Due to a widespread interest in new perennials a great many new varieties have been introduced during the past few years. Some of them are selections from our old friends, while others are what might be called new flowers, being crossed between our old friends.

One of the most charming new perennials is linaria, or what might be called dwarf perennial snapdragon, and we mean by dwarf, the size of the flower and not the size of the plant, as the plant usually grows more than three feet tall and is a gorgeous new perennial that may be planted from seeds now. Linaria is in full bloom at the present time and a great many people are wondering what this yellow snapdragon is.

There is one disappointment that must be faced now by those desiring to start perennials from seeds. Our most popular rock garden plant and border plant, thrift, which by the way is not the proper name or even the correct common name, as the plant commonly called thrift around Atlanta is phlox subulata, while armeria is recognized by standardized plant names as thrift. But regardless of argument about the name, everybody wants this plant, call it what you like, for rock gardens and as a border for the perennial bed.

Its habit of growth is very similar to Bermuda grass, and it blooms for nearly three months during the late winter and early spring. Its colors are not limited to the lavender pink commonly seen here, as it may be seen in a number of colors ranging from almost white through the shades of pink, red and lavender to an almost deep purple shade.

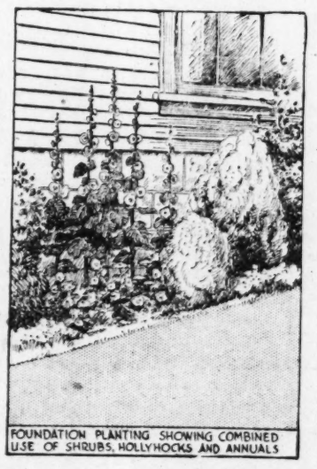

The disappointment comes from the fact that thrift does not produce any seed at all and may be propagated only by division. This division may be carried on at any time during the late summer and early fall and should be attended to at that time for the very best results.

Starting perennials from seeds is a rather simple affair after the proper seed bed has been prepared. The easiest method by which this may be done is by building a small cold frame.

The usual cold frame, and a most satisfactory one, is placed in an open spot with a southern exposure, preferably. If there are some old window frames about, it is well to make the cold frame of such size that it will conform to the size of these old window frames. The board to form the front of the frame should be about 12 inches in height, while the one for the back or northern side should be about 18 inches. This frame should be nailed tightly, and it is a good plan to arrange some corner braces. Of course, cross braces will be necessary to hold the glass. Sink the cold frame into the ground about four to six inches and all of the construction work is at an end.

Drainage for the cold frame is of vital importance, since the little seeds will not germinate if they are soaking wet, and for that reason the top of the soil in the cold frame should be about six inches higher than the level of the ground around it. This is not always sufficient drainage and for the very best results it is a good plan to remove about 18 to 24 inches of soil and place rocks, cinders, broken flower pots and other similar material at the bottom. This layer for drainage should be about six inches. The remainder of the hole should be filled with the very best top soil, with which there has been mixed a liberal amount of fertilizer, peat moss and woods earth.

Fertilizer for the cold frame should be chosen carefully, as there is danger of burning these tender little plants. For the surest results, a mixture of bone meal and sheep manure is hard to beat. Mix one part of bone meal, one part of sheep manure and three parts of good, rich soil, and there will result an excellent seed bed.

FOUNDATION PLANTING SHOWING COMBINED USE OF SHRUBS, HOLLYHOCKS AND ANNUALS

The seeds should be sown in rows very, very thinly, and except in the case of very large seeds, should be barely covered with some very fine soil or sand. Water the bed after planting with a sprinkling can, but be sure that the can has a fine spray. If the spray is not fine, the water is liable to wash the little seeds away.

Cover the frame with the sash after having whitewashed the glasses. If you do not care to whitewash the glass just as good results may be obtained by covering the glass with cheese cloth. The purpose of the whitewash is that of decreasing the effect of the sun. During these very hot days that we will have through August, it is necessary that the frame be raised a couple of inches on one side, in order that the seeds, and later the plants, will get a bit of ventilation.

CARE OF SEEDLINGS.

Some of the seedlings will be very crowded as soon as they start growing a bit, and these should be thinned out as soon as two leaves appear. A great many of these little plants will be lost in transplanting, but this will still be worthwhile. If the plants were left in their original spot, crowded, they would probably start damping off, a disease hard to control and very destructive to seedlings.

After seedlings have attained a little growth it is to their advantage to be transplanted to another part of the cold frame. At this transplanting they should be planted from three to five inches apart in order that there will be room for rapid growth.

After the plants have reached this stage of growth they may be fertilized with a stronger commercial fertilizer. Care must be taken that these commercial fertilizers do not touch the plants as it is being applied, and the bed should be soaked down thoroughly after each application.

During the month of September a great many of these seedlings will have reached such a size that they may be transplanted to the open without danger. It must be remembered that these little plants are not very hardy, nor are they accustomed to this Georgia sun of ours, and for these reasons care should be taken in this transplanting to the open. For best results, transplant them during the late afternoon, and soak the soil thoroughly after they are planted. This soaking should be repeated within a day or two, depending upon the condition of the plants. Let the watering be thorough.

The numbers and uses of perennials are legion, but some of the more satisfactory sorts for our particular climate deserve mention of their habits and uses.

Alyssum saxatile is a beautiful dwarf edging plant that blooms from early spring through June. Its habit of growth makes it an excellent plant for bordering walks, in hanging baskets and as groups and edges for the border. The ultimate heighth is from 4 to 12 inches.

Aquilegia, or as it is commonly known, columbine, with its long-spurred many colored flowers, makes an excellent plant for the rock garden. Although it does not make an unusually good cut flower, a single bloom may be placed in a bud vase for a very charming effect. Columbine is easily grown from seed and attains the height of from 1 1-2 to 3 feet, depending on the variety.

One of the most popular perennials and one of the easiest grown, is the English daisy or Bellis perennis. It blooms during the early spring, March and April, and attains a height of from 6 to 12 inches. It usually comes in a number of different shades of pink, ranging from clear white to deep rose. The English daisy may be used as a ground cover for spring flowering bulbs, as a rock garden plant, edging for bulbs, or in the very early window boxes.

Canterbury bells, which generally reach a height of from 2 to 3 feet and come in many beautiful shades of white, pink, red and purple, give us one of our most attractive perennials that should be started from seed now. Canterbury bells are particularly well suited to the perennial border that is exposed to full sun. However, it will grow, and grow well, if it has at least half a day's sun.

Shasta daisies make one of our most attractive late spring and early summer flowering perennials. There are a number of different strains of this variety, but most plantsmen agree that westralia is the best one. Shasta daisies make beautiful cut flowers, and grow from 4 to 6 feet tall, and may be used as a background for the perennial border.

Although, delphinium will not grow for us, as it will for our more fortunately situated friends in the north, with a little extra care and a little extra watering, and with the selection of the proper place, delphiniums may be one of our most beautiful summer flowering perennials. These may be had in several shades of blue, purple, pink and white, although the two shades of blue, Belladonna and Bellamosa, are the most satisfactory ones. They are particularly well suited to use as background plants, as the strong growing sorts will often reach a height of six feet.

WHAT TO PLANT IN JULY.

LAWNS: There is still time to plant Bermuda grass seed. Roll thoroughly after planting.

FLOWER SEEDS: There is still time to get blossoms from annuals that flower quickly, such as zinnias, marigolds and petunias. perennial flower seeds may now be planted for blossoms next year. The more popular perennials are hollyhocks, delphiniums, pansies, aquilegia, canterbury bells, shasta daisy, English daisy, foxglove, oriental poppies, gypsophila, candytuft, rudbeckia, all may be started from seeds now in the cold frame.

VEGETABLE SEEDS: July is the accepted month for rutabagas, pumpkins, spinach, squash and crowder peas.

VEGETABLE PLANTS: Tomato, egg plant, pepper, cabbage, collards may all be set out now for fall use.

WATER LILIES: Water lilies, water hyacinths and other water plants, such as Egyptian and American lotus, may be started in July. If insects eat the lily pads use evergreen, which is not a poison and will not injure the fish.

VINE CROPS: All of the vine plants, squash and pumpkins, may still be planted.

BEDDING PLANTS: These may all be planted through the early part of July.

LIQUOR HABIT
Send for FREE TRIAL of Noxalco, a guaranteed harmless home treatment. Can be given secretly in food or drink to anyone who drinks or craves Whiskey, Beer, Gin, Home Brew, Wine, Moonshine, etc. Your request for Free Trial brings trial supply by return mail and full $2.00 treatment which you may try under a 30 day refund guarantee. Try Noxalco at our risk. ARLEE CO. Dept. 148 BALTIMORE, MD.

When Justice Triumphed

By PETER LEVINS.

PATROLMAN JOHN BRODERICK, strolling along West 78th street, halted in his tracks as the three men passed him. Something about the face of the fellow in the middle—a fleshy, thick-lipped, unwholesome looking person—struck the officer as familiar. He stroked his jaw, seeing in his mind a picture of that pudgy face, with the words, "Wanted for Murder!"

Broderick let the trio get some distance away and then followed. Wanted for murder! . . . Come to think of it, he had seen another of these three faces on a police circular, and he, too, was wanted for murder.

Suddenly their identities occurred to him. That pudgy, unshaven mug was the face of Edward (Fats) McCarthy, gunman, sought for months in the so-called Harlem baby massacre! And another of the trio was Enrico Battaglia, a Coll gangster, wanted in the ruthless murder of Patrolman Jerry Brosnon, who was assassinated in Fordham hospital, where he was a guard, in 1928.

The police had just missed geting Fats and Battaglia two weeks before, when they trapped Vincent Coll and other members of his mob in Manhattan and upstate New York. McCarthy had been Coll's murder specialist. Previously he had been torpedo man for Dutch Schultz and had joined up with Coll when the latter declared war on Schultz.

LANDLADY OFFERS UNEXPECTED OBSTACLE.

Broderick watched the three disappear into a brownstone rooming house, and then telephoned the West 68th street police station. Three detectives—Guido Pessagno, Edward Willi and James De Ferraro—arrived a few minutes later. Pessagno told Broderick to stand guard outside while they searched the house. They entered the house, guns drawn.

But an unexpected obstacle to a quiet search developed immediately in the form of the landlady, who protested loudly against the intrusion.

"Get out of here!" she shrieked. "I won't have you cops goin' through this house—and with guns in your hands!"

"Be quiet, please!" said Pessagno.

He led the way up the stairs. As he neared a rear door on the third floor, the door started to close. He flung himself against it, shouting: "Come out of there!"

He was answered with bullets.

Pessagno, though mortally wounded, kept his feet and returned the fire. Battaglia fell, riddled. Detective De Ferraro dropped with a bullet in the side. Detective Willi with a wound in the neck. Pessagno, shot five times, reeled about the hall, helpless, as McCarthy and the other gunmen clawed their way past the wounded officers, ran to the roof and escaped.

Captain John Appel, in charge of the 68th street station, conferred with his superiors that evening—the date was October 19, 1931—as Pessagno lay dying. Presently, that same night, Detective Harold Moore, a star man with a fine record, and Detective Thomas Riggs, a clean-cut, youthful looking officer, were summoned to the 68th street station and ordered to devote their time to the hunt for Fats McCarthy.

Both detectives were crack shots and utterly fearless.

"You will get McCarthy if it takes the rest of your lives," Appel told them.

The two knew Fats, and his blonde wife, Jeanne. She had been living with him in the rooming house. Among her effects the police had found an envelope with an address on it. This proved to be the address of Jeanne's family in the Bronx.

However, the McCarthys did not go near the house in the Bronx, nor could the sleuths find any trace of Fats in Manhattan. They concluded that he must have left town.

They knew McCarthy had recently lined up with Legs Diamond, along with Killer Coll, so they headed for Greene county, figuring Fats would want Legs to hide him until things blew over. As it developed later, this was correct, but in the first trip upstate they could find no clue, though they visited many speakeasies and rooming houses. They located places where the fugitive was known, and persons who knew him, but no one had seen him lately.

Moore and Riggs, through all this long search, operated under assumed names, known only to their superiors. They carried two guns each. They carried the guns in holsters except when they entered places where McCarthy might be, and then they usually kept one gun ready in a side pocket. As the reader can understand, they were constantly in danger of sudden death, since Fats knew them and would shoot on sight.

On only very rare occasions did they dare ask questions about McCarthy. They kept their ears open and their mouths shut, not wishing to tip off the fugitive. Naturally the police had not announced that two star men had been assigned to get Fats if it took forever. Very likely he thought things were blowing over very nicely.

* * *

While the two officers were in Newark, N. J., canvassing every rooming house in the city following a tip that Fats and his wife had queried about lodgings, the word came that the murderer had taken refuge in a house occupied by Legs Diamond, in State street, Albany. When the local police arrived, however, the fugitive was gone.

After that raid the theory in the underworld was that Legs had put the finger on Fats; that he had conspired to turn in the much-wanted killer in exchange for certain official favors.

DIAMOND SLAIN IN ALBANY ROOMING HOUSE.

We do not know whether this was true or not. One thing we do know is that assassins crept into a rooming house in Albany the morning after Diamond beat a kidnaping and torture rap in Troy and poured five bullets into his brain. As the killers were leaving, the landlady heard one say, "S'pose I give him the other gun, huh? He might still be—"

"Oh, hell," growled the other. "That's enough. Come on!"

Moore and his partner continued their exhaustive search. Later in the year the police discovered that Jeanne McCarthy was receiving mail at an apartment in Rensselaer, N. Y. The New York department communicated with the state police, and officers hurried to the house. The McCarthys had vanished.

Months passed. Coll, tried in the baby-killing case, beat this rap in one of the most extraordinary proceedings in recent years, and was later riddled with submachine gun bullets as he stood in a drug store phone booth on West 23rd street. Months later Vannie Higgins, the Brooklyn racketeer, was shot to death.

McCarthy was suspected in both these assassinations. Not that the police were able to tie him up to either of them, particularly, but he was a murder specialist and he had to earn a living. Killing, you might say, was the only business he knew.

In the early summer of 1932, eight months after the Pessagno killing, Moore and Riggs had a pretty definite idea that Fats was hiding out somewhere near Albany. Accordingly they journeyed to Troy on July 9, registered at a hotel there under their assumed names, and set forth, starting in Troy and gradually working into Albany.

BARTENDER TELLS OF TWO GUNMEN.

Early Sunday morning, the 10th they were sitting together at a table in an Albany speakeasy. They had not found a single clue to McCarthy, and were about ready to quit for the night.

The two detectives had thought, when they began this hunt, that they would form a lucky combination, since Moore entered the department July 7, 1924, and Riggs July 11, 1923. But now they were both willing to concede that the 7-11 combination wasn't working out so well. It had been a 24-hour assignment for eight months, and Fats seemed as far away from them as ever.

Meanwhile, the bartender was talking to a customer.

"I dunno their last names," he said. "They didn't call each other by their last names—just Mike and Pop."

The two sleuths stared at each other.

"A couple o' tough guys, eh?" said the customer.

"I never seen any tougher. Did you see the guns they had—stuck right in their belts?"

The other man nodded. "Tough is right."

"Those were forty-fives they had," said the bartender, "and they didn't care who seen 'em. Was I glad to see 'em pull out!"

"They were drunk."

"Yeah, but some of 'em can't keep their mitts off a gat when they get a couple o' shots in 'em."

The significance of this dialogue was that McCarthy was called Pop by his associates—his family name was Popke—and that the other visitor must be Mike Basile, another Coll gangster. The police had had tips that McCarthy had teamed up with Basile in recent weeks.

* * *

All that Sunday and Sunday night the detectives, aided by Sergeant Walter F. Reilly and Trooper Winston A. Chesterfield, of the state police, combed the hilly pine brush country west of Albany, along the Albany-Schenectady road.

On Monday afternoon—the anniversary of Tom Riggs' entrance into the police department—the two visited a grocery store in a sparsely settled community west of the state capital. Posing as state troopers in plain clothes, they showed the proprietor of the store pictures of McCarthy and his wife.

"I can't say that I've seen the man, but the woman—" the grocer leaned closer, studying the picture.

"She has a face you'd never forget, once you saw it," said Riggs. "High forehead — small dark eyes—always frowning—"

"Has she got a high voice—I mean shrill?"

The officers nodded together. "Yes, a very shrill voice."

"And dark hair?"

"She's been in here, eh?" said Moore. "When? How recently?"

"She was in here just a day or so ago. Bought some groceries and some cigarettes."

He said he didn't know where she lived but was sure the camp must be near by. Did she buy one brand of cigarettes, or several? He said several.

"You think she might come in today?" Riggs asked.

The grocer shrugged. "She might."

"Okay. I'm your new clerk," said Riggs. "I want to be here when she comes in again."

Riggs donned a white apron. Moore got in touch with Reilly and Chesterfield. They procured a housepainter's outfit, including paint pots, overalls, brushes, ladder and truck. Moore parked the truck near the store. The state officers, being in uniform, kept out of sight for the time being.

They waited.

Two hours passed and then Moore saw a woman walk down the road and enter the store. When she emerged, and started back up the road, Riggs came out—without his apron. He climbed aboard the paint truck. The, followed the woman. Behind them drove Sergeant Reilly. The slow procession continued for about a quarter of a mile, when the woman turned off the road and approached two bungalows on a hill.

The pursuers had to halt, for the houses overlooked the road. They realized that they would have to approach the hideout from the rear.

Riggs, Moore and Reilly circled the hill, then, guns in hand, started through the underbrush toward the two houses. They did not know yet which house was the hideout. Finally they had to crawl along on all fours, to keep out of view of the occupants. As they drew near, they saw a man in an automobile beside one of the houses.

NET DRAWN CLOSELY ABOUT THE HIDEOUT.

"It's Fats!" whispered Moore.

"Are you sure?" said Riggs. "He looks awful clean."

"Maybe he's trying it for a disguise," said Moore.

Riggs communicated the news to Reilly. They moved closer, and saw Mike Basile upstairs. It was a break for them, the detectives though, that Fats was outside the house. They figured they could pounce on him before he could make a move.

But at this crucial moment two small boys hove into view, and one shouted, "Look at the men crawling through the grass!"

McCarthy leaped from the car, drawing a .45 automatic. The officers went into action at the same time, running toward the house. The battle began, with McCarthy firing from behind the car, Basile pouring bullets from an upper window, and the officers returning the fire. Moore was struck in the first exchange but kept going—for Fats.

Riggs and Reilly gained the shelter of trees and poured bullets into the house, hoping to protect Moore, who was in a more or less exposed spot. When a woman screamed inside the house, Riggs shouted, "Come out, Jeanne, we don't want you!" Mrs. McCarthy ran out, shrieking that she had been hit.

Moore realized that he would have to take chances and act fast, else McCarthy would force him into the line of fire from the house. As Fats shifted his position, the detective leaped to the rear of the car, smashed in the glass, and fired. Four bullets struck McCarthy. One hit him between the eyes.

Moore, hit five times, dropped both arms out of commission, but managed to roll down the hill out of the line of fire.

Meanwhile Riggs and Reilly made a dash for the house. A man later identified as George Kelly, an Albany criminal, fled out the rear door, gun in hand. Trooper Chesterfield dropped him with a bullet in the leg. Basile, not knowing the officers had entered the house, crept down the stairs with an automatic shotgun in his hand. Riggs closed with him, got the gun, and the battle was over.

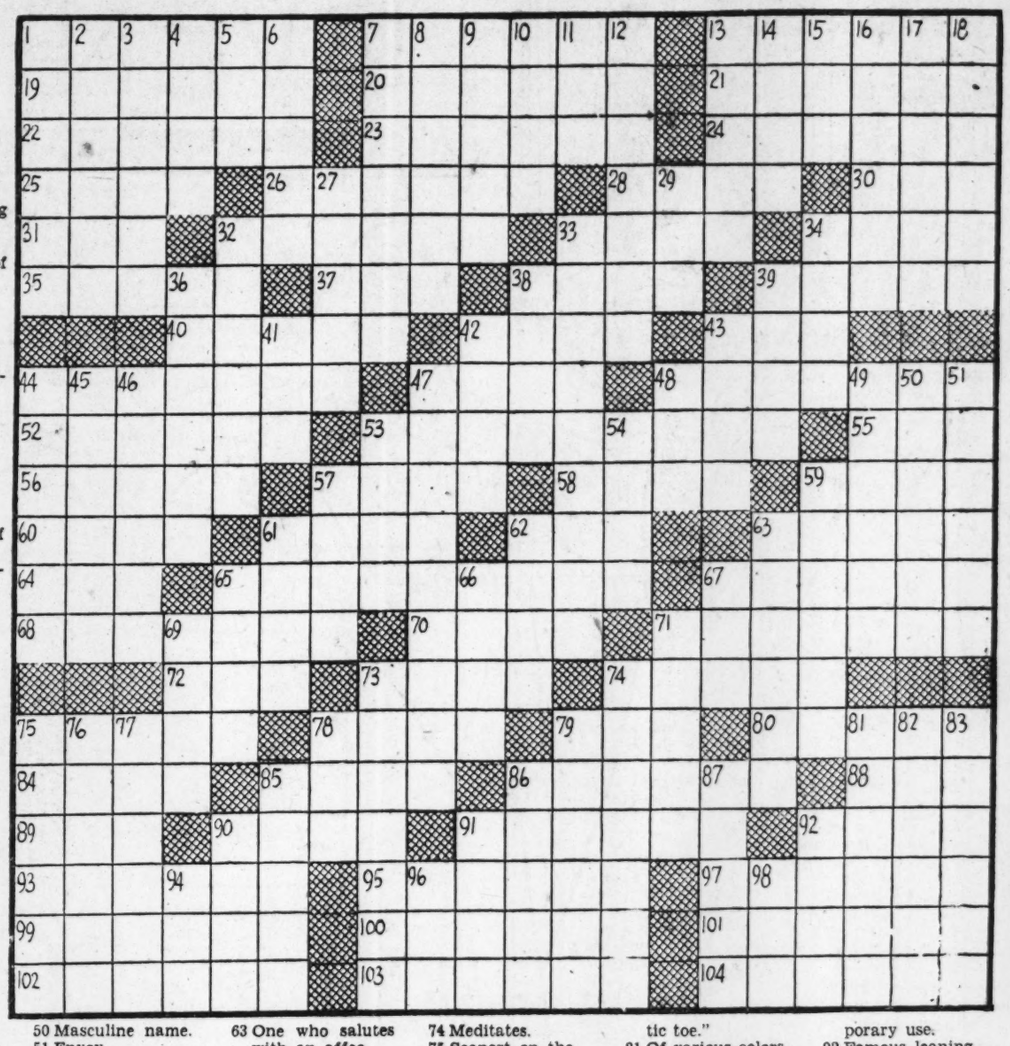

Detective Moore, seriously wounded, lost consciousness but when he reached the hospital he managed to say, "Somebody call the commissioner and tell him we got Fats."

Commissioner Mulrooney was at the bedside that night.

The next day Moore and Riggs were promoted to first-grade detectives. Moore eventually pulled through. The other day he received the medal of honor, highest award in the department.

(Copyright, 1933, for The Constitution.)

Weekly Crossword Puzzle

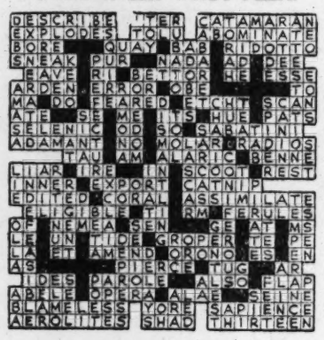

ACROSS.

1 Persian governor.
7 Gazes fixedly.
13 Orb.
19 The north wind: Latin.
20 Unmitigated.
21 Evergreen shrub.
22 First husband of Martha Washington.
23 Happen.
24 An associate in occupancy.
25 Chinese food.
26 Lathered.
28 Tribe.
30 Thus.
31 Note in old scale.
32 Distribute cards again.
33 Silk hat: colloq.
34 Small hole.
35 Author of "Divina Commedia."
37 Bring forth young.
38 Rotate partially.
39 Forcibly puts out.
40 Masculine name meaning "hidden" in Hebrew.
42 Painful.
43 Anglo-Saxon money.
44 One of Naomi's sons.
47 Biblical kingdom south of Assyria.
48 Surgeon's knife.
52 Shakespearean character.
53 Rudimentary.
55 Metallic rock.
56 Egyptian singing girls.
57 Passed smoothly along.
58 Denials.
59 Chinese dynasty.
60 Disparge.
61 Mixture of sand and clay.
62 Siamese coin.
63 Chosen.
64 Eternity.
65 Blatant orators.
67 Most dainty.
68 Male deer.
70 Make first play.
71 Female character in "Les Miserables."
72 Colorado mountain peak.
73 Equal.
74 Metrical composition.
75 One of Naomi's daughters-in-law.
78 Sway, as of a boat.
79 Put on.
80 German city.
84 One-time Mexican general.
85 Famous baseball player.
86 Shed for storing airplanes.
88 Garden tool.
89 An ornament at apex of a pinnacle.
90 Liquid measure.
91 Author of "The Sea Wolf."
92 Gait of horse.
93 Painful state caused by a twisting of ligaments.
95 Mulct.
97 Steered.
99 Planted.
100 Sex.
101 One of an early Jewish sect.
102 Poisonous serpents.
103 Those who bring to a conclusion.
104 Separated by metal, as lines of type.

DOWN.

1 Hallowed.
2 "The Eagle," northern constellation.
3 The purest Italian dialect.
4 Religious ceremonial.
5 Mahomet's adopted son.
6 Squad.
7 Religious sect of ancient Persia.
8 A large rock-boring tool.
9 Russian labor union.
10 Marauding invasion.
11 Finish.
12 Containing no pathological bacteria.
13 Thin flat piece.
14 Panel of glass.
15 Low murmur.
16 Strikes off.
17 Color again.
18 Chooses by vote.
27 Grecian theater.
29 The lot.
32 Depends.
33 Hectored.
34 Binary.
36 Higher.
38 Meander.
39 Spoken.
41 Witticism.
42 Snow vehicle.
43 Peruvian plants.
44 Hunter.
45 A loud call.
46 Exempt, as from disease.
47 Naomi's husband.
48 Pen.
49 French fashion expert.
50 Masculine name.
51 Envoy.
53 Verve.
54 Wood demons.
57 Stand in water.
59 Specie.
61 Poisonous plant.
62 Seaweed derivative.
63 One who salutes with an affectionate gesture.
65 Shrub.
66 Be full of fumes.
67 Antagonist.
69 Husband of Ruth.
71 African river.
73 Thick broth.
74 Meditates.
75 Seaport on the Black Sea.
76 Took out stitches.
77 Arranged in couples.
78 Hurry.
79 One who "trips the light fantastic toe."
81 Of various colors.
82 Cenozoic period.
83 Required.
85 Skins.
86 Pack or swarm.
87 Celestial being.
90 Dock.
91 Allow for temporary use.
92 Famous leaning tower.
94 American humorist.
96 Disks used in games.
98 Exercise.

Solution of Last Week's Puzzle.

:-: Culbertson on Contract :-:

PENALTIES IN CONTRACT BRIDGE.

BY ELY CULBERTSON.

World's Champion Player and Greatest Card Analyst.

PENALTIES for violations of the laws in contract bride are supposed to be commensurate with the offense—that is, small violations are supposed to be punished by small penalties and large violations by large penalties. In actual practice, however, it is not at all infrequent for an offender, far from suffering for his offense, to gain quite an advantage by it. When this happens it is usually because the opportunity offered the other side confuses rather than aids them.

The following incident is a case in point. It occurred in a recent sectional tournament, and I have yet to see anything more extraordinary. Eventually the violator came out badly, but for a long time he was trembling on the brink of an admirable result.

The West player held the following cards:

Spades	A 10 2
Hearts	A Q J 8 6 3
Diamonds	8 7 5 2
Clubs	—

The bidding was opened on his right with a diamond, which he quite naturally overcalled with a heart. North passed and East bid one no-trump. So far everything was normal. South's next bid started the trouble—he called a spade.

Without an instant's hesitation North leaned across the table and said: "That's an insufficient bid, partner; you mean two spades, don't you?"

The South player answered: "Yes, I mean two spades."

West immediately began licking his chops. He started out by barring North from the bidding for one round, which was agreed to by his North and South opponents. South then claimed the right to make his bid of one spade sufficient. West maintained that the bid had already been made sufficient by his correction to two spades. An argument ensued and the tournament director was called over.

Of course, West was perfectly in the right—South had no right to change his bid. But the tournament director, who apparently was not familiar with this particular situation, ruled against him and South was allowed to bid again. After some hesitation he came out with a bid of five clubs. By this time poor West was completely baffled and was extremely sorry that he had ever brought up the point about penalties. Not knowing what else to do, he passed, and North, being barred, also passed. East now looked very bewildered and finally doubled; South and West both passed and now North turned to the referee, who was still hovering about, and said: "I can bid now, can't I?"

South answered the question for him. "No, you are barred," he stated.

At this point West decided that something extremely fancy was going on and so entered the conversation. "Only for one round," he said; "you can bid anything you want now."

North quickly bid five diamonds, which East doubled with more show of confidence than he had yet displayed. South, in disgust, bid six clubs, and this time West doubled. Apparently things were too much for poor North at this point; he came out with a bid of six spades. This was doubled, South went to seven clubs, and the bidding closed after a double by West.

Much to the amazement of both East and West, South now proceeded to go down only one trick—in other words, taking six-odd. Silence reigned around the table for quite a while, South apparently having decided that his partner was much too stupid even to talk to. The complete hand was as follows:

South, Dealer.
Both sides vulnerable.

	♠ Q J 9 7 6 3 ♡ K 7 5 ◇ A 4 3 ♣ 3
♠ A 10 2 ♡ A Q J 8 6 3 ◇ 8 7 5 2 ♣ —	N W E S	♠ K 8 5 4 ♡ 10 9 ◇ Q J 10 9 6 ♣ J 8
	♠ — ♡ 4 2 ◇ K ♣ A K Q 10 9 7 6 5 4 2

Whether or not South made the insufficient bid of one spade on purpose no one will ever know. One thing was quite clear, however, and that was that North was in no way in cahoots with his partner. At any rate, it is certainly rather extraordinary to double a bid of five clubs and eventually have the opponents play the same hand at seven clubs and go down only one trick.

* * * *

The coup is a play which, contrary to general belief, is not at all infrequent. The necessity for shortening one's trumps to the level of an opponent's occurs time and time again even though the feature of trumping good cards in the process may not be involved.

A backward coup, however, is an extremely rare play, and when it occurs it is not often recognized. The following hand, which was played in a rubber game recently by Alphonse Moyse Jr., of New York, is a splendid example of that rare play. Mr. Moyse sat South.

South, Dealer.
Neither side vulnerable.

	♠ A 6 5 ♡ A J ◇ 6 4 ♣ A K 8 6 5 3
♠ J 8 7 3 ♡ 2 ◇ J 10 5 ♣ J 10 9 7 4	N W E S	♠ — ♡ K Q 10 8 7 6 5 ◇ Q 9 8 7 2 ♣ Q
	♠ K Q 10 9 4 2 ♡ 9 4 3 ◇ A K 3 ♣ 2

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1♠	Pass	3♣	3♡
3♠	Pass	5♠	Pass
6♠	Pass	Pass	Pass

The bidding does not call for much comment. After South's free rebid of three spades North was certainly justified in trying for a slam. The artificial five no-trump bid to show three aces and the king of a bid suit was available but North feared that this might drive the contract into a grand slam, which did not seem desirable. He therefore preferred the milder invitation of five spades, which, of course, was accepted by South.

The play was extremely interesting. The deuce of hearts was opened and the ace played from dummy. Mr. Moyse then led a low spade from the dummy, and, when East showed out, played the queen from his hand. On the face of it the hand looked quite difficult at this point, but one line of play presented itself which seemed to offer a fair chance of success. To trick 3 the low club was led and taken with the king in dummy. The ace was then cashed, upon which a heart was discarded, and a third round of clubs was led and ruffed. Three rounds of diamonds followed, the third being trumped in dummy. A ruff of another club in the closed hand now brought declarer's trumps down to three. The next play was the 9 of hearts, and West found himself "on the spot." If he discarded a club East would be forced to win and South would ruff the next lead with the 9 of spades, thereby catching the knave between two fires; if he ruffed and led either a trump or the club, declarer would still be able to make the 10 of spades in his own hand.

This hand could only have been made by playing for every break. It is obvious that finessing the spade at trick 3 will not permit the contract to be made.

(Copyright, 1933, for The Constitution.)

FREE CULBERTSON BOOKLET.

By special arrangement, readers of this newspaper may have a free copy of "The Rules and Ethics of Bridge," by Ely Culbertson. Address Mr. Culbertson in care of The Atlanta Constitution, inclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

He Hates WhiskeyNow

By John's Wife

I'm the happiest little woman
In all this little town;
And my merry laugh and singing
Tell's the place of sigh and frown.
For JOHN HAS QUIT HIS DRINKING
And is like himself once more,
And the world is just a paradise
With such happiness in store!

One day I read some verses—
Mary's Miracle," the name,
And I said, that's John exactly,
And I'll send and get the same.
So I sent for GOLDEN TREATMENT
(As sly as sly could be)
And I put it in John's supper
And I put it in his tea.
And it didn't taste a little bit;
Had no odor, so, you see
It was smoothest kind of sailing
For little Doctor Me.
And I watched and prayed and waited,
(And cried some, too, I guess),
And I didn't have the greatest faith,
I'm ashamed now to confess.
And John never thought a minute
He was being cured of drink,
And soon he's as well as any one,
It makes me cry to think!
Just makes me cry for gladness,
I'm so proud to be his wife—
Since he is cured of drinking,
And leads a nice, new life.
"Since John he quit a-drinking!"
I can't say it times enough!
And hates and loathes a liquor
As he would a poison stuff
And when I say my prayers at night
As thankful as can be—
I pray for John the most of all—
Then GOLDEN TREATMENT.

Home Treatment for Drunkards

Odorless and Tasteless When Used as Directed —Any Lady Can Give It Secretly at Home in Tea, Coffee or Food

Costs Nothing to Try

If you have a husband, son, brother, father or friend who is a victim of liquor, send your name and address on the coupon below. It has helped many and should be just the thing you want. You may be thankful as long as you live that you did it.

Free Treatment Coupon

Fill in your name and address on blank lines below. Then cut out this coupon and mail it to Dr. J. W. Haines Co., 289 Glenn Bldg., Cincinnati, Ohio. You will receive a package of the Golden Treatment as described above in a plain, sealed wrapper, absolutely FREE.

Name .....
St., Address ..... or R. F. D. .....
City ..... State .....

Free For Asthma and Hay Fever

If you suffer with attacks of Asthma so terrible you choke and gasp for breath, if Hay Fever keeps you sneezing and snuffling while your eyes water and nose discharges continuously, don't fail to send at once to the Frontier Asthma Co. for a free trial of a remarkable method. No matter where you live or whether you have any faith in any remedy under the Sun, send for this free trial. If you have suffered for a life-time and tried everything you could learn of without relief; even if you are utterly discouraged, do not abandon hope but send today for this free trial. It will cost you nothing. Address Frontier Asthma Co., 320-S Frontier Bldg., 462 Niagara St., Buffalo, N. Y.—(adv.)

AUNT HET

By ROBERT QUILLEN.

"AMY'S girl Helen reminds me o' my cousin Zeb. Ever'time we had a revival, Zeb he'd get all full o' zeal an' long to do somethin' big for the Lord like sacrificin' himself to save the heathen, but he couldn't take no interest in little things like sendin' some poor neighbor a sack o' flour.

"Helen is goin' to be a fine woman an' astonish folks with her tact an' charm just as soon as she gets to some big town where it's worth while, but in the meantime she can't waste her talents in a little place like this. An' she don't see no sense in strainin' herself at home because home folks wouldn't appreciate her if she did.

"Well, I've seen a lot o' folks like her an' I never seen one that done much except with their mouths.

"A fiddler don't get to be a wonder by waitin' for a bigger audience, an' you can't trust a carpenter to put up a mansion if he can't build a good hen house.

"If a girl is goin' to be a great woman, you notice it when she ain't got nothin' to practice on but her own family.

"I know it takes a big job to show up a big man, but his bigness don't hatch out all at once. An' what's more, you can't change what's inside a bantam egg by settin' it under a turkey."

(Copyright, 1933, for The Constitution.)

HIGH BLOOD PRESSURE

Quick Relief, or You Only Pay When Satisfied.

If you suffer from High Blood pressure, dizziness, ringing in the ears, can't sleep at nights, feel weak and shaky, bad taste, nervous. If your heart pounds and you fear a paralytic stroke, to demonstrate the value of Dr. Hayes' successful prescription we will send you postpaid, a regular $1 treatment on absolutely FREE TRIAL. While it is non-specific, many cases report remarkably quick relief, often symptoms diminish and quiet normal sleep returns within 3 days. Contains no salts, physics, opiates or dope. Absolutely harmless. You can continue with treatment you are taking. It cannot conflict. Perfectly safe with any diet. PAY NOTHING UNLESS GREATLY IMPROVED. Then send $1. If not your report cancels the charge. Write to Dr. Hayes Assn., 1632 Coates House, Kansas City, Mo.—(adv.)

THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION

EVENINGS IN COTTON

Puffs, Ruffles and Fanciful Sleeves Adorn New Frocks In Delictae Pique, Dotted Swiss and Printed Organdies

BLACK AND WHITE

COOL white organdie, tailored in line, is used for the dainty frock sketched above. The girdle and huge bow are of black cire ribbon. A distinctive Rodier cotton, makes the glamorous yellow dress with a faint green print. Huge ruffles cover the shoulders and the daring back decollete reaches to the waistline

RED COTTON NET

THE crisp tailored dance frock, sketched above, is accented by cool white pique flowers and a black velvet belt. The tiny revers collar and puffed sleeves are interesting details. The lady seated wears a lovely white organdie frock revealing an appliqued flower pattern, deep square neckline and huge puffed sleeves. Dotted swiss in brown and white makes another charming frock, with white organdie sleeves and girdle. The white pique frock at the right has a deep back decollete, a three-quarter jacket and puffed sleeves attached with cartridge pleats.

FLUFFY RUFFLES

VERY Summery and chic is this chiffon frock with its fish scale pattern in black on white. The red girdle repeats the same pattern. Its wide boat neckline ends in frills over each shoulder and the skirt has three ruffles and fullness at the back.

CHARMING GOWNS

THIS white organdie model has a bodice made entirely of ruffles with piped edges. The line of the blouse is surplice and is accented at the V by a nosegay of cornflowers. A high, draped neckline is an interesting detail on the green dotted swiss frock sketched in the background. The decollete at the back is extremely low. Here again pleated ruffles are used to form details. The white organdie jacket (at the extreme upper right) has puffed sleeves and a pleated ruffle for a border. It is worn over a simple frock of red organdie girdled in red and white grosgrain.

COTTON evening gowns made a welcome appearance last season and they have arrived for a return engagement this Summer.

And how we welcome this good news! Cottons are economical cottons have beauty and we have never had so many interesting ones as now.

Printed cottons showing rainbow stripes, gaudy checks and brilliantly tinted flowers—in fact, we gaze in astonishment at the vast assortment of patterns and weaves that cotton comes in this season.

You will find that the cotton family has become very stylish—there are imitations of wool, lace, and matelasse that defy the eye, but still retain their own character. Wherever the new cottons go they hold their own distinction.

Especially popular for evening wear is pique, particularly when it is combined with velvet—the pique used for a very plain frock with a very dashing velvet jacket in either black or a bright high color. Nothing equals dotted swiss for youthfulness. One dotted swiss frock has tiny balloon sleeves and a wide sash; another has rows of ruffles on a sinuous train. Organdies printed and plain, are exquisite.

With just one or two cotton evening frocks your Summer formal wardrobe is complete—dip them in the washtub and you can keep fresh and clean all season!

SUMMER IN TOWN

Next Sunday's Fashion Page tells how to keep looking fresh and crisp when the sidewalks are fairly melting under one's feet.

GRAVURE PICTORIAL SECTION

THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION

SUNDAY, JULY 16, 1933

PLANES OF THE 49TH BOMBARDMENT SQUADRON, U. S. A., from Langley Field, Va., soaring over downtown Atlanta before the recnt Georgia Hall benefit air show at Candler field. (Kenneth Rogers)

MAE HAIZLIP, of St. Louis, speed record of 252 miles an h of Long Beach, wishing each o national air races in Los Angel

MAKING AIR HISTORY AT CANDLER FIELD—Frank Hawks, internationally famous speed flyer, arriving at Candler field at the finish of the first trans-continental non-stop flight from Los Angeles to Atlanta. He made the 2,100-mile hop in 11 hours and 45 minutes. (Kenneth Rogers)

LAGRANGE POST OF THE AMERICAN LEGION received the Dunlap trophy for outstanding achievement, the Moore cup for community service, and the silver bugle trophy for finest drum and bugle corp at the recent convention in Valdosta. Four leaders of Legion activities in the state, all members of this post, are shown with the trophies. Left to right: Loyd Bradfield, corp major; Frank Winn, post commander; G. L. Cahall, fourth district commander, and O. C. Holleran, state vice commander-elect. (Jenkins)

A PART OF THE HUGE CROWD that attended the spectacular air show given at Candler field (Kennetn Rogers)

LIEUTENANT W. VAN BROWN, air corps, U. S. A., who graduated recently at Kelly Field, Texas. He is the son of H. W. Brown, of Atlanta, and a graduate of Georgia Tech.

PROMINENT YOUNG ATLANTANS on the beach at Sea Island. Miss Annette Hightower, Miss Beverly Bailey and Miss Marianna Adair.

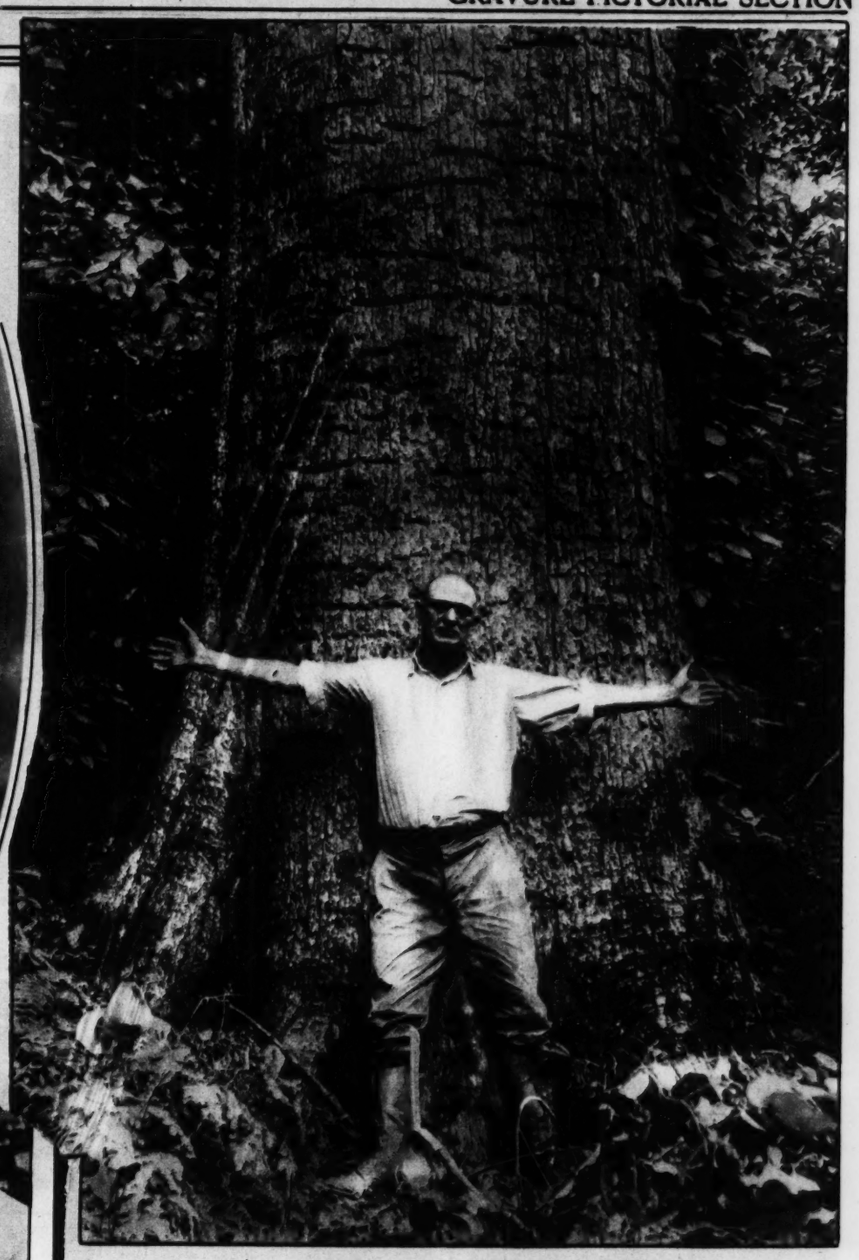

CHILDREN, WIFE AND SWEETHEART LIVING UNDER SAME ROOF—Mrs. Linda Beegle (center), her divorced husband, their two children, and her husband's acknowledged sweetheart, all live in the same house in Milwaukee.

WIDOW OF ENRICO CARUSO WEDS—Mrs. Dorothy Benjamin Caruso-Ingram-Holder, widow of the world-famous tenor, with her new husband, Dr. C. A. Holder, after their marriage in Paris.

(Right) NEW CONGRESSMAN—Honorable Paul Brown, of Elberton, and Mrs. Brown, pictured just after it became known that Mr. Brown had been successful in his race for congress. He was elected to serve the unexpired term of the late Charles H. Brand, of Athens. Above is a view of the Brown residence in Elberton. (Turner Hiers)

MOST PERFECT BACE—Judith Allen, selected as having the most perfect back in a contest in which 100 beautiful girls took part in Los Angeles.

THIS GIANT OF NORTH GEORGIA FORESTS is a tulip-poplar. It is on the 50,000-acre preserve of Lindsey Hopkins, near Ellijay. Ed Pinson, forester for Mr. Hopkins, is giving an idea of the comparaive size of the tree. (J. T. Hollaway.)

of St. Louis, left, holder of the women's 252 miles an hour, and Gladys O'Donnell, wishing each other the best of luck at the es in Los Angeles.

'FIRST LADY' SAYS 'BON VOYAGE' TO SON—Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr., son of the president, with his mother, just before F. D. Jr. sailed for a tour of Europe.

BEING A CABINET MEMBER IS NO FUN during the blistering summer months in Washington, according to Secretary of the Interior Harold L. Ickes. Here he is with his coat and tie off, working on the industrial recovery public works projects.

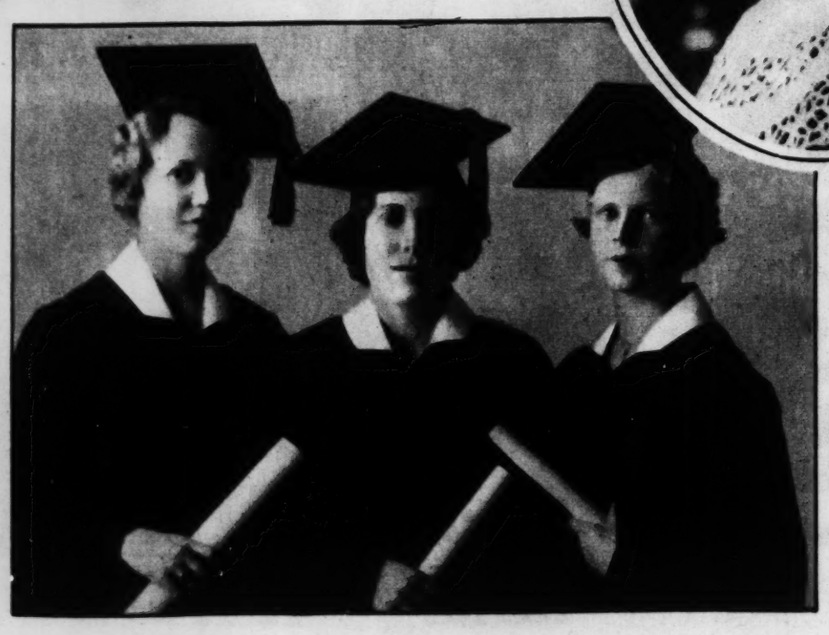

SOMETHING DIFFERENT IN BATHING SUITS—An innovation in bathing suits for milady which attracted much attention at a bathing costume parade in Paris, France.

LAST PHOTO OF MARY AND DOUG MADE TOGETHER—Douglas Fairbanks and Mary Pickford, just before their separation. "Incompatibility" is the word given as the reason for the rift between the two, who had been looked upon as Hollywood's ideal married couple.

THE ONLY THREE SISTERS ever to be graduated in the same class from the University of Georgia are Misses Pauline, Ruby and Eddie Mae Burson, daughters of Paul Burson, of Monroe. Mr. Burson is a member of the board of regents of the university system. The girls received their degrees this year.

MADGE EVANS in "The Mayor of Hell" at the Georgia.

ONE OF THE STRIKING DANCE EFFECTS from the "Golddiggers of 1933," the spectacular musical comedy-movie now at the Paramount.

MISS NATALIE CAROLINE MAGGIONI, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph O. Maggioni, of Savannah, Ga., was graduated recently cum laude with an A. B. degree from Trinity College, Washington, D. C. Miss Maggioni spent last year at the Sarbonne, Paris, France, where she was awarded a diploma.

THESE YOUNG LADIES just couldn't resist the cooling waters of the creek during Rockmart's July 4 celebration. However, they didn't expect a cameraman to be on the scene! They are: Misses Lucile Simpson, Bobby Everett, Virginia Simpson, Ruth Nichols, Emily Everett, Hilda Simpson, Emily Simpson, Lydia Reeves. (J. T. Holloway.)

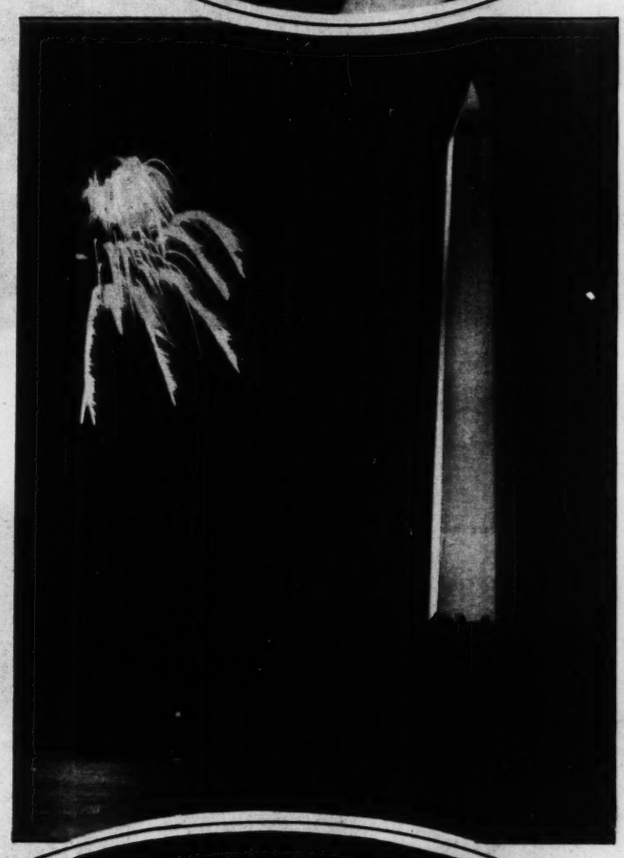

ONCE PRESIDENT COOLIDGE'S PET—Several years ago this lion was given to the late Calvin Coolidge, then president, as a present from a South African admirer. He was a cute little cub then. He is a very dangerous beast now and lives in the Washington zoo.

WORK ON VAST WASHINGTON CATHEDRAL HALTS—The magnificent cathedral in process of construction at St. Albans, cannot be finished until more funds have been raised. Ten million dollars is needed to complete it.

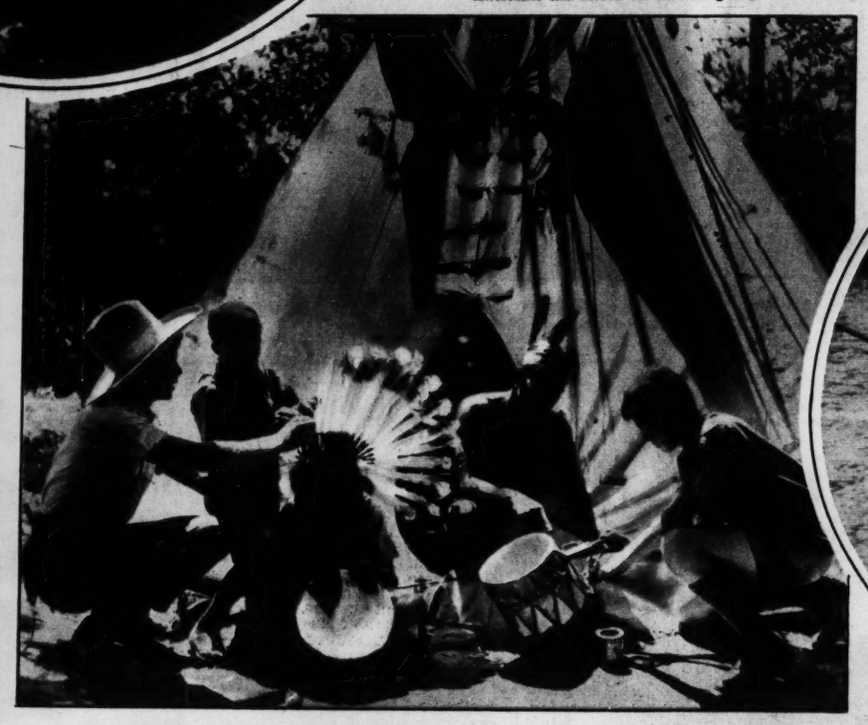

MAE HAIZLIP, of St. Louis, left, holder of the women's speed record of 252 miles an hour, and Gladys O'Donnell, of Long Beach, wishing each other the best of luck at the national air races in Los Angeles.

FOURTH OF JULY CELEBRATION IN WASHINGTON—The Washington monument is a fitting background for the gay fireworks which illumined the nation's capital, the night of the Fourth.

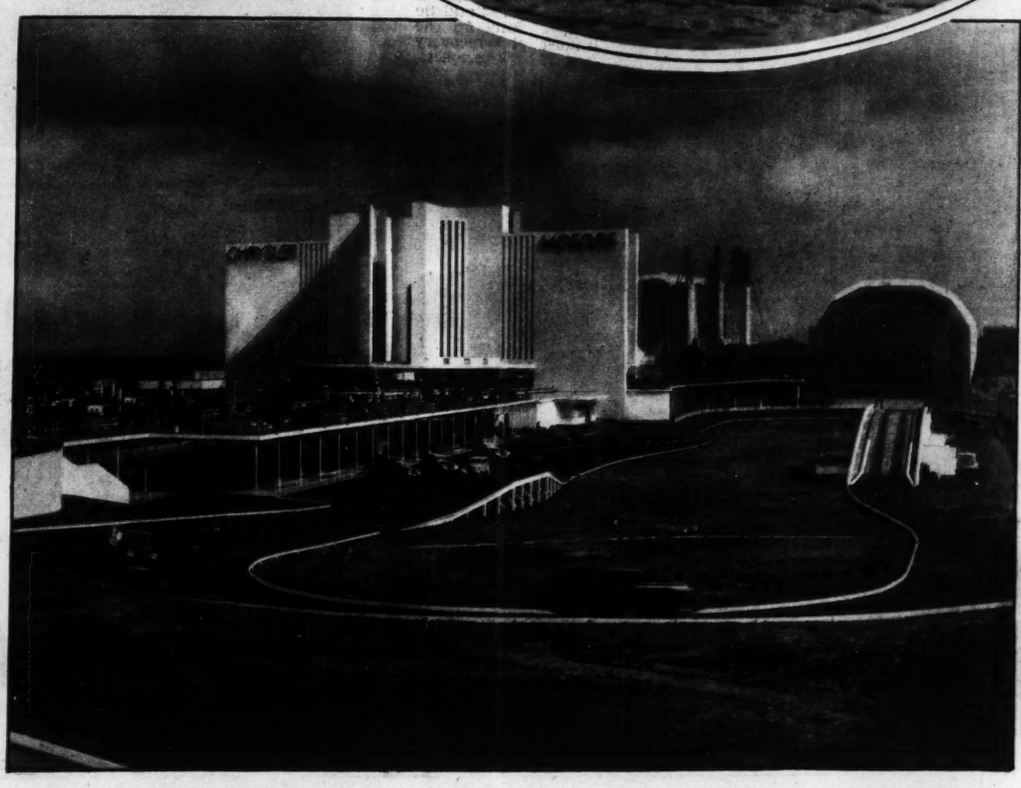

FRANK RENTZ, of Madison, Wis., was born without pupils in his eyes. Twenty-four years ago an operation was performed and the pupils of an animal's eyes were grafted on his eyes. Since that time Frank's eyesight is improving daily, until now he has but to wear extremely thin glasses. He recently graduated in law.

AROUND THIS TEPEE, at the Bert Adams Boy Scout camp near Vinings, are, from left to right: Marvin Brooke, Thomas Layton, James Arthur Fuller, Cochee Che, Indian instructor, and Robert McDuffie. They are receiving instructions in making war bonnets and painting tomtoms.

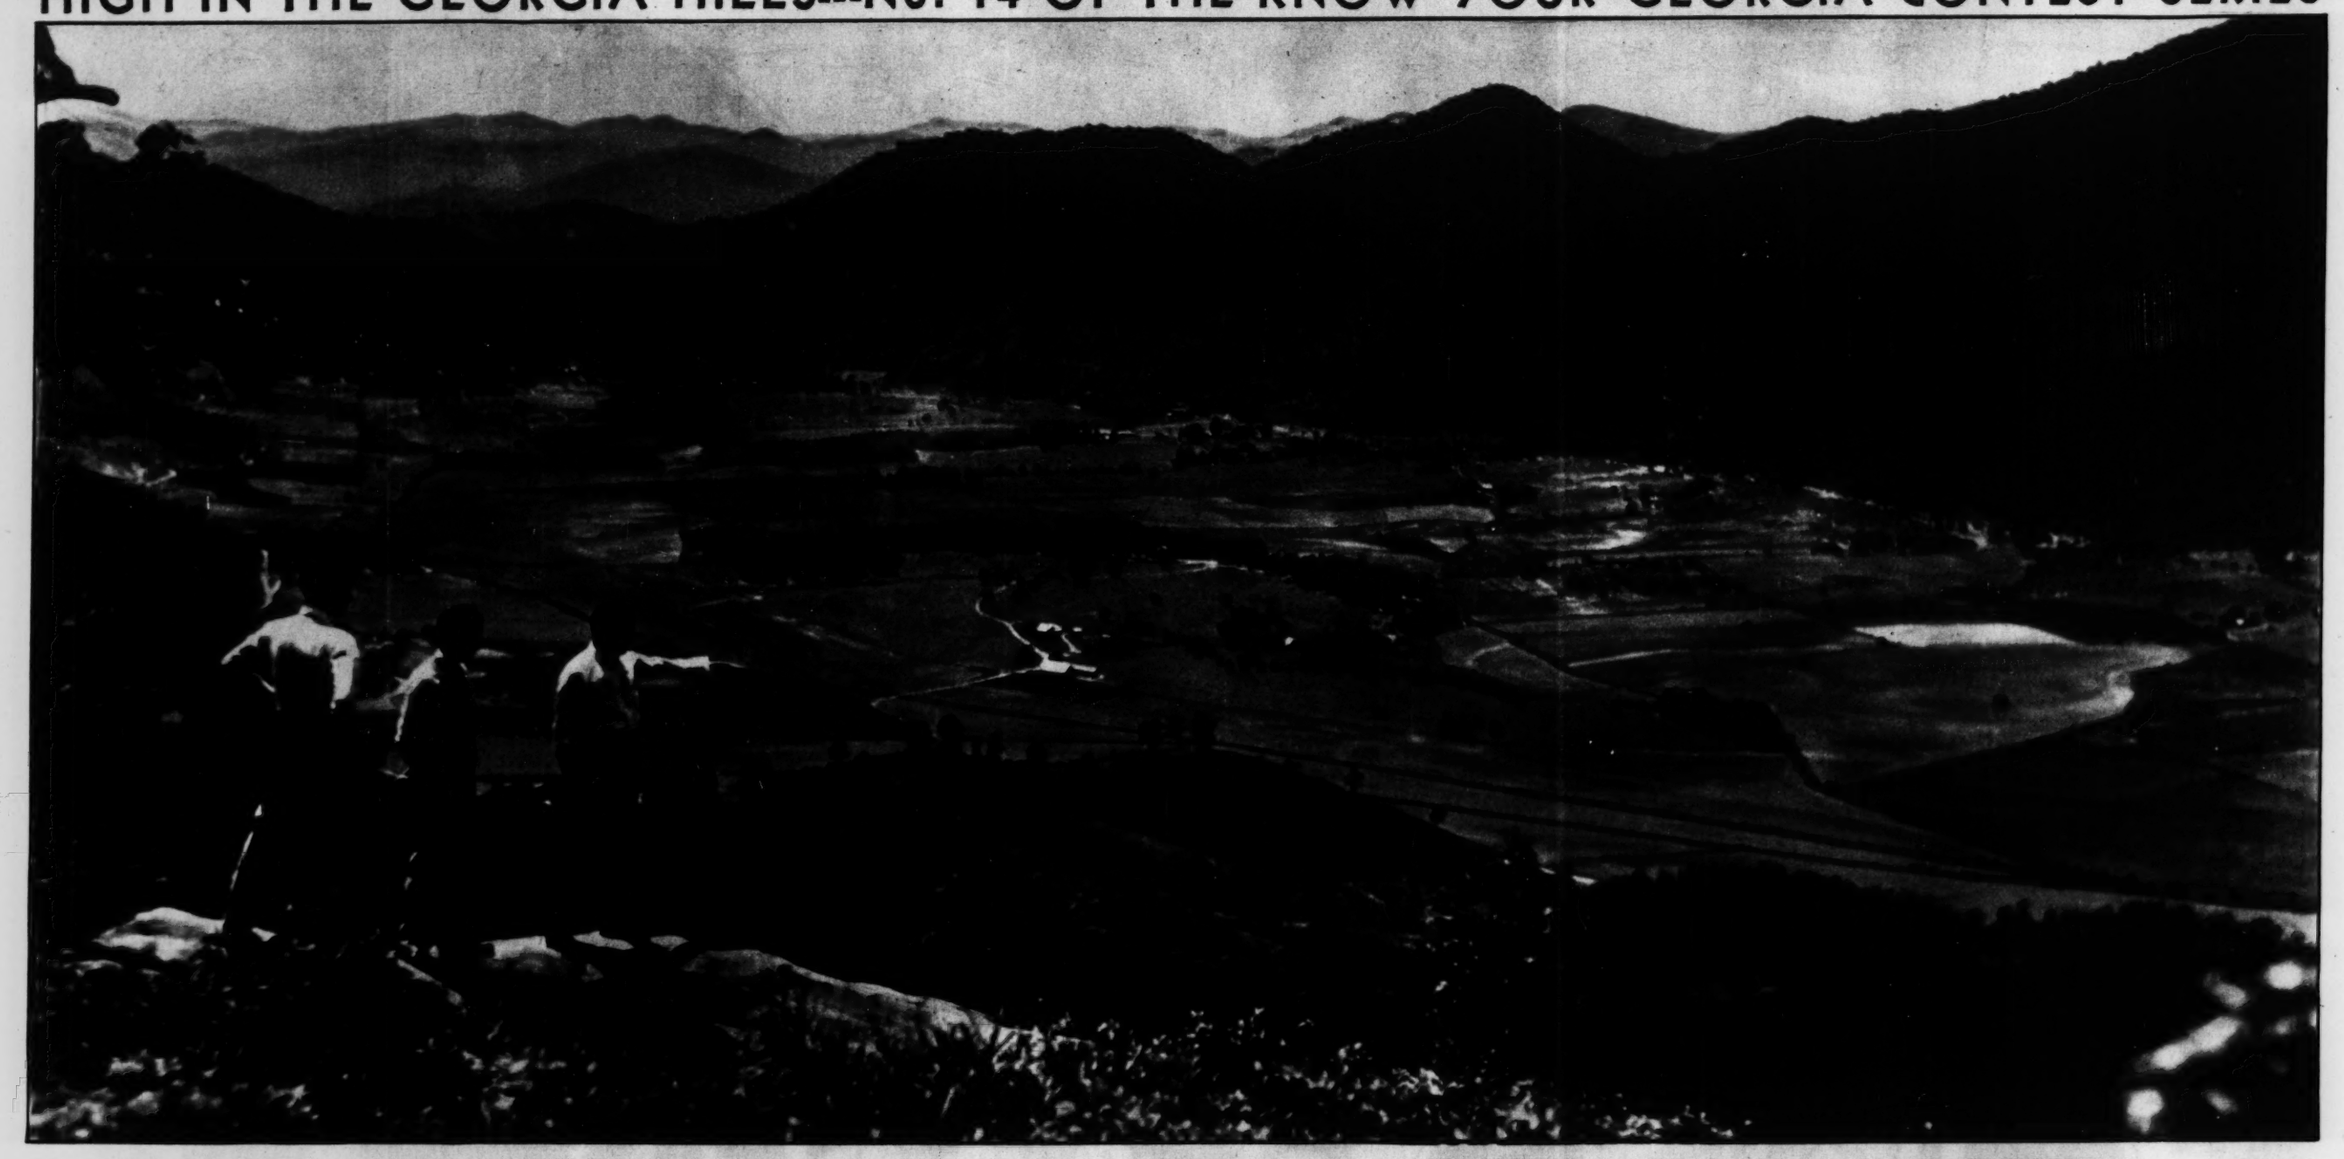

THESE YOUNGSTERS, spending their vacations at the Bert Adams Boy Scout camp near Vinings, take their canoe-tilting contests seriously. On the water are Carroll McGaughey, Henry Mohns, Woodrow Fuller, Dick Hoyle and Stuart Oglesby (George Cornett)

THE PURE OIL COMPANY'S EXHIBIT at Century of Progress Exposition contains this large relief map of the United States showing the company oil fields, refineries, water and rail transportation, etc.

THIS REMARKABLE EXHIBIT at the Chicago World's Fair is attracting thousands of visitors daily. It is the Chrysler Motor Company display. The "proving ground" where cars are put through severe tests may be seen in the foreground.

HIGH IN THE GEORGIA HILLS---No. 14 OF THE KNOW YOUR GEORGIA CONTEST SERIES

LOOKING DOWN ON THE LITTLE TENNESSEE RIVER VALLEY in northeast Georgia, from Lookoff mountain, affords one of the state's most magnificent views. B. C. Robertson, of Clayton, is pointing to Mountain City, which lies at the foot of Lookoff. (Kenneth Rogers)

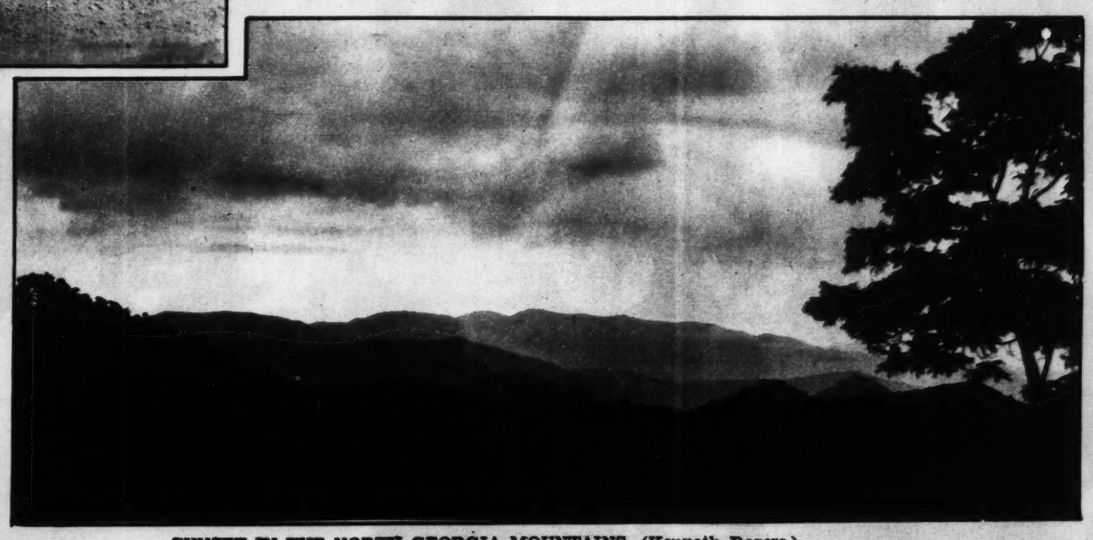

THE CONSTITUTION ROVING PONTIAC on the scenic highway between Dillard, Ga., and Highlands, N. C. (Kenneth Rogers)

LIKE A PAINTING is this striking photograph of one of the beautiful views near Mountain City, Ga. The ladies are Misses Rosemary Edmundson and Lydia Smith. (Kenneth Rogers)

PICTURESQUE CABINS of this type are the homes of the pure-blooded Anglo-Saxon mountaineers who inhabit the remote sections of northeast Georgia. (Kenneth Rogers)

SUNSET IN THE NORTH GEORGIA MOUNTAINS. (Kenneth Rogers.)

SHUN gives longer protection from perspiration odors for the skin absorbs it immediately. Won't stain or spoil frocks.

25¢ and 50¢

THE PERSONAL DEODORANT

NILS ASTHER AND KAY FRANCIS in "Storm at Daybreak," at the Grand.

1933 GRADUATING CLASS OF THE MARSH BUSINESS COLLEGE.

GEORGIA MARBLE

The tablet is one of the oldest and best proportioned memorial designs. Simple and graceful, time has proven its good taste. Whatever style of monument appeals to you, you will find beautiful suggestions of that type illustrated and its symbolism explained in the booklet, "Personality in Memorials," which will be sent you upon request.

GEORGIA MARBLE COMPANY
TATE, GEORGIA
Please send me without obligation "Personality in Memorials"
Name
Street
City State
—J-31

EIGHT PAGES OF WORLD'S GREATEST COMICS

1st COMIC SECTION

THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION

1st COMIC SECTION

ATLANTA, GA., SUNDAY, JULY 16, 1933.

THE GUMPS

HANG ON, CHESTER!

NOT A SECOND TO SPARE— THERE IS DEATH IN THE EAGLE'S EYES— AND DEATH IN THE SWIRLING WATERS BELOW— —BB—

SIDNEY SMITH

HELP!

JUST AS CHESTER IS TORN LOOSE FROM HIS PERCH— A ROPE WHIPS THROUGH THE AIR AND CIRCLES HIS HEAD.

KEEP YOUR HEAD UP— DON'T LET GO!

ROBBED OF HIS PREY THE EAGLE SCREAMS IN RAGE—

COME ON—QUICK! WE HAVEN'T A SECOND TO LOSE— I JUST SAW RED RIGGLES AND HIS GANG RIDE OFF FROM THEIR CAMP— SO I SNEAKED IN AND GRABBED THIS LASSO—

AND IT'S A LUCKY THING YOU GOT THAT ROPE OR I WOULD HAVE BEEN A GONER SURE—

THEY HAVE A GOOD WARM FIRE— WE CAN DRY OUR CLOTHES— WE'RE BOTH SOAKED TO THE SKIN— AND HUNGRY— I COULD EAT A WHOLE COW— HIDE AND ALL— WE'LL HAVE TO GET SOME FOOD—

WAIT TILL I PUT ON A LITTLE MORE WOOD— AND WE'LL HAVE THAT COFFEE BOILING IN A MINUTE— AND GET THAT SKILLET— I SEE SOME BACON OVER THERE—

BEANS! THERE'S A WHOLE CAN OF 'EM—

GEE— DID WE HAVE THE NARROW ESCAPES— I DIDN'T THINK YOU'D EVER GET OVER THOSE RAPIDS ALIVE—

FORGET ALL ABOUT THAT NOW— WHAT WE HAVE TO DO IS TO WATCH SO THEY DON'T CATCH US AGAIN— NOW THE MAIN THING IS TO FIND OUT WHERE THAT TREASURE IS HIDDEN— THEY'VE BURIED IT SOMEWHERE AROUND HERE— AND IT'S UP TO US TO FIND THE HIDING PLACE—

IT'S GETTING DARK— AND THEY'LL BE BACK SOON— WHEN NIGHT COMES WE'LL SNEAK UP AND LISTEN TO WHAT THEY SAY— THEY MIGHT TALK ABOUT WHERE THE TREASURE IS HIDDEN—

WELL— HERE'S THE CHART I'VE MADE— SHOWING JUST WHERE THE TREASURE IS BURIED— AND NO ONE CAN EVER FIND IT WITHOUT THIS MAP—

SH— NOT A SOUND— OR WE'RE GONE—

JUST AS THE BOYS EXPECTED— RED RIGGLES AND HIS GANG HAVE RETURNED— WHAT IS THAT HE HAS IN HIS HAND— A CHART!

NOW I'M GOING TO CUT THIS MAP UP LIKE A JIG-SAW PUZZLE— THERE ARE FOUR OF US AND WE'LL EACH TAKE A SHARE OF THE PIECES— THEN IN CASE WE'RE SEPARATED OR CAPTURED, NO ONE OF US CAN EVER DIG UP THE TREASURE WITHOUT THE OTHERS—

THAT'S THE IDEA— WE'LL ALL HAVE TO BE TOGETHER AND SHARE ALIKE—

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.: Copyright, 1933.

A CRAFTY SCHEME—

OLD RED RIGGLES IS TAKING NO CHANCES ON HAVING ANYONE OF HIS BAND DOUBLE-CROSS HIM AND MAKE OFF WITH THE TREASURE ALONE— SO HE IS CUTTING THAT CHART UP INTO A DOZEN PIECES AND DIVIDING THEM AMONG HIS MEN— BOY— IF CHESTER AND JERRY COULD ONLY GET THEIR HANDS ON THE MAP NOW— THEIR FORTUNE WOULD BE MADE!

OLD DOC YAK

OH, THE DEEP SEA— THE BLUE SEA— THE WONDERFUL ROLLING SEA—

WHAT ARE THE WILD WAVES SAYING?

SPLASH!

THAT'S FUN!

SIDNEY SMITH

GET THE HABIT OF WISE-BUYING—READ THE ADVERTISEMENTS OF ATLANTA'S LEADING STORES IN THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION.

Winnie Winkle

THE BREADWINNER

BY BRANNER.

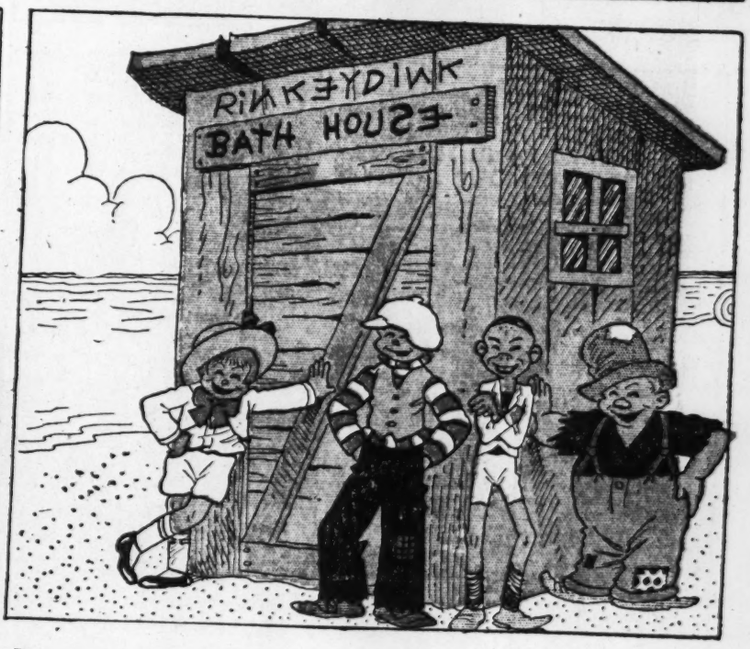

Looie Blooie

ATTORNEY AT LAW

TO BALANCE THE BUDGET—SAVE MONEY BY READING THE ADVERTISEMENTS APPEARING IN THE CONSTITUTION—EVERY DAY AND SUNDAY, TOO.

EIGHT PAGES OF WORLD'S GREATEST COMICS

2nd COMIC SECTION

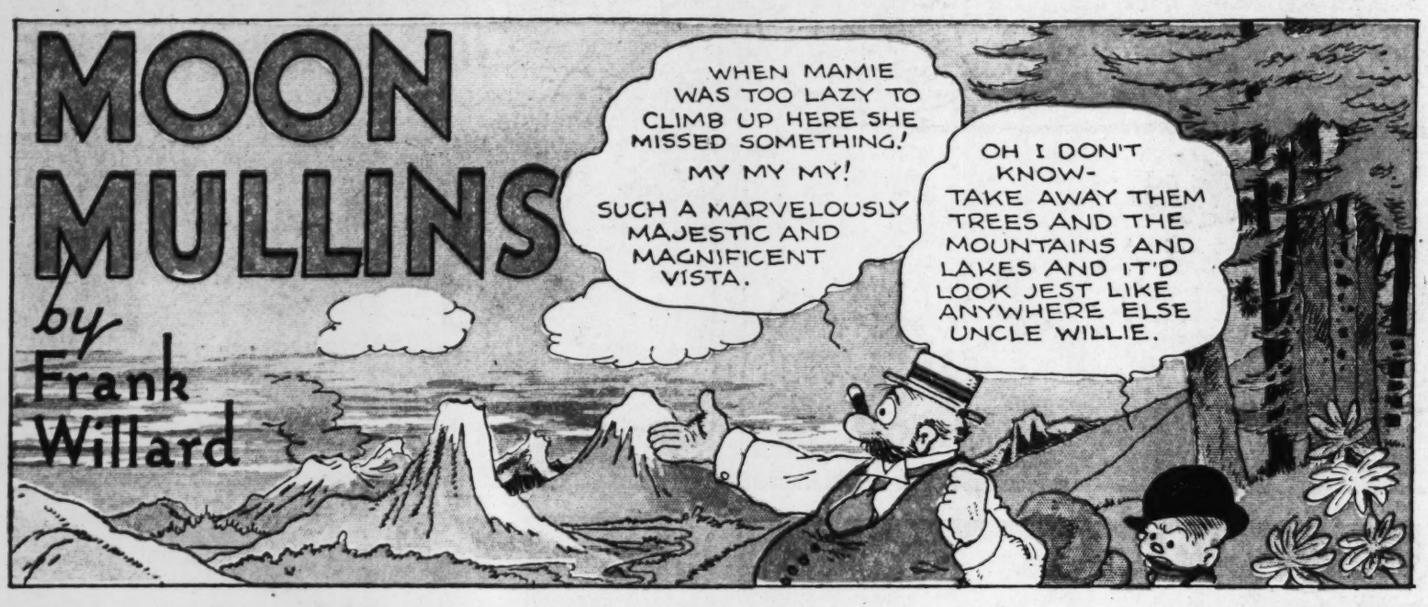

THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION

2nd COMIC SECTION

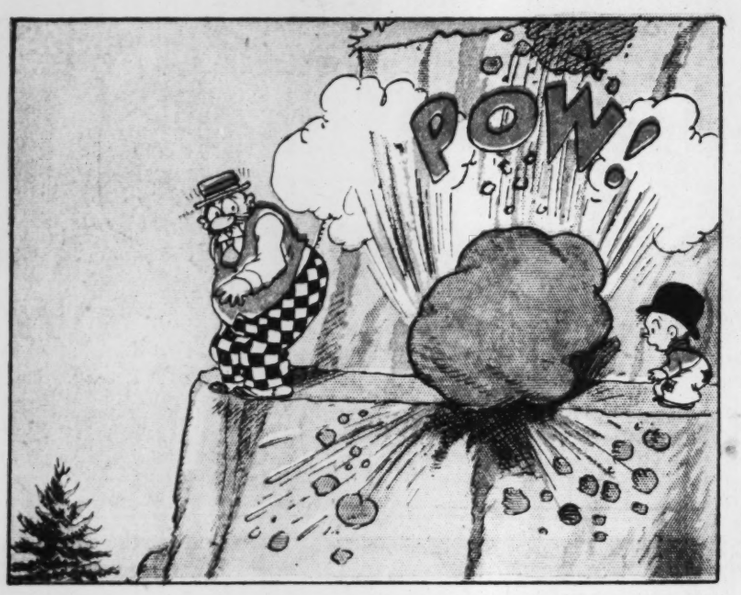

ATLANTA, GA., SUNDAY, JULY 16, 1933.

MOON MULLINS

by Frank Willard

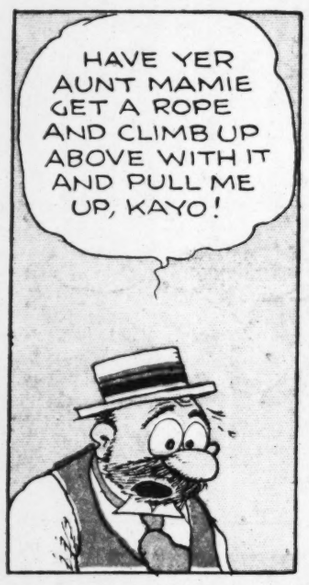

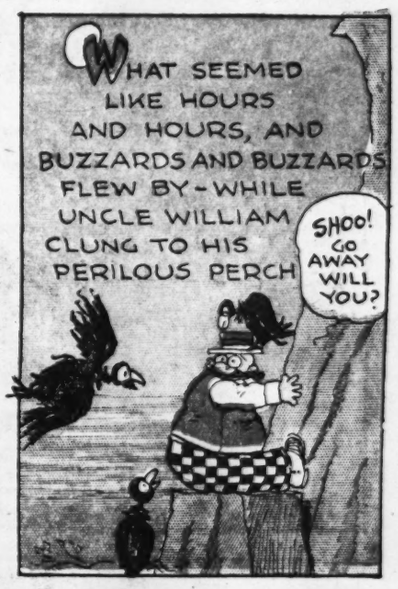

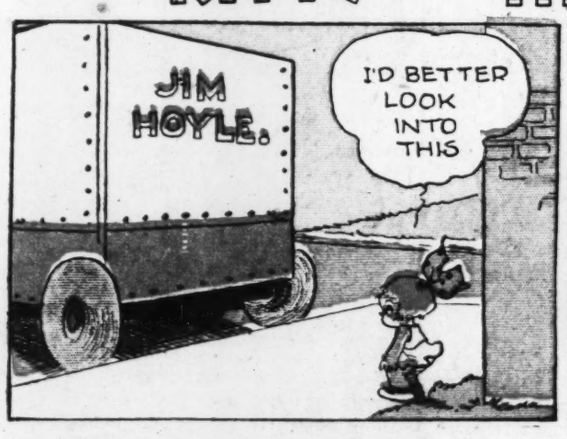

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.; Copyright, 1933,

KITTY HIGGINS

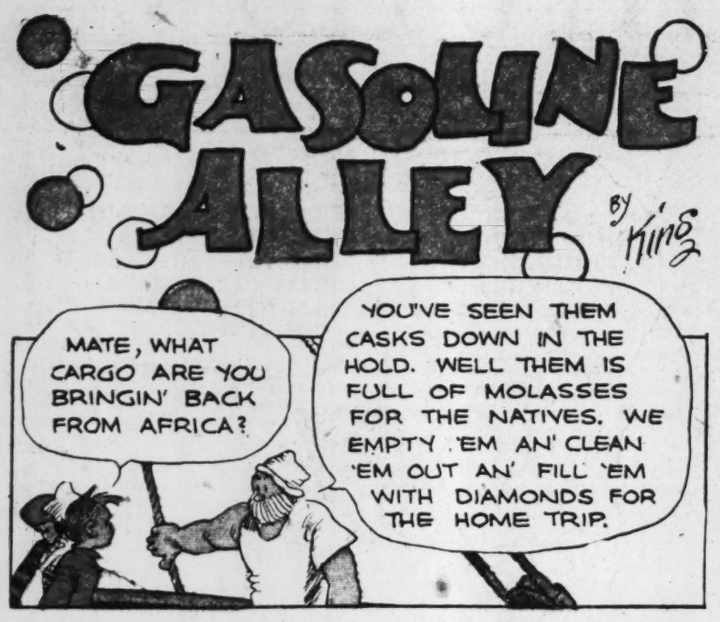

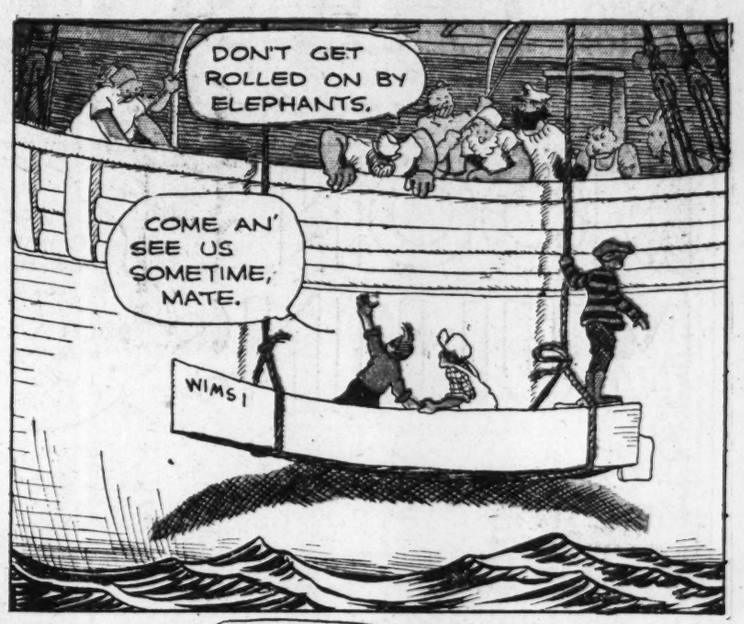

WHEN ATLANTANS WISH TO KNOW OF LOWEST PREVAILING PRICES, THEY INVARIABLY LOOK IN THE ADVERTISING COLUMNS OF THE CONSTITUTION.

GASOLINE ALLEY

By King

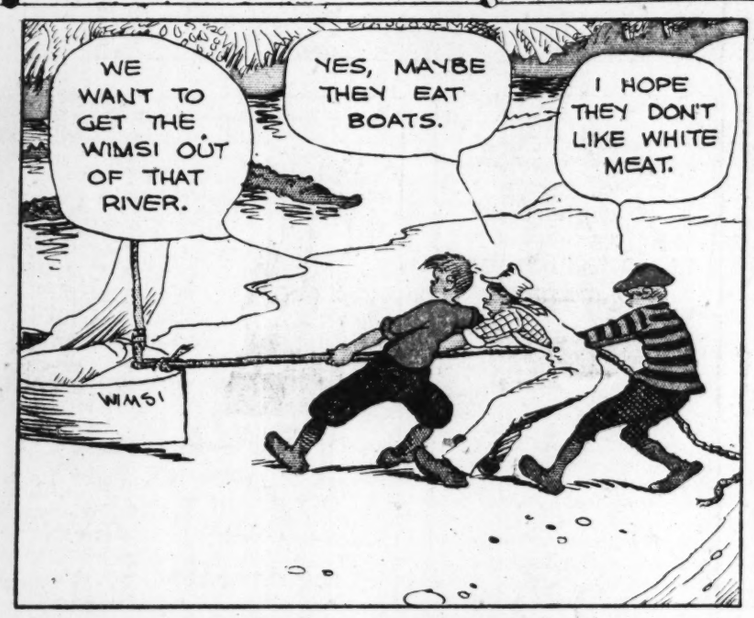

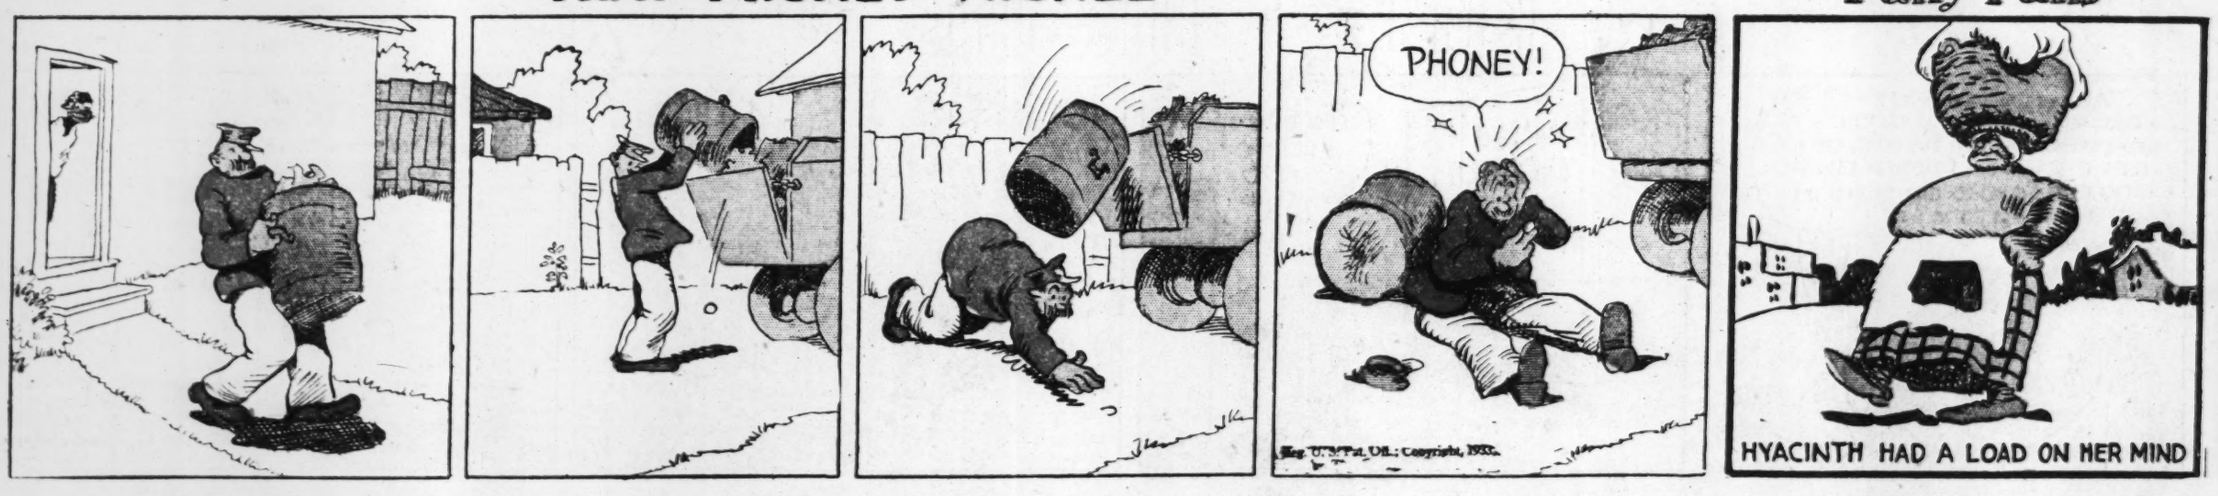

THAT PHONEY NICKEL

Puny Puns

TO KEEP POSTED AS TO THE NEWEST DEVELOPMENT IN "HAPPY KITCHENS" READ "THREE MEALS A DAY" ON THE FOOD PAGES OF THE CONSTITUTION EACH FRIDAY MORNING

Little Orphan Annie

THIS ISN'T SUCH A BAD TOWN- NICE BUSINESS SECTION-

SOME PRETTY FAIR BUILDINGS- CLEAN STREETS- BUT THERE'S NOTHIN' HERE THAT WE WANT- MIGHT AS WELL PUSH ON THROUGH AND SEE WHAT'S ON BEYOND-

LOOKIE, SANDY- THERE'S THAT POOR OLD BLIND FIDDLER, THAT WE SAW YESTERDAY- STILL SAWIN' AWAY ON HIS VIOLIN- FEEL SORRY FOR AN OLD CODGER, LIKE THAT-

THAT'S NO SNAP, STANDIN' THERE, PLAYIN' ALL DAY- AND HE CAN'T MAKE MUCH- NOBODY SEEMS TO PAY A BIT OF ATTENTION TO HIM-

OUR MONEY IS RUNNIN' A LITTLE LOW, SANDY, BUT I GUESS WE CAN SPARE A QUARTER- WE'VE GOT EYES AND WE'RE YOUNG-

GEE- THAT GUY CERTAINLY CAN SCRAPE THAT THING- JUST LISTEN TO THAT- MAKES ME FEEL LIKE BUSTIN' LOOSE AND SINGIN'----- TUM-TUM-- TADD-EAH----TUM--TUM-

I HEAR THOSE GENTLE VOICES CALLIN'-- OLD-- BLACK-- JOE---

GEE- TH' WAY HE PLAYS IT MAKES YOU SORTA ALL CHOKE UP-

WEEP NO MORE MY LA---A--DEE-- OH, WEEP NO MORE TO--DAY---

SAY- THAT KID CAN SING-

HEY, WAIT A MINUTE- LET'S LISTEN TO THIS-

YOU SAID IT-

GREAT!

WHERE TH' RIVER SHANNON'S FLOWING, WHERE THE THREE LEAFED SHAMROCK GROWS--- BOY- THAT CARRIES ME BACK-

WHO IS SHE?

ISN'T SHE A LITTLE DARLING?

THROUGH THE SYCAMORES THE CANDLE LIGHT IS GLEAMING--- ON THE BANKS OF THE WA--BASH-- FAR AWAY--

MY CHILD, YOU HAVE THE VOICE OF AN ANGEL-

GET OUT- I SING LIKE A CROW- IF I COULD ONLY PLAY A FIDDLE, TH' WAY YOU CAN- AND JUST LOOK- YOUR HAT'S PLUMB FULL O' MONEY- WHY, YOU MUST HAVE TAKEN IN OVER TWENTY DOLLARS-

NO-NO- MY CHILD- NOT I- YOU- THEY DO NOT CARE FOR MY POOR SCRAPING- YOUR SINGING IS WHAT THEY LIKED- THE MONEY IS YOURS-

AW, NIX- THE MONEY'S OURS- HOW'S THAT? NOW LET'S GO OVER TO THIS LITTLE PARK AND COUNT IT-

HAROLD GRAY

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.: Copyright, 1933, by

Maw Green

HERE COMES THAT PEST, TOM TOUCH- ALWAYS BROKE- ALWAYS TRYIN' TO BORROW- BUT HE NEVER PAID BACK A LOAN IN HIS LIFE-

WELL- WELL- WELL- IF IT ISN'T MY OLD FRIEND MAW GREEN- AND HOW ARE YOU? MY-MY- YOU GET YOUNGER AND PRETTIER EVERY DAY-

HONEST, MAW- YOU'RE LOOKIN' WONDERFUL- AB-SO-LUTELY WONDERFUL-

SAY- I JUST GOT WIND OF A CHANCE TO MAKE A THOUSAND BERRIES- AND ON A FIVE DOLLAR INVESTMENT-

NOTHIN' FISHY ABOUT IT- IT'S ABSOLUTELY SURE-FIRE- THINK OF IT- ONE THOUSAND DOLLARS-

COURSE, I'VE GOTTA KEEP TH' DEAL A SECRET- BUT YOU CAN TAKE MY WORD, IT'S O.K.- NOW IT HAPPENS I'M A LITTLE SHORT, AT THE MOMENT-

BUT I'M NO TIGHT-WAD- I'D BE WILLING TO SPLIT TH' THOUSAND 50-50, WITH ANY ONE WHO'D HELP ME OUT-

NOW I'M LOOKING FOR SOME ONE WHO WILL LOAN ME FIVE DOLLARS-

SO THAT'S WHAT YOU'RE LOOKING FOR, EH?

WELL, YOU'VE GOT A NICE, CLEAR DAY FOR IT-

HAROLD GRAY

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.: Copyright, 1933, by

QUAKER PUFFED WHEAT MAKES BREAKFAST A BANQUET! 10c

COMIC SECTION THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION COMIC SECTION

ATLANTA, GA., SUNDAY, JULY 16, 1933

Tarzan

by EDGAR RICE BURROUGHS

THE MOB

TO SAFEGUARD THE SICK PRINCE AND HIS SISTER, THE PRINCESS NIKOTRIS, TARZAN AND VON HARBEN BUILT HUTS FOR THEM HIGH IN A GREAT TREE

ON THE LAND THEY BUILT A FENCE TO PROTECT AGAINST ATTACK.

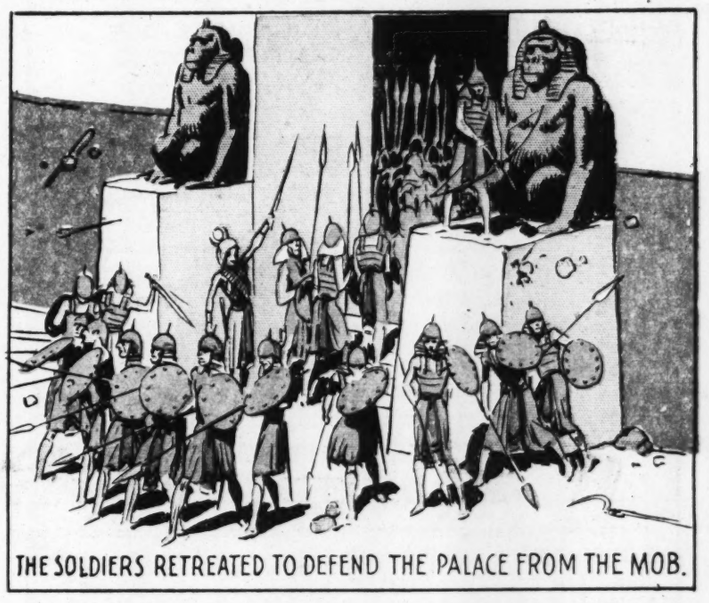

IN THE CITY, THE MOB HAD CONTROL AND GAVE WAY TO RIOTING.

THOSE WHO VENTURED OUT WERE ATTACKED AND ROBBED.

QUIET CITIZENS HID FEARFULLY IN THEIR HOMES.

THE SOLDIERS RETREATED TO DEFEND THE PALACE FROM THE MOB.

THE PRIESTS OF MOLOCH FLED TO THEIR SUBTERRANEAN RETREATS.

NOT UNTIL THE MOB HAD WEARIED ITSELF WITH RIOTING DID THE PRIESTS COME FORTH FROM THEIR HIDING PLACE.

THEN THE HIGH PRIEST ADDRESSED THE PEOPLE.

"THE GODS HAVE TURNED AGAINST THE CHILDREN OF PHARAOH BECAUSE THEY HAVE JOINED FORCES WITH THE STRANGER TARZAN!" HE CRIED. "FIGHT NOT AMONGST YOURSELVES BUT JOIN ALL YOUR FORCES AND HUNT OUT THE ENEMY. A KING'S TREASURE WILL REWARD THE MEN WHO BRING BACK TARZAN---DEAD OR ALIVE!" 7-16-33.

AND THAT NIGHT WHILE THE APE-MAN SLEPT.....

.....THE RABBLE CROSSED THE DESERT TO SEEK HIM OUT AND DESTROY HIM.

NEXT WEEK: CHILDREN OF THE SUN GOD

Boys and Girls...

MASKS OF TARZAN

Free!★

Get a real life-size mask of Tarzan.

Or a mask of the ferocious lion.

Or a mask of the mighty ape.

★ HERE'S HOW—Go to your grocer, drug or department store. Buy 3 rolls of Northern Tissue, or 4 rolls of Gauze, the famous bathroom papers. With either purchase you get a FREE mask of TARZAN, or the LION, or the APE, while they last. Get your Mother to buy Northern Tissue or Gauze today.

MOTHERS—Northern Tissue and Gauze are the bathroom papers designed especially for women. Super-soft, marvelously absorbent, sterilized for absolute purity. Today—buy 3 rolls of Northern Tissue or 4 rolls of Gauze at special low prices.

HERBY

LITTLE FOLKS

BY "TACK" KNIGHT

BABY SISTER

THE SUNDAY CONSTITUTION LEADS IN HOME-DELIVERED CIRCULATION, IN TOTAL CITY CIRCULATION, IN CITY AND TRADING TERRITORY CIRCULATION

8 PAGES OF WORLD'S GREATEST COMICS

2nd COMIC SECTION THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION 2nd COMIC SECTION

SUNDAY, JULY 16, 1933

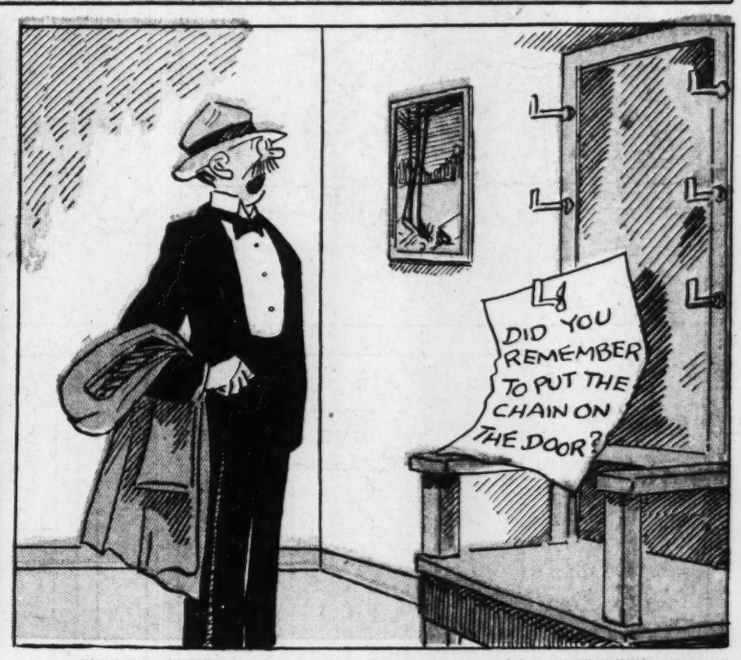

Mr. and Mrs.-

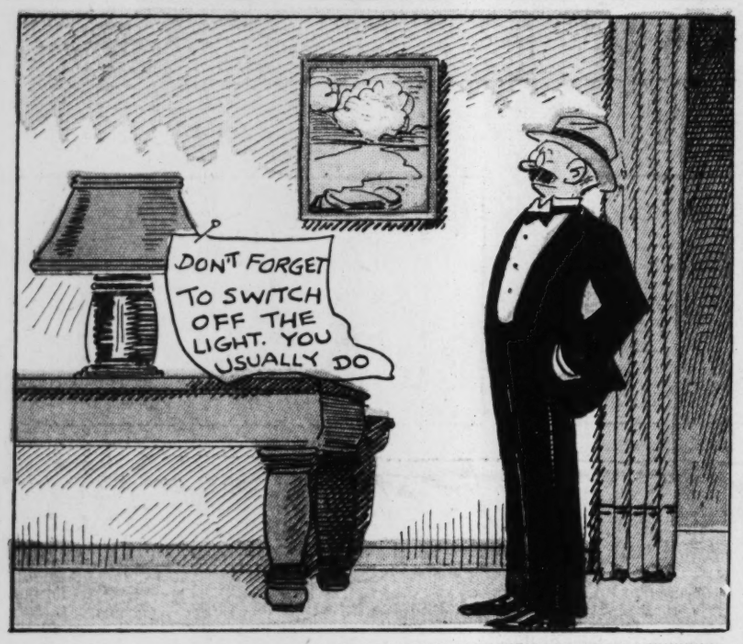

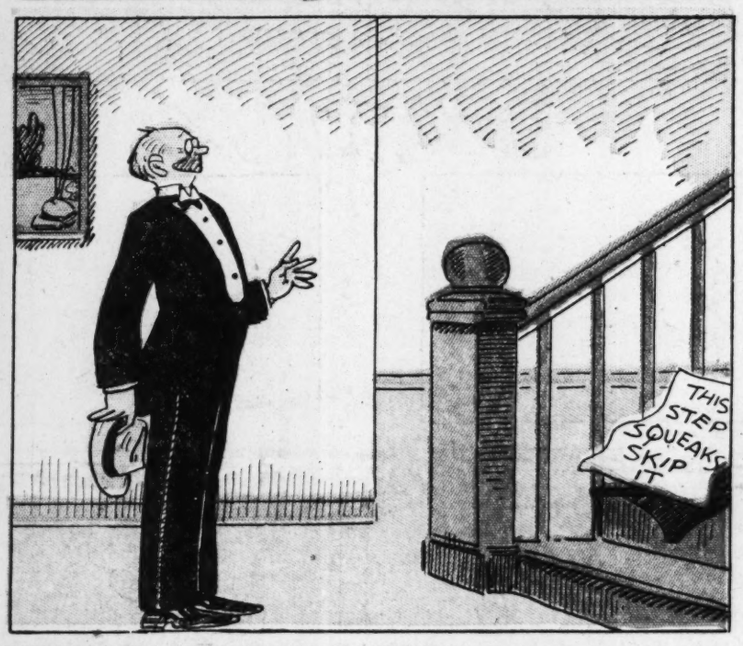

TRADE MARK REG. U.S. PAT. OFF.

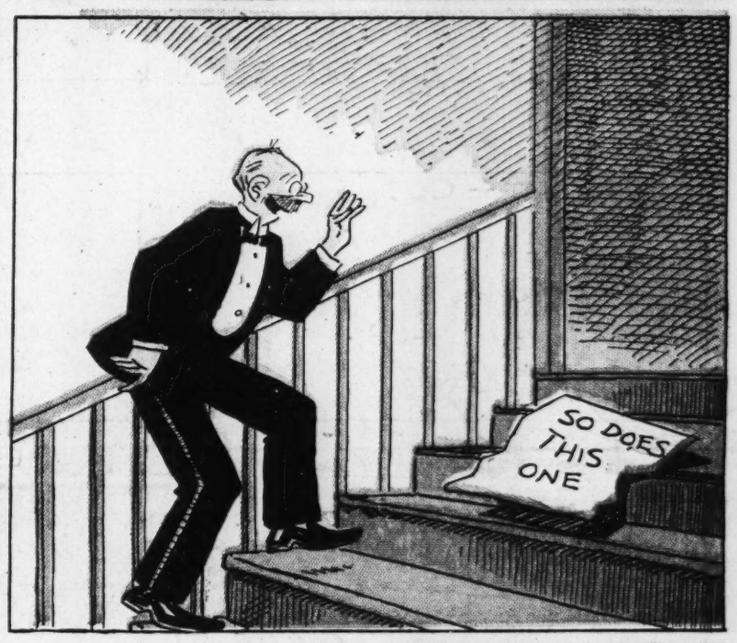

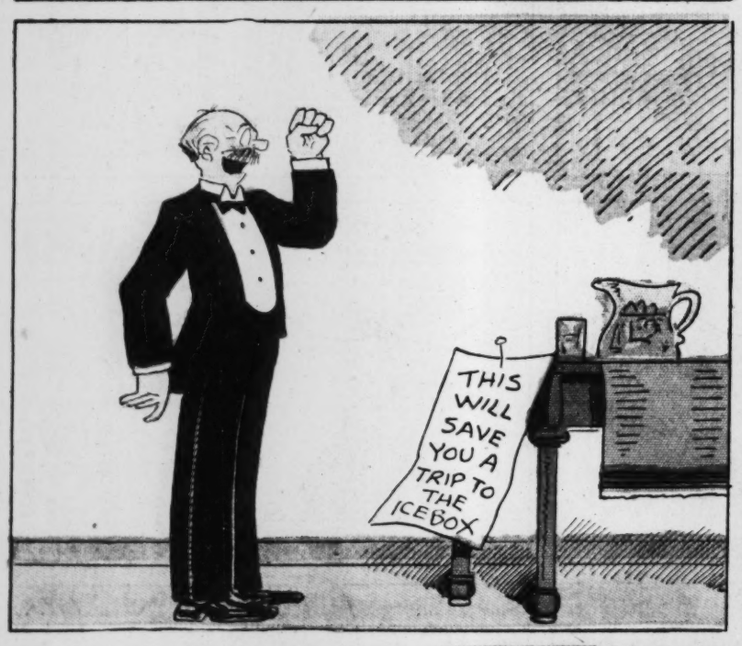

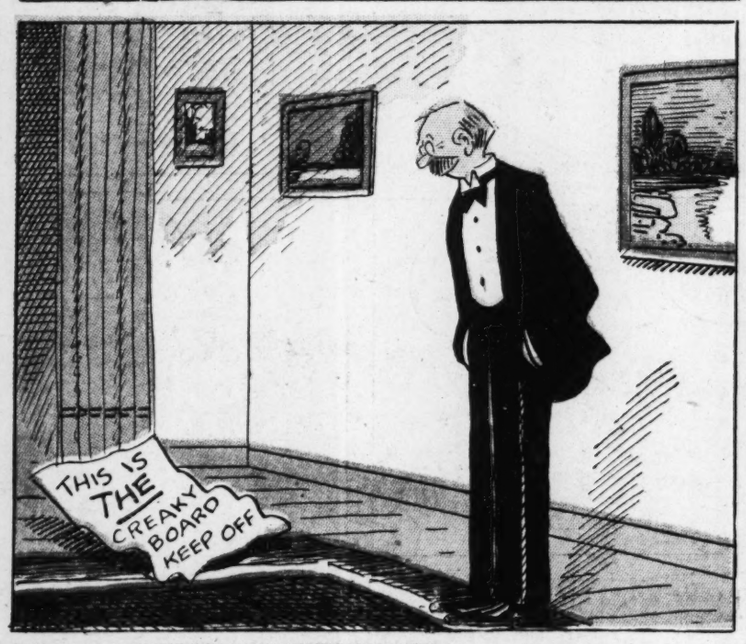

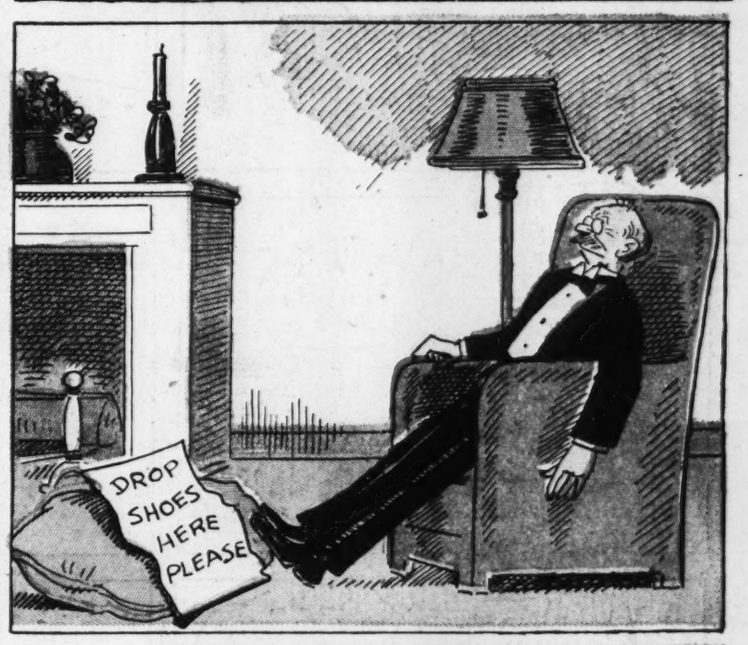

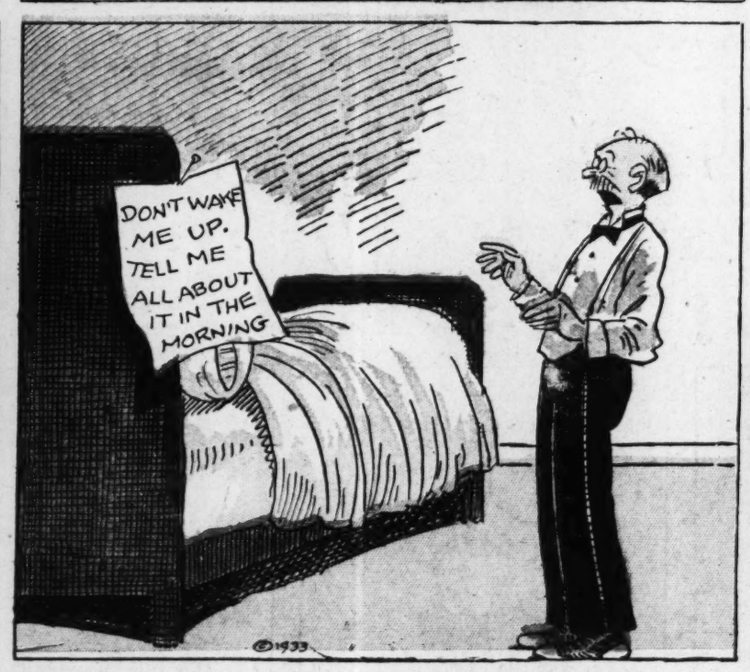

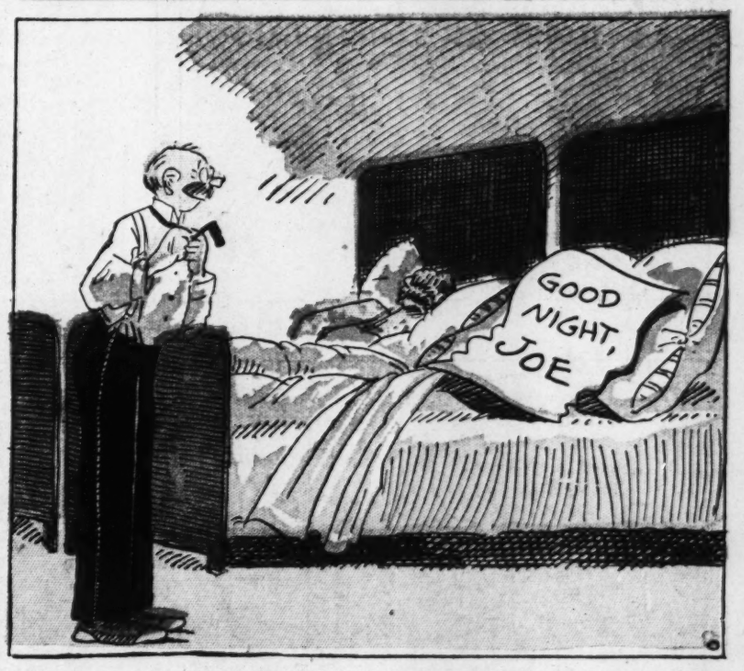

Let your nickel discriminate • • • buy Beech-Nut Gum